1826 Students Enrolled at End of Fourth Weeks; 1795 Previous Mark

BRANCH SHOWS GAIN Men Outnumber Women Two to One on Main Campus

Men outnumber women on the Idaho campus almost two to one according to figures announced from the president's office at the end of the fourth week of school. Against 633 women enrolled there are 1179 men, making the total 1826. Of the 624 freshmen, 413 are men and 211 are women.

A gain of less than two percent over the enrollment at this time last year is found. At the end of the first month in 1927 the total registration was 1795 against 1826 at this time this year. This is a gain of 31 students while the southern branch of the university shows a gain of 100 students.

Gains Are Slight.

The school of education has made the largest gain with 26 more students than last year. The college of agriculture runs a close second with an increase of 21. Only nine more students are registered in special courses this year, and the school of business administration which had the largest enrollment last year has only seven more than in 1927.

WYMAN ESTEEMED BY OXFORD FRIENDS

Harold Wyman, Rhodes scholar from Idaho who died recently in Paris was held in high esteem at Oxford, says a letter from F. J. Wylie, secretary of the Rhodes trustees, written to Harold's brother, George H. Wyman, assistant cashier of the Farmer's National Bank of Colfax. A copy of the letter was sent to a members of the university faculty by Harold's mother, Mrs. Winnifred Wyman.

Dead Idaho Rhodes Scholar Wins High Praise From Official

"This is terrible news I hear by telegram, from Paris, and our hearts, (my wife's and mine) go out to you in your trouble. I know at present only the bare facts of your boy's sudden death in Paris, and I await details. The telegram was from another American Rhodes scholar from Exeter college. He has now telegraphed me that you have asked for the body to be sent home to you. That will be some slight comfort to you. You have the deep sympathy of all of us here, whether connected with Rhodes Trust or with Exeter college. Your boy has been a quiet, well-behaved and courteous member of our society, who has, I am sure, made many friends and not a single enemy. We were always glad to see him in this house, and so far as I could judge he seemed quite happy at Oxford. This tragic end to his career here, and to all that you had hoped for him, must be a crushing blow to you and to his mother. We feel for you in your sorrow. It may be a grain of comfort to you to know that he has complete satisfaction to the college here, and that his career here, so far as it had gone, was entirely of his credit, whether from the point of view of industry or of conduct. He leaves us with a pleasant memory.

"The Rhodes trustees would wish me to say to you how much they sympathize with you and how sorry they are that all the hopes encouraged by your boy's success in gaining a Rhodes scholarship should have ended so sadly."

A. I. E. E. TO BANQUET

To Hold Previewing of Entries in International Livestock Exposition

Prize stock of the University of Idaho will be on dress parade at the annual special visitors' day at the university farm Sunday, October 28, preceding the shipping of university entries to the Pacific International Livestock Exposition at Portland. Announcement of the date for the "open house" at the farm has been made by Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture.

Ominous Weather Is Prelude to Big Event

There's a nip of frost in the air. The sky clouds over at frequent intervals. The trees are turning red and yellow while the leaves are slowly thinning. Every morning ash-ens from the incinerators float about in alarming likeness of snowflakes. Open doors and windows are becoming fewer and farther between. The flower gardens have ceased to be a thing of beauty. But a few bitter asters still droop in faded elegance about some of the buildings. The fall sunshine is leaving. The new frost droop with the weather and fledge duties. But it won't last. They haven't discovered yet that this is the prelude to homecoming. The campus is just getting ready for the good old homecoming rain to welcome back old grads and not disappoint their dearest memories of college gales and slickers and Moscow mud.

DEBATER BRUISES JAW

George Huber, Kellogg, junior member of the student executive board and a second year member of Idaho's varsity debate squad received a painful injury to the right side of his face Monday when his head was banged against a study table during a scuffle with the Sigma Chi mascot, Comrade. Medical investigation revealed that no bones were broken but lancing was found necessary to relieve the swelling.

PETERSEN PICKS COMMITTEE HEAD

"Bunny" Walker Chosen Chairman of Junior Mixer Group; Will Not Name Other Committees

A mixer committee consisting of Patrie Walker, chairman; Dorothy Fredericksen and Harold Drummond was appointed last night by Eddie Petersen, president of the junior class. Other committees will not be named until next semester, it has been decided by class officials. The president of the class should have the privilege of picking the committee chairman he wants to work with, believes Mr. Petersen, who stressed the point that junior week does not take place until late in the second semester after a new executive has been elected by the class. The appointment of the mixer committee was found necessary in order to make arrangements for class gatherings planned for this year. To assure the securing of a hall for the junior prom one other committee will be appointed next week.

ARE WE WRONG?

THE OUTCOME of the deferred pledging investigation now being conducted by the administration is causing some concern in fraternity and sorority circles on the Idaho campus. Those who are alarmed will find that their fears are for the most part groundless. President Kelly appointed a faculty committee of five members to investigate the snap pledging system now in use at Idaho. This committee met once with the Interfraternity council and the Pan Hellenic association, and so far nothing has happened except general discussion. Before any action is taken, the committee will investigate carefully different systems of pledging in general use in colleges and universities all over the United States. The fraternities and sororities will do some investigating themselves to support either side of the question they decide to take.

There is no question that there are some grounds for a change. Our system of "devil take the hindmost" doesn't work out to the best interests of the groups or the pledges in all cases. Competition between the different fraternal groups is extremely keen during rush week, and freshmen in many cases cannot study the different houses as they should because they pledge. It is possible for fraternities and sororities to pledge new students on little more than "high powered" rushing.

The groups themselves are the leaders in other cases. Every time a highly touted rusher turns out to be a poor scholar, a one-semester student, or what is generally termed a false alarm, the fraternity or sorority that pledged the person in question loses. Deterred pledging would give the freshmen time to know the different houses and their members, and it would also make them prove their individual abilities to the groups.

On the other hand, the question is raised, "Do the facts at Idaho warrant a change? Are there so many broken pledges and misfits that we should adopt deferred pledging? Except during rush week, there is little ill feeling between the groups on the campus. Comparatively few pledges are broken each year, and the registrar's records show that the percentage of pledges who flunk out of the university is not high. The fraternities and sororities at Idaho have always been depended upon by the administration to relieve the housing problem. They have done it capably in the past, and the number of new houses indicates that they seem to be thriving.

Should the investigation disclose that our plan ought to be changed, the question then comes up how long to defer pledging, a semester or a year? In general students do not favor the year postponement—they think one semester is long enough. Besides that, the administration would have to provide added dormitory facilities during the transition period, whatever that would be. It really amounts to saying that something is wrong with the fraternities and sororities. If they cannot perform their functions in college life, it is time they were changed. If the investigation proves that a change is necessary, no doubt a change of some kind will be made. The question is, what will the investigation at Idaho show?

EXECUTIVE BOARDS DECIDE CUP AWARD

(Continued from page One) sportsmanship at the annual big game, the award to be based on organized cheering, the stunt between halves, and general attitude of students of both institutions. Permanent possession would be decided by winning the cup three consecutive times. The contest has not been held for the last two years due to inclement weather conditions. Idaho has won the cup twice in succession, and in order to decide the question of the final award fairly for both parties, the governing boards agreed that the cup should be given to the institution whose team wins the game here November 3. The losing institution will present the trophy to the student body president of winning institution in the center of the field immediately at the close of the game. In the case of a tie, Idaho and W. S. C. will each hold the cup for six months, until the next game in 1929.

Members of the two executive boards brought out the fact that the contest was no longer necessary because of improved relations between Idaho and W. S. C. It was agreed that students of both institutions would be warned not to violate the agreement, and that any infractions would be severely punished. The first meeting to abolish the warfare between Idaho and W. S. C. was held two years ago.

VISITOR OUTLINES AG. EXPERIMENTS

M. A. McCall, Washington, D. C., Here For Conference

Plans for continuing experiments in cereal crops at the Aberdeen agricultural experimental station of the University of Idaho college of agriculture were outlined by M. A. McCall of Washington, D. C., connected with the office of cereal crops and diseases, when he visited the Idaho campus recently. Mr. McCall conferred with Dean E. J. Iddings, director of the experiment station, and H. W. Hulbert, head of the agronomy department.

Experiments of widespread importance are being conducted at the Aberdeen station in wheat, oats and barley, the station being well suited for irrigation study, Dean Iddings said.

Yacanty Dismissed. The matter of naming a man to replace Gustav A. Wiebe as junior plant breeder at the Aberdeen station was also discussed by Dean Iddings and Mr. McCall. Mr. Wiebe, a graduate from the college of agriculture from the University of Idaho in 1922, has spent several years at Aberdeen as a representative of the federal government. He was recently transferred to the University of California experiment farm at Davis. Mr. Wiebe has been advanced rapidly in the federal service, Dean Iddings said, and is becoming an authority in genetic phases of plant production. He supplemented his degree at Idaho with a master's degree in genetics at the University of California and has done some work toward his doctor's degree. It is probable that the man named to replace Mr. Wiebe will be a graduate of Idaho, Dean Iddings indicated. The position is to be filled through the civil service as the office is with the federal government.

UNIVERSITY WILL EXHIBIT IN SHOW

Nine Fleeces to be Shown at Pacific International Livestock Exposition.

Next month, for the first time in the history of the institution, the University of Idaho college of agriculture will be represented at a wool show, it is announced by C. W. Hickman, head of the animal husbandry department. The college will exhibit nine fleeces at the second annual Pacific wool show at Portland, November 3-10, held in conjunction with the Pacific International livestock exposition. The university exhibit will consist of one Rambouillet ram and two Rambouillet ewe fleeces, one Suffolk ram fleece and one Suffolk ewe fleece; two Hampshire ewe fleeces and two Southdown ewe fleeces.

BARNYARD GOLF TOURNAMENT ENDS

Marian White and Sarah Johnson High With 36 Points Each; 61 W. A. A. Women Entered.

Marian White and Sarah Johnson held high scores of 36 points each when the women's horseshoe pitching tournament closed at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Sixty-one women participated in the tournament which took place between 4 and 5 o'clock Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday afternoons this week. Georgia Hall was manager of the contest, and Miss Janet Wirt, director of physical education, kept score. The women acquitted themselves well throughout the entire tournament as is realized by the personal scores announced below. Nineteen of the 61 contestants earned 25 points toward W. A. A. or for a sweater; 22 earned 15 points each; and 20 earned 10 points each.

FRATERNITY TAKES OVER NEW HOUSE

A. T. O. Group Moves Into Recently Finished Chapter Building

Forty-five members and pledges of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity are virtually located in their newly completed home at Deakin and Idaho, the majority of the student having moved into the structure during the past week. Furniture and fixtures are being installed rapidly, so visitors may be received during homecoming week.

Furniture and study tables will be moved into the fraternity house tomorrow, when the entire group will devote its time to arrangement of fixtures and other work about the premises. All interior fixtures have been put into place and all furniture and other materials are ready for installation, most of it having arrived in Moscow two weeks ago. Delay of workmen in finishing the interior was responsible for postponement of occupation of the house.

The new fraternity house was built during the summer by J. C. Conroy, contractor, who is also completing the new Idaho memorial gymnasium. Interior work has been done by a number of Lewiston and Moscow firms. Furniture contracts were let to local concerns. The building is a four-story structure of collegiate gothic architectural design and harmonizes with other fraternity and sorority houses on the campus. Many new principles and ideas of building are combined in the house, most of them patterned after other fraternities and sororities of the campus.

STRAW BALLOT TO BE HELD MONDAY

Hoover-Curtis Club Will Conduct Voting in Each Group—All Students Eligible to Make Choices

A straw ballot of the republican and democratic candidates for the presidency of the United States, the governor of Idaho and United States senator from Idaho will be conducted on the campus, beginning Monday, by the university Hoover-Curtis club.

Balloting will be under the supervision of representatives to be selected in each of the group houses and halls on the campus. All students are eligible to vote, irrespective of their qualifications to vote in the national elections November 6. Officers of the club hope to have 1500 voters cast. The results of the straw vote will be announced in the next Friday issue of The Argonaut.

These results will be used in the Pacific Intercollegiate Press association's straw vote, which will include about 12 universities and colleges on the Pacific coast that are members of the organization. Several colleges represented have already conducted straw ballots.

Army Man finds Tobacco "Like Old Friend"

U. S. Army Fort Robinson, Nebr. May 29, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: Speaking of champion long-time members of the EDGEWORTH Club, say:—it isn't how long you have smoked Edgeworth, it's how well you have enjoyed the smoke. Why, I have walked out of many a store, especially when traveling, to stop at some one-horse town and buy Edgeworth. A good pipe deserves Edgeworth, and Edgeworth mine gets. I would not insult it with any other. "The familiar blue cans are everywhere," and usually you find men of taste carrying them, which proves it is not the price that determines a good "smoker's tobacco," but the care and method that produce it. I would rather go days without Edgeworth and at the end draw a deep inhale of that cool "smelly" aroma, satisfying to the last puff, than punish my throat and lungs and nostrils with inferior grades. Edgeworth is "The Smoke With a Personality," like an old friend, you learn to know and understand, and when troubled or when you have a "thinky" problem—you seek its solace and companionship. Very truly yours, (signed) E. H. Fulmer

ENGINEERS' SMOKER RIVALS COED PROM

Orland Mayers, President of the Associated Engineers, Promises More Entertainment Saturday

The annual Engineers smoker, to be held 8 o'clock Saturday evening, October 27 in the U-Hut, will include several novel features. This year's program promises to be better than that of former years, says Orland Mayers, president of the Associated Engineers. McGinnity's orchestra has been engaged to furnish music. There will be four boxing bouts and one wrestling match. Humor will be brought in by two comedy sketches. The program will end with a "big feed" and talks by Dean I. C. Crawford and Orland Mayers.

The engineers smoker is held each year to bring the student engineers together for an evening of entertainment. All engineers are welcome. There will be no admittance asked as the Associated Engineers are meeting all expenses.

SOCIETY

Men will be left dateless Saturday evening when the women of the campus will show their independence by staging the annual Co-Ed Prom. It is given under auspices of the Home Economics club, and is one of the outstanding events on the campus each year. The Associated Engineers will hold a smoker on the same evening.

The Sigma Chi burn dance which is scheduled for Friday evening is the first of a series of traditional dances of an unusual nature given annually by several group houses. The Lambda Chi Alpha, Delta Chi and Delta Gamma pledge dances and the Hays hall informal dance will also be affairs of Friday.

A "deadline" breakfast given by members of Theta Sigma, journalistic sorority, will be held Sunday morning at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Erb "Got His Man"; Saved Bear Record

(San Francisco Call) In 1922, the Bears tangled with the Trojans in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena. It was the year that Bill Gallego played center for California. The passes were bad that day and the Trojans were continually blocking punts of Morrison and Nisbit.

In the fourth quarter, with but a few minutes to play, the Trojan line broke through and stopped one of Nisbit's punts cold. The ball went bounding ahead of both teams. On the California 20-yard line, Cummings, a Trojan guard, slow and lumbering, scooped up the ball and made it for the goal. He was flanked by three Trojan intererfers. Charlie Erb was the nearest Californian, many yards away. Charlie made two steps to the line, and then he was there. He caught Cummings in a miraculous tackle and stopped him a yard from the goal.

And there were the three Trojan intererfers protecting the ball carrier. They met on the two-yard line, Erb and the Trojans. Erb cut in from the side. No one expected him to get the ball. But he threw himself in a great clip, his little body going in front of the three intererfers around the ankles. Down they went, one, two, three—and out went Erb's arms. He caught Cummings in a miraculous tackle and stopped him a yard from the goal.

It was first down and one yard to go. Four times the Trojans tried—the game ended, California 12, U. S. C. 0.

GROUP HOUSES SET DATE FOR LONG RUN

Intramural Cross-Country Race Scheduled for November 7—Must Pass Exam Before Taking Part

Idaho's annual intramural cross-country run will be held Wednesday afternoon, November 7, it was announced Thursday evening at a meeting of athletic managers of the groups entering teams in the inter-house sports competition. Entries will be made by each men's group on the campus. Any group failing to make at least one entry will have 25 points taken away from its score. The number of contestants each house may enter is unlimited.

In order to run in the race, a two-mile run, it will be necessary for each entrant to pass a physical examination the day before the race. This is to prevent anyone from running who is not in good physical condition, according to W. C. "Cap" Bryan, university trainer and track coach.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI INITIATES TWO MEN

Professional Business Fraternity Takes Dean B. H. Farmer and Prof. W. J. Wilde Thursday

Ralph H. Farmer, acting dean of the school of business administration, and W. J. Wilde, assistant professor of accounting, were initiated as faculty members of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional business fraternity, at a meeting held Thursday evening at the Blue Bucket Inn.

Homer David of David & Sons department store spoke to the group on purchasing methods used in modern retail establishments.

Harry Silke, councillor of the Pacific coast district of Alpha Kappa Psi, was entertained by members of the local chapter at luncheon Monday at the Blue Bucket Inn. He is making a tour of all the chapters in his districts. His headquarters are in Los Angeles.

Athletic association girls urge all university women to learn the game this winter and make an effort to earn points toward the W. A. A. award in good weather volley ball practice will be held on the old tennis courts behind the administration building and in inclement months on the old gymnasium floor. Freshmen and seniors have been asked to report at 4:15 o'clock on Mondays and Wednesdays; sophomores and juniors at the same hour on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

HALL FROSH STAGE SMOKER

A smoker was held by the Lindley hall freshmen last Saturday night for the upper classmen.

Six lusty freshmen ranging from feather-weights to heavy sluggers in size, staged three fast bouts resulting in two draws and one decision. Alternating between the boxing four men bone-crushers grappled with each other, to a fall in each match.

CHESS POSTPONED

Plans originally made by university chess enthusiasts to hold a tournament will be postponed pending the arrival of cooler weather and the suspension of outdoor activities. It was announced today by the organizers.

DEAN FARMER

Dean B. H. Farmer was initiated into the Alpha Kappa Psi professional business fraternity Thursday evening at the Blue Bucket Inn.

CONFERENCE GAMES THIS WEEK WILL NOT CHANGE LEADERSHIP

California, Stanford and U. S. C. Will Face Outside Teams

HUSKIES PLAY O. S. C. W. S. C. Team Will Play College of Idaho Eleven Tomorrow

By Frank E. Judy
Three undefeated conference leaders do not meet members Saturday and the two all-conference games involve teams that have lost at least one game.

Washington, always referred to as a slow starter, will be confronted with the task of stopping Howard Maple and the Oregon States who are determined to add the Huskies' scalps to their belts. The University of Washington offense has received particular attention during the past week, for it was the inability to gain against the Webfooters last week, that made the contest a "walk-away."

Idaho Has No Setup
Coach Spaulding's Ucla's has risen from the depths and he has assembled a formidable squad that will be heard from before the season is past. Idaho is greatly weakened by injuries sustained in the Stanford game and has given hard-fought contests to the States.

The University of California meets the powerful aggression playing under the colors of the Olympic club. The club team is composed of former university stars from all sections of the country and is the only team that can boast of two victories over Stanford since the advent of Pop Warner. Price continues to keep his general noncommittal line out of the games but Saturday's battle may find them in action.

Stanford Has "Rest"
Stanford will enjoy a workout with Fresno State in Palo Alto Saturday. The teachers have a light, experienced team that will not force the big red team to speak of this Friday's efforts. The "Warmmen" have defeated breathing spells between the Idaho and W. S. C. contests.

The third of the big three likewise is taking to risk of a hard game and the University of Southern California meets Occidental college. Oxy has shown little or nothing this season against weak teams so it is not to be expected that the Trojans will be threatened. Coach Jones is not satisfied with the grid performances of the Troy men and there are likely to be several changes in the line to Jess Hibbs, last year's all-American tackle, has played ragged football this season, and it was through his territory that the Golden Bears registered their greatest gains last Saturday.

Cougars Play C. of I.
Washington State plays College of Idaho Saturday morning at Pullman in an important game. The Cougars are expected to win by several touchdowns but the stubborn defense of the Idahoans may be the surprise element.

Montana State meets her traditional rival, the University of Montana, at Bozeman, in the struggle for state honors. The Bobcats have a fast, tricky combination, as Vandal supporters will testify and should force the university to the limit.

HORSESHOE PLAY STARTED MONDAY

Senior and Freshman Irls Teams First Teams to Get Into Action Monday.

W. A. A. launched the first bout of its horseshoe pitching tournament on Monday afternoon when a group of senior and freshman girls gathered on the court south of the gymnasium and contended for supremacy in pitching shoes. Some of the girls had practiced the art previous to the match, but many of them were novices, and as a result the scores were varied. Scorekeepers were Georgia Hall, also manager of the tournament, and Miss Janet Wirt, director of physical education.

The seniors and freshmen who took part in the tournament on Monday will play again on Wednesday before the final scoring is made; the juniors and sophomores will contest on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons.

WARBLERS HOLD REHEARSAL SOON

University Glee Club Called to Meet Next Monday for First Time

The first rehearsal of the University Glee club will be held Monday evening, October 29, at 7:15 o'clock in room 208, Engineer Building. The Treble Clef club will hold its first rehearsal Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the same room. All students registered for vocal ensemble, music 61 and 62, are required to attend their respective rehearsals. Any other students who are not registered in either of these courses but who are interested in singing are invited to attend and if they stay in the club will be given credit for their work. Vocal ensemble students are required to attend Choral society rehearsals, which are to begin soon. Room 208 in the Engineering building is much larger than the room used last year and has much better ventilation and lighting, which will make better musical work possible, according to Prof. Theodore Kratt, director.

There will be a breakfast for university students of Methodist preference at the Methodist church, Sunday morning, October 28, at 8 o'clock.

BOXING CLASSES START MONDAY

Ensigns and Veterans Begin Work on Tuesday at University of Idaho
Coach "Red" Jacoby and his Vandal Babes travel to the Cougar den Saturday afternoon to meet the "Kittens." Jacoby has a well balanced team with many individual stars. It seems to be Jacoby's main task to make the boys forget how good they are, and fit into the team work which is necessary for any team's success.

This class will be a regular physical education course and will be open to those who are interested. Any student may attend the class whether he intends to take the course or not, according to Mr. Hobeck.

If enough interest is shown and sufficient men turn out, matches will be arranged. This move has been made in keeping with present policies of the physical education department to have as many students as possible taking part in some branch of athletics.

BETAS GRAB CREEK VOLLEY BALL TITLE

Win From Phi Delta Theta In Straight Sets Tuesday Sets

A large crowd of enthusiastic fans saw the Betas' superior team work sweep the Phi Deltas in the university intramural volleyball title in straight sets Tuesday night, by scores of 15-12 and 15-12. It was a much more thrilling battle than the score indicates, and more than once the crowd was brought to its feet by the brilliance of the rallies.

Vance Bolsters Betas
The steady game of J. Vance served as the mainstay for the great team work of the Betas. It was his dominating play that kept the Betas' superiority intact during the entire fight. Smith and Lawrence, who were outstanding men at the net and they won many points with their smashes. Platt, Pierson and Martin played good games for the Phi Deltas and kept their team from going down to a humiliating defeat. In the second set it was Pierson who started the rally that brought the score to 13-14. It looked for a few minutes that the Phi Deltas might take the set, but Smith spotted their hopes when he served deep to the corner. On a short return Lawrence smashed from the net and the set went to the Betas.

After this attempted rally the Phi Deltas seemed to have lost spirit and the Betas took the last and deciding set rather easily.
A large crowd witnessed the game which completed the volleyball tournament for this year. In the afternoon the Lambda Chis won second place in the B League by defeating the A. T. O's quite handily in straight sets.

Vandal Gossip

The crippled Vandals are back from California much the worse for their disastrous encounter with the Stanford Cardinals. They are badly crippled and nothing short of a miracle can get them in good playing shape for Ucla, the "baby" member of the Coast conference. However they have the proper spirit and in all probability the California boys will have a rough afternoon Saturday.

All men who witnessed the Stanford game are high in their praise for the game Idaho played. They held the famous Stanford Reds to seven points during the first half, and then with several Idaho veterans injured, Stanford used their fresh reserves to trample over the Vandals. Such a team as Stanford, with its 60 reserves, should win over a team with no reserves, such as Idaho.

"Fat" Supper and "Fair" Brimhall were the stars of the game for Idaho. Time after time in the first half, they bolstered and took the ball from Stanford deep in our own territory. Few if any players, stood the game as well as they did. "Fat" seems to go great in San Francisco. You remember it was the boy with the "honest weight" who booted the place kick that tied St. Mary's last year.

The Stanford students are good winners, and reports from California indicate that on the whole there was very little crowing over the Cardinal victory. Stanford expected a hard game, and it was a hard game for them up to the end of the first half. Stanford backers have nothing but praise for the Vandal's defensive ability, and their fighting spirit, even against overwhelming odds. Lack of reserves spelled defeat for Idaho, and for every Idaho substitute, seemingly three or four fresh Cardinals were sent in, each one of whom played as well or better than the first string men.

The pep band certainly made a hit at the Stanford game. During the half the members of the band marched across the field in single file and played before the Stanford stands. They were encored time after time, and their brand of music seemed to be something new to the Californians. The Stanford band of more than 100 pieces turned the show over to Idaho's band of 83 musicians during the half and Stanford's routing section gave the band a thunderous yell when they left and marched to the Idaho side of the stadium. Newspapermen and photographers who were at the game compared Idaho's organization to Landray's and Whiteman's bands. During the game the band kept up a continuous succession of Idaho songs every time time out was called by either team.

The pep rally given last Wednesday was a sad, yes a very sad affair. Not only was it downheartening to the coaches and team, but to all Idaho students who have known the Idaho "light" spirit of old. There must have been a menly 150 backers out, and over two-thirds of those were freshmen who were sent over by the upperclassmen, who seemingly stayed at the house, smoked and listened to Gene Austin sing "Swainin' in Dream" and "Blue" (The After hearing the W. S. C. students sing at their homecoming game, it was said for us to contrast the spirit of the two schools.

Coach "Red" Jacoby and his Vandal Babes travel to the Cougar den Saturday afternoon to meet the "Kittens." Jacoby has a well balanced team with many individual stars. It seems to be Jacoby's main task to make the boys forget how good they are, and fit into the team work which is necessary for any team's success.

IDAHO ALUMNI ARE ACTIVE IN POLITICS

ampus is Galen P. Mix, of Moscow, the first agricultural graduate of the University of Idaho. This year "Gub" is the democratic candidate for lieutenant governor of the state. During the past decade, "Gub's" particular interest has run along the lines of farm relief in which he has been most active. He has made trips to Washington; D. C. on farm relief commissions, and further has been instrumental in organizing farmers of the northward for obtaining farm relief. He organized and headed the Idaho Extension League, the present state agricultural organization, and is a university booster.

Three University of Idaho graduates are seeking reelection to important state positions—William E. Lee, '03, to the supreme court bench; Fred E. Lukens, '09, secretary of state, and Stewart Campbell, '07, state mine inspector. They are all on the republican ticket.

Mr. Lukens was in educational work upon his graduation from the university and he held superintendencies of St. Maries, Pocatello, and Grangeville schools, until in 1923 he became assistant secretary of state. He was elected secretary of state in 1926 by one of the largest majorities ever given to a state candidate. At the present time he is serving his second term as president of the National Association of Secretaries of States. He is the author of "The Idaho Citizen," recently adopted as a standard text in civics for schools of the state and also used by University of Idaho classes as a guide in the study of government.

Campbell is Mine Inspector
Before becoming state mine inspector in 1920, Mr. Campbell has been engaged in mining work in the Halley district. He was a representative of Blaine county to the state legislature in 1913 and served with the engineers during the World War. Recently he has been given recognition by "Who's Who in America," largely it is believed through the outstanding part he has taken in disclosing allegedly fake mining promotion schemes in Idaho.

Another outstanding Idaho dem-crat, also a graduate of the University of Idaho, is Senator E. G. Van Housen of Mesa, who is running for his third term as state senator from Adams county. He is one of the two outstanding democratic leaders in the state senate.

Seven are in Legislature
Seven representatives to the state legislature from Idaho counties are Carl Burks, '21, Ada county; Carl H. Swanstrom, '21, Adams county; Isaac McDougall, '15, Bannock county; Earl E. Hunt, ex '24, Benewah county; Lawrence Quinn, '24, Boise county; Jo G. Martin, '09, Butte county; Cleve Groom '15, Canyon county; Merle Drake, '24, Custer county; R. W. Beckwith, '20, Elmore county; E. T. Knudson, '21, (Cooten) county; Abe Gott, '24, Latah county; Ebert Starn, '07, Lewis county; H. V. Crason, '16, Mindokla county; Fred J. Babcock, '16, Nez Perce county; Darwin W. Thomas, Onida county; Charles E. Horning, '15, Shoshone county; Fred M. Taylor, '25, Valley county; Paul Hyatt, '26, Clearwater county.

Among other county offices occupied at the present time by Idaho graduates are: County Superintendent—Evelyn S. Merwin, ex '14, Clearwater county; Ellen Peterson, ex '20, Lewis county; County surveyor—Harvey J. Smith, '08, Latah county; Probate Judge—Adrian Nelson, '07, Latah county.

CRIPPLED VANDALS WILL PLAY U.C.L.A.

decidedly under par when they met Stanford, but even then the score did not indicate the relative power of the two teams, just as in the Idaho-Cardinal clash a week later. Spaulding's men arrived in Portland yesterday afternoon, took a light workout and they will work out again this afternoon on Multnomah field, arriving in Moscow early Saturday. His men are in the pink of condition, including Captain Joe Fleming, who has been out of the last three games with injuries. Idaho will have an advantage of not having traveled since the first of the week, but the Californians will have lost any staleness in their Portland workouts.

Bolster End Run Defense
Erb this week has particularly schooled his men to take care of wide end runs and sweeping off-tackle plays that the shifty "pony" backfield of the Californians might try on MacLean field. But he has been forced to run off his scrimmages without "Big Bill" Kershnik, who is nursing a badly strained neck and back, the result of hand-to-hand dealings with "Biff" Hoffman last week, and Paul Hutchinson, who suffered a broken nasal organ in the same game. Both men will start. Robertson will call signals and Perrins probably will start at the other halfback position. Owens, Cheyne, Halliday, Booker and Norby are likely to get into action, but probably not at the start.

Scrimmage this week was only indulged in lightly by Erb's men, and

Wednesday night the regulars were put through their paces against the freshman first string. Thursday "dummy" scrimmage was in vogue, and Friday afternoon will see only light signal and kicking practices. Erb is taking absolutely no chances with his uninjured or his convalescents.
