

EVERYTHING SET FOR JUNIOR WEEK AFTER VACATION

Prom Tickets Go on Sale; Complete Arrangements for All Events

ELABORATE AFFAIR Big Parade Planned for Thursday of Next Week; Cabaret Saturday

The time is drawing near for the really big social event of the entire college year, the Junior Prom. Prom is to be held in the Elks temple on Friday, the thirteenth of April but there is little chance of the date having a depressing effect on the dance. All arrangements have been made and the committee, under Jack Sheehan, has things arranged so that there will be little to do at the last minute.

Elaborate decorations are prepared and will be placed in position at the temple immediately after vacation. The program, which are now being different in Idaho will offer a pleasant surprise to all who attend the dance. They have been printed and are here now.

Tickets on Sale

The tickets have all been printed and are in the hands of the representatives who are to handle the sale of them. These have been appointed by Paul Rudy, who is chairman of the finance committee and will handle the sale of the Prom and Cabaret tickets. The following are in charge of the ticket sale: Darius Davis, Sigma Chi; Everett Lawrence, Beta Theta Pi; Harry Jones, Phi Delta Theta; Powell Hall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Patrick Walker, Kappa Sigma; Paul Rudy, Delta Chi; Ed Poulton, Phi Gamma Delta; Otto Eubanks, Sigma Nu; Allan Janssen, Beta Chi; Jerry Long, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Al Norell, Lambda Chi Alpha; John Harrison, Ridenbaugh hall; Paul Boyd, Lindley hall.

Tickets will be sold to upperclassmen only, upper class girls having the privilege of inviting their underclass friends. Girls wishing to buy tickets should see any of the above named men or Jack Sheehan. Paul Rudy announced that the Junior party on Thursday night would be financed in the same manner as the Junior mixers.

Reservations for the cabaret must be made at the Blue Bucket and they should be made as soon as possible after purchasing the tickets.

Only 125 tickets to the Cabaret will be sold this year. As quite a bit of interest is shown in the Prom, Juniors are urged to get their tickets as soon as possible. Outside entertainment has been contracted for and will offer something that has never been used before in the way of entertainment at a formal dance.

Cap Sale

Junior caps will soon be on sale and in order that every junior will enter into the spirit of the week it is hoped that each and every one will purchase one. The sale of the caps is under

BLUE KEY FAVORS GOLF LINKS IDEA

Endorses Proposition to Put in Course Near Campus for Students

The project, started last week by the ASU executive board, to establish a golf course near the campus for the students will receive the support of Blue Key, honorary upperclassman service fraternity, it was announced Monday following the regular luncheon of the group at the Blue Bucket Inn. No definite plan for securing the course has been announced, with the proposition being talked up among the students at the present.

The tentative plan of the executive board is to have a part of the university farm land, south of the dairy barns, donated to be made into a course. Land to replace this for the farm would be purchased farther from the campus. Support of all the students will be necessary before this project can be put through, said Frank W. Click, president of the ASU.

Discussion of plans for the handling of the state interscholastic track meet, which will be held on campus May 12, was held Monday. The track meet, itself is to be handled under the direction of George Horton, graduate manager, and several portions of the work will be turned over to Blue Key. It is probable that Blue Key will take charge of housing the high school athletes and the sale of tickets for the meet will be given by Mr. Horton at the next meeting of the fraternity. Committees will then be named from Blue Key to work with the graduate manager.

The possibility of having a formal dinner dance was taken up at Monday's meeting. No date was set, but it is probable that the fraternity will hold its annual dance the evening before campus day. This date, however, has not as yet been set by the executive board.

FORMER STUDENT TALKS

Lelgh Banbury, a former Idaho student, spoke before the eight and nine o'clock classes in marketing Wednesday morning. Mr. Banbury is college supervisor for the Real Silk Hosiery Co., and his work covers all universities in Oregon, Idaho and Washington.

HELEN TAYLOR AND GRACE JAIN UP FOR A. W. S. PRESIDENCY

Associated Women Students Nominate Officers Monday; Election April 19

FRESIDENTS TO COAST Mildred Perry to Give Paper on Town Organizations at Convention, April 17

Helen Taylor and Grace Jain, up for president of the Associated Women Students, head the list of nominees which were named by the nominating committee Monday afternoon. Election of officers will be held on Tuesday afternoon, April 19, in room 104, Administration building.

The organization which includes all undergraduate women students registered in the university, sponsors the Big Sister movement, the Co-Ed Argonaut, the Women's Student Loan fund and occasionally brings outside speakers to the campus. A business meeting is held once a month. This year the Big Sister movement was carried off with a marked degree of success. Miss Maud A. Miner, reader and entertainer from Chicago, was brought to the campus by the Associated Women students.

Retiring President

Miss Mildred Perry, retiring president of the Associated Women, will accompany the newly elected president to the convention for presidents of Northwestern Associated Women students, which will be held in Seattle April 17. During the convention Miss Perry will give a paper on town organizations, using as an example the Delta Theta Gamma women's town organization in Moscow.

The following nominations for officers were made Monday afternoon: President—Helen Taylor, Grace Jain.

Vice President—Edith Sanborn, Louise Lamelle.

Secretary—Miriam Burton, Laura Clark.

Treasurer—Ruth Newhouse, Lucille Glandemann.

Correspondent to Women's exchange—Alice Kelly, Ruth Story.

Yell queen—Ethel Lafayette, Dorothy Fredericks.

RIFLE AWARD PLAN GOES BEFORE BOARD

Proposed Amendment Would Recognize Rifle Team Work

A proposed amendment recognizing rifle team work as an official ASU activity will be presented to the executive board at its regular meeting tonight, according to Lieut. Chas. H. Hart, coach.

The plan was first brought before the board about a month ago, and originally stated that the majority of students seem to think the award will be on the same basis as a minor sport letter, said Lieutenant Hart.

Recognition of rifle team work only is desired in the plan, that will not in any way rank on an equal basis with minor sports, according to the sponsors of the idea. Sweater awards of a different color and perhaps of a different style than athletic sweaters, similar to the "Big E" band sweaters, being the small "E" with superimposed crossed rifles, would probably be the award. A blue gray color similar to that of the West Point uniforms has been suggested by Lieutenant Hart.

Advocates of the idea point out that six schools in the Ninth Corps Area recognize rifle team work as a minor sport, and several others recognize it in some manner. Washington State college students are voting this week on a plan recognizing the activity as an official one.

All students in the university would be eligible to compete for the awards, not just those registered in military courses, said Lieutenant Hart. He pointed out that the government annually spends several hundred dollars on Idaho equipment and ammunition for the rifle teams. If the proposed plan is adopted, the ASU would be out only the cost of the awards, and in all probability a plan could be arranged where only a part of that expense would be divided, he said.

ALUMNI OF S. A. E. FORM ASSOCIATION

First Organization of Alumni in Idaho; Plan Monthly Meetings and Expansion Over State

Alumni members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity, living in and near Moscow, following a joint meeting with seniors of the Idaho chapter, announced formation of the first alumni association of the fraternity in Idaho. The meeting was held at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Plans were further made for formation of similar associations in other Idaho towns. Regular meetings will be held here on the third Fridays of each month.

Louis Cady was chosen to head the new organization here with John Rensburg, secretary. Other members present aside from the seniors, were Dr. J. E. Wodessatek, E. M. Young, J. I. Reardon, A. M. Sowder, Bert Bowley, Leo Gregory, Roy Thompson and Harold Hanson.

A FAREWELL TO IDAHO

IDAHO'S Pep band will appear for the last time under the direction of Prof. David Nyvall, Jr. in the annual concert at the auditorium tonight. This is Mr. Nyvall's farewell to the students of Idaho, among whom he has made many lasting friendships during his four years here.

Pep band shows of the past and other musical productions of Mr. Nyvall will be dug up out of history and paraded before the students again in the auditorium tonight. Scenes from "The Tea Hawks", comedy produced two years ago, will be seen again tonight; song hits from other shows are to be brought back again.

Several of the musical numbers composed by Mr. Nyvall, which lent much to the spectacular historical pageant of Idaho, "The Light on the Mountains", presented last spring, are to be one of the features. In fact the entire program will show a resume of Mr. Nyvall's four years spent on the Idaho campus.

A Pep band that has become famous over the Pacific coast, is one of the accomplishments of Mr. Nyvall. When he took over the directing of the band he produced an organization which has been gaining in popularity each year.

After four years here, Mr. Nyvall is leaving for Chicago where he will take up teaching and playing. His resignation, however, is not affective until the close of school this spring.

Idaho has won a lasting friend in Professor Nyvall and it is fitting and proper that Idaho students show their appreciation for his work by packing the auditorium tonight!

FLUNKING AS YOU GO

STUDENTS at the University of Washington haven't been doing so good scholastically since the new administration came into control. In fact about 1100 have been dropped from the institution since last fall because they were not keeping their grades up to the requirements of the university.

When school opened at Seattle last week, starting the third quarter, between 600 and 700 students who had failed to make the grade were dropped from the rolls. At the end of the second quarter between 600 and 600 were dropped. The total enrollment of Washington at first was approximately 7000 and the ratio of flunks is about one in every seven.

The tightening down process was started after President Spencer was inaugurated last fall. He evidently felt that the scholastic standards of the institution were too low and issued orders to flunk everyone who failed to come up to the standard, including athletes and student body presidents. President Kelly's doctrine is: "Education only for those who deserve it." It is a stern rule, but this is a stern age of competition. A lot of the state's money was wasted on the eleven hundred odd students who have flunked out.

With the coming change in administration here, it is something of a speculative question as to whether or not scholastic standards will be raised. In fact we might say that the coming change is already having its effect, at least there is plenty of talk among the students as to the tightening down by the professors and instructors. President Kelly will undoubtedly instigate several changes here, following the more modern trend of universities.

COLLEGE AS AN ESCAPE

DESPITE all the vain rationalizing on the subject, most young men come to college, not primarily to prepare themselves for spheres of higher usefulness, but to escape from home. In the Middle Ages, when universities were less common than they now are, the young men used to escape from home by going on Crusades. A little later they escaped by going on colonizing expeditions. In the nineteenth century, when colleges were still more or less remote from the boy of less than moderate means, the great, wild West afforded an alluring relief from the dullness of domesticity.

But now the universities have unwittingly taken over the great part of the responsibility of liberating the nation's youth from maternal apron strings. College affords many a youth his first real freedom from parental vigilance. As a result, one of a normal fellow's first impulses, as soon as he has become fairly established in his Alma Mater, is systematically to commit all those things which he had been unable to do at home.—The Cardinal, Wesleyan University.

FESTIVAL PLEASES LARGE AUDIENCE

"Taps and Terschore" Presented to Capacity Crowd Thursday Evening at Auditorium

An auditorium crowded to capacity greeted the presentation of the dance festival, "Taps and Terschore" presented by the Woman's Athletic Association Thursday evening. The program opened with an Overture by the Pop Band. Miss Jennie Johnson sang several solos before the program of four dance groups was opened. The lighting and stage effects were beautiful and the costumes were unusually attractive.

Miss Johnson sang the verse, "Pussy's in the Well," on the chorus. The curtains parted to show Johnny Green looking in the well. Johnny Stout pulled Pussy from the well which broke up into girls who danced about shaming Johnny Green and who carried Johnny Stout off in triumph.

The "Wounded Warrior" arranged by Lucille March was extremely well interpreted by Eva Litzemberger. "Rumor" which was suggested by Lucille March and arranged by Miss L. J. Wirt added an unusual note that was pleasing. The second division of the program was devoted to folk dances concluding with group of American patriotic airs. Eva Anderson delighted her audience with her portrayal of the busy Newsboy and Lillian Woodworth was a most natural kitty in the "Pussy Cat" number. Dorothy Taylor gave a clever representation of the "Waltzing Doll" with Claude Anderson assisting.

The last group was devoted to scenes down "In the Bottom" and included amusing and colorful negro jigs and clogs. The group of Negro Spirituals and Love Songs, by the university male quartette, which introduced these dances called for several encores. Pauline Baker played several violin selections, accompanied by Josephine Harland.

Moscow, Idaho, April 1—Alpha Tau Omega, Idaho Greek Letter organization, after eight years of active petitioning, today received a national charter of Beta Sigma, well known and influential social fraternity. The boys are already moving into their new home on Elm street between the Fiji and Kappa Kappa Gamma houses. A housewarming and formal reception is set for July 4-5. The A. T. O.'s are to be congratulated on their recognition by Beta Sigma. Scholarship, activities and financial standing played an important part in securing the honor of national recognition.

PROPOSED BIRD MEMORIAL

nothing brightens up a garden more than a nice white cement bird bath, where Robin Redbreast and his comrades may stop in the heat of the day to "freshen up" a bit before dinner. Now the new Alki Memorial Bird Plunge, recently designed by Rodger W. Fresh, is a pleasing departure from the old-fashioned, unsanitary baths that used to crowd our feathered friends into stuffy and overheated locker rooms. These antiquated bird trays are now a thing of the past. The bird, as he enters the Alki Plunge, is required to pass under a shower bath equipped with two kinds of water, hot and cold, after which he is free to exercise at will on the floor or in the plunge. As he comes out of The Plunge an attendant hands him a warm towel marked, "Hotel Moscow" and a sanitary Ace comb and brush may be procured from the office at a slight cost. It is argued by its inventor that the Alki bird plunge is a great improvement over the old type of matatorium, as it is healthier and cleaner and more convenient—for one thing it does away with the congestion that marked the crowded days of the past, even on Saturdays and Sundays it is unnecessary for the birds to stand in line waiting for their turn, sneezing and coughing in their flimsy dressing gowns.

is assumed, will not disturb the present arrangement of the executive division of the university but will be merely the addition of an assistant campus administrator. His duties will consist principally of studying academic matters which hitherto have kept the president from participating as largely as it was felt he should in other duties of executive. His appointment also will provide for a personal representative of the president on the campus at all times to handle those problems during the president's absences or while at the southern branch at Pocatello.

Prominent for Studies Dr. Kelly is nationally prominent for his educational surveys. Two weeks ago he delivered a series of lectures at Oregon Agricultural college on college administrative problems, and his surveys in recent years have taken him into every section of the country. His work largely has been done for the National Educational association and for the Commonwealth Fund of New York.

LIVING COST KEPT LOW AT COTTAGE

Senior Home Economics Girls Maintain 48 Cents a Day Average

Four persons lived for a month on an average of 48 cents a day at home economics practice cottage recently. Three girls and Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the department, carried on the experiment.

"Without trying to minimize the cost too much a practice group maintained an average of 65 cents a day. February was not limited in its expenditures. The girls were told, however, to use as many foods as possible that should be used on a moderate level of income. Their menus were qualitatively correct. They used foods which should make up and adequate diet.

Five Live Cheaply

A family of five can live more economically than a family of two or three. Whenever five or six girls are in the cottage at a time, the living is always low. Less waste of food and greater ease in marketing for this number make a family less expensive.

Entertaining at home, the average person erroneously believes, costs very little. Miss Jensen pointed out: Entertaining to any extent sends the expenditure ascending by enormous bounds. Even a single guest for one meal at home increases the minimum average a day.

Management, above all things, is organized work is what the practitioners strive for. Pieces of work scheduled, can be done in just half the time after the first week. If its found. On solo days each girl does all of the household work, cooking, marketing, serving by herself.

The cottage, to which every senior in the department must go, is entirely self-supporting. The university provides the cottage but all expenses during the year are met by the persons living in it. The expenditures for food, light, water and fuel are tallied at the end of the month and divided among the persons.

IDAHO GIRL GETS APPOINTMENT

Ruth Montgomery, who graduated in 1926 and who was prominent in campus activities has been made personal secretary of the director of University at Columbus. Miss Montgomery was a member of Motor Board, and at one time president of the Women's League. She is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Re-discovers His Favorite Tobacco

Charleston, W. Va., March 4, 1927

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen:

Recently I stopped in a little village that consisted of about nine houses and a small hotel, which I entered.

A little old man wearing a skull cap was seated in a rocking-chair smoking an enormous pipe. I had come to buy a can of Edgeworth, but when I caught a whiff of the tobacco he was smoking I changed my mind.

I began with: "I beg your pardon, sir, but I came in to buy a can of tobacco, and I would like the same brand you are smoking if you don't mind telling me." He looked at me for a moment, grasped his pipe with one hand and said: "I'm smoking Edgeworth. Would you like some?"

Of course I did, and I secured a supply from the old fellow. The joke, of course, was on me, but I went on my way rejoicing.

Yours very truly, Dr. John R. Koch

THE twist of the wrist, the "throw" of the arm, the shifting of the weight—these are among the many little points which make the skill that you admire in the javelin thrower as he hurls the shaft two hundred feet or more.

As on the track or the football field, in the gymnasium or on the water, so in industry progress is the result of fine improvements—a thousandth of an inch here—a minute variation in a curve there—slight changes foreseen by engineers and carried out by skilled workmen.

JCPENNEY Co. It Is Really Stylish to Be Thrifty Gone are the days when women boasted to each other about how much they paid for their clothes and hats. It is just as old-fashioned now to be wastefully extravagant, as to wear ankle length skirts, pompadours and willow plumes. The really smart woman of today prides herself on being a shrewd judge of values and it is getting to be common knowledge among them that our policy of buying for 954 stores has brought down the cost of really good merchandise. Women tell each other over bridge tables that it isn't really necessary to pay an exorbitant price any longer for "nice things." "Quality—always at a saving" can be found in the nearest Penney Store. Clothes, manners and standards of living—all are rapidly being simplified by the application of large doses of old fashioned common sense. Not "how much did I spend" but "how little" is the modern trend. It is getting stylish to be thrifty. J. Penney Co.

FRONT TIPS

STARTED IN PLAY

'The Butter and Egg Man' Has Three Distinct Show Women

Three types of show girl will appear in "The Butter and Egg Man," ASUI play, to be presented April 13 and 20. Alone Honeywell, Ethel Laferty and Miriam Howerton have been cast for the theatrical roles.

As Honeywell, wife of the crooked producer with whom the innocent "butter and egg man" has entered into partnership, Miss Honeywell will again appear as a "hard-boiled" woman of a slightly different type than that in "Not Herbert," Fanny is a woman in the late thirties who has spent years touring the "South Bends and Wichitas" as a juggler. Fanny, the World's Greatest Juggler, she has been advertised, but according to her husband, "There ain't no juggles between here and California," she got into it from their club of years. They wouldn't let nobody sit in the first five rows. However, Fanny had gained an insolent assurance and an enormous polo; she is hard as nails, but has a warm heart. She is a red-head with a corresponding disposition.

Lafferty Passes Actress

Ethel Lafferty will make her first appearance in a three-act play, having been assigned the character of Mary, Martha, the familiar type of slightly pensive actress. She has in other words seen better days and lots of them. Her original role was in "The Two Orphans." She plays the overemotional, sentimental actress, who is, withal, hard-boiled. In contrast to Fanny, she is a peroxide blonde.

Howerton Is Slinky Vamp

A sleek and slinky vamp is Peggy Marlowe, who will be characterized by Miriam Howerton, also making her first appearance in a longer play. She is "ever so good-looking" and her connection with the theatrical world is only intermittent. She is not unknown to the choruses of Broadway, it being her custom to appear for about a month in one of the most prominent musical comedies of the town—and then to desert promptly for Florida. She is the decorative gold-digger, the only disinterested figure at the post-mortem at Syracuse after the play.

Sidelights on Other Campuses

Edited by HELEN KERR

Coincident with the removal from office of Sid Patzer, editor of Columns magazine, comes the resignation by request of the editor of the Purple Parrot, humorist publication of Northwestern university, and the question about the yellow sheet just put out by the Colorado Age. In each case the trouble over material that is termed, "vulgar and objectionable." Colleges seem to have trouble with humorous and special issues of their magazines.

Why can't collegians have nice clean sweet jokes, like, oh—those in College Humor? The trouble with the humor magazines, and indeed the main things in college that are out of smooth running order, is that the modern eds and co-eds are making a last effort to live up to what the movie collegians do and think and laugh at.

In other words, if you want to hold an office for three weeks or a month, just become editor of a college humor magazine.

Over half of the Harvard undergraduates believe that companionate marriage would be a menace to marital happiness. Just wait until they get to be seniors and have had a few more blind dates, and they will be in favor, not only of companionate marriage but of the "Have a Home by Correspondence" system.

Eating is the students worst vice so far as his health is concerned, according to the university physician at Ohio Wesleyan. But really, one comes to college to cultivate one's "taste"—and how could one appreciate music if the student didn't eat such a lot of food, so much of the time, and with so great a noise.

A ban on all dancing has been issued at the University of Kansas. The younger generation, if it can not be prevented from going to the dogs should at least, save its "dogs". Once more we see where co-eds at Indiana University in 1899 were not allowed to ride in a horse and buggy beyond the city limits. The rule could not have been reprinted in more college papers if it had been issued in 1927. After the first 50 times it gets tiresome. Everyone knows that now-a-days not even Paul Revere could go for a ride.

And now, gentle readers, we will throw away our gum, and end this column.
