BETA THETA PI FIVE ROMPS OVER S. A. E. IN SERIES OPENER, 22 TO 12

Despite Score, Both Squads Exhibit Ragged Brand of Ball; Two More Games Are Scheduled to Decide Champion

Sweeping rough shod over the S. A. E. entry in the intramural basketball finals last night, the Beta Theta Pi quintet came through with flying colors to carry off the first league championship series, settling without doubt the right to her spoils by virtue of a 22 to 12 score. Despite the fact that the stakes were high, both sides played a ragged brand of ball, the game being marked throughout by frequent spurts of loose shooting on the part of both squads.

Scoring records reveal Lawrence, forward, and Eaton, guard, as the main guns in the Beta attack. Both men accounted for six counters.

The intramural competition, an annual event among campus groups, has been marked this year by keen competition, the Beta and S. A. E. five weathering the elimination tourney. Two more games are scheduled.

Ball Ruster

ALTHOUGH A CONSISTENT scorer forward in every game of the season, Harold Stowell has been Idaho's leading ball hawk and his dribbling and fast passing have been dependable in each tilt. Stowell is third in the conference tally column. The Argonaut plucks him as all-northern division conference guard.

MORONI OLSEN PLAY HERE WEDNESDAY

The character of Owen has been said to be unusually well taken by Mr. Olsen. So well, some say, that it seems as if Murray had Olsen in mind when he wrote his play.

Spring Can't Be Far Away, If Observer Puts Faith in Signs

By Mary Murphy.

Spring is coming—even though its arrival seems extremely doubtful. Anyone sitting in the campus barber shop, late some afternoon, and the old familiar snip snippings and slap slappings mingled with the odor of hair tonic and shoe polish, cannot fail to sense the approach of spring.

TWO IDAHO MEN GIVEN PLACES ON MYTHICAL QUINTET

Huskies Take Other Three On Argonaut's Northern Division Team

Three Washington and two Idaho basketball players have been named on The Argonaut's all-northern division Pacific Coast conference basketball team for 1929. Faced with a dearth of good guard material, the selection was made particularly difficult this year, and coast sports writers are bound to differ on their selections.

MCMILLIN ON TOP

Stowell Shifted to Guard Position; Gets Call Over Ridings

Frank McMullin of Idaho was an easy choice, since he was the most outstanding scoring forward in the northern division all season, and was high-point man for the Vandals in seven conference games. McMullin had only six personal fouls called on him in conference play. But to choose between Monte Snider and Stanley Jaloff was a difficult task.

ORNSTEIN WILL BE HEARD IN RECITAL

Prominent Young Pianist to Appear Here March 6; Is Highly Praised by Critics

A special price for students who present ASU tickets has been arranged for the Leo Ornstein piano recital to be given at the auditorium March 6. Prof. Theodore Kratt, on the faculty-public events committee, announced Monday. Tickets go on sale today at Hodgins' and at the Music hall.

Ornstein, nationally recognized as a concert pianist, will probably present some of his own compositions when he plays here. Not only is he a composer, but his ability as an interpreter has won him extraordinary praise from some of America's best critics.

Charles Buchanan declared that he believed Ornstein to be the "most significant figure in today's music."

INFIRMARY CARES FOR 40 EACH DAY

Report of Head Nurse Shows 1,165 Students Visited Clinic Last Semester

An average of almost 40 students a day called at the infirmary clinic during the first semester, a report recently compiled by Miss Edna Peterson, head nurse, reveals.

A total of 4,255 clinic calls were made by 1,165 students during that period, an average of 39.3 calls per day. Of the total number, university physicians cared for 2,057 of the calls.

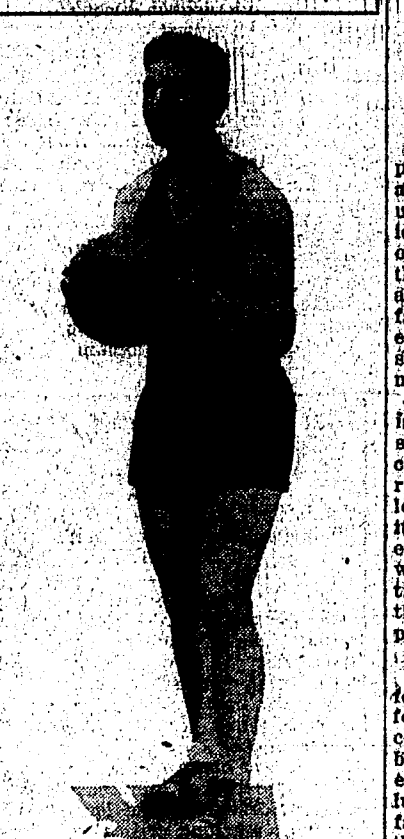

Cholera-like diseases this year have been limited to three cases of measles and two cases of small pox. A year ago for the same period there were four cases of scarlet fever, three of chicken pox, three of mumps and three of measles.

Nine students are confined in the infirmary at the present time, mostly due to sore throats. Miss Peterson reports that since the new apparatus rule has been adopted, clinic calls for excuses have dropped off almost entirely. Students now come to the clinic when they are sick, she said.

A SOPHOMORE REPRESENTATIVE

Sophomore representation on the executive board was suggested at a recent board meeting as a possible means of more closely connecting the upper and lower divisions of the student body. The suggestion is a good one, especially since the administration has announced that the junior college system will be inaugurated here next fall.

The present board has nine members—six seniors and three juniors. One or two more could be added without risking the danger of making the board too unwieldy and cumbersome. The sophomore member or members would be chosen in the usual manner and would have equal powers with other members of the board.

One of the advantages of such a plan is that the executive board would be given added continuity of personnel. A fair criticism of student government is that the governing body is constantly changing. When one set of officers has really begun to work efficiently, along comes an election and an entirely new set of officers has to begin all over again. The problems that come before the board are about the same year after year. If more of the members could have had previous experience on the board, then the problems that come up could be handled more efficiently.

A capable sophomore representative could be re-elected to the board as junior representatives are now re-elected to other offices when they are re-elected. A more efficient and capable governing body would be the result. The success of such a plan would depend on the selection of the sophomore representative. The theory generally held is that sophomores are not well enough acquainted with the problems of the student body to merit offices on the board. However, it has been worked out successfully at other universities.

If Idaho students are interested in improving their system of government, here is an opportunity that should not be overlooked.

MOUNTING OF GEM PICTURES STARTS

Work will commence on March 1; Blair Urges Groups To Send In Forms As Soon As Possible.

Work on the mounting of the class and organization pictures in the 1929 Gem of the Mountains will start on March 1, according to Wayne Blair, organization manager, and students who have not had their pictures taken by that date will run the risk of not having a picture in the annual.

Mr. Blair has requested that the halls and buses send in the forms which were mailed to them earlier this month. All students who have changed their addresses since the beginning of the semester should report the change to the studios, he said. Also those students who contemplate using last year's picture should make immediate arrangements with the studio for transfers.

He has also urged that committees working on the material for the coming clubs and honoraries should check up on their officers and members to determine who have had photographs taken. These organizations should also make a special effort to turn in their money and get their contracts signed in the near future, as it is essential that the staff know what organizations will take space, said Mr. Blair.

Faculty pictures for the administration section of the book are practically complete, with but a few persons yet to have their pictures taken. All of these pictures must be taken by March 1, so as not to hold up the section.

The snap shot editor is still calling for pictures. Snap shots of group pledges and other group pictures of Idaho students are especially desired. All snaps should be turned in immediately in order that they may be used.

DIGEST HONORS INEZ CALLAWAY

Prints Jazz Opera Review Of Former Idaho Student Now With New Daily News

The Literary Digest, in a recent issue, honors Miss Inez Callaway, former Idaho student, now feature writer for the New York Daily News, by quoting her entire account of the new jazz opera, "Johnny Smet Auf", now playing at the Metropolitan Opera house.

This jazz opera comes to New York after a record of hundreds of European performances, and has stirred up a tempest among critics, who are divided in their opinions of it.

In introducing Miss Callaway's review of the opera, the Digest says: "To recount the plot of this work, which rushes through 12 scenes at cinematographic speed, would not conduce to much clarity, so perhaps it is enough to present the ingredients as they were visioned by Inez Callaway, in the New York Daily News."

WOMEN'S RIFLE TEAM SUFFERS DEFEAT

Lose Matches to Maine, Northwestern, and South Dakota by Close Scores; Improvement Shown.

Although three defeats have been marked against them as a result of matches fired against the University of Maine, Northwestern university, and the University of South Dakota, the Idaho women's rifle team, composed almost entirely of first year material, is gaining in skill, and promises to give its rivals keener competition this week. The match with Northwestern university was the closest of the season, the score being 423 to 428 in favor of the eastern university.

The fact that the team made a score of 1847 against the University of California this week, while that school defeated the Idaho team with a score of 1887 last year, shows that the team has improved over the record of last year's more experienced team. The scores of the matches with the University of California and the University of Kansas have not yet been received.

The team will fire against the University of Nebraska this week.

WOMEN'S HONORARY SELECTS ADVISOR

Mrs. Ralph Farmer To Fill Position Held by Mrs. H. C. Dale Last Year.

Mrs. Ralph Farmer, wife of the acting dean of the school of business administration, was chosen a patroness of Phi Chi Theta, women's national honorary business fraternity, at a meeting Tuesday at the Phi Beta Phi house.

Mrs. Farmer will fill the position left vacant by Mrs. H. C. Dale last year when Dean Dale accepted a position at Miami university, Oxford, Ohio. Mrs. T. S. Kerr is also a patroness of Phi Chi Theta.

Jean Gross' Puppets to Be Seen in Three Plays, March 14 and 15

Something entirely different in the theatrical line, a French puppet show will be brought to Idaho March 14 and 15 when Jean Gros presents his marionettes in three plays at the auditorium. On the afternoon of March 14, "The Land of Oz" will be given, and in the evening Matrilink's "Bluebird." The following night the puppets will frolic through Mark Twain's "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn."

The puppets act out the plays against a background of velvet curtains, and the men and women who manipulate the dolls speak the lines of the play. Several feature musical artists appear with the company and provide the incidental music. The performance before adult audiences usually closes with a view behind the scenes, showing the actual operation of the puppets, the great forest of more than 1800 strings, and the numerous ladders and pulleys which are operators use in presenting the plays.

Jean Gros' production was brought to Moscow several years ago with an entirely different repertoire and was enjoyed by a capacity house each afternoon and evening. This trip represents the seventh transcontinental tour of the company, which is hailed with delight in Europe as well as in America.

R. O. T. C. REVIEW SET FOR APRIL

Ninth Corps Area Officers Will Conduct Annual Inspection of Unit.

Idaho's R. O. T. C. will undergo its annual inspection April 27, with Major Waddell of the Ninth Corps area, in the reviewing stand. The Idaho unit, say local officers, has always received a high rating from the government. As soon as the weather will permit, outside drill will be resumed in preparation for the inspection.

All arrangements for the day are not complete but there probably will be a parade through the business district of Moscow, in addition to the inspection drills on the campus.

Between 10 and 15 advanced military students plan on attending the annual R. O. T. C. encampment at Fort Wright, which starts June 15 and lasts for six weeks.

U. of I. Ballroom Dancing Classes Little Short of Vulgar—Fourteen Years Ago

"One, two, three, pivot, dip," cried Mr. Ryan, "Miss Jones, will you please help me demonstrate this step. There, now!" And the couple gracefully executed the Boston dip.

It was 14 years ago that Mr. Ryan, a young, slender and good looking Irishman taught the modern (?) dance steps to eager students in the University of Idaho.

"If you must dance these modern, indecent steps," exclaimed the dean of women, "You will do them correctly." And straightaway she imported a traveling dancing instructor and organized a class for proper ballroom dancing.

The course lasted until the up-to-date steps, including the lame duck, one step and gavotte, were properly done by the campus ahiks and co-eds. Classes were held in the old gymnasium from 7 to 9 o'clock in the evening, and many a girl tied together the broken laces in her high top shoes in order to pay the $10 fee for instruction.

One of Mr. Ryan's pupils came one evening in a gorgeous party dress of black net over a red underskirt. On the front was a huge black velvet butterfly and around the bottom an accordion pleated ruffle of the red material. The young miss, who was the envy of every feminine soul, wore her dress and "gavotte" around the floor with her many admirers. But the next morning she was summoned before the dean and reprimanded.

"Why," said the dean, "The ruffle flounced so that I could actually see the calf of your leg."

On class nights eager girls climbed the hill leanin on their escorts' arms, in a bag dangling from their wrists were the party slippers, not to be worn until they were in the hall, or rather, the gymnasium.

Once inside the fun began. Everybody the least bit socially inclined was sure to be there—students, professors and their friends. And here was the student's chance to raise himself, or herself, in the instructors' estimation. How many girls did the lame duck in a stiff legged manner with one of her teachers for a good chemistry grade? And the French grade most assuredly would show an increase if the gallant of 1915 asked his instructor for the "next one-step!"

So the art of pivoting, dipping and whirling gracefully to the tune of "The Little Tin Soldier" and "Fiddle-up, Fiddle-up" was offered two evenings a week for approximately a month as the only co-educational dancing course offered in and sponsored by the university.

LOCKERS FINISHED

Lockers in the girl's dressing room in the new Memorial gymnasium are now completed and ready for use. The room is furnished with 31 lockers to accommodate the classes of 30 each and the instructor. Swimming classes have been delayed in starting because the locker room was not finished but now are in full progress.

SOCIETY

One of the most popular dances last weekend was the Splinters' skip held Friday afternoon at the Blue Bucket. An affair which gave the campus an opportunity to see who "rated" in the opinion of the fairer sex. The joint dance given by the Idaho and W. S. C. chapters of Phi Delta Theta at the chapter house at Pullman Saturday was another outstanding affair.

Initiation dances were given by Sigma Chi and Alpha Phi at their respective chapter houses on Saturday night. Lindley hall entertained with an informal dance on Friday at the Blue Bucket Inn.

The total for the 10 high scores on the Idaho rifle team showed a 17 point decrease last week. The total was 5493 as against 5508 for the week before. The Idaho squad lost to both Texas Agriculture and Mining college by a score of 3590 to 3508 and Ohio State university by 3607 to 3508. Oregon State college forfeited. Idaho won from Connecticut agricultural college by a score of 1773 to 1763 with a five man team.

bined, eight credits or two high school units making a total of 16 credits, eight of which must be taken in college, of each of the two groups—material and physical sciences. Material sciences are botany, psychology and zoology and the physical sciences are chemistry, geology and physics. These are all given as four-credit, one-semester courses. In addition to this, all students will be required to take a two-credit, one-semester course called correlated sciences, which ties up the various sciences. In the field of social sciences, all freshmen students will be required to take contemporary civilization, a three-credit, two-semester course, which presents the economic, political and sociological aspects of the society. Sophomore students who have had two or three units of history in high school may elect one of the following courses: History of the American History of Civilization, Classical Civilization. The English requirements are practically the same as they now stand with the exception that students who show ability to go on with sophomore English in their freshman year may do so. Six credits of literature will be required, covering not only English, literature but other forms as well. This will probably be a sophomore course.

A four-credit unit requirement gives the student a choice of several things, among them, Art and Design, Music Appreciation and others. Military and physical education requirements will remain the same as the present courses.

One way to trap a beaver

Not everybody in the Hudson's Bay Company was a trapper, any more than everybody in the Bell System is a telephone engineer. The Hudson's Bay people trapped a good many beavers in the company offices, where the skilful financing and careful business management served to back up the men actually on the front lines. Organized activity succeeded then, just as it does today. The men who put up telephone lines can work the better because back of them are other men who painstakingly design and make their equipment, and still other men who correlate all these activities into a smoothly meshing plan.

VANDALS UPSET MONTANANS IN FINAL CONTEST

Score is 44-31; Invaders Show Flash in Rally

McMILLIN IS HIGH Idaho Forward Gets 13 Points; Rule and Rankin Lead Grizzlies

Fighting down a stubborn second-half rally after finding their 17-point halftime margin slipping away under accurate Montana basket tossing, Idaho would up its 1929 Pacific Coast conference basketball season Friday night by drubbing the Grizzlies 44 to 31 on the Moscow floor.

Rule and Rankin led the desperate Montana rally that put Idaho in a dangerous position in the final six minutes of play. Taking a 25 to 8 lead at half-time, Fox's men increased their lead to 34 to 12 shortly after the start of the second period, but here Montana braced and crept slowly forward.

Montanans Rally. Rule, Rankin and Rohlfis poured basket after basket through the Idaho mesh and before Idaho could score four more points, Montana had more than doubled its score. A close shot by Chinske made the score 49 to 31, but here Idaho recovered and outplayed the Montanans in the remaining two minutes of play, scoring four points before the final gun.

Stowell and McMillin bore the brunt of the Idaho scoring attack with 14 and 15 points each, McMillin being high man for Idaho in a seventh time in conference play this year. For Montana, Rule and Rankin were outstanding, with four baskets each. Idaho played the first half without a single personal foul being called, but four were registered against the Vandals in the last half.

FOX NEEDS MANY DIAMOND RECRUITS

Only Six Lettermen to Form Nucleus; Face Heavy Season

Faced with a lack of experienced pitchers and catchers and with three gaps in the infield, Coach Rich A. Fox Monday afternoon issued his initial baseball call for the 1929 varsity season. Battery candidates met Monday evening and started their indoor workouts this week.

Confronted by the mammoth task of whipping a group of recruits into shape for a 29-game season, 16 of them conference contests, Fox's prospects are anything but rosy at the present time. The Vandal mentor believes that he must have at least five capable chuckers to comprise the firing end of his batteries, and with Idaho playing 19 games during May alone, a small hurling staff will receive a tremendous strain.

Only two veteran pitchers—Everett Lawrence and Floren Grabner will be on deck for mound duty. Clive Lindsay and Frank Judy are two prospects Fox has in mind for regular pitching, but two other possible candidates from the 1928 freshman squad have not returned to the university and may be counted as definitely out of the hurling group.

Four lettermen, beside Lawrence and Grabner, will be eligible for playing this year. They are Arthur Cheyne, shortstop; Frank McMillin, first base; Merritt Greeling and Walter Price, outfielders. Among other promising candidates who will report during March are: Harold Thornhill, Lawrence Burton, Hugh Duffy, Bert Richardson, infielders; and James Halliday and Elmer John, outfielders.

Fox predicts that the baseball turnout this year will be one of the largest in the history of Idaho athletics, with only six lettermen and a nucleus from which to pick a traveling squad of 15 to 17 men.

The stupendous Idaho playing schedule follows:

- April 26—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- April 27—W. S. C. at Pullman.
- May 3—Oregon at Eugene.
- May 4—Oregon at Eugene.
- May 6—O. S. C. at Corvallis.
- May 7—O. S. C. at Corvallis.
- May 8—Washington at Seattle.
- May 9—Washington at Seattle.
- May 10—Whitman at Walla Walla.
- May 11—Whitman at Walla Walla.
- May 12—W. S. C. at Pullman.
- May 13—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- May 14—W. S. C. at Moscow.
- May 20—O. S. C. at Moscow.
- May 21—O. S. C. at Moscow.
- May 22—Oregon at Moscow.
- May 23—Oregon at Moscow.
- May 27—Whitman at Moscow.
- May 28—Whitman at Moscow.
- May 31—Washington at Moscow.

HUSKIES FAVORED TO BEAT BEARS IN TITLE PLAY-OFF

Will Meet in Seattle This Week to Settle Hoop Supremacy

BOTH UNDEFEATED

Vandals Finish Second Best In North as Grizzlies Trample Cougars

Washington and California meet in Seattle, Friday and Saturday, to settle the Pacific Coast conference basketball title for 1929. If a third game is necessary, it is set for Monday night. Dope favors the Huskies. Both teams made a clean sweep of its conference games, although California was given stiff competition in two games, by Stanford in the northern division. Washington pushed all opposition aside, although pressed in two or three games during the season.

Washington is favored by many sports writers because of the rougher style of basketball that predominates in the southern conference—a handicap to the Golden Bears, who will not be used to northern division officiating. Further, Washington has probably the best jumping center on the coast to pit against Captain Orlin of the Californians, a sensational player last year. Last, but not least, the games are on Washington's floor.

Washington has not lost a conference or non-conference game this season, although the Californians have tasted defeat at the hands of Santa Clara, St. Ignatius and St.

DELTA CHIS WIN

Playing a postponed intramural basketball game, the Delta Chi five defeated the Ridenbaugh hall team 20 to 17. The losers started with a rush and led at half time 10 to 6. The Delta Chis staged a comeback and soon tied the score and ran up a lead mainly through the work of Powell and Frazier. For the winners Powell and Frazier were tied for high point honors with six each and Belknap led the losers with five digits.

McMILLIN AND STOWELL PICKED ON ARGONAUTS' ALL-STAR TEAM

Excellent scorer and pulled the game out of the fire twice for Washington this season, Burgher of Idaho was another any choice for center on the second team, and showed better than any other pivot man when playing against McClary. On the third team the center position is about a toss-up between Endslow, Washington State, and Rule, Montana. Endslow got the edge because he was a high scorer and because he led his team in point-winning this season.

Percy Bolstad, Washington speedster, was an easy choice for guard. He is the fastest floor-worker in the northern division and a hard man to score against. To find him a running mate was an extremely difficult task, and an outstanding forward had to be taken—Harold Stowell of Idaho. Stowell was barely named out of second high individual scoring honors for the season by Jaloff, and is one of the fastest ball-players on the coast. He is an excellent guard, and was finally given the call over Ridings at the other first string guard berth. Buckley's outstanding showing against Idaho at Pullman and Moscow won him recognition on the second team. Berenson, Washington, forced himself from consideration, by being put out of all but two conference games on personal fouls.

COACHES TO PLAY TWO HOOP GAMES

Idaho—W. S. C. Mentors Mix On Pullman and Moscow Floors Here March 7

A two-game basketball series between the Idaho and Washington State college coaching staffs, an annual event between the two institutions for the past five years, will be held March 5 and 7, according to Stewart N. Beam, of the Idaho coaching staff. Glenn Jacoby, freshman coach, will have charge of the Idaho team.

These contests have never failed to draw large crowds at both Moscow and Pullman and students are given a chance to see their coaches "work" on the hardwood. Although no lineup has been arranged, Idaho coaches probably will play Jacoby, Bailey, Orin Hollingberry, "Doc" Bohler, Hal Orin and others.

The first game will be played at Pullman, March 5, and the return game at Moscow, March 7.

SIXTY TRACK MEN RESPOND TO CALL

Hutchinson Finds Good Material in First Turn Out; Twenty-Five Are Freshmen

The first call for track men was issued Monday for both varsity and freshman teams. About 60 varsity men and 25 frosh reported. A good many more are expected to be out before the end of the week. Seven letter men are back this year around which Coach R. F. Hutchinson expects to build his varsity team. Hutchinson will have charge of both varsity and frosh. The teams this week will work out in the basement of the Memorial gymnasium and next week in Lewis court.

With the completion of the northern division conference basketball schedule with the Vandals resting firmly and securely in second place, the time has arrived for the proper bestowal of due praise to Coach Rich Fox and the Idaho basketball team. To lose to Washington was no disgrace, because McClary alone offered an insurmountable obstacle. When any team plays through the entire schedule undefeated, there is not an argument to be raised, for such is the records of champions alone.

The usual post-season let down occurred in the Gonzaga game at Spokane Saturday night. Some time in the not too distant future, those who arrange schedules will see that the season ends rightfully, in the last conference game. The possible exceptions are in the instance of inter-sectional games.

"Such popularity must be deserved!"

To an outsider, the time and trouble taken to produce a Chesterfield might seem as unnecessary as the sabre-scars so proudly worn by students of pre-war Heidelberg. But popularity is much the same the world over—you don't get it for nothing.

But any short-cuts in the time it takes to cure and mellow the Chesterfield tobaccos, or one step the less in blending and balancing them—would end up in something that wasn't Chesterfield. And you wouldn't like that.

So we'll stick to our old system—getting the right tobaccos, blending them the Chesterfield way, never sacrificing character, body, flavor to mere mildness.

We want to keep our popularity, now that we've earned it—and we know no better way than to keep on earning it!

CHESTERFIELD
MILD enough for anybody..and yet..THEY SATISFY

Washington Huskies have gone thus far undefeated and there is practically no way to make a comparison. One thing is certain, however, and that is that the home team is playing under a decided advantage. The style of play in the southern division differs greatly from that in this district, mainly rougher and less individual playing.

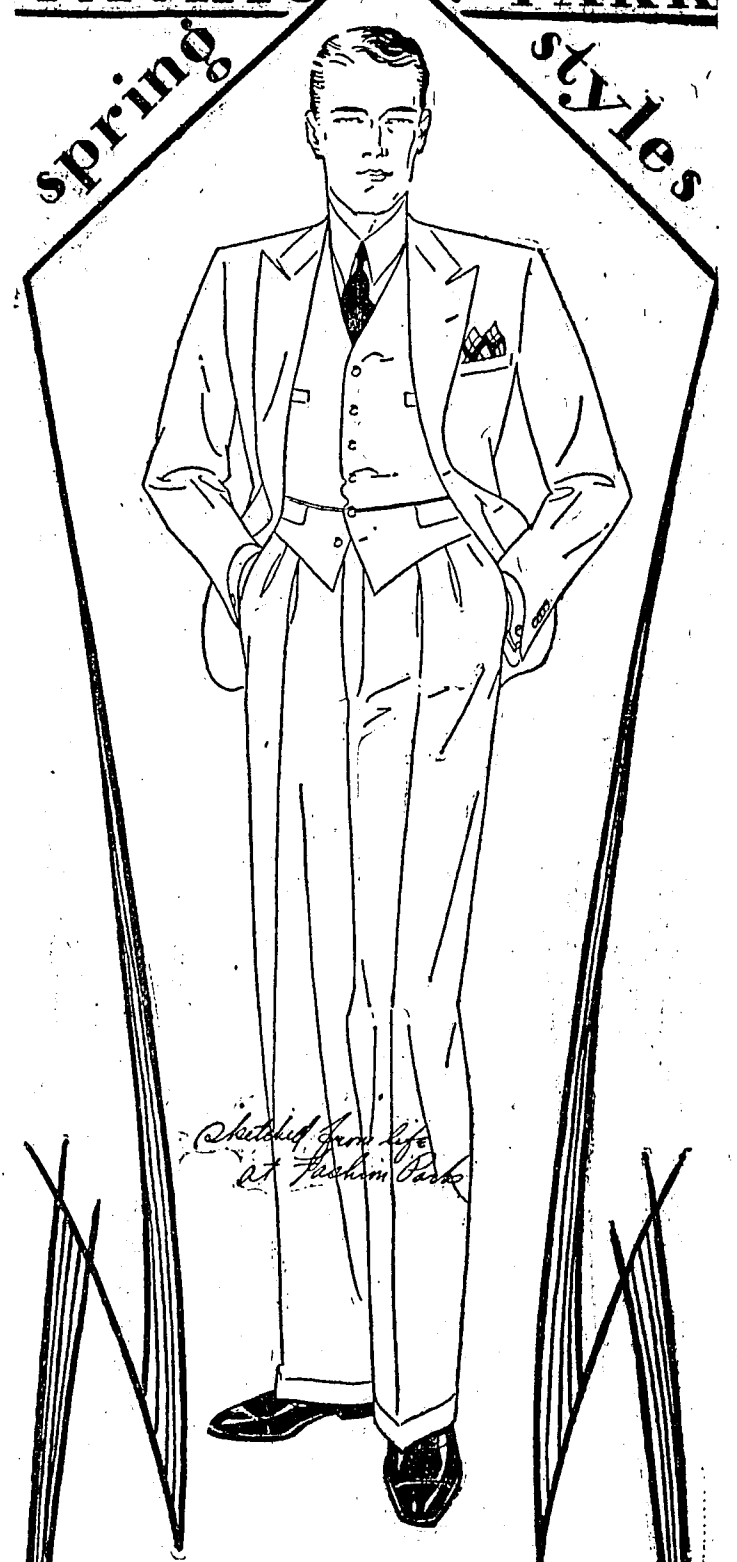

GONZAGA TOPPLES IDAHO VANDALS

In a game marred by roughness, the Idaho Vandals closed the 1929 season basketball season by losing to Gonzaga university in Spokane, Saturday night, 34 to 28.

The Bulldogs piled up an early lead and saw it turn to 15 to 14 in favor of Idaho at half time. Gonzaga soon stepped to the front and increased the total as the end of the game neared. LeVeaux was the star for the winners with 15 points while Stowell counted five field baskets for the Vandals.

With the winners named and the series assured for Seattle, the discussion of the outcome is under way. The California Golden Bears and the
