U. S. C. Wins 33 to 13 in Last Conference Game of Season Saturday

DRURY WINS LAURELS

Idaho Still Tied With Stanford and U. S. C. for Title

(By Frank E. Judy)

Final Conference Standings	W	L	T

U. S. C.	4	0	1
Washington	3	2	0
California	2	3	0

W. S. C.	1	3	1
Oregon	0	4	0
Montana	0	4	0

The thrilling contest in which the University of Southern California conquered Washington 33 to 13 brought the 1927 football schedule of the Pacific Coast conference to a close. The Trojans unleashed a powerful attack that overwhelmed the northerners from the kickoff and not once did the Huskies threaten to keep the scoring even.

Morley Drury's performance left no doubt in the minds of the spectators why he was selected on the All-American team of the various coaches and critics. The big quarterback passed, kicked and carried the ball, excelling in the latter and amassed a total of nearly 200 yards from scrimmage. His 76-yard run to touchdown in the first quarter gave the Washington team an inkling of what was to follow.

Several members of the fraternity were named by Fisher Ellsworth, president, to obtain donations from the fraternity and sorority houses and halls on the campus. All of the houses contributed toward the Red Cross fund, it was reported.

A Christmas program will be put on by the fraternity at the next luncheon, December 19, it was decided Monday. All members will be present while several guests will be invited. This will be the last meeting of the year, with the fraternity to continue its work when school takes up again after the Christmas holidays.

A report was read covering the work of the fraternity during the homecoming last month. During homecoming the fraternity entertained six alumni at its annual alumni banquet. It also handled all student affairs relative to the homecoming program.

Washington was the only other eleven to finish above the 50 mark in the percentage. The strength of the Huskies lay in a very powerful line with two hard charging backs in Tesreau and Carroll, who were ably led by Captain Pat Wilson. California made a comeback, and while not a winner in the full sense of the word, gave indications of having a team of a championship caliber on the field next year. The work of Lom and Eisan, sophomore backfield men, was

PICK VANDALS AS COAST CHAMPS

W. S. C. Basketball Coach Rates Idaho as Best Contenders for Title

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman.—In the approaching basketball season race in the northern division of the Pacific Coast conference the University of Idaho stands a good chance of annexing the title, declares Coach Karl Schludermann. Cougar basketball mentor is sizing up the hoop situation in the Northwest. Washington and Oregon State looms as strong contenders for top honors while Oregon, Montana and Washington State are slated for the lower division.

Idaho was nosed out of the race last year when the Cougar five split the series of two games with the Vandals. This year the Idaho squad loses two good men but Schludermann believes the Vandals will put forth a stronger outfit regardless. He points to the strong freshman team of last year which moves up to the varsity ranks intact this year.

A wealth of material is to be had at Washington and Oregon State and these two institutions can be counted upon having powerful teams in the field, according to the Cougar coach. Oregon last year's champions has been bit hard by graduation and will have difficulty in building up a winning team. Montana will find tough going to climb up the conference ladder from the cellar.

As far as Washington State goes, there is little indication that the Cougars will be able to move up more than a notch or two. Last year they placed next to the bottom but a better team this season is predicted to land them in the middle of the heap. Material is fair but there are no outstanding players.

ALUMNI INVITED TO SENIOR BALL

Plans Complete for Annual Dance to Be Held Friday Night at Elks Club

All alumni of the university are extended invitations, through the columns of The Argonaut, to attend the annual senior formal ball to be held Friday night at the Elks club, according to Phil Cox, general chairman. Plans are complete for the dance, and ticket sale is reported to be large.

Due to the inability to obtain accurate addresses of alumni residing in Moscow and vicinity it was impossible to send individual invitations to the dance to all graduates, Mr. Cox said. The Argonaut is being used to carry these invitations.

All effort is being put forth on this dance by the class of '28 to make it one of the biggest affairs of the year, according to Mr. Cox. The ballroom will be decorated and music will be furnished by Soden's eight piece orchestra.

HOUSES GIVE RED CROSS NEARLY $100

Blue Key Fraternity Collects Money From Groups During Drive

Approximately $100 was collected among university group houses and halls by Blue Key, honorary upper-classman's service fraternity, for the American Red Cross during its drive, it was reported at the regular luncheon of the fraternity Monday noon at the Blue Bucket Inn. All of the group houses have not turned in their donations, but these will be collected and turned over to the Moscow representative of the Red Cross Tuesday and Wednesday, it was announced.

Several members of the fraternity were named by Fisher Ellsworth, president, to obtain donations from the fraternity and sorority houses and halls on the campus. All of the houses contributed toward the Red Cross fund, it was reported.

A Christmas program will be put on by the fraternity at the next luncheon, December 19, it was decided Monday. All members will be present while several guests will be invited. This will be the last meeting of the year, with the fraternity to continue its work when school takes up again after the Christmas holidays.

IDAHO DEBATES W. S. C. TONIGHT

First Conference Session of Season Will Be in Auditorium

Idaho's first conference debate this fall will be held this evening when she meets W. S. C. in the annual Idaho-W. S. C. duel meet in the university auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Walter Dean, Moscow, Loren Hughes, Bellevue, and John Ewing of Pocatello, will debate affirmatively for Idaho here. Walter Slaughter, Twin Falls, Alvin Reading, Buhl, and Ralph Paterson, Harrison, will be Idaho's negative team at Pullman tonight.

The question, "Resolved: That American investments in foreign nations should be protected only by the government of the nation in which the investment was made," was the one Idaho debated victoriously at Vancouver university and with Montana university last week. It is the most popular debate topic in college debating and is being argued by all leading universities this fall.

The Reverend Mr. Wingfield of the Christian church in Moscow will be the single critic judge at the affirmative debate.

Music will be furnished by the music department.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO REVISE CONSTITUTION

Interfraternity Groups to Have New Laws Published and Distributed

A general meeting of the Interfraternity Council was held last Thursday night, December 1 at 8 o'clock at the Phi Gamma Delta house. The report of the various house presidents of their meeting with Dean French was given, and the proposition of the Interfraternity Council picture in the Gem was passed. A committee was appointed consisting of William Callaway, Chairman, Elmer Berglund and Hartley Kester to revise the present constitution of the Interfraternity Council making whatever changes are necessary. This constitution will be presented at the next regular meeting for acceptance, and copies will be distributed to each house.

The officers of the body are: Leon Weeks, president; William Callaway, vice president; Lucien Oliver, treasurer and Leroy Long, Secretary, being developed.

Of the 6,000,000 young men and women in this country between the ages of 18 and 21, only 750,000 are students in universities and colleges.

BOARD TO SELECT CHIEF EXECUTIVE HERE THIS MONTH

Eight Candidates for University Presidency Remain in Running, is Report

TO VISIT CAMPUS Three Prospects to Be on Campus for Meeting December 28 and 29

Eight candidates for the presidency of the University of Idaho and its southern branch at Pocatello remain on the list from which will be selected Dr. Alfred H. Upham's successor the last of this month, according to dispatches from W. D. Vincent of Boise, state commissioner of education. The new president will probably be named by the state board of education at a meeting sometime this month here.

Dr. Upham tendered his resignation last summer as president of the university to accept the presidency of Miami university at Oxford, Ohio. His resignation becomes effective February 1, 1928.

Looks to West Idaho is looking to the west for its next president, according to Mr. Vincent. Mr. Vincent made this announcement Monday before leaving for two weeks on a trip to meet eight educational leaders, one of whom will probably be named as Doctor Upham's successor.

A list of 37 prospective presidents has been gone over by the special executive committee of the state board of education and has been cut down to eight. The qualifications of each of the prospective presidents were gone over carefully by the committee. Some of these, however, are not applicants for the position. The executive committee named to examine applications, is made up of Stanley A. Easton of Kellogg, Huntington Taylor of Coeur d'Alene and Commissioner Vincent.

Invites Three Here Three of the candidates will be invited by Mr. Vincent to visit the campuses of the university and the southern branch. Mr. Vincent has been instructed to invite not more than three prospects here, where they will look over the institution and meet with all members of the state board of education.

According to reports from Boise, the three final candidates are to visit the Idaho campus before and during the next meeting of the board of education. This meeting is scheduled for December 28 and 29, Mr. Vincent announced.

Due to the absences of Doctor Upham and L. F. Parsons, executive secretary of the university, from the campus Monday, it was impossible to learn whether or not any arrangements have been made to receive the candidates the latter part of this month.

AG CLUB SMOKER WELL ATTENDED

One Boxing and Two Wrestling Matches as Well as Eats and Stories on Program

About 100 members of the faculty and student body of the college of agriculture attended the annual Ag club smoker held Saturday night in the U-Hut. Three fast bouts one of boxing and two of wrestling made up the main program of the evening. Gehrke and Nelson in the 160 pound class fought evenly through three rounds with neither gaining a fall. Neither Murphy nor Platt could put across the finishing twist in the 140 pound class and the decision was a draw.

Music was furnished for the smoker by the "barnyard trio." Eats and stories concluded the evening.

PARSONS AT BOISE
L. F. Parsons, executive secretary of the university, is on a business trip in Boise and is expected to return tomorrow afternoon.

PICTURE LOCKED IN GLASS CASE

Copy of Painting "Old Ironsides" Safeguarded After First One Stolen

When a copy of the painting "Old Ironsides" posted on a Science hall bulletin board as part of the "Save Old Ironsides" campaign was stolen Friday, a second copy was placed in a glass case under lock and key in the main hall of the Administration building.

The pictures were received by Dr. W. B. Bollen, research chemist in the department of agricultural chemistry. He explained that they were being sold to raise money to restore the frigate Constitution, one of the first ships in the American navy. Dry rot has destroyed large portions of the timbering of the historic ship and the campaign is for the purpose of raising funds for its rebuilding. The picture was painted by Gordon Grant, America's foremost marine artist. After sufficient copies of the picture have been sold, the original will be presented to President Coolidge and will be permanent possession of the White House.

Copies of the picture can be obtained by writing to the headquarters of the Campaign at Boston Navy Yard. The picture is on display in the glass case next to the bursar's office in the main hall of the Administration building.

C. HUTCHINSON TO PLAY AT FRISCO

Named by Coaches on West's Team to Meet All-Southern Eleven

Carl Hutchinson's name has been listed among the football stars of the Pacific coast who will make up the team to represent the west Christmas day in the annual game with an all-southern eleven. No official notification of his selection on this team has been received by Hutchinson, he said Monday.

The squad of 22 players was picked from 11 Pacific coast colleges and universities Monday by Coaches Howard Jones of the University of Southern California, Enoch Bagshaw, University of Washington, and Bill Spaulding, University of California at Los Angeles as material from which the west's team will be selected. The team is to be made up of athletes in the senior year.

This game is not connected with the annual east-west Shrine benefit gridiron classic, which will be played at San Francisco. On the team representing the west in this game Idaho will be represented by "Chuck" Diehl, veteran guard.

Those selected for the Los Angeles game are:
Ends—Robbins and Logan, O. S. C.; Douglas, Washington.
Tackles—Hutchinson, Idaho; Vierhus, Montana; Scheving, U. S. C.
Guards—Davis, California at Los Angeles; Sherwood, Loyola; Shaw, Washington; Heiser, U. S. C.; Hodgen, Oregon; Badley, O. S. C.
Center—Lauzon, Washington.
Quarterbacks—Drury and Elliott, U. S. C.

IDAHO MEN ARE ON REVIEW ALL-STARS

Burgher and Diehl on First Team; Kershnik Named On Second String

Three Idaho men are named for places on All-Pacific coast football teams by E. H. Russell, sporting editor of the Spokesman Review. Darwin Burgher, end and "Chuck" Diehl, guard were picked for the first team and "Bill" Kershnik was chosen as fullback of the second string. Two men each were picked from Idaho, Stanford, U. S. C. and St. Mary's, Washington, California and Gonzaga had one representative each. The selection compares closely with that of other coast sport writers with the exception of the choice of Walters-Kirchen of Gonzaga as guard.

Speaking of the choice of Burgher and Franks as ends, Mr. Russell says: "There were few outstanding wingmen in the west this year, but these two were great and fulfill the requirements for the position. Of Chuck Diehl he says 'while of a distinctly different type (than Walters-Kirchen) he would make an ideal running mate for him.'"

"Kershnik of Idaho," he says, "is the ideal type of fullback and was an important factor in playing Idaho in a tie with Stanford and U. S. C. for the conference championship."

His first string was as follows:

President Alfred H. Upham will address the student body of Oregon State college at Corvallis next Wednesday. Doctor and Mrs. Upham left last Sunday and are expected to return Thursday evening.

IDAHO TO HAVE SMALLEST TEAM IN CONFERENCE

Burgher and Canine Are Tallest Men on Vandal Basketball Squad

TEAM IN RUNT CLASS Preparing Team for Annual Barnstorming Tour During Christmas Vacation

From one of the heaviest football teams on the coast, it is not in the United States, to one of the smallest conference basketball teams, is the record in prospect at the University of Idaho. Coach Charlie Erb's grid squad has been touted "the biggest football team in the United States," and as such, went through the coast conference season without a defeat. Coach Rich Fox's basketball team, which is now developing, promises to be the smallest team in the conference.

With the exception of Darwin Burgher forward and center and Herbert Canine guard, who are close to the six-foot mark, indications are that the Vandal squad will be in the runt class, so far as physical size is concerned. George Greene, letterman guard, who stands around five feet ten, and weighs in the neighborhood of 160 pounds, will be one of the larger boys on the squad, said Fox. Glen Jacoby, letter man guard, is five feet eight inches tall. David, forward, has about the same height. This takes in all the lettermen of last year who have reported. Then Stowell, who looks to be a sure bet for a first team position, also is a youngster so far as size is concerned. The same with Barrett, guard and MacMillan forward, two others who are looked to be a couple of reasons why letter men of last year are facing a struggle to get their monogram again this year. Harold Thornhill, sophomore, to whom Fox is looking for a tip-off man, pairs in height with Greene, or about five feet ten inches. A survey of all the candidates reported regularly for varsity drill shows one of the greatest deaths of big men in the history of Idaho basketball.

With this handicap facing him, Fox will find it necessary to develop a team of scrappers, who must depend upon getting the ball after the tip off, as the shortness of the time, combined with the fact that none of the candidates have shown enough jumping ability to offset their lack of altitude, make getting the ball at the start a rare possibility.

Although the practice season is young, Fox is getting his men into shape rapidly in anticipation of the annual barnstorming tour during the Christmas vacation. He has not announced a definite itinerary, but is looking toward southern Idaho, Utah, Wyoming and Montana for enough games to put his team into shape for the conference season opening in January.

ROAD ENGINEERS TO HOLD SCHOOL

Idaho Students to Help in Testing Road Construction Materials

A school for highway engineers will be conducted by Raymond Harsh, materials engineer for the Idaho Department of Public Works, at the University of Idaho December 19 to 23.

Mr. Harsh will place special emphasis upon the testing of highway materials, such as crushed rock, sand, gravel, cement, road oil and steel. He will be assisted by Jess Buchanan, instructor in civil engineering and testing engineer in the materials testing laboratory of the civil engineering department. Vernon Otter, Francis Crig and Gus Bjork, civil engineering students, and Ralph Hamilton, a mechanical engineering senior, will demonstrate the tests to the visiting highway engineers from the two northern Idaho highway districts.

LET CONTRACT FOR IDAHO ENGINEER

Magazine to Be Largest in History; Will Be Off Press Dec. 20

Contract for the publishing of the coming issue of the Idaho Engineer, semi-annual organ of the Associated Engineers, has been let to the Tribune Publishing company of Lewiston, according to Gus Bjork, business manager of the magazine.

Copy has been sent to the publishers and it is expected that the magazine will be off the press by December 20.

The December issue will be changed from a two-column makeup to a three-column and will contain 40 pages making this edition the largest in the history of the magazine. Edgar Hagman, editor, said the change would make the Idaho Engineer one of the few technical magazines in the country using such a makeup. The change will make possible an increase of 20 per cent of reading matter and inclusion of more cuts and desirable features.

Some of the contributors are L. C. Cady and W. B. Cone of the chemistry department whose articles on zinc discoveries gained nation-wide publication in scientific journals last spring; Raymond Harsh, materials engineer for the State of Idaho, who writes on road economics; Donald Payne, patent expert who has written on late radio discoveries; and Fred W. Callaway, consulting mining engineer of Spokane, whose article features the engineering aspects of mining litigation.

ONE-ACT TRAGEDY TO BE PRESENTED BY PLAY CLASSES

"The Organ" is First Tragedy Produced This Fall

THREE OTHER PLAYS Group Will Be Given on Thursday and Friday Evenings

"The Organ," the first one-act tragedy to be presented by members of the play production classes this fall, will be the unusual play that will open the dramatic department's second one-act play group to be given Thursday and Friday evenings of this week in the auditorium. Three other plays, "One Egg", "The Dear Departed" and "The Mayor and the Manicurist" will complete the program. The three departmental assistants, Mrs. Harry Brenn, Miss Marie Johnson and Miss Mandel Wein are coaching the productions.

"The Organ" is a tragedy, the plot of which is centered around the retaining of a family heirloom, a treasured organ, from a sheriff's sale. A busy loving mother, and a nosy busy-body neighbor, are the centers for discussion. The large cast of thirteen members has been working toward the goal of a perfected production for over two months. This long period of rehearsal necessitated by the large cast is unusual in a one-act play.

The cast is as follows:
Henry Peterson—Arthur Chapman
Myra ..... Helen Douglas
Marvin ..... Smith Miller
Calvin Jasper ..... Robert St. Clair
Mrs. Calvin Jasper ..... Jean Raylins
Mrs. Trude Meeker ..... Edith Wilson
Trude Meeker ..... Winston Steele
Joe Weston ..... James Dunn
Elmer Flammer ..... Robert Page
Jim Langdon ..... Dan McGrath
Col. Okayne ..... Gordon Kershaw
The Clerk ..... Robert Ryder
Mrs. Weston ..... Georgia Miller
"One Egg" is farce comedy.

"One Egg", a farce comedy, coached by Miss Marie Johnson will be the second play on the program. The theme of this play is centered around the necessity of making a dumb waiter bring one egg instead of two to a young author and his friend. The Man is played by Don Warner, George Ann Brown and Louise Mc Kipney alternate for the two nights in the role of The Woman. The waiter is Herman Ottens.

The comedy "The Dear Departed" is the next play on the program. Mrs. Harry Brenn is coaching this production. The question involved in this play is whether or not a Grandpa as well as a cat have more than one life. The plot over a questionable and changeable will causes many family complications. Lillian Woodworth and Thelma Smith have the roles of the ambitious daughters. Their husbands, Henry Slater and Ben Gordon are taken by Marlon Fleming and Fred Buckingham respectively.

"The Mayor and the Manicurist," a snappy comedy, will close the evening's program. Miss Johnson is coaching this play. The plot of this comedy is centered around an ambitious manicurist who tries to collect $10,000 from her proposed husband. The unhappy second girl of the party figures greatly in the comedy scenes. Jack Sheehan has the role of the proud father, Mayor Millford. Estelle Pickrell and Pat Walker are taking the roles of Ruth and Wallie respectively. The role of the manicurist will be taken the first night by Ethel Lafferty, and the second by Pauline Hockaday.

This will be the last group of one-act plays to be given this month. exact sdye -ugs, rgenil l Geo

SILVER LOVING CUP WON BY IDAHO TEAM

Vandals Made Highest Individual Team Score in History of Portland Show

A silver loving cup, won by the Idaho grain judging team at the Portland international Livestock exposition, was received Saturday by Prof. H. W. Hulbert, head of the agronomy department and coach of the winning team. This cup is awarded annually to the team which scores highest at the show.

Harry Gault of Buhl, Judson Thompson of Great Falls, Montana, and Harry Spence of Moscow, representing Idaho, made the highest individual team score and the highest individual score ever recorded in the history of the Oregon city exposition. Gault made high individual score.

The team placed sixth in competition with teams from all over the United States at the Chicago International exposition, two weeks ago. The trophy cup is two feet high on the base and is decorated with duplication of scenes from "The Sower" and a "Field of Grain" which are embossed in dark colored metals.

Idaho's team has won for the first time the right to have its name engraved on the cup. Montana State college has won the cup three times and Oregon State college once. The cup will remain in possession of the Idaho team until the Portland show next fall.

The trophy is now on display in Dean Hungertford's office.

FROM HIGH TO LOW

A CENTURY ago the college student was looked up to; fifty years later he was admired; twenty-five years ago he was respected; today he is tolerated.

These are harsh words portraying modern college student, issued in an editorial in the Drake Delphic. But, nevertheless it is hard to put up a good argument that will completely disprove this statement.

College students today are no longer the "thinking minority." The Delphic says. At one time it was considered a mark of distinction to be a college graduate—but today it is taken as a matter of course.

Too many children are using the American college as a most convenient and very satisfactory means of prolonging childhood.

A REGENT CENSORS STUDENT NEWS. SOME of the highly combustible Lindsey tinder has flared up at the University of California at Los Angeles.

When we look around us, wondering what it is all about, do we find any real argument to uphold our system as being ideal, as turning out every man or woman, or at least a good percentage of them, as complete products ready to take their places in life and help advance society?

OUR GRID SCHEDULE. WITH California opponents undoubtedly the goal upon which Idaho grid mentors will cast their schedule eyes for the 1928 football season, three representatives of Idaho this week journey to Portland to bicker and argue for next season contests.

"SPRING FEVER" COMEDY AT KENWORTHY TONIGHT ONLY. William Haines in golf tricks plus a series of hilarious troubles, Joan Crawford as a golfing debutante, and a love story that's told in the mazes of golf club etiquette and the game itself—these are the highlights of "Spring Fever."

With prospects good for 1928, Idaho may find herself in the reverse of the situation of the season just past. Coast critics are wondering if Idaho will fill her schedule full of hard conference games—those long, fatiguing trips—rushes home afterward—and perhaps ruin of a possible championship season.

HUNGERFORD IS BACK FROM TRIP

Acting Agricultural Dean Returns from Month's Visit in East

Dr. C. W. Hungerford, acting dean of the college of agriculture, returned Saturday from a month's visit in the east, including Chicago, Washington and a number of colleges and Universities. Doctor Hungerford left the campus November 8, for Chicago, where he, in company with President A. H. Upham and Miss Katherine Jensen attended the annual meeting of land grant college presidents.

While in the east Doctor Hungerford interviewed men at the University of Wisconsin, University of Minnesota, and Pennsylvania State college for the position of professor of poultry husbandry left vacant by the resignation of Professor Parkhurst last summer.

The Kappa Sigma annual house party held Saturday was the high light in social events for last week end. An elaborate dinner, a carnival and dancing furnished amusement from noon until midnight. Gay favors also contributed to the festivity of the Temple.

A host of social functions are scheduled for the weeks preceding Christmas vacation. Most prominent of these, and one of the most brilliant events of the year, is the Senior Ball to be given Friday night at the Elks Temple.

GEM DRIVES FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Two Weeks Remain in Annual Campaign; Urge Students Get Pictures

Subscription drive for the Gem of the Mountains is now at its height and there remain only two weeks in which to sign up for an annual, according to Paul Gowen, circulation manager. The campaign, under the direction of the Intercollegiate Knights and the Spurs, is being carried on with the intention of giving every student an opportunity to subscribe for an annual if he wishes one. Subscriptions will be taken at a table in the entrance of the administration building this afternoon, Wednesday morning and Thursday afternoon for the convenience of students who do not live in group houses or in dormitories.

"A university annual cannot be complete unless every student is represented," said George Young, editor of the Gem of the Mountains, in urging that all students have their pictures taken as soon as possible. It is the desire of the management that practically all students have their pictures taken by the end of this semester. This will enable the editors of the book to get the picture section lined up and sent to the printers as soon as possible. It is their endeavor to have only a few stragglers to pick up in the picture line next semester and in order to have all the pictures taken by the end of the semester it is almost necessary that appointments be made before Christmas vacation, he said.

Students who did not make a deposit for pictures during registration at the first of the year may do so directly with the photographer. It is the desire of the Gem staff that everyone have a new picture taken each year but those who wish to transfer their pictures from last year's annual may do so by making arrangements with the photographer who took the picture. Juniors and seniors must have new pictures taken because of the change from informal to formal and from formal to cap and gown.

A Safe And Sane Christmas

A striking example of the adjustment of an old custom to the exigencies of modern life, is the adaptation of practical, workaday articles to Christmas giving.

There was a time when a "Christmas gift" must be something with but a single quality—uselessness. Today, it is not even good taste to select such things.

A glance thru our store will give you many practical suggestions for that Christmas list. Even such prosaic things as kitchen towels, bath mats and pillow cases can be boxed so artistically that none of the Christmas touch is lost.

Let's make this a safe and sane Christmas. Give useful things.

COAST CONFERENCE TO INCLUDE U. C. L. A.

U. of California Southern Branch to Be Admitted at Portland; 10 Listed

With the admission of University of California, Southern Branch at Los Angeles, into Pacific Coast conference athletic ranks, which is scheduled to transpire at a meeting of conference representatives at Portland, Ore., December 10, that association will be increased to 10 members. And with the admission of the Southern Branch, conference officials hope will go some of the disadvantages and inequalities of schedules, and disputes which has kept the association in argument since University of Idaho and University of Montana were admitted some years ago, swinging the numerical balance to the north.

Varsity Squad May Take Trip

Planning for annual barnstorming; Games already scheduled with Mount St. Charles, Montana State

The annual barnstorming trip of the Idaho varsity basketball team has not yet been finally arranged but plans are being made to take the trip as usual. Games have already been scheduled with Mount St. Charles and Montana State college and the squad hopes to slate several more games in Montana as the trip is tentatively planned to cover that state, northern Wyoming and southern Idaho.

The squad has been lopped down to 15 men over the week end and now includes George Green, Herbert Canine, Glenn Jacoby and Arthur Dawald.

FROSH HOOP MEN ARE WEEDED OUT

Six More Men Are Dropped From Squad, Friday Evening; 21 Candidates Left

Continuing his policy of weeding out the least likely basketball candidates, Coach Fox dropped six more men from his freshman squad Friday evening. The 24 yearlings still on the list will be on their toes this week as their sickle is still sharp. It is due to pare off five or six more before the first game, tentatively scheduled with Moscow high school during the week before Christmas holidays.

Actual scrimmages will begin this week and the coaching staff will have a better basis on which to base the squad selections. The men now are: Hugh Duffy, Harvey Jones, Carl Lundemo, John Oud, Charles Harndon, Glenn Shook, Harold Carlson, Dan Boquist, Herbert Wickerstrand, Howard Kennedy, Kenneth Swift, George Miller, Sherman Miller, Ed White, Glenn Todd, Chad Wendel, Clarence Dwyer, Lafayette McCrory, Kenneth Hensley, Jack Booker, Vernon Vaurick, Fred Carroll and Payton Sommercamp.

FIRST TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK

Moscow, Idaho

Problems which institutional representatives will discuss at their meeting are transfer of athletes from junior colleges to conference institutions; transfer from branches to principal institutions; training table regulation, abolishment of spring football practice and athletic scholarships.

Regarding training tables, it is felt in some quarters that without more definite regulation, the practice too easily could become one of free board as an athletic inducement.

Transfer from junior colleges was discussed a year ago, when it was decided, for want of a better agreement, that athletes coming from non-degree granting institutions, be allowed to participate in athletics without the customary year's residence requirement. A change is expected.

While only two institutions are affected by the branch problem (University of California which has an agricultural branch at Davis and University of Idaho which has a newly-created branch at Pocatello), the problem is seen as one of growing importance. Southern Branch of California at Los Angeles, is conceded by the institution at Berkeley as without the athletic status of a branch as it takes its own place within the conference fold. Under present rulings, students coming from branches are considered to have been in attendance at the institution itself, subject to all limitations or benefits therefrom.

ISSUE CALL FOR BONE CRUSHERS

Boxing and Wrestling Candidates to Meet Tomorrow Afternoon at 4 o'Clock

Candidates for the wrestling and boxing teams are to meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the gymnasium. Everyone interested in these sports is asked to turn out whether or not he has had experience. If sufficient men turn out for wrestling, legs will be obtained. Tom Boardman will coach the squad.

Intramural wrestling and boxing will start soon after the holidays according to the athletic department heads. It is planned to have each house on the campus enter a three-man team to compete for the campus wrestling and boxing title. An award would be made to the winning house and an individual award would be given to the best individual wrestler or boxer uncovered in the matches.

the shining light of the Blue and Gold offense. Oregon State, tied with California with two wins and three losses for fourth place, is hard hit by graduation and is not expected to be a serious threat. W. S. C. was the only other team to win a contest, the lowly Montana eleven being the victim. Much was expected of the Cougars and they were aptly termed the "Dark horse" of the race, but Washington Staters fell by the wayside. Oregon shares the cellar with Montana neither team registering a victory. The Web-footers, succeeded in holding the Vandals to a scoreless tie in the opening game of the season.

Road and Railroad Building

Lesson No. 6 of BLASTERS' HANDBOOK

ROAD-MAKING calls for about every kind of blasting, opening ditches, loosening hard ground in grading, blasting for surfacing and ballasting material, opening vertical drains, and blasting rock in grading. There are "through cuts" and "side hill cuts," high sides, ridges and "thank you marms," outfall or discharge ditches, and scores of names and strange technicalities that never saw the light of day in the average engineering text-book.

All these practical points of road-making are explained, fully diagrammed and illustrated in the BLASTERS' HANDBOOK. Not a text-book in the ordinary sense, but rather a digest of the experience of du Pont field service men in practically every industry using explosives. Admirably supplements your studies of engineering theories. Supplies the kinks and "how-to-do's" that you usually have to spend several years in the field to learn. Handy pocket-size for quick reference; and arranged for easy study.
