IDAHO TO ENTERTAIN

MEMBERS of the North Idaho Editorial association are to be the guests of the University of Idaho at the annual meeting November 1, the convention to be staged under the auspices of Delta Sigma, honorary professional journalism fraternity. This is the announcement made today in the columns of The Argonaut and plans for the entertainment of the delegates are going ahead under the direction of Delta Sigma.

The holding of the editorial convention here this fall will mean the bringing of a large number of Idaho editors to the Idaho campus. They will be given a chance to examine the work done by the institution in turning out men and women for work in the state.

This fall Idaho started offering a journalism major. The visiting editors will be given an opportunity to see the workings of the journalism department and establish contact with men and women who will soon be turned out for work in the state. Calls for Idaho men and women to fill positions on newspapers in the state have been received continuously at the university and the university has been unable to send persons to fill these jobs. The result was that Idaho editors had to go out of the state to obtain reporters and others to work on their papers.

When the convention is held here this fall editors from practically all of the north Idaho counties will attend. This is a big thing for the university because it will acquaint the editors with the situation here and give the university a chance to show what is being done to fill the demands of the state.

Although the convention is to be held under the auspices of Delta Sigma, it is not a one-organization affair. The entire university and student body will be asked to get in and help in the entertainment of the visitors and help put the affair over. It is a real chance to show what we have on the campus.

CLOSED PRACTICE

CONSIDERABLE trouble is being experienced by coaches and football managers in keeping spectators off MacLean field during closed practices. Each afternoon many students go to the field expecting to watch the Vandals' workout and have to be turned away.

Several announcements have been made to the effect that all practices will be closed to spectators except on Wednesday afternoons. Students do not seem to understand this, and the situation has become such that it is necessary to put men on to patrol the entire athletic field to keep visitors away. Coach Erb asked the support of the students at the opening of the year in giving the squad the benefit of the short period for practice before the opening game.

Because of the few days in which practice could be held, it was necessary for the coaching staff to take advantage of all possible time to perfect the eleven as near as possible for the opening game. No spectators, other than faculty members and "I" men, are allowed on the field during workouts. It is not that the athletic department does not believe in the honesty and sportsmanship of the student body that it is kept away from the gridiron, but because there might be a chance for someone from another school to slip in with the rest of the students, should they be allowed on the field, and thus make it possible for scouts to get in some effective work.

For the best interests of the football team students are asked not to go to MacLean field during grid practices.

THE FIGHTING SPIRIT

JUST why football and other such sports have such a universal appeal, and whether or not this should be considered a desirable or an unfortunate situation is positively and pontifically answered by Jess Hawley, head football coach at Dartmouth

Clarence Jenks, Night Editor; John Montgomery, Night Editor; Janet Hawkins, Proof Reader; Sylvia Oldman, Proof Reader.

Women's Activities, Helen Taylor; Editor, Marguerite Ward; Columns, Lucille Eaton; Edwin Sigmas; Dramatics, Pauline Brown; Music, Letha Wilton.

Rickety old cars, generally Fords, with badly damaged bodies, scarcely any tops, and little upholstery, decorated with witty wags, cracks and bright sayings are all the rage, it seems, on college campuses. The tacker they are the better they "get by." But the mere fact of being colorful should not cause the owners and drivers of these vehicles to forget they are still operating under state laws governing speed limits, driving on the correct side of the road, parking correctly, and the use of lights. The writer is particularly concerned with the latter. On several occasions we have almost been run down at night by some of the blind monsters of the campus, and having miraculously escaped (no thanks to the drivers), we wish to mention the fact by way of warning to other pedestrians and as a word of timely advice to the car owners.

or inclination to paddle offenders or is it just plain laziness? We are inclined to believe the latter from observation of the way the "I" club treated delinquents last year. Time after time very evident violations of campus traditions and university customs practiced at Idaho were allowed to go by under the very eyes of "I" members without punishment. Sophomores went without caps or hats, freshmen smoked practically anything, anywhere, forgot their green caps, furiously thrust their noses at the campus laws and the "I" club and passed by with impunity. And then to complete the farce, the athletes get out their rusty paddles at the basketball games and for practically no reason at all pick out some poor unfortunate fellow and whale him before the crowd for their amusement. Is that consistent? Something certainly should be done about it, but it should not be that the "I" club be deprived of one of its most useful privileges. The club should merely take hold of the enforcement of traditions and after a few offenders have been thoroughly corrected with the proper vigor there will be a marked decrease in the flagrant violations.

C. G. D.

Mr. Hawley indicates that football positively is over-emphasized, but he attributes this to "our system of journalism with its blazing headlines; our movie news and views; our high-salaried press agents; and our fanatical hero worship of a champion." He says that all these national appetites have found in the color and vigor of football a morsel of increasing delight. "And because a ball has started rolling that threatens the sport itself he continues, 'many persons have turned alarmists, and, in the other extreme, have quite overlook the rightful place of football in the college curriculum in the morale of the student body, and in the life and activity of the college alumni.'"

BULLETIN BOARD

DELTA SIGMA TO MEET

Delta Sigma, journalism fraternity, will hold the first meeting of the year, at the Phi Delta Theta house Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. Officers will be elected and plans considered for the entertainment of the North Idaho Editorial association convention to be held here.

WATCH BULLETIN BOARD

Miss Ella Olesen, registrar, wishes to announce that students watch the bulletin board. Notices both from the registrar's office and from the bursar's office are placed on the registrar's bulletin board. Watch for your game, take your communication, and only your own.

CHANGES OF ADDRESS

All students who have changed address since registration in the university are asked to make out change of address cards in the registrar's office immediately.

PANHELLENIC MEETS

A Panhellenic meeting was held Monday night to make plans for the year. Pan-hellenic society is made up of the president and one other representative from each sorority house. The officers are Agnes Bowen, president, and Beulah Brown, secretary-treasurer.

SPURS TO MEET

The Spurs, honorary organization of sophomore women, will hold their first meeting of the year, at the Delta Gamma house tonight at 7:45 o'clock. Plans for the initiation of new Spurs will be taken up with other business.

Daleth Teth Gimel will meet next week on Wednesday evening, instead of tomorrow night, as previously announced.

Girls' Glee Club

All girls interested in glee club work are asked to meet Thursday night from 7 to 8 o'clock in room 300, Engineering building.

NEW STAFF MAN IN BACTERIOLOGY

Research Worker From Middle West Will Investigate Problems of Poultry Raising

With the addition of another member to the staff, the bacteriology department of the agricultural experiment station is now equipped to undertake important research problems that have been under consideration for some time. George Schilling, the new staff member, came to the university on May 15 as assistant bacteriologist. Mr. Schilling is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and he holds a master's degree from Michigan State college. He has also studied at Ohio State university and the University of Arkansas. Mr. Schilling comes to the Idaho experiment station for research work in projects supported by the Parnell fund. The new projects will have to do with diseases and breeding of poultry.

DENIES SCHOLARS ARE FAILURES

John Tigert, Scholar, Believes Rhodes Men as a Whole Succeed

Washington, D. C. (IP)—In a letter sent recently to John J. Tigert, U. S. Commissioner of Education, Professor H. L. Fisher, Warden of New College, Oxford, England, denied statements attributed to him to the effect that Rhodes scholars are failures.

Professor Fisher had been quoted as saying that President Aydelotte, of Swarthmore, is the only Rhodes scholar who has become an international figure. Commissioner Tigert, himself a Rhodes scholar, believes the group as a whole is a success. He points out that there are now 550 Rhodes scholars in the United States, the average age of whom is 35. Fifty four of these have become sufficiently eminent to be placed in "Who's Who." Teaching has claimed 249; law, 161; business 61; social and philanthropic work 24; medicine 23; journalism and publishing 22; the ministry 19; and so on.

Convent 200 Years Old. New Orleans, La. (IP)—The oldest girls school in the United States has just celebrated its two hundredth anniversary.

It is the Convent of the Ursuline nuns, here, founded with the arrival of the nuns on August 7, 1727. The nuns first came to this country to do educational work. It took them five and one half months to make the trip from Europe.

PI LAMBDA THETA ON JOB IN SEATTLE

Idaho Chapter Represented at National Biennial Council

PI Lambda Theta, national honorary fraternity for women in education, is holding her national biennial council at Seattle, August 8 to 11 inclusive. Idaho is one of 24 universities in the United States to be represented at the convention. At this meeting, the first convention held in the west by the fraternity, Idaho Phi will be represented by her delegate elected last spring and by several other members who plan to be in Seattle at that time.

An educational problem of national or international scope and value will be discussed. The fraternity each year chooses a line of study to direct its efforts to further the interests of education. Every two years the national council chooses the problem, and in the alternating years the chapters each make a selection to work out by themselves and send the data and results of their study to the national body. The alternation gives opportunity for consideration of both state and national problems. Phi chapter has made suggestions any one of which will make a worthy contribution to the field of education if selected by the council at Seattle.

Phi chapter's officers elected at the close of the school year for the 1927-28 session are: Ina McMurray, president; Lois E. Russell, vice-president; Bernice Bjornson, corresponding secretary; Ruth Christen, recording secretary; and Mildred Chadburn treasurer.

CALENDAR.
Sept. 30 Phi Delta Theta Dance
Oct. 7.....A. T. O. Pledge Dance

The "Big Parade" is a fitting title to the event which culminated the women's "rush week" Sunday. Now that the tension is released, society will probably seem a little quiet, but we shall be glad to enjoy a short period of rest. However, house dances will keep social things from being slack.

The "Bury the Hatchet" dance at the gym Saturday night was not as well attended as is usually, but other dances and a continuation of rush parties made the week-end interesting.

Sigma Chi announces the pledging of Wilfred Young, Rathdrum, Idaho, and Adrian DesMarais, Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Garber Green were dinner guests of Sigma Chi Sunday.

Neal Holm, Marvin Holm, and Joe Monk were week end guests of Sigma Chi.

Hays hall living room was the scene of a friends party Sunday evening. Stunts were staged by various girls, and Dean French gave two Irish readings. Refreshments were served.

Tau Kappa Iota announces the initiation of Allan Hamstedt, Moscow, Fred Kennedy of DuBois, and Frank Division of Boise.

Dean French left for Spokane Monday to get light fixtures for the living room of Hays hall. She will return Tuesday.

Delta Chi announces the engagement of Miss Lula Shipp, ex '30 to Willard Calvin Klingler, '29. Miss Shipp is now attending Albion State normal school.

Beta Theta Pi announces the pledging of Gayland Willis of Rupert.

DEBATERS WILL BE NAMED SOON

Men's Varsity, Women's Team and Frosh Squads To Be Picked

Selection of Idaho's debate teams, including men's varsity, women's varsity and freshmen squads will be made next week and work will be started immediately afterwards in preparation for this year's schedule. It was announced yesterday by Prof. H. Carter Davidson, coach. Try-outs for all three teams will be held on Thursday afternoon, October 6, at 4:00 o'clock in room 204 of the Administration building. Candidates will be allowed three minute speeches on either side of the question, "Resolved that a third term or part of term for presidents of the United States should be prohibited by the constitution."

Heavy Schedule Arranged

A heavy tentative schedule which has been arranged includes some of the largest schools of the country. The men's team will debate the University of British Columbia, Montana, Washington University of Oregon, Redlands, Brigham Young, Washington State college, Stanford, Oregon Agricultural college, the University of Southern California, and probably Cambridge university, England. The women's team has been scheduled to debate Washington State College, Whitman, Oregon Agricultural College, the University of Washington, University of Oregon and others are not yet arranged. Freshmen debates have been arranged with Lewiston normal, Spokane university, Spokane college, and Whitworth college.

BABE HOLLINGBERY THINKS DOPESTERS OVERRATE W. S. C.

Pullman Coach Not Too Optimistic Over W. S. C. Outlook

VETERANS MISSING W. S. C. To Play Mount St. Charles on September 24

Washington State College, Pullman Sept. 20.—Following a successful gridiron season last year during which Washington State lost but one game, that to Southern California, the Cougar football machinery started its motors Thursday, September 15 with prospects of another fair year. While the public in general seems to be expecting big things of Washington State, Head Coach "Babe" Hollingbery is of the opinion that the Cougars' chances have been overrated. Instead of the wealth of material, as some have been inclined to believe, Hollingbery points to the loss of five three-year veterans from the regular lineup. The college enrollment is fairly small and the gridiron squad is small. The gaps are hard to fill, according to "Babe".

In doping prospective conference standings, Hollingbery places W. S. C. along in the middle of the list. He rates Stanford as first, pushed strongly by Idaho, Southern California and Washington. California has a good chance to land in the first division. Of the four institutions in the second division—Washington State, O. A. C., Oregon and Montana—the Cougar mentor believes that W. S. C. has the best chance of pulling up into the upper five.

Debate Prize Awarded

STUDENTS WORK TO PAY EXPENSES

Hard Jobs Are Not Shunned by the Ambitious Ones

Many more students are hunting work at Idaho than there are positions available, according to Ted Turner, in charge of the university employment bureau at Lindley Hall. More of the successful job-seekers than ever have come early this year, preceding the big influx of students by at least a week. "Earning" at dormitories and fraternity houses provides the greatest number of students with a college avocation. It is estimated that 150 are so employed. Clerking in downtown stores vies with stenography for second place. There are, as always, many students who support themselves by odd jobs, caring for furnaces and babies, mowing lawns and even whiskers, operating automobiles or frying pans.

Tradition and a number of good teams have helped to make the New England outlay one of the strongest of the lesser combinations. In that section Brown, by virtue of last year's clean slate, will be watched with interest, while Amherst, Williams, Dartmouth, and Holy Cross will make it hot for descending Yale and Harvard.

Large Crowd Fills Auditorium; Solos and Feature Numbers in Program

All university classes were dismissed Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in order that students might hear Sousa's band. The program was started at 2:30 o'clock in the auditorium. Ticket sale for the concert was heavy, it was reported, and a large crowd packed the auditorium for the program. Several feature numbers, including solos were staged in connection with the concert.

Despite injuries to Backfield Coach Romney Plans Driving Tactics

The Bobcat football team of Montana State, which meets in Moscow on October 1, is a team that...

In spite of this the Bobcat backfield this year should be an improvement over last year...

The Bobcat line will be much the same as last year, except on the ends...

Both were regulars last season. It seems possible that Vogt may be moved to end...

There is plenty of substitute line material, although much of it is new material...

In the backfield Grady, sub last year, and Richards, a fast sophomore, will substitute at quarter...

The Montana State team will average slightly heavier than last year and is expected to have a brilliant defensive line...

The Montana team went into pre-season training on Sept. 9 and is in fairly satisfactory physical condition...

BACKFIELD MOTION GETS BIG PENALTY

Full Second Pause Will Be Required By New Grid Rule

The most discussed and most important change in the football rules which go into effect with opening of the 1927 season is thought by most experts to be that of the increased penalty for a member of the backfield being in motion before the ball is snapped.

Only 15 seconds will be allowed for calling signals by teams using the huddle system. Violation of this rule carries a penalty of five yards.

Posts at End Lines An important change in the rules involves the changing of the goal posts from the goal lines to the end lines of the field.

The number of times out in each half has been reduced from four to three and captains will not be allowed to extend the time limit of two minutes.

The rules committee decided that a team's trainer or doctor should be able to determine in the two minutes allowed whether the injured man would be able to continue playing or not.

There are no very radical changes and it is expected that teams will soon adapt themselves to the few minor technicalities.

JUNIORS MEET ON DATE RULE

Class Discusses Possibility of Securing Special Permissions for Girls

A junior class meeting was held in Science hall Thursday evening to discuss the possibility of securing special permission dates for junior girls.

The term special permissions is applied to the privilege of having one night each week in addition to the regular Friday and Saturday date nights, allowed underclass girls.

Election of officers will be held at a junior class meeting to be held soon.

Elsa's Plans Array Of "Seniors' Tables"

Alumni of Idaho who return ten years from now will find a "Hall of Fame" or "Museum of Antiquity" in an array of "Senior table" tops planned for Elsa's.

The plan is much in vogue in the eastern colleges, according to J. F. Elsa, proprietor, and consists of the substitution of a piece of soft wood for a regular table top in an eating house popular with the students.

The senior top installed at Elsa's has "Idaho '28" carved in large letters in its center. Seniors, and seniors only will be allowed to carve names, initials, fraternity crests or twined hearts as they please throughout the year.

Venice, California, patterned after its Italian namesake, is to drain her canals, fill them in and pave them. It was convenient, walking back from gonola rides.

EXPLAIN LOANS TO WOMEN'S CLUBS

Helen Jensen, Home Ec. Senior, Addresses Group on Phi Upsilon Omicron Scholarships

An explanation of the loan scholarships of Phi Upsilon Omicron, honorary home economics sorority on the Idaho campus, and activities of the home economics department was made last week by Miss Helen Jensen, a senior in the department, in a short talk before the State Federation of W. mens clubs at Lewiston.

Miss Jensen explained the four scholarships which are given each year to junior and seniors in the department. Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the home economics department at the university, and Miss Alice Melgard, another senior, attended the meeting. The three attended a banquet in the evening.

PEP RALLY IS STAGED WEDNESDAY AT 4

The first pep rally of the year has been announced by the Yell King Horace Porter for Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock. The Pep Band will be there and Porter wishes as many as possible to turn out.

the freshmen to learn the Idaho songs and yells and for the old students to brush up on them. There will be open practice that night and will be the last chance for Idaho students to see their team practice before the first conference game Saturday. So everybody come out to hear the best pep band in the northwest and see the football team that is going to uphold the Vandal honors this year.
