GROUPS DRAW FOR HIGH SCHOOL MEN

Blue Key Handles Housing of Athletes Here for State Meet

Representatives from the 12 fraternities on the campus met last night at the Beta Theta Pi house and drew lots of names of the state high school track meet athletes they will entertain over the week end.

As far as possible, athletes from the same towns were assigned to one house. The Twin Falls group being the largest, was divided. Members of the Blue Key housing committee are: Hugh Feltis, chairman, Cecil Hagen and Phil Cox.

Entry lists received contained last names only, in many cases poorly written, and evidently not checked for spelling. It was impossible to check them, the committee found. Following is as complete a list of names drawn by houses, as given in the entry blanks:

ENGINEERS' DAY BEST IN HISTORY

Program Here Friday Goes Off Smoothly; Spokane Men Visit

Smoothness and clocklike precision were the outstanding characteristics of the third biennial Engineers' Day, Friday. The 1928 program was of such calibre that it will go down in Idaho annals as one of the best if not the best of its kind in the history of the institution, faculty members and students have agreed.

From the opening luncheon at the Elks' Temple Friday noon at which more than 50 Spokane engineers and their wives and a number of students and faculty members from Washington State college, were honor guests, to the final demonstrations in the various exhibition rooms on the campus late Friday evening, the day was one of constant action and orderly exhibits. There was something doing all the time!

J. O. Poehll, chief mechanical engineer for the Washington Water Power company and president of the Associated Engineers of Spokane, was the principal speaker at the noon luncheon. He expressed his appreciation on behalf of the Spokane visitors to be with the Idaho men and responded to the welcome of the Idaho officers. L. K. Armstrong, Spokane mining engineer, also gave a short talk.

Deans Ivan C. Crawford, Francis A. Thomson and F. G. Miller gave short talks, representing the engineering, mining and forestry schools.

Gus Bjork, president of national Engineers' Day, presided. Music was furnished by Sigma Nu orchestra and a piano-saxophone duet was given by Willard Lamdin and Sam Hutchings. Ralph Hagan gave a short talk black-face monologue and several trumpet trio numbers were played by Dale Goss, Harry Waldeen and Arthur Kryger.

Between 2:15 and 3:00 the visitors attended three sectional meetings of the student chapters of national honor societies of civil and electrical engineers and mining engineering, immediately following they made a tour of the various exhibits on the campus and between 4:30 and 5 o'clock they drove to Lewiston where they were dinner guests of Lewiston Engineers at the Lewis and Clark hotel.

Wednesday morning the engineers teed off on their program, a special assembly, in which chemical and electrical stunts, coupled with comic sketches, were presented. Choral pranks and a demonstration of the Tesla coil were among the outstanding technical features.

Those taking part in the program were Ralph Hagan, Fred Lindberg, Harry Waldeen, Charles Gregory, Dale Goss, Arthur Kryger, Willard Lamdin, Gus Bjork, Orland Maxer, Dean Larsen and Leland Chapman. Mac Hardwick presided.

Eugene Beebe was general chairman of the day and was assisted by committees from every engineering department.

SOPHOMORES PLAN AN UNUSUAL FROLIC

Second Year Class Makes Final Plans For Party May 11 at Elks' Temple; Novel Entertainment

Unusual programs that are to be used for the annual Sophomore Frolic at the Elks' temple, Friday evening, May 11 are to be distributed among members of the sophomore class as soon as they arrive, according to the committee in charge.

The frolic is to be an informal dance to which sophomores only are invited but sophomores having dates with members of other classes will be allowed to attend.

IDAHO W.S.C. TRACK MEET FRIDAY WILL BE CLOSE CONTEST

Vandal (Sophomores) Will Bear Brunt of Dual Meet Here

W. S. C. GIVEN EDGE

Cougars Have Idaho Weight Men Beated; O'Brien Is Out

To make up 39 points lost through graduation since the last dual meet with Washington State college is the program confronting Coach William C. Bryan, coach of the 1928 Vandal under men as the two rival squads go through their final workouts in preparation for Friday's dual meet on MacLean field.

Last year Idaho was nose out one point, 65-66, by the Cougar athletes at the Pullman field. Fickett, Matthews, Cook, Thompson, Hutchinson and Pagonas, who scored nearly 48 points between them are no longer on the Idaho squad and it remains for the less experienced men to run W. S. C. a close race this spring.

W. S. C. Has Advantage Using the recent triangular meet at Spokane as a basis of comparison the state college team has a slight advantage. The Cougars easily won the meet with 92 1/2 points while Idaho took second by scoring 53 1/2.

Idaho showed strength in every event except the mile and the additional two weeks practice should place the Vandal within the limits of a possible victory Friday afternoon.

Don Cleaver, captain of the team will run both the mile and two mile according to present plans. Cleaver jogged into an easy victory in the two mile at Spokane but did not enter in the mile. The Idaho distance stay holds the coast record for the two mile and established a new university record for the mile last season.

Against Cleaver W. S. C. will probably enter Taylor and Edman. In the mile and Edman and Taylor in the two mile. Taylor's best time for the mile is 4:34 which is three seconds slower than the record hung up by Cleaver.

WRITING CONTESTS ANNOUNCED HERE

Dr. G. M. Miller Tells of Prizes for Dramas and Poetry

Two contests for poems and dramas, one of which is for $1000, were announced Monday by Dr. George Morley Miller, head of the English department, for two national concerns.

The $1000 prize contest is being sponsored by the Graham-Paige Legion, an organization of men in the Graham-Paige Motors corporation. The contest is open to all university students and the material submitted is to be in the form of a dramatization of the Iliad or Odyssey. An additional prize of $100 will be awarded for the 10 next best manuscripts. The material may be in the form of a play, pageant, pantomime or masque.

The other contest is being sponsored by "The Writer", an author's monthly, and is styled as a "Cherry Stone" contest. This material offered may be prose or poetry. The contest will be carried on during the month of June. July and August. $25 will be awarded the author of the prize winning contribution for each month and an additional prize of $50 will be awarded the one that wins during the entire contest.

CHICKS ARE USED IN EXPERIMENT

An experiment of raising Chinese pheasant chicks to maturity entirely by mechanical means is being conducted by Professor Lammman of the poultry department. The Moscow chapter of the Isaak Walton club, which is financing the experiment, plans to distribute the grown chicks in the country around Moscow.

The difficulty of raising these pheasants in a brooder beyond the age of five weeks due to three things, poultry men say. They do not know instinctively how to eat without having been put under the care of a hen. They are so delicately constituted that it is difficult to keep them well; and it is hard to find a suitable ration for them.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK

ATHLETES from various sections of the state are to be guests of the university this week end, coming here to compete in the annual state interscholastic track meet.

During this year about 400 high school students have visited the campus altogether, with the bunch coming Friday to be the last for this year. With these prospects on the campus, it affords a good opportunity to sell them the idea of attending Idaho next fall.

These men will be our guests, practically all of them to be housed in fraternity houses, and it is our duty to put ourselves out a little to see that they are properly entertained all the time.

Tickets for the meet are being sold on the campus now and each student is expected to purchase one. Money taken in from the ticket sale is to be used in helping pay the expenses of the teams in coming here.

JABBERWOCKY

VICTORIAN England saw Charles Lutwidge Dodgson as a promising young mathematician lecturer at Oxford with his treatises attracting attention in academic circles.

Recently the press reported the sale of "Alice in Wonderland" in the original manuscript for more than fifteen thousand pounds. A first edition brought five hundred pounds.

The work was written on a hot summer afternoon in 1862 to amuse a couple of little girls. Today in Harvard it is used, along with "just so stories" to illustrate philosophy lectures.

CASH ART

AN English poet ranked as one of the finest from a literary standpoint, recently remarked that he would have to go back to his old trade of selling automobiles, for his last book had sold only 200 copies in all England.

These two facts indicate again the increasing difficulty of finding a publisher for good books, and the journalistic nature of almost the entire body of contemporary literature.

also that he knew six publishers. Three years ago there would have been little difficulty in finding a publisher. Now it was virtually impossible, for even the English publishers had finally succumbed to the lure of large profits and were not interested in "art for art's sake".

All this leads one to wonder what of any literary value this generation will leave to futurity. It is fast becoming absurd to look for a modern masterpiece, and any book which does survive for a number of years is likely to result from an involuntary miracle rather than true appreciation of its worth.

Even critics are given to customary praise, and are swayed by the advertising revenue. Surely it is a pessimistic view which intelligent people take of contemporary writing, and yet it seems the only view to be taken.—Minnesota Daily.

STAFF VACANCIES

Several vacancies on the editorial staff of The Argonaut will be filled before next fall, thus leaving opening for new reporters. Students interested in journalism, who are willing to work, and who have been on the campus, will be given a chance during the remainder of the year.

DANDELIONS

"Good day to you", the dandelion Spake as way of greeting, "We're here upon the campus green, Just to hold a meeting. It's one of these long combine things, We gather one and all, And then do nothing else but sit, But we'll adjourn next fall. We're just as green as Freshmen are, But we're as loyal, too; We can't be killed or driven out, Until our term is over. Thus roared the dandelion, As it nodded in the sun, And bowed, quite democratic, At the feet of everyone. —Patsy Calhoun.

Sheriff 20 Years; Says Life Is Quiet as Pool Caretaker

Grant Robbins, who for over 20 years was sheriff of this county, finds his present job, that of caretaker at the University swimming tank, somewhat quiet. "Of course, it isn't as exciting or interesting as my old job," he said, "but again, it isn't so strenuous and I'm getting along in years."

Although past his seventieth year, Grant, as he is called by everyone, is still a large, well-shaped man. He is invariably smoking a pipe which he seldom removes from his mouth, even when talking.

"My biggest job is deciding which are university students and which are outsiders. On account of the smallness of the plunge we can only allow students to swim here, and it's surprising the number of people who come in with A.S.U.I. tickets who are either too young or too old to be in college. I always let them in though, if they don't come too fast."

"Just the other day three boys who didn't look like they belonged here, handed me tickets. They seemed surprised when I wouldn't let them in till I told them that I happened to know two of the boys whose names were on the tickets. When they told me they were from Pullman and had bumbled their way over just to swim, I let them in."

"There has been only one theft in the three years I've been here, and that was a watch taken from a locker. If they turn their valuables in at the office they are usually pretty safe. Most days I have from $350 to $500 worth of stuff in my care. Oh, that particular case? Well, we got the watch back, and it wasn't a student who had taken it, but a lad working on the section, who had got in here some way."

QUERY TO NOMADS

Why do you wander, you restless ones? Seek you the glamor of unknown suns? Seek you for wisdom past sunsets blend? Seek you for the gold at the rainbows end? Cherish you visions of fortunes grand? Seek you a home in a fairer land? Seek you the love of a fairer smile? Won't you be satisfied after a while? Seek you for peace or the pain of war? When do you know when you want no more? When do you know when you've found those suns? Thus do we question you, restless ones.

ANSWER OF THE NOMADS

Something calls us, may we wish to stay, Beckons, coaxes us, lures us away To search for something beyond the hill; —A myst'ry waiting over the hill, What greater thing in life's merry race, Greater than love of a fairer face? Is joy in smiles of a truer friend? This is the gold at our rainbows end. We do not care if there's peace or war, And there's no time when we search no more. We never do find those unknown suns. Thus do we answer, we restless ones. —Patsy Calhoun.

PAGEANT TO SHOW SEASONS' CHANGE

Campus Day Fete Calls Upon Greek Mythology For Theme

The May Day Pageant to be presented on Campus day, May 16, by the women's physical education classes will be based on the old Greek myth of the changes of the seasons.

According to mythology, Winter was first caused by the curse which Demeter, the goddess of Agriculture and Fertility, pronounced upon the earth when her daughter Persephone was stolen by Hades, the god of the Underworld.

One day Demeter, Persephone, and their attending Grecian maidens were wandering over the fair fields of Etna in Sicily. Persephone immediately became engrossed in picking flowers while the maidens danced for joy in the beauty of the day. As they were dancing, however, Hades drove up in his dark chariot and carried Persephone away to become his bride. Demeter saw them disappearing too late to pursue them, and the maidens in vain invoked the great god, Zeus, for her return.

In despair and grief they tried to comfort Demeter, but she mournfully wandered over the earth searching for her beloved daughter and refusing to eat or drink. Finally, at the beginning of the tenth day, Gates of Dawn were opened, and Dawn ushered forth Helios, the Sun god. Helios regretfully informed the mourning mother that Zeus had given Persephone to Hades for his wife. Thereupon Demeter, in anger pronounced the curse of Winter winds and snow, drought and famine on the land so long as her daughter was kept from her.

TURNER TO BE DEAN OF BOYS' SCHOOL

Takes Over Duties September 1; John Vesser Is Director of Athletics

Two Idaho graduates, Ted Turner, '25, and John Vesser, '24, have accepted positions at the Moran School for Boys at Seattle and Atascadero, Calif. It was announced Monday. Mr. Turner will become dean of activities with Vesser to be director of athletics.

After next year, when he serves as dean of activities, Mr. Turner will become principal of the school at Seattle, which is located on Bainbridge Island about eight miles out in the Sound. Up to this year the school on Bainbridge Island was the only one maintained. A project has been started by Frank G. Moran, head master and owner of the school, to establish a branch at Atascadero, which is located between San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Present plans call for school to be started at Atascadero September 1, where Mr. Turner will take over his duties at the school. After half the term in California the students will be moved to the Seattle branch for the remainder of the year. The following year the Atascadero branch will be made into a separate school, and Mr. Turner will assume his duties as principal at Seattle.

Large Campuses The grounds at Atascadero, turned over to Mr. Moran recently, includes 250 acres of land a short distance inland and 10 acres on the sea coast. A nine-hole golf course, stables, athletic field and other equipment are located on the campus.

Mr. Turner is to report at Seattle July 1. He will probably spend the summer months in touring the western part of the United States and interviewing prospective students. The institution, in very exclusive, Mr. Turner said, being limited to 100 boys between the ages of 12 and 17 years. Mr. Vesser will act as director of athletics at both schools during next year, he said. After that he will probably be placed at one or other of the schools.

Many Applications Applications from all over the country were made for the position of principal of the Seattle branch, and Mr. Turner was selected following a thorough investigation conducted by Mr. Moran. Both Mr. Turner and Mr. Vesser met with Mr. Moran at Spokane about three weeks ago, when they definitely accepted the positions. Mr. Turner has served as assistant professor at the university this year and has represented the university for three summers in interviewing prospective students. Mr. Vesser received a degree in education and has been working on his masters degree this year.

Now all you gay fellows that hall from the city, Just clamp down your fly-traps and hark to my ditty; It's a song of he-men, black-bearded and gritty; Trail builders! The trained eye surveys the trail in a flash, Then the government blaze of a dot and a dash Is marked on the trees with a hack Trail builders!

Will Anyone Accept This Challenge?

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: I am a veteran of the Edgeworth army, still in active service. I make this claim, challenging all comers, to have smoked Edgeworth and nothing else but Edgeworth (when it was possible to get it) for a longer period than any other person within the scope of your territory. I have smoked Edgeworth for twenty-one years and will soon start on the twenty-second. I'll admit to having tried other brands, including so-called high class, high-priced blends and mixtures, enough to appreciate and satisfy myself of the superiority of Edgeworth. In all these years I have never had one can of Edgeworth that varied in flavor or otherwise. Yours very truly, (signed) J. J. Roberts

Choice of Explosives for Ore Mining

BLASTERS' HANDBOOK

IN ore mining, the selection and use of explosives becomes nothing less than a fine art. Every formation of ore and rock requires a different explosive. Drilling and loading methods must be correctly performed to ensure satisfactory results. For instance, what explosive would you use where moisture is present in excessive quantities, which explosive to produce the least obnoxious fumes, which dynamite to use below or above ground, which kind for soft or for hard rock? How can you choose explosives to reduce the hazard of igniting gas and dust mixtures? Some day you'll need this information. You may need to know the answer immediately. Textbooks—even the best—do not contain this vitally important data. During the last 125 years Du Pont has been making and testing explosives for every type of blasting operations. These tests have been applied to all industries where explosives were essential. This coupon will bring you a copy of the Blasters' Handbook without any cost. It's a reference book for explosives' users. Some of the largest engineering colleges use the Blasters' Handbook in their engineering classes. You need it today and you'll need it even more when you're out in the field.

Thermometer Goes to Season's High Here Sunday; 52 Minimum

Sunday was the warmest day Moscow has seen this year, the mercury climbing to 77 degrees shortly after noon and it failed to go below 52 degrees during the night.

Sunday's high was 13 degrees above the normal for the day. It is one of the warmest temperatures ever recorded here for the first week in the fifth month. At Lewiston, a record was set for the season.

Temperatures Sunday were quite a variance with temperatures a year ago. May 6, 1927, found heavy night frosts prevailing, the temperature going to 8 degrees for the minimum, and only 59 degrees for the maximum.

YEARLINGS LOSE TO COUGAR HITTERS

Babes Take 3-0 Defeat in Nip-and-tuck Game Friday

Vandal freshmen dropped a hard game to the Washington State frosh at Pullman Friday, 3-0. The Vandal Babes played "heads-up" ball for seven innings, the score being at the end of the seventh, 3-0.

Grimm, Idaho pitcher, however, tired and had to be taken out. Six runs were scored in the last two innings of the combined affairs of Grimm, Wilson and Vaychick. Vaychick coming in from the outfield to throw the last innings.

Four Pitchers

Lefty Wilson started the game and settled down after two runs had scored on him. Grimm replaced him at the beginning of the third and pitched good ball for five innings. He was touched for three runs. At the beginning of the sixth he was replaced by Vaychick who in turn was replaced by Grimm. None of the pitchers were in condition to go the full route. Lack of hitting practice was evident and much time this week will be spent in drilling on this phase.

W. S. C. scored first and Idaho tied the count in the fourth and fifth innings. At the sixth the Cougars failed and took a lead that never last. Jones hit for the circuit with two on base in the eighth. He was their leading hitter, getting three in five.

Doyle Hits Well

Doyle led the hitters for Idaho with two crashes. Richardson at third base had a good day, getting one of the six hits, and four assists. Mat Egan looked particularly good behind the bat, and although he didn't contribute heavily with the stick, he played a long game in the backstop position.

With two weeks before the next game, the yearlings should get in valuable practice. Every night they play a short game with the varsity nine. The club is well fortified in every position, except the outfield and some of the surplus infielders will be converted. The pitching staff is well rounded with three right-handers and one southpaw. Jacoby, Grimm and Vaychick throw from the orthodox side, while Wilson is a southpaw.

IDAHO TAKES A SECOND AT MEET

Don Cleaver Close Second in Medley Relay at Seattle

Entering teams in but two events on the program of the Seattle relay carnival Saturday afternoon Idaho placed second in one of them for a total of three points while eight other teams fell before contestants representing the best track material of the west coast.

The Vandal medley team composed of Norman, Johnson, Stowell, and Cleaver finished a close second after falling into the rear in the first two laps. Norman and Johnson ended their 220-yard and 440-yard laps behind the leaders, leaving Stowell a handicap of about 15 yards to make up. Stowell held his own in the half-mile and passed the baton to Don Cleaver for the last lap; the mile. Cleaver gained on the leading man until he was dogging his footsteps and then kept up the fast pace, running one of the best miles he has ever run, in the opinion of Coach W. C. Bryan who accompanied the Idaho entrants to Seattle.

"Cleaver would have won a first place for Idaho if he had been aware that he was running the last quarter mile of his lap when his opponent lengthened out a little further into the lead. Don thought he had another round to make and did not sprint at the finish," said Coach Bryan.

Records Smashed

Three of the eight records smashed were broken by Pacific coast conference athletes and one by a high school boy.

Sive Anderson of Washington shattered the relay 120-yard high hurdles by six-tenths of a second. His time was 15 flat.

Herman Erix in his first toss of the shot, broke the relay record with a heave of 48 feet 11 1/2 inches.

The Washington two-mile relay team broke the former carnival record in the time of 7:56.1.

The most remarkable performance was the race of Percy Williams of the high school of commerce of Vancouver, B. C. He broke the tape in the century event with a time of 59 the former conference record was 10.2.

Wesley Foster of W. S. C. ran the 100 ft. 9.9 for a first place in his event.

IDAHO W. S. C. TRACK MEET HERE FRIDAY

A close race by Harold Stowell of Idaho when they meet for the second time here Friday afternoon. Stowell got off to a lead but lost it in the last 200 yards and finished third. Stowell has been running the 880 stretch in fast time for the last two weeks and ran a lap in the medley race at Seattle last Saturday.

O'Brien Out

After clearing six feet Saturday afternoon in practice Jimmie O'Brien, outstanding Idaho high jumper, resprained an injured knee and may not be able to jump in the dual meet. While favoring his injured leg at the triangular he took second, with Herron, W. S. C. first at 6' 10". Stowell will probably be the only Idaho entrant in the high jump if O'Brien is unable to compete.

With the exception of the shot put Washington State is expected to have Idaho beaten in the weight events. Hein and Paul took the discus and javelin throw by several feet from the Idaho competitors and Boerhave won the shot put from Collins and Kershensick with a heave of 42 feet 3 1/2 inches at the meet in Spokane April 28. Both the Idaho weight men have made much better marks in practice and Coach Bryan expects them to make a good showing in the dual meet. Johnson and Robertson are showing improvement with the spear and may be able to take a second from the Cougar slingers.

In the dashes Wesley Foster, negro sprint flash, has been showing his heels to the best speed sharks on the coast. Idaho's best sprinter, John Norman finished a scant yard and a half behind him at the triangular meet but in the recent relays at Seattle Norman was between several yards by the dusky streaker. As Foster's running mate, W. S. C. has McGillivray another speed merchant who has had a year's experience.

Willard Klinger and Ted Jensen will probably be Idaho's additional entrants in the dashes. Klinger took a third in the century at Spokane.

Should Take Quarter

Wilfred Johnson is hoped to defeat True Olette, the Cougar quarter miler. Johnson won from him at the recent triangular meet when Stanton of Gonzaga barely nosed out the Idaho runner in the last ten yards. Olette's best time for the quarter is :50 but his performances this season have not been up to his former stride.

The Vandal mile relay team composed of Norman, Hodson Jensen (or Calvert), and Johnson, has an edge on the Washington state quartet and the advantage of having already won one victory from the Pullman men. At Spokane the Idaho team covered the mile in 3:34.6.

Tentative list of entrants is: 100-yard dash: Idaho; Norman, Klinger, Jensen; W. S. C.; Foster, McGillivray. 220-yard dash: Idaho; Norman, Klinger, Johnson, Calvert; W. S. C.; Foster, McGillivray. 440-Idaho; Johnson, Hodson, Calvert, Norman, Klinger; W. S. C.; Oulette, Reid. 880-Idaho; Stowell, Ingle; W. S. C.; Williams Oehlwein Hall. time in the dashes. Griffith of Burley is one of the outstanding performers in the mile and Huit of Burley is putting the shot in good form. Norby of Rupert is a leading candidate for discus honors.

Williams Good Man

Little track activity has been noted in the Pocatello district. Downey, which produced Flint as an outstanding dash man several years ago, Malad and Montpelier, are expected to enter several fast men. Williams of Teton is an outstanding weight man. The "best trophies" ever awarded high school track teams by the Idaho state athletic association will be presented to winners of the meet. The team winning first place will receive a silver cup and the man earning the most points will be given a statuette representing a track man in action. On the award will be engraved the date, place and points earned together with the winner's name. First second and third place winners in all events will receive gold, silver and bronze medals respectively.

Fewer Rules Result in Fewer Violations Says Miss Sweet

That few rules will result in fewer violations, is the theory Miss Sweet, university librarian, holds. She expresses an opinion that, on the whole, Idaho athletes have respect for state property. Students are encouraged to use the library both for recreational reading and study.

Free access to the newest books is provided by the "Open Shelf" at the north side of the main reading room. Novels, poetry, history, biography, travel, economics, history and other types of literature are included. About 400 magazines come to the university library, in which a number of foreign periodicals are included. Those of general interest to most people are placed in binders on the racks, where they are easily accessible. Others, of a more scientific and technical nature, are sent to the department which will need them, or placed in the stacks available on request.

Sixteen students are employed in the library, working on an average from 15 to 16 hours a week. The aim is to extend this opportunity only to good students. Fourteen hours of work is the minimum, in order that the job will be worthwhile; twenty hours is the maximum, in order that no partiality will be shown.

The library staff includes Miss Belle Sweet, librarian; Miss Elizabeth Strand, cataloguer; Miss Agnes Peterson, reference librarian; Miss Maurine Chenoweth, periodical assistant; and Miss Marie Johnson, desk assistant in charge of reserve books.

"The blindfold test has proved to me that I need seek no further . . . For one of the four cigarettes given me to smoke had just the qualities I've always desired.

"The pleasant, smooth cigarette I named as my choice turned out to be an OLD GOLD . . . No wonder so many of my friends prefer this brand. I too find OLD GOLD the most delightful cigarette of all."
