Six Teams Will Be Eliminated on First Night of Series

NEW SYSTEM USED

"Modern Young Woman Unwomanly," Is Question For Men

Intramural debating will begin next Wednesday evening with 12 simultaneous debates starting at a dozen group houses at 7 o'clock in the evening.

Eliminate Formality. In an attempt to do away with much of the formality that has previously marked the group contests, the debates are to be held in the fraternity and sorority houses.

Questions for the debates have been picked by the sponsors with the idea in mind of choosing topics in which students are personally interested.

Peterson in Charge. In the absence of George Huber, who is to be a member of the varsity team making a barnstorming tour next month, Ralph Peterson will have charge.

The schedule is as follows: the affirmative team being listed first: Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Delta Theta; Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Nu; Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Gamma Delta; Delta Chi vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; Delta Chi vs. Alpha Tau Omega; Tau Kappa Epsilon vs. Beta Chi; Lindley Hall vs. Tau Mu Alpha; Ridenbaugh hall, bye.

Gamma Phi Beta vs. Delta Gamma; Kappa Kappa Gamma vs. Kappa Alpha Theta; Alpha Phi vs. Pi Beta Phi; Alpha Chi Omega vs. Omega Alpha; Forney hall vs. Hays hall; Daphne Teth Gimel, bye.

INJURIES TAKE TOLL OF VANDALS

Barrett Breaks Collar Bone and Martin Receives Head Injury

Injuries which will handicap the Idaho Vandals in their game tomorrow at Missoula were sustained in scrimmages Wednesday afternoon.

The injury Jinx did not confine it to the varsity squad as Arthur Spangy, freshman center, and all-state selection during his last year at Nampa high school was carried off the field Wednesday with a broken ankle.

FROSH VS. BRANCH GAME CANCELLED

University Officials Here and At Pocatello Change Plans, Presumably Due To Financial Reasons.

Decision this week by officials of the Southern Branch of the University of Idaho at Pocatello, calls for cancellation of a tentative game November 24 between the southern branch and a super-varsity eleven from Moscow.

The game originally scheduled was only tentative, and was cancelled presumably for financial reasons, it appears.

It is quite possible that a similar game will be played next year, or at least one between the southern branch and the Idaho freshmen.

CHANCES FOR W.S.C. TO DOWN TROJANS CONSIDERED SLIM

Cougar Victory Would Be Upset of 1928 Conference Season

CARDS PLAY U. OF W.

Oregon and O. S. C. Meet in Traditional Contest Tomorrow

Washington State's "opportunity" game to be played with the University of Southern California at Los Angeles Saturday, will occupy the undivided attention of northwest football fans.

The Cougars possibilities are not considered serious in California circles and one sport writer referred to the coming game as "a W. S. C. victory would be the greatest upset registered this season" which is a firm way of saying that the Cougars are conceded but an outside chance of winning.

Cougars Powerful. Coach Hollingsberry has assembled a powerful aggregation which will give the Trojans plenty of trouble even if it does bow in defeat.

Huber, Slaughter Get Debate Trip

Two Juniors Chosen to Make Midwestern Tour Next Month

With the selection of George Huber, Kellogg, and Walter Slaughter, Twin Falls, from the varsity group trying out Wednesday night, to accompany Coach J. V. Garland on the coming midwest debate tour, plans for the trip are practically completed.

Huber and Slaughter will prepare four questions for use on the trip, including: "Temporary Insanity as a Defense for Crime"; "Armed Protection of Foreign Investment"; "Power of the Press"; and "Abolition of Trial by Jury."

On December 4 at Moscow an Idaho team, to be selected Friday night, will meet a team from the University of Montana, which will be making a tour of the Pacific coast.

O. S. C. PLANS FOR BIG HOMECOMING

Entire Town and Campus To Be Decorated; Will Celebrate With Dances and Parties.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, (O.P.)—The most extensive preparation in years is being made for the annual Homecoming weekend, November 15-17, here.

The big feature, the football contest between the University of Oregon and Oregon State, is subsidized by such events as the huge freshman bonfire, telly dances, student body dances, a motor parade, that promises to outdo Gabriel in his noise-attempts, lighting of homesites and sophomore freshman tussles in a bar-rush and push-ball contest.

SENIOR BALL TO BE NOVEL AFFAIR

Graduating Class Allotted 125 Tickets for Dance December 1

The Senior ball, to be held at the Elks temple December 1, gives promise of being the best in recent years, says Burdette Belknap, chairman.

Arthur Ensign and Phil DuSault are in charge of the decorations which will be novel and in keeping with the elaborate motif of the dance.

Entertainment will be furnished by local talent which is considered by the committee to be fully as good as could be obtained from the town.

In former years ticket sales have never been checked with the idea of having a strictly limited number. This year the finance committee has worked out a program financing the entire dance from the sale of but 150 tickets.

MARKSMEN'S SQUAD CUT BY LIEUT. HART

Many Are Eliminated in First Round of Rifle Tryouts

On account of the limited number of targets on the indoor rifle range in Lewis court, Lieutenant Hart, instructor in men's marksmanship, has found it necessary to cut the squad of nearly eighty men who have been shooting regularly for the past two weeks, to 42 for future tryouts.

The men remaining on the squad, fired the best scores in preliminary tryouts which were open to all men registered in the university.

Twelve more men will be dropped at the end of next week following further elimination shoots. The 30 remaining men will constitute the regular squad for the semester. Teams of 10 men each will be chosen to fire in matches to be scheduled with universities in all parts of the country later in the year.

At the end of the year the ten men having the highest total scores will receive the rifle team sweater, a minor sport athletic award given by the ASUI.

OLYMPICS STRONG ON PACIFIC COAST

'Chuck' Diehl, Former Idaho Star, Outstanding on Club Lineup

While critics are busily engaged naming the leading football teams of the country, the powerful Olympic club eleven of San Francisco continues to defeat the best collegiate teams on the Pacific coast. To date the Olympians have scored 193 points to their opponents' 24, 18 being scored in the game with Santa Clara, which was regarded lightly and a full squad not present.

Charles Diehl, former Idaho star, has played a prominent part in the Olympic's success, particularly in the victories over Stanford and California.

The scores to date are: Olympic Club 38, Stanford Army 0. Olympic Club 12, Stanford 6. Olympic Club 52 Y. M. I. 0. Olympic Club 46 Coast Navy 0. Olympic Club 12 California 0. Olympic Club 20 Santa Clara 15. Olympic Club 13 St. Ignatius 0. Totals 193 24

The membership roll call will continue until December 1.

ERB'S WARRIORS ENTRAIN TODAY FOR MISSOULA, AND VICTORY

Vandals In Top Form For University Of Montana Classic Saturday; Twenty Six Men Making Trip

Counting heavily on victory, but not by a large margin, Coach Charley Erb and his Vandal grid horde of 26 this afternoon sallied north and eastward, headed for the Missoula camp, where tomorrow afternoon they will assume the role of the opposition team for the University of Montana's Homecoming game. Incidentally the game will find both Idaho and Montana in the peak of condition from the present conference season.

Erbs Thursday evening rounded off the rough spots on a relatively rested and recuperated team, and Wednesday put his squad through the toughest practice scrimmage of the season against the freshman first string, Friday afternoon before leaving for Montana, a light signal and kicking and passing practice was all that Erb's men indulged in, before entraining to Spokane. They were due to arrive in Missoula early Saturday morning.

Wednesday evening's scrimmage brought forth a trio of casualties two of which resulted in virtual retirement of players for the remainder of the season. Kenneth Barrett, substitute halfback, received a broken collar-bone, and Arthur Spangy, freshman center, had his left ankle badly sprained. Elmer Martin, regular varsity guard, suffered head injuries, but not sufficient to put him out of the play against the Grizzlies Saturday.

EDITOR OF BUCKET RESIGNS POSITION

Maryvina Goldsmith Leaves Quarterly in Charge of "Bob" Ailshie

Maryvina Goldsmith, acting editor of the Blue Bucket, campus humor magazine, tendered her resignation to the ASUI executive board Wednesday morning. Miss Goldsmith was appointed acting editor of the first issue of the magazine five weeks ago to fill the vacancy caused by the failure of the elected editor to return to the university this fall. She was editor-in-chief of the publication last year.

Robert Ailshie, acting associate editor, has taken over her duties. Assisting him on the editorial staff are Dale Goss, Gerald Grimm, Arthur Ensign, Howard Siggins and Jess Egurrola.

The first issue of the magazine will be distributed November 23. The publication is a quarterly, but due to the unusual circumstances this fall, October issue was not published, leaving only one this semester.

It is understood that a complete change in editorial policy has been adopted. According to staff members, the magazine will not contain any material of a literary nature, but will be a purely college humorous publication. The number of cartoons has been increased, and a four-color cover design has been designed by the art staff.

A subscription drive will be started Monday.

U. OF I. LIVESTOCK WINS HIGH HONORS

Cattle At Exposition Awarded Ribbons and Medals by Judges

The University of Idaho made a name for itself at the 1928 Portland International Livestock exposition, judging from the number of ribbons carried off by her entries. Thirty-two first places in the wool, sheep and cattle divisions were scored by Idaho stock, it is announced by college of agriculture officials.

A feature of Idaho's participation in this year's show was the entry for the first time of her wool fleeces, which won four first places, three seconds and one third.

In addition to her first place honors, Idaho carried off 23 second rank awards, 12 thirds, three fourths, two championships and one grand championship.

In the wool section Idaho competed with many of the leading wool producing sections of the world, including Australia.

Final tryouts for prospective members of the University Glee club will be completed between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock today in Prof. Theodore Kratt's studio in the Music hall. Tryouts were begun yesterday.

FIRST SHORT PLAYS PLEASE AUDIENCE

One-Act Dramas Are Given Again in Auditorium Tonight

An audience which showed its appreciation for the opening group of one-act plays by the Dramatics people this fall, half-filled the auditorium last night to see "The Vanishing Princess," "Tired," "Two Crooks and a Lady," and "The Home for the Friendly."

The plays are being repeated this evening at 8 o'clock.

Portrayal of Mrs. Simms-Vane, a paralytic who cannot move, was one of the most difficult and best characterizations of the plays. This part was played by Miriam Howerton in "Two Crooks and a Lady." Miss Howerton is in the advanced class of play production, and is remembered in various roles in dramas the last two years, Estelle Pickering and Jess Honeywell also veteran players, were in this robbery play.

Leslie Lamelle and Frank McKee had outstanding roles in "The Vanishing Princess." Harry Bobb, as Matinka, and Harold Packer, as the king, played well.

Comedy characters in "The Home for the Friendly" were done by Mary Ellen Adams, Frances Gallet, Merle Frizzelle, who provoked most laughter, and Milton Lockwood. The most serious parts were by Lois Kennedy, Charles Herndon and Donald Corless.

A tiny baby is the pivot for the plot of "Tired" in which Cora Jensen and Helen Wann, as two tired sisters, grumble about their hard lots in life. Ruth Randall and Melvin Stewart play here also.

Musical selections were given between plays by a trio composed of Josephine Harland of the piano, Estelle Rulck, cello, and Ruth Newhouse, violin. This is the first time that the one-act plays have had musical numbers. The orchestra always plays for three-act plays, however.

The next group of one-act plays will be given December 13 and 14, the first long play of the year, "Fourteen," will be ready December 6 and 7.

THE NEW 7:30 RULE

FRATERNITY AND SORORITY Dinner guests must leave promptly at 7:30 o'clock on week nights, is the text of a ruling announced earlier this fall by the dean of women.

The former rule made 8 o'clock the hour for adeles. The difference of 30 minutes directly affects the custom of exchanging dinner guests by group houses on the campus. These customs originated years ago, as a means of promoting better feeling and broader acquaintance among the members of the fraternities and sororities.

Those who protest the change say that the time remaining for dancing after dinner is cut so short as to make the old custom practically useless. They claim, with good reason, that people don't get acquainted while eating dinner.

Those in favor of the new plan say that it is now possible to study on guest nights as well as other nights. It is true that sometimes guests did not leave until nearly 8:30. By the time everyone was settled again, as much as two hours had been lost. Sorority women point out that often at fraternity houses where they were entertained, time began to drag when one by one their hosts would slip out, leaving only the men who had brought them.

If guests and hosts alike were punctual, the new ruling would make very little difference. Fraternity men are notorious for being late. Dinner at 6 o'clock, and they never arrive until about 15 minutes after. Last year 12 men from one national fraternity kept a group of sorority women waiting 25 minutes. If everyone were on time, and appeared promptly at the hour specified, and not 20 minutes later, dinner would be over before 7 o'clock, still leaving enough time for dancing. That is seldom the case, for dinner on guest nights usually drags along until 7:15. Ten or 15 minutes for dancing is very little, just enough to make it aggravating.

One fraternity has solved the problem by the simple expedient of serving dinner promptly at 5:45 instead of half an hour or so later. When the members of this house call at a house for their guests, they are on time, and if their guests do not keep them waiting, they are seated at the dinner table at 5:45, through at least by 6:45, leaving 45 minutes for dancing. That is an idea that other groups might well adopt.

ANOTHER PETITION

LAST NIGHT petitions were circulated about the campus by a group of students who are agitating for a three-day Thanksgiving vacation. The petition is addressed to the academic council, and asks that the council declare Friday and Saturday, November 30 and December 1, holidays in addition to Thanksgiving day, November 29, which is a holiday on the university calendar.

The petitions will not lack signers. Reports last night indicated that the majority of the members of group houses and halls had signed soon after dinner. Practically everyone would like two extra days holiday—many who live in northern Idaho would mean two more school days next spring, or two days more deducted from the Christmas vacation period. Vacations have already been cut short two weeks, because of the later opening of the university this fall.

If student sentiment is overwhelmingly in favor of the longer Thanksgiving vacation, the academic council may grant the request.

The same situation is bound to come up later, whenever a holiday comes within a day or two of a weekend. If the university opens two weeks later again next year, the same thing will happen, vacations shortened so that the school year will close at the regular time in the spring.

ON THE SEVEN-THIRTY RULE

It used to be that— Dinners at fraternities Did terminate Quite promptly at eight After everyone had eat Smashed up spuds and drank Brown sauce deliciously And had danced divinely sweet On each other's tender feet.

But now it is that— Dinners at fraternities Become simply Rushing Tea He's, Rushing in and rushing out Gobble down and hobble out Whirl around and then kerplack Seven-thirty, says the clock.

And soon 'twill be that— Dinners at fraternities Devoid of thrills Will be just pills Of concentrated chow. Hold your nose, down it goes, Wow! Time to dance at dinners, now Seven-thirty comes and how!

—Helen Kerr.

HONOR SYSTEM IN CHINA

OUTBURSTS against the honor system, instead of being confined to this campus, seem to be worldwide, as evidenced by the uproar recently in Nanking, China, when civil examinations were disrupted by cries of "cheat." In defiance of the honor system, many students came to the examination room with notes hidden in their hats, shoes, socks, and even with text-books concealed in their voluminous sleeves.

Honest students, upon spying the deceptive methods, began snatching away the papers of the cheaters and a free-for-all battle was waged in the classroom to be quelled only by the arrival of the police. The honor system was maintained because the next day all the students were carefully searched as they entered the room, and the supervised students resumed their examinations in peace, according to an account in "Times." That Chinese methods of defying the honor system will not be adopted by American university students is not greatly feared, since their coat sleeves will not permit concealment of texts, and they wear no hats in which to conceal their notes.

—Dally Texan.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor: A short time ago there appeared in the Idaho Argonaut a grossly erroneous article concerning the enrollment of our school of mines. The article stated that the enrollment had decreased from 50 in 1927 to 49 in 1928.

In 1927 there were 46 undergraduate students and four graduate students, making a total of 50, as was published in "The Argonaut." This year's enrollment was 49 undergraduate and three graduate students at the beginning of school year making a total of 52 as compared with 50 for last year. Since the publication of the above mentioned figures, one more student has transferred to the school of mines.

There has never been a decrease in the enrollment in the school of mines; the enrollment of the school of mines; shown an upward trend. This year the enrollment in the freshman class is 20 as compared to 13 last year—an increase of 65 per cent. A decrease in enrollment in so small a school as the school of mines might well be interpreted as chaotic; a condition that does not exist in the school of mines in spite of what has appeared in the newspapers during the past few months. The grade of instruction in the school of mines is higher this year than it has ever been in the history of the school and there is at this time no reason to believe it shall not survive the vicissitudes of the new administration.

The writer is of the opinion that a statement, showing a decrease in the enrollment of any school, should be thoroughly checked before it is released to the press. Yours sincerely, WM. D. MARK.

Figures on the school of mines enrollment referred to by M. Mark were taken from records on file in the president's office and released in "The Argonaut" on October 26. Since the information came from the only official source available, The Argonaut accepted it without suspicion. Nevertheless, Mr. Mark claims the information was "grossly erroneous" in that his data shows there were then 50 students in that school. The Argonaut's figure, 49, showed a decrease in the enrollment over last year.

In the same story with the above figures were those of all other schools in the university, and in addition to the school of mines, three others were on record with a smaller enrollment than last year. The entire article was based on facts carefully prepared to present an uncolored account of the situation. If The Argonaut erred, the editor welcomes opportunity to undo the damage.

On the other hand, The Argonaut strongly resents being linked with whatever mediums that might have published articles tending to paint a "chaotic" situation in any department of the University of Idaho. The Argonaut is first, last and always, striving for a bigger and better Idaho.

The Editor.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis, (P.I.P.)—Oregon State students may now indulge in Sunday movies by virtue of the success of a question passed by the townfolk and students in the recent elections. Denied this luxury in the last three elections, students and those among the townpeople who were for it, turned out en masse to pass it by a 2 to 1 majority.

Little dispute, however, between the college, churches and the town, entered into the pre-election propaganda, a situation that characterized the placing on the ballot of a similar question in other college towns.

VANDAL FROSH SUPER DEFEAT AT WENATCHEE

Ellensburg School Teachers Romp Over Jacoby's Crew For 12 to 0 Victory

CONTEST IS RAGGED

Breaks Go Against Idaho Yearlings, Aiding Washington to Early Lead

Over 3000 football fans saw the Ellensburg State Normal school score a 12-0 victory over the Vandal frosh at Wenatchee last Monday in the feature of the American Legion Anatole day celebration.

The Ellensburg eleven scored its first touchdown early in the game after Wilkie, Vandal fullback, had made a 50-yard run around end, but was called back because an Idaho lineman fouled. This put the ball on Idaho's 15-yard line. The punt was blocked and the Frosh failed to recover. Three attempts at line plunging failed to gain for the teachers but on the next play R. Peterson slipped around end for a touchdown and 6 points. The kick for extra point was blocked. Ellensburg's second touchdown was the result of a fumbled punt on Idaho's 20-yard line. B. Peterson of the normal squad fell on the pigskin and his mates tumbled on two reverse fakes. The attempt for the extra point failed again.

Idaho had several opportunities to score but apparently lacked the necessary punch at the critical moment. Babe and R. Peterson were the outstanding stars for the normal team, while Davis and Raych did stellar work for the Idaho yearling crew.

YEARLING SQUAD DWINDLES FAST

Hopes for Victory Over Cheney Normal Go With Recent Developments

Frosh hopes for a victory over the fast-traveling Cheney Normal outfit received a severe setback last Wednesday when Art Spaugy, regular center, suffered a badly twisted ankle. Spaugy, trainer says, is out for the rest of the season. According to latest reports it will be two weeks before he can leave the infirmary.

Paul Petzolt, sub-center, is being groomed by Coach Jacoby to take over the center position in the lineup. Spaugy's injury leaves a big hole in the line that is causing the frosh coach no small amount of worry. Siebert has recovered from injuries that prevented him from playing in the Wenatchee game and is ready for the next contest.

That bigaboo of coaches, six weeks grades, has descended upon the frosh squad in all its fury. Several players are denied a chance to play any more football this year. Two of the first string men are out, and several from the second lineup failed to make their grades. Hanford, fullback, and Randall, end, are two of the biggest losses.

The Cheney eleven, next on Jacoby's calendar, is enjoying one of its best years, experts say. Many of the strong teams of the coast have been beaten by the Cheney squad, including the W. S. C. frosh, Washington, Oregon and Oregon State. One of the outstanding performers of the backfield is Al Moran, former U. of I. student.

Despite the fact that the dope favors Cheney to win by two or three touchdowns the Vandal Yearlings are determined to break into the right side of the won and lost ledger.

The team will leave Friday afternoon with 22 men and a manager making the trip.

Swimming Tank Too Dainty, Says "Quester"

The other day we heard a rumor of a new swimming pool on the Idaho campus. "Ah, thinks we, the water tank is going into the discard. My, the frosh will miss it! So we stop at the registrar's office and ask one of the girls if she knows anything about it.

"Oh, yes, the new swimming tank. It's over in the new gym. It's open for inspection if you care to go over and see it."

Swimming tank! With great joy and glee we start on our quest, for we were very tired of the antidiluvian mud puddle we'd used heretofore.

Out the north door we went and over to the old gym. After that we had to get our rubbers and pick our way daintily on the new cement walk.

The empty curtainless windows of Jenkins cottage stared as we walked boldly down by Lewis court in broad daylight.

We decided it certainly had been "in quest of" by the time we had ascended the steps of the new Memorial gymnasium.

Inside we found a wonderful dance floor marked off with black lines. It was equipped with a balcony for chaperones and everything. Scattered around this were a lot of little rooms fitted up with paint pails and saw horses. We found a foot bath tucked away inside but we couldn't find any swimming pool. We are still "in quest of."

Princeton Grid Coach Writes Hot Letter on Cigarette Advertising

ELYRIA, Ohio. (IP)—Football coaches throughout the United States are joining with Coach Bill Raper, of Princeton, in a campaign to put an end to cigarette companies advertising their brands through recommendations from football players and coaches.

Raper wrote a letter to all grid coaches in the country, which read as follows:

The Lucky Strike cigarette company has been conducting an active advertising campaign through signed endorsements of their products by numerous professional baseball, golf and other athletes. These have been appearing conspicuously in magazines and on billboards.

"I have noticed with real concern, in the past few weeks, a leading football coach in the East, and several players prominent in football during their undergraduate days, have been lending the use of their names in this campaign. In my opinion, the endorsement of any cigarette by anyone connected with football is distinctly harmful to the best interests of the game. As coaches we again, and again stated that no one could hope to play football, even moderately well, who did not keep his body in good condition.

"I believe cigarette smoking distinctly harmful to any boy or girl under 25 years of age. No one on my football squad is permitted to touch a cigarette during the season.

"Under all these circumstances, in my opinion, it comes with particularity bid grace for any football coach to advertise or endorse cigarette smoking."

TUMBLING CLASSES LACK EQUIPMENT

New Physical Education Class Will Start Workouts as Soon as Apparatus Arrives

Tumbling classes will begin as soon as apparatus, ordered several weeks ago, arrives, says R. F. Hutchinson, director of physical education. It was planned to begin preliminary workouts during the first weeks of school but lack of adequate equipment has caused a delay. New sets of Indian clubs, dumb bells and tumbling horses are included in the equipment order which should arrive in Moscow soon.

At the Southern Branch, where Coach Hutchinson has been athletic director for the past six years, tumbling teams composed entirely of freshmen and sophomore men have won distinction in the Rocky Mountain conference. According to Hutchinson's tentative plans members of the Idaho tumbling squad may perform during the intermission of basketball games this year in addition to complete programs presented entirely by the tumblers.

Two graduate students in the school of forestry are engaged in important research projects this year. It is announced by Dr. E. E. Salting, a forestry graduate in the class of 1928, is studying blue stain in wood for its effect on the penetrating and absorption of preservatives. A leading bridge expert once said, "The aces and kings play themselves; it's the little spots that make games."

What's true in bridge seems equally true in the cigarette business. Aces to deuces, spades to clubs—from the very first deal, Chesterfield made every card good!

No risky finesses, no sharp double squeezes — Chesterfield rose to world-wide popularity by straight honest selling with a straight honest product — an outstanding success in cigarette history.

So Chesterfield can bid high. Tobacco quality, perfect blending, purity, mildness, natural sweetness — with a hand like that, Chesterfield can redouble your smoking pleasure . . . and today, next month, next year, keep right on fulfilling the contract.
