Idaho Will Inaugurate Junior College System

Final Decision Follows Faculty Meeting Tuesday; Plan Goes Into Effect Here Next Fall

The junior college plan will go into effect at the University of Idaho next fall as result of acceptance by the college of letters and science at a faculty meeting held Tuesday evening. Four schools and colleges will be identified with the junior college plan, these being senior colleges. The remaining colleges and schools of the university have not accepted the new plan.

One of the goals toward which President Frederick J. Kelly has been working since his inauguration last fall was that of installation of the junior college plan. Two meetings of the faculty, one last Saturday, were held before the plan was accepted. Announcement of the minimum curriculum, covering five separate fields of study and which will be required of all entering students in the four groups under the new plan, was also made.

Include Frosh and Sophs. Under the junior college plan will be included the college of letters and science, school of business administration, college of law and the school of education, the last three being senior colleges at the present and open only to juniors and seniors. The new arrangement calls for all students entering any of these four branches to do their freshman and sophomore work in the junior college and then continue their work in the senior college they choose. All branches of the university will have some prerequisite courses to be covered in the junior college, according to I. W. Jones, assistant president of the university.

The schools and colleges that have not accepted the new plan are the colleges of engineering and agriculture, and the schools of forestry and mines. Both the college of engineering and the school of forestry have announced that they can not accept the plan because their courses are so specific that the student must be trained in them throughout the entire length of the course.

Take Half of Students. A majority of the students on the campus will be enrolled in the junior college, Mr. Jones said in explaining the plan. Present registration figures show 1831 students in the university and 1130 of these are in the freshman and sophomore classes. Of the members of these two classes approximately 900 will enroll in the junior college, being about half of

IDAHO CAMPUS HELD IN WINTER'S GRASP

Descending on the whole of the inland Empire with a sudden fury of coldness that has kept the entire region locked in an icy grasp, winter returned again Wednesday and Thursday. Low temperatures were noted all over the district. Moscow thermometer went to 24 degrees below zero Wednesday morning, when a cold wave swept in from the north and east.

Close on the heels of the intense cold, an all-day snow storm cloaked Moscow and the Idaho campus in a new white mantle. Light winds piled small drifts at corners of buildings and intersections, impeding pedestrians and slowing down auto traffic. Campus drivers, in a three-day operation last week, lay idle today beneath a foot of new snow.

The unprecedented cold snap sent students scurrying to old trunks and wardrobes for heavy mittens, earmuffs and heavy. Town attendants of the university reported frozen ears and nipped fingers while walking to early classes Wednesday morning when the mercury slumped to its lowest level this year. Arriving at classes, few ventured from their exempt in cases of necessity and the library was crowded to capacity during the day. Numerous absences were reported Thursday when the snow storm was at its height.

Ploppety-plop in oversize galoshes went the more adamant collegiates through the fresh snow. Floppety-plop down the alleys bustled sorority house furnace tenders to add more coal to appease terse demands of shivering co-eds.

EIGHT MEMBERS OF AG CLASS ON TRIP

Eight members of the dairy manufacturers class accompanied by Prof. Donald R. Theophilus, left this afternoon for Spokane, where they will visit a number of creameries, dairies, and ice cream plants in that city. The men who are making the field trip are: Professor Theophilus, George Wilner, Clinton Wiswall, Floyd Johnson, Oliver Espe, Russell Young, Daniel Courtney, Carl Leonard, and Wesley Boice. They will return to Moscow Sunday.

FORWARDS PILE UP LARGE SCORE

Stowell Leads McMillin By Four Points After Vandal Third Conference Game

Player	Pos.	Pts.	Ft.	Tot.
Stowell	F.	51	17	119

Carlson	G.	5	3	8
O'Brien	C.	3	1	7
Collins	C.	2	1	5
Duffy	F.	1	1	3

Forwards Stowell and McMillin are running a close race for leading scoring honors of the Idaho varsity, with the former leading by the narrow margin of four points. The positions of the players lower on the list remains unchanged, with Burgher third and Drummond fourth, with 56 and 41 markers, respectively. Actual conference scoring in the three games places McMillin in the lead with 34 points followed by Stowell with 27 scores and Burgher with 16 counters.

DIRECTOR NAMES LIST OF SINGERS

Organization of Treble Clef Club Moves Rapidly; Election Wednesday

Testing voices and assigning parts for the Treble Clef club will continue until next Wednesday afternoon when the club will meet to elect officers, said Miss Maude Garnett, director yesterday. So far 16 first sopranos, one second soprano and 15 altos have been chosen for the club by Miss Garnett, who is in charge of women's glee work at the university.

Roll of Members

Members of the club are: First sopranos: Mrs. Lois Russell, Grace Parsons, Florence O'berg, Rachel Jenks, Helma Melgard, Helen Ames, Jessie Wilson, Marjorie Craven, Elizabeth Hummer, Willabelle Hatch, Frances Long, Margaret Owens, Ruth Story, Wynette Guthrie, Dorothy Hirschman and Katherine Roe. Second sopranos: Ellen Eklund, Dorothy Frederickson, Miriam Burton, Violetta L'Harrison, Helen Stetter, Margaret Becker, Miriam McComb, Mary King, Gladys Gleason, Pauline Paterka, Lois Thompson, Agnes McKiernan, Elva Duncan, Karleen Morse, Jean Edmiston, Joan Harris, Dorothy Craven, Margaret Stewart and Eleanor Sangster.

RUSSIA TAKES TO POWER FARMING

Representative of Soviet Government Visits Here Seeking Information on Method Developed in Idaho. The Soviet government of Russia is interested in power farming development, particularly in the vast wheat fields of the panhandle and southeastern regions, and in the methods employed by the University of Idaho agricultural engineering department in handling its courses in tractors, combines and other aspects of farming by machinery, according to Professor Robert Beresford, head of the department. N. P. Sokoloff, director of the North Caucasian Regional Agricultural experiment station, recently visited the university and sought from Professor Beresford much information on power farming practices in Idaho. A delegation representing the Russian wheat trust, recently spent some time in northwest grain growing areas gathering information direct from wheat growers on results obtained by them in large scale power farming operations. Russia, they said, is interested in developing her wheat production to the point where the country will grow enough for its own use. Most of the land which the Russian agriculturists feel is suitable for extensive power farming operations is similar in character to the northwest wheat belts.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT SOPH ROUNDUP

Committee Pleased With Class Support; Novel Entertainment Pleases At Class Hop. More than 175 second-year men and women attended the first sophomore "roundup" Wednesday evening at the Blue Bucket Inn following the varsity basketball game. The social gathering was a complete success in every way, said members of the committee in charge last night. Entertainment consisting of a dialogue skit of comic costumes and witty "wise cracks" by Bryant Kester and William Stanton, and a clever impersonation of the "Duncan sister" type by Lois and Carol Thompson, filled the short intermission between the two hours of rag dancing. Eldon Hatfield, class president, gave a short talk but no business meeting was held. Johnnie Soden's orchestra furnished music.

COACH JUGGLES VANDAL LINEUP; 'BURG' AT CENTER

Captain Goes Back to Old Post; Thornhill Takes Guard Position

MEET COUGARS NEXT

Vandals Have Two Weeks to Prepare for Conference Leaders

Finding his best possible running combination in the University of Oregon game this week, Coach Rich A. Fox has now nearly two weeks in which to perfect this new basketball formation before Idaho plays its fourth coast conference game, here February 5 against Washington State college, present conference leaders. Idaho holds over-time wins over Oregon and Montana, but lost by one point to Oregon State, putting the Vandal team well up in coast conference running.

Shift of Captain Darwin Burgher, two-year letterman, back to his old position at center from guard, gives Idaho such a satisfactory combination that Fox believes the Vandals equal the best team on the coast. Burgher has the necessary height and as long as his feet will stand the jumping strain Fox plans to use him regularly. Thornhill at Guard

Thornhill, who goes into Burgher's guard, is a reliable center. Stowell and McMillin completes the quintet at the other guard. All the men but Burgher are juniors and have another season to play. In reserve material from which to draw his substitutes, Fox finds himself virtually without an experienced veteran, and with the exception of one the Idaho offense and defense materially. Cheyne forward, and Carlson, guard, are the only two men who have seen relief action to any extent at all. Gaps in Idaho Defense

Using a short, snappy and effective pass and keeping the ball in their own possession fully two-thirds of the time, the Vandals outplayed and outfoxed the Oregon varsity in the best brand of ball they have played all season. There were gaps in the Idaho defense, however, that allowed the visitors to slit through for a number of set-up shots. Fox during the next two weeks plans to drill his men on shooting, lightening their defense and improving floor work. Idaho is particularly weak in close shots. At the end of the same week as the Washington State game here, Idaho plays the University of Washington at Moscow, February 9. Idaho then has a return game with Washington State a week later at Pullman, and then departs on a coast trip, playing Washington, Oregon and O. A. C., returning in time to wind up against Montana here, February 22.

ASK MAT MEN TO TURN OUT

Intra-Mural Grapplers Notified to Put in Appearances This Weekend

In order that intra-mural wrestlers may be in condition for matches by February 4, the opening date of the series of mat contests between sports, yesterday announced, that grapplers should report at the gym this weekend. "The group managers must get hot immediately. A wrestler must be in some sort of reasonable condition in order to do justice to himself or his 'tong'," said Hodson. "The wrestling mat is in one corner of the main gym floor and is there to be used," he added. The weights of the matches will be 125, 135, 150, 160, 175 pounds and the heavyweights. The same number of points will be given to the house winning the intra-mural wrestling championship as are given for basketball or any other intra-mural sport. Each house that does not have at least one man out for wrestling will be penalized 5 points.

FORENSIC LEAGUE TO CONVENE IN MARCH

Delta Sigma Rho Will Entertain Delegates of Eleven Schools

The annual conference of the Pacific Coast Forensic League will be held here during the last week of March, according to a statement made yesterday by debate coach Jasper V. Garland. This is the first time that such an extensive conference has ever been held at Idaho. Last year the conference was conducted at the University of Southern California. There are eleven universities and colleges in the league, but so far the number of delegates to be sent by each school is not known. The following institutions will be represented: Stanford, Whitman, University of Southern California, Washington State College, University of Oregon, University of Arizona, Willamette University, University of California at Los Angeles, Pomona College, and the University of Idaho. Two features of the conference, an oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contest will be open to the public. Mr. Garland stated. One of these contests will be held at Washington State College. Plans are being made for the entertainment, according to Mr. Garland. The delegates will be guests of the Idaho debating squads and the Idaho chapter of Delta Sigma Rho, members of Delta Sigma Rho will give a banquet in honor of the visiting delegates of the honorary fraternity. An automobile tour through scenic sections of northern Idaho is also being planned.

MANAGERS CLUB NAMES MEMBERS

Three Sophomore Football Assistants Selected to be Picked After Basket Ball Season. Three new members were chosen by the Athletic Managers club in a meeting held last Tuesday night at the Beta house. These men, who served as sophomore football managers last season, are William Peterson, Anthony B. Moss, and Walter Young. They will become regular members in the next meeting. Other members will be chosen by the club after the basketball and track seasons. Plans for a dance to be given in the near future were also considered. This will be the first social function of the athletic managers this year.

FAMOUS PIANIST COMING

Leo Ornstein, nationally known pianist and composer, will appear before the students of the University of Idaho, and the people of Moscow, March 6, under the auspices of the public events committee of the university, according to Assistant President I. W. Jones. Along with the usual classical numbers, the pianist plays a number of his own compositions, which are of a descriptive nature, and modernistic in the extreme. According to Mr. Jones, who has heard him several times, Mr. Ornstein's technique is very original and full of personality. The artist comes here as part of a tour of the western states.

TELEGRAPHIC SHOOT REOPENS ON JAN. 28

Idaho Men's Team Will Compete With Four Other Squads in Second Round. After a week of practice the second for the men's rifle team will open next Monday against the University of Alabama, the University of Tennessee, Montana State college, and Virginia Military Institute. The men firing in these matches are: K. Platt, E. W. Johnson, P. Crox, J. S. Crandall, C. L. Talbot, C. B. Collier, A. B. Moss, H. Yost, C. L. Ratcliffe, J. Crox, W. Stanley, T. A. Reardon, J. C. Nunemaker, G. Beardmore, and E. Iverson.

The returns from the University of Wyoming match have not been received, according to Lieut. Charles H. Hart Jr., coach of the team. Twenty-five thousand people were killed by automobiles in the United States in 1928. And yet, if we were member correctly, it was Henry Ford who in 1916 headed a delegation which started across the Atlantic to put on end to the awful European slaughter.

Vandals Ride to Victory With Last-Minute Rally

Idaho Five Breaks 35-35 Tie in Extra Period, Defeating University of Oregon By Close Margin

(By A. F. T. J.) Coming from behind to score eight successive points, four to tie the score at 35-35, and four more to win in the overtime period, Idaho outgamed and outplayed the University of Oregon basketball team Wednesday night to win 39 to 35, the second conference victory for Idaho in three starts. Oregon failed to score in the final two minutes of regular play and Idaho held the Footooters scoreless in the extra playoff period.

Wails in Library Prove to be Wind

The library and several other rooms in the Administration building are furnishing a good problem for the physics class to study. With the advent of the first good Moscow blizzard, the wails of these rooms have taken on the wails of numerous musical instruments. The industrious student will just become agitated in a tabulative analysis of a loaf of bread or the method of finding the area of the new library, when he is suddenly wrenched from his abstraction by the weird blowing of the mythical wind instrument somewhere between the top of the windows and the floor of the room above. At night these sounds take on an unearthly tone. Nervous young ladies have been heard to vow that they saw unhuman things scrape by the window pane "just a second ago". Callous men have been seen to glance surreptitiously toward the windows before they sat near any of them. The sounds had not been noticed before the recent cold spell. They came over with the snow-choked wind from Washington. An eminent physicist has ascribed the noise to a "wind" which has blown over to possess the student body before the Idaho-V. S. C. basketball game. After a minute of the extra period had passed, there was little doubt as to the outcome. McMillin converted a free throw, putting Idaho into the lead. Oregon could not even get possession of the ball. Then to make matters certain, with less than two minutes to go, Burgher dropped a field goal through for Idaho's account and Idaho did a neat piece of stalling until the final gun. A technical foul called on Riddings of Oregon, gave Idaho another free chance and McMillin made it good after the game was over. Idaho got off to a quick start and held the Footooters to one point for the first 12 minutes of play, while Fox's men garnered 10 points themselves. Baskets by Edwards, Riddings and Epps, changed the count to within two points of tying, but Cheyne sank an easy toss as the gun went off for the first half. The mid-time score was 12 to 8 in Idaho's favor. Playing Was Close. Play throughout the second half was nip-and-tuck, with Idaho, holding the advantage for the first part and Oregon the latter portion. McMillin made 11, 14 to 8 at the start of the second period, but in less than

COMEDY GOES OVER WITH LARGE CROWD

One-Act Plays to Be Repeated Tonight in Auditorium

A larger crowd than usual witnessed the four one-act plays given Thursday night in the auditorium by Prof. John Cushman's play production classes. "Thank You Doctor" was a fast moving comedy of an ingenious lady crook, a gullible doctor and a misjudged pearl salesman. The cast composed of Clayne Robinson, Dorothy Pierce, Charles Herndon, Esther Johnson and Harry Robb gained well deserved applause and laughter. Domestic strife with a happy ending was featured by Dan McGrath, Cora Jensen, Vernon Huddleson and Margaret Foss in "Changing Places." Another comedy which proved entertaining was the "Master Salesman," a story of a man whose persistence nearly caused him loss of sure business. The parts were taken by Merle Frizzelle, Alice Nash and Warren Goucheour. "Smarty's Party" had a more serious plot than that of a mother who have not hitherto been enrolled at any time in the University of Idaho, shall take place before noon on February 11, 1929. The change was instituted to eliminate out of town rushing and pledging, and the pledging of new men far in advance of their regular participation in school work.

IDAHO BANKERS HEAR LECTURES

Fourteen Bankers Attend Short Course Held Under Direction of College of Agriculture. Fourteen bankers from various parts of Idaho were in attendance at the bankers short course held under the direction of the college of agriculture Thursday and Friday of last week. Much interest was shown by all of the bankers present. Copies of the lectures and addresses made by the university and extension men will be printed and sent to all Idaho bankers at the expense of the Idaho Bankers' association.

Goldie Smith gave a talk on the national convention of the society, held last summer at Ithaca, New York. The following program was given: McDowell's "Witches' Dance" piano solo by Grace Jean; a vocal solo, "La Sere Nata," by Tosli and Mac Sadyen's "Cradle Song," by Mrs. Oliver; and a piano solo, Schumann's "Papillons," by Josephine Harland.

RETURNS FROM BOISE

Professor F. B. Laney returned Monday noon from a consultation in Boise with state geological authorities. He was summoned by Stewart Campbell, state mines inspector, to assist in an examination of geological specimens from near Boise. He brought back rocks with him which are now being tested in university laboratories. The petition of the local group for membership in the National Undergraduate Interfraternity conference has been accepted, and a delegate will be sent to the national convention next year if possible. Professor F. B. Laney returned Monday noon from a consultation in Boise with state geological authorities. He was summoned by Stewart Campbell, state mines inspector, to assist in an examination of geological specimens from near Boise. He brought back rocks with him which are now being tested in university laboratories.

BEWARE OF CUTS

A BOLUTION of the cut system does not mean that honest students will be able to attend their classes when they feel inclined to do so.

A number of instructors have announced that if students cut their classes they will receive daily grades of zero every time they are absent.

Concerning omitted work, the old absence rule reads as follows: (Part C, Number 35 of the university regulations.)

Nothing is said in that curt statement about making up work or about excusing students from classes.

To make up one zero, a student must receive four 100's. Students who are prudent will cut classes no often than absolutely necessary.

Speaking of basketball games, we wonder how long it will be before more students discover that the best seats in the gymnasium are on the second balcony.

Much confusion and misunderstanding has resulted from the erroneous report that students would be prohibited from intra-mural competition.

decided that the entrance of such men should be left to the manager of their group. It was stated that the task of determining eligibility of all men entered would be a considerable task.

The only men barred are lettermen of the sport in question or members of the varsity squad at the time of intra-mural basketball.

FROM ONE WHO KNOWS By Charles W. Lawrence, Editor, Intercollegiate Press.

Thirteen years ago the writer sat in a church pew in a northern New York village and listened to an old gentleman from Syracuse who told of the revival campaign just conducted in his city by the Rev. William A. (Billy) Sunday.

As this is being written the writer is pondering the first sermon he ever heard delivered by the distinguished evangelist. As a sermon of course, it was an excellent vandyke show.

"I have more respect for a man who sticks a gun under my nose on the highway and steals my watch than I have for men like Darwin, Nietzsche, and the whole breed of his followers who are making idiots and fanatics out of smart young fools in our colleges," he shouted, and the audience clapped and shouted, "Amen."

The point is this. Billy Sunday is a typical American. Who are you to believe. It has been easy in the one, two, three, or four years you have been sheltered in ivy walls to forget that people can still believe the sort of things which Sunday tells them.

Student Opinion

To the Editor: The south had its grandfather clauses to nullify the negro vote, and now we have faculty discretion to nullify student responsibility.

It takes five 100's to bring one zero up to maintain an average of 80 percent. A three-credit course would allow, under the old system, six unexcused cuts or the equivalent of six-tenths of a credit.

Over and above this, the instructor has the prerogative of giving "the boot" to anyone who is so foolish as to take advantage of this leniency.

Idaho Campus Loses Unique Character As Siggins Departs

by Percy Parker

Siggins—Howard Edwin Siggins—has departed from the Idaho campus and we will all miss him. Perhaps it isn't very fitting for one of the "long brothers" to toss hand-tooled notes of verbiage in his departing footsteps.

Those who knew Siggins will say that he had done other things before and during the time he attended college. Siggins arrived from the Tech, unknown, unappreciated and acting natural.

SOCIETY

Although the coming weekend will be a busy one scholastically because of approaching finals, it will be one of the most prominent socially so far this year. With a formal dinner-dance, a sleigh-riding party, a barn dance, play production and an informal dance being scheduled, variety will be the keynote.

Among the most outstanding affairs will be the informal dance given by the Interfraternity Council at the Alpha Tau Omega house tonight.

The Beta Theta Pi formal dinner-dance which will be held at the chapter house Saturday night starts the season of fraternity formals and is expected to be the most elaborate affair of the week. The Sigma Nu barn dance on the same night will be a feature dance of unusual interest.

ZELLNER DATE SET BY ENGLISH CLUB

Famous Impersonator Will Give Performance Here February 15

That J. W. Zellner, famous impersonator and quick change actor will appear in the university auditorium February 15, was announced definitely by Dr. George Morey Miller, head of the English department recently, following receipt of a communication from the "Protean artist" that he would be unable to change the date of his Idaho performance. The decision on February 15 for the performance has been agreed to by officials of the English club which is sponsoring Zellner's appearance in Moscow.

Lightning costume changes and colorful characterizations of classic, semi-classic and later popular literary and historical figures are presented by Zellner, who is said to be a complete stage troupe in himself. Each of the sixteen impersonations that he goes through in the space of an hour and a half have been acclaimed as remarkable likenesses and unmistakably vivid duplications. Each part is acted in pantomime, costume, facial expression and fitting action being relied upon to carry out the effect.

While the actual impersonation is the most remarkable feature of Zellner's performance, his rapid change from one character to another is little less extraordinary, critics say. The longest change requires but forty seconds and some require but six or eight stage settings and costumes are all in keeping with the figures Zellner portrays.

Tickets for the performance will be put on sale by members of the English club in the near future, according to Arthur Ensign, business manager. Members of the organization who have paid their dues will be admitted at a reduced rate, said Grace Jain, president of the club.

BUSINESS HOUSES AID AD CLUB PLAN

Vigilance Committee Takes Action On Solicitor; Club Will Elect Officers This Afternoon

Every Moscow business house but one has shown a willingness to cooperate with the newly appointed vigilance committee of the Advertising club, said Darius Davis, president, last night. Merchants have been furnished with cards and other particulars and have agreed not to enter into advertising contracts with solicitors not sanctioned by the Advertising club committee. The club will meet this afternoon at 6 o'clock, room 221 administration building for election of second semester officers.

Action has been taken by the committee against the allowing of one north Idaho concern to solicit advertising in Moscow, this being the first official function of the group since its appointment two weeks ago.

Business managers of student publications are requested by the advertising club to secure cards of recommendation from Glenn Wright or Darius Davis in order that they may not encounter difficulty in securing advertising in Moscow.

LEAGUE MEETING

The Epworth league for university students will meet at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon for a social hour at the Methodist church. Service for the group will be at 6 o'clock.

STATE-WIDE POINT SYSTEM DISCUSSED

A report of the progress of the committee appointed to work out a state-wide system for women's athletics in the high schools was the chief feature of the women's regular club meeting, held in room 314, Administration building, Thursday evening.

The members discussed plans that will be made public at a later date. Several new women will be pledged by the club after the basketball season.

three minutes. Epps, Milligan and Ridings sank baskets in rapid succession to lock the tally at 14-11. Four times during the remainder of the half the score was tied, the teams never being more than three or four points apart in scoring, and rarely that.

To Frank McMillin, diminutive Idaho junior forward, goes the honor of being the individual star of the evening, but the support given him by Drummond, Stowell, Burgher and Thornhill was the best this year.

Drummond played a "whale" of a game on defense, while Burgher and Stowell shone offensively. Cheyne played an effectively guarding game in the final minutes of the game, and twice prevented Oregon scores that seemed clinched. Stowell sank two long baskets from the center of the floor.

Free Throws Count

If free throws lost the Oregon State game, they won the contest for Idaho against Oregon. After missing his first two attempts earlier in the game, Captain Burgher sank six out of as many tries in the second half. McMillin sank four free throws out of as many tries in the second half, also.

Milligan and Ridings upheld the Webfoot defense and did it creditably, too. Ridings was everywhere on the floor, guarding, passing, twisting, turning and sinking baskets. The handicap of an injured leg did not seem to affect anything, but his floor speed. Milligan scored consistently and led with 12 points.

For Idaho McMillin was high with 11 points, with Stowell and Burgher tied for second honors with 10 counters each.

SOUTHERN IDAHO BEHIND UNIVERSITY SAYS DEAN ANGELL

Acting Head of Southern Branch Reports Favorable Attitude Shown

JEALOUSY DIES OUT Students at Pocatello Division Feel Themselves Part of U. of I.

Sentiment toward the university in southeastern Idaho has undergone a remarkable change, reports Dr. M. F. Angell, acting executive dean of the southern branch of the university at Pocatello.

The people in Pocatello and in all of southeastern Idaho are backing the administration of the greater University of Idaho wholeheartedly, he declares. When he was first sent to Pocatello a year and a half ago to revise the curricula of the southern branch to bring it up to the standards of the university, the general attitude was that he had been sent down to kill the southern branch. Today that feeling is entirely gone, the dean declares, and in its place has grown up a feeling of cooperation toward the university, both at Pocatello and at Moscow.

The university has been the means of building up better relations between the northern and southern sections of the state. The old enmity that came from the agitation for a four-year college at Pocatello has almost entirely disappeared, said Dean Angell. The people are taking an active interest in the growth of the Pocatello branch, and feel that they are included in the unified educational program of the state. In contrast to the conditions that existed in former years, Dean Angell said that members of the legislature from the northern and southern parts of the state, formerly at swords' points, are working together at Boise on appropriations for the university. Sentiment toward the library proposed for Moscow is favorable in the legislature, the dean reported, adding that the whole appropriation bill would receive early and careful attention.

In the 18 months that Dean Angell has been in charge, the southern branch has shown an increase in enrollment, substantial improvements on the campus, and an entire change in feel toward the Moscow campus. Students at Pocatello sing Idaho songs, and wear Idaho colors, the dean pointed out, and feel that they are a part of the university. Moscow students must cooperate and make the Pocatello students feel that they are an integral part of the Vandal institution. Unless that is done, the work accomplished to date, will avail little, and Pocatello students instead of coming to Moscow for their last two years of work will go to institutions in other states.

Dean Angell recently completed a term as president of the Kiwanis club at Pocatello, and is now one of the directors of the Pocatello chamber of commerce. He came to Moscow to attend faculty meetings called to work out preliminary plans for the junior and senior college changes which will be adopted here perhaps by next fall. He has announced that he will resign his position at Pocatello July 1 to return to his duties as dean of the college of letters and science here. Next September his sabbatical leave of absence falls due. He has not yet decided whether he will take his leave at that time or remain here. He left Pocatello Thursday morning.

MILITARY BAND IN CONCERT SUNDAY

Bernt Nielson's "Rock" Organization to Present Program Sunday Afternoon in Auditorium.

The annual concert of the university R. O. T. C. band will be given in the university auditorium next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Bernt Nielson, director and leader, announced last weekend.

The military band has been practicing four times a week since the beginning of the year and is said to have worked up a very good program for the Sunday concert. Marching airs with the interspersing of semi-classical selections will form the organization's entertainment for the afternoon.

The program has been announced as follows:

- I. Overture, Hungarian Comedy by Kellar-Bela
- II. Selection, La Traviata.....G. Verdi
- III. Sigurd Jorsalafar, Suite.....E. Grieg
- No. 1. Valsep (Introduction)
- No. 2. Intermezzo (Borghild's Dream)
- No. 3. Huldigungsmarsch (Triumphal March)
- IV. Master Melodies from Light Operas. Introduction: The Army Chaplain, The Bat, Gasparone, The Merry War, La Fille de Mme. Angot, Poor Jonathan, The Beggar Student, Baccaccio, The Gypsy Baron.
- V. A Hunting Scene, descriptive piece.....P. Bucalassi
- VI. March, Victorious America.....Ellenberg

IDAHO WILL HAVE WOMEN'S PEP BAND

Although the woman's pep band has already 25 members, there are still several places to be filled, Esther Rae, secretary, said yesterday. A Sousaphone player is especially needed.

OREGON PLAYERS WHO STARRED WED.

Above are shown five members of the University of Oregon quintet who played a spectacular game against Idaho Wednesday night in the Memorial gym. The visitors came from behind in the second half and up to the last minute were ahead when Idaho tied the score. In an extra period of five minutes the Vandals rang up four points to Oregon's none. The game was the best exhibition seen so far this season, and Oregon's ability to "break" rapidly was a big factor.

Rainbow Tracked to Blue Tin

Newton, Ill., Feb. 22, 1928 Larus & Brother Co., Richmond, Va. Gentlemen: The tobacco samples you sent me have been received, and they are great. If you can picture in your mind the loneliness of a traveling man in a small town on a rainy night, not a friend in a hundred miles, nothing to do and no place to go. That was the position I was in when your samples of Edgeworth came. It was like a voice from above when I opened the package and got the old pipe steaming. I have smoked various brands of tobacco for the past fifteen years, but never in my life have I found a tobacco at any price that will equal Edgeworth. It does not bite the tongue, and a beautiful aroma follows. With the good old friend pipe and a can of Edgeworth you can dream of the rainbow's end. Please count me in the future as an Edgeworth booster. Very truly, (Signed) Al Stanley
