"LITTLE INTERNATIONAL" SHOW SCHEDULED TO OPEN SATURDAY

Exposition, Annual Event Since 1923, Is The Pride of Agriculture Students; Parade Will Be Feature of Day

Final preparations have been made for the "Little International," annual livestock show sponsored by the students of the college of agriculture, which will be held tomorrow evening in Lewis court. A parade which will include about 60 prize winning animals from the university farm, floats representing the different departments in the college and the R. O. T. C. band will be held on the campus streets shortly after 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

Lewis court will be transformed into show rings, pavilions and long lines of stalls and pens for some of the best horses, cattle, sheep and swine in the west. Bleacher seats have been installed to accommodate a large crowd of students and townspeople. The "Little International" was named after the big stock show which is held in Chicago every year, which it resembles in all details except size. Prominent stockmen from the Inland Empire attend every year to look over the university stock and to act as judges in the various judging and fitting contests. The doors will open at 7:30 o'clock.

Parade on Campus Streets
The parade will be one of the principal attractions of the day, said Bruce Sifton, manager of the show. It will start from the Great Northern depot at 2 o'clock and will come up Main street to Sixth street. From Sixth it will follow Elm street, then up Elm past Forney hall and around the campus drive in front of the Engineering and Administration buildings to Lewis court.

The evening performance proper will be an exact reproduction of the larger livestock shows, said Mr. Sifton. Students will exhibit animals which they have been busy grooming for the past month, before stockmen and experienced judges who will decide upon the prize winners. Judging will be based entirely upon the students' ability in fitting and showing. Prizes awarded during the day in judging, grading and identification contests will be announced in the evening. A campus orchestra will furnish music as an added attraction.

Stockmen Are Judges.
The following will be judges: Beef cattle, J. Houston McCroskey and Jack Napier; fine wool sheep, Professor Hackedorn; fine wool sheep, E. F. Rhinehart; horses, Robert C. McCroskey and John Burns; swine, F. F. Rhinehart; dairy cattle, C. B. Holt and J. C. Kincaid; poultry, Prof. D. E. Lampman; dairy products, Prof. D. R. Theophilus; and grain, Prof. H. W. Hulbert.

Word was received this week that G. W. Robinson, western representative of the Guernsey Cattle association, and Ivan H. Gaughary, western representative of the Jersey Cattle club will be here tomorrow for the show. M. Plummer, manager of the Pacific International Livestock exposition also will be here.

Dean Extends Invitation.
Dean E. J. Iddings in a statement yesterday said: "We extend a cordial invitation to faculty, students and to the citizens of Moscow to join us in enjoying the 'Little International.' It has become an established event on the university calendar, and not only draws from the campus and town, but people drive from several directions from Idaho and Washington to attend. This year the students have taken an unusual interest, and there is prospect of a larger number of entries and more students having active parts than ever before."

DR. MILLER OFF FOR BOISE
Dr. George Morey Miller, head of the English department, left Moscow this morning for Boise where he will spend a week at the annual convocation of the Episcopal church as a delegate from St. Mark's parish here.

Horse Show Furnished Idea For Now Famous Exposition

By Elsie Warm
A horse showing which conceived the idea of holding a small stock show in 1923 gave the Little International its start at the University of Idaho. The first show was held at the horse barns. It aroused so much enthusiasm among agricultural students who exhibited their sleek fat pets and attracted so many spectators from outlying districts as well as students from other colleges of the university that the participants decided to give it annually.

The Little International is modeled after the International Livestock Show at Chicago and the Pacific International at Portland, to which the elite come to look at the stock. The animals, groomed and polished until their pelts and hoofs gleam, are exhibited in stalls around the floor of Lewis court. The floor is covered with straw. At the floor is covered with straw. At the floor is covered with straw. At the floor is covered with straw.

Not only horses and cows but chickens and pigs have a chance at the ribbons. The judging contests are held on the morning of Ag Day, and include the evaluation of grain, dairy products, poultry products, and various other branches of agriculture as well as the judging of cattle, horses, sheep and swine.

Vandal Nine Aspires To Conference Flag

TWO VICTORIES LAST WEEK OVER THE FORMIDABLE W. S. C. club have raised Idaho's hopes for a high position in the Pacific coast race. Stars of the team shown above, supported by the remainder of the regular lineup will cross bats today with the Oregon nine at Eugene in the first game of the Vandal barnstorming trip. Whitney Lawrence, veteran chucker, will not hurl until tomorrow, but the other men shown will get into action against the Websters.

WORK ON '29 GEM IS NEARLY DONE

McDonald, Janssen and Coon To Finish Job in Boise; Book Will Have 464 Pages.

Having completed all work on the Gem of the Mountains which can be done on the campus, George McDonald, editor, Allen S. Janssen, assistant editor, and Edward A. Coon, business manager, will leave Saturday morning for Boise to complete work on the 1929 annual. All copy and cuts have been sent in to the printers and engravers, and proofs on many of the pages have been read.

While in Boise, the editors will work with the printers, Syms-York Co., in reading proof and editing the last sections of the yearbook which were sent in recently. It is expected the work will require at least a week's time.

After all printing has been completed on the "Gem of 1929," which will be the title of this year's Gem of the Mountains, the sections go to the bindery at Syms-York. The work of binding the 1225 volumes of 464 pages each will require about two weeks. It is thought that the Gem will be on the campus about the first of June.

Subscriptions may still be obtained, according to Kenneth O'Leary, circulation manager, who is conducting a final drive to allow forgetful students to purchase their copy of the Gem. The Intercollegiate Knights have subscription blanks in the halls and group houses, and a table will be maintained in the Administration building hall for a few days longer.

GROUP SONG MEET DELAYED TILL FALL

Season-End Rush of Social Events Makes Postponement of Song Contest Necessary, Says Kraft.

Because of the many activities and social events that are scheduled between now and the close of school, it has been decided to postpone the group singing contest until sometime next fall, Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department, announced today. It is quite probable, he said, that the contest will be scheduled shortly before the Christmas holidays, as that is the customary time for holding it in other schools.

This contest is an innovation introduced here this year by Professor Kratt to encourage greater interest and enthusiasm in group singing by fraternities and sororities. Two cups are to be awarded, one for men's and one for women's groups. The contestants are to sing two group songs and one Idaho song, 20 voices being the minimum in each group.

HONORARY PLEDGES EIGHT DEBATERS

Eight varsity debaters were pledged to Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, Wednesday afternoon. They are Margaret Wilson, Burdette Belknap, Dorothy Keinholtz, Howard Andrews, Julia Hunter, Conway Adams, Thelma Melgard, and Kenneth O'Leary. All pledges were chosen because of outstanding work in intercollegiate debate this year, according to Marjorie Albertson, president.

DIAMOND SQUAD LEAVES FOR COAST CONFERENCE TRIP

Will Play Six Road Tour Games With North Division Nines

MEET THREE TEAMS Oregon, O. S. C., and Washington to be Opposed in Twin-Bills

Idaho's baseball team, after taking two straight games from the Washington State Cougars, left yesterday evening for the Coast to play six conference games in eight days, two each with the University of Oregon, Oregon State college and University of Washington teams.

The penning game of the trip will be played this afternoon when the Vandals are scheduled to meet the University of Oregon club at Eugene. The squad will then take an overnight hop to Corvallis for two games with the Oregon Staters Monday and Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday Coach Fox's men will play the University of Washington at the Seattle stadium.

The trip will be the Vandals' only long road jaunt of the season. The remainder of the games on the schedule will be played on MacLean field, with the exception of return games with Washington State at Pullman.

Fifteen men, accompanied by Coach Rich Fox and Manager Cecil Pfost, are on the trip. They are Everett Lawrence, Frank Judy, Clive Lindsay, Harold Smith, Walter Price, Karl Kyckha, Frank McMillin, James Halliday, Arthur Cheney, Lawrence Burton, Melvin Fuller, Merritt Greeling, Elmer Johnson and Hugh Duffy.

Idaho had little trouble defeating the Vandals in their first game, although Judy was taken out in the ninth in favor of Grabner who in turn was relieved by Lawrence. With the maximum amount of time this week devoted to hitting practice, the Vandal squad should be in excellent condition to tangle with the three Coast clubs.

Howdy, Voters and Innocents: Wal, the wind's not blowing so much now that the political hot air snort is over. Say, I find out why there weren't no space to write in names on the ballots. Just between me and you, I says to you, says I, "Humpy and Lean Bill and Butch didn't want to be sticker candidates for them public eye-opening offices." ### COMBINE CANDIDATE VICTOR OVER POULTON, INDEPENDENT

Pre-Election Campaigns Reach Climax Wednesday Night; Total Ballot 1036, Second Largest In Recent Years

Aldon Tall, Alpha party candidate for the student body presidency, defeated Edward Poulton, the Independents' nominee, by a margin of 134 votes in the annual ASUI election yesterday, the official count released last night shows. Pre-election campaigning came to a climax Wednesday night when the campus was flooded with handbills, urging voters to compare the qualifications of the two men. A total of 1036 votes was cast, the second highest in recent years.

Poulton Urges Unity; Says 'Best Man Won'

The results of the election were very gratifying to me, and I desire to take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation to those who supported me. The man best qualified for the position won, and I urge that the whole-hearted support of the student body be pledged to Mr. Tall that we may have a finer university with a unified Idaho spirit.

In the Argonaut Idaho has a fine overarching influence and one worthy of encouragement. I trust that it may be continued as an independent spokesman of student opinion, thereby promoting student interest and Idaho spirit.

(Signed) EDWARD POULTON.

"GLEE CLUB GOOD" ASSURES DIRECTOR

Special Program Arranged For Concert Here Monday Evening

Twenty-seven men, under the direction of Prof. Theodore Kratt, director of the University Men's Glee club, will present the annual concert of the glee club in the university auditorium Monday night. A greater variety of entertainment than has been presented in previous years is to be provided, the director promises. The men have been working hard in several practice sessions during the past week, and Professor Kratt will present what he believes to be a club of almost professional caliber.

The first part of a three-part program will consist of glee club, quartet, and solo numbers of the more serious type. In the second part the University Strong quartet will be presented in several numbers. The third part, according to Johnny Soden, business manager, will be a "spicy, collegiate musical sketch."

All tickets are reserved and may be obtained either from the glee club members or at Hodgins'. The concert will begin at 8 o'clock.

ENGINEERS WILL MAKE FIELD TRIP

At 7:30 Monday morning the seniors in the school of engineering will leave Moscow on their annual engineering field trip, this year to Lewiston.

The schedule for the morning includes an inspection of the Clearwater mill, with special attention given to the dam, the power house, and the mill proper. In the afternoon the entire party will inspect the gas works. The electrical group will then inspect the telephone and the mechanical, chemical and civil departments the waterworks.

All members, both student and faculty, will make the trip by bus. Written reports of the trip are to be required of the students.

Janitor Speaks Four Languages "Chris" Guarded Royal Danes

By Hazel Simonds.
Guard and friend to a crown prince and king is the distinction that belongs to Christian Bernhart Petersen, commonly called "Chris," who is a janitor in the Science hall.

"Chris," a native of the island of Lolland in Denmark, was apprenticed as a stone mason, which trade he practiced in his native land and in Germany. Later he drafted in the Danish army.

"Sure, I know the king," Chris declared proudly. "He was my captain. He goes all over the place, he's so long-legged, but every bit of him is a gentleman."

"I was twice guard to the crown prince, who is now king. He and his wife are as nice and common as quarters you meet every day."

"Chris" explained that the quarters for generals and the royal family were small houses on the outer rim of an eight-cornered courtyard. Two guards were stationed in front of each house and on one side of the yard about 150 reserves were stationed.

LAW BREAKING COOPS

PROTESTS if they enforce campus rules and protests if they don't—that is the reaction members of the "I" club receive from the student body.

Last week the "I" club changed its method of punishing violators, and the improvement in the general observance of the rules was immediate and gratifying.

The Argonaut has received impassioned student opinion contributions "panning" the "I" club for its brutality. A great hue and cry has been raised in some quarters, but the violators themselves have taken their medicine and have had little to say. They knew they were in the wrong and took the consequences, didn't ask for sympathy and didn't expect it.

One criticism seems to have some foundation—that sophomores and junior lettermen have been noticed on the campus and at the "pants warmings" without hats. It is rather difficult to see how they can make exceptions of themselves. For one sophomore or junior to take punishment from another, when both are subject to the same rule, goes against the grain.

The Argonaut hopes that the "I" club will change its policy in that one respect and continue its good work.

Student Opinion

DISLIKES DAYLIGHT SAVING
Congratulations, fellow students, we are now one hour ahead than we used to be. We have cheated old Father Time out of an hour by shoving the clocks ahead.

Careworn expressions are becoming common upon the faces of many of our numbers since the adoption of this new method of daylight saving or, "sleep lessening", as it has been termed.

Apparently the motive behind the scheme is that we will conserve daylight. For the chicken, this method can be considered advantageous, and indeed, we as students, should not object to the chickens' use of it, but how much, we should ask, is the chicken required to "burn the midnight oil" in preparation for quizzes?

Who is there that goes to bed by the clock or quits his evening study at a certain time? More particularly, who is there that would quit studying at a certain time, if he knew that the clock was an hour fast? For instance, if a freshman saw that it was 10 o'clock (his usual bed time) when in reality he knew that it was only 9 o'clock, wouldn't he continue studying until he had finished his work regardless of the time? In all probability he would study as late as ever and get to his 7 o'clock class to doze. Where is the economy in such a plan? Is it daylight that we are saving or is it sleep that we are lessening?

When the sun is over our heads it is noon, and when we come to class half asleep it is 7 o'clock. Who is there that does not know it? If there are those who insist that it is no earlier than usual they are resorting to hallucinations. In the language of the campus "biangster" they are kidding themselves.

A SOPHOMORE'S REPLY

In reply to the article, "I" Men Too Rough", in the Student Opinion of Tuesday's Argonaut I wish to express my thanks to C. C. for his wrath. I surely agree that the public hazing is a disgrace to the University of Idaho and the members of the "I" club.

The green cap tradition is another Idaho tradition that is the bunk. Why should fresh be made to wear green caps? It is not necessary for everyone to know who the frosh are. The big majority of the freshmen are smarter and more intelligent than the sophomores, and the supercilious upperclassmen. Are we not here for an education and do not the students realize that education is training for social efficiency instead of engagements in such atrocious brutalities as were indulged in Monday? If there are not a few students in this university who are men enough to see and stop this savage and outlandish retribution, it is time the faculty takes it up.

In the article, "Freshman Hats", just below the above mentioned article it says that leading universities of the coast have freshman hats. Even if they do it is no sign that Idaho must have them. Let Idaho become wise and do away with class distinction and the foolish hats. Are we puppets that must follow some one else? Of course not! We are supposed to be progressing ourselves for outstanding citizens. Let's begin now by starting our own cus-

Executive Board Warns "I" Club

Lettermen Must Observe Campus Rules; Belknap Appointed Chairman of Stunt Fest

Members of the "I" club who paddle freshmen and sophomores for violations of campus rules without living up to the rules themselves aroused criticism of the ASUI executive board Tuesday evening.

Following a number of complaints that had been made to members of the board, a resolution was passed to the effect that members of the "I" club cannot consider themselves exceptions to the rules they are trying to enforce. Formal notification of the board's action was sent to the "I" club by the secretary of the board yesterday.

Burdette Belknap, senior in the college of letters and science, was appointed general chairman of the annual song and stunt fest which will be held in the auditorium May 11, the night of the district high school track meet.

An appropriation of $150 for costumes for dancers who will appear in the May day fete May 21 was also passed by the board.

The Nest also reported a heavy run on midnight coffee. Ain't things going to the bow wows under this daylight saving plan?

I've recommended 50 guys to the local plasterers' union because of their diligence and "right attitude" work last Wednesday night. No political discrimination either. The best men get the best recommendations.

Say, did Helen Taylor and Zeldia Newcomb tote home some big ideas from that there convention? Now that plan about rules coming from the women ain't to be snoozed at. That calls for a congressional investigation.

ly high considering the fact that only two offices were contested along party lines. Just before the primary election three weeks ago handbills declaring "Rotten politics" and "big stick dictation" appeared on the campus, supposedly distributed by the Independent Voters League, an organization which hadn't been heard of before. An admonition to "watch for further developments" is connected by some with the thousands of handbills that were distributed in classrooms of the Administration building and in all the group houses on the campus.

Mimeographed Alpha party handbills similar to the Independent literature, warned voters of the two "campus jokesters". They were scattered before midnight Wednesday. The other handbills were pasted on telegraph poles, on sidewalks, on cars and buildings. A Ford coupe belonging to "Humby" Ellis, Alpha party leader, was literally covered with political propaganda.

POULTON AND WHITE TO DIRECT DINNER

Campus Day "Feed" Committee Heads Named by General Chairman

Two major committees for Campus day were announced last night by Burton Ellis, general chairman. Edward Poulton and Marlan White will have charge of the Campus day picnic dinner which will be held between the Engineering building and Ridenbaugh hall. Houses will buy tickets for their members and all dining halls will be closed for the evening meal. Town women are especially invited to take part in this dinner as it is strictly an all-campus affair. Johnny Soden's orchestra has been engaged to play from the balcony of Ridenbaugh hall during the meal hour.

Publicity committee for this day as appointed by the general chairman is Cecil Hagen, Cedric d'Easum, Edward Whittington, Andrew Thomson, Arthur Peavey and Jack Parker.

Jenkins cottage and the old wooden building behind the Administration building will be torn down as part of the campus day program. All the temporary bleachers that have been used for football games will be stored in the old varsity dressing room behind the old gymnasium. The upperclassmen of the forestry school will work in the arboretum, and the agriculture students will be employed on the school farm.

Sigma Tau, honorary engineering fraternity, is planning a special project for Campus day.

PLAN CONCERTS FOR MUSIC WEEK

Extensive Program Attracts Music Lovers: Glee Club Concert and "Ehjah", are High Lights

An extensive program for the campus has been planned for National Music week, which begins Monday, May 6, according to Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the Music department.

The men's glee club will present a concert Monday; Sigma Alpha Iota will give a formal recital on Wednesday, May 8; Treble Clef, the women's glee club, will give a concert on Thursday, May 9; and the Community stations have given this year. The oratorio, "Ehjah", on Friday and Saturday, May 10 and 11. This will be the first home concerts that these organizations have given this year. The oratorio, "Ehjah", has been rehearsed by a large group for several months under the direction of Professor Theodore Kratt and will include in its cast more than 100 students and townspeople.

D. G. DELEGATES FLY TO CONVENTION

Jessie Little, Lois Kennedy and Beulah Papeh left Moscow yesterday afternoon to attend a Delta Gamma province convention at Whitman College, Walla Walla, as representatives of the Idaho chapter. The trio spent the evening in Spokane and were to have left the Blamer Flying field there at 7:30 o'clock this morning for Walla Walla in one of the large coastal transport planes, arriving in plenty of time for the first afternoon session of the convention. This is the first time that Idaho convention delegates have used airplanes as a method of transportation. They will return to Moscow Sunday by auto.

D. G. PROVINCE INSPECTOR VISITS HERE

Mrs. William T. Belcher, Seattle, province inspector of Delta Gamma, visited in Moscow Tuesday and Wednesday. ## SENIORS ADOPT PICNIC PLANS

Bursar Authorized To Handle General Deposit; Assessments Planned To Cover Deficiency.

Definite plans for the annual senior picnic, which will be held May 15, were adopted at the senior class meeting Wednesday evening. Two resolutions were adopted at the meeting to take care of the financing of the picnic and the space in the Gem of the Mountains taken by the senior class. One resolution was passed authorizing the bursar to take the pro-rata share of seniors from the general deposit to pay for the picnic. Names of seniors going on the picnic will be taken on the train after leaving Moscow and turned in to the bursar's office and the expenses deducted from the general deposit of each senior. A second resolution was passed calling for the assessing of each senior a sufficient amount to cover the deficit in the class funds, this money to pay for the class space in the annual picnic and also to buy the senior class gift for the university. Preparations have been completed for the picnic, according to reports. A special train has been chartered from the Great Northern to take the class to Hayden lake. Reports were also given on the class song and finances.

ELECTRICITY —

the modern prospector

A STOUT heart; a burro laden with pick, shovel and the bare necessities of life; and the prospector was ready for the gold rush—Sutter's Mill, the Pike's Peak country, Cripple Creek, Klondyke. A scattered trail of half-worked claims marked his sacrifices.

To-day mining is a business, with electricity replacing wasteful brawn in mine and mill.

The deep mine, with electric lights, hoists, and locomotives; the surface mine with huge electric shovels scooping up tons of ore in a single bite; the concentrating mill with its batteries of electrically driven machines; the steel mill with its constant electric heat—here are but a few of electricity's contributions to the mineral industries.

So in every industry, electricity increases production and cuts costs. It is the modern prospector, leading the way into wider fields and tapping undeveloped resources—that we may enjoy a finer civilization and a richer, fuller life.

You will find this program on powerful motors that drive heavy mining machinery and on tiny motors that drive sewing machines. Both in industry and in the home it is the mark of an organization that is dedicated to electrical progress.

VANDAL RELAYMEN HAVE SLIM CHANCE

Ten Men on Way to Seattle Not Conceded Many Points

(By Andy Thomson)

Conceded only the slightest chance to place against the most outstanding relay teams of the northwest, 10 Vandal tracksters with Coach R. F. Hutchinson left Thursday afternoon to enter the annual University of Washington Relay carnival against Oregon, Oregon State, Washington, Washington State, and Montana.

Idaho will enter three relays and two individual events, Coach Hutchinson declared before leaving Thursday, the Vandal mentor having definitely decided to enter a two-mile relay quartet. The other relay events will include the mile and medley while Idaho sends individual entries in the shot put and pole vault. Men comprising the squad were: John Norman, Milford Collins, Boyd Hodson, Willard Klingler, Ted Jensen, James Hawkins, Charles Heath, Walter Crawford, Dave Wiks, and Sidney Pearson. Manager Harry Jones accompanied the team.

Mile Best Bet.

Idaho's best chance in the relay division will be in the mile event, it is believed. With exception of two men—Harold Stowell—scholastically ineligible for competition in the relay carnival, and Wilfred Johnson, graduated, Idaho has the same mile quartet that defeated all its opponents with one exception last year. Norman and Klingler ran regularly on the Idaho relay team last year while Jensen and Hodson were first substitutes and ran in several meets. Hodson has also had experience running the 440-yard dash in past varsity meets. These four men when pressed are capable of turning in a time of better than 3:28.

Idaho will be able to put only a mediocre medley quartet into the carnival, largely due to the lack of exceptionally fast men in the two longer distance events. Klingler probably will lead off with a 220-yard stretch, followed by Norman with a quarter mile. Heath probably will be assigned the half-mile share, with Wiks doing the final stretch. Klingler should be able to do his event in less than 23 seconds, Norman in under 50 seconds, Heath about 2:02 for his and Wiks about 4:35 for the mile. In this event, however, Idaho distance men will be faced by such stars as Ben Kiser, national intercollegiate mile champion at Washington; Tek Taylor, crack Cougar miler, and several others.

Weak in Two Mile.

Idaho's two-mile quartet is conceded the slightest chance of all largely due to the lack of practice against time so far this season. If Harold Stowell, regular half miler last year, had been eligible for the meet, Idaho's chances would be improved 100 per cent. Hawkins, Heath, Wiks and Crawford will comprise this team.

Milford Collins, two-year weight veteran, will enter the special shot put event. Collins when extended can toss the 16-pounds ball near the 45-foot mark, although making only slightly more than 43 feet at Whitman last week. He will have considerable competition from such men as Boothave of Washington State and Jessup of Washington, who have thrown the shot past 45 feet already this year.

Pearson is conceded a chance at placing in the pole-vault, although he too will face severe competition from every other team in the relays. Pearson has not hit his top form yet this year, and may not be able to go much over 12 feet.

Idaho's first home meet after the relays will be a triangular affair with Oregon State college and the Southern Branch of the University of Idaho at Pocatello. The at City institution is entering a strong team, although their scoring will not count in the meet figures. The contest is the only home clash this spring.

BOYS' ATHLETIC PROGRAM FIXED

Sigma Delta Sponsors Sport Program For Vocational Conference Delegates on Campus.

Recreation arrangements and sports program for the vocational guidance conference delegates were detailed to Sigma Delta, local honorary athletic fraternity yesterday afternoon by Coach Rich A. Fox before he left with the baseball team.

A program has been planned by Bus Grimm, president of the group, which will provide exercise and entertainment for the 76 high school boys during specified hours today and tomorrow. Indoor baseball games will be played under the instruction of Sigma Delta members this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Memorial gymnasium and later the swimming pool will be turned over to the entire group for a period of water sports. Calisthenics will start each hour's program, said Grimm, but most of the time will be spent in letting the boys enjoy themselves in supervised competition.

A baseball game on the MacLean field diamond with an inter baseball will be played at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon between picked teams.

All delegates have been invited to attend a return dual swimming meet at 4 o'clock between Idaho and W. S. C. teams.

JUNIORS ARE FETED AT NARTHEX TABLE

Prominent Campus Women Entertained at Mortar Board Banquet

Twenty-one prominent junior women were entertained at Narthex table at the Moscow hotel, Tuesday night. Other guests of honor were Miss Pearl French, Mrs. F. J. Kelly, Mrs. I. W. Jones, and Miss Helen Kersey, a Mortar Board from DePauw University. Miss Ada Burke, faculty adviser of Mortar Board was toastmistress. Miss Kersey gave a toast on "Women", choosing four admirable qualities to dwell upon: "Ability to hear the inner voices", represented by Jeanne D'Arc; "Sympathy" shown to such a great extent by Florence Nightingale; "Perseverance" so evident in Alice Freeman Palmer; and "Courage" displayed by Amelia Earhardt.

The junior toast was given by Laura Clark in which she expressed the appreciation of the junior girls to the members of Mortar Board, and the desire of all under-classes to develop the qualities of character and capability which these senior women display.

Josephine Harland gave the toast for the seniors and in this she gave over the responsibilities of the coming year to these juniors most representative of their class and encouraged them to go on accomplishing and growing.

W. S. C. WEBFEET HERE SATURDAY

Vandal Swim Team Bolstered by Announcement of McGonigle and Richter's Entrance in Meet.

Erich Richter and Tomi McGonigle will definitely be able to take part in the return swimming meet with the W. S. C. mermen in the Idaho tank Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, Bus Grimm, manager and member of the Vandal team, said yesterday. The engineering trip McGonigle had planned start tomorrow has been postponed until Monday morning and Richter said he knew of no reason why it was thought he would be unable to swim in the contest.

The Cougar men won a dual meet at Pullman three weeks ago by a ten point margin but in their home pool Idaho is expected to cut down the difference several points. The same events as previously scheduled will be held. Officials had not been announced last night.
