RESTED VANDALS RESUME PRACTICE FOR MONTANA TILT

Erb's Crew Is Fast Recovering From Injuries of W. S. C. Game

GRIZZLIES ARE TOUGH

Idaho Rests This Weekend For First Time in Season

Rested after a complete lay-off for five days since the Washington State college clash, Charley Erb's Vandals resumed football practice late this week, and started to improve their offensive attack for two remaining conference games—Montana at Missoula a week from Saturday, and U. S. C. at Los Angeles, November 24.

Major Milburn has developed some excellent men and his team has steadily improved as evidenced by the scoreless tie to which they held the Montana State Bobcats two weeks ago, in fact the Bozeman eleven was said to be outplayed. At home the O. S. C.

According to Patrick Walker, chairman of the mixer committee, only juniors will be privileged to attend and he urged that no junior "miss this chance for a rare and enthusiastic evening."

The committee for Junior week, under the chairmanship of George Beardmore, reported that the first week of April will be set aside for the annual Junior celebration, the main event of which is the promenade. Only a very small proportion of the class attended the meeting, the first since election of officers.

CADET BATTALIONS PARADE THURSDAY

President Kelly Addresses Cadets on Significance of Armistice

In commemoration of the tenth anniversary of the signing of the world war armistice the Idaho R. O. T. C. regiment paraded yesterday morning before President F. J. Kelly and Colonel Chrisman in its first formal review of the year. Previous to the march past the reviewing stand the three battalions stood at parade rest with heads bowed for one minute in respect to the nation's war dead.

Following the review President Kelly addressed the cadets on the significance of Armistice day, the proper meaning of preparedness and the tendency of the nation to soon forget the horrors of war. Doctor Kelly pointed out that, though the day was not actually the anniversary of the armistice it was just a decade since the first reports of the peace treaty were spread and the allies celebrated the end of the conflict.

During the ceremonies advanced students who had qualified for marksmanship awards at Fort George Wright at the summer training camp received their medals. The following men were given badges: Expert marksmen; Claire B. Collier and Wilfred Stanley; sharpshooters; John C. Glase, Charles E. McAuley and Fritz B. Peterson; Marksmen; Everett G. Lawrence, Frank C. Miller, Darold G. Smith, Kenneth P. Jones, Philemon D. DuSault, Merrill M. Greening, James M. Lyle, Jr., Reuben Bauer, Bruce R. Mercer, Carl H. Larson, Herbert S. Reisel, Robert G. Reading Appoints Committee To Investigate Song Book Plan

A 3000-mile barnstorming tour through the middle west was assured for the men's varsity debate team when the executive board of the ASUI passed the 1928-29 debate budget at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening. The trip will be made in December and will include debates with 10 midwestern universities and colleges located as far east as Chicago.

Two varsity debaters, accompanied by Coach Jasper V. Garland, will make the tour. Attempts to select the men to make the trip will be held during the early part of next week. All men on the varsity debate squad are eligible to try out.

Eight Debates Scheduled. Definite arrangements have been made with eight institutions, and three or four dates are yet tentative. The itinerary to date includes University of Montana, Montana State college, University of South Dakota, Marquette university at Milwaukee, Loyola university, Chicago, University of Chicago, University of Indiana and University of St. Louis.

The team will leave Moscow about December 10 and will return sometime during the holidays. University regulations provide that students

University Tennis Championship to Shirley Cunningham; Play Brilliant

Shirley Cunningham, sophomore, won the title of women's singles tennis champion of the University of Idaho Tuesday by defeating Hazel McCannan, freshman, 6-1, 6-2 in a fast match.

Both girls are strong players. Hazel McCannan showed some brilliant back court work, but appeared weak at serving. But when she did get a "not" ball over, it was invariably an ace. Toward the last of the second set Miss McCannan gave an exhibition of what her service could do, but her rally fell short.

Shirley Cunningham's playing could be characterized as a "safe" game. Her dependable service and safe play won her many points.

Miss McCannan was a member of the girls' tennis team at North Central high school for two years and has played in the finals of several Spokane tournaments. Shirley Cunningham has captured first place in two tennis tournaments at Hailey, Idaho, her home.

One hundred W. A. A. points will be awarded to Miss Cunningham, 50 points to Miss McCannan, and 25 points to Miss McCannan and Lillian Woodworth, who played in the semifinals, and 10 points to all other women who participated in the tournament.

The tennis tournament to decide the winner of the women's tennis cup will be held next spring, beginning April 8. A team of four girls will be selected from each class. The winner from each class will be eligible to play for the cup. Twenty-five points will be awarded each girl in the class team that produces the champion.

PHILOSOPHY PROF WRITES ARTICLES

"Kiwanis and Spiritual Values" Subject of Essay Appearing in November Issue

"Kiwanis and Spiritual Values" is the subject of an article by Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the department of philosophy at the university, which appeared in the Kiwanis magazine for November. Professor Chenoweth is a member of the Moscow branch of the organization.

In the article Professor Chenoweth undertakes to define "spiritual" and "value" in terms of their relation to the aims of the Kiwanis International. He points out the tasks of the club in the development of the spiritual sense that will enable them to be "safe custodians of the vocational skills" that are given by the schools.

INFIRMARY CARES FOR MANY PATIENTS

Staff Takes Care of Cases Ranging From Broken Legs to a Desire For Excuses

The university infirmary under the supervision of Miss Edna Peterson, and Doctors H. Einhouse and C. O. Armstrong, is taking care of students at the rate of about 35 per day. Cases range from broken legs and torn scalps to slight headaches and a desire for excuses, says Miss Peterson, head nurse. Since the opening of school in September, over 1200 patients have visited the infirmary. Most of these were suffering from colds and minor ailments.

Thus far, no cases of contagious disease have been reported.

FORESTRY SCHOOL CONDUCTS TESTS

Problem of How to Lengthen Life and Service of Lumber Gets Attention of Graduate Fellows.

Two research projects that should bring considerable light on the problem of how to lengthen the life and service of lumber and other wood products, especially those from the forests of Idaho, are being undertaken this year by graduate fellows in the University of Idaho school of forestry. It is announced by Dean F. G. Miller.

One project is a co-operative one with the Western Pine Manufacturers association while the other is in co-operation with the lumbermen of Idaho. The pine manufacturers and lumbermen have asked the school of forestry and the forest experiment station to conduct research on wood durability and have contributed toward the fellowships under which the studies are made possible.

Both research fellows in forestry will work under the direction of Dr. Ernest E. Hubert, professor of forestry and forester to the experiment station, Dean Miller announces.

DEANS TO ATTEND EDUCATORS' MEET

Crawford and Iddings to Represent Idaho at Washington, D. C.

Dean I. C. Crawford, of the college of engineering, and Dean E. J. Iddings, of the college of agriculture, will leave next week for Washington, D. C., where they will attend the forty-second annual convention of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, November 20 to 22, as representatives of the University of Idaho. This convention will be held in conjunction with the National Association of State Universities, which will meet on November 19 and 20, and which both deans will also attend.

The land college meet is held each year, and is attended by the presidents, deans or other authorized representatives of the land grant colleges and universities, who convene for the purpose of discussing problems of agriculture, engineering and home economics.

The National Association of State Universities also meets annually, and is attended by the president or other representatives of state universities, who meet and discuss university problems. President F. J. Kelly, who is listed as a speaker on the convention program, will be unable to attend as he had planned.

BURGER LEADING VANDAL SCORERS

Idaho's Captain Holds Slight Margin Over Hutchinson With Count of 19

Captain Darwin Burger of Rupert, Idaho's triple-threat end, to date, leads the Vandal grid scorers with 19 points, garnered in three touchdowns and a point conversion.

He is, however, only a point ahead of Paul Hutchinson, Chewelah, Wn., and Sammy Perrins, Albion, both halfbacks, who have three touchdowns each. Perrins tops the scorers in goat conference play with three touchdowns and is among the first 15 high scorers. William Kershnik fullback last year was fifth in the Pacific Coast conference.

Harvey Sumpter and Kershnik are the other Idaho men to have scored, so far this year. No Vandals have scored on field goals this year. The total individual scoring to date follows:

Freshman Just Won't Be Kicked—No Sir!

COLUMBUS, O. (IP)—This story was told on the Ohio State campus when Michigan and Ohio State met on the football field.

The incident happened upon the occasion of the Michigan-Ohio State game here six years ago. Coach Fielding H. Yost, of Michigan, who is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity, is in the habit of dropping around to the local chapter house when in Columbus.

Upon this occasion his knock was answered by a freshman who seemed to have a considerable amount of self-assurance for a pledge.

"I'm Fielding H. Yost, the Michigan coach," said Coach Yost by way of a self-introduction.

"That so?" drawled the freshman, puffing out a cloud of cigarette smoke. "Come on in and sit down, then I'll tell you."

PROFESSOR ELLIS RESIGNS DEANSHIP OF MINING SCHOOL

Acting Head of Department Since Dean Thomson Left Idaho

JOINS MINING FIRM

Will Be Metal Expert With Anaconda Copper Corporation

Resignation of Ernest W. Ellis, assistant professor of mining and metallurgy and for five months acting dean of the school of mines, has been announced by President F. J. Kelly. Professor Ellis leaves the university to become metallurgical expert with the Anaconda Copper Mining company of Montana in connection with the famous Carson patent case that has been attracting nationwide interest in mining circles for a number of years.

A banquet was held in his honor Thursday evening at the Blue Bucket Inn by the Associated Miners, Faculty and students of the school of mines and university officials were present at the official farewell exercises.

A Supreme court decision has held the Anaconda company, together with several other large mining concerns, guilty of infringement of an ore smelting method covered by patent. Investigations have been instituted to determine the extent of the infringement, as a basis for settlement. To obtain data on this the company has commenced a parallel run of two

Plans concerning the merger of Sigma Tau with Tau Beta Phi, engineering fraternity of similar ideals, were debated. No definite action was taken, though an amalgamation of the two fraternities is expected within the next few years. The last day of the convention, the delegates were shown around the huge campus, on which there are ninety fraternities and forty societies.

SALE OF PROGRAMS EARNS $450 PROFIT

Blue Key Homecoming Game Booklets Popular With the Crowd

Approximately $450 profit was cleared on the Homecoming football game programs by Blue Key fraternity, according to the report submitted to the organization by Mac Hardwick who was in charge. The money has been turned over to the general fund of the ASUI.

Less than 200 copies of the 2500 that were printed were not sold. Sale of the programs was well handled. Mr. Hardwick said, through the Spurs, sophomore women's service organization, under the direction of Burton Ellis.

Tickets for the Moscow Charity ball to be held at the Elks' temple November 16 will be sold on the campus by Blue Key. The distribution of the tickets was turned over to Intercollegiate Knights by Dan McGrath, honorable duke.

Alvin Reading reported on the campus parking investigation which was sponsored by Blue Key three weeks ago. Sufficient parking spaces were available around university buildings, he said, but the areas must be topped with crushed rock before cars can be driven behind the buildings in wet weather. The administration has taken no action to date.

Burton Moore was appointed chairman of a committee to obtain lower railway rates to southern Idaho for students who will go home for the holidays. Aldon Tall and Alvin Reading were appointed on the committee with him.

George Greene, chairman, and Aldon Tall and Harry Jones were appointed to make preliminary plans for a dance to be given by Blue Key before the holidays. They will report at the next meeting.

DELEGATE TO SIGMA TAU CONCLAVE BACK

McGonigle Attends Bi-Annual Meet of Engineering Fraternity at Urbana

Tom McGonigle, Idaho's delegate to the bi-annual conclave of Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, returned Wednesday from the University of Illinois, Urbana, after a trip of ten days. Several of the most eminent engineers in the United States spoke at the banquets and meetings.

Plans concerning the merger of Sigma Tau with Tau Beta Phi, engineering fraternity of similar ideals, were debated. No definite action was taken, though an amalgamation of the two fraternities is expected within the next few years. The last day of the convention, the delegates were shown around the huge campus, on which there are ninety fraternities and forty societies.

Points were based on the first 12 men to place, the winner receiving 12, the second place man 11, etc. On this basis the group, scorings were: Beta 20, Sigma Chi 13, Tau Kappa Epsilon 12, Kappa Sigma 11, Lindley Hall 9, Tau Men Alpha 6, Delta Chi 4 and Sigma Alpha Epsilon 2.

UNIVERSITY WOMEN GET PLAY PROCEEDS

National Organization Will Receive Money for Scholarship Fund

Proceeds from the four one-act plays to be given next Thursday and Friday evenings, will go to the million dollar fund of the American League of University Women. These will be the first plays by the university this year and are being sponsored by the local branch of A. A. U. W. for the benefit of the Idaho quota for the fund.

Tickets for the play will be put on sale; members of the organization will canvas the entire town and campus. The production itself is under the direction of Mrs. Harry Brenn and Miss Alene Honeywell, coaches, and Lillian Woodworth, stage manager.

This is the third year that this group of A. A. U. W. has had charge of the advertising and ticket sales of one-act plays. Heretofore the proceeds have gone into Moscow's treasury or scholarships for women on the Idaho campus. This year, however, the money goes to the national treasury for the fellowship fund.

Idaho university women who have won distinction in scholastic fields will be able to benefit from the endowment which was begun by the national organization in 1927. From now on the Idaho chapter will be looking for women eligible for fellowships, said Miss Katherine Jensen, state chairman of Idaho for the fellowship, which is for the purpose of enabling university women to do graduate work in some other country than their own.

Contributions are to be sought in every country, not only from university men and women, but from "all public spirited individuals and organizations interested in educational and in international friendship," was the resolution passed by the fifth national convention of A. A. U. W.

HUSKIES PREPARE FOR HOMECOMING

Campus Takes on Carnival Atmosphere on Eve of Big Battle With California

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle.—With gala banners being strung across prominent streets in the district, and huge electric signs of welcome going up, the University of Washington campus is fast taking on a carnival atmosphere in preparation for its fourteenth annual Homecoming festivities Friday and Saturday, November 9 and 10.

The outstanding feature of the celebration will be the California-Washington football game. Washington's decisive victory over the College of Puget Sound last Saturday is indicative of a new spirit and fight in the team and the Huskies are now conceded a small although outside chance of a win over California. Coach Bagshaw's boys are still smarting under the defeats handed them by Oregon and O. S. C.

The scientific prediction is repeated that the human race will lose its legs, on account of using them so little in this motor age, but it looks to us as if climbing into the rumber seat would save a good many of the best looking ones.—Ohio State

BETAS TAKE FIRST IN CROSS COUNTRY GRIND WEDNESDAY

Charles Heath Finishes Several Hundred Yards Ahead of Field

SIGMA CHI IS SECOND

Betas Get Second First Place in 1928 Intramural Cup Competition

Beta Theta Pi, national fraternity, ran off with cross-country honors Wednesday afternoon, scoring 20 points to take first place. This is the second first listing won by Beta Theta Pi in intramural competition in the 1928-29 athletic program. Sigma Chi was second with 13 points and Tau Kappa Epsilon third, with 12. Largely through the spectacular running of Charles Heath, Idaho Falls sophomore, were the Betas able to chalk up their point totals and the fifth place rating of Drew, Little clinched the run. Heath, outstanding in freshman competition last year, won an easy winner, coming in several hundred yards ahead of the field. Out of 36 entries 35 men finished. The time for the difficult two and one-half mile course was 11 minutes, 6 seconds.

Kappa Sig Man Second, Ralph Ormsby, Kappa Sigma, was second; Phil DuSault, Sigma Chi, third; William Carlson, Lindley Hall, fourth; Drew Little, Beta Theta Pi, fifth; Jerry Loug, Tau Kappa Epsilon, sixth; Fred Roberts, Tau Men Alpha, seventh; Maurice Muzzey, Tau Kappa Epsilon, eighth; Byron Sewell, Delta Chi, ninth; William Leaton, Sigma Chi, tenth; Herman Hafficker, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, eleventh and Jack Strohman, unattached, twelfth.

The race was started at dusk and most of the contestants finished as darkness came down over the MacLean field bleachers under the rays of football flood-light.

Each man was given a physical examination immediately before he entered the race.

HIGH SCHOOL GRID COMPETITION CLOSE

State Cup Race Narrows as Teams Near Season's Climax

High school football throughout the state at the present time is nearing the season's peak, with the divisional champions being narrowed to about eight possibilities in the north and south.

In the north there are about only three possibilities—Kellogg, Lewiston and Moscow—with Moscow boasting a goal line uncrossed by any Idaho team this year. Moscow and Lewiston tangle at Moscow next week in a game that will have a decided championship bearing and the result of Kellogg's next game will decide her chances. The Miners started slowly but have come out on top of the far north division to date.

In southwestern Idaho Boise again seems to have the leading eleven and bids fair to continue her championship hopes which netted her the state title last year against Moscow. Nampa was a strong contender earlier in the season but is not considered on par with Basler's men.

Twin Is Strong. In the south central portion Twin Falls looks like the most probable candidate to meet what southeastern Idaho has as a championship contender. And with north Idaho definitely withdrawing from competition for a state title, the Bruins may tackle Boise for the nominal southern Idaho and Idaho title.

In the southeast American Falls has been taking on all comers and thus far has not tasted defeat.

"ORIGINAL" IDAHO SONGS Agitation for new Idaho songs is becoming more and more general on the campus, and many students are wondering why the question has been brought up. Three of the songs we now use are covered by copyrights not our own, and to make matters worse, two of them are famous college songs to which Idaho words have been written.

Music for the song we know as "Here We Have Idaho" is from a well known musical comedy. The owner of the copyright threatened suit against the university in 1927, if the song were published. The matter was dropped, and no official announcement was ever made either by the administration or the student body government, against singing the song as before.

A faculty member and a student of the college of law looked up the legal aspects of the question Thursday afternoon, and found that the federal law makes only the provisions stated above. In no way can it be interpreted to mean that any individual or group of individuals is doing wrong by singing a copyrighted song.

"Here We Have Idaho" has been used for years, and is still one of the favorites on the campus. It is sung regularly at the dinner tables of the majority of group houses, and is the only thing we can call an alma mater song. Doctor Upham and Professor Nyvall wrote "Land of the Past Idaho" when they were here, but it was never adopted. It has good music, stately and rather hymn like, but the words do not pertain to the university; it is more of a state song.

Professor Kratt has pointed out the need for an official ASU song book containing only original Idaho songs. He is investigating a large number of songs that have been written for the annual stunt fests in years past. The executive board is working on the matter, and will announce its plan at an early meeting. The Argonaut is wholeheartedly in favor of the movement for new songs, and will continue to agitate for immediate action.

MORE ABOUT TRADITION

THE ARGONAUT in its last issue commented on the fact that "Here We Have Idaho" was not sung by the student body after the Homecoming football game with Washington State college. On another part of this page under the heading Student Opinion appear answers setting forth reasons why the tradition was not observed, also a suggestion regarding editorial policy.

The reasons are valid. The men concerned acted on orders they received from certain members of the faculty who were here last year, but who are not here this year. The instructions were not to sing "Here We Have Idaho", and they were taken as being official. Acting in good faith, the yell leaders and the leader of the Pep band did not lead the student body in singing "Here We Have Idaho" after every football game this fall. The Argonaut retracts its state-

Student Opinion

Speaking of prized traditions, we notice that the Pep band and yell leaders rated editorial criticism in the last issue of The Argonaut. As much as we like publicity, we hesitate to accept this criticism in the spirit with which it may, or may not have been given.

The fact was mentioned that for no apparent reason the custom of playing "And Here We Have Idaho" was discontinued. The reason may not have been apparent to the writer of the editorial, so perhaps we can offer some information that will shine as a beacon for those who are stumbling in the dark.

The tune for this song comes from a copyrighted popular number "In My Garden of Paradise." The difficulty arose when the authoress, a woman living in Honolulu, learned that "And Here We Have Idaho" was published on the campus as an original tune.

The editorial mentioned that responsibility for singing the song rested on the Pep band and the yell leaders thanks a lot, but we don't care to take the responsibility of backing the United States government—strange as it may seem.

Further use of this song would undoubtedly cause the university to become involved in court action, and our present social standing with the university officials is not so high that we care to dabble in that sort of politics.

Mention was also made that at other games this fall the students left the stands somewhat disappointed—we want to please our public, but when Uncle Sam says, "Naughty, naughty, mustn't play that tune," he doesn't mean maybe.

Sam Hutchings, Director, Pep band H. M. Porter, H. E. Siggins, Yell Kings.

To the Editor: Some criticism has been offered on the abandonment of singing "And Here We Have Idaho" at the close of the football games.

As the song is a copyrighted one, and the student body has been warned against using it, as an infringement on the copyright, if another song, one which could be sung by the student body, were available, then the yell king and his duke would have been more than glad to continue the old tradition, but it is not his wish, nor the wish of anyone else, to infringe upon the rights of others.

The Argonaut could well afford directing its efforts toward securing a suitable alma mater song, or some similar song to be used at the close of the games, instead of criticizing the honest efforts of others.

Alvin H. Reading, President of the ASU.

SCABBARD AND BLADE PREPARES FOR BALL

Armistice Day Formal Dinner Will be Held at Moscow Hotel on Saturday Evening

Scabbard and Blade at its regular meeting held last Thursday night added the finishing touches to plans for a formal dinner dance which will be given at the Moscow hotel tomorrow night, the eve of Armistice day.

Captain E. W. Ellis gave an interesting account of his trip to Paris and the American Legion convention held there last year. This is the last time that he will meet with the Idaho chapter before his departure for Anconada, Montana.

At the last meeting Eugene Iverson, here from Montana State college, became affiliated with the local chapter.

LOYALTY IS TOPIC OF FROSH LECTURE

President Kelly Lectures First Year Class on Meaning and Effect of Patriotism

Dr. Frederick J. Kelly, president of the university, addressed the freshman class on "Loyalty" at the third of a series of lectures Tuesday morning. "Loyalty is usually classified into four groups," said Doctor Kelly, "loyalty to persons, called fidelity; loyalty to country, called patriotism; loyalty to school, usually called loyalty; and loyalty to principle, the courage of one's convictions".

Doctor Kelly gave illustrations showing the effect of loyalty and expressed hope that our loyalty would expand until it reached around the world, as it is the plane of loyalty that determines the difference between barbarism and civilization.

Dares Fate for Favorite Pipe Tobacco

Darby, Pa., November 12, 1926.

Larus & Bro. Co. Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: I have a mania for crawling through a number of unexplored caverns between the towns of Woodstock and Mt. Jackson in the Shenandoah Valley.

One cave was exceedingly dangerous with its tight passages, etc. I spent three hours in this cavity, groping blindly with a "dead" flashlight and a severed guiding string.

To cut my story short, I was finally rescued by a searching party after a terrible experience. It was a wonderful feeling as I sat at the mouth of the cavern telling my friends that I would not go back in there for love nor money. I meant it—until I reached for my can of Edgeworth. It was gone, and I recalled dropping something during the excitement in the cave.

It is queer what a man will do when his favorite tobacco is concerned. I realized that without my tobacco it would be as bad as being lost in the cavity—so I crawled back.

It was a grand and glorious feeling as my hand came in contact with the Aristocrat of Tobacco. Yours very truly, Joseph P. Fink, Jr.

IDAHO GRADUATES COMMANDING MANY EDUCATIONAL JOBS

Nearly 200 of Class of 1928 Given Positions by Bureau

PERCENTAGE IS HIGH Placement Office Has Fine Rating With Educators in the West

Demand for University of Idaho graduates in the various fields of education is growing steadily, according to report from the university placement service, of which Miss Lorraine McCoy, assistant professor of education, is director. A total of 95 members of the class of 1928 who were enrolled for teaching positions have been placed by the bureau. Placements are not confined to persons newly graduated, but include large numbers who have had considerable teaching experience either before or since graduation. It has been possible to place graduates in important positions in normal schools and administrative positions, as well as in high schools, the elementary grades and private schools.

Reports of last year's people indicate that Idaho young people are making good in their chosen field of endeavor. More than 90 per cent of the young people who have been teaching during the past year are reported as successful by the superintendents under whom they do their work. Several of the alumni have been promoted to better positions and a number of Idaho men have been elected to administrative positions. All in all the outlook is reported encouraging for Idaho people who are interested in educational work.

The placement bureau of the university has a high rating with educators in the northwest. It is favorably known for the type of teachers it places, and Miss McCoy not infrequently has calls from points as far distant as Hawaii.

Normals and Colleges Seventeen positions in normal schools and colleges have been filled, as follows: Dwight Disney, summer session, Albion Normal school, Albion, Idaho; Iustina Eitzen, fellowship in language department, Washington State college, Pullman, Washington; Nida W. Greener, Dillon State Normal school, Dillon, Montana; Alene Honeveld, University of Idaho, English department; Mildred Tenifer, Territorial Normal school, Hawaiian Islands, Honolulu; Mark M. Keith, University of Idaho, zoology department; Loren E. Messenger, State Normal school, Lewiston, Idaho; Melrose M. Minger, State Normal school, Dillon, Montana; Evelyn S. Redwood, Territorial Normal school, Hawaiian Islands, Honolulu; Ruth S. Swartz, University of Colorado, Boulder, Colorado; Walter W. Smith, University of Idaho, education department; Gertrude Walters, Training School, Teacher's College, Teton, Idaho; F. L. Wilson, State Normal school, Ashland, Oregon; Ches. S. Miller, Ashland Oregon Normal School, Ashland, Oregon.

DEBATERS TO MAKE MIDWESTERN TOUR

cannot miss more than 12 school days while representing the ASUI in any official activity.

A minimum of three questions will be prepared by the Idaho team. The other teams have shown fine co-operation and have agreed to use standard questions, making it unnecessary for the Idaho men to prepare on seven or eight questions.

To Prepare Three Subjects.

Subjects to be used are as follows: "The Power of the Press," "Protection of American Investments in Foreign Countries" and "Temporary Insanity." Most of the debates will be conducted on a no decision basis. Several guarantees have been assured, according to Walter Slaughter, debate manager. Interest in debate has been unusually active this fall, said Coach Garland. About 65 students, including candidates for men's, women's and freshman teams, reported at the first tryouts last month. The varsity men's squad has been cut down to 10 men, all of whom it is believed will try out for the trip next week.

Toured Three Years Ago.

The middlewestern tour will be the first long trip for Idaho debaters in three years. In 1926 Warren J. Montgomery and J. Lael Simmons were sent by the ASUI on a western trip that included debates with colleges and universities in Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada, Utah and British Columbia. Mr. Garland was appointed coach to succeed H. Carter, Davidson who resigned from the position on the English department faculty to take advanced work at the University of Chicago this fall. He received his M. A. degree from the University of Indiana in 1927. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, and Tau Kappa Alpha, national honorary public speaking fraternity.

Other Budgets Passed. Budgets of other departments of the ASUI were passed Tuesday including athletics, The Argonaut, dramatics, Pep band and rifle team. Several departments will be considered later.

Ethel Lafferty and Sam Hutchings were appointed by Alvin Reading, ASUI president, to investigate the publishing of a song book containing original and official Idaho songs. After some discussion it was decided to take the matter up with Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the department of music, who suggested the advisability of such a publication at one of the first student body assemblies this fall.

Last Game at U. S. C. The advance into the University of California territory will be for three years, Idaho having played her last game at Los Angeles in 1926 when the Trojans won 27 to 14. In 1927 the U. S. C. eleven inflicted a crushing defeat on the Vandals, 55 to 7 at Moscow. The previous year Idaho crack squad held the Trojans to two touchdowns at Los Angeles. Regardless of comparative score the Los Angeles men have a healthy respect for Idaho's prowess and the Idaho fans will not be surprised if the Vandals succeed in holding the Trojans to a far lower score than that Stanford inflicted.

VANDAL BASKETBALL SQUAD TAKES POSSESSION OF GYM; 4 VETS OUT

Coach Rich Fox Has Promising Batch Of Material on Hand as Training Gets Underway

Awaiting only the placing of baskets in the new Memorial gymnasium, the vanguard of what probably will comprise the bulk of Idaho's 1928-29 varsity basketball squad, is impatiently undergoing shooting practice in the old structure at present under the supervision of Coach Rich A. Fox. Four or five lettermen have turned out thus far and another will join the squad at the end of the football season.

Development of a pair of speedy guards who will be able to keep pace with Idaho crack junior forwards—Harold Stowell and Frank McMillan, both of Pocatello—appears Fox's greatest problem. Only one veteran Robert Drummond, Kellogg Junior, will be on hand for a few days at one of the two defensive positions. Not only must Fox find him a suitable running mate, but also a brace of relief guards as well as one or two relief forwards. At forward McMillan was given unanimous choice as one of the five most outstanding on the Pacific Coast in his first year of play last year, largely because of his great scoring ability. Stowell is as fast as his running mate, but probably does not have the basket eye. These two have played together since grade school days.

Two Bets For Center. For center, Darwin Burgher, Rupert, and Harold Thornhill, Kellogg, are lettermen, with Burgher having the advantage of two years experience. Burgher is still out for football, however, and cannot report until the first part of December. Foremost of the non-lettered candidates will be two or three members of the freshman squad last year and two men who have been out of school for one or two years. Hector Zaring, American Falls, who for the past two years starred with the American Falls Damette amateur "outlaw" outfit, is a leading candidate for forward. Zaring is an Idaho native who won the championship, and was named to an all-star position. Zaring is a sophomore, and when here two years ago was prevented from participation because of injuries.

On Fresh String. Virgil Estes, Moscow high school star and all-state selection, a member of the freshman squad of three years ago and a numeral winner, is turning out this year. Last year's freshman squad produced only four men of varsity caliber—but only three will return for action this year, Hugh Duffy, Jerome, forward; Clarence Doyle, Genesee, guard, and Harold Carlson, Kellogg, guard and center. Carlson is out for football at the present time. George Milliner, Caldwell, high scoring freshman last year, did not return to school this fall.

Preliminary tactics have thus far been confined entirely to shooting and light floor work. The first official call will be issued probably within the next 10 days, according to Coach Fox.

Freshman turnouts come at a later date.

FROSH TEAM READY FOR NORMAL GAME

Two Weeks' Rest Fits Eleven for Armistice Day Game

His traveling squad unchosen late Thursday Coach Glenn Jacoby departs the end of the present week for Venatchee where he will pit his freshman eleven Monday against Ellensburg Normal school, conquerors of the University of Washington rocks and also Cheney Normal school.

After a two week's rest the Idaho squad is in good shape and has been working out nightly with scrimmages against the varsity first and second strings occasionally. The last game the yearlings played was against W. S. C. Cougar Cubs at Pullman, a scoreless tie. Idaho has improved immensely since that game and should be in the best possible condition for the fracas.

The week following the Idaho first-year men play Cheney Normal at Cheney and November 24 combine with members of the super-varsity to play a junior college eleven at the Southern Branch of the University of Idaho at Pocatello.

Comparative scores give Coach Glenn Jacoby's men a decided disadvantage. Idaho lost to University of Washington freshmen and two weeks later Ellensburg Normal defeated the University of Washington by the same score. Idaho has one advantage in her favor, however, in the marked improvement shown since the initial contest with the Seattle yearlings. Ellensburg last week defeated Cheney Normal school, Idaho's opponent two weeks hence, 13 to 6, and two weeks previous the Cheney men fell before W. S. C. freshmen 12 to 0.

FORNEY HALL LOSES ITS HOUSE MOTHER

Miss Viola Richardson, For 10 Years in Charge of Campus Home, Goes East; Successor Unnamed

Mrs. Viola Richardson tendered her resignation last week as Forney hall house mother and left Sunday, November 4, to spend the winter with her son, Hugh Richardson, who is an architect in Philadelphia. Having been here 10 years Mrs. Richardson is well known on the Idaho campus.

The near future, according to Miss Richardson will probably be made in the near future, according to Miss Kersey, although no definite arrangement has yet been made.

Discovery of Radio Sets Patient Right

By Elmer Yaggy

Imagine our embarrassment when we stepped out of the infirmary last Thursday night our head taped up and ourselves on crutches when, in our ignorance, we wanted to go back into the hospital and ask the nifty little secretary not to sing so loud because it made our head ache!

"Singin'! Me singin'!" she'd have said contemptuously. "Because it wasn't she." For when we hobbled on our way across the campus clutching desperately at our coat and trying to keep our balance the music changed. Suddenly from List hall we heard the orchestra practicing in a professional way. And a minute later a prima donna strangled in the tennis court.

Great was our confusion. We thought we had injured our brain also. And then we got to the Gamma Phi walk and a deep bass voice floated over from Richardson way.

"Station KGO signing off for the afternoon. Our next program—"

"Oh," we exclaimed, "It's a radio." Every day we notice they turn it on. Every night it vies with the picture show and the library. It has two features which give it priority over the two aforementioned sports. It can be enjoyed at any spot on the campus and it doesn't cost anything.

COUNCIL ASKED TO SEND DELEGATE

Interfraternity Group May Send Representative to National Meet in New York.

The Idaho Interfraternity council received a request last Tuesday from the national Interfraternity council to send a delegate to New York for a national meeting next year. Though nothing has been definitely decided the Idaho men are giving the request consideration, says Allen Janssen, president.

At the present time there are two committees working on the problem of deferred pledging. One committee is conducting a survey to find out if there is room for all the freshmen outside the fraternities. The other is studying the system of the two cards used in some schools. The two committees reported on the work done thus far at a meeting of the local chapter held last Tuesday at the L. D. S. Institute.

BACKBOARDS FOR NEW GYM ORDERED

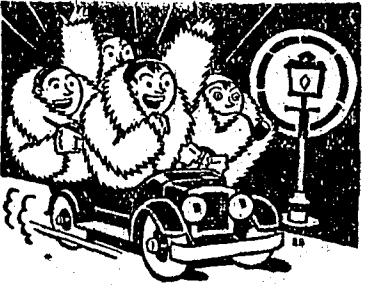

Courts to be Equipped with Modern Backboards; Will be Here for Practice

Backboards for the basketball courts in the new Memorial gymnasium have been ordered by George Horton, graduate manager, and are expected to be here by the time practice is well under way next month. The boards will be constructed of wood, arranged so that they may be swung up to the ceiling out of the way. The practice courts may then be used without obstructions.

There are two indoor baseball diamonds on the new gymnasium floor. These are fitted out with bases and boxes for the pitchers.

MANY JOBS AVAILABLE

Men wishing employment have been urged to leave their names, addresses, telephone numbers and information as to their free time with Theodore Turner, employment director, at his office in Lindley hall. Mr. Turner has had many calls for men in the past week which he could not fill because he did not have the necessary information as to who wanted jobs. Mr. Turner believes that he can supply work for most of those who desire it.

COAST GRIDIRONS MOSTLY IDLE ON THIS WEEKEND

Only Two Conference Tilts Saturday; Cougars Meet U. C. L. A. in Portland

VANDALS TAKE REST

Oregon, Montana and Oregon State Without Games; Fans Watch Seattle Scrap

By Frank E. Judy

Pacific Coast conference football this weekend provides rests for four teams Saturday and offers only two conference contests, California journeying to Washington and Washington State playing the University of California at Los Angeles at Portland. Teams unengaged are Oregon, Oregon State, Montana and Idaho.

The contest of major interest is being played at Seattle where the Golden Bears will attempt to conquer the Huskies. This should be an easy victory for the Blue and Gold whose goal line has not been crossed this season by any conference team, the only score being registered on a place kick by Linnhart, W. S. C. half. There should be an interesting duel between Seattle, California and "Chuck" Carroll, Washington, leading backs of their respective teams.

Cougars Should Win

U. C. L. A. will play Washington State in the only other conference game. The "baby" team has not broken into the conference win column thus far in the season and if the Cougars play their usual brand of football, there will be little likelihood of a Ucla victory. The Staters have a powerful aggregation assembled and will give the Trojans a merry battle later in November.

Stanford meets Santa Clara in a game which may permit the Warner men to run up a fair score. The Saints will be remembered as last year's conquerors of the Cardinals, and immediately following a Stanford loss, in addition to the sting of last year's defeat, will find the big red team in a savage mood. The Olympic club bested Santa Clara 20 to 13 last week.

The University of Southern California is engaged with the University of Arizona. The Trojan second and third strings undoubtedly will see action since earlier in the season, Arizona was held to a 7 to 7 tie by the Uclans. The regulars will be rested after the strenuous fray with Stanford last Saturday.

smelting furnaces, one utilizing the Anaconda company's regular method and the other embodying features which the supreme court holds are patent infringements. Mr. Ellis will watch over these experiments to see that the run of the two furnaces is parallel. He will also be the Anaconda company's expert witness in metallurgical phases of the case.

Graduated Here in 1918

Following graduation from the University of Idaho in 1912 Mr. Ellis entered upon a practical career in the mining industry which brought such success that in 1923 his alma mater invited him to return to the campus as instructor in mining and metallurgy. In addition to his teaching and research duties Mr. Ellis pursued sufficient graduate study to obtain a master's degree in metallurgy. Between 1905 and 1912 Mr. Ellis did considerable practical mining in the Coeur d'Alenes. From 1912 to 1915 he was assistant testing engineer, teaching plant foreman, flotation foreman and concentrating foreman with the Anaconda company; 1916 to 1917 he was superintendent of concentration, Northern Ore company, Edwards, N. Y.; 1918 he was in Field Artillery service; 1919 to 1922, he was plant superintendent and engineer for the B. & A. Mining company, Okmulgee, Oklahoma; 1922 to 1923, manager and part owner, Engineer Mines company, Idaho City. Mr. Ellis also is a past commander of the Idaho department of the American Legion and a member of Sigma Xi and Sigma Tau honorary scientific fraternities. As acting dean of the school of mines Professor Ellis also has been acting secretary and director of the Idaho state bureau of mines and geology.

Kelly Regrets Loss

"While the university and the mining industry of the state regrets to see Mr. Ellis depart from Idaho, it nevertheless rejoices that another man trained by the Idaho school of mines has been recognized by one of the country's largest mining companies," said President Kelly when he received the resignation. "This resignation also is another indication of the difficulty which educational institutions continually must face in endeavoring to hold highly trained specialists when their qualifications become apparent to private industry to the extent that it will compete in salary inducements for their services."

Resignation of Professor Ellis leaves the Idaho school of mines without a dean or an acting dean and the state bureau of mines and geology without a directing head. President Kelly has announced that he will proceed at once to the appointment of a permanent dean for the school of mines. When appointed this dean will, by law, also become secretary of the state bureau of mines and geology.
