PLAYS THIS WEEK CHARACTERIZED BY NOVEL VARIETY

Shooting and Excitement Are Not Spared in "The Killer"

HAS REAL "BAD MAN"

"Melancholy Dame," "Miss Tassy," "A Cup of Tea" Completes Program

Variety characterizes the group of four one-act plays which will be presented by members of the play production classes in the auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings.

Excitement runs high and ammunition is not spared in "The Killer," which is the story of the hunt for a bandit. Mystery surrounds the identity of the bad man, but it is finally cleared up. The scene is a mountain cabin. The cast includes Miriam Howerton, Mac Hardwick, Arthur Ensign and Frank McKewen.

Characters All Negroes

A cheap negro cabaret in New York City is the scene of "The Melancholy Dame." This play is peculiar in that the climax is held up until the end, giving a decided "wallop." The plot centers around a negro dancing girl, Ethel Lafferty. Virginia Neal, George Justice and Harry Robb are cast.

A discussion of rules and "sneak dates" has a familiar ring in "Miss Tassy," an incident in a London boarding house. Strict rules of conduct are imposed upon the boarders, who express their resentment by making uncomplimentary remarks about Miss Tassy, the proprietress of the house. The ending is most unexpected. Gladys Barth, Anne Johnson, Violet Spurgeon and Lillian Woodworth represent Miss Tassy's boarders.

"A Cup of Tea" Is Comedy

The eternal triangle takes the form of a quadrangle in "A Cup of Tea," the most sprightly and amusing play in the group. A clever woman has a temperamental artist husband, who is forever becoming involved in affairs with women. His wife is very tolerant, even to the extent of helping him out. In "A Cup of Tea" the affair is serious. The outraged husband threatens to kill the artist, whose wife arranges a tea party at which the affair is settled amicably. Armed with a gun, the angry husband arrives at the party. His attempt to manage the gun and a teacup simultaneously affords a big comedy element. Grace Parsons, Pauline Hockaday, Harold Packer and Jess Honeywell compose the cast.

These plays have been coached by Mrs. Harry Brenn and Miss Marie Johnson. Four other one-act plays are also in rehearsal, and will be ready for presentation soon.

STUDENT LIFE IN PICTURE SECTION

Gem Will Have Pictorial Resume of Entire School Year

One of the main features of the Gem of the Mountains this year will be a pictorial resume of campus activities. The staff is attempting to gather photographs which will illustrate campus life or representative student activity for an academic year. When photographs are ready they are shipped to the engravers at Seattle where they are touched up and mounted by the artists of the company.

While only about sixteen of the pages have been turned in the staff has contracted for a 24 page section. Any students on the campus who have pictures which they feel are especially good or typical of student life, are asked to hand them in as possible contributions to the campus section. Having the purpose of picturing a university year gives this section greater possibilities than any other section of the book. Pictures of students at work, of different departments of the school, or interior views of the different buildings on the campus are especially in demand. The staff invites student cooperation in helping to produce pictures which will make this section one of the most outstanding of the 1928 Gem of the Mountains.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TO BEGIN SOON

Interclass Tournament Will Start Tomorrow Afternoon, According to Zola Geddes.

The annual women's interclass tennis tournament will begin Wednesday afternoon, the last date for girls to sign up for this activity. If the weather continues to be warm, said Zola Geddes, tennis manager, Monday evening.

Coaching for those who need help in this sport will be given every noon by Miss Lillian J. Wirt, head of the physical education department.

Names will be drawn Wednesday afternoon and all games will be played off in this drawing manner. The highest point girls in each class will compete with each other. The girl who remains will be given the tennis cup by W. A. A.

LaReeta Beeson received the cup last fall. The old one had been lost and a new one had to be ordered to replace it.

IDAHO ENGINEER STAFF TO MEET

Business Division to Outline Plans for Spring Edition Wednesday Afternoon.

A meeting of the business staff of the Idaho Engineer to outline plans for the coming spring edition of the semi-annual technical publication has been called for 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by Gus Bjork, business manager.

According to present plans the second edition will be issued on May 4, "Engineer's Day." The first edition came out the middle of December. Edgar Hagan is editor of the magazine.

Russell Tuttle and William R. Reed are assistant business managers of the publication and the following have been named on the business staff for the coming edition: Orland Mayer, Robert Reynolds, Jesse Thompson, Donald Bailey, Fred Johnson and Joseph Lancaster.

The Wednesday meeting will be held at the staff office, room 207, Engineering building.

"BLUE BUCKET" HAS FUTURISTIC MOTIF

New Issue Features Cartoons by Ensign, Goss and Grimm

Cover and cartoons will conform to the futuristic motif of the third issue of the Blue Bucket, humorous and literary quarterly, which will be on sale on the campus tomorrow. Arthur Ensign, Dale Goss and Gerald Grimm have contributed futuristic cartoons. Other cartoons are by Mary Ensign. If the reader is patient (and interested) he may be able to decipher the meaning of the titles, which are also unusual.

Issue Is Different

The literary and humorous content will probably bring despair to the English faculty, for it is a striking example of Dr. George Morey Miller's famed trinity, "Unity, Coherence and Emphasis." As far as possible, the contributions are futuristic. A few are not. Goodbye, Futur! Words are not capitalized where they should be, and many an unassuming syllable is made to stand out from its fellows by the simple means of a misplaced capital. The coherence, if any, is unintentional. The emphasis, likewise, is accidental. Lack of meaning is the aim. If the reader is patient, the reader is wont to inquire, "What is it all about, anyway?" the staff will regard its work as highly successful.

Stiglins Is Contributor

Meet "Idaho Albert" in a new role. Not content to hide his light under a bushel of nonsense, "Sliggy" of column fame has contributed some sketches. A heart-rending, hair-raising "True Story" has been furnished by Russell Hodgson, and is the only long piece in the magazine. A very different contributor, who denies himself the arrogance of an introductory capital, is "Iliokoehs." His notes de plum is subtle, it merely harmonizes with his sketches. Elmer Edwards, whose poetry has already attracted attention, has contributed to the futuristic number. A struggling pseudo-poet has again proved that imitation is not always flattery by aping the eccentricities of E. E. Cummings. Ed Wahl, also an old contributor, appears again. Mary Murphy is a new contributor.

Innovations in make-up will be noted. A three-column page is used, instead of the usual two-columns.

COMMITTEE NAMED ON SENIOR PRESENT

Annual Custom Will Be Carried Out by This Year's Outgoing Class

Appointment of a senior present committee, which will have charge of securing and presenting the traditional class present at the end of the present semester, was appointed Tuesday by Gus Bjork, senior class president.

Charles Connaughton was named chairman of the committee with Barbara Rugg, Mildred Williams and Hugh Felts to assist him. Four other senior class committees, including song and stunt, invitation and cap and gown committees, were named earlier in the school year and later confirmed by the second semester executive.

Each year it is a custom for the outgoing class to present the university with some form of tangible gift, usually consisting of memorial tablets or special pictures.

EDUCATOR WILL VISIT IDAHO

Industrial Supervisor to Stay Several Weeks to Confer With Students and Prospective Teachers.

N. B. Giles, state supervisor of industrial education, will spend several weeks at the University of Idaho, according to word received here. Exact date of his arrival is uncertain.

Mr. Giles works under the direction of the state board of education and at the suggestion of W. D. Vincent, commissioner of education, he is giving two weeks to help out prospective teachers by giving them educational demands for teachers in this state. He will speak to a number of educational classes and will confer individually with students interested. He will make his headquarters in the education school officer here.

NAME JUNIOR MAN AT ELECTION TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

Polls Open at 10 o'Clock in Room 104 of Administration Building

TO FILL VACANCY

Dean Arnold Only Candidate on Ticket for Executive Board Job

Students will go to the polls Wednesday in a special ASUI election to vote for a junior man representative on the executive board. Dean Arnold is the only candidate on the ticket, having been nominated at the general student body meeting two weeks ago. The polls will be located in room 104 of the Administration building.

A representative from the junior class is being elected to fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of Leonard Harmon from school at the beginning of the second semester. Any man in the junior class is eligible for this office, with the office going to the person receiving a majority of the votes.

Polls Open at 10

The polls will be opened at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning and will be closed at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The election committee, named by the executive board at the first of the school year with Hartley Kester as chairman, will have charge of the election and will count the votes.

Signs will be posted at various places in the Administration building directing students to the election room. Due to the small number of votes cast in past elections an effort is being made by the board to create more interest and try to get more students to vote.

The election of the junior man is the only issue to be voted upon at this election, according to Frank Click, student body president. Other matters, including amendments, will come up at the annual spring elections.

R.O.T.C. GROOMS FOR ANNUAL INSPECTION

Ordeal Is Preceded by Hours of Hard Drilling

Five hundred thirty-four student soldiers in the Idaho unit of the R. O. T. C. are grooming themselves for the big ordeal of the year—inspection by war department and area headquarters officers. This is an annual event, and occasions hours of brushing on "squad right," "squad left," close and extended order drilling and other phases of military instruction by both members of advanced classes who are cadet officers, and basic course students, who are the rookies in the army of the university.

Major Edward C. Waddill, R. O. T. C. officer for the Ninth Corps area, of which Idaho is a unit, will inspect the corps on April 27, and although the federal inspection will follow that shortly, actual dates for it have not been announced. Inspection calls for a complete review of all class and field work, and a formal review and parade.

The war department inspection will decide whether Idaho will hold its distinguished rating among American colleges, which honor it has held for two consecutive years. This rating, which entitles graduates of the course to be termed "honor graduates," also allows two per cent of the graduates to enter the regular army with the rank of second lieutenant without examination other than physical. Six colleges and universities in the west were granted distinguished rating last year. These are University of Idaho, Oregon State college, University of Utah, University of California, University of California, Southern Branch and the California Institute of Technology.

FORESTER TALKS ON PROTECTION

Cunningham Addresses School Friday On Measures Provided For In Clark McNary Bill

Russell N. Cunningham, a former student of the Idaho school of forestry, addressed students of the school, Friday, March 16, on "The Administration of the Clark-McNary Bill." Mr. Cunningham, a graduate of the class of '17, has been employed in the United States Forest service since his graduation, and is at present stationed at Missoula, Montana.

The Clark-McNary bill, which provides for fire protection, distribution of young trees to farmers for the planting of windbreaks, woodlots, etc., and cooperative forest extension service, is working out in the distinct advantage of forest owners in Idaho, says Mr. Cunningham. Especially is progress being made, says Mr. Cunningham, in the matters of forest protection and reforestation.

MISS FRENCH TO LEWISTON

Dean Permeal J. French will address the "Purple and Gold Leaf," a girls' club at the Lewiston high school, at their regular assembly Wednesday afternoon, on the subject of "Ideals."

Arrested for beating his wife, Stanislaus Rosnik of Altoona, Pa., testified that she had not spoken to him for seven years.

BALLOT FOR SENATE VOTE

Vote for ONE of the following candidates for your choice for the presidency of the United States. This campaign is being conducted on the Idaho campus by Blue Key, national honorary, appropiate service fraternity, cooperating with the Independent magazine of Moscow, Mo., in a nationwide campaign for the presidency and collegess.

The following candidates are those suggested by the Independent:

VOTE FOR ONE CANDIDATE ONLY, MARKING AN X AFTER THE NAME

REPUBLICANS

CHARLES CURTIS, Kansas

HERBERT C. HOOVER

FRANK O. LOWDEN, Illinois

FRANK B. WILLIS, Ohio

DEMOCRATS

SENATOR DONAHEY

JAMES A. REED, Missouri

GOVERNOR RICHIE

AL SMITH, New York

THOMAS J. WALSH, Montana

Cut this ballot out and turn it over to the person designated in your house by Blue Key to collect the votes. If you do not live in a group house or dormitory then deposit them in the ballot box at the Oriole Nest or Southern Branch.

Students Vote for Presidential Candidate in National Campaign

Are you old enough to vote for president this year? No Idaho student will be barred from the presidential straw vote because of age. No modest admissions of minority will be necessary. Towns by both members of advanced classes who are cadet officers, and basic course students, who are the rookies in the army of the university.

STODDARD KING AND 'AUTOGRAPHS' HERE

Autographed Copies of Two Books on Sale During Author's Visit Here

Autographed copies of Stoddard King's books, "What the Queen Said" and "Grand Right and Left" are on sale this afternoon at the English club bookshelf during the author's visit to the campus. Mr. King will address the English club this evening at 8 o'clock at the Blue Bucket Inn on "A Newspaper Humorist's Scrapbook," and tomorrow he will speak at an assembly on the subject "Onward and Upward."

"Although this will be Mr. King's sixth visit to the Idaho campus, his last appearance was three years ago when he read before the English club, members of the English club, among them Ruth Alpray, Ruth Hawkins, and Blaine Stubbfield, wrote Mr. King's column for the Spokesman Review for him on that day. His column, called "Facetious Fragments" appears in the Review as a frequent contributor to "LIFE" and other humorous publications.

Mr. King writes Dr. George Morey Miller that he has "grasped the possibilities of the rubber stamp as a time saving device." He put his stamp on the letter. It follows:

of May 1928

Although the content of his address tonight and his speech before the assembly tomorrow is not known it is certain to be witty and entertaining. The meeting tonight is for English club members only, however, each member is invited to bring one guest.

SIXTEEN WIN 4-H U. I. SCHOLARSHIP

High School Students Will Enter Agricultural and Home Economics Schools Here

Sixteen boys and girls in as many Idaho counties will enter the University of Idaho in agricultural or home economics curricula next fall as the result of their achievements in 4-H club work during 1927, according to a scholarship list announced this week by J. E. Reardon, state county agent and club leader.

The Union Pacific Railway system, donor of the scholarships, offers alternative awards of $100 to the winner in each county who enters the short course and $50 to those entering the short courses. All of the 1927 winners have signified their intentions of entering for the full four years, although some will not have completed high school for several years.

LAST MIXER IS TO BE TUESDAY

All Members Are Requested to Turn Out in Order to Get Acquainted Before Final Week

The next and last Junior mixer will be held in the Blue Bucket Inn Tuesday, March 27, according to Elmer Berglund, president of the Junior class. Since this is the last mixer before Junior week, all members of the class are requested to turn out so that all will be well acquainted with each other before the "week" of Lambert Cannon, chairman of the mixer committees stated that there were to be stunts and dancing as well as a short business meeting. All committees working on Junior week have definite reports to make at this time.

PEP BAND CONCERT SET FOR APRIL 3; TO FEATURE SKITS

"Shadows" or Memories of Last Two Shows Will Be Featured

START REHEARSALS

Program to Be Divided Into Five Parts, Says Sam Hutchings

Idaho's Pep band will present its annual concert Tuesday night, April 3, in the auditorium. It was announced Monday night by Sam Hutchings, student leader of the band. The concert this year will be "Prof. David Nyvall's farewell concert on the Idaho campus, as he will leave here in the spring for Chicago.

The program will be divided into about five parts, according to the tentative arrangement of the evening will be entitled "Shadows" or "Memories of the last two Pep Band shows. This number will be something of a revue of these two shows. Selections from both shows will be presented along with music used in the productions.

Pagant Numbers

Selections from the music written by Mr. Nyvall for the pagant, "The Light on the Mountains," will open the concert. The second part of the program will be "Shadows," an orchestra will be used during this part.

Third on the program will be a number of marches played by the entire band. The fourth part will be something of a novelty featuring a skit, "The Village Band." Several solos will also be included in this division.

The closing numbers on the program will be several snappy marches.

Plans have been made to make this concert the best ever presented by the Pep band, said the student leader. Rehearsals for the concert were started Monday evening and will be continued every day until the performance.

WESLEY CLUB WILL MEET

All Methodist and Methodist church preleth college women are invited to attend the meeting of the Girls' Wesley club Tuesday afternoon at the church parlors. Miss Conner will make the main talk of the program.

Charles Aldridge of Battersas, Eng., has completed a toy house in a match box after 35 years. It has four rooms, with tables, shelves, pictures on the walls, perfect in every detail.

MUELLER GIVES PIANO RECITAL

Honor Student at Leipzig Plays Sunday in University Auditorium to Large Gathering

Walter Mueller, pianist, who has been spending the week-end in Moscow, gave a recital for the music faculty and music lovers of the campus Sunday afternoon in the auditorium at the request of Prof. Theodore Kratt. Mr. Mueller is a graduate of Whitman college and has been an honor student for four years at the Leipzig conservatory of Music.

Among the numbers which Mr. Mueller played were four Chopin preludes, Beethoven's Sonata Op. 90 (often called Springtime Sonata) and several compositions of Bach and Debussy.

Mr. Mueller's playing was so well done and so much appreciated that Professor Kratt has made arrangements for him to give a recital at the university sometime in the near future.

Mr. Mueller is a guest of the Rev. N. M. Jones of this city.

FULL TENNIS PLANS MADE BY MANAGER

Men's Champion Will Be Picked in Open Tourney This Spring

An open tennis tournament, with all men of the campus except lettermen being eligible to enter, will be held this spring. It was announced Monday by William Callaway, tennis manager. Men desiring to enter the tournament are asked to sign up before Saturday, March 24. Plans were also announced for the coming varsity tennis season and intramural tennis.

A paper will be posted on the bulletin board in the Administration building where students wanting to enter the tournament can sign their names and give their phone numbers. The tournament will start next Monday, and continue until finished. Drawings will be made to match the players.

The winner of the open tournament will be awarded a tennis racket which is to be donated by F. A. David & Sons.

GLEE CLUB CONCERT AT TROY MARCH 28

First Public Appearance of Organization; Quartet To Spokane

A special concert, sponsored by the associated students will be presented by the University Glee club in the Troy high school auditorium Wednesday evening, March 28, according to Prof. Theodore Kratt, director of the club.

Arrangements for the concert are being completed at the present time, the program to be announced at a later date. James Allen, student manager for the club, has charge of the program.

Earlier in the year the university male quartet gave a concert to a full house at the Troy high school auditorium, their first public appearance out of Moscow.

The male quartet will sing at the Idaho Day program at the Lewis and Clark high school of Spokane, Monday, March 26, according to Professor Kratt.

ENGINEERS WILL SEE MOVIE FILM

"Heat Treatment of Steel" Is Title of Showing Thursday Afternoon; Business Meeting.

"Heat Treatment of Steel" is the title of the two-reel motion picture film that will be shown to Associated Engineers at their regular meeting Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at room 118, Science hall, according to Gus Bjork, president.

The film is one of a series presented on the entertainment program of the organization this year, the films being secured through the United States department of commerce.

Detailing of plans for "Engineer's Day" will be the feature of the business session, according to Bjork, who urges all engineers to be present at the meeting.

BLUE BUCKET INN LEASED BY WOODS, VARSITY CAFE MAN

Five-Year Lease Signed; New Manager Takes Charge

PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

Will Build New Counter and Small Cash Store

Leasing of the Blue Bucket Inn by R. G. "Bob" Woods, proprietor of the Varsity Grocery and Cafe for a period of five years was announced Monday by Mr. Woods. The lease became effective this morning when Mr. Woods took active charge of the property.

Extensive improvements and alterations are planned by the lessee to be begun immediately. The policy of the Blue Bucket Inn in the past will be continued, that of running a dining room downstairs and a dance hall upstairs, according to Mr. Woods. The proposed changes will be completed by the opening of school next September.

To Install New Fountain
A new fountain and lunch counter will be installed downstairs first of all. The present fountain and counter in the small room will be moved so that it will extend along the length of the room. A new type of refrigerated glass back bar for displaying sodas, ices and pastries will also be installed. Counter service and table service in the remainder of the room will be provided. Mrs. Bonita Hammer, Mr. Woods' daughter, will be in charge.

One of the private dining rooms will be changed into a small cash and carry grocery store, and will be stocked with a complete line of staple articles used by students, such as candies, tobaccos, and lunch and picnic supplies.

The Blue Bucket Inn is owned by Miss F. J. French and was erected four years ago. Since last June it has been leased by Mrs. C. A. Bergeron, Spokane. Mr. Woods has been in Moscow 21 years. He is a partner with J. W. Hoheney in the Varsity Cafe and Grocery. He is also the manager of the Elks dining room.

Woods Well Known
During the war he was in charge of the S. T. C. camp mess halls on the campus, and after the armistice operated the Bon Ton Cafe for two years. He is well known by students in the university and the Varsity Grocery and Cafe in which he is interested is supported by 75 per cent college trade, according to his estimate.

Dances and parties will be cared for as usual, said Mr. Woods. Improvements will be made as rapidly as possible, and we want the student support. We hope to get business on our merits, the same policy that we stand behind at the Varsity, a big turnover and a small margin."

SPRING FOOTBALL OPENS THIS WEEK

Candidates for 1928 Squad to Report This Afternoon at Gym

Chasers of the pigskin will dust off their moccasins this week in preparation for a six-weeks spring football grind, according to Assistant Coach Stewart S. Dean, who will have charge of the spring session.

A meeting of all candidates has been called for 5 o'clock this afternoon in the gymnasium, at which time plans for the spring workouts will be announced. Practices probably to start Wednesday. Early line work practices were set for the first of next week, but a change in weather has made earlier practice possible.

Although this year's graduating class has taken away some of the main cogs in the famous spring team of last year, that tied for first place in the Pacific coast conference, there are a number of veterans returning and an abundance of material from last year's freshman unit.

Lettermen will not be required to turn out for the first two weeks of this practice. Date for issuance of equipment will be given out at the meeting this afternoon.

It is likely that Coach Charley Erb, who is still in Moscow, will be present at the meeting Tuesday for additional instruction of his 1928 machine.

WAS PRESIDENT'S FLOWER ARTIST

Miss Herma Albertson Tells Cosmopolitan Club of Life in Yellowstone National Park

When President and Mrs. Coolidge visited Yellowstone National Park last summer, Miss Herma Albertson, assistant in the botany department arranged flowers for their rooms, she told the Cosmopolitan club at a meeting held last Saturday evening.

Miss Albertson who is a woman ranger in the summer time at the park and the only woman guide employed, sketched the park at the present time for the club members. She told of various flowers, plants and animals to be found and showed a number of pictures of the area, including several of the largest geysers.

Educational systems in four different countries will be the subject of the next meeting, according to Miss Edith Naeles, chairman of the program committee.

WEDNESDAY'S ELECTION

WEDNESDAY is the day that Idaho students, or at least some of them, will go to the polls to elect a junior man representative to the executive board of the ASUB. Much has been said this year relative to student elections in an effort to create more interest among students in selecting those who are to represent them and it is hoped that the effects will be seen in the voting Wednesday.

It takes but little energy and time to step into the election room and cast a ballot. Students usually feel that it is of no use to mark a ballot because the election is sewed up. But this the wrong attitude, for if the candidates put up are not the ones you believe fitted for the office, then you have the privilege of writing in names on the ballot. This holds true in most cases, but there are some candidates that must be nominated by nominating boards and not from the floor of the general student body meeting.

There is no need, however, of it being necessary to write in names on the ballot, for every student has the right to get up in general assemblies, when nominations are called for, and placing any eligible person in the student body on the ticket. When but one candidate is nominated from the floor of the assembly it can be taken as a lack of interest on the part of the students.

The polls open at 10 o'clock Wednesday in room 104 of the Administration building and will be open until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Let's drop in and vote!

PRESIDENTIAL BALLOTING

SPEAKING of voting, it might be well to again call the attention of the students to the fact that their votes will be needed in the straw voting for national president. The ballots are being run in this issue of The Argonaut. Cut the ballot out, vote for one candidate and leave it with the person designated in your house to handle the collecting of the votes.

Remember that this is a serious endeavor of the Independent magazine, Boston, Mass., to learn the feeling among college students and faculty members over the nation as to their choice for president in the coming election. The balloting is being conducted on the campus by Blue Key fraternity and reports will be wired to the Independent as soon as possible. Study the list of candidates on the ballot carefully and vote for the man you think best fitted for the presidency.

A FAILURE AND THEN A SUCCESS

A FAILURE in college—but does that mean that this same failure will continue to be one in actual life? There are several striking incidents that point to the fact that you may flunk out of college or get kicked out and still become a success in the hard, cruel world.

In looking over the college history of a number of important men we find that they did not graduate from college with highest honors but left institutions of higher learning by request. One outstanding example of this is Lindbergh, America's Lone Eagle. While attending Wisconsin Lindbergh was more of a literary man than mechanically inclined. He was fair in English composition and extremely poor in engineering.

Sinclair Lewis and Booth Tarkington, both prominent writers, did not care for the educational ideas of their universities and were given the gate by the administration. Eugene O'Neill, noted playwright, got himself kicked out of Princeton. He could not interest himself in back learning. Gold back further into history we find that John Locke, famous philosopher and scientist, was a college delinquent. Einstein, who became a great scientist along with several other accomplishments, was a poor student and flunked out of a number of European universities. But, don't take this as an indication that you can flunk out of college or get kicked out and have a better chance at becoming famous. All of the examples of this are exceptional and every person who has such a record has an awful lot to go with it. Most of those in this predicament are never heard of after they slide out of college on their trucks.

SPOON-FED INSPIRATION

THE two-hour conference plan of Rollins college has attracted the attention of the Cornell Daily Sun, which has this to say:

It seems that Rollins is attempting to remedy a fault in the individual by treating it as a mass problem. But a college is not a place in which to teach a man how to study; if he must be taught this simple operation, the preparatory school should do it. And again, merely placing a man in close contact with a professor will not automatically stimulate his budding and intellect unless the professor has the knack of talking intimately and well to groups of two or three. Nor will a student immediately become thirsty for knowledge because he is put in a conference section rather than in a lecture hall.—Cornell Daily Sun.

Literary Corner.

THE CAVE WOMEN'S CONVENTION. When the Dinosaur was roaming through the prehistoric wood, There was held a great convention, To discuss a public good.

'Twas begun by written missives Sent to cave-wives of the clan. "Gather quickly at the club-house, But be secret . . . if you can." So they came in two's and singly, From the suburbs, from the farm, Decked in holiday regalia, Market baskets on each arm. When the meeting opened, said the Speaker, "You were summoned here, So you might vote approval On inventing a Leap Year. You all know that we cave-women Live in terror of the men, Since, if they fall for one of us, That one has no chance then. He grabs her by the tresses, And he drags her to his cave, So henceforth she must serve him. Be his meek and humble slave. So, to end this inconvenience, Take this slogan, "Woman Rights," And from now on we'll have Leap Year. And the first of women's rights. Each fourth year we will be boss-ess. (The assembly gave a cheer) We will pick the man for legal Leaping rights for one whole year.

So the measure was adopted, 'Twas unanimously claimed, And large, painted signs were posted. Of the measure, silver framed, And the ablest reporters Sent from "Harold," "Times" and "Post". Soon had "Extras" cried by newsboys. In each town the land could boast. Then, the cave-men sighed in sorrow; Even many shed a tear. How they hated leasing mens rights To the women for a year. Came a maiden stepping proudly, Spied a virile, out-door man, The most handsome, most desired, And the richest of the clan. So, she rapped him with a mallet. Hard, with joy unknown before; Dragged him to her humble dwelling, He was hers forevermore.

Thus originated Leap Year, Though some say by Washington, Or, perhaps, by Julius Caesar, Our Leap Year was first begun. But—we know that it was started Long ago across the sea, By far sighted cave-wives fighting For future posterity. —Patsy Calhoun

ARE YOU A FREE LANCER? AND HOW!

Free-lancer, n. One not bound by restrictions, physical, governmental, or moral. Not attached, bound or fixed. Liberated, by reason of age, from the authority of parents or guardians. —Webster's Standard Dictionary Free-lancer, n. Collegiate reference: a miscellaneous "dater". (Opposite of "steady". Harmless but numerous.

Oh, no, I do not go steady, Only the dumb ones do such, I'd rather have dozens of beans, And always be getting in Dutch.

Only the sky is the limit, When it comes to stringing the men I keep them all in hot water, Any number from one man to ten.

I get to go to more formal, The steady girl sits by the fire, You know I don't want just ONE man, But you've also guessed I'm a liar.

PERCHANCE, FREE-LANCER?

Ho and stel are free-lancers no one has captured their heart the murray and firy and others have shot wicked dart then there's simmons and alice b. vang have a different date each night miss betty driscoll comes next over whom the betas do fight ruth and karleen, from alpha chi are seen at any dance and toward georgianne's red hair locks is, aimed the shell's trained glance they flit from flower to flower and even light on frosh a man who talks of marriage is spilling so much bosh a date with these free-lancers certainly has its limits no boys don't pass your pins, they're used to hang up pennants.

Need Agile Feet and Tongue for Dance Festival

Sjalaskuttan, Csebogar, Resnika, La Jota Aragonesa—yes, just try and pronounce them! They are not taken at random from the map of Europe, but designate the original names of some of the dances which will appear in "Taps and Tarpsichora."

Members of Mrs. Goff's folk dancing classes have not found the steps as difficult as the names. They will demonstrate their agility on Thursday evening, March 29, and leave the audience to wrestle with the conglomeration of letters which compose the names of the dances.

Sjalaskuttan is a Finnish dance, Csebogar is Hungarian, La Jota Aragonesa Spanish, and Resnika Czech-Slovakian. Colorful costumes of the type worn by the peasants in these countries will add much to the effectiveness of the dances. "The Festival of the Nations" is the name of the group which includes dances from England, Czech-Slovakia, Finland, Sweden, Hungary, Ireland, Scotland and America. From England comes the ribbon dance, which is a most attractive number. The sailor's hornpipe and the highland schottische appear in this group. The Kerry dance is Irish. The costume for it consists of a green shawl, a white blouse and two skirts, the top one tucked up to reveal the bottom of the other. "Reap the Flax" is Swedish. "The Vineyard" is what is termed an occupational dance. It Formals, dinner dances, banquets, matinee dances and a bridge tea were some of the varied functions that made last week end a brilliant one socially, despite a strenuous week. Three unusually successful formals were given by Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Chi and Kappa Alpha Theta. Omega Alpha entertained with a dinner dance and Pi Beta Phi was hostess at a matinee dance Saturday afternoon. The bridge tea given by Idaho Chapter of Spurs at Forney hall Saturday afternoon was also one of the delightful affairs of the week end.

The Pre-Med Club formal is the outstanding event to be given this week end. Informal dances and another group of plays by the play production classes will add variety in entertainment.

SIGMA CHI'S HOSTS AT FORMAL CABARET DANCE

A chromatic snowstorm of confetti and serpentine accompanied by a din of squawks that virtually drowned out the music, climaxed Sigma Chi's annual formal cabaret dance at the Blue Bucket inn Friday night. Tell tale trails of confetti on the campus leading to the girls' houses were mute testimony, the next morning. Decorations were simple and appropriate. White roses, the fraternity flower, in slender vases were used as centerpieces on the tables arranged along the walls of the hall. A large old English inn sign with the inscription, "The Sign of the Vandal Sig", was hung above the mantle.

Two typical cabaret entertainment numbers were presented by Estelle Pickereil and Ethel Lafferty. A new type of program, in blue and gold colors was used. A wood block design, cut by O. C. R. Stageberg, was printed on the front cover. Soden's seven-piece orchestra furnished the music.

Faculty people who acted as patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barton, Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Hubert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. D. DuSault, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carter Davidson and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil R. D. Kirkham.

Guests included Leah Tuttle, Katherine Pence, Ruth Hawkins, Clarice Anderson, Mildred Timken, Mary Willis, Neva Rice, Wilma Burton, Florence Stone, Evelyn Shells, Genevieve Pew, Margaret Haga, Jean Collette, Fynette Guthrie, Mariys Shirik, Ardith Mellinger, Florence Taylor, Wilda Langdon, Elizabeth Chapman, Estelle Jones, Mary Murphy, Lucille Eaton, Rhoda Woodward, Florence Sampson, Ruth Fisher, Dorothy Whitenack, Helen Douglas, Laura Clark, Hazel Simonds, Gladys Stein, Alice Harding, Gertrude Ames, Eloise Davis, Vera Forbils, Betty Grammer, Jane Reid, Beatrice Hardin, Alice Kelly, Bernice Parish, Jean Rawlins, Louise Dunlap, Maryvina Goldsmith, Margaret Thometz, Edla Rice, Elsie Warm, Margaret Barry, Dawn Gibson, Erma Scholtz, Flo Mathewson and Mary Galloway.

Out of town guests were Miss Verna Goss, Roy Colthard and Homer Manly, Washington State college, and Vane Homer, Rose Lake.

THETA'S HOLD FORMAL DANCE

Kappa Alpha Theta entertained with a formal dance at the chapter house Friday evening, March 16. Representation of a castle was carried out in the decorative scheme. An unusual lighting effect was achieved by placing arc lights on the outside of the windows, which were painted to represent stained glass.

Music was furnished by Clair Gale's orchestra. Punch and mints were served by Joyce Kenworthy and Betty Armstrong, costumed as elves.

Guests included Miss Fernald J. French, Mrs. Louise S. Blomquist, G. Harrison Orians, Howard Basley, O. C. R. Stageberg, George Young, Kenneth McDowell, Herbert Wunderlich, Robert McBirney, George Yost, Clarence Sample, Harry Jones, Roy Freeman, Richard Jones, George Sherrill, Clive Adams, Dean Newhouse, Alton Cornelson, John Norman, John Gilise, Andrew Thomson, Loren Duncan, Ryle Lewis, Erich Richter, Mac Hardwick, Hal Bowen, Willard Lambdin, Dana White, Frank Wintzer, Ralph Simons, Edward Coon, Fred Kennedy, Eugene Logue, William Peterson, Howard Andrews, Walter Price, Harold Kirkin, Clair Kiloran, Robert St. Clair, Glenn Silverthorne, Ted Turner and Fisher Ellsworth.

PHI DELTAS HAVE FOUNDRERS DAY BANQUET

Members of the Idaho Chapter of Phi Delta Theta and alumni commemorated Founders' day with a banquet at the chapter house Sunday. A program of short talks and music was given by members of the chapter and alumni. A musical skit was presented by Maxine Morley and Edwin Siggitt. Following are the alumni who were guests of the chapter: Ted Turner, Fulton Gale, Whitman, G. P. Mix, W. L. "Pat" Stephens, John Hamilton and Frank Clinck.

D. G.'S HONOR FOUNDRERS SATURDAY

Nu chapter of Delta Gamma held its annual Founders' Day banquet at the Moscow hotel Saturday evening. Covers were laid for 50, including active members and several alumnae guests. The table was attractively decorated with sweet peas and tall green tapers. Alumnae included Mrs. John Howard, Camille McDaniel Swan, Margaret Martin Lyons, and the Misses Agnes Peterson, Louise Martin, Helen Stanton, Marjorie Brown, Mary Burke and Mary Willis.

Delta Gamma freshmen presented their annual play, a musical comedy entitled "Tavern Tales" at the Blue Bucket Saturday afternoon. Afterwards Delta Gamma was hostess at an informal tea for alumni, patronesses, mothers and other guests.

Forney hall dinner guests Sunday were Miss Jennie F. W. Johnson, Miss Isabel Clark, Miss Agnes Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Claus, Prof. and Mrs. David Nyvall, Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Kratt, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goff, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Martyn.

Miss Amy Churchill, Seattle, is the guest of Jane Haley at the Kappa Alpha Theta house. Miss Churchill is a student at the University of Washington and a member of Gamma Phi Beta. She will return to Seattle at the end of the week, which will also mark the close of spring vacation at Washington.

Guests of Pi Beta Phi Sunday were Catherine Marley, Olive Giffen, Alice Stamm, Margaret Fowler, Evelyn Sheehan, Viola Weldman and Virginia Grant.

Hays hall dinner guests Thursday were Lowell Mason, Frank Davidson, Leroy Long, Merritt Greeling, Jere Long, Norman Smith, Nell Jones, Harry Schuttler and James Hawkins.

Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta were Jane Maxwell, Lois Kennedy, Amy Churchill, Margaret Johnson, Betty McBirney, and Mrs. Floyd Landsdon.

DAVIDS'

WRESTLERS LOSE FIRST MATCH TO COUGARS 39-18

Two Idaho Men Win Decisions But Fail to Get Falls

POND WINS TWICE Boardman, 128 Pounds, Takes Fastest Bout of Exhibition

Unable to win a fall in any bout, although two men won decisions, the Idaho varsity wrestling team lost the first match of the season by a score of 39 to 18 to the Washington State college at Moscow Saturday afternoon. The Cougar mat men won three falls and two decisions and Idaho took three decisions. Five men represented each school. Each pair wrestled three rounds of seven minutes each for the best two out of three.

Pond Is Only Fresh

The lone Idaho representative in the freshman class, C. Pond, 138-pounder, won two decisions from N. Howland, W. S. C., after the first round was declared a draw with neither getting a fall. Points of this bout were not counted toward the Idaho total.

Boardman, Idaho, 128 pounds, mastered Kal Hall, his Cougar opponent in the first round of their bout. Boardman's aggressiveness and experience kept Hall continually at a defensive position. The bout was fast and full of action in contrast with the slow exhibition the two fresh put on in their first round. Boardman's next two bouts went to draws and the match was awarded to Boardman on the strength of his decision in the first. Both men worked well, putting up the most interesting exhibition of the afternoon.

Eastman Loses Decision

After six minutes of rather one-sided grappling, M. Sackett, W. S. C., won a fall from V. Eastman, Idaho, in the 138-pound class. Both Sackett and Eastman went to the mat at the start but the bout looked even until Sackett applied a body scissors and arm lock that put Eastman to the canvas. Cautionously coming back for the next two rounds, Eastman carried the offensive to Sackett with the result that the rounds were declared draws.

Two decisions were won easily by Gus Miller, Idaho captain and 148-pound representative, from R. Christenson, although he was outweighed several pounds. Miller kept his opponent struggling on the mat for four minutes of each round but was unable to apply a decisive hold.

In the 168-pound division, K. Driskell, W. S. C. veteran, had little difficulty in winning a fall and a decision from Paul Rudy, Idaho's representative. Driskell was on top from the start but Rudy held out gamely for four minutes before having his shoulders called to the mat. In the second round Driskell slipped up and allowed Rudy to keep his feet most of the time. The decision was awarded to W. S. C.

McCall Begins Gamely

After beginning the first bout with a rush that nearly put Harold Berridge to the canvas, Britt McCall weakened and lost to the W. S. C. veteran student coach by a fall and a decision. The fall came after six and one-half minutes of the first round had elapsed. In the second round, although on the mat most of the time, McCall kept out of dangerous holds and Berridge had to be satisfied with the decision. Berridge won the Pacific Northwest Amateur championship in the light-heavyweight division last spring.

Five Points were scored for a fall and six for a decision. R. M. Burns of Colfax, refereed all the bouts

DIVING FEATURES MEN'S SWIM MEET

Six Divisions for Aquatic Stars in Intramural Matches Next Week

With announcement today of a complete diving program for the forthcoming men's intramural swimming meet, plans are nearly complete for the annual event to be held Wednesday evening, March 28, at the Natatorium pool.

Horace Porter, student swimming instructor, Tuesday outlined a program for the diving division to include four required dives and two optional ones. The front jackknife, swim, back dive and back jackknife. Each dive will be rated according to the point system, 10 points to be given for the first place, and so on down the line. When all contestants have completed their dives, individual scores will be tallied and five points awarded to the winning man's group. Contestants from 15 group houses and halls have been working out individually for the past two weeks and this week several of the groups are working out together.

Horace Porter, William Guernsey and Stewart S. Beam, assistant football coach, will act as judges of the meet.

GEM OF THE MOUNTAINS

Activity cards may be obtained at ASUI office in 104 A. Building. These should be filled out as soon as possible and returned to the Gem desk. Students who ordered photographs transferred from last year's to this year's Gem of the Mountains and who have not paid the transfer fee should do so at once or their pictures will not appear in the annual. Students may subscribe for a Gem of the Mountains in the ASUI office up till Friday night of this week.

NATIONAL RIFLE MATCH TO START

Firing Begins Here this Week and Must Be Completely Tabulated By April 15

Firing in the National Rifle Match for which the men's rifle team received targets a few days ago will begin this week, according to coaches.

All firing for this match must be finished and the results tabulated by April 15. The Idaho team is among the six high point schools out of the 20 in the Nant Gorge Area, chosen to shoot the match. During the first week in April, the five men having highest individual scores for the year 1927-28 will fire in the William Randolph Hearst trophy match. The Idaho team was a close competitor for the trophy for the year 1926-27.

SEVEN TRUSSES ARE PLACED IN NEW GYM

Greatest Possible Speed Is Made During Good Weather

With all seven trusses in place and two completely riveted, favorable weather conditions are making speed possible for the steel construction work on the new memorial armory-gymnasium, according to W. W. Whitehead, foreman for the general contractor. Riveters are now working on the third truss, and the two completed beams have passed required tests, says A. T. Schenck, superintendent of construction on the building. Three days are required on each truss and it is probable that four will have completed and tested by the end of the present week.

Steel sashes for windows are now being placed, plastic cement being used to hold them in position. After being put into the forms, the sash is held in place and keeping moisture from leaking through the windows. Forms for the walls between the intermediate and third floors and now being raised and concrete will be run during the latter part of the week. A full crew is on the job at the present time.

Will Anyone Accept This Challenge?

Columbia, S. D. Sept. 9, 1926

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen: I am a veteran of the Edgeworth army, still in active service.

I make this claim, challenging all comers, to have smoked Edgeworth and nothing else but Edgeworth (when it was possible to get it) for a longer period than any other person within the scope of your territory. I have smoked Edgeworth for twenty-one years and will soon start on the twenty-second. I'll admit to having tried other brands, including so-called high-class, high-priced blends and mixtures, enough to appreciate and satisfy myself of the superiority of Edgeworth. In all these years I have never had one can of Edgeworth that varied in flavor or otherwise.

Yours very truly, (signed) J. J. Roberts

Idaho Debaters Meet Trio From Middlewest Here On March 26

Debating the question "Resolved: That the Power of the Press Has increased, is increasing and should be diminished," a University of Idaho forensics team will face a picked trio from Marquette university next Monday in the university auditorium. Not only does the debate provide the feature of the 1928 season for Idaho talkers, but it will give to the audience here presentation of arguments on the question that was won for Idaho in the 1928 Debaters' annual, the full text of the debate being given. Only six such debates were accorded space in 1928. Idaho will be represented by Farnsworth Jennings, George Huber and Ralph Peterson.

The Marquette debating trio in its northwestern trip is making its third transcontinental tour, accompanied by William R. Duffey, director of the school of speech and debate coach. The men making the trip are William P. Leonard, Herman F. Geske and Herbert J. Steffen. All three men have been extremely active in debate and extra-curricular activity and made the transcontinental tour together in 1927 also. Leonard and Steffen are law students.

The middlewesterners started their tour March 14 and will complete it about April 5, returning by the southern route through California. Details of the debate here next week will be announced the latter part of the present week.

ARGONAUT STORY BY KIRKHAM IS QUOTED

The Idaho Argonaut is quoted in a bulletin issued by the Department of the Interior on January 9, 1928. Virgil R. D. Kirkham, assistant professor of geology, is quoted in the abstract from the Argonaut story which was entitled "History of Phosphate Mining in Idaho." The bulletin, which came to Dean Thomson's office last week, is entitled "Phosphate Rock in the Three Forks-Yellowstone Park Region Montana." It is bulletin number 795 G.

ST. PATRICK VISITS SPUR BENEFIT TEA

A benefit bridge tea, carried out in the spirit of St. Patrick's day, was given Saturday afternoon at Hayes hall by the Idaho chapter of Spurs, sophomore women's honorary service organization. Twenty-two tables were in play during the afternoon. Delightful refreshments with the green of shamrock wafers and candies were served by girls wearing light dresses with shamrock decorated aprons and green headbands.

Harold Packer sang two numbers, "We Two" and "Gypsy Sweetheart" and piano music was played while the guests were served.

COEUR D'ALENE WINS AT STATE TOURNEY

Defeats Moscow Twice By Close Margins for Championship

Coeur d'Alene high school won the 1928 high school basketball championship of the state at Pocatello Saturday evening by defeating Moscow high 23 to 24 in the final game of the tournament. Teams were entered from eight districts of Idaho. Coeur d'Alene went through the tournament undefeated, winning from Twin Falls, Boise, Moscow (twice), Buhl and Pocatello.

Friday afternoon in the semifinals, Pocatello defeated Boise 25 to 19. Moscow defeated Ashton 23 to 14 and Coeur d'Alene won from Buhl 40 to 14. Moscow drew the bye and the right to meet the winner of the Coeur d'Alene-Pocatello game Saturday evening for the title. Coeur d'Alene put Pocatello out of the tournament Saturday afternoon 23 to 14 and then Moscow the second time by a one point margin.

Coeur d'Alene led at the end of the first quarter by six points but at the end of the third quarter the lead had changed in favor of the Moscow team by five points. With two minutes to go the score stood 22 to 21 in favor of Coeur d'Alene. Randall, Moscow center had been taken out on four personals just before the Coeur d'Alene rally began. In the last minute of play Moscow sank a field goal to take a one point lead but in the last 20 seconds Baxter, Coeur d'Alene, guard hooped the winning goal. Three Coeur d'Alene, one Moscow and one Pocatello men were picked for the all state team by officials of the tournament. The teams picked are as follows:

Blasting for excavation work

Diagram of loading a cut shot in a well

LESSON No. 9 FROM THE BLASTERS' HANDBOOK

WHEN the steam shovel suddenly strikes a stratum of heavy clay, hardpan, or shale, how can explosives be used to keep the yardage up to schedule? When the excavation is for a foundation how can you use explosives without weakening the support for the building? In blasting foundations through rock, how should dynamite be used to avoid cracking the rock beyond a certain line? How should bore holes be loaded, how placed?

These and a multitude of other questions that are not ordinarily treated in the average engineering text book, but will most certainly arise when you're in the field, are completely answered in the Blasters' Handbook. Each operation is carefully described and illustrated with diagrams and photographs. This book, now standard in many engineering classrooms, is a digest of field experiences covering a period of 125 years. There is no other book like it because no other men ever had so long and so diverse an experience to draw upon.

You can have a copy of the Blasters' Handbook by merely filling in this coupon. It costs you nothing.
