"TICKETS LIMITED"

ADVANCE publicity for Junior Week stressed the point that tickets to the Prom would be limited in order to prevent undue crowding and assure comfortable dancing. Those who attended the Prom wondered where the limit had been set.

True, the crowding wasn't as bad as it was last year, but if there had been 50 less couples it would have been a better dance. The Prom committee's records show that a total of 181 tickets were collected. Of that number 150 were paid admissions, the minimum necessary to assure the financial success of the dance. The Prom committee cannot be blamed for the situation—the same thing happens every year. The trouble is that Idaho lacks a hall sufficiently large to accommodate satisfactorily the Junior Prom. Under the present conditions, the committee must first consider the finances, and then make plans accordingly.

One of the chairmen of this year's Prom has suggested that in the future the Prom should be held in the Memorial gymnasium. One objection to the gymnasium is that the music echoes badly on account of the high ceiling. That could be remedied by building an orchestra shell with the money that is now spent for decorations. An orchestra shell has solved the problem for holding dances in the gymnasium at one of the Oregon colleges.

The Junior Prom is unquestionably one of the major social functions each year on the Idaho campus. If the juniors next year can work out a plan whereby the crowding would be eliminated they would have done something worth while.

A FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

MAJOR AL T. SCHENCK, the genial gentleman who superintended the construction of the Memorial gymnasium, has thought of an excellent plan for making use of the 31 cast-stone football players that adorn the north and south walls of the new building.

Briefly, his idea is this: Whenever an Idaho man is placed on an All-Pacific Coast conference football team, honor his achievement by dedicating to him one of the little stone figures. A brass band, suitably inscribed with the player's name, could easily be fastened on the mullions directly under the stone gridiron warriors. If a Vandal player were to receive All-American recognition, then the large player that supports part of the south wall on his shoulders could be used. In that case a brass plate of some kind would be appropriate.

The Argonaut is heartily in favor of that suggestion. It would be an original and novel way of establishing a "hall of fame" for famous Idaho football players. The cost of the brass bands would be negligible, and with 31 of the stone figures, there would be enough to last for many years. The executive board could well afford to give the proposal real consideration.

"HAY FEVER" NEXT THREE ACT COMEDY

Cushman is Directing Play Which Will be Produced May 2 and 3

"Hay Fever," the next three-act play which will be given May 2 and 3 by the advanced play production class under the direction of Prof. John Cushman, was written by Noel Coward, a noted author of numerous light and several musical comedies. Mr. Coward is also an actor and is appearing in one of his own plays, "This Year's Grace" which is playing in New York City at the present.

"Hay Fever" was first produced in London in June 1925 and presented in New York the following October. The story centers around an actress about 40 years old who has temporarily retired from the stage to live on a country estate with her family. Dorothy Pierce takes the part of the actress. Her husband, Burdett Belknap, is a novelist. A grown up daughter, Anne Johnson, and a son, Dan McGrath who is an architect, complete the family. The comedy element is furnished chiefly by Lillian Woodworth, the actress' maid. Complications arise when everyone invites his own special friends to stay for the weekend. The guests include a diplomat, Clayne Robinson; a "dummy" athlete, Robert St. Clair; a winsome flapper, Estelle Pickrell; and a silky vampire, Ethel Lafferty; who manage to make things lively by proceeding to fall in love with precisely the wrong persons.

Plans are being considered to have the tickets sold in the hall of the Administration building instead of downtown.

lateral treaty as originally proposed by France to a multilateral treaty, as it emerged; while it was before the foreign relations committee of the senate, of which Senator Borah is chairman, and numerous independent auxiliary conferences with the many interests involved—in all these things Senator Borah has worked with complete self-abnegation, seeking no glory for himself, not even publicity, but doing this vast service to humanity with his native modesty and good sense, and concentrating on whatever could most aid the development, passage and ratification of the peace treaty.

Borah Leads Crusade.
"Since February 14, 1923, when he offered in the senate his resolution to outlaw war, Senator Borah has been the leading statesman in the outlawry of war and therefore in world peace. His vision has always been clear and far-reaching. He has always opposed plans for peace which had in them the seeds of war, which were based on force, whereas the decision was to be reached and justice established by the power of might. He has never believed that God is on the side of the biggest battalions, notwithstanding the obvious fact that the biggest battalions usually can defeat the small ones. Steadfastly, and without the fatality of compromise, he has stood by his unalterable principle—that the institution of war must be altogether outlawed, must be reduced to the status of piracy, and must be banished from the halls of civilization.

"I am in great hopes that Senator Borah will deliver, one, two or three lectures, say in the first week of October each year, commencing this year. I look forward to being present on that notable occasion when there shall be initiated in the great empire of the west a pronouncement and a study of world peace whose momentum will be felt around the world. I hope to see scholars and experts in international relations come to hear these lectures and afterward to see an informal round table discussion in which Senator Borah, in his inimitable way will defend the goal of outlawry against all criticisms and questions."

The ONLY All-Steel REFRIGERATOR EVER BUILT!

BESIDES keeping the temperature always, the General Electric Refrigerator has many unique features. This apartment model has an all-steel cabinet that cannot warp and that uses less current. It has all its mechanism safely enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing. It is unusually quiet, entirely automatic and worryproof.

Health authorities agree that there is a definite "danger point" in the preservation of foods and this danger point is fifty degrees. 50 degrees! When the temperature rises even a degree or two above that, bacteria multiply and flourish—foods spoil and become unsafe to eat... a positive menace to good health.

SOCIETY

Activities sponsored by the junior class were the main social events of the weekend, and occupied the attention of not only the third-year students but that of the entire campus. The annual Junior prom held at the Elks' temple Friday, and the Junior cabaret held at the Blue Bucket inn Saturday, climaxed the entire Junior week.

Many fraternity and sorority dances are scheduled for the next two weeks, and the social calendar will undoubtedly be full for the remainder of the year. Picnics will probably play an important part among social affairs soon, if the spring weather continues.

JUNIOR PROM IS GAL AFFAIR

Outstanding among the varied events of Junior week was the annual Junior prom, one of Idaho's major social functions, which was held at the Elks' temple Friday evening. Approximately 189 couples attended. The futuristic motif prevailed in the decorative scheme. Fantastic wall panels and oddly shaped lanterns, and a brightly colored canopy over the orchestra all added to the effect. Intermission entertainment consisted of feature dances by Petite Mueller, a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority at Washington State college, and little Dorothy Armstrong, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Armstrong of Moscow. Music was furnished by Soden's ten-piece orchestra directed by Ray Kelley.

The grand march was a veritable fashion parade, the women's brilliant formal gowns far outshining the men's sombre attire. In the receiving line were John Soden, Irby Louise Dunlap, Robert Brown, Lois Taylor, Eddie Peterson, Louise Lamelle, President and Mrs. Frederick J. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Irving W. Jones, Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford, Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Kraft, Theodore Turner and Dean Fernal J. French.

MUCH "WHOOPEE" AT JUNIOR CABARET

One of the most gala affairs of Junior week was the Junior cabaret held at the Blue Bucket inn Saturday night. Both floors of the inn were used and 50 cabaret tables were reserved. Benson's orchestra furnished the music on the first floor, and McGinty's orchestra played upstairs.

Decorations for the cabaret were also in the futuristic mode, many of the decorations from the Prom being used. Confetti, serpentine and squawkers, which were distributed during the evening added to the cabaret atmosphere.

A feature of the evening was a banjo duo by Jack Campbell and "Dutch" Craslow of Spokane.

Patrons and patronesses were Miss Fernal French, Dean and Mrs. Ivan C. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. R. Staeberg and Theodore Turner.

Sunday dinner guests of Alpha Chi Omega were Eleanor Dunlap of Whitman college, Irby Louise Dunlap, Emma Mae Everest, Marian McComb, and Elizabeth Taylor.

Alpha Chi Omega luncheon guests Saturday were Mrs. S. Widenhalter, Mrs. J. E. Kincaid and Dorothy Ward of Lewiston.

Charlotte Smith, Spokane, was a weekend guest of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Petite Mueller, a member of Tri-

Delta sorority at Washington State college, was a house guest of Delta Gamma over the weekend.

Rheben Youngquist, national traveling secretary of Lambda Chi Alpha, was entertained by the Idaho chapter during the weekend.

Howard Lovejoy, Bernard Jacoby, and Walter Jacoby of Lewiston were luncheon guests of Lambda Chi Alpha Saturday.

Sigma Chi dinner guests Sunday were Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Hubert and Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Magnuson.

Marjorie Webber and Beryl Davis of Spokane were dinner guests of Delta Gamma Saturday.

Miss Helen Kersey, assistant dean of women, was a Sunday dinner guest of Delta Gamma.

Oliver Williams, Pullman, was a dinner guest of Lambda Chi Alpha Friday evening.

Dinner guests of Kappa Alpha Theta Saturday night were Alice Melgard and Emily Hendry, Sandpoint.

Margaret Dickenson, Orofino, was a dinner guest of Kappa Alpha Theta Thursday evening.

Naomi Randall and Gwendolyn Russell, Lewiston, were weekend guests of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Mrs. Howard Bryant, Portland, was a Sunday dinner guest of Kappa Alpha Theta.

Coach and Mrs. Leo B. Calland were Sunday dinner guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

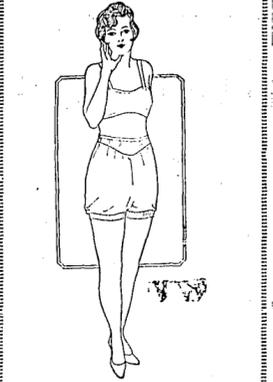

Joseph McFarland, Coeur d'Alene, was a dinner guest of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Friday evening.

Neal Fritschman of Naches, Wash., was a weekend guest of Lambda Chi Alpha.

Bids to Matrix Table will be Distributed at Annual Mortar Board Serenade

Keeping the date secret, Mortar Board members promise that their formal dinner, Matrix Table, will be held in the near future. Exceptionally clever entertainment and decorations are being planned.

About 35 women will be present, selected from group houses and halls. It was previously stated, through error, that they would consist of two eligible girls from each house. As a matter of fact, however, any number of girls may be chosen from either house or hall, on the basis of their grades, activities, leadership, and personality.

Invitations to Matrix Table will be given at the traditional Mortar Board serenade, which is planned for the near future. Just how they will be delivered is kept as a surprise.

FORESTERS SET DATE FOR "BARBACUE"

O. C. Krueger Starts Committee on Details For Annual Outing of Entire Woodsmen's School.

Plans for the annual foresters' "barbecue", to be held May 4 at Felton's mill are progressing rapidly, according to Otto Krueger, chairman of the committee in charge.

The foresters will be transported in trucks to Felton's mill, a small lumber camp about six miles east of Moscow, where they will stage contests in log rolling, log chopping and sawing, 100-yard dashes, three legged races, relays, and "Paul Bunyan" story telling, said Krueger. The outdoor affair will be concluded by an open-fire supper. The committee in charge of this traditional picnic includes Otto Krueger, chairman, Doren Woodward, Jack Dodd, Holt Fritchman and Ralph Ahlskog.

PI LAMBDA THETA CHAPTERS COVENE FOR WESTERN MEET

Planning a get-together luncheon, northwest chapters of Pi Lambda Theta, women's education honorary, held a luncheon last Thursday at the Davenport Hotel, Spokane. A number of distinguished guests, from the western coast, were present. Idaho's chapter was represented by Mrs. Eunice Smith, Mrs. Mable Allen, and Goldie Smith, president.

Sophisticates Make Merry at Cabaret

Sophistication plus arrived on the heels of the Junior Prom when Junior week came into full bloom at the Blue Bucket with an honest to gosh cabaret.

Small two couple tables; syncopating, blaring, soul tickling music; cocked red and green and yellow foos hats; punch, and what have you; couples pushing around in a crowd of other couples with their feet caught in miles of brilliant serpentine; wild, futuristic, Greenwich village paintings were all there to give the innocent college student the thrill of his life.

Blaring toy horns and musically squawking balloons nearly obscured the special feature of the evening—a banjo duo. The crowd was so large and the serpentine so obtrusive that the packed dancers didn't miss the music much when the horns got going. Sunday morning the block around the Blue Bucket looked like Main Street in the home town the night after.

FORESTERS TO SHOW STATE METHODS

A. M. Sowder, 25 Returns to Moscow to Carry on Extension Work in Northern Part of State.

Arthur M. Sowder, graduate of the school of forestry in 1925, returned to Moscow last week to formulate plans for extension work in the northern part of the state.

During the last four months, Mr. Sowder has been conducting farm woodlot improvement demonstrations in and around Boise valley. The aim of the work, said Mr. Sowder, is to make the farm woodlots self supporting, and to aid the interest in forestry.

The male quartet made its first public appearance of the year, and the way in which they handled two clever numbers called forth some favorable comment on the part of the audience. The string quartet was also very favorably received.

The male quartet consisted of Forrest Brigham, Clarence Sample, William Shamberger and Conway Adams. They sang two numbers. Vocal solos were sung by John Jenny, Lucille Frizzell and Marylou Craven. A violin solo by Ruth Newhouse added diversity to the program. The string quartet, consisting of Prof. Carl Claus, York Kildea, Ruth Newhouse and Estelle Ruick, played two numbers.

A woman, Mrs. Edith Wilson, is a deputy district attorney in San Francisco.

APRIL 22 IS DATE FOR BAND CONCERT

Special Numbers Arranged For Additional Entertainment at Annual Performance Postponed Twice.

A program more classical than "jazzy" has been prepared for the annual Pep band concert April 22, according to Sam Hutchings, student director, who announces that the date has been definitely set for next Monday evening. The concert has been twice postponed on account of conflict with other university activities.

Special feature numbers, chief among which will be an original adaptation of the popular song, "Sweethearts on Parade," are being prepared by the band. A chorus of women will be used in the presentation of this piece, Hutchings said. Frequent rehearsals are being held by the band members in order to perfect the rendition of many new pieces.

TRACK SQUAD WILL GET FIRST TRYOUT IN SATURDAY CLASH

Meet with Washington State At Pullman is Pre-Season Event

RAIN IS DRAWBACK

Weather Makes Use of Cinder Track Impossible For Sprinters

Barring bad weather Idaho's 1929 track squad will get its first official tryout next Saturday afternoon when the Vandal and Washington State college squads run off a series of practice relay and field events on Rogers field at Pullman. The meet is not a regularly scheduled clash and will serve only to give both coaches a chance to pick squad members for meets, the first part of May.

Without a chance to try out his sprinters and distance men except on the campus, Coach R. F. Hutchinson faces the prospect of placing a number of untried men in the events Saturday. Wet weather which has made the MacLean field track unfit for use, kept Idaho's cinder artists indoors until the latter part of March. The Idaho mentor Monday was facing the problem of several ineligible men.

Although no definite arrangements have been made for the trial meet at Pullman, it is understood that mile and quarter-mile relays will be run off and probably a medley event. All the field events will be run off and if the Rogers field cinder lanes are in condition a special 100-yard event may be held. The medley race would consist of a four-man team running 220, 440, 880 and mile events in that order.

Coach Hutchinson has had no chance to pick even a tentative squad for the Pullman workout, but has several veterans as a nucleus. John Norman, sprinter, and Milford Collins weights are the only two-year lettermen but eligible men who won letters during the past two years include: Sid Pearson, pole vaulter; Dave Wilks, mile; Harold Stowell, middle distances and high jump; William Kershianik, weights; William Klingler, sprints, and James O'Brien high jump. A number of thus far experienced un-lettered candidates include Boyd Hodson, middle distances; Charles Heath, distances; William Hawkins and Walter Crawford, middle distances; Lowell Mason, hurdles; and Ted Jensen, sprints. With the exception of Heath, outstanding freshman distance star last year, all these men have had at least one year on the team.

Sixty Men on Squad. At present Coach Hutchinson is working with more than 60 varsity and freshman candidates, but will not be able to cut his working squad until he has had a chance for tryouts during the next two weeks. He plans to pick a varsity group Wednesday or Thursday to make the Pullman trip, and intends to take the most outstanding freshmen candidates with him.

Although no relay teams have been named, it is likely that the medley team will be composed of Klingler, Norman, Stowell and Heath provided Stowell is eligible to compete Saturday. The mile relay team probably will comprise Norman, Hodson, Klingler, Stowell or Crawford. The quarter-mile quartet is uncertain but probably will include Norman, Klingler, Jensen and another man as yet unchosen. Men making the trip will be announced Friday.

Idaho's first scheduled meet is May 4—the University of Washington Relay Carnival at Seattle.

FOUL BALLS

By Paul Boyd

The majors opened their annual ball-chasing and fango-hitting debacle today. From past performances we predict that the Phillies will win less ball games than any other team, maybe except the Boston Braves.

President Hoover threw out the first ball, probably missing the catcher and hitting the gardener. Mr. Hoover will be unable to sign the bill for farm relief.

Every station seems to have its baseball hour now. This is how it will come in from Spokane: "Hello folks, this is Foul Balls talking. How is everything around the fire side this evening. I just heard that the Idaho Vandals have the most darling creation of suits. Something of mauve you know. We just have a letter from Oscar Lunthead asking if Rich Fox is going to coach baseball at Idaho. We are all glad to hear from our friends. Please stand by for the 11 chimes which will tell you that it is 9:30. There you are, and I'll be back tomorrow night and tell you all about the baseball stars—Good night."

But all joshing aside, it is highly probable that Idaho will have a cracking nine to put on the field against the rest of the conference members. The development of the Vandal team has been very pronounced in the two game series with Whitman.

The scores of 6:3:44, indicate that the Vandals played some very creditable ball to split with the Missionaries. Idaho garnered a total of 12 hits in the two games. Only three were nailed in the first, these going to Cheyne, Johnson and Lawrence. This boy Johnson looks very good at the plate. He is about due to take his place in the outfield when any of the others hit a slump.

Both chuckers turned in nice performances. Grabner, losing hurler, pitched "five-hit" ball, but his mates could only tally three runs to support him. Lawrence held his opponents at bay with seven bingles in the first game.

As yet no outstanding blows have been registered for the score book. There have been a few doubles, but no triples and no homers. Cheyne at his time last year had five Ruthian swats to his credit.

Coach Fox will have an opportunity, depending on the weather, to condition his men for the tough opening games with W. S. C., as no games are scheduled this week.

After attending the Prom and Cabaret we offer this gem to the prospective athletes: You can't bat around with the 400 and expect to be in the 400 batting class.

A rook was heard to ask Fox what an "off" day was. He said, "An Off day is three errors and no hits against a soft club."

Tennis, Swimming, Hiking and Baseball Remain as Possibilities For W. A. A. Points; Weather Halts Work.

Swimming, tennis, indoor baseball and hiking are sports in which women may still earn points toward W. A. A. this semester, according to women sports managers. Interclass swimming meets, in which all women will be eligible, will be held about the middle of May. Many of the events are for form rather than for speed, and some are for beginning swimmers only. All women will receive 15 points for entrance.

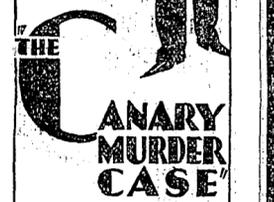

Tennis meets will start about the same time, and matches between class teams and for the cup awarded by W. A. A. to the best women tennis player on the campus will be played. Each woman entering the tournaments will receive 15 points.

Sixty miles for 50 points can still be hiked before the end of the semester if women will average about eight miles a week.

Baseball will start soon and 10 points are awarded for this sport also. Besides the entrance awards, points are given to those who place.

AGS PREPARE FOR BIG STOCK SHOW

Gala Day Planned For "Little International"; University's Best Animals Will Compete.

The agriculture students are busy preparing for their annual "Ag Day" to be held May 4. Special emphasis is being placed upon the parade and that part of the program is expected to eclipse those of past years.

The parade, led by the military band, will contain more than 60 of the university's best show animals. Twenty-seven prize winning dairy cattle, 15 of Idaho's famous beef cattle, and 19 horses will be paraded. Plans are being worked out for clever departmental floats. Four of them will probably appear: an agricultural engineering float, dairy products, agronomy, and poultry floats. These will be drawn by the large university teams and special show harness is being secured for the day.

Six prizes are being offered. Six loving cups, 40 medals, and six ribbons will be awarded to the winners of first places in the judging and fitting contests. The local businessmen are giving merchandise prizes to those taking second and third places.

Two special prizes will be given by university herdsmen. A silver loving cup has been offered by Stanley S. Brown, university shepherd, to the high man in fitting, showing and judging of sheep. A similar prize is being offered by Howard Pfander, university swine herdsman, to the student winning in the swine fitting contest.

The livestock show, which will be patterned after the international live stock shows at Portland and Chicago, will be held at night, and although it will not be so long as in past years, more animals will be on exhibit than ever before.

Drink Coca-Cola Delicious and Refreshing

PAUSE AND REFRESH YOURSELF

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW. AND THE PAUSE THAT'S COMING MAY NOT BE SO REFRESHING AS SOME OTHERS WE KNOW OF.

The moral is to avoid situations where it is impossible to pause and refresh yourself—because whenever you can't is when you most wish you could. Fortunately, in normal affairs there's always a soda fountain or refreshment stand around the corner from anywhere with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola ready. And every day in the year 8 million people stop a minute, refresh themselves with this pure drink of natural flavors and are off again with the zest of a fresh start.
