Last Minute Baskets Win For Oregon State, 23-22

Vandal Lead Sinks Before Beaver Attack Here Monday Evening; Unable To Convert Many Free Throws

A volley of last-minute baskets which cut Idaho's seven-point lead into "nothingness," added to the Vandal inability to sink free throws in the last half, allowed Oregon State's crew of rough, blonde-haired giants to eke out a 23 to 22 victory over the Gem Staters last night in the Memorial gymnasium. Idaho had led all the way, and with exception of once during the first few minutes of the game, the score had not even tied.

With less than 10 minutes to go, Idaho sat comfortably on top of a 21 to 14 lead that seemed to hold the game on ice, but the fighting Beavers were not to be denied their scoring chances. The break came when an Idaho man fouled Callahan in his attempt to make a basket, and Callahan made his first free throw, but missed his second. The ball was tipped to Ballard, standing to one side of the free throw ring and an easy toss that did not even touch the basket rim, cut Idaho's margin down another two points.

Long Shots Fall

With barely a minute to go, Idaho tried desperately to work the ball in for close shots, and falling, Stowell took two long chances from the center of the floor, one nearly counting. Idaho had the ball in her possession most of the time, but could not close the hoop in the previous closing minutes of play. Idaho led at the halftime 16 to 10.

Wootely off on shots under the basket, nevertheless Idaho managed to run up a considerable lead in the latter part of the first half, with Stowell, McMillin and Thornhill doing the firing. Idaho's conversion of only three out of seven free throw chances in the second half, however, told the story.

Stowell High Man

For Idaho Stowell was high man with nine points, McMillin closely tagging him with six counters. Oregon State had no outstanding scorers, each player contributing to the tally column. Frank Wascher, veteran guard, was high man of the evening for the visitors with six points, and in the first half was the individual defensive star. For Idaho Drummond starred on defense.

Dobbin Makes Campus Paths by Intuition, While Horseless Carriages Lose Themselves in Snow

The old grey mare may not be what she used to be, but she sure must have been some horse then! What more useful, ornamental and necessary animal, invention, or thing can there be than good old Dobbin when the weather man has outdone himself to hide the paintless sides of the Music hall, and erase the sidewalk entirely? The sun, if any, rises on a trafficless world. In vain it looks for cross campus paths and good old cracked cement.

"They jest simply ain't none." The fellows who start furnaces and turn on things, hours before breakfast, hunt out the log book and a compass to brave the uncharted wastes. The trees droop and weep icicles over the probable plight of the 2000 students and professors who will never be able to pilot their galoshes, boots,

EX-IDAHO MAN NEVADA COACH

George Philbrook, Former Track Coach Here and One Time Olympian Man Will Coach Football.

George Philbrook, track coach at the University of Idaho in 1925 and 1927 and at the present time head football and track coach at Whitford college in California, has been selected as head football coach at the University of Nevada, according to press dispatches Monday.

During his stay at Idaho, Philbrook produced some of the best track teams Idaho has seen in years. Two meets in particular, being the outstanding one lost to W. S. C., 66 to 65 at Pullman, in which three Idaho all-time records were shattered, and the one lost to the University of Washington, 68 to 63, the only meet during the year in which Washington had to run a relay to clinch the meet. Philbrook took three men to the coast meet at Los Angeles, who placed high in their respective events giving Idaho 10 points in the meet. The men were Donald Cleaver, Jay Thompson and Jack Mitchell. Cleaver a two-miler and the other two hurdlers.

Philbrook himself was an athlete of note. He was all-western tackle at Notre Dame in 1909 and 1910 and was a member of the United States 1912 Olympic team, his specialty being weights and the decathlon event. Before coming to Idaho, Philbrook coached at Multnomah Athletic club in Portland.

KNIGHTS TO HANDLE GYM CONGESTION

Definite Arrangements Held Up Pending Arrival of SAs, According to Intercollegiate Knights Head.

Systematic handling of the large crowds which have been attending basketball contests in the new Memorial gymnasium has been held up pending the arrival of the theater seats, which are to be installed, according to Kenneth Hensley, president of the Intercollegiate Knights. No definite date for the arrival of the seats could be obtained from the graduate manager's office yesterday, but it was intimated that they would be here soon.

Crowding at the entrances and exits of the gymnasium has presented a serious problem since the first of the basketball season and the Intercollegiate Knights are working with the ASU and Blue Key in an effort to find a suitable manner in which to handle the congestion. The condition is not quite so serious as some think, however, for Hensley pointed out that the crowd of over 2000 which attended the Oregon State-Idaho game had left the gymnasium in exactly 10 minutes from the time the final gun was fired.

With the installation of the seats sections probably will be roped off and one or two sections will be filled at a time. Exits will be handled in the same way and in this manner the jamming which has been prevalent probably can be averted.

The new scoreboard has been put in place and was operated for the first time this season during the Oregon State-Idaho game by the Intercollegiate Knights.

THOMSON NEW HEAD EPISCOPAL CLUB

The monthly business and social meeting of the Episcopal club will be held Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Guild hall, with a special program planned.

At a special meeting of the club held last week Andrew Thomson was elected president of the group for the second semester. Other officers are Catherine York, vice president, and William Shamberger, secretary-treasurer.

DURANT LECTURE TICKETS ON SALE

Spurs and Knights to Handle Admission To Noted Philosopher's Speech, February 1.

Tickets for Dr. Will Durant's lecture, "Is Progress Real?" to be given here Friday evening, February 1, will be sold by Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights, underclass service organizations. Doctor Durant's appearance here is being sponsored by the Moscow chapter of the American Association of University Women.

Doctor Durant is the author of "The Story of Philosophy," the text which Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, head of the department of philosophy, is using in his history of philosophy courses.

"Transition," a more recent book, has not reached its former popularity in sales.

The admission for the lecture February 1 has been made low enough so that everyone can attend, said Miss Katherine Jensen, chairman of the committee bringing Doctor Durant here. Students can buy half-price tickets by presenting their ASU tickets to the Spur or Intercollegiate Knights solicitors. Townspeople will get tickets at Hodgins'.

WOMEN SCHEDULE TRIANGLE DEBATES

Idaho to Compete With Oregon and Washington in New Series

Two women's teams from the University of Idaho will take part in a triangular debate with the Universities of Washington and Oregon, April 18, it was announced last night by Marjorie Albertson, women's debate manager. The Idaho women recently completed a no decision series with Whitman college and Washington State college on the question of Mussolini's benefit to Italy.

"Resolved: That state universities should require written college board examinations for entrance" is the question that has been selected for the April debates. "This subject has not been argued yet by Idaho teams this year.

According to plans now being worked out, the affirmative team from the University of Idaho will meet the Washington team here and a negative team travels to Eugene to debate the University of Oregon. These debates will complete the 3-year contract for debates Idaho has with Oregon and Washington.

On the trip to Oregon university the Idaho team plans to debate with Pacific university at Forest Grove, Ore., and Oregon State college at Corvallis.

PICK HUBER TO MANAGE DEBATE

Kellogg Junior Will Fill Unexpired Term of Walter Slaughter Who Resigned

George L. Huber, junior in the college of letters and science, was elected men's debate manager at a meeting of the variety debate squads Friday. He will finish the unexpired term of Walter Slaughter who resigned giving as his reason withdrawal from the university at the end of the semester. Mr. Huber has been assistant debate manager during the past semester.

Mr. Huber has participated in freshman and varsity debate for two and one-half years, and recently with Walter Slaughter, made a 4000-mile barnstorming tour through the middle west. He is a member of Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, and is junior men's representative on the ASU executive board. He is a member of Sigma Chi social fraternity.

AUTO INDUSTRY IS SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Recent Developments and Improvements Explained to Mechanical Engineers by Professor Beresford.

"The Modern Automobile and Its Improvements," was the subject of the meeting of the Idaho student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, held Wednesday afternoon at the Engineering building. Prof. Hobart Beresford, of the agricultural engineering department, spoke on the subject, "Recent Developments in the Automobile Industry," explaining how the great increase in engine horse power is developed.

G. J. Bloor, local automobile dealer, who recently returned from a visit to the large automobile plants in the east, gave an interesting talk on "The Trend of Automobile Manufacturing." He brought out that the manufacturers would have to resort to export trade if they were to sell all the cars modern methods make it possible to build. He also pointed out that though the manufacturing of cars has increased greatly in the last year sales have decreased.

PRaises American Co-Eds

EVANSTON, Ill. The American co-ed has not only "pep" and life, but attains high scholarship, says Dr. Ludwig Muehlner, German educator, who is spending some time at Northwestern university as an exchange professor.

"Your students are strange," he says, "The men beat one another in their fraternity houses and then go out and cooperate with one another to the fullest extent."

ANGELL PREDICTS BIG ENROLMENT AT SOUTHERN BRANCH

Says Total May Reach 1500 Within the Next Five Years

WILL RESIGN JULY 1

New Science Hall One of Finest in Country, Is Report

Within five years the Southern Branch of the University of Pocatello, predicts Dr. M. F. Angell, acting executive dean at Pocatello, who arrived in Moscow Friday to attend faculty conferences on the junior and senior college program. Since his arrival his time has been taken up with a long succession of faculty and committee meetings, lunches, dinners, speeches and appointments. He will leave for Pocatello Thursday, according to his present plans.

Approximately 600 students are enrolled at the Southern Branch, reports Dean Angell, an increase of 23 per cent over last year. A fall two-year course, identical with the underclass work here, is offered, and in pharmacy a three-year course is given leading to a bachelor's degree. The building program last year included the completion of a new $125,000 Science hall, rebuilding of the top floor of the Administration building, and improvements on the men's dormitory, infirmary and heating plant. The attitude of people in Pocatello and in southeastern section of the state has changed entirely from the old and bitter antagonism against the university to a sincere desire to cooperate with the "Greater University of Idaho," Doctor Angell said.

Dean M. F. Angell

Resigning in July Dean Angell was placed in charge at Pocatello a year and a half ago when the "Tech" was made a part of the university. During that time he has retained his former position as dean of the college of letters and

by Dorothy Patrie

How much protection are pajamas against snow? Is it very cold? Do you feel surprised when you wake up in a snowdrift? Ralph Olmstead, red-headed Kappa Sigma pledge, offers information on any of the points above. A man of experience.

The fraternity brothers discovered Ralph sleeping sweetly at 10:30 last Thursday morning. That wouldn't do. If the pledge hadn't anything else to do there was the front hall to scrub, and the sleeping porch windows to wash! Seven upperclassmen tiptoed into the porch. They very carefully and tenderly picked Ralph up and carried him softly down the stairs. "Ah they're taking me down by the fire in the parlor—where his size and war-rim", he murmured happily, and went back to sleep. The upperclassmen chuckled satirically, and opened the front door. In another moment one pair of lavender silk pajamas, containing one reheated pledge, sailed neatly in a three-foot pile of snow.

Ralph yelled, sputtered, and is reported to have used naughty and impure language. The upperclassmen sternly bade him roll over. Ralph obeyed. Then looking up, he saw approaching a pretty brown-eyed girl who sits next to him in Spanish. With a yell he high-dived over the heads of the upperclassmen, and disappeared within the house.

Head of Plant Pathology Department Represents College of Agriculture At National Convention

Dr. C. W. Hungerford, head of the plant pathology department, who is now representing the Idaho College of Agriculture at the agricultural outlook conferences in Washington, D. C. will return February 2.

Doctor Hungerford left last Tuesday and will leave Washington in time to return through southern Idaho where he will meet the extension leaders of that part of the state.

ENGLISH CLUB NOTICE

There will be a meeting of the Idaho historical material committee of the English club tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock in room 207 Administration building.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR LIBRARY

Governor Not Against Appropriating Funds, Says Jones; Recommendation Was Misconstrued.

Governor H. C. Baldrige is not against the proposed legislative appropriation of $300,000 for a new university library, according to Irving W. Jones, assistant president of the university.

Newspaper accounts have misconstrued the governor's recommendation to finance the building out of the state bond fund, Mr. Jones declared. The recommendation was added as a footnote in his opening speech before the legislature, and was interpreted to mean that he did not favor granting the funds to the university.

The plan is entirely acceptable, said Mr. Jones, and was recommended to increase the chances for the appropriation. Reports that there is not enough money in the bond fund mean little, because the fund would be replenished before the money was needed.

Reports from Boise indicate that the whole appropriation for the state board of education budget will receive early consideration in the legislature. It is said that the sentiment for the library is very favorable in the house.

VANDALS NOSE OUT GRIZZLIES 33 TO 31

Idaho Takes Conference Opener at Missoula in Extra Period

Five-minute overtime, after the game had ended 29-14, was the time Idaho required to prove her superiority over the University of Montana, Friday night at Missoula, and four points, two of them free throws, gave Idaho a 33 to 31 victory. The game opened a conference season of 10 contests for Idaho.

Idaho appeared to have the game on ice, until the final minutes of play, when Ted Rule, Grizzly center, sank a perfect basket to lock the score. Idaho had come from behind after lagging 16 to 9 at half-time, and thrice during the second period the score was tied. Montana forged ahead in the extra period on a free throw by Chinske, but McMillin snatched a pot shot through the mesh to put Idaho into a one-point lead. Another Montana free throw tied the score, and Stowell sank two free chances just before the final gun went off to clear Idaho.

To Frank McMillan, flashy Vandal forward, went the scoring honors of the evening. McMillan sank seven baskets in the last half, one in the first and made one free throw for a total of 17 points. Stowell was second high for Idaho with eight points, although Rowells, Chinske and Rule each made eight points for the losers. Idaho played through the game without a substitution, just as against Oregon State.

ASSEMBLY SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Kelly to Discuss Changes in Curricula and Administration Before General A.S.U. Meeting in Auditorium.

Changes in curricula and administration for the second semester will be discussed by President F. J. Kelly at a general student assembly next Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, it was announced yesterday from the president's office.

Difficulties arising from the newly adopted system of registration will be explained and all matters concerning the beginning of the new period of work cleared up.

The new cut rule and the change in the system of six and twelve-week grading will be two of the topics Doctor Kelly will discuss. All classes will be excused during the hour.

HARVARD PROF FINDS CENTER OF UNIVERSE

Shapley Says Nucleus of Milky Way Is 47,000 Light Years Away From Earth.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (IP)—The center of the universe has been discovered—47,000 light years away from the earth—according to Prof. Harlow Shapley, Harvard astronomer who spoke here recently.

It is part of a massive nucleus in the milky way, which in turn is shaped like two plates placed face to face, some 200,000 light years across at the equator.

The nucleus between the plates, is about 31,000 light years in thickness, and the solar system—the sun and its planets—is a mere speck outside this nucleus and just short of the edge of the plates.

A light year is the mileage that light will travel in a year at the rate of 186,000 miles per second. In other words, it is 6,307,200,000,000 miles around the equator of the milky way.

DELTA SIGMA RHO TO MEET

There will be a special meeting of Delta Sigma Rho Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 206 Administration building.

ALPHA ZETA MEETING

Alpha Zeta will meet tonight at 7:30 at Morrill hall.

KAPPA DELTA PI MEETING

A business meeting of Kappa Delta Pi will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 112 Administration building.

Cut System Is Abolished; Drop 6, 12-Week Exams

Two Changes In University Regulations Give More Responsibility To Students; Became Effective Monday

Credit deductions for unexcused absences from classes and the old system of six and twelve week grade reports were abolished when two changes in the university regulations were adopted at the general faculty meeting Saturday afternoon. Students henceforth will be responsible for their attendance, and excessive cutting will be reported to the deans. All grades below C will be filed at the registrar's office at the midsemester period, usually the end of the ninth week. Both measures became effective Monday.

"WATCH BRANCH" SAYS ANGELL

Executive Dean Urges Cooperation With Pocatello Students at Blue Key Luncheon Monday.

Students here must come to realize that the southern branch at Pocatello is as much a part of the university as is the Moscow campus, declared Dr. M. F. Angell, acting executive dean of the southern branch, to members of Blue Key at their luncheon meeting yesterday at the Blue Bucket Inn.

The students at Pocatello feel that they are an integral part of the "Greater University of Idaho." Courses they take are identical with the courses offered here during the first two years, the dean declared. The students there will be coming in increasing numbers to finish at Moscow, he pointed out.

The Pocatello students will be a picked group when they register as Juniors here. They will have participated in student body activities during their freshman and sophomore years, desirable material for the fraternities and sororities here, he said. He suggested that in time the group here would look to the local social organizations at Pocatello as possible federates of rushes.

He concluded by pointing out the necessity of cooperation to show that the students at Moscow accept the branch students on an equal footing. Unless that is done, the students will go to other institutions.

FROSH DATE CARDS COUNCIL PROBLEM

Huber To Report on Investigation of Rushing Plan Made During Recent Debate Trip

Freshman date cards may be used on the campus next fall during rush week, if a report to be submitted to the Interfraternity council tonight by George Huber is acted upon favorably.

Huber was delegated to investigate pledge card systems in use at the colleges and universities he visited while on the 4000-mile middlewestern debate tour before the holidays. The date card plan is being used by a number of the institutions he found. It is believed that his report tonight will include only an outline of the plans he investigated.

The Interfraternity council has been considering a revision of the men's pledging rules for some time. After the deferred pledging investigation was dropped by the council, the deferred initiation question was taken under consideration.

Final plans for the Interfraternity council dance to be held Friday at the new A. T. O. house will be made tonight. Harold Smith and Raymond Nims in charge.

DU SAULT ATTENDS KIWANIS CONCLAVE

Assistant Chemistry Professor Represents Moscow Club at Coast Convention; Visits Idaho Graduates.

D. D. DuSault, assistant professor of chemistry, returned to Moscow yesterday from Vancouver, Wash., where he represented the Moscow Kiwanis club at the northwest district trustees' convention. Seventy-three out of 80 representatives were present, from Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and northern Idaho, he reported.

The meetings were held Saturday, concluding with an evening banquet. Mr. DuSault visited a number of graduates of the university in Portland and vicinity.

"Shorty" Thornhill Likes Sherwood Anderson Athletics, Blue Ties. But Nothing "Rowdie-Dow"

By Hazel Simonds

"Athletics are my only hobby," declares Harold "Shorty" Thornhill, "I like them best of all."

And rightly he may, for "Shorty" is a junior, besides, playing his own position on the varsity basketball team, won numerous in b a s k e t ball, baseball, and track in his freshman year. During his career in the Kellogg high school, he took part in all the athletic events offered, besides basketball and baseball, he likes swimming, skating and skiing.

"So far this winter I haven't skited," he said with a smile. "But I s'pose I'll break my neck on them some Sunday afternoon."

"I don't read poetry," he admitted when questioned, "but I like a good book. Sherwood Anderson is one of my favorites, and Sinclair Lewis, he's good—but not too much."

"Shorty" enjoys a good slow, tough or rowdie-dow. "Sorrel and Son" is the best picture I've seen in a long while."

He didn't explain the meaning of "rowdie-dow," but as long as "Sorrel and Son" is what the new word isn't we'll pass it by.

Wearing a blue sweater, shirt and tie, it wasn't hard to guess that blue is his favorite color.

"Yes, it is," he said, fingering the tell-tale sweater and tie. Also red, and all bright colors.

"Anything else you want to know?" he asked, "Grades, favorite food, age—oh well, are you going down the hill?"

BULL SESSIONS

BULL SESSIONS are nothing more than heated arguments on hot subjects, in the opinion of N. C. Maynard, professor of oratory at Tufts college, Massachusetts. "Bull sessions" is one of the indoor sports on almost every college campus, and Idaho is no exception. Ordinarily bull sessions are considered degenerate, just what the name implies, but Professor Maynard reminds us that they can be either good or bad, depending on the participants who sit in on them. Some of our own professors have declared that students learn as much in bull sessions as they do in their classes. Such claims are exaggerated, but they contain some truth nevertheless. Professor Maynard explains it as follows:

As a college is a cross section of life, so bull sessions are no better and no worse than those who participate in them. There are two general types of men in college: those who live at their moral minimum and those who strive toward moral maximum. When the moral minimum predominates, religion and sex are not the most popular topics. Religion is not a thing to be argued about, but something to be lived. We argue about religion because we are afraid of it. It is easier than living it. This is a way we have of letting ourselves down. Sex is the other popular topic in which the moral minimum revels. The facts of sex should be faced honestly and fully; but especially they should be discussed with an antiseptic mind to prevent putrefaction.

I think a bull session before an examination may be a help. This is an opportunity for the student to put to rest their knowledge and so recall forgotten points and solve difficult problems. I feel sure there is a real gain in doing this when it is made an aid and not a substitute for private study. Three things seem necessary to have a bull session at its best: first, that the discussion keep within the bounds of honesty and decency; second, that all present participate instead of two or three; third, that the bull session be put on a safe basis of fellowship. The price of fellowship is sharing that quality of friendship which is the most valuable thing we receive from college.

Juniors Use Violence on Erring Sophomore

Sophomore class presidents who appear in public places wearing corduroy trousers are violating campus tradition and committing an offense against the entire junior class.

Such was the ultimatum issued Wednesday evening at the conclusion of a fast and furious sidewalk to the big slide on the hill. A group of juniors slipped into a campus refreshment parlor for a "shot of coffee" and found behind the counter none other than Eldon Hatfield, chief executive of the sophomore class. A smile was on his face, a towel was in his hands, his mind was on his work, but "cords" were on his legs.

The smile spread to the juniors, the towel dropped to the floor, and his mind resigned its hashing duties temporarily, but the cords glared forth as before, except where they had been covered hastily with an apron.

The struggle was short, the juniors were many, Women were laughing, Hatfield resisted nobly. Suddenly a rip was heard and a torn pair of cords went rushing out born by a triumphant junior. Women screamed, Hatfield blushed. Juniors roared, the deed was done.

ORIENT DISCUSSED BY MRS. SARGENT

Although reports at the time were astounding, the destruction of property caused by the 1923 earthquake in Japan is unbelievable, said Mrs. Margaret L. Sargent, professor of romance languages, in a talk to the Cosmopolitan club last Saturday evening at the U-Hut.

Mrs. Sargent, who returned last fall from a trip around the world, also spoke about the extent that the Orient is being commercialized by the western nations. In both Japan and China one can buy almost any article of western manufacture, she said.

JOURNAL CONTEST TO END FEBRUARY 10

High School Women's Papers Will Be Judged by Theta Sigma

With 11 high schools entered and several more applying, the Theta Sigma contest for editions of high school papers put out entirely by girls is gaining in interest throughout the state. The contest will close February 10 and at that date, three copies of each edition of competing papers must be in the hands of Theta Sigma, local honorary women's journalistic fraternity.

A silver cup, which will be awarded to the winning paper, will be engraved with the name of the school that won the contest for this year. The cup must be won three times in succession in order to become a permanent trophy of one school.

RIFLE TEAM LOSES MATCH TO W. S. C.

Washington State college won the first telegraphic-score match of the season from the Idaho rifle team last week with a score of 3519 to 3423. From the 15 Idaho men firing over the 50-foot indoor range in Lewis court on Monday, Wednesday and Friday the 10 highest scores were used.

The total individual scores of the men competing are as follows: K. Pratt, 349; E. W. Johnson, 348; P. Croy, 343; J. S. Crandall, 342; C. L. Talbot, 329; C. B. Collier, 328; A. B. Moss, 326; H. L. Yost, 321; C. L. Raichle, 319; J. Croy, 318; H. Doty, 317; L. E. Talbot, 312; E. Parker, 309; R. W. Reed, 305; and T. Helmer, 300.

The returns from the University of Wyoming match will not arrive before the last of this week or the first of next week, according to Lieut. Charles H. Hart Jr., coach. The next matches will be fired in about a week.

Sailor Gets This Tobacco in Far Port

Buenos Aires, Argentine, Jan. 4, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va., U. S. A. Gentlemen:

I'm a seafarer, and as such of course travel quite a lot. Right now I am in the Argentine, and am glad to say that I can here purchase your beloved Edgeworth Tobacco, of which I'm so very fond.

It is indeed a pity that one can't find this good smoke in every place of the seven seas. While recently in Germany, my home-country, I tried in vain to come upon one of these little blue tins. I'm not saying too much in mentioning that I would outwalk that famous mile, hunting up dear Edgeworth. I dare say there is no other tobacco like it, and am convinced that Edgeworth cannot be improved.

Let me know when you contemplate sending to make Edgeworth so that I may lay in a goodly store to last till I'm seventy.

May Edgeworth never change! I'll always remain Sincerely yours, Willie Schmiedes

Sidelights on Other Campuses

By Helen Kerr

E. W. Bagshaw, University of Washington, is now a "former coach", an "also has been", and a personal answer to that question, "When is a coach not a coach?" He was relieved on January 18, by a 12 to 3 vote of a student board of control.

We stopped a rumor floating around in the ether today and it stated that Bagshaw, yes, that gentleman at the U. of W., was a dandy football coach, but he lost too much money during the season. And so to fulfill a moral obligation, above phrase is plagiarized from the Washington Daily, the student board is attempting to "relieve" the dear old man and put him back into circulation.

The college papers are starting to write Mary and Her Little Lamb verses again and we have just finished reading about the biped and her cute little quadruped having hallucinations. And it wasn't an ad for Listerine either.

Stanford has a movie infamy, I mean infamy in its infamy; University of Oregon is working on a so-called scenario, and several other universities are suffering from temporary insanity too.

And we now close this supposed column with a few well chosen words of wisdom from an Oregon authority on the bull and chain business. He states that if all students were married or otherwise impeded before entering college, they would not waste so much time and their scholastic standing would be raised.

several volumes to its student book shelf since the holidays. "Midsummer Night" by John Masefield, "John Brown's Body," "The Children" by Edith Wharton, and "The General's Ring" by Selma Lagerlof, are the latest works secured. Written in favorable comment from well known critics, "The Children" deals with the problems of children of divorced people in the well-to-do class.

The most popular books in the entire collection, according to Zella Newcomb, chairman of the bookshelf committee, have proved to be "Harness," by H. SOCIETY

Coasting and skiing parties have been displacing dances and movies lately as the accepted forms of entertainment. Sleighting parties are proving popular, and the annual snowball fights between underclassmen of various houses have not been neglected. Social events the last weekend were the Kappa Kappa Gamma in formal dance at the chapter house Friday evening; the informal at which Sigma Alpha Epsilon pledges were hosts to their members. The Alpha Tau Omega informal dance and the Pi Beta Phi upperclasswomen's semi-formal dinner dance held Saturday evening. The first University orchestra concert of the year which was held in the auditorium Sunday offered a pleasant afternoon's diversion.

CLEVER LIGHTS FEATURE A. T. O. DANCE

Alpha Tau Omega entertained Saturday night at an informal dance at the chapter house. The entertainment was a no-program affair, guests and others keeping account of their dance trades by large placards fastened to the walls. Flickering colored lights provided the only decorations. Johnny Sodens orchestra played for the dance.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenn, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Horton, and Mrs. William Masterson.

Guests were Grace Shellworth, Maryvina Goldsmith, Patricia Wilson, Harriet Kieldson, Betty Ashworth, Goldie Smith, Connie McLeod, Mary Murphy, Georgetta Miller, Marcella Winters, Helen Wann, Esther Thompson, Thelma Blayden, Gladys Pence, Grace Parsons, Margaret Elder, Erna Williams, Martha Humphrey, Beulah Burnett, Phyllis Peterson, Estelle Ruck, Frances Larsen, Helen Voak, Dorothy Sanford, Julia Hunter, Helen Douglas, Edith Van Slate, Ruth Randall, Violet Hagen, Austa White, Betty Wilson, Helen Cray, Hazel Simonds, Louise Dunlap, Fern Bowen, Helen Gauer, Esther Johnson, Charlotte Ginn, Dorothy Rouse, Aurel Laxton, Vera Doolittle, Marjorie Burnett, Ruth Rowell, Ruth Nelson, Mary McMillon, Edna Bartlett, Estelle Geary, Helen Hanson, Dorothy Heide, Marguerite Berger, Kenneth Jensen, June Hanford, Henry Shedd, Emmert Davis, Joe Cass, Henry Van Haverbeke, Wesley Shurtliff, and McDonald Brown, Bovill.

S. A. E. PLEDGES ENTERTAIN MEMBERS

Pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained the members with an informal fireside party Saturday evening at the chapter house. A four-piece orchestra furnished music for dancing for two hours. At 11 o'clock refreshments were served by the pledges and a short program was given. York Kildea played several violin selections and Charles McConnell gave a trumpet solo.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Sowder were patron and patronesses. Guests were Virginia Angell, Gwendolyn Dawson, Dorothy Torgeson, Ruth Goodwin, Ruth Garver, Dorothy McCauley, Marjorie Albertson, Florence Rohrer, Agnes Moore, Mita Fitch, Louise Lamelle, Edith Wright, Elizabeth Dunn, Bernice Parish, Beatrice Stalker, Dora Kraft, Eleanor Berglund, Zeldia Newcomb, Lottie Mae Mitchell, Thelma Melgard, Esther Rae, Ruby Pool, Pearl Walters, Emily O'Leary, LaVerne Thomas, Jane Haley, Constance Woods, Elaine Cash, Esther Rae, Flora Corkery, Beatrice Gibbs, Helen Parrot, Margaret Foss, Maxine Thornhill, Elnora Anderson, Marion McConigle and Orin Allison.

FORNEY HALL ENTERTAINS WITH DANCE

Underclasswomen of Forney hall entertained with an informal dance Saturday evening. Dean and Mrs. Ralph Farmer and Miss Helen Kersey were the patron and patronesses.

KAPPA DANCE DECORATIONS UNIQUE

Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority entertained with a "Bohemian Bawl" at the chapter house Friday evening. Decorations were of various clever futuristic colors, shapes, and designs. Patrons and patronesses were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brenn, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Curtis, and Mr. and Mrs. V. Lattie. Guests were Clyde Poole, Harold Thornhill, Dana White, Benjamin Carey, Frank Hunt, Elmer Pos-

PI PHIS GIVE FORMAL DINNER DANCE

Upperclass women of Pi Beta Phi gave a formal dinner dance Saturday evening at the chapter house. An attractive color scheme of black and white was carried out in the decorations.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Whitman, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Boas. Guests were Albert Frahm, Darius Davis, Kenneth Jones, William Krummes, George Powell, Frank Rettig, Emerson Platt, Burton Ellis, Kenneth Grabner, Harold Parsons, Bertrand Heath, and Edward Douglas.

Dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta Thursday evening were Joe Monk, Russell Tuttle, Dan McGrath, Nyal Lake, Coit Hagen, Ernest Bauman, Edward Douglas, Edgar Hagan, Kenneth O'Leary and Bernard Lemp.

Sunday dinner guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon were Dr. and Mrs. C. L. von Ende, Miss Eunice von Ende, Prof. and Mrs. G. L. Luke, Henry Sneddon and Kenneth Jensen.

Dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma Thursday were Melvin Stewart, Dale Goss, Harold Packer, Harry Walden, Arthur Kryger, Sam Hutchings, Norman Forster and Dana White.

Sunday dinner guests of Hays hall were Mary Thomas, Grace Thomas, Edna Richards, Vivian Reed, Fynette Guthrie and Ruth Rowell.

Sunday dinner guests of Alpha Phi were Mrs. Kirby, Mildred Abramson, Doris Squibb, Rex Brainard and Betty Slee, Spokane.

Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma were Marie Clark, Aurel Laxton, Jess Lee Hall, and Mildred Rohrer.

Grace Gooding, Lois Gillette, Esther Wade, and Lorna Buchanan were guests of Forney hall at dinner Sunday.

Sunday dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta were Eleanor Berglund, Portia Glindeman, Lucile Glindeman, Helen Taylor and Jean York.

Delta Gamma dinner guests Sunday were Helen Hansan, Helen Gower, Elizabeth Smith and Beverly Laughlin.

Dean Fernald J. French and Dr. and Mrs. McGee were Sunday dinner guests of Forney hall.

Alpha Tau Omega announces the pledging of Dudley Dillingham, Mackay, and Paul Perovich, San Jose, Calif.

Dean M. F. Angell and Dr. E. E. Hubert were Saturday luncheon guests of Sigma Chi.

Dr. and Mrs. George M. Miller were Wednesday dinner guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Dr. Henrietta Tromanhauser was a guest of Kappa Kappa Gamma at a fireside Sunday evening.

Mrs. Marlys Shirk Whitman was a Thursday luncheon guest at Forney hall.

Bernadine Hasfurther was a weekend guest of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mrs. I. A. Rohrer, Boise is a house guest of Delta Gamma.

SHORT PLAYS FULL OF CLEVER COMEDY

Salesmen, Farmers, Doctors, Crooks and Elopers Wax Witty in Dramas

Comedy prevails in the group of short plays which are to be given Thursday and Friday evenings by the beginning and advanced play production classes, coached by Mrs. Harry Brenn and Mrs. A. B. Curtis, assistants in dramatics.

"The Master Salesman" deals with a braggadocio who thinks he is a "master" salesman for a tractor company in Texas. He has a chance to prove his abilities immediately, when a farmer comes in to buy. The salesman's "line" is such that in exasperation the farmer changes his mind about the tractor. When he does decide again on this machine the salesman thinks his "high pressure" saved the day.

In "Changing Places" a man and his wife decide that each is not doing his best in his respective position, salesman and housewife. They agree to change places for a while. After discouraging experiences they resume their own pursuits. This play and "The Master Salesman" are directed by Mrs. Curtis.

"Thank You, Doctor" is a farce. A lady crook and mistaken identity of a young jeweler, keep the great Dr. Gurney, a brain specialist, busy.

The theme of "Smarty's Party" is the announcement of a secret marriage. The young husband's mother believes that the girl married her son for the money he was to receive from his parent. In order to avenge herself upon the new daughter-in-law, she explains the actual status of the fellow, completely frustrating the couple's plans.

Lillian Woodworth and Esther Johnston are stage managers.

Several more one-act plays will be presented this winter.

Two long plays will be produced. Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" is the next 3-act production. Prof. John G. Cushman, head of dramatics, plans to have the department's public activities completed early in May.

science here. He will resign as acting head of the Southern Branch in July to take over his regular duties at Moscow. His plans for next year are uncertain as he has not decided definitely whether or not he will take his sabbatical leave of absence which falls due in September.

The new Science hall was occupied last fall and was dedicated shortly before the Christmas vacation. Dr. F. J. Kelly, president of the university, participated in the dedicatory program. The building is a three-story brick-faced reinforced concrete structure, completely equipped with the latest laboratory devices. For work done, Dean Angell declares the building will be as well equipped as any similar building in the northwest. A representative of Squibb and Company visited 64 pharmacy schools in the United States, recently told Dean Angell that he hadn't seen a better building in the country although many he had seen were much larger.

Houses Five Departments
The third floor of the building is devoted to the chemistry department, the second to botany and zoology, and the first to the bacteriology and health divisions. A main lecture room with a seating capacity of 200, also is located on the first floor.

The top floor of the Administration building was rebuilt completely. As a result of the improvements there are now in use 14 music practice rooms, five music studios, two large rooms for orchestra and glee club work, and two large rooms for art instruction.

The lower floor of Paris hall, formerly occupied by parlors, was changed into attractive living and reception rooms for the men students. The increased load on the heating system required the addition of one new boiler and extensive alterations in the heating equipment.

Infirmary Moved
The infirmary was moved and placed on a new foundation, with full basement. Fourteen bed patients can be cared for at one time in the building, and contagious cases are isolated in a smaller structure nearby. A university physician is in charge, and his assistant is assigned to the athletic department. A nurse is available when needed. The plan used works out excellently, reports Dean Angell. Tennis courts also were built during the summer.

The pharmacy school, the dean declares, is a member of the American Association of Pharmacy colleges, and the Pharmaceutical union. A national school has a high rating. In addition to the pharmacy fraternity there are five local social organizations, none of which have their own houses.

CRUCIAL CONTESTS SLATED FOR WEEK'S INTRAMURAL ROUND

Leaders in Group Leagues Tangle Early in Hoop Series

COMPETITION KEEN Betas and Sigma Chis Rest on Top of Heap to Date

Important games this week that will go a long way toward setting the possible championship teams in both intramural basketball leagues, are on the schedule for this week. With 10 games already completed, 14 games will be run off this week which will complete about one-fourth of the 90-game series.

Three games stand out this week as important in the league standings—Betas-Kappa Sigas, Tuesday night; Phi-S. A. E., Wednesday evening, and Sigma Nu-Sigma Chi, Saturday afternoon. Most of the acknowledged leaders, outside of these six teams, have easier games during the playing period this week.

Sigma Nu 85—T. K. E. 15. Sigma Nu's Reptiles had an easy time Friday evening in disposing of Tau Kappa Epsilon, 35 to 13, in the first intramural game for both aggregations. The Reptiles took an early lead and led at halftime 14 to 6, but ran rampant in the final period.

Wilkening was high man of the game, sinking eight baskets and a free throw for Sigma Nu, a total of 23 points. Greeling dropped four long baskets for the Tekes, but the Sigas prevented any close shots.

Sigma Nu (85) T. K. E. (15) Wilkening (17) Kennedy Goss (2) Grabner (1) Craig (6) Harris (1) Norman (4) Greeling (8) Westcott (6) Krummes (2) Substitutions: Sigma Nu—Booker for Craig; Diehl for Westcott. T. K. E.—Howell (1) for Grabner; Tatum for Krummes.

Sigma Chi 29—Phi Deltas 16. Scoring almost at will throughout the contest, Sigma Chi's crack basketball quintet rolled up its second victory of the week Saturday afternoon with Phi Delta Theta the "underdog," 59 to 16.

Whittaker and Beyer accounted for most of the Sigma Chi scoring in the first part of the game when the reserve strength went into the game. Hall was the outstanding player for the Phi Deltas, and accounted made a rally near the end, but it fell far short. Halftime score was 20 to 8.

Sigma Chi (39) Phi Deltas (16) Whittaker (7) Martin (5) Beyer (11) Pierson Kershsnik (6) Young (4) Welker (3) Hall (7) Hult (2) Substitutions: Pierson (4) for Beyer; Herndon (6) for Welker; Hargrove for Whittaker; Adams for Kershsnik. Phi Delta Theta—Scatterday for Pierson; Walden for Young; St. Clair for Martin.

Kappa Sigma 19—Lambda Chi 15. Kappa Sigma nosed out a 19 to 15 victory over Lambda Chi Alpha Friday evening, in one of the tightest games played thus far in the tournament. The game was the first for both aggregations. The winners were ahead 13 to 8 at halftime.

Sommercamp was the leading scorer of the game with four baskets and two conversions for a total of 10 points. Scoring honors were about evenly divided among the losing quintet.

Lambda Chi (15) Kappa Sig (19) Jockheck (4) Arnold (4) Toolson (3) Jones (3) Smith (2) Sommercamp (10) Dick (2) Huff (2) Nims (2) McDaniel Substitutions: Lambda Chi—Hennesley (4) for Smith; Newell for Hennesley; Kappa Sigma—Ford for McDaniel.

Ridenbaugh Hall 14—T. M. A. 13. Nip-and-tuck basketball which came near to requiring an extra playing period, found Ridenbaugh hall on the long end of a 14 to 13 score against Tau Mem Aleph. The hall men ran up a big lead in the first half, and were outscored in the second half, but still managed to win.

Fisher, T. M. A. guard, and Belknap, Ridenbaugh forward, each garnered six points. T.M.A. (13) Ridenbaugh (14) Parks (2) Belknap (6) McCoy (3) Anderson (4) Hatstrup (2) Lacy Schumann (1) Moss Fisher (6) Hill (2) Substitutions: T. M. A.—Anderson (1) for McCoy; Schaller for Schumann; Ridenbaugh hall—Scarborough (2) for Anderson; Baker for Moss; Stowasser for Scarborough; Sizemore for Baker.

Betas 29—A. T. O. 9. Scoring almost at will and missing as many cinch shots as they made, Beta Theta Pi put in a formidable bid for intramural hoop honors by winning their second game in three days by defeating Alpha Tau Omega 29 to 9 Saturday afternoon.

Lawrence topped the Beta scorers with 12 baskets, while Randall and Sternke showed to best advantage for the losers.

Betas (29) A. T. O. (9) Lawrence (12) McKinley McKeown (5) Layne Smith (4) Wilkie Oud (3) Sternke (6) Vance (2) Berg Substitutions: Betas—Eaton (5) for McKinley; Johnson for Lawrence; Johnson for Smith; Marchesi for Oud; Martin for Vance. A. T. O.—Randall (3) for Layne; Porter for Sternke; Sternke for Porter; Daurbert for Berg.

Phi Gamma Delta's quintet took the Lindley hall five into camp by a score of 19 to 21, Saturday afternoon. In all probability this was the most exciting game that has been played thus far in the tournament. It was fast all the way through, although both teams missed many setup shots. The winning team was two baskets behind with a minute to play. They staged a brilliant rally and caged two baskets to tie the score. In an extra period the Phi Gals scored four points while Lindley hall scored only two.

OREGON STAR

SCOTTY MILLIGAN is playing his third and last year for Oregon. Scotty is expected to be a leading performer in the game with Idaho tomorrow. Although a guard, he is one of the leading scorers of the conference.

Intramural Games Scheduled

- Schedule this week: Tuesday, January 22. 7 P. M.—Lindley hall vs Sigma Nu. Beta Chi vs. Delta Chi. 9 P. M.—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon. Beta Theta Pi vs. Kappa Sigma. Wednesday, January 23. 4 P. M.—Phi Delta Theta vs. Sigma Nu. Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Ridenbaugh hall. 9 P. M.—Phi Gamma Delta vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Tau Mem Aleph vs. Alpha Tau Omega. Friday, January 25. 7 P. M.—Lindley hall vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon. Beta Chi vs. Beta Theta Pi.

Saturday, January 26. 7 P. M.—Sigma Nu vs. Sigma Chi. Kappa Sigma vs. Delta Chi. 9 P. M.—Phi Delta Theta vs. Phi Gamma Delta. Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Tau Mem Aleph. Games scheduled for 9 o'clock Wednesday will be played immediately following the Idaho-Oregon contest.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI PLEDGES TEN MEN

Stowasser Wins Scholarship Key With Average Grades of 5.880

Ten men registered in the school of business administration were pledged by Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary commerce fraternity, Friday evening. The pledges chosen are as follows: Ivan Thompson, senior; Robert Davis and Robert Holden, juniors; and Kenneth Dick, Walden Reinger, Glenn Shern, Warren Gochenour, Wilford Young, Amidee

Walden and Wayne Blair. The men are picked on a basis of scholarship and professional interest in business. Mr. P. Bailey, manager of the Mason-Ehrman company, addressed the members of the fraternity on "Some present-day problems of the wholesale grocer." At a dinner meeting held last Thursday at the Blue Bucket inn, Mr. Bailey pointed out that new methods of buying by the retailer, as well as chain store systems were forcing the wholesaler to find new sources of profit, and that unless he could find a way to fill a real need under the new order, the wholesaler merchant would become an institution of the past.

Allen Stowasser, junior, was presented with the Alpha Kappa Psi scholarship key, awarded each year to the junior man in the school of business administration making the highest scholastic average during his sophomore year. His average for the spring semester last year was 3.53.

MANAGERS' CLUB

The Managers' club will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Beta house.

FREE THROWS Sports Comment

Edited by PAUL BOYD and FRANK JUDY

O. S. C., 23—Idaho, 22.

"Disheartening" is a mild way of expressing the loss of a basketball game in the last minute of play. When Ballard sank the winning basket with 45 seconds remaining to play, the groan was as audible as would have been a cheer for an Idaho victory.

There is a truly questionable point as to whether or not Idaho should have been awarded a free throw for the last Oregon State timeout. When a substitution takes more than 30 seconds to complete it is regarded as a timeout. Oregon State already used her quota and as it was 41 seconds before play was resumed, the Idaho argument can plainly be seen. A successful toss would have—Why alibi? It is history.

Whitlock, the blonde Beaver center, was a starting halfback on the Oregon State football squad during the past season. His rough, awkward style of play adds to the argument that football is detrimental to one who aspires to succeed on the court.

By the same token, a man might be a good football official and likewise not have his abilities spread to other sports. At times the fouls were so evident that it appeared to be a case of "You call it George," thus letting it go by.

Bobby Drummond played a great defensive game and more than once frustrated O. S. C. plays, in addition to his consistent recoveries of Oregon State shots.

Again the Vandals had something new to offer in basketball apparel. The predominant color is red and it is strictly adhered to.

Fox's Flames flashed forth to lead at half time 16 to 10, and maintained a four-point lead until the last four minutes.

The "I" club held initiatory ceremonies between halves. Halliday and Wilks defied Constable Summerfield, and Edward Vennigerholtz, deputy assessor of the local hamlet, much to the entertainment of the spectators. The trick barrel functioned at the proper moment to "steal the show."

Oregon State used two full teams, while the five Idaho regulars played complete games. That O. S. C. has reserve strength was proven when no apparent weakness was noted when the starters were removed from the lineup.

In fairness to the Oregon State squad it should be said that they played at Washington State in borrowed suits. Due to some misunderstanding their equipment failed to arrive in time for the game. This is no small item when it is remembered that proper and satisfactory paraphernalia is necessary to play this game.

The cheering sections functioned under the direction of Horace Porter. This adds much to the interest of the game as well as lending support to the team.

If the singing of an Idaho song after a basketball game can serve the two-fold purpose of relieving stair congestion and demonstrating spirit, LET'S HAVE IT. With regret, it was noticed last night that the rush for the exit began before the final gun of the game barked. This could be somewhat alleviated by permitting the customers to leave while the song is being rendered, and permitting students to follow upon completion of vocal efforts.

Right or Wrong?

There is no compromise with correctness when evening attire is concerned. A man's turn-out is either right or wrong. Intelligence is the prime requisite in selecting full dress or dinner clothes. With such a guide, men will never be intrigued by any of the innumerable "fads" that are proffered in the name of "dress clothes and accessories." This store is thoroughly acquainted with the style requirements of thoughtfully attired men and young men. We are in constant touch with the smart American gathering places of men who possess the sort of wearables that are beyond reproach. Consequently, we can assure you of the rightness of our evening clothes and accessories.

From old kettle to new world

SOMEBODY has to believe in the big possibilities of little things. James Watt saw the lid of his tea-kettle dance—and today our civilization is built largely on steam.

In the field of communication, Bell saw the possibilities of a little vibrating diaphragm. Today from the telephone at his elbow a man talks to his next-door neighbor or across the continent, just as he chooses.

Men in the telephone industry, in commercial and administrative as well as technical work, are constantly proving that little suggestions, little ideas, little changes, when smoothly fitted into the comprehensive plan, may be big in possibilities of better public service.
