TICKETS ON SALE FOR IDAHO TRAIN

Students Buying Tickets for South Idaho Special; Urge Early Purchase

Tickets for the south Idaho student special train went on sale at the O. W. R. & N. company ticket office Thursday, according to D. House, Moscow agent. These round-trip tickets can be purchased up to the time the train leaves Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Early sale of tickets is urged by Mr. House in order that all of the students can be accommodated before train time. Approximately 425 tickets will be sold and students are urged to cooperate with the ticket office in handling them.

Reservations for sleepers on the train have been coming in fast, Mr. House reported. A majority of the sleepers have already been taken and students not having reservations are asked to make them at once so that they will be placed in cars going to their towns. Practically all of the drawing room has been reserved, it was announced.

The train will be made up of 15 cars, with all modern equipment. Two diners will be included for the serving of meals. Five of the cars will be cut out at Boise, to remain there until the train returns January 4. Baggage for the special should be checked at the station as soon as possible, Mr. House said, so as to avoid any unnecessary rush Wednesday.

STUDENTS AT PEACE WITH OREGON "COPS"

Special Student Police Officer Aids in Settling Disputes on Eugene Campus

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON—Don Bealar, president of the associated students, recently announced that differences between students of the University of Oregon and the police of Eugene are now definitely at an end. A responsible student of the University will be deputized as a regular police officer who will be called in all cases in which students are concerned, such as the recent action on serenades and regulating lights at a student dance.

Both the students and police showed an eagerness to agree on the recent misunderstandings that have arisen out of the case when police ordered more lights at the sophomore informal, and when trouble previously arose over serenades by students.

LIBRARY BE OPEN DURING VACATION

Will be Open Five Hours and a Half Each Day; Regular Schedule Resumed January 5

The University of Idaho library will be open five and one-half hours daily during the Christmas vacation, from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and 1:30 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon, according to announcement by Miss Belle Sweet, librarian, this week.

The library will be closed in the evenings and on Saturday afternoons under the present holiday plan. Regular library hours will be resumed on January 5, 1928, when school takes up for the remainder of the first semester. Choice of a successor to Miss Bessie Greenwool, in charge of the library cataloging, has not been made, but will be announced within the next few days, according to Miss Sweet. Miss Greenwool has accepted a similar position in the Public Library of Vancouver, B. C.

HOOPSTERS TO PLAY NORMAL TONIGHT

Vandal Team to Play at Lewiston in Pre-conference Game

The varsity basketball quintet will open its schedule of pre-conference games in Lewiston Friday night, when Rich Fox's boys meet the aggregation of the Lewiston State Normal school.

Coach Fox is taking 12 men to Lewiston and from this group he will pick 10 who will make the holiday team for the season. Fox has not announced his starting lineup against the Lewiston team, but from all indications there will be two or three sophomores among the Lewiston tossers, but it is said that normal possesses some of the old high school stars from Lewiston and vicinity. If such is the case the Normal boys should be able to take together some fairly stiff opposition for the Idaho varsity.

During the course of the game Coach Fox expects to use his whole squad. On the basis of their performance in this, the first actual game of the year, he will be able to make his selections and combinations for the barnstorming trip. Late developments in the barnstorming "brainstorm" indicate that the squad will leave Moscow next Tuesday for Montana, where game after game has been scheduled. Montana State college has arranged for a two-game series on consecutive nights and Mount St. Charles is tentatively lined up for the next evening. The rest of the schedule is a matter of conjecture at this time. Plans are being made to secure a game with the Illinois quintet in Pocatello. The Illinois squad is taking a western coast barnstorming tour preparatory to the start of the big ten conference schedule. The Sparklers, fast Spokane team, have tentatively dated the Vandals for a contest after the Idaho team returns from the southern part of the state. This game will probably be played in Spokane just before school opens after the holidays.

The five highest scores, by Elva Reed, Helen Kerr and Marjorie White each with 99 points, and Beatrice Bangs and Avis Bowdish with 98 each, were counted. The University of Maine has sent a challenge for a match to be held the week ending February 16. Girls who shot in the University of Washington match were:

PHI DELTS TROUCE BETA THETA PI FOR VOLLEYBALL TITLE

Take Three Out of Five Games in Finals Thursday Night

RIVALRY IS SPIRITED Platt for Winners and Nielson for Losers Play Good Game

Displaying the most consistent team work yet seen in the series Phi Delta Theta won the intramural volleyball championship Thursday evening in the gymnasium by defeating Beta Theta Pi three games out of five. The Phi Delta took the first two games easily but lost the third when the "PB" leaders rallied. The last game of the series went to Phi Delta by a 15 to 9 margin. Nielson for the Betas was the most dependable tapper for the losers while Platt shone with his serves for the Phi Delt. Nielson was responsible for a large number of his team's scores with his fast net kills. The curving serve of Platt was never solved by the Betas who usually grounded his offerings on their side of the net. Long rallies were a feature of the four games. Both teams played high class ball, showing improvement over early season contests.

Lineup and summary: Beta Theta Pi: Harold Drummond, Darold Smith, Ralph Drummond, Everett Lawrence, Byron Nielson and Kenneth Marchesi. Ralph Utt, sub. Phi Delta Theta: William Guernsey, Jay Christians, William Callaway, Emerson Platt, Sid Pierson and Waldemar Pederson.

Scores: First game, Phi Delta Theta 15, Beta Theta Pi 6; second game, Phi Delta, Theta 15, Beta Theta Pi 3; third game, Phi Delta Theta 6, Beta Theta Pi 15; fourth game, Phi Delta Theta 15, Beta Theta Pi 9. In the semi-finals played Tuesday and Wednesday evenings Beta Theta Pi eliminated Kappa Sigma with little trouble, Kappa Sigs making but 5 points in the two games played; and Phi Deltis sprung a surprise by defeating the highly rated P. K. I. gang. No cut is to be awarded to the winning team.

CARRY OUT OLD SINGING CUSTOM

Students to Sing Christmas Songs Around Tree Sunday at 4:30

Sunday afternoon shortly after 4:30 o'clock, university students will gather around a lighted evergreen tree on the campus to renew tradition and sing the well-known "Futelle" carols. Originated five years ago by Dean Parmelee J. French, the custom of singing the songs, without accompaniment as in days of old, has continued yearly, each year growing with increased favor. The tree was decorated in multi-colored lights Tuesday evening, the tree later being surmounted with an illuminated star. "It seems cheery for those students who stay here and a pleasant memory for the others to take to their homes," Miss French says in commenting upon the tradition. "It is a lovely feature that ties students to the university and the students have so heartily accepted the idea that it naturally became a tradition." "Usual response of students to an innovation of this sort is marvelous and is a sign of appreciation of tradition," she continues. "It makes a wonderful impression on freshmen and new students at Idaho."

The carol Sunday will be sung under the direction of Prof. Theodore Kratt, music director, although members of the Treble Clef and University glee clubs will be stationed in various groups to lead the singing. The carols are being sung in group houses and halls also this week. Third annual Christmas carol program given by children of the Moscow public schools precedes the carol singing.

BARTON TALKS TO P. T. ASSOCIATION

Was Main Speaker at "Worthy Home Membership" Meeting Last Wednesday

Dr. J. W. Barton, psychology professor at the university, was the main speaker Wednesday at the monthly meeting of the Moscow Parent-Teachers association at the high school, talking upon the parents' side of "Worthy Home Membership" the topic of the meeting. Doctor Barton emphasized the fact that the delinquent home means a delinquent child, and that the occupation, wealth and churches of the community are influencing factors on the life of the child. He urged confidence and understanding between parent and child.

WINTER SPORTS ON W. A. A. PROGRAM GET 50 POINTS

Fifty points in W. A. A. may be earned for 15 hours spent in winter outdoor sports. Skating, sledding, coasting, sleigh-riding, snow-balling, snow-shoeing are all listed among the outdoor sports. This provision for points in winter sports was added when the W. A. A. constitution was changed last year under the presidency of Rose Preuss. This is the first year that it has gone into effect.

SORORITY HOUSES WILL BE CLOSED

No House Mothers Remaining Here During Holidays; Approximately 45 Girls to Stay

All sorority houses will be closed during the Christmas holidays, Dean Permeal J. French announced Thursday. The houses will be closed due to the fact that the regular house mothers will not be on the campus during the holidays. Girls remaining here will stay at Hays and Forney hall, Dean French said. According to the ruling of the university, no house may remain open during holidays provided that the house mother of that house remains on the campus, Dean French said. None of the houses have indicated that their house mothers will be here during Christmas. Approximately 25 sorority girls and 20 hall girls will remain at the university during the holidays, Dean French estimated. All arrangements have been made to take care of these girls at the "women's halls." It has not been decided whether or not meals will be served at the halls, Miss French said. House mothers will be provided at the two halls.

Mr. Harsch investigated oil treatment for roads in California last spring and has supervised the materials used on similar Idaho work. Monday the school will open by an address of welcome by Dean Ivan C. Crawford of the Idaho school, to be followed by a discussion of "The Function of the Materials Department and Its Relation to Field Construction," by Mr. Harsch. Monday afternoon, assisted by Mr. Hamilton and Bjork, sampling methods for materials will be discussed and demonstrated. Tuesday, "Design and Control of Concrete Mixers," by Messrs. Harsch and Buchanan, and "Asphalt and Road Fills, Bituminous Concrete, Sand, Course Aggregate, Mineral Filler" by Messrs. Buchanan, Harsch, Craig and Hamilton will be the two topics of the day. Wednesday "The Design and Control of Bituminous Mixtures" by Mr. Harsch and "Crushed Rock and Gravel for Surfacing" by Messrs. Harsch, Buchanan and Otter, will comprise the work for the morning and afternoon sessions. Wednesday evening the public lecture will be held in Science Hall, probably in room 110. "Corrugated Metal Culvert Pipes, Concrete Pipe Culverts, and Reinforced Steel," by Messrs. Harsch, Buchanan and Darwin will be the last lecture of the school, the afternoon to be devoted to two with two discussions, and with miscellaneous road materials and the other with construction details. Approximately 12 or 15 members of highway engineering staffs in the northern part of the state will be present, it is estimated, in addition to engineering students.

BOARD APPROVES GRIDIRON AWARDS

Seventeen Football Players Will Get "I" Sweaters; Authorize Barnstorming

Awarding of 17 football gridiron team was authorized by the executive board at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening in the A. S. U. office in the Administration building. Two names, Wilfred Walmesley and Jim O'Brien, were added to the original list of football men to receive letters.

Due to an error in recording the time of players Walmesley's name did not appear among the first list of lettermen announced. Shortly after it was found that he had played enough time to warrant a letter. O'Brien started two games this year, which was overlooked, making him eligible for a letter. The men who will receive letters this season are Glen "Red" Jacoby, Carl Hutchison, Charles Diehl, Darwin Burgher, Con Lyway, Maurice Brimhall, Sammy Perrins, Fred Robertson, Orville Hult, Paul Hutchison, Lester Kirkpatrick, Gordon Diehl, Bill Kershnik, Harvey Sumpter, Walter Price, Wilfred Walmesley and James O'Brien.

To Order Sweaters Sweaters will be ordered for these men soon, according to George Horton, graduate manager. The awards will be made at a general A. S. U. assembly to be held sometime during the second semester. Fresh football numerals, approved at the meeting last week, will be presented to freshmen football men at this time along with several other awards.

PEP BAND CONCERT IS POSTPONED

Prepare New Program to Be Given Soon After Christmas Vacation

The annual Pep band concert which was scheduled to be held next Tuesday evening, the night before the closing of school for the Christmas vacation, has been postponed till the new year, according to Sam Hutchings, leader. There are several reasons for this change of date, the chief ones being that several members of the band have been granted permission to leave early, and the twelve-weeks exams and the trips which the band took during the football season interfered materially with the band's effort to work up a good program, said Mr. Hutchings. Although no definite date has been set by the calendar committee, it is likely that January 19 will be the night chosen for the concert. Professor David Nyvall, jr. director of the organization said that due to numerous requests for the band to stage a complete recital, the show this year would not be put on jointly with the dramatic department as in former years: An extensive program of classical, popular, and novelty selections have accordingly been arranged and regular practice will be held till the show is given. This extra practice together with the new type of program, said Professor Nyvall, will undoubtedly make this one of the best recitals and the band has even given.

BIG XMAS TRADE AT POSTOFFICE

30 Per Cent Increase Necessitated Extra Help at University Sub Station

An increase of more than 30 per cent in Christmas business during the present Christmas season over last year is reported by Frank Jones, in charge of the university sub-station at the U-hut. In fact the load has been so great during the past 10 days, that the office has been forced to put extra help on the job at the office. Never before have students fully realized the advantages of a university station, Mr. Jones declares. The post office will be open Christmas morning and Monday morning following, mail to be distributed in boxes only during the remainder of the day.

WOMEN DEBATERS WIN DUAL VICTORY

Defeat W. S. C. Teams Here and at Pullman Thursday

By defeating Washington State college women forensic artists both at Moscow and Pullman, six Idaho women debaters opened the first of a series of debates, Thursday evening with a double win. One man judgments were given as decisions. On the question, "Resolved: That Coeducation in Institutions of Higher Learning has Been a Failure," the Idaho affirmative team composed of Dorothy Kienholz, Moscow; Pauline Brown, Hometown and Alice Waldrop, Parma, defeated the Washington State college negative team here, while Mary Galloway, Weiser; Josephine Brossard, Rigby, and Julia Hunter Moscow, negative, defeated the W. S. C. affirmative team at Pullman. Washington State college was represented here by Misses Wetherford, Brown and Appleton, and by Misses Robertson, Schumacher and Eggarth at Pullman. The Rev. Marshall Wingfield of Moscow was sole judge here, with Miss Hildegarde Wanous, presiding. Victory of the Idaho women debaters, gives Idaho her fifth debating victory in the past two weeks in a total of six contests. Idaho men won from one W. S. C. team and defeated both Montana and British Columbia in a triangular contest two weeks ago. Next debates for the men's teams come in February with Marquette university, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, the women debating with Oregon Agricultural college about the same time.

President A. H. Upham Notified of Change Early This Morning

Rates Granted Idaho Christmas Train Benefit Students only; Cuts Down Cost Considerably

Rates of one fare and a third on the south Idaho student special train from Moscow to all points in the southern part of the state reached by the special have been granted by the Union Pacific railroad system, it was announced this morning by President A. H. Upham. W. K. Cundiff of Portland, general passenger agent for the Union Pacific system, made this announcement to Doctor Upham by long distance telephone early Friday morning. This special rate will be effective only on the student special train which leaves here Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and returns to Moscow January 4, railroad officials announced. Students of the university are the only ones to benefit by this reduction in Christmas holiday rates.

Hold Investigation

The lowering of the rate to a fare and a third for the entire trip was the result of an investigation carried on here by Mr. Cundiff and C. P. McArthur, who will have charge of the special. After telegrams had been sent to Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific system at Omaha, Neb., these officials were sent to Moscow to investigate the possibility of granting any further reduction. A conference was held Wednesday in Doctor Upham's office where the situation was explained to the officials. Nothing regarding any possible change in the rates was known here until this morning.

Doctor Upham was authorized by Mr. Cundiff to notify the passenger agent at the Moscow station, he said today would come under the new rate and to make it necessary for a refund to be made. Students having already purchased tickets will receive refunds.

Cuts Price

With the rate of a fare and a third clear through to all points in the southern part of the state reached by the special the price of tickets has been cut down considerably. The rate announced in the last issue of The Argonaut to Pocatello was $35.40 and

SOME PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE

EXTRA curricular activities have their places in college education, but the importance of these activities is often exaggerated by fraternities and others. The University of Washington Daily in a recent editorial, however, tends to show up this exaggeration as being greater than it really is.

"Now," says that house president, "that you're a pledge of good old Alpha Alpha, we want you to get started right. The idea is to get into activities. That's what puts the house on the map. Activities, see." So says the Daily. If such an idea is presented to freshmen on their entrance into college life, they will at once let their studies slump in order to "put their house on the map."

Extra curricular activities, however, cannot be discarded entirely. A good portion of college education comes from outside the classroom and studies. We might class this part of our education system as practical experience. There are many student committees and offices necessary for the handling of affairs on any campus and there is no reason why students shouldn't get into some line of campus work for the practical experience it affords.

For your aching heart, for your fallen tears. For your skies I have tarnished gray. If you will forgive all the things I've done; Believe in me once more, then You will forget that I hurt you, dear. For I shall not hurt you again.

UNTIMELY APPOINTMENTS

ANNOUNCEMENT at this time of committees to serve for junior week, which is scheduled for sometime in April, seems to be somewhat untimely. It hardly seems necessary that these committees be named nearly four months before the staging of this event.

Due to the fact that this event comes during the second semester of school, it seems logical that all committees that are to serve during this time should be appointed by the second semester president. He is the one who will have to work with his committees and therefore should have the privilege of putting whomever he desires on them.

Last year these junior committees were named by the first semester president resulting in considerable controversy in the class. No definite ruling has been advanced as to the naming of these committees, but we can see no reason why it should not be left up to the second semester class president as one of his duties.

TIME AND INCLINATION

A certain mid-western college publication recently bewailed the hurried state of affairs in the modern university, a state which prevents the student from indulging himself in leisure reading of his choice. It was declared that the true purpose of education was being defeated when such leisure was denied one by the exigencles of his academic subjects and by the demands of his daily routine.

A close observation of a university group would disclose results somewhat dissimilar to this conclusion. There are always a fairly large percentage of students who do more than their share of contemporary reading, and who supplement this by delving into the ever-cumulating library of the past. In fact a survey of the books in almost any fraternity or rooming house discloses a representative part of the newest, and best in books. And these students are not necessarily inactive in extracurricular activities. A college routine as it is established today is admittedly strenuous, the hours of the day many times have to be plotted out ahead in order that everything may come in for its share of attention.

But in the last analysis, the student who has a bent for literature will indulge himself despite time limits. Those who are not so inclined—they are also many—will play the victrola to amuse themselves at the bridge table. The day of the cloistered educational institution has passed with the times, and in its place is a larger, busier—and even noisier—more beneficial school. There is only a question of adjustment.—Michigan Daily.

AN APPEAL

If you will forget that I hurt you, dear, I shall not hurt you again; If you will forgive me the pain I've caused, And trust me once more, why, then I'll try to atone for your sorrowing, And make up in time, somehow, For your aching heart, for your fallen tears.

I dreamed a beautiful dream, one time; That life was laughter and love, With a fair, fair earth, and friends of worth, And God in his heaven above; And I learned to know that life was false.

That all friends were untrue, And a madness clung to my acting heart, While bitterness ever grew, Then a friend came forth from the narrow path Which I had left for a while, And soothed the ache from my bleeding heart.

MOONSHINE SAVES PARROT

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(IP)—Rinky Dink is safe! The brightly colored parrot that screams raucously at Syracuse university undergraduates who visit the Hill Book Stall, has passed the crisis of his illness. Rinky Dink had chicken colera, an insidious and dire disease, and die he almost did—but aided by a sip of contraband firewater, and the loving aid of Professor Struthers, he weathered the storm. For a time things looked very black for Rinky Dink. The proprietors of bird stores, and even well known veterinarians, disclaimed all knowledge of the cause and cure of his illness. But Professor Struthers and a sympathetic bootlegger saved the day, and incidentally, Rinky Dink.

STANFORD MAN HITS AT HUMOR

Thinks College Humor Magazine Lowest Form of American Humor

PALO ALTO, Calif.—(IP)—"When American humor was said to have gone to the lowest depths, college humor probably is what the speaker had in mind. It is the kindergarten of humor," declared Dr. John C. Almack of the education department in a talk on the study of American humor at a meeting of the Stanford Dames in the Woman's clubhouse. "Taxes, prohibition, Germany, flappers, Congress, and prize-fights have been the funniest things in American comedies for the last six years," the speaker said. Chicago is the funniest city; Florida and California, the funniest states; farming and preaching the most comical vocations; and radio and dancing the funniest sports. "The American people have the stability to discriminate between what is humorous and what is not. They put a low estimate on satire, sarcasm and scorn, unless the joker is the subject. The humorous point of view is the best from which we can view the world. We can learn to be humorous in an agreeable way," Doctor Almack said.

Pipes Burst, Cause Shower at Lindley

The jolly, red-nosed old fellow whose wintry breath has coated our walks with treacherous ice and caused a demand for woolen socks and flapping gloves, was busy Saturday night. Robbed, and the Dean's store clerk, of his ancient privilege of putting color in young ladies' cheeks the old joker has turned to playing pranks as a diversion. Gaining entrance during the night, through an open window, the old rogue gave vent to some of his bottled up wrath by freezing the water in the pipes of a second floor room in Lindley hall. The occupant of the room arose late, discovered what had been done, and then hurried down to breakfast, grumbling about the cold, not knowing that the worst was yet to come. As the room became warm, the frigid grasp of the ice on the pipes was broken, and the water, freed from its bond, gushed forth in triumph. It soon covered the floor of the room, and soaked through to the ceiling of the room below.

As a result, the quiet that usually follows Sunday breakfast was broken by the sounds of running water and splashing mops. Mrs. Watts, on returning to her room, found that it had been turned into a swimming pool, and that the overhead showers were working full blast. The running water was soon stopped, and a mop brigade put to work. Fortunately the trouble was found early enough that by brisk work all damage was prevented except that to the ceiling of the room.

Although Mrs. Watts was greatly discommoded by the out of season shower, she took the incident in a most sporting manner. "I have been wishing for a private swimming pool," she said, "but I hardly expected to get it this way."

JANE REID OUT OF INFIRMARY SOON

Girl Hurt in Coning Accident, Improving; to Return Home on Student Special

Jane Reid, who was injured when coasting down Idaho avenue Saturday morning, is improving and will be able to leave for her home, Welsor, on the special train Wednesday, Edna Peterson of the university infirmary said Thursday.

Miss Reid's right leg was deeply cut below the knee when the bobbed on which she was riding crashed into a tree and the curb at the Pi Beta Phi house at Idaho and Denkin avenues. Katherine Beam, also hurt on that sled, left the infirmary Wednesday and was able to attend her classes. Mary Willis received only minor injuries and missed no school work.

Old Man Winter and St. Nicholas in Cahoots With Drop in Mercury

A pre-holiday showing of Christmas weather is now in progress, either to afford relief for disgruntled Old Man Winter or to prepare the omnipresent Dear Public for the annual reception of that genial world tourist, St. Nick. According to present indications, no airplanes or automobile modernizations of the reindeer fable will be in order. The canny 1927 youngster knows that even "Lindy" does not set out in a storm, and from present indications, automobiles will not be making speed records for a while in this vicinity. It appears that St. Nick will use the traditional transportation facilities in northern Idaho.

Ushered in with a preliminary fall on Wednesday night, the snow season is in full swing. Snowballing, coasting, skiing and tobogganing are in order. When the snow had fallen, the mercury conformed by taking a drop. Not the least of the winter sports is the impromptu sliding on the icy walks. The advantage of this sport is that it requires no equipment. One is not encumbered with skis, snowshoes, sled or skates. There is the icy walk and here is the pedestrian. If he wishes to proceed by sliding in lieu of the commonplace method of locomotion by walking, it is his own business.

Occasionally, however, he engages in this activity quite involuntarily. He sits emphatically and suddenly on the ice. He then rises deliberately and with surreptitious glances to the rear to determine the number of witnesses, if any. The entertainment value of this diversion is obvious. The person who is cast for leading role, however, does not relish the publicity granted him.

Special traffic signs should be placed on the campus during present weather conditions. Suggested slogans are: "Nighagony Falls," "Skid Here," "Four out of Five Have Lit," "Room for the Rest," "Slip to the Right" and "Dangerous Curbs Ahead."

Decorations Show Christmas Spirit

The large Christmas tree which is crowned with many colored lights and placed in each of the groups of five windows on the ground floor of the building. were used, two wreaths have been placed in each of the groups of five windows on the ground floor of the building.

On each side of the library doors are suspended bright green boughs of pine and two bunches of white pine boughs decorate the main desk in the library. These boughs are bearing their characteristically large cones which ripen and open at this season of the year.

The decorations are part of a plan which has been carried out since 1914 by Miss Belle Sweet, university librarian. It is an attempt, she says, to make the Administration building attractive and is in keeping with the Christmas spirit which is so prevalent among the students before going home for the vacation.

During the last two months Miss Sweet has been gathering boughs of cedar and pine has been keeping them in water for this occasion. Last week with the assistance of the janitors, she was busy binding sprigs of cedar to steel hoops. She added a gay touch of color by tying the wreaths with red bows. More than 40 wreaths

The list of those eligible to membership in the University Glee club, as the result of tryouts held last week, have been completed, with the exception of places being open for four second basses, according to Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department.

Those eligible for membership must be present at the regular rehearsal Tuesday evening January 10, in room 300 of the Engineering building. Every man must bring a dollar for music which will be ready for distribution on that evening. Two unexcused absences will cancel membership in the organization, Mr. Kratt said.

At the beginning of the second semester the Varsity Glee club will be chosen from members of the University Glee club. The Varsity Glee club will be a smaller organization which will go on trips when it is impossible for the entire University Glee club to go.

GEM CAMPAIGN TO CLOSE TUESDAY

December 20 Is Last Date To Secure 1928 Annuals

"If I had only realized before it was too late— No, these are not the words of a leisure-loving student on scanning the announcement of the twelve week's grades. Neither do they express his sentiments on estimating his bank balance. They refer to a far weightier matter, the importance of subscribing for a copy of the Gem of the Mountains before it is too late. "Tuesday night is the dead line," says Leon Weeks, "so hand in your check now and don't join the wailing chorus next spring when you see what a good-looking book the Gem proves to be."

The annual drive for subscriptions to the Gem will end next Tuesday evening after which it will be impossible for students now enrolled in the university to obtain annuals. The drive has lasted nearly a month which is considered ample time and opportunity for anyone wishing an annual to get one.

The Intercollegiate Knights under the direction of Elmer Berglund and the Spurs under the direction of Ruth Newhouse have been in active charge of the campaign and both these organizations will turn in subscription books next Tuesday evening.

Leon Weeks, business manager of the Gem, will be in the A. S. U. I. office in room 104 Administration building after 4 o'clock on Tuesday to receive subscriptions from those who have been unable to get in touch with any Knights or Spurs. Subscriptions may also be obtained from Paul Gowen, circulation manager, at the Beta house. As has been stated before the price of the year books is $4.50, $2.00 payable now and the balance on receipt of the book in the spring.

ENGINEERS SEE FILM

"Power," a three-reel film furnished by the Stone & Webster company of Boston, a large consulting power development firm, was shown to an audience of more than 200 persons last Wednesday afternoon in the main lecture room of the Science hall.

The film was shown here under the auspices of the Associated Engineers. Another film of the same nature will be shown sometime in the near future.

RAILROAD GRANTS FARE AND THIRD FOR STUDENT TRAIN

With the reduction granted today the price will be approximately $33.00. The first rate, announced December 9, gave the price at $37.35. Students going to Boise will pay approximately $26.65 instead of $23.35, as announced under the old rate. To Boise the price will be $22.50. These figures were not issued from the railroad station, and are not official.

Under the rates announced the first of this week the fare was figured on the basis of a fare and a half from Moscow to Huntington and a fare and a third over the Oregon Short Line route to destinations. The new rate makes it a straight fare and a third for the entire trip. Students are urged to purchase their tickets and make reservations for berths as soon as possible so as to avoid last-minute rush.

IDAHO ALBERT

I was born of poor but honest parents. At an early age we moved to the back woods of Kentucky, suh! There we were happy, just pa and ma and me. Through the long winter nights, pa and me would amuse ourselves by shooting at ma's best bottles of canned Kentucky Dew. It was all good clean fun and helped to pass the time quickly so that we did not have to resort to dull conversation which makes a heap of man and ruins so many homes.

But even the best things in life must end—ah, well I remember the night, a raging blizzard howled outside, now and then came a terrible crash as some stately monarch of the forest gave up the uneven battle with the elements and smashed to earth.

Suddenly at our door came a faint tapping, and ma, peeping through the curtains, cried—

"Pa,—Pa,—a beautiful gal awaits without!"

"Without what?," I asked in a playful voice.

Quick as a flash, my ma comes back with, "Without food or clothes."

Ever the smart cracker, I says—"Feed'er and bring'er in."

Then my pa, calmly unloaded a quart of tobacco juice, stepped up to bat with a razor strap and whaled the tar out of me.

So, in a fit of boyish anger, I went out and painted the front door black.

I will never forget the pained look on my pa's face when he discovered the dastardly deed. Calling me to him he said,

"My son I have taught you everything, I know, and you don't know nuthin yet. Now go,—go,—and never darken my door again."

the experiment station, Wesley E. Shull, associate entomologist, and Bernard A. Anderson, graduate fellow in forestry. Members of the chapters at Oregon State college and the University of Washington are expected to be present during the installation.

Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity was founded in January 10, 1899 at the Illinois Wesleyan university at Bloomington Illinois. Since then there have been 25 chapters installed. The Washington State and Idaho chapters will be the twenty-seventh and twenty-eighth chapters respectively. Chapters on the Pacific coast are located at the University of California, Oregon State college and the University of Washington. Tau Kappa Iota received faculty recognition May 7, 1924. The fraternity was housed in a residence on North Asbury street until the present home was purchased from Phi Gamma Delta. Since the fraternity has been organized, it has twice won the Burton L. French scholarship cup. The trophy was won for the first time for the year 1924-25. It was also won again last year. In 1925-26, the fraternity placed second in rating among the men's groups. In the fall of 1926, Tau Kappa Iota won the intramural cross country race and this fall tied for second place in the "turkey run." In the recent volleyball tournament, the fraternity went into a tie for third place after being defeated in the semifinals. Delta Tau Alpha fraternity at the Washington State college was founded in 1920. Last year the organization placed third in scholarship among men's groups on the Pullman Campus.

DAVIDS'

Distinguished by a favor that places it first

It is a natural pride that Camel feels for its triumphs. Not only did it lead the field shortly after its introduction. It passed steadily on with each succeeding year until today it holds a place in public favor higher than any other smoke ever reached. Camel is supreme with modern smokers.

Obviously, there is a quality here that particular smokers appreciate. It is indeed the myriad qualities of perfection that are to be found in the choicest tobaccos grown. And the art of Nature is aided by a blending that unfolds each delicate taste and fragrance.

You will more than like Camels. You will find a solace in them every smoking hour. Their mildness and mellowness are an endless pleasure. "Have a Camel!"
