BURGER STARS IN VANDALS' SECOND WIN OVER COUGARS

W. S. C. Humbled 38-26 on Own Floor Tuesday Night

IDAHO NEVER BEHIND First Half Lead of 22-11 Threatened by Scoring Rally

By A. F. T. J.
Playing flashy and erratic basketball in spurts, Idaho Vandals pushed forward a new high-scoring act in the form of Captain Darwite Burgher, to pound out a 38 to 26 victory over Washington on State college hoopers on the Pullman court Tuesday night. Burgher played great offensive and defensive basketball, scored 17 points, and at the same time held two Cougar centers to two points.
Idaho was off to an early lead, running up four points in the first two minutes of play and tallying 11 counters before the Cougar basketballers had located the hoop. Here the home team rallied, and outplayed Idaho for two minutes while rolling up five points. McMillin started the scoring for Idaho again and the quarter ended 14 to 5. Honors continued about even during the second quarter with Burgher and McMillin doing the scoring for Idaho and Buckley for W. S. C. The half ended 22 to 11 for Idaho. Cougars Rally Short.
A determined Cougar quartet faced Idaho for the second-half tip-off, and before Idaho realized it Pasco and Gilleland sank quick baskets to make the score 22 to 15, cutting the Vandal margin to seven points. Stowell countered with an Idaho basket, but Buckley equalized the counter with another from the sidelines. McMillin, Thornhill and Burgher, each scored and Idaho pulled away to a 33 to 19 lead with less than eight minutes to play. Here Washington State constantly menaced the Idaho basket, but Captain Burgher in peak form continued to pour field goals through the Cougar mesh—sinking four in the final 10 minutes of play. Idaho maintained a 10-point lead right up to the finish, when Stowell increased it by two points.
Idaho's play throughout the game was steady and had it not been for the consistent playing of Burgher in the second half, the Vandals might have been given a close call. McMillin, after giving Pullman fans a rare exhibition of spectacular basketball shooting, seemed unable to even convert clutch shots in the second half. Stowell, too, was below his usual shooting par. The entire Idaho team functioned well on the floor, but threw away a number of scoring chances.
Burgher Good on Defense.
Captain Burgher in addition to his offensive game, held Endelow and Mitchell, Cougar pivot men, to one basket between them, as his share in defense. He was a tower of strength to Idaho on floor work and got the tip-off for Idaho in a majority of cases, despite injured feet, "a hang over" from the Washington contest last Saturday.
Idaho boasted the two high-point men of the game, Burgher tallying 17 points and McMillin 12. Buckley led the Cougars with nine and was their individual star on both offense and defense.

ARMY LIFE MUST BE GREAT Eating Dog Meat in Turkey—Fighting Gigantic Reptiles in Australia All in the Day's Grind, Says Sergeant Lonie Woods

Reports that Sergeant Lonie Woods of the university military department has had a long and varied career are verified throughout by students under the army veteran's instruction. Sergeant Woods has ranged farther and wider since he joined the army in his early youth, than any other instructor in the university, in the opinion of his class members.
In his lectures to the cadets, Sergeant Woods makes use of various incidents in his life to illustrate the points that he hopes to stress, the students say. In connection with sanitation he says that America should not copy after the methods used in Turkey. When he was stationed there before the World war he noticed that the chief food was dog meat. In the same manner American butchers sometimes forget to remove the headstalls from cattle before hitting them with the屠刀, the dogs in the kettle without removing the skin. In this connection he

ZELLNER PRESENTS CHARACTER PARADE Gives Noted Performance in Auditorium Tonight; Changes Amaze

"Zellner's performance was the most remarkable of its kind that I have ever seen," said Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department, yesterday in regard to the appearance of the "Protean Artist" in the auditorium this evening under the auspices of the English club. Other faculty members and students who have seen Zellner go through his many character roles expressed like opinions of the actor and anticipated a large crowd this evening.
Zellner's art is unique on the stage today and Zellner is his leading proponent. Characters taken from history, the classics and comic creations are portrayed by him in full costume, makeup, and with appropriate lighting effects. With each characterization Zellner's actions portray the personality he is representing with unmistakable realism and his changes from one to another are made in almost incredible time.
The color-lighting equipment alone is said to be a marvel of completeness in so compact an outfit. It consists of a miniature switch board of twenty controls and a variety of spot lights and floodlights in both brilliant and diffused shades of soft colors with innumerable combinations. Costumes are in keeping with the splendor of the production. Mr. Zellner will arrive in Moscow this afternoon and arrange the stage several hours before his performance begins at 8:15 o'clock.

KELLY APPOINTS HUTCHINSON IDAHO TRACK COACH, 1929 Assistant Mentor Takes Place of William E. "Cap" Bryan

Appointment of Ralph F. Hutchinson, professor of physical education, as head track coach, was announced Tuesday by President F. J. Kelly, nullifying a previous statement that track coaching at Idaho this spring would be divided among several members of the coaching staff.
Professor Hutchinson came to Idaho last fall from the southern branch at Pocatello where he had served several years as director of athletics. Edwin Higgins, former Vandal yell leader who won coast wide recognition for his tumbling antics, received his athletic training under "Hutch," as he is commonly known.
Hutchinson began his athletic career at Princeton university where his ability as a football player won him a place on one of Walter Camp's second All-American teams. After his graduation from Princeton, he was called to Princeton as an assistant coach in football. The following year he was head baseball coach at the University of West Virginia. From 1903 to 1916 he was in charge of the athletic program of the University of Texas. He next went to Washington and Jefferson university where he was head football coach until 1916. Three years later he came to the southern branch, and was assistant football coach here in 1919 and 1920.
The famous "B" formation used by Pop Warner's Stanford teams last season was originated by Hutchinson while he was at the University of Texas, according to a Montana sports writer who formerly played on one of Hutchinson's teams.

MCDANIEL RITES HELD WEDNESDAY Scores Pay Tribute to Former Student; Burial in Moscow Cemetery

Funeral services for Allen McDaniel, former University of Idaho student, were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the family home, 418 east B street. The Rev. William Hints of the First Methodist Episcopal church, of which McDaniel had been a member since 1912, had charge of the services.
Members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, of which McDaniel was a member, and officers of the University of Idaho R. O. T. C. in full uniform attended the funeral in a body. McDaniel had been lieutenant colonel in the R. O. T. C. when he was a senior in the university. At the grave a memorial ceremony was given by the Phi Delta Theta fraternity, and "taps" with echo, bugled by the cadet corps, concluded the rites.
Scores Pay Plunk Tribute
The body lay in state in the west room of the home on Wednesday morning, while scores of friends paid tribute to McDaniel and his family. The room was banked with flowers, many wreaths were sent from various friends in various parts of the United States. Letters and telegrams which have poured in from several continents to affirm the tribute paid to McDaniel by Doctor Hints regarding his capacity as a natural leader and maker of friends.
A trio, consisting of Mrs. H. H. Orland, Mrs. A. W. Fahrenwald, and Dr. Ira Boyd, sang "Lead Kindly Light" during the services. Pallbearers were Maj. F. R. Fuller, Frank Clork, Theodore Turner, Boyd Brigham, Alfred Hagan and Harold Cornelison. They bore the casket from the home to the funeral coach between lines of members of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity.

McDaniel was born at Rutledge, Mo., July 10, 1902. He came to Moscow with his parents in 1910. While attending high school he was president of his class for four successive years and yell leader for several years. He entered the University of Idaho in 1921 and graduated with the class of '26. During this time he spent a year in Alaska with the United States geological survey and later attended a business college in Spokane.
After graduation McDaniel accepted a position on the President McKinley, one of the large liners of the Orient service out of Seattle. After several years with this company he was promoted to the office of assistant purser. TAPESTRY PRESENTED TO WOMEN'S HALL Moscow Chapter of P. E. O. Expresses Its Appreciation in Form of Unusual Gift

A tapestry was the unusual gift presented to Hays hall last semester by the Moscow chapter of the P. E. O. sisterhood. The gift was made to the hall in appreciation of the action which allowed about 60 delegates to the Idaho state P. E. O. convention, which met in Moscow last summer, to make their headquarters there. The tapestry called "The Hunt" is four by six feet in size. It hangs in the drawing room its deep, rich, red background harmonizing with the draperies of the room. On the back is a small silver plate with the inscription, "Presented to Hays Hall Chapter of P. E. O."
There are two classes of girls—those who are pretty and those who just don't care for boys.—Sou'wester.

Blue Key exceeded by more than 100 its guarantee of 300 tickets for the student special train to the Idaho-W. S. C. game at Pullman Tuesday evening, reported George McDonald, chairman of the committee in charge. A total of 425 made the trip, the majority being university students. Plans for sponsoring the train were made at the last minute, and for a time members of the organization feared that the quota of tickets would not be sold. It was the first basketball special that has been sent to Pullman in about six years, records show. Blue Key will again have charge of the state high school basketball tournament that will be held here March 15 and 16. Intercollegiate Knights, sophomore men's service organization, has offered its services to the group during the tournament. Several other projects will be taken up by Blue Key this semester.

William D. Mark, a senior in the school of mines, has accepted an assistantship in the underground sampling department of the Anaconda Copper Mining company at Butte, Mont., having met his graduation requirements at the mid-year, according to Prof. F. B. Laney, head of the Geology department.
Mr. Mark has had considerable geological field experience in Idaho and Utah, having spent the last four summers with the United Geological survey on important projects. He called the Montana mining concern which Mr. Mark has answered has been the twenty-sixth received by the University of Idaho school of mines since June, according to Professor Laney.

DEANS PREDICT BIG ENROLLMENT Incomplete Figures Indicate Slightly Larger Student Body This Semester

Estimates made by several university deans would indicate that the total enrollment for the second semester will be materially larger than has been for a number of years.
Enrollment figures have not been compiled by the registrar's office on account of the extra work of recording final grades for the first semester. The usual number of students have withdrawn from the university at mid-year, thereby reducing the estimated total. It is believed that the enrollment will be only slightly larger than it was last year at this time.
Failure of a number of instructors to turn in their final grades, has caused considerable delay in the registrar's office. All grades should have been turned in by Tuesday noon, but Miss Gleason reports that there are still a number of instructors, some of them with large classes, who have failed to meet that requirement. Grades will be mailed to students beginning next week. Those whose names begin with letters in the first part of the alphabet probably will receive their grades first, although a different plan may be followed.

DASHING FILIPINO PROVES IMPOSTER Buys Car With $1000 Bad Check; Lands in Jail

Posing as Nick Lucas, nationally known singer, an unidentified young Filipino who recently arrived in Moscow "sat on top of the world" for a short time Wednesday afternoon when he was riding about Moscow in a new car which he had purchased with a $1000 spurious check.
"Nick" was arrested by Sheriff Summerfield yesterday afternoon, ending his brief career of fame on the campus. He arrived in Moscow about a week ago, and appeared at several fraternity dances as an intermission entertainer. Convinced as well as entertaining, he had students going down town to buy his records.
Shortly after the banks had closed Wednesday afternoon, he presented a forged deposit slip on a local bank at the Cushing-Nelson garage showing that he had a balance of $1000. He bought a new car on the strength of the slip of paper and a check, and drove around for two hours, and then returned the car to the garage for storage. The manager of the company became suspicious of the youth, and called the sheriff. "Nick's" landlady unwittingly tipped him off, and he eluded officers until 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.
Investigation revealed that he is wanted in Montana, Sandpoint and Gardfield on bad check and fraud charges. He lived with a number of Filipino students during his short stay in Moscow. He appeared to be well educated, and claimed to be a painter, singer and stringed instrument player. He told a hazy story of his graduation from the University of Montana, and of his plans to obtain a master's degree here.

WANDALS TRAIN GUNS ON COAST HOOP WARRIORS Entrain Today, Bound for Husky Lair; Go Into Action Saturday

That is the challenge that stands foremost in the minds of Coach Rich A. Fox and nine of the "Scarlet Sharpshooters" as they entrain westward today to meet the University of Washington Saturday night in the first of a three-game series with coast members of the Pacific conference. Oregon, Monday, and Oregon State, Tuesday, that is the remainder of the hoop assignment for the Vandals before they rush home in time to wind up the conference season against Montana next Friday. The Idaho hoop season ends against Gonzaga University in Spokane, Saturday.
Enroute Rough Going
"This coast trip will be the toughest job Idaho has had so far this year," Coach Fox declared Thursday night. "Idaho will be lucky to win a single game against Washington or either of the Oregon schools." Fox indicated that despite the injuries to Burgher and Drummond, the entire squad would be in good shape for the trip. He selected the following to make the trip: McMillin, Cheyne, Stowell and Ditty forwards; Collins and Burgher, center; Drummond, Thornhill and Cayson guards; Kenneth Marchal, student manager, also makes the trip.
Barring upsets in the remainder of coast conference play, and if Idaho wins two of the remaining four games, second place is in sight for the Vandals. Oregon looks like the most likely contender for second place, and the Webfooters have made a belated comeback after losing four straight games. But Oregon has yet to play Washington, and the odds are in favor of the Huskies. Idaho is hoped to win from Oregon State, but is hoped to lose to Washington. Odds in the Oregon game are about even, and the Vandals will have the advantage against Montana here next week. Regardless of any slump the Vandals may have taken since the West Washington State game last week.

SONG CAMPAIGN A FLOP

LAST FALL a campaign was started for original Idaho songs. It gave promise of resulting in something worthwhile, but it seems to have died a natural death.

Several organizations stated their willingness to help the movement along, but it didn't even get a good start. Each group seems to have passed the responsibility to the next organization, and the result is that nothing has been done. Members of Sigma Alpha Iota know where they can obtain many original songs that have been presented at the annual song and stunt fests for several years back. Out of that collection, surely there are some good songs, and others that can be revised and edited into presentable form.

The need of songs has been brought out rather pointedly at the basketball games where students sing, "touchdown sure this time." It hardly seems right to hear what is sung as an Idaho song issuing from a phonograph, to the words and name of another university.

What is needed is organized action on the problem. The old songs should be picked over carefully for any useable material, and new contributions should be encouraged. After a proper number have been selected, some organization could easily conduct a contest for the selection of the best numbers, provided that they are worth adopting.

Why not have some of that action before the matter is stalled off another year?

"GOOD GOING!"

IDAHO STUDENTS are to be complimented on their sportmanlike conduct at the Idaho-W. S. C. game Tuesday. The special train project, organized on the spur of the moment, was heartily supported. The administration cooperated by allowing the women to go, something that the officials at Idaho's rival institution refused to do.

At the game, Idaho rooters, far outnumbered, did their best to give vocal and moral support to the team on the floor. Best of all, they refrained from grabbing the decisions of the officials, something that has cropped out several times at home games.

The whole venture proved that the Idaho spirit of which students are justly proud, is not just something to talk about.

By this time next week, fraternally jewelers should be able to declare a small dividend on their capital stock.

Student Opinion

Dear Editor: An article appeared in the Tuesday issue of the Argonaut stating that a certain sorority had lost its rush party because of dirty rushing. We admit that we violated Pan Hellenic ruling but we defy the statement that we used shady rushing methods.

We lost our date through a misunderstanding of the new Pan Hellenic rules. That we are innocent is proved by the fact we openly brought the girls to our house and that upon being informed of our mistake we immediately took them home. No rushing had been done during the luncheon and no attempt has been made or will be made to rush the girls underhandedly. We make no complaint against the decision given by Pan Hellenic and are willing to take our first punishment, but we protest against being labelled dirty rushers. H. V.

Editor's note: In fairness to the group involved, it appears that several groups have within the past year violated some of the women's rushing rules, and Pan Hellenic has not seen fit to inflict a uniform penalty.

To Idaho Students: The old Idaho fight shown by the students who went to the Idaho W. S. C. game Tuesday night deserves a great deal of credit. It's a grand and glorious feeling to the team to the coach, and to the yell leaders to have the students take as much interest in

RARE MUSEUM SPECIMENS

This sketch is a charcoal in 3 min., 6 sec. flat, at the Muckers' ball last Friday evening. Kindly disregard the pleased expression on Rufus Johnson Blurr's face. As a matter of fact, he is cursing roundly because his shoe lace has just broken, and he has a hole in his sock big enough to encircle the gym tower. Blurr is the gent on the right.

It's hard to admit, but no one

All the snooze goes.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Soderquist had a little miss in his engine the other day. He is the campus ambassador extraordinary, and minister plenipotentiary (we suppose Doc Miller would call that F.W. We agree with him.)

Stel Jones unearthed a strange fact when he discovered that there is practically no sea-sickness in Montana or South Dakota.

Liz Chapman, whose home is soon to be the houseboat in Paradise, believes that it broadens one's mind to let a steam roller run over one's head.

Something ought to be done about the profs who chuckled a few, then wished us a happy vacation between semesters.

Epigram Writer's Efforts Now Turned to Master's Degree

By Hazel Simonds.

"We long to see the other side of the hills—and then we find some more hills." This says Scott Williamson, a graduate student in the school of education, is the brief expression of his life. Williamson's epigrams, written during his travels about the United States, have been published in two books entitled "A Rover's Thoughts of Life" and "Breaking the Chain," written under the pseudonym of "Darral" Enzell. Six editions have been printed of the first volume. Williamson has led a varied life, wandering from coast to coast of the country, visiting Mexico, and attending such schools as the Boston School of Oratory, University of Kentucky, Northwestern University, University of California and the University of Idaho.

Leaving his home near Pendleton, Ore., when he was 14, to "see the other side of the hills," he has written his experiences in the form of epigrams, essays and stories. Besides the publishing of the epigrams in book form, The Argonaut and the Idaho Statesman have printed his essays and articles, all under an assumed name. He joined the marines during the World war and served for several months as guard on the Leviathan. By reading, principally Shakespeare, and studying human nature, Williamson has found material for many stories and articles which he hopes in time to have published.

Richmond, Va., U. S. A.

Dear Sir: Going to take the pleasure and drop you a few lines to say that my favorite tobacco is your Edgeworth. I have been a user of it for the last eight years and find it the only tobacco for a real good smoke.

For the last five or six months I have been trying several other kinds but I find Edgeworth is the only tobacco for me.

If I am smoking any other brand my wife will tell me, as she likes the smell of only Edgeworth. When I am smoking others she opens all windows and doors.

The reason for writing this letter is that I had a card party last night, and most all of the party asked me what kind of tobacco I used.

So I told them Edgeworth.
Yours very truly,
A smoker of Edgeworth

FROSH DEBATERS ARGUE WITH W.S.C.

Debating for the first time this year, an affirmative freshmen team of the University of Idaho lost an audience decision to a Washington State College frosh team at Lewiston yesterday afternoon. The count was 61 to 54 for the college yearlings. Idaho was represented by Lewis Jones, Paul Fetsoldt, and Ralph Otstead. Coach J. V. Garland and Dr. G. H. Orlean accompanied the team to Lewiston.

This afternoon at Pullman the Idaho frosh will uphold the opposite side of the question "Resolved: That The United States should recognize Soviet Russia." The same question was argued at Lewiston. The team traveling to Pullman for the second encounter with the W. S. C. frosh is Kenneth Jensen, Paris Martin and Lawrence Hollingshead. A stout matron is a flapper gone to waist.—Sou'wester.

UNIFORM WORSHIP IS PLAY THEME

Show Satirizes Women; to Be Given Here Next Week

Can you imagine Germaine Gimble as a "woman over forty"? Imperiously energetic with "magnificent black hair and eyes"? Probably not, but that is how she will look when she plays the part of Catherine Petkoff in the "Arms and the Man". Of course before such a transformation can take place a quantity of new stage dye called masque must arrive from the Max Factor Studio in Los Angeles. There is small danger, however, that the masque will fail to imitate its appearance, and that Germaine will be forced to remain her own blonde self.

Mac Hardwick, who portrays the chocolate cream soldier, is determined not to be out done, though he is somewhat worried as to how he will look with rich chestnut tresses combed in the fashion of 1885. Louise Lamelle takes the part of Raina, the heroine. The reasons are obvious. In the first place it will enable her to stand out in stronger contrast with the other characters who are all brunettes. In the second place she is supposed to be a light headed little creature who firmly believes that life ought to be lived the way it is pictured in operas.

The play is being presented in the auditorium next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings by Professor Cushman's advanced play production class.

Birthday of Lincoln Gets Small Notice; St. Valentine Shines

By Elinor Yaggy

History is queer stuff, and the passage of time doesn't seem to make much difference in the clearness of the results of things. Take, for instance Lincoln and Cupid.

On February 12, many years ago, Lincoln opened his eyes on a log hut hunkered around a while and probably started crying. He grew up cutting wood and being poor and honest. He attained to Great 4, the presidency, and then to an assassination, and now to most people Lincoln is a back number. A few Lincoln clubs remember him with a last hour whisper. A few enthusiasts remember the Gettysburg address they had to learn in 1927. In public speaking, a few American history students remember his deeds, and his death and his death yet the dramatic light of the man who killed him. But there's no doubt that he's dead. There is no vacation from classes, so the modern youth has no official notification. There are no Splinters' skips to give them social notification that something happened sometime. Even the regular old assemblies have forgotten him.

But not so Dan Cupid. Sometime back in mythological time Cupid was born or he occurred or something. On February 14 he loosed so many assorted gift arrows, pierced so many assorted bleeding red hearts and started St. Valentine's day. And though Lincoln, who was but a few years ago, is now dead to the greater public, not so Cupid. Every year and this one was no exception, the mails are overcrowded with so many assorted lace and paper valentines, so many red candy boxes and so many boxes of flowers. And yet no fashion was so dear and so all-ubiquitous as being sponsored by Cupid.

Lincoln just wasn't in it with Cupid mentally in this understanding of the modern age. He should have left the custom of exchanging cans of log cabin syrup or tall silk hats so that he too might live forever in the memory of the "Great American Public".

Sorority Pup Takes French Leave; Last Seen Chewing Gum

By Helen Vensey

Sorority life must not have appealed to Ambrosia. For he has disappeared finally and completely for unknown parts. This little black and tan dog once brightened the corridors of one sorority house on the campus and lent his charming personality to the renown of the chapter. Now his delicate profile is seen no more in the shadowy corners of the dining room and his sonorous snore will never again be heard to issue from the furnace.

The strange mystery concerning this dog is, where is he at present?

College life becoming tiresome, did he start out for more metropolitan centers, Seattle, Pasco, or Hollywood? It is certain that during his short college life, he assumed much of the bored sophistication of the well educated. Or perhaps his biased attitude was just a mere pose and beneath it all, his heart was probably aching. His soul was probably torn by the feeling that he was an unworthy member of this esteemed group.

Harsh words were sometimes directed at Ambrosia, when he failed to change his feet before entering the house, and they may have been too strong for one so refined. As he gazed into the blaze of the furnace, we recall now that there was a certain drowsy wistfulness about his eyes. Other suggestions for his death, have been made by interested friends.

When last seen he was chewing gum. This is known to have been his first attempt at this great American custom, and some hint that it was his last trial. It is feared that he strangled on his way or died from over exertion of the jaws. Again, he may just have come to the sad end that many other little dogs have met at the butcher shop. Perhaps at this moment he is wearing a gold collar in dog heaven. Who can tell?

RIDENBAUGH SHOWS STRENGTH IN WIN OVER KAPPA SIGS

Interest Centers on S. A. E.—Sigma Chi Battle Saturday Afternoon

START WEDNESDAY
Betas May Be Pressed for A League Title Hoop Results Show

No upsets of unexpected scores resulted from the first evening's play in the second round of the intramural basketball series Wednesday. Ridenbaugh hall showed promise of running Beta Theta Pi a race for the title of "A" league by piling up an impressive defeat over Kappa Sigma, and Lambda Chi upset Beta Chi in the only approach to a surprise.

Interest in weekend games is centered on the Sigma Chi-S. A. E. game Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The "Butterflies" are undefeated and the Sigma Chis have lost only to Sigma Nu, also undefeated, by a 10 to 11 score. If Sigma Chi wins, the title is virtually clinched for Sigma Nu, or a three-cornered tie may result, depending on the outcome of the S. A. E.-Sigma Nu battle, which is still to be scheduled.

Ridenbaugh 31—Kappa Sig 14.
Ridenbaugh hall continued its victorious march toward the championship of A league by decisively trouncing the Kappa Sig 31 to 14. Both clubs passed poorly and missed many opportunities to score. Somerscamp was the best performer for the losers, while Pierce was the outstanding performer for the winners. Belknap led the scoring with 12 points.

Lambda Chi 17—Beta Chi 16.
In one of the hardest fought games of the tournament, the Lambda Chi quintet handed the Beta Chi club a defeat by the margin of one point, 17 to 16. With 30 seconds to go, Nims converted a long loop to put his club one point to the good. With the whistle ready to be blown, Glase had an opportunity to knot the count, but missed the free throw. Nims and Toolson bore the brunt of the attack for their club, while Glase and Albershon shared honors for the Beta Chi team.

Delta Chi 17—A. T. O. 15.
Delta Chi nosed A. T. O. out of a win when Klingler slipped in a basket for the winning point with about a minute left to play. The two teams played neck and neck throughout the game, the A. T. O.'s leading the last half by a small margin until the Delta Chis got the winning point.

Beta 32—T. M. A. 14.
The Beta Theta Pi five ran over Tau Mem Aleph in a rather slow game Wednesday night. The Betas ran up a score of 32 to 14. Burn was high point for the losers with 8. "Whitey" Lawrence ran up 18 points for the winners.

Games Tonight and Saturday.
Friday, 4:30 p. m., Phi Delta Theta vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Nu vs. Lindley hall.
Friday, 7 p. m., Alpha Tau Omega vs. Lambda Chi, Delta Chi vs. Tau Mem Aleph.
Saturday, 2 p. m., Beta Chi vs. Ridenbaugh, Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Sigma Chi.
Saturday, 3 p. m., Phi Gamma Delta vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma vs. Tau Mem Aleph.

IDAHO FROSH TEAM PLAYS COUGAR CUBS

Vandal Babes Improve Offense Since Defeat By Lewis and Clark

The Vandal rooks will receive their toughest assignment of the year when they tangle with the Cougar Cubs at Pullman tonight at 7 o'clock. Coach Glenn Jacoby has been grooming his men long and hard in an effort to get the jump on the Pullman quintet. The game tonight is the first of four to be played.

The probable lineup is not known, as Jacoby is taking eight men, any of whom are liable to start the game. He has been using Sneddon and Lee, forwards, Hurley, in the pivot circle; and Hall and Shurtliff at guards, against the varsity this week. Hale, McClurg, or Salskov are likely to see action before the game is over. The frosh mentor has been drilling his men in a fast breaking offense all week. The Cougar club is reputed to have one of the strongest quintets they have had in years.

A return game between the two freshman quintets will be played in Memorial gymnasium Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The remainder of the schedule is as follows:
February 16, W. S. C. frosh at Moscow; February 27, W. S. C. frosh at Pullman; February 28, W. S. C. frosh at Moscow; March 2, North Central high school at Moscow.

ALPHA ZETA MEETING

Members of Alpha Zeta will meet at Morrill hall Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

IDAHO 33—W. S. C. 26.
Fortunately, the action at the start of the Vandal-Cougar game was slow, allowing the majority of students to be seated before the scoring began.

Captain Darwin Burgher played a sterling game to score 17 points and held his two opponent centers scoreless. Burgher's five successive free goals in the first half were a real exhibition.

The supporters of the Silver and Gold had the opportunity of hearing the other side's voice of disapproval of the decisions of officials. This should have accomplished what Yell Sergeant Porter has been striving for all season. It gains no results, except placing an indelible stamp of narrow and poor sportsmanship upon the offenders.

A demonstration of the ancient and chivalrous art of fencing was given between halves. Many Idaho students saw their first "jab and retreat" contest. The Pep band furnished the musical score.

Archie Buckley, diminutive Cougar forward, is one of the hardest working players we have seen this season. The little fellow is always hustling.

The Grizzlies journey over from Missoula to meet the Vandals in the next home contest, February 22. In the meantime, lend a little support to the intramural hoopers. The tournament has been a success to date, and the finals are only a week away.

INTRAMURAL GOSSIP

The departure of Zaring and Wilkening has boosted the hopes of Sigma Chi and the S. A. E. teams. The Sigma Nu acers were largely instrumental in keeping the season's record unmarred by defeat.

For speed, the laurels must be awarded the S. A. E. Butterflies. Every man is in excellent condition and their style of play merely tires the opponents. Their second half scores are proof.

The Sigma Chi's strength lies in their husky center, and the work of Byers and Whitaker.

In the A-league, the Betas have had the well known walkaway, winning every game by a comfortable margin. Tall, fast and rangy, the Betas will give the league winners a stiff battle for the coveted university championship.

With practically every intramural sport counting the same number of points for the groups, it is unusual to observe that basketball is the only sport that causes any more than mild interest.

Pullman Special Is "Private" Affair

"Me? Do a feature story on the Pullman special? But, I didn't go over."

"Well, ask someone who did," answered the editor, waving me away. "Pardon me, but did you go over on the special to Pullman?"

"Yeah, what about it?" answered a gruff voice. "Did anything of particular interest happen?" "I'm to do a feature story for The Argonaut," I explained. "Nothin' happened," and he too, waved me away.

"Pardon, but could you give me some info as to what happened on the Pullman special Tuesday night?" I asked of a smaller youth.

"Now, I was under a seat all the way," he answered. "How do you do, I'm doing a story of the special to Pullman, what happened that you thought interesting?" I asked of a "sweet young thing."

"I met the best looking MAN, he she started, as I hurried away. "Hey Bill, com'er, you're just the man I want to see, tell me what in particular did you notice on the special last night?" I asked of a friend.

"Well," he drawled, "I noticed there were more couples coming back than going over."

"Hello! Say Catherine, was just asking Bill here, if anything unusual happened on the special last night. Can you give me any dope?"

"Yes, something did! The lights went out," she answered. "Hooray! Here's the story! Then what happened?"

"Is that necessary?" she answered with a blush.

COOKS' CLUB HOLDS SEMESTER ELECTION

A meeting of the Campus Cooks' club was held Monday night at the home of Mrs. Facer. Forty-two members and guests were present. An election of officers for the new semester resulted as follows: Mrs. Facer, president; Mrs. Elliot, vice president; Mrs. Black, secretary; and Mrs. Humphrey, treasurer.

GIRLS START BASKETBALL

Practice has started for all classes in preparation for the coming intramural basketball tournament for women. The exact dates of the games have not been decided but they will take place in the near future. All women interested in the sport are urged to practice in the gym at 3:30 on the scheduled days. Freshmen and seniors have the gym on Mondays and Thursdays, while sophomores and juniors turn out on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

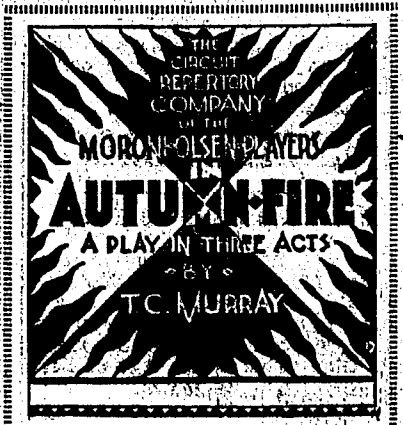

VANDALS TRAIN GUNS ON COAST HOOP TEAMS

Fox's men should be at their peak for the season during the coast trip. Idaho introduced a new scoring star in the form of Captain Burgher. Tuesday against W. S. C., and now Idaho has three most dependable shots and two guards who can match accurate losses with almost any other pair on the coast. The greatest tribute to the Idaho scoring prowess, however, comes in the fact that although other teams know that McMullin and Stowell do most of the Idaho scoring, they are powerless to stop this flashy pair.

Fox Contended. Fox sat on the sidelines Thursday night while he put his men through a light workout. Although he watched them steadily, he made no attempt to "drain" into basketball into them just before they departed for their coast test. "What they don't know about the game, shouldn't worry them just before the trip," he commented.

The team is due in Eugene Sunday noon, after the Washington game, and will arrive in Moscow, Thursday morning. Fox plans a light workout Thursday afternoon in anticipation of the Montana game Friday and Gonzaga university, Saturday.

Boyd's Good Clothes

On 3rd Street

Mild, yes, but there's no Scotch in the flavor!

A well known golf pro recently returned from a vacation in Glasgow, his home town, relates a current golf magazine. "Well," he was asked, "how did the boys treat you back home?" "Verra reluctantly!" said he. Well might some smokers likewise reply if asked about their cigarette, we imagine. Mild, of course (most cigarettes are, today), but "verra reluctant" when it comes to delivering taste and body and character.

Chesterfields were blended to supply just that "body" which so many "mild" cigarettes lack. For in addition to that desirable blandness there is a distinct "edge" to its smooth, mellow flavor which is just what the smoke appetite craves. Mild—yes; just that mildness which everyone wants—but something more, something plus—character! The character that makes Chesterfields par for cigarettes. They satisfy!
