ANOTHER PROJECT "OUT"
SOME time ago Mortar board started a movement to take the selection of the May queen and her maid of honor and page out of campus politics. The argument was advanced that the positions were essentially honorary and did not belong in the student body elections.

The matter was formally presented to the ASUI executive board for consideration. Now it has been found that not one mention is made of the three May queen positions in the constitution and by-laws of the Associated Students. Technically the selections are not in campus politics—actually they have been the case for years, how many, no one knows.

The significant part of the whole situation is that the women students have expressed themselves as against any change in the present system of nominating and selecting the candidates. Representatives from the women's groups in the "combine" or "gossip" political party met Saturday and went on record as being in favor of the present arrangement.

Whether the proposed change would make matters better or worse—the fact remains that the women students seem to be headed for trouble.

A DESERVING GROUP
IF MENTAL telepathy has any power, moral support any aid, then the Omega Alpha can consider itself backed to the hilt by the Idaho Argonaut. The group ranks high in scholarship, in activities and in personality. Organized in 1925, the local has strengthened its own ranks by the selection of the best students from the national fraternities.

Miss Bonisteel, of Chicago, national president of Delta Delta Delta, is in Moscow on an inspection visit to the local group. Miss Bonisteel, formerly of the university of Oregon campus, has been visiting various chapters of Tri Delta in this part of the country.

Idaho would be glad to welcome Delta Delta Delta to her campus. The group is an up and coming organization worthy of a national charter. Best wishes and good luck from the Argonaut to the Omega Alphas.

"AUTUMN FIRE" NEXT OLSEN PRESENTATION
Second Number of Season Will Be Given Here February 27; Sketch of Plot Given

American life was depicted in the first dramatic presentation given by the Moront Olsen players here this season and Irish life is to be portrayed in the second production, February 27. The play, "C. Murray's Autumn Fire," will be given at the Kenworthy theatre under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club.

Although the characters and setting are Irish, the theme of "Autumn Fire" is one of universal human appeal. The plot is similar generally to Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms." A hardy old farmer, confident that his tremendous strength can never leave him, sweeps aside the bitter opposition of his daughter, ignores the fact that his son is a rival, and brings into his house Nance, despised as a stepmother for his own children.

The mad jealousies of Ellen, his daughter, springing from the starved emotions she harbours, lead to the disclosure of Nance's love for the son Michael. Nance determines to be true to her elderly husband and is sending Michael away when his father overseas her bidding him farewell.

All the fermenting forces, the father's enormous pride in his own strength, his desire to stay young, his daughter's ambition, and Nance's and Michael's love result in the fatal tragedy. The farmer's fall carries along with it the crash of the entire household.

Mr. Murray is a masterly craftsman and is able to convey his scene and present his characters with a minimum of verbal jugglery. His play is unrelieved by an excursion into the humorous, and, perhaps for this reason, it gives an impression of latent force that carries beyond the margin of its conventional three acts.

Student Government At Western Colleges Surprises East, Says ASUI President

The western college is far ahead of the eastern university in student body government and affairs, and is superior in many other ways, in the opinion of Alvin Reading, ASUI president. Data gathered at the fourth annual congress of the National Students Federation of America, which has held during the latter part of December in Columbia, Missouri, has given Mr. Reading this opinion.

Student government in many large eastern schools, is still in the process of organization, while in others, students have no voice whatever in administrative affairs. In some schools the students do not want to be bothered with self government. Princeton University has a council with complete legislative power. The student body never gathers for the reason that the students do not wish to be bothered.

New York University with a student body of over 5500 has been accustomed to letting the faculty handle the organization. A governing body is to be formed soon, however, and the plan to be followed will depend on data which is being gathered at the present time from schools all over the country.

Many eastern schools that are contemplating such a move are adopting systems in use in western schools, where the student government plan has been in vogue for several years.

Nearly all of the problems connected with student work were discussed at the congress and Mr. Reading feels that the discussions have given college students throughout the United States a better understanding of each other and their problems. Some topics that came up for much discussion were, "Compulsory R. O. T. C.", "Athletics", "Fraternalism", "The Honor System" and "Student Government".

NEWS LOCAL PICKS FOUR MEMBERS

Delta Sigma Elects Whittington, McDonald, Wahl and Montgomery at Wednesday Meeting

Four men were elected to membership in Delta Sigma, local honorary journalistic fraternity, at a meeting held at the Administration building Wednesday evening.

The new members are Ed Whittington, and Edward Wahl, members of The Argonaut staff, George McDonald, editor of the Gem of the Mountains, and John Montgomery, Moscow Daily Star Mirror reporter. Membership in the organization is based primarily in professional interest in journalism. Officers of the group are Burton Moore, president, and Cecil Hagen, secretary-treasurer.

The group may sponsor a gridiron banquet to be held in April. Further plans will be discussed at the next meeting to be held Tuesday evening in room 305 Administration building.

SOCIETY

Chosen campus Lotharios are feeling self satisfied as the time draws near for the annual Spinsters' skip which will be held this afternoon at the Blue Bucket inn. Women will assume the role of Lotharios and will be invited to the evening by the Spinsters. The evening will be informal and will be held at the Blue Bucket inn.

Initiation dances continue to be a favorite mode of entertainment. Tomorrow evening Alpha Phi sorority and Sigma Chi fraternity will give informal dances at their respective chapter houses in honor of their new initiates.

Last night Sigma Nu held its annual formal dinner dance, the only fraternity formal of the weekend. The military ball at the Elks' temple was one of the major social events of the year.

One hundred, twenty couples attended the annual military ball given by the cadet officers of the U. S. T. C. at the Elks' temple last night. Members of the Washington State college military faculty and regimental staff were honored guests. President and Mrs. J. J. Kelly, Colonel and Mrs. E. R. Christian, Dean and Mrs. I. C. Crawford, Captain and Mrs. C. M. Cresshaw, and Lieutenant and Mrs. G. H. Hart were patrons and hostesses. Members of the Idaho military faculty and regimental officers of the Idaho regiments were in the receiving line. Fifteen cadet officers were pledged by Scabbard and Blade during the dance. The ball room was effectively decorated with flags, regimental emblems and company guidons. A large United States flag formed the entire background of the stage. In front of the colors were machine guns, stacked rifles and insignia of the various branches of the service. Programs were of blue leather and gold lettering with a miniature saber affixed diagonally across the cover. Claire Gale's orchestra furnished the music.

SIGMA NU HOLDS DINNER DANCE
Soft lighting effects, unique table appointments and decorations and programs featured the annual formal dinner dance, given last night by members of Sigma Nu fraternity, at the Blue Bucket inn. Forty-six couples attended the affair.

TRI DELT PRESIDENT HERE
Miss Pearl Bonisteel, national president of Delta Delta Delta sorority, is the guest of Omega Alpha this weekend for the purpose of inspecting the chapter for possible membership in Delta Delta Delta. Miss Bonisteel arrived in Moscow today at noon from Pullman where she spent several days as the guest of the Washington State Tri Delt chapter.
Omega Alpha will entertain in her honor at a tea tomorrow afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock. Invitations have been sent to faculty members and representatives of all the group houses and halls on the campus. Tonight the members of the group have planned a fresside in her honor, and for Sunday they have planned a formal dinner.
Miss Bonisteel will also be entertained by a number of other groups on the campus before she leaves Monday.

RIFLE TEAMS HOLD BANQUET
The women's rifle team, losers in the recent match with the men's team, entertained the members of the winning team according to the previous agreement, at a dinner at the Blue Bucket inn Tuesday evening.

Alta Tupper, women's rifle manager, presided as toastmistress. Short speeches were made by Major F. R. Fuller, Lieut. China H. Hart, and Irwin Johnson, rifle manager. Major Fuller, in his speech, said that the rifle team had a very successful season and that the women's rifle team had a very successful season. He also mentioned the fact that the women's rifle team had a very successful season and that the women's rifle team had a very successful season.

PI LAMBDA THETA CONDUCTS RESEARCH

Women's Education Fraternity Makes Report at Joint Banquet

Indications that honorary organizations serve a higher purpose than mere excuses for periodical social meetings were given by the Idaho chapter of Pi Lambda Theta, women's national educational honorary, when it entertained the Pullman chapter at a banquet given at the Blue Bucket inn last Saturday. Discussion of the work accomplished by both chapters brought out the fact that the Idaho chapter is conducting a research to determine which factors in life contribute most to the culture of women.

Questionnaires so arranged as to ascertain what experience, activities, and interests have been of most value to them are sent to a number of women prominent in state and national affairs. Reports from these questionnaires when compiled and evaluated are expected to indicate the factors most valuable in the education of women.

Activities of the Pullman chapter were recounted by Miss Margaret Shaw.

Violin and piano solos were presented by Dorothy Messinger and Ruth Randall. Margaret Scholer, president of the Idaho chapter, presented an interesting account of her travels abroad.

Pi Lambda Theta plans to make the joint banquet an annual affair.

NO SMOKING HERE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY (PIP)—The motion to permit men and women to smoke freely in the lobby of Robie hall has been voted down, but the administration would object to miscellaneous smoking in the public rooms of the hall because girls who disliked cigarettes could not then avoid having smoky private rooms was the outstanding reason for the rejection.

Women's Athletics Improve Beauty and Personality of Co-eds

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE. Competitive athletics are an aid to feminine beauty if conducted properly, declares Miss Helen Smith, head of women's physical education, disagreeing with Dr. F. R. Rogers, New York City, who opposes the competitive spirit as tending to destroy beauty.

"People admire the athletic type of girl today," Miss Smith declares. "If the old-fashioned curves, or the slouching, debilitated again, come into general favor, then athletics will not be so highly regarded as a beautifier. Athletic exercise and games, if conducted out of doors on in well-ventilated rooms, cannot help but invigorate woman's beauty, as it stimulates circulation and perspiration, two of the vital factors in health maintenance."

"Indirectly, athletics have been a great factor in feminine beauty in that they teach repose. Swimming is most valuable for this. Athletics also teach people to conserve nervous energy and how to relax, both necessary to the maintenance of bodily health and strength. While they may not actually change the physical features of the individual in all cases, athletics do improve the skin, resulting in better physical and mental health.

"Athletics are not truly athletics without competition. The competitive spirit serves as a stimulation toward greater athletic achievements and thus has a beneficial effect upon the development of individual personality. Competitive athletics are indirectly responsible for the observance of health habits, and consequently foster health and beauty. Because there can be no true beauty unaccompanied by health, athletics are an aid to beauty."

The Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu squads emerged victorious at the close of the intramural elimination games held in their leagues. Each club finished the season without a loss and goes into the finals in top condition. The Beta quintet encountered little opposition in winning the title, brushing Lambda Chi Alpha aside in the deciding game. The S. A. E.'s encountered much stiffer opposition, being forced to defeat the Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi teams for the consolation. Both teams are practicing regularly in the gym for the championship games to be played next week.

In the deciding game for the championship of the "B" league the S. A. E. quintet defeated the Sigma Nu quintet in the best played game of the schedule. The Sigma Nus leaped into the lead when Goss sank a long one, but the S. A. E. club was not to be denied and came back with a vengeance to score 6 points before their opponents got their hands on the ball. Play was fast and furious during the entire game. Close checking on the part of Brock and Peterson, Sig. Alpha guards, is responsible for the lowness of the score. Thompson and Barrett led the scorers with 6 points each. Norman was the outstanding performer for the losers, ringing up 4 points.

Lambda Chi 16—A. T. O. 12. Lambda Chi Alpha continued its drive for a position in the money when they defeated the A. T. O.'s in a slow and listless game. The score ended 16-12. Close checking on the part of the winners and poor passing and the missing of many shots of the set-up variety is the reason for the defeat of the losers. Wilkie, Alpha Tau forward, turned in the best game for the losers, contributing 6 points. Toolson and Manning were the outstanding performers for the winners, each counting 5 points.

Beta Chi 27—T. M. A. 16. The T. M. A. dropped a rough, fast game to the Beta Chi quintet by the score of 27-16. This play was fast and many players had three persons on them. The Beta Chi five turned in some classy ball handling to overcome the stubborn resistance of their opponents. Glase, Beta Chi guard, was the high scorer of the game, tallying 9 points for the winners. McCoy, right forward for the losers, rang the bell for 7 points to closely follow Glase for scoring honors.

T. M. A. 21—Beta Chi 16. Tau Mem Aleph finally landed in the win column when they handed the Delta Chi quintet a defeat to the tune of 21-17. The play was slow during the game, both teams missing many opportunities to score through faulty handling of the ball. McCoy, forward, starred for the winners, and contributed 10 points. Klingler, Delta Chi guard, was the runner-up for scoring honors, ringing up 10 points.

Kappa Sigma 15—A. T. O. 14. After waging an even battle throughout the game, the Kappa Sigma quintet emerged victorious over the Alpha Tau Omega hoopsters by the score of 15 to 14. The score was tied at half time, each team having scored eight points. Loose play and poor passing kept the scoring low. Sommercamp scored 10 of the winners points while Marker was high point man for the losers with six tallies.

Betas 16—Lambda Chi 14. In a game that featured close guarding, the Lambda Chi's lost to the undefeated Betas 16 to 14, but not until the winners had been forced to the limit. The Betas scored six points before the Green had counted but the injection of Manning into the lineup, bolstered the losers who were on the short end of the score at the half, 10 to 8. Smith, Beta center, was tied with Morell of the Lambda Chi for high point honors with seven scores.

Lindley 21—Phi Delta Theta 22. In an interesting battle that was not decided until the last minute of play, Lindley defeated Phi Delta Theta 21-22. Boyd had four personal fouls chalked against him but was permitted to remain in the game. The winners led at half time 10 to 8. Williams, Lindley forward, led the scorers with 12 points while Hall, Phi Del forward, followed with 9.

Plays Last Game

CAPTAIN DARWIN BURCHER, senior center of the Idaho quintet, appears for the last time tonight on the home floor in the final conference game of the season against Montana. Burcher has earned two letters in basketball, playing at guard and center. Sportsmanship, combined with his fast dribbling and floor generalship, has made him outstanding among coast players. Burcher will be met in the center ring tonight by the shortest pivot man in the conference, Ralph of the Grizzlies.

VANDAL YEARLINGS TRIM LOCAL FIVE

Defeat Moscow High School Quintet 38-21; Sneddon Is High Scorer

The University of Idaho frosh returned to winning form last Wednesday afternoon when they trounced the Moscow high five by a score of 38-21. At the start of the game it looked as if the Moscow quintet was going to hand the frosh outfit a drubbing, running up a 6-point lead before Harley, frosh center, looped a long one from the center of the floor. Both teams showed a decided improvement over their last game together. The yearling club is fast returning to form that made it unbeatable a short time ago. The scores at half time was 19-14 in favor of the Vandal rooks.

Sneddon and Hale featured prominently in the scoring during this half. Hale opening the play with 2 baskets and two charity tosses before the high school could get started. Tyrell, fast Moscow forward, led the scoring for his team with eight points. Every frosh contributed at least four points with Sneddon leading by scoring honors by virtue of six baskets for a total of 12 points. Hale was removed from the game on personal fouls.

VANDALS' FINALE IS GONZAGA TILT

Idaho Team Completes Season With Return Tilt at Spokane Tomorrow; Bulldogs Win Here

In attempt to avenge a 28 to 26 defeat here in the middle of January, Coach Rich A. Fox takes nine Vandals to Spokane tomorrow night to engage Gonzaga university in the final hoop game of the season for Idaho. Comparative dope points to an Idaho win, but on their own floor the Bulldogs will be even tougher than at Moscow. Gonzaga met Idaho here last before the Vandals began their conference season—at a time when the Vandals were still recovering from a "vaccination slump". After leading the entire game, Idaho faltered in the closing minutes of play to allow a two-point defeat.

Gonzaga will have another game Monday with the University of Montana, but Fox's men, their chance for the northern title faded, may break training in Spokane. The team will return to Moscow Sunday.

Fox plans to take the same nine men who made the coast trip, with possible addition of another member of the regular squad. The team will leave early Saturday morning.

WOMEN'S QUINTETS MEET

All women who have been placed on interclass basketball teams are to meet with Miss Wirt, instructor, in the old gymnasium at 12:40 o'clock Monday afternoon.

"Sleep, Eat and Play Basketball," That's Shorty Cheyne's Big Weakness

By Hazel Simonds
"I like to sleep, eat and play—play basketball," football, baseball and cribbage," stated Arthur "Shorty" Cheyne, star guard on the varsity basketball team, in an interview yesterday. "I'm lazy, awful lazy, and those three things are all I like to do."

"Shorty's" senior, during his college career, he has played in all four sports, and letters in football and baseball. He was graduated from the St. Maries high school. In 1925 he played on the winning Panhandle basketball team of northern Idaho. Cheyne expects to graduate in June.

"And I don't know what I'll do after that," he said, "I don't want to teach. I'd like coaching, real well—but that's all next spring. Really have to wait and see what it brings." He admitted, "too much work. But I do like volley ball, swimming and hockey."

"Well, isn't that work?" he was asked. "I should say not," exclaimed "Shorty". "That's fun. That's why I'd like to coach—I'd be having fun all the time."

With a long evening in view, no date, "Shorty" says he doesn't like women, and no reason, he would sleep. That would be his first choice, and if someone asks him, then he would want to eat.

"Shorty" has shown his stuff this year, his first on the varsity. Maybe his favorite dish, steak with mushrooms, did it, and "it" may be best defined by a friend who said, "When Shorty starts down the floor at a 45-degree angle you may be sure that he will get there on time!"

FOX CALLS OUT BATTERY MEN

Pitchers and Catchers to Begin 1929 Season With Workout Monday in Lewis Court.

Aspirants for battery berths on the 1929 varsity baseball nine will have their first workout Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Lewis court it was announced yesterday by Rich A. Fox, head coach. All candidates for pitcher and catcher should report to Coach Fox in room 204 Memorial gymnasium before beginning practice in the court.

Prospects for a consistently winning team are not bright just now, said Fox. Two veteran twirlers, Everett "Whitney" Lawrence, and Florian "Lefty" Grabner, are the only lettermen on the checking squad and there is no varsity backstop man enrolled in the university this semester. As Idaho plays 16 conference games this season, it is necessary that at least six dependable hurlers be developed and two catchers will be carried on the regular string. Workouts for the infield will not begin until later in the year.

"I'd rather have a Chesterfield!"

Snipe-hunting, as a sport, is rarely indulged in more than once in one life time. For wisdom comes to the eager freshman as he crouches under the chill night sky, holding till dawn a large and very empty bag.

And wisdom comes to the smoker, too, who "holds the bag" until common sense tells him to expect a lot more than mildness in his cigarettes. Practically all cigarettes are mild—certainly Chesterfields are, but it's the upstanding character, flavor and satisfying taste that put it in a class alone.

Once you've put this "satisfy kind" to the proof you'll have but one reply to future invitations to snipe-hunts: "Thanks, I'd rather have a Chesterfield!"
