BETAS WIN FIRST GAME OF INDOOR BASEBALL SERIES

Beta Chis Drop Initial Diamond Contest By Lone Tally

SCHEDULE NOT SET Single Elimination and Consolation Round Planned By Manager

Beta Theta Pi opened the first intramural indoor baseball tournament at the university with a 6 to 5 win over Beta Chi Wednesday evening in the Memorial gymnasium. Gerald Grimm and Maurice Brimhall composed the winning battery and M. Seifer and Frank Winstler formed the box opposition for the losers. Schedule for next week's games will be announced Tuesday by Stewart Beam, director of intramural athletics.

Group houses have been divided into two leagues as they were for the basketball series but a complete round will not be played for percentage as has been the custom in the hoop tournaments. Single elimination with a consolation round for the losers of first games was agreed upon as the method of determining the champions by group representatives in a meeting with "Stew" Beam the first of the week. Between 20 and 25 games are assured under this system but the season will be made short enough so as not to interfere with swimming or intramural track and tennis.

Indoor baseball is an innovation to Idaho students. A regulation diamond has been marked off on the main floor of the gymnasium where all games will be played. The same rules as govern outdoor baseball regulate the sport with the exception of a few details. Ten men compose a team, the additional member being a shortstop. The rules also state that a ball may be hit into fair territory, bounce or roll foul but still be called fair. The soft-stuffed baseball covered ball measures 17 inches in circumference and bats are much smaller and lighter than those used for the open air "apple knocking". All pitches must be delivered underhanded from the area marked on the court. Ground rules, made to regulate play in the Idaho gymnasium provide that only two bases be allowed on hits into the gallery.

Games will be played on Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings only. Beam said, Adrian DesMaris has been appointed indoor baseball manager in place of Donald Homing who left the university at the end of the first semester.

PERSIAN DANCE WILL BE UNIQUE

Snake Charmers, Jugglers and Beggars Are Characters in W. A. A. Dance Festival Number.

Snake charmers, jugglers, beggars, and screaming hawkers will be characters of the dance, "In a Persian Market," the Oriental number which will be presented in Taps and Terpsichore, annual W. A. A. dance festival which is scheduled for April 4.

Lafeta Beeson, who is in charge of stage properties, has planned a setting rich in Oriental colors and designs. Rugs, scarves, drapes, and hangings will decorate the stage, and brilliant costumes will cover the booths of the merchants.

The theme of the dance is captivating, Miss Beeson said. Water girls carrying jugs, beggars praying to Allah, crafty merchants in stalls, mischievous maidens teasing them and haggling over the price of the merchandise, and other typical Oriental characters intensify the eastern atmosphere. While the marketplace continues its noisy course, a beautiful princess is carried into the scene in her sedan chair. Sinuous snake charmers and skillful jugglers show their stunts to entertain her. The princess rewards them with a cymbal dance which she performs in true Persian fashion. The cymbal passes through the marketplace with a proud and lofty strut, while all prostrate themselves in the dust. Beggars crawl to his feet, but he ignores them and passes on. The scene ends when the princess is carried out again in her chair.

Purpose of Education, Garland Declares, Is to Effect Changes in Personalities

"The purpose of education is to change personalities," declared Jasper Garland, coach of the varsity debate team, in an interview yesterday. "And in this task, I think, public speaking is most competent. In most classes students merely assimilate knowledge. In debate, they first assimilate, then give it expression. Speech, as a means of this change, should be made as easily as possible because most people have an inbred fear of it."

He proceeded to tell of one student who had to deliver her speech while sitting before the class.

"The feeling of aloofness is too great," he explained. "And how in the world can she expect to support a husband if she can't support herself?"

Most people, he believes, have to fight the fear of speaking before a crowd.

"Mama has always said 'let papa do it,'" he cited. "And don't talk so in public."

Mr. Garland's experience however,

SPURS TO SPONSOR CHAIN HOP TONIGHT

Dance Will Take Place at Three Sorority Houses at Same Time; First of Its Kind.

A chain dance to be given tonight by Spurs, sophomore women's service organization, will be something decidedly new at Idaho, said Betty Wilson, president of the group. Three dances will be given simultaneously at the Kappa Kappa Gamma, Alpha Phi and Gamma Phi Beta houses. Dancing will begin at 8:30 o'clock and the couples may change from one house to the other as they please. There will be no programs. Those who do not care to dance may play bridge, and men may go as "stags," said Miss Wilson. Tickets may be purchased from Spurs or Intercollegiate Knights for 50 cents.

It is believed that this will be the first chain dance held at Idaho.

RECITALIST SAYS DRAMA HER CHIEF WORK SINCE YOUTH

Maud Scheerer Always Likes Present Plays Better Than Rest

PLEASED BY LOSS Reduction in Weight Ticks Vanity of Reader on Arrival

By Shirley Cunningham Maud Scheerer, dramatic recitalist, in addition to her brilliant portrayal before Moscow audiences Wednesday night, had her cup of joy filled to overflowing during her stay in the university city, she revealed to an Argonaut reporter.

The noted critic discovered when she arrived here that she had lost nearly 20 pounds on her present tour. Although she appears tall and commanding in her male roles, the artist is of medium height, not more than five feet or 2 inches, and consequently, the lost weight, she said, was good news. Asked how she did it, she replied: "Oh, I just starved myself for several days."

When asked which of her plays she liked best, she responded, "I like the one best that I am giving at the moment." The reporter inquired if she made much of a study of human character. "No," the actress replied, "I like to enjoy them just like a new play, rather than dissect them."

"I have worked in the dramatic line since I was very young," she said, but at first I was not interested in dramatics; I never liked to speak pieces. Later, however, my attitude changed, and after my graduation from college I became an instructor at Boston Conservatory. You hear Moroni Olsen's players out here, do you not?" she asked. "He was one of my first pupils at Boston."

"I was rather disappointed at not seeing more college students in my audience," Miss Scheerer said. "I should like to see them turn out in a body. The wonderful thing about drama is that it turns people from the personal things to the impersonal, which young people certainly need. They do not know what to do with themselves." "Drama," she said, "is one of the finest ways to live vicariously."

"I was delighted with Mr. Cushman, your dramatics coach, he is so different from many that I have been in touch with."

ARGONAUT BOARD CHOSEN WEDNESDAY

Andrew Thomson and Hazel Simonds Complete Committee Chosen Under New Amendment

Andrew Thomson and Hazel Simonds were elected as upper division staff members to the Argonaut board of directors at a general staff meeting held Wednesday evening at the Administration building. The Argonaut board has as its sole function the nomination of candidates for the position of managing editor each year before the annual student body general election.

The board was chosen in accordance with the amendment to the by-laws that was recently passed at the student body assembly. It now consists of Cecil Hagen, editor; Cedric Easmus, managing editor; Andrew Thomson, and Hazel Simonds. The

AWARDS TO GET CLOSE SCRUTINY

ASUI Executive Board Will Put All Recommendations to Acid Test, Members Announce.

Strict adherence to constitutional requirements in the granting of freshman athletic awards was decided upon by the executive board of the ASUI at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening.

The constitution specifies that freshman football numerals shall be awarded to men who play eight full quarters. In basketball the requirement is that numeral men shall have played at least 50 per cent of the total playing time. Definite requirements are also set in track and baseball.

The discussion arose over the granting of freshman basketball awards. Last week the executive board sent Coach Glenn Jacoby's recommendations back for complete time data. In the past the constitutional requirements have not always been followed in full, some freedom being allowed the coaches. Executive board members expressed the opinion that as long as the requirements existed, they should be followed in detail, in fairness to all men competing, in the past as well as in the future.

The freshman basketball awards probably will be announced next week.

IDAHO STUDENT ON TRIAL FOR LIFE

Prosecution Calls First Witnesses Thursday in Case Against Robert Prewitt, Charged With First Degree Murder; Alleged Slayer Pleads Self Defense

By Lionel Campbell: "That the said Robert Prewitt, student at the University of Idaho, on the 10th day of January, 1929, in the city of Moscow, Idaho, Eastern county, did lawfully, deliberately, wilfully and with malice aforethought, with abandon and a malignant heart, in conflict with a pistol carrying leaden bullets, wounds upon the said Dean Arnold, one of which was mortal." Thus the court clerk finished the reading of the preliminary information and the case of the state versus Robert Prewitt, charged with murder in the first degree, opened Thursday afternoon in the "Moot Court" of the university law school, room 206A Administration building.

Before a courtroom crowded to capacity a full half hour before the trial started, Edward Beyer, assistant state's attorney, opened the case for the prosecution with a summary endeavoring to show that despite the fact that Prewitt had pleaded not guilty to the charge, he had admitted shooting Arnold, a local police officer, when the latter, in company with another officer, Norvall Stadfeldt, forced their way into the Apex pool hall, operated by Arnold.

Admitting that the defendant committed the act, but on grounds of self defense, Stewart Marey, defense counsel, opened his case by stating it would be proved that Officer Arnold was overbearing to an uncalled-for degree, that he had made threats against the defendant previous to the shooting and that Prewitt shot in self defense after the officers unlawfully smashed into his place of business.

Five witnesses for the state were called to the stand. Prosecution attorneys, William H. Pittman, Herman O. Welker and Edwin T. Boyer questioned the first witness, Officer Stadfeldt, who gave an account of the movements which led to the shooting and of his actions after his companion had been killed. The cross-examination was conducted by Frank Rettig, Arthur J. Peasey Jr., and Stewart B. Mackay. Other witnesses examined were: James Moore, eye witness to the shooting; Patrick Walker, citizen living across the street from the Apex; Prof. F. W. Jacob of the University of Idaho law faculty. "Dr." William Harris, the next state witness, testified that he heard the defendant say "I got that d—stool-pigeon that time." A thrill was provided the audience when Attorney Pittman produced the gun with which the alleged murder was committed. Stadfeldt had said he recognized it. Prof. F. J. Moreau of the law faculty is hearing the case. The jury, impaneled Wednesday, is as follows: Marvin Holm, William Peterson, Ambrose Adams, Robert Allshire, Carmelo Uranga and Paul Boyd. Bethel Packenham, court reporter, and Claire Collier, court clerk, complete the staff.

At 5:30 o'clock the court was adjourned until this afternoon when the defense will call its first witness.

McMILLIN AWARDED GOLD HOOP EMBLEM

All-Coast Forward Will Wear Miniature Basketball in Recognition

Frank McMillin, Idaho's star forward and high jumper in the Pacific Coast conference this year, will be awarded a gold basketball watch charm in recognition of his having been placed on two all-coast conference teams.

The award was approved and passed by the ASUI executive board Tuesday evening. The ASUI constitution provides that the watch charm emblems shall be granted to members of a championship conference team, or men who are placed on the official conference all-star teams. McMillin was given one of the forward berths on all-star lineups selected by "Doc" Bohler, head of the physical education department of Washington State college, Nils Price, California, and "Hec" Edmundson, basketball coach at the University of Washington. McMillin was mentioned on a number of other coast lineups, and in addition was named as one of the eight best forwards in the United States by Alan J. Gould, an Associated Press writer of New York. McMillin was also placed on The Argonaut's all-Northern division team.

During the 1929 season he headed the list of coast conference scorers with a total of 127 points in 10 games. He has received coast wide recognition as one of the outstanding players in the conference. McMillin is a junior in the school of business administration, and is a member of Alpha Kappa Psi, national honorary commerce fraternity.

PIANIST TO GIVE RECITAL TONIGHT

Walter Mueller of Music Faculty, Presents Program at University Auditorium; New Here.

Professor Walter Mueller, pianist, will be presented in a recital by the music department this evening at the auditorium at 8:15 o'clock. It will be his first recital here since he became a member of the music department faculty last fall.

DOUBLE TELLS AD CLUB OF 'GAMES' ANALYSIS

"The Analysis That Precedes Advertising" was the subject of the talk given by Lee R. Double, Spokane advertiser, at the Ad club banquet at the Blue Bucket Inn Thursday evening. Raymond P. Kelley of the Stevenson-Kelley Advertising agency of Spokane also gave a short talk. Another Spokane man will speak to the Ad club within the next month, probably on some phase of retail advertising as it is applied to Moscow.

"It won't be long now," said the editor as he picked up his shears.

Wind Whisks Spring Into Wild Whirl; Lion Charges Lamb

Yessir, spring has come! Yesterday one of the most dignified professors in the university was seen eating a strawberry ice cream cone while walking home to lunch. Two house presidents skinned past him on roller skates and hitched onto the back of a Ford.

A soot looking little red-head was caught feeding her luncheon sandwiches to that motheaten looking dog who sleeps on the Administration steps.

The wind seemed to be in an awful hurry to get places Thursday morning. It rumbled co-ed's marceles and butterfly skirts and played with freshmen's green caps. A homely, serious-faced man was walking from the Science hall to the Engineering building with a very loosely wrapped package under one arm. He stumbled clumsily, and the package hit the sidewalk with a bounce. The wind joyfully caught up the paper and showered pictures of girls—pretty girls—upon the campus, blondes, brunettes, demure, and smiling! Yes, spring is here.

HOT DREAMS HALT T.K.E. FIRE AT START

Early Morning Blaze Nipped After $50 Loss Is Suffered

Insomnia may be a serious problem for some people, but for members of Tau Kappa Epsilon it proved to be a real asset when two of their number woke up at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and discovered one of the study rooms ablaze.

Quick work with fire extinguisher and buckets of water soon put out the blaze. One wall was damaged, a suitcase full of clothes and some books on one of the study tables were burned. It is estimated that the total damage will not amount to more than $50. The house was insured. Members of the group believe that the blaze probably started from a match or cigarette butt carelessly thrown into a waste basket. Paper in the metal basket was completely burned and the flames had reached the ceiling when discovered.

The two men were sleeping together and for some reason they woke up and were talking when they smelled smoke. They investigated with soon the house was swarming with excited, pajama-clad fire fighters. Members of the group declare that if the fire had burned 15 minutes more, it would probably have gained such headway that the house might have been completely destroyed.

GARLAND TO PICK WOMEN'S SQUAD

Debaters Work on Two Questions For Final Arguments of Season Next Month.

Women's debate squads for the final debates of the season will be selected either Friday afternoon or the early part of next week, according to Jasper V. Garland, coach. The question will be, "Resolved: That Mussolini has been a benefit to Italy."

Six more debates are scheduled for this year. In the first contest, which will be held here April 4, the Idaho team will debate the Mussolini question with Pacific university.

"Resolved: That state universities should make use of college board entrance examinations," will be the subject for a later tripartite debate, in which the University of Washington, University of Oregon, and University of Idaho teams will participate. For this contest, the Washington squad will come to Moscow, and the Idaho debaters will meet the Oregon team at Eugene. While on this trip, the Idaho team will stop at Corvallis for a debate with the Oregon State college squad on the Mussolini question. This will also be the topic for a dual debate with Washington State college.

WOMEN'S AQUATIC CONTEST DATE SET

Week of May 1st Selected For Annual Swimming Meet; All Women Eligible To Enter.

The first week in May has been set as the approximate date of the women's annual swimming meet, Lillian Woodworth, manager of women's athletics announced yesterday. Events for women taking beginning swimming as well as those in advanced classes are being planned. Any woman student may enter whether she is enrolled in swimming classes or not, however, says Miss Woodworth. Practice will start on the evening of April 1 and continue on each Monday during the month. Miss Jeanette Wirt, director of women's athletics will give instruction in all of the events at these workouts.

GRADUATE LANDS U. S. JOB IN ALASKA

W. C. Arnold, 24, Promoted to U. S. Commissioner at Ketchikan; Was Argonaut Business Manager.

Word has been received here that Winslow C. Arnold, a University of Idaho graduate, has been promoted to the position of United States commissioner to the district of Ketchikan, Alaska.

He formerly held the position of commissioner of the district of Hyderabad and was deputy clerk of the United States district court. Mr. Arnold was graduated in 1924 and took his examination for the bar immediately afterwards. He held the position of assistant prosecuting attorney at Grangeville for two years before he went to Alaska in the spring of 1927. He was business manager of The Argonaut for one year, and is a member of Kappa Sigma.

UNIVERSITY GETS VALUED TROPHIES FROM WAR VET

Col. L. V. Patch Loans Private Collection to Be Placed in Idaho Trophy Room

INCLUDES 93 PIECES Articles Range From Loaf of Bread to Machine Guns; Dr. Kelly Praises Offer

Ninety-three valuable World war trophies and other souvenirs of historical interest collected by Col. L. V. Patch of Payette, Idaho department commander of the American Legion, have been loaned to the university for the trophy room of the new Memorial armory-gymnasium, erected to the memory of Idaho's military dead. Included in the trophies is the personal equipment used by Col. Patch during the World war.

In expressing appreciation to the Idaho commander of the legion in behalf of the university, President Frederick E. Kelly said: "These trophies will do much to perpetuate the spirit that we hope will prevail in the Memorial gymnasium. The sacrifice which was made in the war by those in whose name the Memorial gymnasium is dedicated is difficult to keep alive in the minds of this busy generation, but such a trophy room will help to keep alive the memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice. We trust that it may be the goal of many pilgrimages for those who cherish these memories."

In addition to the Colonel's personal equipment the collection contains rifles and machine guns acquired from the enemy. Col. Patch has a loaf of bread, which he found in a German officer's dugout after the occupants had been driven out. The Germans were about to partake of their meal of bread and coffee when the Americans entered. The bread is well preserved and illustrates a principal food of the German forces. A French candlestick, which is decorated with blue and white, came from the ruins of the Ancienne Chateau, oldest chateau in France. Col. Patch acquired these trophies a few moments after the chateau had been levelled by German artillery fire. They are over 100 years old and bear the coat of arms of one of the royal families of France.

German trophies include saw-tooth bayonets, a machine gun, pistol, a private's gas mask, taken from a fallen enemy by Col. Patch, and a neck chain used to lead prisoners.

IDAHO DELEGATES TO W.A.A. PICKED

Marguerite Ames and Jessie Little Plan To Attend Annual Convention in Seattle.

Two women will represent the University of Idaho at a Women's Athletic association district conference to be held at Seattle April 11, 12 and 13. The ASUI executive board granted funds to the association sufficient to cover the expenses of two delegates at its weekly meeting Tuesday evening. Marguerite Ames appeared before the board to make the request.

Last year only one representative was sent to the annual conference, which was held at Phoenix, Ariz. Jessie Little and Marguerite Ames have been chosen as the two delegates to attend the conference.

Coach Hutchinson Harkens Back Twenty-five Years When the Big Boys Were "In the Makin'"

"It's kind of hard," said Coach Hutchinson, Idaho's track and baseball mentor, rather perplexedly, "for me to know what to say about the famous athletes I've known. If I were just out of college it would be different, but I've been coaching for 25 years and I could fill a book." He remained silent a few minutes gazing out the window with a far away look in his extraordinarily blue eyes. "Well, for instance," he began, "there was 'Smiling' Jeemes who was one of the first managers of the New York baseball club. In fact, he named the Giants. After retiring, he came to Elmira, New York, the town I was born in and organized a small baseball club. No one realized who he was, and I played third base on his team. I never had more fun in my life than when we went on trips. Jeemes was so superstitious that if he started out and saw a funeral coming down the street he'd turn around and march right back.

MAY QUEEN BATTLE TO BE SETTLED AT SPECIAL ASSEMBLY

Executive Board Approves Two More Amendments at "Hot" Meeting

PLAN LARGER BOARD

Sophomore Man and Another Senior Woman Would Be Added

By the Editor: Two proposed amendments to the ASUI constitution regarding the selection of the May queen and her two attendants and the other providing for the addition of two members to the executive board, were approved by the board at its weekly meeting Tuesday evening.

The proposed May queen amendment would be an addition to the by-laws, and in order for it to be passed, it must be read at an ASUI assembly in the near future, members of the board declared. The other proposed amendment would be a change in the constitution and would be voted upon by ballot at a special student body election. It is believed that a special election will be called before the annual general election in May in order that the new board members could serve next year.

Interest Is Keen. The proposed May queen amendment follows one of the most interesting political developments on the campus this year. It was originally introduced by Mortar Board, and was presented before the ASUI board about six weeks ago by Helen Taylor, president of the Associated Women Students and an ex-officio member of the board. Miss Taylor gave only a brief outline of the proposed change, and the matter was tabled by the board. Since then the question has been widely discussed by the women's groups, the two women's halls voting unanimously against the change. Supporters of the change want the selections left in the hands of the Associated Women Students. A detailed account of the Mortar Board plan appears in "Student Opinion" column of this issue.

Text of Amendment. Following is the proposed amendment which if passed would be Article XIV of the by-laws: "The May queen shall be a senior woman; the maid of honor, a junior woman; and the page a sophomore woman; to be elected by the students during the annual ASUI election." Spirited discussion followed the reading. It was passed with only one dissenting vote.

The proposed change in the personnel of the executive board would add two new members, a sophomore men's representative and a senior woman's representative. Adopted.

MAUD SCHEERER SCORES HIT HERE

Student Audience Well Pleased With Dramatic Critic's Presentation Tuesday.

At once amiable, pleasing and delightful, Maud Scheerer's dramatic critic and reader, held a special audience that filled the auditorium Tuesday morning with her reading of "The Trial of Mary Dugan."

The play depicted a New York murder trial. Miss Scheerer's presentation, der trial, Miss Scheerer's presentation, all times realistic.

In the plot, Mary Dugan was accused of having stabbed to death a rich New York banker, Edgar Rice, to whom she had been mistress. Witnesses were called to the stand; she introduced evidence that seemed certainly to incriminate Mary, when her brother, Jimmy, came into the courtroom, asked that Mary's attorney, Weston, drop the case that he, Dugan, might take it up.

Dugan questioned his sister, who took the stand "in her own defence." The district attorney sneeringly cross-examined her, seeming to further incriminate her on account of the life she had led. Dugan then called to the stand Mr. Rice, wife of the banker. Through her testimony, and a letter her maid, Mrs. Dugan made known the clandestine alliance that existed between Mr. Rice and Weston, the attorney. Mary Dugan was proved innocent of the murder. Weston was guilty.

greatest pitchers that ever happened. He belongs in Christy Mathewson's class. He was on the team I coached at Dickinson college, Pennsylvania. Then, there is Branch Rickey, manager of the St. Louis baseball club. He was catcher on the team I captained at Lemare, Iowa.

"I knew Pop Warner when he was a student at Cornell," the coach continued slowly. "It was nothing but a kid at the time, but he played on the football team and I used to go down to see all the games. That is how I first got acquainted with him and I've known him ever since. Why did they call him Pop? Well, now I don't know, they've always called him that even when he was in college. Guess it was because he's so slow in his talk and kind of dignified—got a letter from him just the other day." He pursed up his mouth and rubbed his chin thoughtfully, then went on, "Billy Roper, coach at Princeton and at one time president of the National Coaches' association, was a classmate

MAY QUEEN SELECTIONS

MORTAR BOARD'S proposal to change the present system of selecting the May queen, her maid of honor and page has become an interesting and live question. Much has been said for and against it, and the issue seems to be whether a new nominating board should make the selections or whether the present boards should do the choosing.

Shortly after the proposal was made, it was found that no mention of the May queen was made in the ASU constitution. The executive board Tuesday evening approved an amendment of the by-laws that would make the present system official. Supporters of the change of course want the selections left entirely in the hands of the Associated Women Students, out of the spring elections.

Mortar Board has made an excellent suggestion in the matter by specifying four standards for judging the qualifications of May queen candidates. These standards are popularity, beauty, activities and scholarship. Whatever body does the nominating, if these points could be closely adhered to, then there would be no dissatisfaction and discord with regard to the selections. After all, the position is a self-selecting one to a great extent, because there are very few women who can meet all four requirements. The Argonaut believes that if the ASU women were to be chosen independently by six nominating boards, probably four or five, of the women in each case would be the same.

The ideal way would be to leave everything else as it is, and have the qualifications of the candidates out of the matter when the selections are being made. With the women's groups on the campus, only one of which is out for the greatest possible number of honors and offices, it is difficult to imagine that such a plan is a condition would ever exist.

In the past there has been little dissatisfaction with the selection of the May queen; the choices have met with majority approval. The principal objection raised by supporters of a change is that bartering and haggling among the women's groups, after their nominating bodies had made their choices, took all of the pleasure and honor of being in the May fête for those who finally were elected. If the representatives on the women's nominating boards that now make the choices would frankly and openly discuss the various candidates, and use as a basis for their judging the four standards set by Mortar Board, then there would be no agitation for a reform.

STUDENT OPINION
Editor's note: This is the first published explanation that has been made of Mortar Board's proposed plan to change the present system of selecting the May queen and her attendants.

Mortar Board has sponsored the MAY festival on campus day ever since the national senior women's society was installed at Idaho. This MAY festival has been taken for granted for such a long time that the students seem to think it is a campus activity sponsored by the Associated Students, with the May queen and her attendants selected by politics.

Since Mortar Board has been giving this festival for the benefit of all the women of the campus, it seems only fair that the university women should select their May queen and attendants regardless of political factions. Under the old system of choosing the May queen, the political leaders on the campus have always picked the queen, not on a basis of merit but on group affiliations. The students have shown disapproval of this plan in the results of last year's election.

Mortar Board has received many requests to try to remedy this situation. After much consideration of the plans other universities have in choosing their May queens, Mortar Board has finally selected the following plan:
1. That the president of the Associated Women Students, with the advice of the dean of women, shall appoint a committee of five, composed of two women faculty members, two women student members, and the

No, we don't mean scene shifters or anything like that, but a real up-and-coming, put-and-take, hip-and-tuck, or what have you, ROYAL ORDER OF SHIFTERS. All you have to do is say, "an original contribution printed in this column. A handsome certificate, suitable for framing, will be sent to you, also a gold pin, to be worn on the lapel of your coat. We don't care where the co-eds wear theirs as long as they wear them. Drop contributions in Argonaut box. Who'll be the first? Be a SHIFTER!"

Think of life without the spring which with it all our misery brings, the sleepy looks, the uncracked books, the ever-present warm chinooks, picnics, formals, sneaks and such much. Colligate bugs, campus day, makes us wish we're far away, smokers too, aer-nades, soda pop and lemonade, Grassy lawns, Co-eds fair, noisy vics, and drowsy air, Red hot dances, red hot males, red hot band and red hot trails, Hiking trips to Moscow mountain, paddling frosh before the fountain, Peppy mixers, games and track meets, "I" tank seats that can't be beat, Dead broke sons of education, praying for the long vacation, 'S tough old grind, we'll all confess we'd rather be the sons of rest.

RACQUET WIELDING TAUGHT WOMEN BEFORE TOURNAY

Nearly 30 women have reported to Miss Jeanette Wirt this week for instruction in tennis. Classes are being held for frosh and seniors on Mondays and Wednesdays at 4:15, and for sophomores and juniors, on Tuesdays and Thursdays at the same time in the old gymnasium. This is an opportunity for those interested to learn the points of the game.

FROSH PRESIDENT PICKS COMMITTEES

Petzoldt Names Men in Charge of Plans for Annual Song and Stunt Fest.

Freshman class committees for the annual song and stunt fest have been appointed by Paul Petzoldt, president of the class. With the exception of the sophomores all committees have been selected.

The song and stunt fest is a traditional Idaho event sponsored by ASU and is given each spring on the night of the interscholastic track meet. Prizes are awarded by the judges on the night of the performance. The freshman appointees follow:

Stunt committee: Ralph Olmstead, chairman; Frank Carnell, George Gray, James Wells.
Song committee: York Klides, chairman; Lois Thompson, Elizabeth Hummer, George Jullion.
Glee committee: Howard Berg, chairman; Lionel Campbell, Jean York, Stanton Hale, Lewis Jones.

Leonard Stevens, who wrote the outrageous song, "I Faw Down and Go Boom", is reported by the papers to have been hit by a hit-and-run motorist. The proper thing to do now is to remark that he probably fawed down and went boom. We refrain from that, however, and instead, offer a huge reward to the hit-and-run driver. —(I.P.)

tion of the junior college plan by the university for next year is the reason for the change, said members of the board. The junior college division would make a distinct break between the upper and lower divisions of the university, warranting representation on the student executive board for the junior college students. In order to keep the balance of power between the men's and women's representatives, the additional senior woman was added. Following is the proposed amendment as it was read at the meeting Tuesday evening:

Proposed amendment to Article IV, Section 2, Sub-Section B of the constitution.

Eight members to be elected as follows: two men members and one woman member from the incoming junior class, and a man member from the incoming sophomore class.

SOCIETY

The formal opening, last evening, of the attractive new Alpha Tau Omega and Delta Chi, fraternity houses completed last fall were midweek affairs of much interest. More than 600 faculty members, townspeople and students attended each function.

Readings of late Broadway dramatic successes, by Miss Maud Scheerer, New York recitalist, in the auditorium Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings also proved popular with mid-week diversion seekers.

Two formals are scheduled for this weekend. Members of Pi Beta Phi will entertain with their annual formal dance this evening at the Blue Duck Inn. Kidenbaugh hall will hold its formal dance tomorrow evening at the hall social rooms.

Walter Mueller, pianist, will give a recital in the auditorium tonight.

Coming Events

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"

Modern Kitchen Equipment Speeds Up Preparation of Huge Meals at Hays Hall

By Grace Nixon.

Preparing a meal for 100 people in the days before electricity was labor for several, but today the three cooks at Hays hall accomplish the task with ease. Kitchen appliances of modern invention now lessen the work of cooking, making it more pleasurable than ever before.

Despite the fact that these are the days of dieting and the pencil silhouette, "co-eds" consume a great deal of food. A dinner roast for a hundred people amounts to a sizeable chunk of meat of about 40 pounds; with it 35 pounds of potatoes, 38 pounds of diced carrots or about 30 carrots served in large slices. Other vegetables are prepared in corresponding quantities. To stir up a cake for dessert is a serious matter in the dormitory kitchen when three sheets, 24 by 36 inches are needed, and it takes speed to "build" pies when 15 pies, cut in seven pieces each, are required. Four gallons must be ordered if ice-cream is on the menu.

Hays hall has the best equipped kitchen among the student groups of the campus. Outfitted two years ago it contains all modern, labor-saving devices. An electric oven does the baking and a compressor steamer cooks meats and vegetables and meats to luscious tenderness. A large steam kettle is used for soups, cocoa and all boiling. An electric toaster, electric stove and griddle, and an electric coffee urn aid in preparing breakfast. The handiest device in all the kitchen is the electric beater which whips potatoes, cream and salad dressings, and mixes bread, cake doughs, etc. To save labor the potatoes are peeled by electric peelers, nor are the apples peeled by hand. Only for the onion has no provision been made; it must still be prepared by hand, its lachrymal odor stifled by holding it under water. In serving, food and dishes are kept warm in the kitchen by a long steam table. A refrigerator protects perishable foods from the heat.

Twenty boys, the majority of whom are campus athletes working for their board, help in the kitchen. Their jobs are to serve the food, wipe the dishes which are washed by an electric dish washer, clean the pots and pans, empty garbage, and scrub the floor.

Girls are known to have an especial liking for sticky desserts, salads, and all fancy foods; however, they enjoy substantial food as well. Likes and dislikes of individuals differ greatly, but the majority are similar in their tastes. Among the meats, liver is the least popular, while in the vegetable line it is for turnips and spinach that they have the greatest dislike. Shrimp wiggle, hot biscuits, chocolate cake, and cream puffs are especially popular; after these come such favorites as chili, veal salad, hot chocolate, cheese toast-wiches, pickles, peanut brittle whip, and French fried potatoes.

CO-ED RIFLE TEAM WINS TWO MATCHES

Two victories, over the University of Nebraska team, 983-958, and Michigan State college team, 486-481; and one defeat, by Carnegie Institute of Technology, 678-890, is the record of the women's rifle team last week. Making an average of 91.8 in their match with the University of Gettysburg this week, the team shows a falling down from its last week scores. Results of this match will be received next Thursday. Individual scores for the Gettysburg match were: Lillian Woodworth, 99; Alta Tupper, 99; Marylou Craven, 96; LaReta Beeson, 96; Dorothy Perkins, 93; Dorothy Klenholz, 92; Opal Garrett, 88; Shirley Cunningham, 88; Lucile Glindeman, 83; Kathryn West, 84.

Gentlemen:

The tobacco samples you sent me have been received, and they are great. If you can picture in your mind the loneliness of a traveling man in a small town on a rainy night, not a friend in a hundred miles, nothing to do and no place to go:

That was the position I was in when your samples of Edgeworth came. It was like a voice from above when I opened the package and got the old pipe steaming.

I have smoked various brands of tobacco for the past fifteen years, but never in my life have I found a tobacco at any price that will equal Edgeworth. It does not bite the tongue, and a beautiful aroma follows. With the good old friend pipe and a can of Edgeworth you can dream of the rainbow's end.

Please count me in the future as an Edgeworth booster.

Very truly,

WOMEN ENTER FREE THROW TOURNAMENT

Beginning March 25, the women's international free throw tournament will start in the old gymnasium. Any girl is eligible to enter and she will receive 10 points toward W. A. A. for entrance. There are three sections, senior, for those over 20 years; intermediate, under 20; and junior, those under 17. They will have 45, 50 and 60 shots each, respectively. The third of the group making the highest percentage in any section will be given 50 points each and the middle third of the divisions, 25 points. Women may practice for the tournament during noon hours up to March 5. Basketballs are available in Miss Wirt's office. Idaho now holds seventh ranking place among universities in the United States.

AQUATIC MEET STARTS APRIL 1

Preliminary heats in the intramural swimming meet will be run off April 1, according to Gerald Grimm, manager of the meet. The events include 50 and 100 yard races free style; 50 and 100 yard races breast stroke; 50 yard backstroke; plunge for distance; underwater swim; 4 man 200 yard relay; 4 man 400 yard relay, and diving. The divers are required to make six dives; two optional and the following four required: straight, swan, back and tear-knife.

Entrance specifications state that no group can enter more than three men in one event and each entrant is limited to three races, one relay and the diving event. Five points are awarded for first place, three for second and one for third.

JUNIOR SEXTET WINS HOOP TITLE

Seniors Defeated 19-14 in Final Game; Freshman A Women Win Secondary Title.

Women's basketball supremacy for 1929 went to the junior first sextet when the senior first team went down to defeat 19 to 14 in a spirited tilt at the old gymnasium last Saturday afternoon. The game was closely contested in each period, neither team having a lead of more than five points at any time.

In the second team division the freshman A women took honors by virtue of their high percentage in regular games played. Senior first and freshman B sextets were runners-up in their respective divisions. Each member of the first place teams will be awarded 25 points toward the Women's Athletic association award.

We hear, unofficially of course that the girls of St. Mary's college are not allowed to have any dates during the school term. "This," observes Hugo N. Frye, "should be a very effective quietus on the belles of St. Mary's." Cornell Daily Sun.

HUTCHINSON KNEW ATHLETES FAMOUS IN THE "OLD DAYS"

of mine at Princeton. Billy was a great kid. He and I turned out for quarterback on the team and it's a funny thing, but I beat him, so he played as a substitute. Later on however, he made the team as halfback. After we got out of school Billy stayed in the east and I came west.

"I became very well acquainted with John Flanigan, who was a great strapping fellow straight from Ireland. He hadn't been here long before he became champion hammer thrower of the world. I ran the hurdles in the same track meet in which Alvin Krentzlene broke the world's record for the broad jump. He held the records for hurdling for over 20 years. Flanigan was one of the best all around athletes ever produced. I believe he could have concentrated on any event and become champion. Shortly after the first Olympic games in 1896 when the United States won practically every event, the German government sent for him to teach American track methods in Germany. His contract was broken, however, at the beginning of the World war and he died soon afterwards."

Coach Hutchinson is also a noted athlete. At one time he was an all-American football star and when he was in high school he held the world's interscholastic record in high hurdling. He refused to say more about the matter than, "I remember Walter Christie, Princeton's coach, was there that day."
