

Ideal fall weather seems to be an added stimulus for social functions, for as autumn quickens her pace and weather becomes brisk, so does society. This week end is to be especially gay, for variety seems to be "the thing". The long anticipated Co-ed Prom will be held at the week end. The ever popular house dance still predominates in the way of entertainment, four dances being scheduled for Friday. Friday afternoon, Delta Gamma entertain with a tea, and in the evening the Wesley Foundation club will hold a banquet. The football game Saturday with the University of Montana will also be one of the big attractions of this week end.

His work will be exhibited during the current term.

BOARDS HIT CAMPUS PAINTING AT MEETING

(Continued from Page 1) of our respective campuses is indicative of small town rivalry rather than in accord with the highest ideals of American College life, and "Whereas, we believe by reaching some definite agreement we can aid in fostering a most wholesome variety of competition and in abolishing practices which have heretofore been objectionable, be it resolved: "That three weeks preceding the annual Idaho-W. S. C. football game, the board of control of W. S. C. and the executive board of A. S. U. I. shall meet together, the first meeting to be held at W. S. C. and be arranged by the student body president of W. S. C. and thereafter the meetings shall alternate between the two institutions, for the discussion of these devices whereby there may be promoted confidence and friendly relations between the student bodies of the two schools, and

"That two weeks before the annual game, the respective boards of each institution shall call together members of the freshman and sophomore classes for the purpose of explaining the code of conduct governing the pregame relations of W. S. C. and Idaho; pointing out that certain practices of the past are now deemed unbecoming and frowned upon by these students in whose hands responsibility for student government has been placed; and of pledging the support of the students toward punishment of offenders."

Dinner guests of Alpha Tau Omega Thursday night were Dr. H. J. Trombhauser, Mrs. Margaret Sargent, Mr. Alberto Vasquez and A. S. Howe.

"COLLEGE CREED" FOR O. A. C. FROSH

Oregon Aggies Formally Pledge Loyalty to Alma Mater in Big Assembly

Oregon State college, Corvallis, (PIP)—More than 1300 freshmen were administered a formal college creed and student obligation at the first annual "Institutional Night." The establishment of this custom was coincident with the sixteenth year that the college has been a state institution and the completion of the twentieth year of the administration of President William Jasper Kerr. President Kerr greeted the new class and in response the freshman class president formally accepted the obligation on behalf of the class. Sophomores, and upperclassmen also took the pledge.

U. G. Dubach, dean of men and freshman class advisor, read the newly formulated creed to the assembled first year class. It follows: I believe in Oregon State. Builder of men and women. Seeker after truth. Organized for the service of a great commonwealth. I believe in her traditions. An heritage from the deeds and dreams of yesterday. In her sportsmanship and honor. A reality with the students of today. In her aspirations and ideals. The assurance of a magnificent tomorrow. I believe in democracy. And her far-reaching bond of Beaver brotherhood. And I realize that since she has accepted me as a Beaver, I too am a guardian of the Beaver spirit. If I degrade myself I degrade her; As I honor myself I honor her. I therefore pledge to her, my Alma Mater, My loyalty, my love, and my decision.

IDAHO IS HOST TO EXTENSION CLUBS FOR EXHIBITION

Demonstrations Will Be Given in Baking, Sewing and Canning

PRIZES TO BE TRIPS

Winners Get Trips to Chicago and Portland Stock Shows

The University of Idaho and Moscow are hosts today and will be Saturday to the annual north Idaho district boys' and girls' club fair being held here this weekend under the auspices of the extension service of the agricultural college.

PICK FROM POST
morning. They will include livestock raised as part of club projects; sewing, baking and canning exhibits by club girls; and seed potato and vegetable exhibits.

Friday afternoon, girls' demonstration teams of two girls each will give demonstrations in baking, canning and sewing at the girls' fair division in the Williamson building. This will continue Friday afternoon and Saturday morning if unfinished.

Armour-Swift Prizes
This afternoon, the Armour fitting and showing contest for swine will be held at the Latah county fairgrounds, where livestock exhibits will be housed. The Swift & Company contest for dairy calf club members, fitting and judging of dairy cattle, also will be held this afternoon. The former contest carries as a first prize a trip to the Chicago International Livestock show next month, and the latter a trip to the Portland International Livestock show next week.

Saturday morning boys will hold a livestock judging contest at the university farms. The club fair is offering a trip to the Portland International to the best team of three club members entered in the latter contest, open to teams only. Saturday afternoon the boys and girls will be guests of the university student body at the Idaho-Montana football game.

Latah Entries
Latah county will have a number entered in the livestock events. A team composed of Homer and Elmer Sawyer, near Palouse, and Tom Papi near will enter the team livestock judging contest as Latah county's team, while several will exhibit Duroc-Jersey and Chester-White hogs and Jersey cattle. Among these will be included Marjorie Jones of near Palouse, Homer and Elmer Sawyer and Morris Stallings of Moscow.

MEN WANTED FOR R. O. T. C. TEAM

Idaho is seeking a rifle team! Schedules have been drawn up and are posted on the military bulletin board at the present time, seeking the names of all Idaho students who care to try out for the Idaho R. O. T. C. team this year for competition with other units of the Ninth corps Area, according to Lieut. Charles H. Hart, rifle team coach.

GRIZZLES APPEAR WEAK IN LINE; GOOD PASSES

broken only by the game with Whitman here, the Idaho squad is showing great improvement over early season form. Changes in the lineup have proved advantageous, and Coach Erb is still working on new combinations. In the Whitman game O'Brien and Beall worked alternately at left end and relieved Erb of his worries regarding that position.

Tentative lineup:
Idaho O'Brien L. E. Clark
C. Hutchinson L. T. Whitcomb

RUSHING DELEGATES FOR CO-ED PROM

The university men are hustling in their possible representatives for the annual Co-ed Prom as the time for the affair gets nearer. It is an annual event for the men as well as for the women.

"The shall not pass," the slogan of the Marine, has been adopted by the women as they note preparations in the male lines for the big seige on the gym, Saturday night.

Betting was running wild on the women until last night, when with the discovery of some hitherto unknown impersonators by men, the betting odds were forced even. Secret coaching is being held every night for the impersonators who are carefully guarded.

The invitation to One-Eyed Connelly, nationally known gate crasher, is indicative of the determined organization among the men for the first time. It is hinted that several houses will enter squads if the inter-mural board will award them points. With this hope in mind they are having men train with the cross country crews. "Long live the hair wave," is the masculine byword.

Lack of discretion was blamed for the exposure of Danny McGrath the men's entry last year. It is on record that he made a noble start. The women made a fine finish.

IDAHO ENGINEER STAFF CHOSEN

Edgar Hagan, Editor, Makes Tentative Appointments to Editorial and Managerial Staffs

Tentative appointment of the editorial staff of the Idaho Engineer, semi-annual technical publication of the University of Idaho engineering college, was announced Friday by Edgar Hagan, Brooklyn, N. Y., editor-in-chief.

Vaughn Iorns, Boise, has been appointed managing editor with Henry Grinsfelder, Spokane, and Harold Nelson, Wallace, associate editors. Herbert Reibol, Lapwai, will serve as alumni editor with William Reed, Moscow, feature column editor.

The Idaho Engineer is published by the Associated Engineers for the purpose of disseminating news of scientific and industrial interest to the alumni and under graduates of the university.

Gus Bjork is business manager of the publication. The first edition will be published in December.

HONORARY GROUP PLEDGES 9 MEN

Sigma Tau Picks Nine Men From Incoming Junior Class; Scholarship High

Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, announced the pledging of nine men following a meeting held last Wednesday afternoon. The men are as follows:

M. M. Johnson, Council; Orland Mayer, Genesee; Tom McGonigle, Spokane; Fred Klingner, Halley; Kenneth Jones, Blackfoot; Fritz Peterson, Aberdeen, Wash.; Alden Norrill, Mountain Home; Fred Johnson, Moscow; and Jess Thomason.

Pledges are picked from incoming juniors who stand in the upper third class in scholarship. Sigma Tau had two members last year who were six point students so pledges this year had to meet exceptionally high scholarship requirements.

Idaho: Warren Montgomery, chairman; Virginia Alley, Elva Reid, Deillah Budrow, and Smith Miller.

DEAN FRENCH IS BACK FROM TRIP

Dean Pormeal French returned Wednesday from her 16-day trip to southern Idaho. "I sure am glad to get back," she commented.

She visited 11 towns on her trip, delivering 24 addresses, both to parents and high school students. "Citizenship in the Home" was the subject. She made her talks very confidential and personal.

Miss French reported unbounded enthusiasm of the people for the university, and determination by many high school students to come here next year. "Weather permitting," she said, "all those intending to come to 'Homecoming' will make the largest crowd Idaho has ever known."

MILITARY HONORARY WILL ENTERTAIN

Scabbard and Blade To Give Dance at Bucket

A dinner dance to be held at the Blue Bucket inn in the near future was planned by Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military organization, at its last weekly meeting Tuesday.

The organization plans to make the dance informal. Committees will be appointed and work on the function will be started immediately. The selection of a man to replace Nels Werner, who did not come back to the university this fall in the office of sergeant-in-arms will be made at the next meeting Tuesday.

RESERVE SEATS ON SALE SATURDAY

Tickets For "Lilles of the Field" are Being Sold

Seats for the Maroni Olsen play, "The Lilles of the Field," to be given at the Kenworthy theatre, October 29, will be on reserve beginning Saturday, October 22.

Tickets have been sold by members of the Business and Professional Women's club for the last two weeks. Reserved seats may be secured by to box 269, Moscow.

VANDAL VIMS

With a team of Montana's reputed strength be as their opponents, the Vandals should have a big day of it Saturday afternoon in their third and last appearance on MacLean field this year. The game should afford a grand opportunity for some flashy running, heavy line bucking and an all around good performance.

It will be another three weeks before fore Idaho students will have a chance to see the Vandals in action again. Then they will be fighting the classic of the season at Pullman. Interest is centering on that game those between are mere preliminaries to most of us.

What Montana lacked in her games this season is someone to take the place of Kelly. As was predicted Kelly took with him a large part of the team when he finished his last year of football. It was seldom that Kelly failed to score, no matter who the opposing team might be. Montana needs him and misses him.

A line of power, or rather lack of power, of the Grizzly forward wall can be gleaned from the following sentence taken from the student paper of the University of Montana: "The Grizzlies' line was woefully ineffective and the backfield seemed unable to get the plays under way before the Cougar forwards broke through."

If Idaho resorts to a punting duel with Montana as she did with Whitman, Montana will find herself a little outclassed. Shinske, who did the punting for Montana in the W. S. C. game, averaged 33 yards on his kicks. Burgher, Idaho kicker, has been boosting the ball close to a 40 yard average.

There were many in the stands last week who could not understand why Idaho punted time after time on the first and second down in the first quarter. When the break came, on which the Vandals gained nearly 20 yards on the ninth exchange, they understood the style of play a little better. Burgher gained a few yards on each kick, and finally, following a good tackle by an Idaho linesman, brought his team within scoring distance.
