

NYVALL HONORED FOR COMPOSITIONS BY CONSERVATORY

Granted Bachelor of Music Degree by Chicago School

WILL LEAVE IDAHO Pep Band Director Ends Three Years at Idaho This Summer

Prof. David Nyvall, Jr., instructor of piano and director of the Pep band has been awarded a post graduate degree of bachelor of music from the American Conservatory at Chicago, it was announced Monday. The degree was an award for meritorious original work done by Mr. Nyvall since he left the conservatory. He did not complete the required amount of work for a degree before he left.

Among the signers of the diploma Adolph Weidig and Allen Spenser, both nationally known teachers, who were Mr. Nyvall's instructors at the conservatory. Mr. Nyvall's major study at the conservatory was in musical theory, composition and piano. The award is considered an honor, as the American conservatory is recognized as one of the greatest schools in America.

Writes Several Numbers Mr. Nyvall has written several numbers while he has been a member of the faculty of the music department. Chief among these have been "The Mater," the words for which were written by President A. H. Upham; "President Upham March," "The Oregon Trail March" and the scores for the pageant "The Light on the Mountains" and several dramatic productions.

Mr. Nyvall has announced that he will leave the University of Idaho at the close of summer school. He has been a member of the faculty since 1924. His successor has not been announced.

Develops Band Mr. Nyvall has been one of the chief factors in the development of the Idaho Pep band as a concert organization. This band, which started as strictly a pep dispensing organization several years ago, has been hailed as one of the greatest organizations of its kind on the coast and has received extremely favorable comment from some of the recognized musical authorities of the country. The band made an unqualified success of its recent tour of south Idaho.

From here Mr. Nyvall will go to Chicago, playing concerts en route. Although he has had several offers of new positions, he has not definitely accepted any of these, he said.

FROSH WIN FROM ENDICOTT 5 TO 2

Hitting Rally in Seventh Wins Hot Game for Yearlings

A home run in the first inning by Homley and a three bag clout in the seventh with one out by Brock won the seventh for the yearlings. The seventh frame tilt for the yearlings squad from the Endicott, Washington, high school, nine to two Thursday evening. Brock scored later on a sacrifice by Souder. Up to the seventh the score was tied at two all and gathering darkness would have made further play impossible had the count remained tied.

The Endicott lads tallied in the second on a two bagger and a sacrifice and again in the fourth on a circuit climb with no one out. The rock lineup was Souder, pitcher; Sumpter, catcher; McMillan, first base; Thornhill, second; Homley, short stop; Beardmore, third; Munden, right field; Mitchell, center; and Brock, left.

Judy, frosh twirler, has been laid up with a "cold weather arm," but was unable to take the rubber, but will soon be in regular form again.

VANDAL SLUGGERS AT TOP IN COAST LEAGUE DIVISION

Meets Cougars Wednesday and Thursday in Important Games

WON 15 AND LOST 1 Must Trounce W. S. C. to Get Chance at Other District Winners

Standing of the Teams

Team	Won	Lost	Pts.
Idaho	5	1	830
W. S. C.	3	1	750
Montana	0	6	000

In spite of the fact that Montana dropped two games to Washington State college last weekend the Vandals still hold the lead in their division of the Pacific Coast conference. As the two game series with Washington State college Wednesday and Thursday of this week will mark the end of the conference season for Idaho unless they win one or both and the Grizzlies defeat the Cougars in one of their contests the following week. If the Vandals take both games it is assured of a series on MacLean field with the winner of the Washington-Oregon-Oregon Agricultural college division for the championship of the north section.

Either Lief Erickson or Whitely Lawrence will mount the bump in Wednesday's game. Both twirlers have been doing great chucking this season. Lawrence winning all three starts and Erickson being robbed of one in three by the heavy hitting W. S. C. crew. "Whitely" has not struck out as many batsmen as Lief nor has the experienced delivery of the veteran, but he has come through in tight places and kept his well scattered. Stockdale, Grabber, Lindsay, or Powers, all capable twirlers, may pitch an inning or two depending on how the games go.

Howerton, two-letter backstop has been on the receiving end in a majority of the conference games and has always proved dependable and accurate. His batting average is also well toward the head of the list. He will undoubtedly catch one and perhaps both of the W.S.C.-Idaho contests. Sullivan, letter man of last year's squad may be seen behind the bat either Wednesday or Thursday, in case Howerton does not take the position.

In the infield Erickson has been finding good support in Green, rangy first baseman, Polly Lehtinen, third-year second base man, Cheyne, consistent, flashy short stop and Carl Murray, fast, heady, hot corner artist. In the outer garden John Baird, Elieck, Jacoby and Simmons have stopped the long ones and laid the wood on the old apple in their turns at bat. Baird is particularly dangerous with the stick, his long buns having brought in many runs for the Vandals this season. This combination will make a strong nine to oppose the Washington State sluggers this week.

MONTANA DEFEATS IDAHO TRACK MEN

Scores 79 to 51 Points in Slow Meet; Packett High Man

Idaho dropped a slow track meet to Montana university last Saturday at Missoula, by a score of 79 to 51. The rainy weather and the soggy tracks prevented the breaking of any records. Idaho fell down in the dash race but ran to touted strength in the field events.

COMPLETE PROGRAM FOR COMMENCEMENT

Pageant Saturday Night; Hays Hall to be Dedicated Sunday

Complete program for commencement week at Idaho was announced Monday by President A. H. Upham. The program will include Saturday, June 4, and Monday with commencement exercises in the auditorium. The presentation of "The Light on the Mountains" by the students of the University of Idaho.

In the scene of the third story is shown the camp of David Thompson, near Lake Pend Oreille, in the early spring of 1809. About the camp fire are seated Payette and his North French-Canadian voyageurs and Wolf, Indian guide and hunter. The French-Canadian and his Indian partner are much perturbed by the magnitude and loneliness of the wilderness with the mystery great mountains that loom up and hem them in. The group discuss their leader, David Thompson, known to the Indians as the Star Man, because he reads the stars at night to determine his location and as they believe holds communion with the Great Spirit. Wolf speaks of the awful powers of the Star Man and relates the story of how Thompson's party was saved from an attack by Peigan warriors when the Star Man placed three large grizzly bears on the route between the explorers and the pursuing Peigans. Dr. Nord, a superstitious coward, accuses Thompson of being a sorcerer who has sold himself to the devil and encourages Payette to desert the expedition. They get away with guns and provisions. In the absence of Wolf the Indian, the two voyageurs upon Thompson who has returned to the camp after making a study of the location, but their evil intentions are thwarted when the light falls upon the mountains.

Historical facts taken from the experiences of David Thompson form a basis for the third story of the pageant that with the creative imagination the author makes a scene of intense emotion and personal color given by

PACIFIC SCHOOLS ADD CREW EVENT

O. A. C., Reed College, U. of British Columbia Will Have Shells in 1928

BERKELEY—The year 1928 will see five colleges and universities on the Pacific coast supporting crew and athletic activity. Adding to California and Washington, whose eight-oared shells are among the strongest in the nation, will be another conference institution, Oregon Agricultural college, Reed college of Portland and the University of British Columbia at Vancouver, B. C.

With the revival of interest in rowing throughout the nation, and particularly on the Pacific coast, it begins to look as if a western crew classic similar to the Poughkeepsie regatta may yet be established. A few years ago California and Washington were the sole colleges west of the Mississippi supporting crew today there are five, with prospects of additions.

Stanford, which abandoned rowing in 1920 when all its resources were applied to the task of building a stadium seating 75,000 people, took second in the Washington regatta in 1915, thereby proving that excellent crews can be turned out on lower San Francisco bay. The Cardinals were invited to send a crew to the national regatta this year by the stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing association, and with an increased revenue, it is possible that Stanford is strictly amateur sport whose balance sheet is all outgo and no income.

Representatives of the University of Southern California witnessed the recent California-Washington regatta on the Oakland Estuary, and were later quoted as saying that if a survey of the facilities at San Pedro and Delta, crew might be taken up there. Distance of water from the campus at Los Angeles is the chief handicap at Southern California, but this factor is no greater than at some Eastern institutions.

"BULL SESSIONS" ARE NOT WASTE OF TIME

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(IP)—Dr. Harry Wilson, of the philosophy department of Syracuse university recently declared that time spent by college students in "bull sessions" is not wasted, but is of real value. He estimated that an average of three a day is spent by fraternity men in such "sessions." Athenaeum.

MAKES THIRD SCENE

Portray Camp of Trader at Pend Oreille in "Light on the Mountain"

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles written on the historical basis of the pageant, "The Light on the Mountains" by George Young.

David Thompson, English fur trader for the Northwest Merchants' company and the first man to make a detailed survey of those parts of Idaho, Montana, Washington, and British Columbia in what is now the tributaries of the Columbia river, is characterized in the third story of "The Light on the Mountains," historical pageant to be presented June 6, by the students of the University of Idaho.

The affair started when freshmen rebelled against being ducked and 200 of them held their own after ducking an equal number of sophomores. In the course of the fight one student received injuries which resulted in concussion of the brain, while another received a broken bone in his face.

It has been brought out that the proposed new plan of heating from the central plant will cost approximately $65,000. This will include the equipment and a tunnel from the site of the plant to the campus. A charge of approximately $1000 a year for service would be charged under the proposal. Definite action is expected at the Thursday night meeting.

Rules for rushing which have been in effect since last spring will be considered for readoption or revision at the Thursday meeting. Chief among these are: No student can be pledged to a fraternity before he is duly enrolled as a student in the university. All broken pledges must be announced in 90 days of the breaking. The total cost of the new plant will be $79,000. This exceeds the last legislature's appropriation for a new plant by $4000.

The Dinsmore Co.'s bid of $83,000 was considerably below the other bids submitted. Their figure is for the general contract which includes the construction of a concrete smokestack 150 feet in height. C. C. Moore & Co., of San Francisco, was awarded the contract for a 600-horsepower boiler with a bid of $8850. The American Sucker Co. of Salt Lake City received the contract for boiler stacks with a bid of $8400.

The general contractors will begin work as soon as they are able to move their equipment to Moscow. The building will be of brick and steel construction. Coal and ash handling equipment of the latest design will be installed.

Three of the boiler stacks now in use at the old plant will be moved to the new plant, according to Mr. Parsons. The addition of the new boiler will give the plant sufficient capacity to handle the requirements of the university for a number of years.

SENIOR GIRL HURT IN FALL FROM CAR

Irene Costello Suffered Arm Injury; Taken to Spokane Hospital

Irene Costello, Pocatello, senior in the college of letters and science, suffered a badly fractured left arm Monday morning at 3 o'clock when she was leaving on the senior sneak. The accident occurred in front of the Delta Gamma house on Elm street, when Costello attempted to board a moving truck. The truck started abruptly before Miss Costello had gotten on, and she was thrown to the pavement.

She was taken to the Delta Gamma house in a dazed condition, and Dr. J. Harry Einhouse was called. He treated the patient for bruises and a slight laceration. On Dr. Einhouse's recommendation the patient was taken to Spokane Monday morning on the 10 o'clock train to Doctor Langworthy, bone specialist.

VESPER RECITAL IS COMMENDED

Alice Ross and Ila Peairs Present Successful Program Sunday

The vesper recital held Sunday, May 8, in the University auditorium featuring Alice Ross, soprano; and Ila Peairs, pianist, pupils of Miss Jennie F. W. Johnson and Nevoja Bergman, respectively was a decided success, according to musical authorities.

The program consisted of five parts. In the first group "Nymphs and Shepherds" by Purcell, "Little Flower" by Schumann and "Villanelle" by Del Aquia were delightfully sung by Alice Ross, soprano, with great ease and dexterity.

Ila Peairs displayed rare pianistic talent and remarkable technique by her interpretation of Op. 10 No. 9 by Chopin and "Rhapsody" in F sharp Minor, by Donoghe.

The next number was "Aria Bitter-sweet" by Purcell, sung by Alice Ross. In this, Miss Ross displayed very fine vocal qualities. "Caprice Espagnois" by Moskowski, which was skillfully played by Ila Peairs with excellent expression, especially pleased the audience.

In the last division of the program Alice Ross sang, "Little Star," a Mexican folk song, "Pierrot" by Roberts and "Winds in the South" by Scott very intelligently and with splendid vocalization. Miss Ross was accompanied by John Taylor at the piano.

There were two Scotchmen who made a bet on who could hold his breath longest under water. The next morning both were found dead.

IDAHO IS LOSER

COMING almost simultaneously with the announcement that David Nyvall, Jr., conductor of the Idaho Pep band, will leave Idaho at the close of this school year, has come a most signal recognition of his ability from the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago. Mr. Nyvall has been awarded a post graduate bachelor of music degree from this institution, where he attended as a student several years ago, but did not complete the required amount for a degree. The degree was awarded for meritorious creative work of Mr. Nyvall since he left that institution and mainly since he has been on the Idaho campus.

Idaho is the loser when Mr. Nyvall leaves. He has done great work, greater than that required as purely instructional duties. His direction of the Pep band has been without salary, with a love for music well produced as his only compensation. He has worked, often into the small hours of the morning on compositions given the student body. Chief among these are scores for the coming Idaho historical pageant, music for Pep band shows and other dramatic productions. He has given, in collaboration with Dr. A. H. Upham, an Alma Mater song which is fast being accepted by Idaho students as their official anthem. This has been hailed by music critics as an unusually good piece of work. He has immortalized Idaho in several other songs and band selections. He has done much in a constructive way for Idaho and Idaho students.

Students and faculty alike can look to the work of Mr. Nyvall as being that of an Idahoan and one who has the interest of the university at heart; and they look to his departure as a loss.

CLEANUP

AS CAMPUS day approaches, a few suggestions might be in order. A good detail should be assigned to the job of removing some of the ancient notices from the bulletin board. Another could post signs reading, "Please smoke behind this building. At the request of the President."

Notices are all right so long as they are made up to date, but when they reach the end of their usefulness, they should be retired. Several weeks ago, the President requested that smokers should indulge in the habit at the rear of the Administration building. So far, there have been no results. Also many girls object to plowing through dense clouds of smoke when they enter the Administration building. —N.M.J.

A GOOD MOVE

PLANS and specifications for the Idaho Memorial gymnasium, to be built on the campus this summer, call for a swimming pool. This move has received the whole-hearted approval of the student body.

Original plans for the gymnasium did not call for a swimming pool, but Prof. David C. Lange, university architect, believed with the students that such a gym would not be complete without it, and the plans were altered to meet this demand. Several other important changes were made in the plans which will make our gym outstanding among university gymnasiums.

In the past, students have complained about paying their A. S. U. I. fee, some claiming that they did not receive benefits equal to the outlay and not being athletic, did not get the use of the gymnasium. With the installation of this swimming pool all of us who have not that ability to demonstrate our worth on the basketball floor can get our money's worth out of the swimming tank.

Students will have on the campus a swimming pool that can be kept in the best sanitary condition, and not have to make use of the present facilities provided for swimming. No one but students of the university will be allowed to use the university tank and thus the work of eliminating undesirable is to a great extent narrowed.

In fact, from all view points, including possible development of a varsity swimming team, the completion of the swimming tank will do away with one of the demands of the students, which has been growing louder each year. —B.L.M.

MISSOURIANS

THE world is made up pretty largely of Missourians. And some of us go so far in that direction that our derision makes us appear foolish. An instructor of mathematics in a Seattle school has announced to the world that he believes he has solved one of the greatest of all geometrical enigmas—he has discovered a method to trisect any arc of any circle or any angle of any triangle. This has been one of the three great problems, one which mathematicians since the time of Euclid have pondered over.

As an after beat to the announcement, even before Professor Hastings had announced his solution, doubting Thomases of the mathematical world set up a cry of derision, declaring that the solution is impossible. "Mathematicians since time began have been working on that problem and they have been unable to solve it," they say. "How then, could a mere high school instructor solve it?" Without investigation they gave the lie to the statement, and all but called Professor Hastings a lunatic.

These same men should remember that the world since dark ages had been trying to discover the method for hardening copper; and the process was discovered only recently. The scientific world for many years attempted to solve the problem of heavier-than-air locomotion, and it finally was solved. The scientific world for ages sought to learn of the lightning which flashed through the skies during a storm. And this force has been harnessed to do the bidding of children at play. The world should remember that it derided the first announcement that these things had been accomplished. And those who accomplished them were called lunatics. Today it thinks better of its early judgment and has erected monuments to the savants who contributed thus to the knowledge of the world.

Whether Professor Hastings has discovered the solution to the problem of trisecting an angle or not matters little here; it is important to observe that we are running in the same old rut.

ELRA HUNTER WILL DIRECT L. C. SPORTS

Former Moscow Athlete Takes Responsible Spokane Place

Elra L. "Squinty" Hunter, former Moscow and University of Idaho basketball star and in turn basketball coach at Lewis and Clark high school and St. Louis university, Monday was elected athletic director at the Spokane high school upon recommendation of the Lewis and Clark principal. He was chosen from 40 applicants.

Hunter is the son of Mrs. Mary Hunter of 206 1/2 Buren street. With his bride, he arrived here Monday evening to spend his vacation. He spent the last year at St. Louis coaching basketball under R. L. Mathews, director of athletics who resigned a year ago from a similar position at the University of Idaho.

Hunter's basketball teams were outstanding while he coached at the Spokane high school, his last quarter here winning the Washington state high school hoop title.

Announcement that Ralph "Lef" Erickson, Vandal baseball star this year, would play with the Coeur d'Alene semi-professional club in the Washington-Idaho league this summer, also was made in Spokane recently. Erickson will finish the present diamond season with the Idaho team and at its completion and his graduation, leaves for the Lake City. Erickson hails from Pocatello. This is his third year on the ball club. He also has won letters in basketball, playing at center.

The Literary Corner

TO MY MOTHER

Safe to the one who guided me,
Safe through those childhood years;
Rejoicing when I was happy,
Kissing away my tears.
She was my kindest critic;
She was my truest friend.
I remember the smile that blessed me,
The dear lips that caressed me,
The arms that tenderly pressed me
Close to her loving heart.
Here's to the one who guides me,
Although I am far away;
I know she is glad when I'm happy,
Is sad when my skies are gray.
She is my kindest critic,
She is my truest friend,
And I long for her smile to bless me,
Her dear lips to caress me,
Her arms to tenderly press me
Close to her loving heart. —Calhoun

FROSH ARE BIG HEARTED

COLUMBUS, Ohio, (IP)—Freshmen at Capital university here are big-hearted. Instead of "getting even" with next year's frosh for the torments they have suffered this year, the Class of 1930 has voted to abolish hazing, at least for the class of 1931.

Professor and Preacher to Argue Pro and Con of Evolution Theory

NEW YORK, (IP)—Prof. K. F. Mather, professor of geology at Harvard university, will debate with the Rev. Dr. John Roach Straton, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, New York, on the general subject of "Evolution" on the evenings of Friday and Saturday, May 13 and 14, in Dr. Straton's church in New York.

Professor Mather was the chief witness at the Scopes trial at Dayton, Tenn., two years ago, while Doctor

Straton has for some years been a prominent foe of the teaching of Evolution in this country.

According to those in charge of the arrangements for the debates, the affairs are to be "friendly discussions." There will be no judges and no decisions. President Hibben, of Princeton university, it is understood, has been asked to serve as chairman at both meetings.

CARNIVAL HELD ON CANAL AT U. OF W.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Wash., May 3.—The old French custom of Mardi Gras will be exemplified on the waters of the Canal on Junior Day. Organized houses are paired in groups to produce canoe entries.

There will be many unique effects to accompany the parade of floats. Colored flood lights and huge search lights will play on the scene from a bridge covered with serpentine. An orchestra will play during the procession, which will pass the Junior queen and her court.

ASPIRANTS PRACTICE IN FRONT OF MIRRORS

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, Wash., May 5—Many Beau Brummels of the campus have signed up to have their faces shot by motion picture cameramen from Hollywood. The nation wide contest by the First National Picture corporation for promising college cinema sheiks, is causing quite a rumpus as the men are spending too much time posing in front of mirrors and are neglecting classes.

INDIANS PLAY FOOTBALL

LAWRENCE, Kan., (IP)—As a feature event at the annual inter-scholastic track meet which was held recently at the University of Kansas here, the Tarahumara Indians staged a game of their primitive football. The Indians used a wooden ball, and according to the rules of the game, propelled it only with their feet, it being a foul to touch it with any other portion of the body.

The dawn of Monday morning broke over the hills to find the university in turmoil; and as the juniors thrashed it, the seniors didn't sneak. They were driven off the campus...

FIRST TRYOUT OF NEW RULE GAME

"One Dribble" Basketball Tried at Pacific Coast Conference

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman—"One dribble" basketball will receive its first official tryout in the Pacific coast conference here this week when teams are organized by J. Fred Bohler...

Limitations of play and the effect of the new code on the court game will be studied closely by the pair, both of whom are to give summer session courses in basketball at western schools...

Using varsity and freshman award winners the two coaches will choose the best squads and work out formations and plays possible under the restricted style of game.

O. A. C. UNHURT BY DRIBBLE CUT

OREGON AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE, Corvallis—"The new basketball ruling limiting a player to one dribble in a single play will help percentage basketball but at the same time remove the spectacular play for the spectators, according to Bob Hager, Oregon Aggie coach.

"From a selfish standpoint, I could do nothing but welcome the new rule because it will only slightly affect our basketball," remarked the Orange mentor.

"Our offense is not materially hurt while the new rule strengthens our style of defense but at the same time makes cripples out of many clever basketball players who have been a constant defensive worry."

STUDENTS IGNORE BAN ON SERENADES

Oberlin Singers Refuse to Be Robbed of Tradition

OBERLIN, Ohio (IP)—Although the college authorities recently placed a ban on midnight serenading at Oberlin college, the students are going to have their tradition. Soon after the college had announced that it had requested village authorities to enforce the ancient ordinance against disturbing the peace of this village after 11 p. m. a group of students appeared under the windows of a women's dormitory at 6:30 p. m., and while the sun shone sang lustily to the co-eds in the windows above, at the same time strumming banjos and guitars.

OBERLIN BUILDS NEW "FRENCH" DORMITORY

Oberlin, Ohio (IP)—"La Maison Francaise" will be the newest dormitory on the Oberlin campus next year. In this dormitory, in which about 150 co-eds will live and about 30 men and women will eat, no word other than French will be spoken.

The matron, or "Directrice" will be Mme. Marie Jeanne Labaurine-Johnston, a native of France, who came to America after the war as the wife of an American aviator. Those who live and eat at the house will be majors in the French department. More applications have been received already than can be taken care of.

STUDENTS APPEAL ON U. S. POLICIES

Latin Americans Request all Undergraduates Denounce Nicaraguan Stand

New York (By New Student Service)—While Pennsylvania war veterans rage because a student Liberal Club of West Chester Normal School criticized the Nicaraguan policy of the United States Government, Latin American students have broadcast an appeal to all American college students, asking them to "roundly denounce their governments' stand in Nicaragua."

The appeal was sent to the New Student, an intercollegiate magazine; by the "General Association of Latin American Students of Paris. It is being released through the weekly New Student News Service to 300 undergraduate newspapers.

The Diaz government, supported by the United States, is an unconstitutional regime, these Latin American collegians assert. After the 1924 elections, they say, General Chamorro, the defeated Conservative candidate effected a coup d'etat, forcing General Solorzano, the legally elected Liberal President to resign.

Under these conditions, the students demand that the government, through the election of Don A. Diaz is notorious and indisputable. That is, (A), the Constitution of Nicaragua states that in case of the President's resignation, the executive power falls to the Vice-President. Dr. Solorzano having resigned, the Presidency legally falls to the Vice-President in this case Dr. Solorzano declares, "the illegality of this Constitution; Congress it not authorized to pronounce a degree of incapacity against the Vice-President of the Republic. Congress can only declare that there is "reason for impeachment". Once it is established through a resolution of Congress that there is cause for impeachment the case must go to the Supreme Court of Justice, which studies and passes its decisions resulting from the facts presented and in accordance with the law."

W. S. C. FROSH NINE GETS INTO ACTION

Kitten's Diamond Prospects for Season Look Bright

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman—Following a spring training season of playing Yarnigan to Buck Batley's varsity, the Washington State college frosh baseball squad, coached by Bill Weingarten, former varsity pitcher, will swing into action at Cheney next Saturday with a tilt against the normal outfit. A nine match is slated for the local field the following weekend.

A brilliant battery, including a brace of "kid pitchers" who look as good or better than anything on the present college nine, an average infield and a mediocre outfield are the present stock in trade of the Kittens. Weingarten is working overtime to build up a defense which will back tip the steady mound work which he should have this year and relieve his pitchers of a typical frosh tendency to "bear down" on every pitch.

If all the college paper editorials concerning improvements in the colleges which have been taken seriously by the college authorities, were laid end to end, considerable "filler" would be needed for the rest of the column.—Intercollegiate Press.

TYEE MANAGER IN HOT WATER

Magazine Officially Used in Prize Contest

SEATTLE, Wash. (IP)—Scandal is having its day at the University of Washington. The trouble started when the business management of the Tyee held a subscription drive, the winner of which was awarded the Husky-Bear regatta on April 9. The announced winner was Pat Guimont.

Two co-eds who also worked for the prize charged that the manager of the drive, Marshall Crawford, secretly extended the time of the drive twenty-four hours, letting only Guimont know the change, and that Guimont made the most of the opportunity to secure enough subscriptions to place him first in the lists.

The charge was verified by an investigation conducted by the student council. The council also found that Guimont had had two others working for him, supposedly in their own names, but turning their subscriptions over to him, against the rules of the contest.

As a result the Council recommended that Guimont be deprived of the trip; or its equivalent in money, since the trip already had been taken, and that Crawford be removed from all student activities for the remainder of the school year.

Following the disclosure and the resolutions of the Council, President David Thompson, of the University, appointed his own committee to look into the matter of student activity responsibility and to make recommendations to him of any changes which seem to be needed.
