THE PROPOSED TOUR

The proposition of sending the University of Idaho Glee club on a tour of the southern part of the state, sometime during the second semester was put before the executive board at its meeting Tuesday evening. As a means of advertising the university in our own state this is undoubtedly one of the best methods. People like to know that the university produces something besides winning athletic teams.

It has been several years since the Glee club has been presented in the southern part of the state. Last year no tour was scheduled while the previous year a short tour of north Idaho was made. It is time that the university advertise the Glee club, one of the major student activities of the music department.

In years gone by the appearance of the Idaho Glee club in various cities of south Idaho was one of the big attractions of the season. The club always drew big houses, but during more recent years the popularity of this organization seemed to fall off. With the reorganization of the club this year there is little doubt that the club will make a hit if sent out.

Considerable work has been done by Prof. Theodore Kratt, who took over his duties as head of the music department this fall. He has built up an organization which will raise the standing of the music department. He should be given a chance to demonstrate throughout the state this much of his work on the campus. Although a definite program to be given, in case the south Idaho trip is authorized by the board, has not been drawn up, the tentative program outlined by Professor Kratt calls for numbers which would receive the approval of any audience. The same program would probably be presented on a short tour of north Idaho before the southern trip.

Idaho should be represented in the southern part of the state this year and there is hardly a better way by which this can be done. It is true that the cost of sending the Glee club on such an extensive trip would be great, but most of this cost would be made up by receipts from each of the appearances. Action of the board should favor this tour.

FIFTY PER CENT WASTE

ONLY one half of the members of the class of 1931 in the American colleges, which started on the road to higher learning last fall, will receive the coveted diplomas in June, 1931, according to statistics given by Morton Snyder in Progressive Education and issued in the January number of What the Colleges are Doing. This shows that there is 50 per cent wastage in the business of higher education, which would be tragic in any other enterprise.

The entire class of 1931 numbered 300,000 at the beginning of school last fall, according to the figures given. This number is supposed to have represented the privileged class, the men and women of the nation who some day will be at the head of the various business enterprises and government departments. It is this group that seeks higher learning in order to better society.

But, according to Mr. Snyder, 20 per cent or more—60,000 will drop out of school during, or at the end of the freshman year. Another 20 per cent will leave college during, or at the end of the sophomore year. And during the remaining two years 10 per cent of the remaining members of the class will drop out, leaving half of the original number, 150,000 students, to be graduated in June, 1931.

"These figures are taken from the country as a whole," the article states. "It should be understood that in our best institutions the survival record is much higher." The article goes on to divide the

MARRIED COLLEGIAN BUT GOT A BEGGAR

College Girl Finds Husband Made Money Without Working; Granted Divorce By Judge

CHICAGO, Ill.—(IP)—Sylvester Smythe (let us call him) had never been to college, but he met a pretty co-ed, fell in love, and they were married, the bride supposing she was marrying an "A. B."

Smythe had plenty of money, which he said he earned as a salesman. He was generous, and the three-week bride was as happy as she could be until she went down town this week to spend some of Smythe's money for their new home. After she finished shopping she was "touched" by the sight of a cripple propped up against a building on the sidewalk, and reached in her purse for a dime. As she put the coin in the outstretched tin cup, she looked at the beggar's face, and discovered her husband.

The judge said he would grant a divorce.

Moral: It takes a real college education to teach how to successfully live off the world for nothing.

DURANT WILL GIVE LECTURE SATURDAY

Famous Philosopher-Lecturer to Speak in University Auditorium Week From Saturday

"An opportunity in a life-time," is what Prof. C. W. Chenoweth of the philosophy department says of Will Durant's lecture to be given in the university auditorium, Saturday evening, January 28. Everyone will do well, Professor Chenoweth says to hear Doctor Durant who is one of America's most brilliant philosopher-lecturers.

Pullman people have sent to Moscow for tickets to hear Doctor Durant speak, Miss Katherine Jensen, president of the Moscow branch of the American Association of University Women which is bringing him here, said Thursday.

Spurs and Intercollegiate knights have charge of the ticket sales in the halls and sorority and fraternity houses. The Spurs will usher at the lecture.

"The Devil's Disciple" Given at Meeting Sponsored by Associated Women

Townpeople were given an opportunity to hear Miss Maude A. Miner, dramatic reader, in her first public appearance in Moscow when she was presented by the Associated Women Students, Tuesday evening, in the university auditorium.

George Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple," a three-act play of melodramatic tone, was Miss Miner's reading.

Mildred Perry, president of A. W. S., introduced Miss Miner.

PRESIDENT UPHAM TALKS OVER RADIO

Broadcast Farewell Address From Luncheon in Spokane Tuesday

President Alfred H. Upham, who leaves the University of Idaho as president today, Tuesday noon gave a farewell address to Spokane at the weekly luncheon of the Spokane chamber of commerce, the speech being broadcast by radio.

Tuesday evening Dr. and Mrs. Upham will be honor guests at the annual banquet of the Spokane chamber of commerce, at which Dr. Upham probably will give a short talk.

Mrs. Upham leaves Spokane Wednesday evening for California, where Dr. Upham will join her the end of the month for the journey east. En route to California, Mrs. Upham will visit her daughter, Peggy Lou, at Portland.

Dr. Upham will be the guest of Moscow service clubs and chamber of commerce at a banquet next Monday, and Tuesday, January 24, he leaves Moscow. He will meet his daughter at Portland and they will join Mrs. Upham in California for the journey to Oxford, Ohio.

SOCIETY

Entertainments throughout the week have been comparatively numerous. Miss Maud Miner of Chicago has afforded many delightful entertainments with her brilliant readings. Tuesday night she appeared in a program sponsored by the A. A. U. W. and Wednesday she read before the English Club. She has also appeared on several other programs since she has been here.

Last night another group of plays featuring an all-girl cast was put on by the play production classes.

Three fraternity house dances appear on the list for this week odd which were not scheduled on the social calendar of last week. Alpha Tau Omega is giving a dinner dance Friday night, as is Phi Gamma Delta. Kappa Sigma is entertaining with an informal house dance, and Sigma Nu with a barn dance.

The Military Ball which is to be given January 5 is being looked forward to with much enthusiasm.

NEWSPAPER FILM WILL BE SHOWN

Delta Sigma Sponsors Showing Picture of Making New York Times

A three-reel film, "Making of a Great Newspaper," will be shown here February 14 under the auspices of Delta Sigma, local honorary journalism fraternity. It has been announced by Floyd Lansdon, president. The pictures were taken at the New York Times plant. The place for the showing of the film has not yet been announced.

The film is issued by the Pictures Service corporation of the New York Times, and shows in detail all the steps in the publication of a metropolitan newspaper. It pictures the process of this industry from the time the news is gathered on the streets until it appears in the papers on the street. The editorial rooms and the work of the reporters, copy readers and editors will be shown.

The movie will take the audience through the copy chute into the composing room, where the type is set up, on to the stereotype room and finally to the mammoth press where the papers are printed at a great rate of speed. The picture will also present details of the business end of the newspaper profession.

This picture was originally planned as an entertainment feature for the members of the local organization, Mr. Lansdon said. Since the initial showing of the film it was decided to show it to the journalism classes as laboratory exercises.

Showing of the picture here is being sponsored entirely by Delta Sigma. A recent communication from the Times indicated that Idaho can have the film for showing February 14. Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity at Pullman asked to be included with Delta Sigma when it was announced that the picture had been secured. The film will be shown at W. S. C. February 15.

HAS LEADING ROLE IN "THE DETOUR"

MORONI OLSEN portrays the role of the hardhearted Long Island farmer in "The Detour" which will be presented at the Kenworthy theatre by the Moroni Olsen players, under the auspices of the Moscow Business and Professional Women's club Monday night, January 30. The play, written by Owen Davis, pictures the American rural life. This is one of the best presentations ever given by the Moroni Olsen players, according to reports here.

STORY OF RURAL LIFE IN "DETOUR"

Experiences of Members of Moroni Olsen Cast Aid in Latest Production

A drama of the rural life of America will be presented in "The Detour," by Owen Davis, by the Moroni Olsen players at the Kenworthy theatre Monday, January 30. This will be the second time this season the company has appeared here, playing "The Lilies of the Field" here October 30. The Moroni Olsen players are brought here by the Moscow Business and Professional Women's club.

Moroni Olsen plays the part of the hardhearted, hardheaded Long Island farmer, Steven Hardy, in this production. In this part Mr. Olsen portrays the character of a rugged man of the soil who can think only in terms of more land to till. He knows nothing about art nor cares about it.

Before Mr. Olsen came to the west he spent many years in the eastern part of the country and saw many such characters as depicted in the story. Due to this experience he has been able to create a convincing atmosphere throughout the whole production.

Two other members of the cast, who have appeared here and can be relied upon to give portrayals of feeling and power, are Janet Young and Byron K. Foulger. They play the parts of Helen Hardy, the mother, and Tom Lane, the lover of the girl. These two members with Dorothy Adams, who portrays the role of the supposedly talented daughter, and Leora Thatcher, who takes the part of the sympathetic wife of the visiting artist, played by Gordon Nelson, spent a year traveling through much the same territory as the locale of the play.

MANY SOPRANOS OUT FOR GLEE CLUB

Twenty-eight girls tried out for soprano part in the Treble Clef club Thursday afternoon, according to Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department. Try-outs for second soprano and alto will be held this afternoon and Monday afternoon respectively.

Twenty girls will be chosen for each part, making a total Glee club membership of 60. Notice of the girls chosen will be posted on the bulletin board Wednesday.

All girls who have been taking glee club will meet in the Engineering building Monday night as usual.

UPHAM TO APPEAR LAST TIME BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Special Music Special music for the assembly is being handled by Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department. A song, written by David Nyvall, Jr., for Doctor Upham, will be sung.

It is probably that Doctor Upham will leave here the latter part of next week for Oxted. Mrs. Upham will have left by Monday, while President Upham will be unable to leave until near the end of the month.

AG EXPERTS GO TO ANNUAL MEETING

Third Annual Meeting of North Idaho Horticultural Society Held at Lewiston

Seven members of the college of agriculture faculty and extension division experts are attending the third annual meeting of the North Idaho Horticultural society being held at Lewiston today and tomorrow.

Dean E. J. Iddings will deliver the main address tonight at the annual banquet of the society at the Lewis and Clark hotel. He will probably talk on some phase of his recent foreign trip.

J. M. Reader, assistant pathologist of the Idaho experiment station and vice-president of the society, addressed the group today on "Potato Diseases, How to Detect Them in the Field and Their Control".

Other Idaho men assisting in the program are Dr. C. W. Hungerford, plant pathology department head; Prof. C. C. Vincent, head of the horticulture department; R. S. Snyder, of the agricultural chemistry department; and E. R. Bennett and Prent Moore, both of Boise, extension service experts.

John Welch, state commissioner of agriculture, M. L. Dean and R. L. Spangler, will represent the state.

University of Oregon men are famous for their Scotch brogues, according to the Oregon Daily Emerald. We always have understood that Scotch are rather taciturn, but it seems that at Oregon they have a loud variety. Complaints have been received by the Emerald, over the noise, the competition and the scraping of the offending Scotch brogues in the library. One anonymous letter to the Emerald remarked that the collegians were letting the world know that they had shoes on.

Also from Oregon comes the "suggestive" little want ad:

Sorority pledges at the University of Southern California have started driving taxis to earn the money for their initiation fees. Although several large cities in the east have established taxi systems with women drivers, California is the first to introduce it in the west.

When O. A. C. men study, there is danger ahead for intruders, if one may judge from the red and green signal lights placed outside a study room door in the Sigma Phi Epsilon house. The red, connected with the study light, warns less industrious people not to bother the student. The green connected with the main light is a welcome sign to all visitors. This invention was contrived by one of the members to keep roaming students out while he was studying.

Are smelling salts and perfume an aid to the study of medicine and dentistry? Is the question being asked by bewildered instructors at the University of Ohio, who recently discovered bottles of the doubtful liquids in student instrument cases. We would like to suggest that in all kindness they also give a free subscription to the brave lass who dates with the "large" mustache.

Washington State college is to have a women's rifle team, according to The Evergreen, which states that a regular class will soon be formed. The sport is in charge of the P. E. department and it is planning several telegraph shoots.

We find in The Evergreen classified ads:

A new system of debate known as "Adam and Eve," under which a woman presents the feminine view of the question, has been devised at the University of South Dakota.

Now we wouldn't call this an ad, we would call it a mistake.

Bloomers, "reaching to the tops of their hose at all times," is the ultimatum issued to Indiana university women by the school of authorities. Failure to comply with this rule will entail loss of five hours credit for the first offense, and expulsion in the case of a second offense.

Opera-length hose are also taboo. The rule is known among undergraduates at the "Dutch vestment law."

Just a confession and an appreciation. A number of years ago I was a user of your Edgeworth smoking tobacco. But like some others, perhaps, I was led by alluring advertisements to change. The Lonesome Road
From down the road comes the sound of bells. A lonely traveler takes up his burden and trudges along. As he walks he sings a melody that, in its slow rhythmic measures, has much of the mood of the "Volga Boatman." Gene Austin interprets it with all the warm humanity that has made his voice so popular.
