

Varsity Plays Seven Games For Holidays

Barnstorming Trip Will Include Tilts With Two Spokane Teams

Will Cut Squad Will Keep Squad of Sixteen Though Ten Men Will Make Most Trips

Seven holiday games, six of which will be played away from Moscow, have been scheduled for the varsity basketball quintet. It was announced today by the athletic department. The barnstorming trip will constitute trips to Bozeman, where three games have been scheduled with Montana State college, and to Spokane where the Idaho quintet will meet the Sparklers and Bronson Motor company fives.

The squad will leave Moscow Wednesday afternoon for Bozeman and play the Bobcats on three successive nights, December 22, 23 and 24. In a two game series last year Idaho broke even with Montana State tilters, and as a number of lettermen are returning to the courts of both schools a tough game is expected.

December 26 and 27 and 28 the team will take on the best quintets Spokane has to offer. The first two nights Oscar Lovitch's Sparklers, who won the city title last season, will furnish the opposition and the Bronson Motor company which won second place in the city league last season.

The Potlatch Athletic club will come to Moscow December 30 for a game with the varsity in the university gym and after that game is played the squad will take a week of extensive practice before the next contests, January 6 and 7 with Gonzaga university. Both games are to be played in Moscow.

The last two games on the pre-conference schedule will be played in Moscow also according to present arrangements. Whitman will be here on January 9, and the Sparklers will come down for a return game January 13.

Coach Fox said Monday that a squad of 16 would be kept during the entire season but that only 10 men would be taken on most of the trips. Twelve fellows were taken to Potlatch last night but of the group two will be dropped before the squad leaves for Bozeman Wednesday. The personnel of the squad making the so-called barnstorming trip will not be announced until just before the party leaves Moscow. Those making the trip to Potlatch were George Green, Herbert Canine, Arthur Dawald, Darwin Burgher, Glen Jacoby, Harold Thornhill, Robert Drummond, Harold Stowell, Frank Stellom, Kenneth Barrett and William Tatro.

GOOD ATTENDANCE AT CAROL SINGING

Over 250 Persons at Traditional Song Fest around Campus Christmas Tree

Just as it began to grow dusk Sunday afternoon, more than 250 persons joined in the traditional singing of Christmas carols around the lighted Christmas tree on the campus, following the Christmas carol program in the auditorium given by the children of the Moscow public schools.

The old favorites such as "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear", "Silent Night, Holy Night" were sung with accompaniment by the carols were sung long ago. Prof. Theodore Kratt, director of music, led the singing.

Probably the most interested spectators were two small boys who climbed the tree to get a better view and peered out from the branches looking like the cherubim mentioned in the Christmas carols.

The third annual Christmas carol program given by the children of the Moscow schools, which preceded the carol singing, was very well received by the large audience of music lovers.

Miss Maudie Garnett, instructor of public school music, directed the program. She was assisted by Mrs. Ralph Russell, director of the high school glee clubs and Miss Esther Jones, grade school music instructor. The tree will remain lighted until New Year's day.

Coach Orrin Hollingbery of Washington State College will be in charge of the West team, while Coach Andy Kerr of Washington and Jefferson and Dick Hanley of Northwestern will be in charge of the Eastern outfit. The game is an annual event sponsored by the Shrine for charity.

Wilson has indicated that he will accept while Tesreau has not decided either way.

UPHAM TO MAKE FAREWELL TRIP

Plans Speaking Tour Through Southern Idaho Towns for First Part of New Year

Plans for a farewell speaking tour in southern Idaho towns during the first part of the new year before he leaves for Miami university, to accept the presidency, are underway for President Alfred H. Upham of the University of Idaho.

President Upham leaves shortly after the first of the year, and although speaking points have not been announced, Buhl, Twin Falls, Rupert, Idaho Falls and Pocatello will be included, President Upham said Saturday.

President Upham will be in Boise during the first part of the Christmas holidays attending Idaho State teachers' association meetings and will speak at Boise and Caldwell then. He will return to Moscow before leaving on the second trip.

President Upham leaves for Ohio about February 1, but will return from the southern part of the state shortly after January 10.

VANDAL QUINTET WINS FIRST GAME

Normal Holds Varsity To 21-18 In First Half

A second half scoring spree gave the Idaho Vandal quintet a 48 to 25 victory over Lewiston State Normal School in the first game of the season for the Idaho team, played at Lewiston Friday night. At the half the Normal boys were behind by a scant three points 21 to 18, and were fighting the varsity team on even ground. The pace continued by Rich Fox's squad gradually wore down the Lewiston tilters and in the last quarter they were far behind.

Stowell and McMillin, sophomores who started at forwards, tied for high point honors with 10 points each and were closely followed by George Green, veteran guard, with nine. Durg the Normal boys of the game. Coach Fox used his whole squad of 12 men and expressed satisfaction as to the way the team functioned in the game that primed the Vandals for the coming barnstorming tour.

Loch, center, and Giles, guard, did the heavy work for the Normal. Loch piled up eight points and was practically the life of his team. He was taken out on personal fouls early in the second half. Giles played a good game at guard and accounted for five points.

Lineup and summary:
Idaho Lewiston State Normal
Stowell (10) F Cook (2)
McMillin (10) F Wright (2)
Thornhill (4) C Loch (8)

TRYOUT FOR TREBLE CLEF AFTER XMAS

Club Will Be Composed of About Sixty Voices, Divided Into Three Groups

Tryouts for the Treble Clef club will be held soon after the Christmas holidays, Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department announced today. The club will be organized on the same basis as the University Glee club.

The Treble Clef club will probably consist of 60 voices, Professor Kratt said. The organization will be divided into three parts—first soprano, second soprano and alto.

Those who do not make the Treble Clef club will be allowed to continue choral work, and will automatically become members of the Choral society. Following the tryouts, a student manager will be elected to represent the club on the A. S. U. I. board.

VICTORY NOT EVERYTHING

BUFFALO, N. Y.—(IP)—"I am one of those who believe that victory is not the sole measure of merit," wrote Mayor Frank X. Schwab, of Buffalo, to the Chancellor of the University of Buffalo, whose football team did not win a single game this year. "It is the spirit evinced by the University of Buffalo football team in the past season that deserves a tribute such as only a great romanizer could truly offer."

COACH FOX PREDICTS KEEN COMPETITION IN H.S. BASKETBALL

Result of Survey of Pre-season Conditions in All Parts of State

POCATELLO LOOMS High Calibre Basketball Due to Increased Abilities of Coaches, Thinks Fox

A lively season of high school basketball with many promising teams entering the Idaho race is the analysis of Richard A. Fox, varsity hoopster who has made a survey of pre-season conditions in all parts of the state. Each section of the state has its favorite, but a hard struggle is predicted for the pennant this year. Pocatello in the southwest, winners of the tourney here last year, is a threat to repeat this year, despite the loss of Shurtliff, all-state guard and Gross, center. Offsetting this loss is a good supply of promising reserves which aids Pocatello in addition to the psychological twist of leaving the tourney at the southern branch of the University of Idaho, March 8, 9 and 10.

Idaho Falls, Paris and Montpelier, also bear watching in the southeast, Coach Fox declares. In the southwest, Boise, Nampa and Caldwell are strong, and in the south central section, Twin Falls will be among the leaders. There is always danger of some small school not figured in the pre-season dope, developing an exceptional team.

Three former Idaho hoop stars are priming strong teams in the northern part of the state at Moscow, Coeur d'Alene and Lewiston. Harold Tolford, all-coast guard at Idaho in 1922-1923 is starting at Coeur d'Alene as is Guy Wicks, former football star here at Moscow. At Lewiston, Syb Klefner, a third Idaho star, is starting his second season.

"High school basketball in Idaho has made some remarkable advances during the last few years," Coach Fox declares. "Competition is becoming so keen that the state title actually means something of value and a thing which will be harder to obtain in coming years. This development is due largely to coaches becoming more proficient in their abilities. During the last few years, high school coaches have attended summer coaching schools, conducted by Big West or Pacific Coast conference coaches."

DR. UPHAM TO TALK AT FROSH LECTURE

To Explain Sources of University's Revenues at Final Frosh Lecture January 10

The regular freshman lectures scheduled for this morning at 11 o'clock have been postponed until Tuesday, January 10, according to an announcement from the president's office. On that date all sections will meet in the auditorium instead of the regularly assigned rooms. President A. H. Upham will speak on "The Relation of the University to the State."

Doctor Upham addresses the freshman lecture classes each year on this subject to acquaint them with the sources of revenue which support the university and on other matters dealing with the relation of the state to the university.

COSMOPOLITES HEAR TALK ON CHRISTMAS

Mrs. Sargent Explains the Meaning of the Holiday Season

Gathered around a Christmas tree, members of the cosmopolitan club celebrated the Yuletide at the last meeting of the year last Saturday in the U. H. H. hall.

Mrs. M. L. Sargent of the modern languages department talked on the meaning of Christmas. She said that the green signified everlasting life and that the German people seemed to observe Christmas with more sacredness than other peoples.

Bruce Gray, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer movement, was present and spoke briefly.

Dean J. G. Eldridge and Miss Hildebrande Wanus were recently elected advisors of the club.

The next meeting will be held either the first or the second Saturday in January after the end of the vacation, according to Ray Dewey, president.

ATHLETIC MANAGERS ARE APPOINTED

Two Junior and Two Sophomore Men Are Selected

Two junior athletic managers, Frank Hunt and Kenneth Marchesi, were appointed last week end by the athletic department to serve for the remainder of the school year.

At the same time Jess Ekkroala, Earl McDonald, John Ehrhardt and Bill Lambdin were appointed sophomore managers. These four men have been assisting in the gymnasium for several weeks.

ART EXHIBIT IS WELL ATTENDED

Alpha Psi Completes Two-day Showing Saturday of Work Done By Members

An art exhibit, sponsored by Alpha Psi, local honorary art fraternity, ended Saturday evening after a successful two-day showing at the U. H. H. art work done by members of the organization. The exhibit was characterized by the variety of oils, water colors, pen and pencil drawings and architectural renderings that were on display.

One of the most interesting exhibits was a hand painted shawl by O. C. R. Stageberg of the architectural department. The oils were executed by Virgil R. D. Kirkham, assistant professor of geology, and were painted from actual scenes. J. J. Coopes of the English department, exhibited several etchings; T. J. Pritchard and O. C. R. Stageberg, water colors; William Callaway, pen and pencil renderings and Allen Janssen, architectural renderings in black and white.

The policy of Alpha Psi is to give several small exhibits during the year and to give one big exhibition each spring. No work previously shown will be exhibited at future showings, it was announced. By these exhibits the fraternity hopes to gather and create greater spirit and harmony among art students on the campus.

Considerable interest was shown in studio equipment which has been newly decorated. Tea was served to those who visited the studio Saturday.

IDAHO FROSH DROP GAME TO H.S. TEAM

Vandal Babes Are Defeated By 18-15 Score By Moscow

In a rough, erratic game marked by bad passing and early season lack of team work on the part of both teams, Moscow high school defeated the university frosh five 18 to 15 Monday afternoon in the university gym.

The yearlings were playing their first game of the season but had scrambled several times with the varsity and were expected to make a better showing than they did against the high school lads. At the half the score was tied at 8 all. In the third quarter one point was made as a result of a frosh free throw.

The third quarter opened up with a rally by the frosh that put them three points in the lead and until the last points in the game, it looked as though defeat loomed for the high school lads. Two long shots by Woody and Randall of the youngsters, changed the score in favor of the local school and a short shot cinched the game.

Coach Guy Wicks used nearly his whole high school squad during the second half, starting the second string and later replacing them with his first line-up. Rich Fox, who is coaching the frosh, said about a dozen members of the team.

Nelson, Woody and Smith looked best for the high school and for the losing frosh quintet Ed White of Lewiston played a good game at guard as a sub for Doyle.

DALTON TO GO TO MISSION MEET

Idaho Will Have Representative at Student Volunteer Convention

Helen Dalton will represent Idaho at the Student Volunteer movement convention at Detroit, December 28 to January 2. The volunteer movement is composed of students who are interested in full-time or part-time Christian service.

Last Saturday and Sunday Bruce Gray, traveling secretary of the Student Volunteer movement, visited the Idaho campus. Through his efforts the Presbyterian church of Moscow agreed to finance Miss Dalton's trip. At present a special committee headed by Dean J. G. Eldridge of the college of letters and science is making efforts to raise funds among the churches, faculty, and others to send another delegate from Idaho.

The convention is held every four years under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. Colleges from all over the United States will be represented there. Four years ago 6,000 delegates from the most part students attended the convention. Students from nearly all the colleges of the northwest will go on a special to Detroit. Miss Dalton will meet the special at Spokane Christmas day.

Problems concerning the present status of missions will be discussed at the convention, according to bulletins. Prominent speakers from all parts of the United States and a few from foreign lands will attend. Special stress will be laid upon the defects and the merits of the missionary enterprise.

IDAHO WON FROM W. S. C. IN 1905, SAY OLD RECORDS

J. R. Middleton, Boise, Captain of Team, Started Argument Against Mistake

SCORE WAS 5 TO 0 ARGONAUT FILES DISCLOSE FACTS OF STRUGGLE; W. S. C. COMPLETELY OUTCLASSED

As the football season for the 1927 Vandals drew to a close with the startling upset in Spokane and without a victory ever Washington State college, alumni of Idaho began to dig up past football history and they revealed the fact that W. S. C. is being given credit for a victory over Idaho in 1905. To most of us who have been at the university but for three or four years, such a fact means little, but to the old grads it is an important point. Idaho won the game by a 5 to 0 score.

A recent letter from J. R. Middleton, Boise, started investigation of the game in question. Haven't you heard of J. R. Middleton? Well, well tell you who he was in a minute. Mr. Middleton complains that a number of Idaho alumni have noticed the misstatement of the 1905 game and have wondered why it has not been corrected. He says, "I consider it not corrected, and those of us who stand by and fall to challenge such statements as are published annually in the Spokesman-Review and other papers by our silence acquiesce and become partners to the crime."

On delving into the yellowed pages of the Idaho Argonaut for 1905, we discovered that the above mentioned gentleman knew just what he was talking about—and not perhaps, either. The headline for November 13, 1905 tells in plain black type that Idaho swamped W. S. C. in a game on which hinged the championship of Montana, Idaho and Washington. For the third time in five years Idaho won by 5 to 0. Rogers went over for a touchdown in the second half for the only score of the game but Idaho made enough yardage to show that there was no doubt about the best team. In those days, touchdowns counted five points each. Tackle back formations were favorites with the Idaho team and Larson, halfback starred with his line smashes that that formation.

CAPTAIN NOT PICKED FOR VANDAL QUINTET

Will Be Elected at Close of the Season, Says Fox

Idaho will not designate permanently a basketball captain until the close of the season, thereby following the precedent established by the Vandal football team this year, it has been announced by Rich Fox, Idaho's new basketball coach. With no captain chosen last year to succeed John Miles, all-coast forward, who led last year's basketball Vandals, Fox feels it would be necessary for him to appoint a captain if one were to serve from the beginning of the season.

"I want my captains to be leaders and as all the men are new to me I believe it would be better to let the squad develop until its playing reveals the leaders," explained Fox. "Before each game I will appoint a temporary captain for that game, which will help develop leadership."

VANDALS DEFEAT POTLATCH 46 TO 15

Hold Town Team to Lorie Point During First Half; Scored on Foul

Coach Rich Fox's Vandal hoopers defeated the Potlatch Athletic Club by a score of 46 to 15 in a pre-season practice game played in Potlatch last evening. The Potlatch aggregation scored only a single point against the university team in the first half when they dropped in a foul. The score at the end of the half was 18-0.

Frank McMillin was high point man for the Vandals with five field goals. Harold Stowell, George Green and Glen Jacoby each scored four tallies from the floor. Coach Rich Fox used his entire squad of 12 men during the game.

Idaho's lineup was as follows: Harold Stowell and Frank McMillin, forwards; Harold Thornhill, center; George Green and Glen Jacoby, guards.

FOX CONFRONTED WITH TWO PROBLEMS

Lack of Size and Experience in Team Bother Coach

Lack of size and experience loom as the big factors in Idaho's basketball outlook this year. The Vandals defeated Lewiston Normal, 48 to 25 in the first practice game of the season and showed flashes of strength. The game indicated the problem facing Richard A. Fox, the new head coach in basketball at Idaho, is to season a squad composed mostly of sophomores before the conference season opens.

With the exception of three men Idaho's squad of 16 players will not average more than five feet ten inches in height. Two men, the centers, are six-footers, a third is five feet eleven inches but the remainder are under five feet ten. Contrast with this Idaho average is the situation at the Oregon State college and the University of Washington, the two outstanding teams in the northern division of the conference. The Oregon States have a squad containing 10 men all towering above the six-foot mark and Washington has another crowd of big men. Idaho's small men are perhaps as fast and scrappy as the big ones but height means ability to control the ball better, in the opinion of Coach Fox.

Idaho will enter a creditable team in the conference for the material which Coach Fox has to start with is good but experience and lack of size prevent a deciding factor. Darwin Burgher of Rupert, reserve center and regular forward last year, and Harold Thornhill, Kellogg, freshman center last season, are the leading candidates for tip-off duty. There is plenty of guard material, including three veterans, George Greene of Culeடை, Glenn Jacoby of Bonners Ferry, Herbert Canine of Burley, William Tatro of Pocatello and Elbert Stellom, Nez Perce, are the other leading candidates for guard assignments.

Art Dawald, Lewiston, is the sole veteran forward. Harold Stowell and Frank McMillin, both of Pocatello, and Bob Drummond of Kellogg are the front ranked possibilities. Barrett and Stellom, who can play forward as well as guard positions, may be alternated at forward.

ALUMNI FORM IDAHO CLUB AT YAKIMA

Graduates and Others to Hear Basketball Reports by Radio

Former Idaho students and alumni in Yakima, Washington, have organized an Idaho club, according to word received here from Murva Murray, 23. Miss Murray's sister Sylvia, an Idaho graduate is head of the club.

During the fall dinner meetings have been held. As soon as Idaho begins playing her basketball game over the club plans to "attend" them over radio. Some members who recently attended the university survey are Lucile Condon and Alleen Hilton, ex-'28; Mirth McArthur, '26; Lyman Whitler, Lois Dowden, Ruth Litton Ralph Rosenbaum, Mrs. Mayme Cary and Hazel Draper.

STUDENTS PAY WAY AT WHITMAN

Big Percentage of People Earn Own Expenses

Whitman college boasts that 80 per cent of the men students are particularly self supporting, and about 50 per cent of the women. This shows that a large majority of Whitman students work at something else besides attending the university survey. "Before each game I will appoint a temporary captain for that game, which will help develop leadership."

One interesting enterprise is the Sunday nursery run by several of the girls, at St. Paul church.

OPEN SEASON ON STUDENTS

OPEN season will be declared on Idaho students during the next two weeks by the general public, which is looking for faults among college students.

Wednesday, when the students leave the campus, will be their first contact with the general public. On the south Idaho special train will be approximately 425 Idaho men and women—a representative group of the university.

We may be expected, in the home town, to live up to the pace portrayed in "Hell's Highway," a story of our college published recently. People may be expecting us to burn up the roads in "dad's" automobile, stage wild parties, etc.—but it is not the true Idaho student that follows out this program.

We hope that no man or woman will be guilty of such actions that will give the campus a black eye in the minds of people over the state.

BACK IN 1905

BACK in 1905 the University of Idaho gridiron warriors sent the Washington State college eleven down to defeat by a score of 5 to 0. It was necessary to turn back to the old files of The Argonaut in order to bring this to light, however, for W. S. C. has been given credit for a victory over Idaho by many papers of the northwest during the past few years.

Each year statistics on results of games between Idaho and her ancient rival have been published and each time the credit of winning the game in 1905 goes to W. S. C. This year Johnny Middleton of Boise, who happened to be captain and quarterback of the eleven in 1905, decided to clear up this matter and wrote The Argonaut to consult its files.

In glaring headlines for the issue of The Argonaut for November 13, 1905 we find that the Idaho team "swamped" Washington State. So that settles that question for all times. Idaho not only defeated Washington State that year but made a record that betters the Vandals record for this year. Not once, according to the story, did any team cross the Idaho goal line. The University of Washington, Montana Agricultural college, Whitman and W. S. C. all fell before the Idaho eleven, which at that time was not known as the Vandals.

It is an injustice, especially to the men who played in that game, to give the victory to W. S. C. when it really belongs to Idaho. Up to this year no alumnus has challenged the statement that W. S. C. won the game—but now it is settled with the Idaho team receiving its due honors.

THE BRAZEN GOD

HIGH on a throne of tin and laughing incontinently, sits the new god of music, Jazz, the patron deity of America. Hymns of praise are rasped out to him on victrolas, and worshippers throw them selves into wild frenzies of "hit steppin'" to his honor.

He is a singularly unmysterious and democratic god, because shop-girls and millionaires are quite as capable of comprehending him as students and professional men. He brings us all to the same level and bothers our feet instead of our emotions or minds. The lyrics of Jazz, that is those lyrics which embody the true spirit, as "Tonight's My Night With Baby", "Six Feet of Papa", "Shakin' the Blues Away", "Red Lips, Kiss My Blues Away", can be written by people either slightly above, but usually below a moron; it no longer requires a Wagner or a Beethoven to write music. This simplifies things.

Dancing is also simplified. Gone are the days of Viennese waltzes and French minuets, and the tango is having a desperate struggle. A few specimens of it are seen occasionally. All one needs to do now is relax at the knees and agitate his feet and there you have it. Dancing is almost a lost art; grace isn't the thing that counts, but juggling and pumping, and it's as ridiculous as a cubist painting. Music has to have words, and Jazz not only has words but it has a special vocabulary. Men are called "Papas" or "sugar-daddies," and women are called "babies" or "red-hot-mamas"; anything resembling emotion is called "blues." The rhyme scheme takes care of itself. Inevitably "cry" is followed by "sigh" or "die," there is an option here; "eyes" calls up "skies"; "blue" precedes "you," and so on.

And all the time the brazen god Jazz gurgles convulsively on his saxophone, while his devotees twitch and twist in the dance and screech out his melodies. The intelligent ones drink their liquor to keep from being bored, the imbeciles drink because they're not intelligent, and others just drink, while the band plays things about blues and lips and eyes.

A SASTLE

You stand at the brow of the rugged cliff,

A monument, massive and grim, Of a gallant race that has passed away

These years millentum. You weather the rain and the winter winds

That buffet your timeworn walls, Though the ivy is torn, where it long has clung,

And tangled and broken falls. What tales might you tell of feud and of war;

Of romance, and laughter, and song; Of tears and quarrels, delusions made

When might made right from wrong. And I wonder, perhaps, do you miss the throng

That flocked in your walls of gray? Would you change your peace for the daring deeds

Of that golden yesterday? If that golden yesterday?

Student Opinion

In the last edition of The Argonaut there appeared an editorial under the heading of "Untimely Appointments" commenting on the practice of appointing the Junior Week committees during the first semester.

It is true, this method of selection has caused some discussion, but it appears to me that the issue for the appointment by the first semester president has not been fairly tried and discussed in a newspaper editorial.

The appointments were made this year in conformity with the well established custom of early appointments by the first semester president. Junior Week this year will start April 8 and end April 14. The reasons for the early appointments have always been to enable the committees to collect their ideas, plans, and arrangements so that Junior Week will not be planned, enacted, and finished over a week or two.

The custom was established four years ago with the inauguration of the Junior mixer. These mixers were granted not to be mere social events, but to be a means of getting acquainted and primarily to plan for Junior Week. No other argument could possibly be formed for the reason of the continued existence of Junior mixers. It seems to me, then, if Junior mixers are to be held the first semester the appointments for Junior Week should come early as a "means to an end" for a successful Junior Week.

Junior Week is by far the greatest social event of the year and extensive plans should be made for its success. I would ask anyone! How many months does the ordinary house organization plan for its annual formal dance? The answer would be not less than two months. Could anyone suggest a plan wherein a cabaret, a huge formal, a Junior party, a mixer, a parade, a serenade and Junior assembly could be planned and successfully carried out in less than one month's active working time?

It was never my intention, or the intention of the first semester president last year, to trespass upon the duties or powers of the second semester president. It was an action absolutely in good faith and to further the cause of Junior Week. My only suggestion for a complete remedy of the evils suggested would be the election of the Under call 6331. Reward. I am grateful to The Argonaut for their fair and unbiased discussion of the present plan. I am sure The Argonaut and Junior class will find me wholly in accord with any plan for making Junior Week a bigger and better success.

Society reached an extremely gay, though not brilliant, climax of the pre-holiday season last week end. Entertainments seemed to be divided into groups. The S. A. E. "Days of '49" dance was one of the cleverest affairs of that kind held this year.

Fireplaces and informal parties for the exchange of gifts were popular forms of amusement at the sorority and fraternity houses. Many of the houses are not holding their parties until the night before vacation, however.

Entertainments on the campus during the holiday season will probably be informal affairs. The next event scheduled on the social calendar is the T. K. I. installation ball to be given at the Elks' Temple January 7.

Beta Theta Pi's juniors were hosts at a dance given Saturday evening at the chapter house. Patrons and patronesses were: Mrs. Lenore Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jenkins, Dr. and Mrs. J. Harry Einhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil R. D. Kirkham.

CAROLS SUNG AT LAST ASSEMBLY

President Upham Spoke at Last Assembly, Three Carols Practiced For Singing Sunday

In Anticipation of carol singing around the lighted evergreen tree on the campus Sunday afternoon, university students Wednesday morning devoted practically their entire assembly period to practicing three carols for the annual tradition.

"Oh, Come All Ye Faithful," "It Came Upon The Midnight Clear," and "Silent Night! Holy Night!" were sung by the students under the direction of Miss Maude Garnett, accompanied by Miss Isabel Clark on the piano.

An explanation of another sort of loyalty, not that to the football team, nor the alma mater, but to the Christ Child, was emphasized by President Alfred H. Upham as he pointed out the tradition started five years ago, which is fast becoming engraved in the hearts of Idaho students.

No assembly will be held next week. President Upham announced all 11 o'clock classes Wednesday meeting at 10 o'clock in place of the assembly period. Thus, the president points out, the holidays begin at 11 o'clock instead of noon on December 21.

A special assembly for awarding of football numerals will be the middle of January, it is understood.

MICHIGAN TO HAVE LONGEST PASS IS 47 YARDS

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(IP)—Two football teams are to represent the University of Michigan on the gridiron next year. This is as a result of the recent ruling of the Big Ten coaches that such action will be O. K. with them.

It is not expected, according to the Michigan Daily, that the new plan will have any decided effect on football, or student migration for the big football games. According to the newspaper, there simply will be a first and second team, and the first team will be the true representative of Michigan.

Washington, D. C.—(IP)—Get-togethers and smokers of the frosh and sophs are to take the place of hazing at George Washington university here, following a meeting of representative sophomores, upperclassmen, and President Marvin.

The decision was reached, according to the University Hatchet, university student publication, with the idea that friendliness rather than enmity foster the best school spirit, which is the real purpose of freshman rules.

A tug-of-war instead of a class scrap takes place between the two underclasses.

Back in 1908 when Denison was leading 4-0, the headgear of the Denison captain was knocked off and rolled, the rabbit's foot. A Wesleyan man grabbed it and the tide turned in Wesleyan's favor. Ever since that time the good luck token had rested in Wesleyan's trophy cabinet. This year that institution decided to put the foot in circulation, the winner of the Wesleyan-Denison game becoming the owner for a year. It still remains in Wesleyan's cabinet.

STUDENTS HINDER FIREMEN

SEATTLE, Wash.—(IP)—Local city firemen from station houses in the vicinity of the University of Washington, are protesting that it is almost impossible for them to reach a fire because the minute a fire goes rump, the college men pile into their campus cars and block all traffic in their rush to the blaze. Measures are to be taken to keep the students from blocking the way for the firemen.

Behind the scenes with Columbus

THERE is a forgotten chapter in the life of Columbus which in its way had as much to do with the discovery of America as the voyage itself. We refer to the years spent in preparation before he set sail—years filled with painstaking study, planning his voyage with the aid of what crude maps and geographical data he could procure.

Blasting Ice Gorges

Lesson No. 7 of

BLASTERS' HANDBOOK

YOU may never have to break up an ice gorge, but if you should, you'll need to act quickly and correctly. Bridges, dams and other structures, not to mention human lives, are often at stake.

Many unsuccessful attempts to dynamite a gorge are due to not knowing the proper amount of explosive to use, how to place and fire it. You may need only a few pounds, or you may need 1500 pounds.

Out of their experience in helping break up ice gorges, du Pont field service men have written a compact chapter on "Blasting Ice Gorges" in the BLASTERS' HANDBOOK. It is typical of the practical sort of information contained in this handy, pocket-size reference work. Experience lessons from every field in which explosives are used—lessons that ONLY experience could write. A valuable adjunct to your engineering studies. Used as such by leading technical institutions.

Officials who will handle the games in the northern division were named at this meeting. Rogers, Ford, Mencken, Tunney and Lindbergh On All-American UNIVERSITY OF OREGON—(IP)—The Seven Seers, authors of the humorous column of the Daily Emerald, have made a selection for the All-American football team for the closing gridiron season. The star positions on this rather unique team are held by Lindbergh, Henry Ford, Al Smith, two of the DeAutremont boys, Mencken, Fall and Sinclair, President Coolidge and Gene Tunney.

The bases for the selections were explained minutely. They said, "We believe that the outstanding aerial attack of the year has been built around Lindbergh, and as for his total yardage he speaks for itself. Ford our choice for quarter, in his selection of plays, has completely baffled opposing teams all season. Our team is not to be handicapped by weather conditions because Al Smith's ability in a wet field cannot be questioned. In the kicking department the team is exceptionally strong, for Mencken at the other half-back position is easily the greatest kicker of all times.

"The DeAutremont brothers have proved themselves beyond all doubt the most elusive pair of ends developed in years. Fall and Sinclair, who have attracted national attention, are a slippery pair of tackles who seldom fall to smug plays. Rogers, who keeps in practice by throwing the ball, is a sure bet at guard and nobody fills the other berth better than Tunney, under whose terrific hammering no opponent can stand up. Coolidge, at center, playing what may be his last year for old Massachusetts due to contested eligibility for 1928, has had more plays built around him than any other American center of the year and for that reason he cannot be overlooked."

A Surprise

Chicago, Ill. (IP)—When the future Mrs. Clarence Johnson met Clarence Johnson at a college dance, he was so splendid a dancer that she fell in love with him and married him.

Things went nicely until she angered him one day, and he took off a wooden leg she didn't know he had, and beat her with it.

"I never dreamed he had a wooden leg," she explained to the judge from whom she obtained a divorce, "but when he took it off and beat me with it, I couldn't help but notice it."

Mendelssohn wrote songs without words, but the song writers of today are writing them with words and without any music.—Wisconsin Daily Cardinal.

Idaho Plans Grid Game With Utah Aggies Next Year

Idaho on the open date of her 1928 football season is considering a game with Utah Agricultural college, providing the Utah team can accommodate Idaho on that date. The game would be played at Pocatello.

A cablegram by George E. Horton, Idaho graduate manager, to the Utah Aggie team in Hawaii preparatory to a Christmas Day game with the University of Hawaii, is unanswered, but according to Mr. Horton a reply should be received as soon as the team can be located on the islands. The cablegram was sent immediately after the Pacific Coast conference meeting at Portland last week.

At present the Utah Aggies have a game scheduled with Utah teachers' college November 10, but because the game is not a Rocky Mountain conference class, it probably can be changed or postponed to accommodate Idaho. No definite place has been fixed should the two schools agree on a date, although Pocatello generally is conceded the game.

Idaho now has seven definitely listed games and another practically so, the Utah contest being the ninth. Idaho opens her season with Montana State college here, December 29, following with Gonzaga university the next week. Playing field for the Gonzaga contest still is uncertain.

Idaho has five conference games, W. S. C., Stanford, U. C. L. A., U. S. C. and Montana, two at Moscow, and two on California soil. The Montana game will be played at Missoula.

GIRLS DEFEATED BY SEVEN POINTS

Women's Rifle Team Falls Before University of Washington

Turning in five perfect scores, the University of Washington Women's Rifle team defeated the Idaho team by seven points, in a telegraphic match, fired Thursday last week. Idaho's total of 493 out of a possible 500 points is considered a very good score, according to Major F. A. Fuller, coach. Washington's 500 out of a possible 500 points is an exceptional score and does not happen in many matches. This is the second time that Idaho has gone down to defeat before the Washington squad.

Last year Washington turned in three perfect scores and topped the Idaho points by a considerable margin. Idaho made 487 in last year's match.

Prospects for an excellent Idaho team are very good this year as the practice scores have been high.

In the first match of this season the team made a much better showing than last year and as several new members of the team are developing into good shooters this year should see a formidable Idaho team.

The individual scores made in the Washington match this year were as follows: Elva Reed, 99; Marian White, 98; Helen Kerr, 99; Beatrice Bangs, 98; Avis Bowditch, 98.

of whom Pullman expected so much, failed to gain once all day according to the rule of the game in the Argonaut. The nearest that W. S. C. got to a score was in the first half when some blocked punts let her get down to Idaho's 35-yard line. The Idaho team averaged 164 pounds and W. S. C. 175.

Defeating W. S. C. was not the only feat that the 1905 Idaho eleven accomplished. (They weren't called Vandals in those days.) Not once during the season was the Idaho goal line crossed. The university of Washington, Montana Agricultural college, W. S. C. and Whitman all fell before her without tallying.

Does J. R. Middleton remember these games? You bet. He was captain and quarterback of the team of 1905. He didn't say so in his letter but the musty files of the Argonaut gave him away.

Individual Work
Princeton, N. J. (IP)—The new system of study at Princeton, by which the work of the individual student is made the object of special concentration, is leading to more and more outside reading, according to Dr. John G. Hibben, president of Princeton university.

"The work of the librarian, according to the president, has become a 'guide to unknown territories.'"

SOCIAL BUG STEALS CAR
Columbus, Mo.—(IP)—Mingling with the "upper crust" of the University made an automobile a necessity was the explanation given by Robert A. Lowe, a freshman at Ohio State university last year, when arranged recently before a criminal judge in Cleveland for stealing a car.

EMORY University, Ga.—(IP)—Emory university debaters are forward looking. They have practically dated a debate with Oxford, Cambridge and the University of London for nine years hence, in 1936. A tour will be taken by the Emory squad in that year, it is almost certain.

SEATTLE Wash.—(IP)—Because law studies take up so much of the student's time, law students at the University of Washington may be barred from taking office in student government organizations.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass.—(IP)—The Woman's Intercollegiate Association of Student Government, a national organization of co-eds and women college students, met at Smith college here this week.

Q. What is this thing?
A. This is a coal wag-gon.
Q. Love-ly. Do the rules say anything about coal wag-gons?
A. No, the rules do not mention coal wag-gons.
Q. Then shouldn't I purchase a coal wag-gon to take my Kappa in?
A. No, for the rules would soon be amended to include coal wag-gons.
Q. Then what should I do?
A. You should hire Neely's Taxi, and play safe. The number is 4111. Neely can watch the road ahead in a most efficient manner. You'll be safe with Neely.

It has been proven by "Hambigah" that Man is Not descended from monkeys. "For," he opines, "there's a great similarity in almost every physical feature—look at me, for instance—there's one thing monkeys have that men cannot have." "What's that?" asked we, innocently. "Baby Monkeys," he replied, and luffed so hard we thought his big heart would break.

After some little argument with the "get-slim-and-keep-that-way" league, which held out for the regular diet of Swedish Health Bread and Hay Flakes for breakfast, it is rumored that the Pi Phi's, Pi Sigma, Gamma Phi's and Theta's housemanagers have induced the sisters to accept a new breakfast menu. Biscuits and honey, grapefruit, chocolate potatoes, and good old fried rooster for the rest of the winter.

The Third Street Market got hooked for this one. We spent $6,000 this summer for alterations. This old rooster will be so well dressed before we're through with him that he'll think he's a Peegee.
