

SENIOR STUNT AND JUNIOR SONG WIN AWARDS AT FEST

'Beauty and the Beast' Take-off Judged 'Peppiest' Class Skit

TWO WOMEN STAR

Frosh Act Meets Disapproval for Shady Humor; No Song

The senior stunt, "Beauty and the Beast," written by Paul Boyd and Estelle Pickrell, received the prize of $15 and the Fifteenth Annual Song and Skit contest, held Wednesday and Thursday evenings in the auditorium, "Beauty" and her girl friend "Lena," represented by Louise Lamie and Ethel Lafferty made a big hit and romped in real vaudeville style on the stage.

The other prize of $15 went to the junior class for the prize-winning song. The song was written by William Shamberger and Dorothy Fredrickson and was sung by a group of junior men. The judges also gave honorable mention to the sophomore song for pep and clever presentation. A group of men and girls on bleachers with placards spelling the word, "Sophomore" was the main idea. The pep song was written by Mary Murphy and Harry Waden.

Judges of the song contest were Prof. Theodore Kratt, Miss Marlon Trelevan, and Prof. Carl Claus. In commenting on the decision Professor Kratt said "As far as pep, presentation, etc., is concerned all the songs were about equal. The sophomores, however, were ahead of the others by a few points. We gave our most consideration to the theoretical value and musical content of the song and feel that this was shown most of all in the junior song."

Judges of the stunts were Dr. G. H. Orlans, Prof. Jasper V. Garland, and Prof. Glenn Sutton.

Juniors Have "Circus."

The juniors presented the "Idaho Three Ring Circus"—the athletic department, the president's office and student atmosphere. Several very dramatic incidents took place in the circus, the most prominent of which were brought into the limelight.

"Campus 1317" was the subject for the sophomore stunt written by Ralph Hagan and Vera Forbis. "Sulphuric Acid," a villainous character, has a terrible struggle with his rival, "Joe College," over their mutual sweetheart, "Kate Kampus," in which none seemed to know what it was all about and no more did the audience, according to general expression of opinion.

Men Sing Songs.

The senior song was written by Ethel Lafferty and Clair Gale and was presented in the same manner as the junior song by a group of senior men.

The freshman stunt, "Stop the Press" should have been stopped in the same manner before it ever reached the auditorium if general sentiment may be believed.

COUNCIL MAKES RUSHING CHANGE

Interfraternity Group Drops Date Card Idea Until Fall; Deferred Initiation Data Distributed.

Changes in rushing rules and the indefinite dropping of date cards for rushing were the main issues that came up at the Interfraternity council meeting Wednesday evening in the L. D. S. hall.

Uncertainty as to the exact procedure of registration for next fall was given as the reason for the dropping of date cards. Mimeographed copies of opinions for and against deferred initiation have been received here from various schools and western universities to be distributed in the group houses.

Ted Turner, proctor of Lindley hall, addressed the council on the creation of the position of a dean of men here, explaining what he believed would be the duties of the office and the authority of a dean.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI HONOR DR. MILLER

Grads Want Children to Attend Idaho Reports Head of English Department.

A group of University of Idaho alumni were guests at the home of "Mike" and Lucie Davis Thometz, Boise, last Tuesday evening May 7, in honor of their former professor, Dr. G. M. Miller, head of the English department, during his recent visit in that city. Among those present were Gene Springer Whyte, the wife of Doctor Whyte of Seattle; "Beattie" Breshears and his wife, Esther Motie Breshears; "Bunn" Breshears and his wife, Mary Fingegan Breshears; Bert Stone and Marie Gauer Stone; Roy Freeman and Beulah Brown Freeman; Margaret Josephine Schreiber; Margaret Kuzatsky Shaw; Helen Grim Watson; Frances Argue York; Olive Athey Newcomb; Margaret Blackinger Darling; Frank Wuhan; Harry Paulson; "Cabo" Angel; Jack Mix; Rose Regan; Josephine Rothschild; Lynn Rogers; Jack Vance; Marjorie Mosher; James Dunn; Elizabeth Parker; Sarah Bettleton; Aleck Ketcher; Pearl Glenn; Louise Jeness; and Walter Blund.

Doctor Miller reports that a number of these young matrons have already determined that the children now ranging in age from six years to five months are to come to the University of Idaho.

COMMISSIONS GIVEN 25 MEN

Advanced Members of Idaho R. O. T. C. Unit Receive Second Lieutenant's in Regular Army.

Twenty-five members of the advanced R. O. T. C. course have received commissions as second lieutenants of infantry in the Officer's Reserve Corps of the Army of the United States this year and two more will be granted commissions on reaching the age of 21 years.

Three of the commissions were granted on February 4, 1929 and the others came within the last week.

Those who received their commissions in February were Reuben Bauer, Thomas Gallagher and Edgar Hagan. Recently commissioned officers are Howard Andrews, Stanley Arnold, Elmer Berglund, Arthur Cheyne, George Dunn, Philmon Dilsait, Merritt Greeling, Eugene Iverson, Wilburn Kayser, Carl Larson, Everett Lawrence, James Lyle Jr., Charles McAuley, Bruce Mercer, Frank Miller Jr., James O'Brien, Fritz Peterson, Herbert Reishol, Paul Rudy, James Sifton, Harold Smith, and Patrick Walker.

Glenn Wright and Curtis Ricketts have completed the course and will be granted their commissions on reaching the age of 21. John Glase completed the course in February and has since made application for a commission, having reached the required age.

ANNUAL FESTIVAL ON IDAHO CAMPUS COLORFUL AFFAIR

Large Crowd Witnesses May Fete Tuesday Afternoon; Queen Attraction

HONORARIES PLEDGE

Mortar Board Chooses Nine Women; Eight Junior Men Make Silver Lance

Approximately one thousand spectators crowded bleachers and lawn space before the Administration building and Science hall to view Idaho's May festival Tuesday. The afternoon was sunny and warm, making an ideal setting for the performance.

The May queen procession was probably the most attractive part of the program. A page in silk knee breeches carrying a flowery crown on a cushion, a maid of honor in crisp green organdy, and a charming queen in a gown of pink satin with a long train hanging from the shoulders and trailing on the ground, followed by women carrying streamers of flowers, formed an attractive picture which was snapped up by many cameras. Those in the procession were: queen, Ruth Story; maid of honor, Marylou Craven; page, Margaret Benham. A volley of applause issued from the audience as the crown was placed upon the queen's head.

Processional Opens Ceremony.

The ceremony was begun by a professional of senior women who marched into the semi-circle of bleachers to sections reserved for them. The Dance of the Winds, arranged by Miss L. Janette Wirt, head of the women's physical education department, was presented next. It was made beautiful with airy costumes, garlands, scarfs, and nimble

SECOND REVIEW HELD THURSDAY

Schillerstrom Conducts Inspection; Company B Awarded Colors

While the thermometer hovered in the vicinity of 50 degrees yesterday, and a breath of wind stirred their uniforms, the men of the Idaho R. O. T. C. unit were inspected officially for the second time this spring Thursday morning by Major Merl P. Schillerstrom, of the Washington National Guard.

Class-room inspection was the order of the hour at 10 o'clock for the freshmen and sophomores in section 2. At 11, the three battalions assembled for the review and inspection. To Company A was assigned the task of pitching shelter tents, while Company I went through an examination in extended order drill. Major Schillerstrom, with typical military precision, let no detail escape his eye as he walked down the line of tents, commenting when he saw a canteen out of place, or some other faulty particular which went unnoticed by others.

BUSINESS STUDENTS MAY MERGE WITH OLD AD CLUB

Election of officers for next year will be the principal business to come before the Associated Business Students organization this afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 311 Administration building. A proposal to merge the Advertising club with the business students club will also be voted upon according to Lambert Cannon, president. The Advertising club has for the past three months been inactive on the campus. The Business Students organization was formed this spring for the first time.

SIGMA XI TAKES IN ELEVEN NEW MEMBERS HERE

National Scientific Fraternity Announces Initiation at Annual Banquet

INSTALLS OFFICERS

Dr. E. E. Hubert Takes Up Duties As President; Idaho Chapter Is Active

Selection of six active and five associate members was announced by Sigma Xi, national scientific fraternity at the annual banquet Saturday night at the Moscow hotel. Election and installation of officers for next year followed the initiation of the active members.

The new active members of Sigma Xi are Wallace M. Schling, Andrew G. Sharp, Paul D. Kemp and Charles M. Genaux of the forestry school; John W. Mitchell who is working on his master's degree in botany, and George S. Schilling, assistant bacteriologist at the university agricultural experiment station. New associate members are Alfred P. Balch, George Illichevsky Garin of the forestry school, Arthur L. Goodrich, Ruth Reunberg, and Samuel E. Stoddard in the zoology department.

Basils of Membership.

Full membership in Sigma Xi is based on research ability. This is to be determined by the publication in a scientific journal of an article on the findings in research work. In the case of graduate students their thesis must be ready for publication and approved by a committee from the local chapter. Instructors must have their thesis published and show promise of further research work before becoming active members.

A distinct line is drawn between active members and associate members. Before associate membership is granted, papers or theses must be accepted by the local chapter and such candidates must show promise to continue work in science.

Install Officers.

Officers installed at the banquet Saturday were Dr. E. E. Hubert, president; A. W. Fahrenwald, vice president; Dr. Ella Woods, treasurer; and L. C. Cady, secretary. Dr. C. W. Hungerford, the retiring president, gave an illustrated talk Saturday on "Virus Diseases of Plants."

FOUR SENIORS SPORT MANAGERS PICKED

Wescott, Egurrola, St. Clair and Winzler to Lead 1929-30 Staff

Athletic manager appointments for next year in the four major sport divisions were approved Wednesday evening by the ASUI executive board at its weekly meeting. The recommendations were made by the coach and present senior manager in each branch together with the graduate manager.

Rex Westcott will be senior football manager next year, and Sol Beadner and Bartland Moses will be senior managers. The sophomore appointments will be made later this year. Frank Hunt, retiring senior manager, and George Horton, graduate manager, made the recommendations in the absence of Coach Leo B. Calfand.

Jess Egurrola will be the fourth-year manager in basketball. Gerald Grimm and Ralph Washburn were named as junior managers. The sophomore appointments will be made later, Mr. Horton said.

Robert St. Clair will be the ranking manager in track, and will have as his two junior subordinates Elmer Poston and Kenneth Ebert. Sophomore managers will be held by James Wells, Virgil Wilson, Aldon Hoffman and Melvin Conrad.

Baseball managers will be headed by Frank Winzler, with Wilford Young and William A. Peterson, holding the two junior positions. Quentin Mack, Meyer Kerr, Wayne Farley and Robert Grant will be sophomore managers.

Under the present system of athletic managerships, four sophomores are appointed each spring from eight freshmen chosen at the beginning of the season. Two of the four sophomores are advanced to junior managerships the following year, and one is advanced to senior manager the next year. The whole plan was worked out so that men who actually worked and proved their responsibility and other qualities would be advanced.

W. A. A. CAMPING TRIP STARTS TOMORROW

First Overnight Jaunt of Athletic Association Scheduled for Weekend at Moscow Mountain.

The first annual camping trip attempted by the Women's Athletic Association is scheduled to start from Forney hall tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock when a truck will leave for Moscow mountain.

All women who plan to make the trip are requested by Florence Ruderger, chairman of the arrangements committee, to sign their names on the list now on the W. A. A. bulletin board, or see her personally. No charge will be made for the trip, said Miss Ruderger. All members of the association are eligible to go on the camping trip which is scheduled to last until Sunday evening. Personal utensils for meals and equipment for a stay of one night in the mountains will be taken by each woman.

Famous General

FOR THE first time in the history of the Idaho R. O. T. C., a general will inspect the university's cadet corps and inspection for the year. The inspection is to be carried out by Major General John L. Hines of the Presidio army post at San Francisco, California. General Hines is commander of the entire 9th corps area and is at present making a tour of inspection of all headquarters and army posts within his zone. The General is one of the few World War heroes on the present active list of the army and is considered one of the best commanders in the American forces at this time. He held many responsible positions during the war and took an active part in several famous battles, among them, the battles of Muese-Argonne and St. Mihiel. Immediately following his inspection here General Hines will go to Pullman to make a similar inspection there.

Frosh Stunt Bit Shady For Stage Says Hennessy

Howdy, Lookers and Onlookers:

Well, I see the senior "onertes" took in their next year's crop of plaster mixers and Spearmit Boys without discrimination as to clothes. The ball team has been playing tit for tat with Oregon. We oughta feel kinda grateful like to get an even break.

Say, the faculty calendar committee is only going to grant six scheduled dances a year to recognized social organization, which means that some outfits, Old Guard among them, won't get to pull a kick and hopper. As usual the frog got the flatiron for their contribution at the stunt fest. More than one joke in its need ironing out, and some of that goes for the others too. Of course the seniors got the prize. Blame it on the author. Being as he was one of the Campus Jokers, he had a big advantage over the other writers. "It was natural for the juniors to get the song—the effects of Junior week aren't all worn off."

The cavalry troop is pulling a Coolidge stunt. They have got one "rocky" horse for their bunch, "Old Silvers," the steed that sorted fire two years ago in "E-da-ho," the Light on the Mountains pageant. The funny part about the darn thing is that after riding for half an hour you ain't got nowhere and you've lost time and dinner. As for the walking part of the army, I'll leave that for Jimmie O'Brien to tell you about.

Last week the "T" club promised that lettermen would be padded if they got caught violating campus rules round here. Well, I was down at the ball game the other day and I run into Bobby Drummond and "Horsey" Carlson without their hats. George Huber was down there too, struttin' around bold as brass, bareheaded.

Wal, I've sed 'nuff, TWO STAR HENNESSY.

P. S.—I just heard as how "Bus" Brown is to be congratulated—he'll be one of the biggest jobs on the campus.

INTERCOLLEGIATE KNIGHT RETURNS FROM CONFERENCE

Kenneth O'Leary, Idaho delegate to the national convention of the Intercollegiate Knights held in Eugene, Oregon, May 17 and 18, returned to the campus Monday night. He reports that the convention was very successful, the delegates receiving many suggestions from the meeting and from the University of Oregon campus.

Delegates representing seven schools in five northwestern states were in attendance. O'Leary served on the constitutional committee which formulated an amendment intending to keep each local chapter in closer touch with the national. The major project of the convention was the drafting of plans for the national to expand into the larger schools of the southwest and of the rocky mountain district. Each delegate reported the progress made by the knights in his school.

"The duties of the knights organization in other schools are much the same as at Idaho," said O'Leary, "with the exception that on several, the knights enforce the campus traditions."

SCABBARD AND BLADE TAKES MAJOR SCHENCK AS MEMBER

Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary fraternity, at a formal meeting at the Sigma Chi chapter house Wednesday evening, initiated Major A. T. Schenck, who has been in charge of the construction of the New Memorial Gymnasium.

Major Schenck has been a reserve officer for twenty years and holds the first reserve commission issued.

MONDAY IS DATE OF LAST REVIEW FOR R.O.T.C. UNIT

Major General Hines Will Conduct Inspection From 9 to 10

WILL DECORATE MEN

Eight Highest on Rifle Team Will Receive Sharpshooter Medals

Monday morning from 9 to 10 o'clock the entire University of Idaho cadet corps will undergo its final review and inspection for the year. The inspection is to be carried out by Major General John L. Hines of the Presidio army post at San Francisco, California. General Hines is commander of the entire 9th corps area and is at present making a tour of inspection of all headquarters and army posts within his zone. The General is one of the few World War heroes on the present active list of the army and is considered one of the best commanders in the American forces at this time. He held many responsible positions during the war and took an active part in several famous battles, among them, the battles of Muese-Argonne and St. Mihiel. Immediately following his inspection here General Hines will go to Pullman to make a similar inspection there.

Accompanied by Assistant General Hines will be accompanied by Lieut. Col. Asa L. Singleton of the general staff corps, who is assistant chief of staff of the Ninth Corps.

General Hines holds the following decorations bestowed upon him during the World War: Distinguished Service Cross and Distinguished Service Medal, Commander, Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre, (French) Order of Leopold (Belgium) Knight Commander of St. Michael and St. George (English) Order of the Crown (Italy) Medal of the Solidarity (Panamanian) and is a member of the Society of Santa Rosa, Cuba.

During the review General Hines will decorate a number of men on the University rifle team with sharpshooter medals. These men have the eight highest scores in sharpshooting for this year. The following men will receive the rifle honor: Paul Crox, John Crox, J. S. Crandall, E. Werner, Harry Yost, E. W. Johnson, Kenneth Platt, and Curtis Talbot. All military

DRESSES ON PARADE FOR HOME EC DAY

Fashion Show Big Event of Annual Display by "Cooks"

A fashion show featuring gowns dating from the twelfth century to the present, will be one of the outstanding public events of the annual home economics day next Tuesday, according to Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the department. The style show is scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the auditorium and will be open to the public free of charge. A large number of authentically styled dresses representing the change in costume of the many decades since the Crusades will be shown. One dress, a beaded jacket belonging to Mrs. E. J. Idings, is more than 200 years old.

Permael French has loaned a cape made in an Irish convent in 1840 and many of the other costumes were worn as much as 70 years ago. Styles of the modern era will consist of dresses made by students in the home economics department. Alice Kelly, senior, is general chairman of the show.

Later in the afternoon displays of other departments of the home economics students will be opened. The art department will show peasant embroidery, block painting, toys and a general display of design plates. The clothing department, under the supervision of the upperclasswomen will demonstrate textile testing and weaving machines in addition to the style show; the home nursing women, under the leadership of Marion White are to illustrate and explain the care of patients; the class in nutrition will point out the food values found in common articles of consumption. Isabel Margart is in charge of the last department.

MORRILL HALL TO HAVE TROPHY CASE

Forty-Five Will Be Wearing National Pins By Tomorrow Night

Forty-five women will be proud wearers of Tri-Delt pins tomorrow afternoon when final installation ceremonies of Omega Alpha, Idaho's long local sorority, as the seventy-fifth chapter of Omega Delta national sorority are completed.

Alumnae and ex-collegiate members will be pledged today. This afternoon the group will entertain at a tea to be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene V. Taylor, 725 Jefferson street. The installing officers, Mrs. G. A. Ross, assistant dean of women at the University of Oregon, and Miss Lillian Steger, Spokane, will begin the actual installation ceremonies tonight and conclude them tomorrow. A formal banquet will be held at the Blue Bucket tomorrow evening, followed by the formal installation ball. Sunday the chapter officers will be installed.

Six of the original 11 charter members of Omega Alpha have returned to the campus to become members of Tri-Delt, although the national ruling is that they may be initiated at any time.

W. A. A. BOARD TO MEET; GENERAL MEETING MONDAY

Members of the W. A. A. executive board will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in room 207 Administration building, Jessie Little, president, announced last night. Names of all women eligible for pledging must be in by that time.

Monday night at 7 o'clock in the same room a general W. A. A. meeting will be held, the last one this year. Election of sports managers and final pledging will be taken up.

SORORITY GROUP PASSES RULINGS

Hill Girls Must Be Bid Before Close of School; No Favors at Rushing Parties.

Sororities wishing to extend bids to hall girls who have attended the university the last semester must do so before the close of school this spring, according to a new ruling passed at a Pan-hellenic meeting last Monday evening at Hays hall. These new pledges will move directly into their respective houses when they return in the fall. It was further decided that no favors shall be given at any rush parties and that only freshman girls or those who have been on the Idaho campus for one semester may pledge at the mid-semester period and that the day of fall pledging shall be the second Saturday instead of the second Sunday after the opening of school.

The plan of substituting the all-college tea for an A. W. S. tea to be held in the gymnasium was brought up, and will be submitted to the various houses for consideration. Under this arrangement each sorority would issue invitations for open house and tea on the next day and would be allowed only two regular rushing parties. The problem of doing away with all decorations and character parties was also discussed and will be decided upon at the next meeting.

VANDALS GIVEN EVEN BREAK IN MONTANA MEET

Idaho Squad Shows Much Improvement Since Saturday

16 WILL MAKE TRIP

Hodson to Run Half-Mile Event; Team Is Optimistic

By Andy Thomson

A far more optimistic, better conditioned and faster squad of 16 men, representing the cream of Coach Ralph H. Hutchinson's 1929 track and field artists, left this afternoon for Missoula, where the Vandals meet the University of Montana in a dual meet Saturday.

Montana thus far has no met an opponent west of the Rockies and has confined her activities to Montana tracks; but on available records seems to be about on a par with Idaho. Idaho since the Washington State meet last Saturday has improved immensely and will put her strongest team on the fast Missoula track. The Grizzlies completely swamped the Montana State college squad two weeks ago but the times and distances of the events were not outstanding.

Dashes May Be Close.

Idaho expects particularly stiff competition in the dashes. Samples of two dashes in close to 10 and 22 seconds flat which will press Norman of Idaho. Klingler of Idaho will have a tough race in the 440-yard dash to defeat Tom Davis of Montana, veteran quarter-miler who has clipped the distance in less than 50 seconds on several occasions. Norman is capable of turning in fast time in the low hurdles, and may take this event at Missoula.

Idaho will give a new half-miler a chance at Missoula, Saturday, in Boyd

EXECUTIVE BOARD TAKES ACTION ON ARGONAUT POST

Oscar Brown, A. T. O., Appointed Circulation Manager, for Coming Year

VOTE IS SIX TO ONE

Kenneth O'Leary, Harry Robb Given Jobs on Gem. and Blue Bucket

Oscar L. "Bus" Brown, member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and a junior in the school of business administration, was appointed circulation manager of The Argonaut for next year by a six to one vote of the executive board Wednesday evening. It is believed to be the most important appointive office in the student body government.

Kenneth O'Leary, Sigma Chi junior in the college of letters and science, was appointed assistant business manager of The Gem of the Mountains and Harry Robb, Phi Delta Theta freshman in the school of education, retained the appointment for assistant business manager of the Idaho Blue Bucket. The vote in both cases was unanimous.

Three other applications were received for the Argonaut position, from Frank Archer, Tau Kappa Epsilon; Glen Shern Beta Chi; and Gordon Hauck, Lambda Chi Alpha. Discussion before the balloting was rather animated, but the meeting did not turn out to be the "firestorm" affair that some of the board members expected. Brown's application was accompanied by a recommendation from the present circulation manager, Jack T. Parker. Archer presented a number of recommendations with his application and a large folio of material to show what he claimed are his professional qualifications. Brown and Shern are members of "combings" or Alpha party fraternities, and Archer and Hauck belong to groups in the "non-combine" or opposition political faction.

Qualifications Discussed.

Discussion before the voting showed that Archer, Shern and Hauck have worked on the editorial staff of the paper, and that Brown has been in charge of the wrapping and mailing Parker's present duties, for about six weeks. The editor, managing editor and business manager were present at the meeting, and recommended that men experienced in either the editorial or advertising fields be given consideration, since the financial success of The Argonaut depends on the advertising department.

Last year the Argonaut started agitation to change the present organization of the business department so that staff members would be given opportunity to work up to positions on a merit plan similar to the athletic manager system. Several weeks ago the Argonaut published a front page editorial concerning the appointments, censuring the poor business organization that now exists on the paper, an editorial which aroused considerable adverse com-

HONOR SOCIETY DANCE TONIGHT

Alpha Kappa Psi Committee Plans For Anniversary To Be Held at A. T. O. House.

A short meeting of Alpha Kappa Psi, national business honorary, was held at 4 o'clock yesterday in the Administration building for the purpose of making final arrangements for the dance to be held this evening at the A. T. O. house.

Arrangements were also made for deferring the banquet of Donny Hogue, who is to represent the Idaho chapter of the fraternity at the 25th anniversary national convention to be held at Troutdale-in-the-Pines, a famous summer resort near Denver, Colorado. This will probably be the last meeting of the group this year.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TEAMS CHOSEN

Interclass Tournament to Get Under Way Next Week; Participants Will Receive 10, W. A. Points.

Women's tennis is nearing completion now that the class teams have been selected and the winter of the tournament, and the class team winners will soon be determined. The matches will be completed the early part of the next week.

Senior winners of the three high places on the team are Virginia Cornell, Marian White, and Pauline Clark. Virginia Cornell will represent the team in singles and Marion White and Pauline Clark will play doubles.

Junior winners are Lillian Woodworth and Helene Hilliker who will play singles, and Luella McFadden and M. Throckmorton who will make up the doubles team.

Shirley Cunningham and Katherine Roe will play singles for the sophomore class; and Mildred Axtell and Jean Edmiston will play doubles.

Will Represent Frosh

The frosh singles representatives will be Linn Cowgill and Helen McCannon; while Hazel McCannon and Lois Porterfield will represent the team in doubles.

Each woman who entered the tournament will receive ten points toward W. A. A. The four high in each class tournament will receive 100 points and the winning class, 25 additional points.

The four winners that stand at the top of the class lists will compete for the W. A. A. tennis cup.

"OFFICIAL" SLACKERS

CAMPUS DAY was a complete success in many ways. Work was completed as expected. The laudable efforts toward unified interest in a "personal" university and the annual revival of the classic dances of ancient, mighty nations should be preserved—but the system of Campus day cleanup might be improved.

A noticeable feature of the morning program was the number of "off-diags" sporting yellow and white badges; and from all indications, directing their work from the luxury of shady seats or convenient davenport—this is, if they were directing work. Not all the crew leaders came under such a category but it is safe to say that a majority left the work up to the less fortunate members of their crews and retired to one of the several "generals' conventions" at localities where refreshment and ease were available.

"I" club members, wielding the big stick, dared not venture an admonition with a paddle on the person protected by the ribbon.

If Campus day is to continue as an event in which all men are doing their fair share of work, the "Mexican army" idea should be diminished and more of the leaders should put their shoulders to the wheel.

DECIDEDLY BAD TASTE

AFTER HEARING the stunt that the freshman class presented Wednesday and Thursday evenings at the annual interclass song and stunt fest, the audience should be thankful that the class did fall to sing a song. Shady humor was put across the footlights in the three preceding stunts, but with the same degree of wit and genuine good fun that the freshman concoction completely lacked. Some members of the audience sat nearby gasping at the smutty jokes, wondering what was coming next. Far too much came. The author of the skit should not be allowed to think he produced a clever act or that the audience excused the disgusting inferences under the heading of collegiate attempts at entertainment.

It is pleasing to note that general opinion is against such dirt being dished up at student performances. For a men's smoker some of the "jokes" would have been more appropriate, and there is no doubt that the whole skit would have been a "wow" in a lumber camp.

There seems to be a widespread idea in college and high school circles that humor must be of a doubtful variety in order to "get by big". Ignorance is its only excuse under any circumstances. Even with such an excuse in mind we can hardly condone the spirit and tone of the frosh stunt.

The cast is not to be blamed and the author may be given a slight degree of pardon if we can believe that he didn't know any better. The scene was well prepared for what might have been the hit of the evening. Instead, the misguided young gentleman, thinking that a few "hot ones" would bring down the house, spoiled the performance with junk that wouldn't have done credit to a garbage collector.

Student Opinion

APPLAUSE VS. RAZZ

One minute it is all applause and the next it is all razz—so it goes at the ball games. "Talk it up"—certainly. But why so much of the un-sportsmanlike razzing that has marred the last few games?

Idaho has been playing a fair game of ball in the past series—the team has made outstanding plays and it has made mistakes too, but then, both are in the game. When the team makes a good play the thing to do is to cheer. When someone makes an error or one of the boys drops a fly it is also time to cheer, not the cheer of praise but the cheer of letting them know that we still think they are all right. Nothing disheartens a team more than razzing from the supporting stands.

If those who are watching the game think they are so much better why aren't they the ones that are playing? Since they are not out there it is up to them and all the rest of us to give our players all we've got to give them—our support.

Another thing—why are Idaho students so frugal in their praise of the good plays of the opposing team? Just because they are the opposing team is no reason why their plays are not as good as ours. It is not a life and death matter whether we win or not, and if the other side wins we should be willing to concede that they did it as we wish our team might have done. Willingness to acknowledge the good points of the antagonists is a true mark of good sportsmanship, and sportsmanship in a student group is something to be striven for.

Cleanup Slackers To Reap Reward

"When the roll is called up yonder, I'll be there"—but 23 Campus day workers weren't there when the roll was called by the captains Tuesday morning. For the benefit and edification of the absentees, the "I" club has planned a special reception to be held Monday noon in front of the Administration building. Roll will be called at 12:45 o'clock, and wee be unto them who are not there!

ENGLISH CLUB TO HONOR GRADS

Historical Committee Arranges "Idaho" Program in Honor of Members Leaving Club.

As a tribute to the senior members of the English club who will be attending their last regular meeting as active members, underclass representatives will entertain Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the recreation rooms of the L. D. S. Institute.

The program, in charge of the committee on Idaho historical material, has been arranged by Vivienne Mosher and Dan McGrath. Addresses and responses will open the entertainment. A farewell address to the seniors will be given by Cedric d'Easum, Margaret Wilson, graduating senior and president of the club, will respond for the departing members and Jean Collette, '28, who is visiting on the campus this week, will give a short talk on the subject "One Year Out".

The rest of the program will be based on Idaho historical and literary material collected by the committee. A brief explanation of the work will be made by Dan McGrath preceding the numbers that are as follows:

- Selected Idaho Poems..... Grace Parsons
- Historical Anecdotes and Hero Tales..... Edward Wahl
- Planologue: An old ballad..... Ruth Rowell and Mrs. Alene Curtis
- "Paul Bunyan Tales of Idaho" (written by Talbot Jennings) Dan McGrath
- Olden day "fiddle" selections..... Mr. Wilson
- Old Ballads..... sung by two small boys

"STUDENT AGENT" RACKET EXPOSED

Fake College Salesmen Can Be Detected by "Loud" Clothes, Sympathetic Housewives Warned

NEW YORK CITY—(IP)—Warning has been issued to American housewives to beware this summer of fraudulent "student" subscription solicitors, the boys who go about in the summer with no hats, loud ties and collegiate sweaters while they ask housewives to help a poor boy get an education.

One of the surest ways to detect the frauds, it is said, is the collegiate dress they wear. Real college students as a rule are said to wear conventional business dress while on their summer subscription campaigns, and do not usually ask for help because they are college students. They have a business proposition, and sell it or that basis, college authorities state.

Professor Kratt Pays Tribute To Students in Music School

"I have found in my two year's teaching experience here some fine talent," declared Prof. Theodore Kratt, head of the music department, in an interview yesterday. "I think there are immense possibilities for the development of good performers and musicians in the state."

Mr. Kratt added that he had enjoyed his work here but, he felt the opportunity as dean of the school of fine arts in Miami University, Oxford, Ohio, was too good to let slip by. He will organize the school of fine arts, which will include departments of music, art and architecture. Furthermore, Miami, which is a state institution, is located near Cincinnati, one of the art centers of this country.

"I have never been on a campus where I have enjoyed the student spirit as much as I have at Idaho," he said. "Something I shall never forget as long as I live is the fine association with the glee clubs. After going around through northern Idaho with the men's glee club I can commend them in every way as being representatives of our university in the very highest form."

"I wish I had a piece to dig some worms for me so I could go fishing," he interrupted as a green cap bobbed by the window. Professor Kratt explained that fishing was his favorite hobby from which he derived both leisure and inspiration.

"Mrs. Kratt particularly will miss the scenic beauties of Idaho," he remarked. "as she likes to take her canvasses and brushes into the woods to paint. She combines work with recreation, while I on the other hand abandon all thoughts of music on a fishing trip. However, I gather inspiration which I use later in my work."

During his two years work on the Idaho campus he has standardized the curriculum in music so that it was approved by the National Association of Schools of Music of the United States, developed the glee clubs and directed and managed the Eljah oratoria, the first to be given at the University of Idaho and which proved so popular that it will probably become an annual event.

Professor Kratt is a graduate of the Conservatory of Music at Cincinnati, and Mrs. Kratt is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati and the art academy of that city. He is a member of Phi Mu Alpha, honorary men's musical fraternity.

1929 CAMPUS DAY HELD SUCCESSFUL

Ellis Thanks Student Body for Cooperation in Big Clean-up

That campus day was very successful is the opinion of Burton Ellis, general chairman, in view of the wholehearted cooperation of the students in cleaning up the campus and the success of the Campus day dinner, managed by Edward Poulton and Marion White.

"I want to thank everyone, students and captains," declared Ellis, "for their support which carried every thing to a successful completion. There was less tubbing and padding for shirking this time than for many past years."

With supervision by appointed captains the orchard between the Gamma Phi Beta house and Forney hall was cut down, grounds around university buildings and sorority houses were cleaned up, faculty tennis courts were put in condition, plants were set out in the university flower gardens, the tool shed back of the Administration building was torn down, bleachers were erected on the baseball field and for the May fete, class numerals were removed from all buildings and Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, made a walk and parking space in back of the Engineering building.

In the evening the ASU sponsored a campus day dinner held near Radenbaugh hall. Twenty-six men, including bashers from the halls and men assigned to the task by the "I" club, assisted in serving the 250 pounds of potato salad, 4,000, sandwiches 50 gallons of ice cream and 60 gallons of coffee prepared by cooks in the various halls. The crowd was large, and very little food was left over, according to Edward Poulton, who was in charge of the dinner.

FIFTY-THREE TO GET ADVANCED DEGREES

Total of 350 Will Get Sheep Skins at June Commencement

Fifty-three master's degrees will be granted by the University of Idaho at the annual commencement exercises June 10, according to the list issued by the registrar's office. This is the largest number of advanced degrees to be granted in one class since the establishment of the graduate school at the university. Forty-three master's degrees were granted last year.

With 293 bachelor degrees to be granted at commencement, the total graduating class including advanced degrees, will be approximately 350 students. Following is a list of persons who will receive master's degrees in June:

TEXAS GOVERNOR RELATES EXPERIENCE IN GIRLS DORM

AUSTIN, Texas—(IP)—Governor Dan Moody, of Texas, according to his own testimony, knows all about dormitory life—he meant the girls' dormitory life from experience.

It came about in this way, so he related to the girls at Scott's Rite Dormitory recently.

When Governor Moody was a student, he went to one of the dormitories at Southwestern, stayed too late, and got locked up in the social room. A convenient window provided a means of escape, he explained.

The circulation manager automatically becomes business manager the following year, and then receives the highest student salary paid by the ASU. Three years ago a constitutional amendment that would have decreased the salary was defeated.

Kenneth A. Dick, member of a "non-combine" group, was the only other applicant for the Gem of the Mountain position. Harry Robb, although not technically qualified, was appointed because he was the only applicant for the Blue Bucket position. Following the balloting, Alvin H. Reading, student body president, commented that it was a good example of how difficult it was for members of the board to judge the qualifications of candidates for positions with which the board has no direct contact. Mr.

Reading added that at the recent student body presidents' convention which he and President-elect Aldon Trail attended in California, a plan used at the University of Oregon on student publications had been favorably endorsed and discussed. Under the Oregon plan appointments for student publications positions are made by the business staff of the publication concerned.

GROUP NINES HIT PEAK OF SEASON

Fijis and A. T. O.'s Pound Out Wins in Second Round

Evidence that the intramural baseball series will be completed before the end of next week was given yesterday by Elton Plato, manager. Two games have been played since Monday afternoon and several more are scheduled for the near future. Lack of playing field while the varsity was playing a heavy series of games, has handicapped the intramural nines for the past 10 days, and it was doubtful whether the tournament would be completed before commencement, said Plato. Sigma Alpha Epsilon will enter the series for the first time this afternoon at 4 o'clock against the T. K. E. nine. In the first round the S. A. E. aggregation drew the bye.

The A. T. O.'s pounded the offerings of Nims, Lambda Chi hurler, for 14 hits and coupled with five errors were able to win by the score of 17-3. Sternke, winning hurler, had no trouble at all with the opposing batsmen after a bad first inning when the Lambda Chis bunched hits to score their three runs. The batteries were Sternke and Wilkie for the winners while Nims tossed and Gill caught for the losers.

The Fijis went into the finals of "B" league by defeating Lindley hall 5-2 in a well played game. Art Peterson yielded to a hitting attack in the first inning which gave the Phi Gams four runs, enough to win the game. Frahm, winning curver, pitched eight ball, fanning 11 and passing out only two hits, a triple and a single, both by Boyd, whose triple in the fourth scored Peterson who had walked. The other run was scored on a passed ball by the catcher. Matson pitched the last three innings for Lindley and struck out six of the ten to face him. Batteries: Frahm and Mitchell for the Fijis and Peterson, Matson and Shawen for Lindley hall.

MAY DAY FESTIVAL IS COLORFUL GALA AFFAIR

dancers who went through the elaborate steps and groupings with ease and grace. Cameras clicked as each new pose was formed.

Several weeks' suspense was put to an end when Mortar Board selected nine pledges from the audience. As the name of each pledge was announced by Miss Ada Burke, honorary member, the cherished pledge bow was pinned on and the pledge received a red rose and the black academic gown of the order was slipped over her shoulders. Pledges were Dorothy Frederickson, Helen Kerr, Lillian Woodworth, Laura Clark, Lucile Gilndeman, Zeldia Newcomb, Beatrice Stalker, Ruth Newhouse, and Marylou Craven.

Silver Lance Pledges. Eight junior men were segregated from the audience when members of Silver Lance "lapped" their pledges. They were found with great difficulty since it was necessary to sift the crowd several times and to search through the Administration building before the prospective pledges could be found. One of them, Frank McMillin, was playing baseball on the athletic field and had to be announced without being present. The lucky men were Cedric d'Easum, Allen Janssen, Frank McMillin, Denny Hogue, Edward Poulton, Dan McGrath, George Huber, and Frank Wenzler.

A recessional of the May queen and her attendants followed by members and pledges of the senior honoraries completed the festivities of the day. Costuming garlands and decorations for the May pole dance were prepared under the direction of Mrs. Florence Richardson Goff, of the women's physical education department, and her class in pageantry and festivals. Arthur Ensign and Dan McGrath assisted in making arrangements for the fete.

RECITAL MONDAY

Josephine Harland and Forest Brigham, graduating music students, will be presented in a joint graduation recital Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock at the auditorium. Miss Harland is a piano major under Miss Isabel Clark, and Mr. Brigham is a tenor under Prof. Theodore Kratt. The recital will be the last one this year.

Classic Stories and Local History Recalled by Paintings on Library Walls

By Helen Yeasey

It is doubtful how many of the students who study in the library notice the pictures hanging on the walls. The two largest pictures represent panels from the frieze of the Holy Grail in the Boston Public Library. This series of paintings was done by Edwin Austin Abbey and told the legend in fifteen scenes. On the North wall is the first scene of the frieze, "The Oath of King Arthur," wherein the boy Galahad is visited among the nuns by a dove bearing a golden censer and an angel carrying the Grail. From the hands of the holy woman in the legend the predestined boy passes into those of the subtle Gurnemanz who instructs him in the knowledge of the things of the world and duties and functions of the ideal knight. This picture was given to the library by Gamma Phi Beta sorority in 1910. They raised the money by putting on a play which was directed by Dean Fernal French.

On the south wall is "Galahad" at the castles of the Maidens. These maidens have been imprisoned by the Seven Knights of Darkness (the seven "Deadly Sins") in order to keep them all contact with man. Galahad's mission being to overcome Sin and redeem the world by setting free the Virtues. He fights the Seven Knights and overcomes them. In this picture which is the ninth panel his entry into the castle is shown. The imprisoned maidens have long been expecting him, for it had been prophesied that the perfect knight would come to deliver them, welcome him, putting out their hands to be kissed. This picture is in colors. Under the direction of Miss Grace Palmers, then teaching in the art division of the Home Ec department, an entertainment was given in the auditorium by which the money was raised. Living models of many famous works of art were represented by students.

There are two other small pictures in the main library and one in the periodical room which were given by Professor Tume, formerly of the history department. He also gave the bust of the little boy which sits on top of the card catalogue.

abounds in these latest popular Orthophonic Victor Records. You'll find the two fox trots from the Paramount movie "Innocents of Paris" particularly attractive and danceable. Then try Rudy Vallee's infallible combination of a fox trot and a waltz. His soft melody and lovely singing is bound to "get" you. Nat Shilkret has pulled off a pair of corking fox trots, too. Fine, snappy ones with lots of spicy instrumental novelties. Then by way of vocal talent there is a new record of the popular tenor Morton Downey, soft and sentimental, and another pair by Johnny Marvin—one of which includes his team-mate Ed. Smalle. These are all hot stuff if you like popular music—whether for dancing or listening—you ought certainly to hear these. Come in soon!

JUNIOR WOMEN WIN BALL TITLE

Fresh and Seniors Fight for Second Place Honors in Indoor Tournament.

Junior women have clinched the championship in women's indoor baseball but second place is still to be decided between the fresh and seniors in a game to be played this afternoon. Friday afternoon the juniors defeated the seniors by a score of 27-14. The fresh won from the sophomores 20-9 on Saturday.

The Junior women won from the sophomores 27-20; and from the fresh 11-10 in a game which went an extra inning to decide the winners.

On Wednesday the senior team beat the sophomore club 18-17.

WASHINGTON AND COUGARS FAVORED TO WIN COAST MEET

Northern Division of Conference to Compete in Eugene

THREATEN RECORDS Times in 880 and Mile Are Expected To Be Lowered

By Andy Thomson Washington State college and the University of Washington, two of the most powerful track aggregations in the west are given about even chances of romping off with the northern division meet of the Pacific Coast track conference at Eugene May 25 and June 1.

Washington is given a considerable edge, but record times and possible upsets may change this advantage. The University of Washington distance crew that set three new conference records in the two-mile, mile, and 880-yard dash at Corvallis last week, may repeat at Pullman Saturday.

Foster Best Sprinter. Washington State is generally conceded first places in the 100 and 220-yard dashes through their negro sprint flash—Wesley Foster of national fame. The Cougars further stand an even chance of second and third placings in both sprints through Mooberry, Kelly and Newman.

Washington has two speed aces in Pendleton and Clarkson. A beautiful race seems sure in the quarter mile between Oulette and Kelly. Washington State, and Hartley of Washington, all three men having done close to 49 seconds flat this season.

In the half-mile a record may be broken when Genung of Washington tangles with Angus Clark, W. S. C. sophomore. Genung last Saturday against Oregon State clipped off the two-lap event in 1:55 flat a new coast record, while Clarke broke the W. S. C. record against Idaho with the speedy time of 1:57.3. Washington also has Dadds, nearly as fast a man as Genung.

Miller Will Battle. The mile promises to be a battle royal between Rex Taylor of the Cougar squad and Rufus Kiser, national mile champion. Kiser last week against Oregon State clashed the coast record in 4:17.6, while Taylor was credited on the same day with doing the distance in 4:21.1.

The weights are in Washington's favor with Jessup tossing the shot close to 49 feet and the discus past 145 feet. Hein of Washington State will press Jessup in the discus. Honors are thought about even in the javelin with no exceptional man on either side.

Cougars Given Edge. An edge is conceded the Cougar squad, however, in the pole vault. Porter Lahnart and Ben Herron have both gone over 12 feet 6 inches in competition this year and are counted on to place one, two against the Huskies. Herron is also capable of knocking more than six feet in the high jump well ahead of the best Washington jumper. Lahnart and Herron jump consistently past 23 feet in the broad jump and are given an edge over Humes of Washington.

The relay should be as closely a contested event as any on the program with the Washington quartet being timed in 3:22 last Saturday as the Cougars broke the Idaho-W. S. C. record by running the race in 4:21.5. A number of Idaho students are planning to attend the meet.

VANDALS GIVEN BREAK IN MONTANA TRACK MEET

(Continued from Page 1) Hodson, regular 440-yard dash man. Hodson who has switched to this event at the beginning of the week has turned in a time of 2:02 in practice this week. Wiks will run the mile for Idaho and may possibly negotiate the 880-yard distance as well. Charles Heath will be Idaho's lone two-mile entry and is given a big edge to take his race.

Pole Vault Tough. Miller of Montana, who has gone more than 13 feet in the pole vault this year is favored over Idaho's entries—Pierion and Yrbar. O'Brien who has cleared 6 feet 2 inches in the high jump has an advantage in his event, and Norman will enter the broad jump a favorite. Montana is given about an even margin against Idaho's weight tossers—Collins and Kershanik. Robertson may take the javelin if he can toss the spear out beyond the 170-foot mark.

The following men were selected by Coach Hutchinson to make the trip: Captain Milford Collins, John Norman, James O'Brien, Sidney Pierion, Willard Klingler, Boyd Hodson, Stackle Yrbar, Ted Jensen, Dave Wiks, William Kershanik, Fred Robertson, Lowell Mason, Charles Heath, Fred Jacobs, Frank Tatum, Paul Werner and Manager Harry Jones.

Too Many Bosses Discourages 'T' Men

"Hi, there, you in the blue shirt, get to work, what do you think this is, spring vacation?" The individual in the blue shirt turned slowly on his heel for he "seed he had him" and flourished a long, narrow, yellow badge sporting the bold black letters, "FORFEIT." And the original big bully subsided with an "Oh!" Over by the Music hall the driver spied another idler, cinching his belt up another notch he sallied forth again. "Hi, get to work there, what do you think...." His little piece trailed off into oblivion among the dandelions for the culprit showed out his chest showing a long fluttering white badge saying "Hustonian!" Another bunch loafed around. Hays half all morning. And they too, were all captains and seconds in command. "Well, outside of the frosh you'd think this was a Rebecca Lodge convention, judging from all the badges and the talking that was done," said the big letterman hunting out a nice soft piece of shade. "I give up, I usta think we 'I' men ran this campus day work, but I gives up."

FOUL BALLS By Paul Boyd

Idaho got an even break in the four games here this week, but was lucky to get them. The squad wins one in fine shape then looks like the worst team in the world in the second. Coach Ford would do well to cancel all the second games on the schedule.

Fielding honors for the year go to Lawrence on his play of a line drive in the first game with the University of Oregon. Running sideways to take the ball in his meat hand he robbed the hitter of a two base blow and staved off a batting rally.

Oregon State has the best appearing ball club that has put in its appearance on the Idaho diamond. Idaho players pride themselves in seeing who can get the dirtiest suit.

In the fifth inning of yesterday's game, Edwards, Webfoot outfielder, bunted safely, went to third on an error, and came within a step of stealing home. This sort of base running gave them several extra bases on short blows.

It is customary for the home fans to stand during the seventh inning when the home team goes to bat. This custom is carried out even down to the smallest sandlot—this for the benefit of the Idaho crowd.

"Big Boy" Edwards hit the longest ball of the year when he maced one of Judy's offerings exactly 384 feet only to see Johnson who had gone into the gym for a glass of water, catch it.

The absence of Cheyne from the line-up has been a hard blow to the club. If Fox would let Cheyne call the plays from the field instead of from the bench, the team would function much smoother. He has been hitting better than .300, a rare figure on the Idaho column.

Idaho apparently has the cellar position cinched this year.

Foul balls would like to see all the home-folks out for the first Saturday ball game on Idaho's schedule. Washington Huskies are booked for a twin bill at MacLean field for Friday and Saturday of next week, and incidentally, Saturday's fray will be the final game of the year.

Webfoots Run Wild in Last Tilt to Even Series, 17 to 7

BEAVERS WIN 11 TO 2 Halliday's Heavy Hitting Wins First Oregon Tilt in Tenth

Completing this week's play the Idaho baseball team lost two and won two, dividing the series with the Oregon State team, 7-6 and 11-2, and with the University of Oregon nine, 6-5 and 17-7. Against both teams the Vandal nine showed a decided reversal of form to drop the second game of each series by a commanding score. In the last game the entire pitching staff saw duty on the mound, with the exception of Judy who turned in the extra-inning victory Tuesday.

Idaho tallied two runs in the first inning against Oregon yesterday afternoon, but the Webfoots came back strong to tally seven and chase Lawrence out of the box. Greeling's failure to field a bunt caused a let-down in Idaho's defense and turned the whole game into a farce. McMillin and Epps hit for the circuit for the first time in the series.

After Lawrence was sent to the cooler, Grabner went in, only to follow Lawrence three innings later. Lindsay took the mound next and was retired in favor of Smith. Fuller replaced Halliday, whose hitting featured the Wednesday game, at second and Price changed with Kyselka in the catching department. The Idaho hurlers lost all control of the ball, giving nine men free passage to first base during the eight innings.

Umpire—"Cop" Daniels, Spokane. Oregon State 11—Idaho 2. Piling up a heavy lead in the middle and closing innings, Oregon State batsmen evened the count over the University of Idaho Tuesday afternoon by an 11 to 2 score. Grabner's offerings were struck freely, four homers and a three-bagger being included. Idaho obtained her lead in the first and third innings both runs being made by Greeling, the first time on Lawrence's single and the second time on an Oregon State error. From that point on, Nightengale pitched excellent ball while his teammates continued to pound Grabner.

Oregon started its hitting spree in the fifth, after having tied the count in the fourth. Belleville opened up by knocking a homer with one on, and Pennel followed with another circuit drive. Errors, another homer, a three-bagger and two singles accounted for five more Beaver runs in the ninth.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Idaho 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—2 3 6 O. S. C. 0 0 0 3 2 1 0 0 5—10 14 2 Batteries: Grabner and Price; Nightengale and Maples.

Idaho 6—Oregon 5.

James (Monk) Halliday, Vandal second baseman, played the part of the traditional baseball hero against the University of Oregon Wednesday afternoon when he cracked out a homer in the eighth inning to score two men ahead of him and then won the game 6 to 5, in the tenth with a two-run hit.

Oregon pilled up an early lead, getting four runs in the first four innings before Idaho scored. The Vandals took advantage of a slight weakening of the Oregon pitcher in the fifth and sixth innings to drive in two runs. In the last half of the eighth two Idaho men got on and scratch hits with none down. Halliday crashed for the circuit, but the Idaho rally was halted here as the next three men went out at first one, two, three.

Rally in Ninth. The ninth inning went scoreless and Idaho stemmed an attempted rally on the part of the Webfoots

Sailors Beg Master Mariner for Favorite Pipe Tobacco

Larus & Bro. Co. Malden, Mass. March 10, 1928 Richmond, Va. Dear Sir: I have been a Master Mariner for many years, and as a general rule all seafaring men smoke a pipe. I have tried about all the different brands of tobacco on the market, and in my estimation, there is not one make of tobacco that will compare with Edgeworth Slice for a good, cool, long smoke. Sailors would come to me and say "Capt., be sure to put in a good supply of Edgeworth when you fill up the canteen." That speaks for what the average sailor thinks of Edgeworth. I retired from the sea six years ago, and the largest grocery dealers in Boston keep me supplied with this wonderful smoke. I take great pleasure in boosting it to my friends.

Edgeworth Extra High Grade Smoking Tobacco

In the first part of the tenth. With one down, McMillin hit a high drive to center field for two bases, the eighth two Idaho men got in on keeping it from being a home run. Halliday took the first ball pitched and duplicated McMillin's blow to score the Vandal first-baseman and win the game.

Judy starting his third game, pitched good ball throughout the 10 innings and although not striking out men as McDonald did, kept the eight hits of the visitors well scattered throughout the game, particularly in the latter innings.

Score by innings: R. H. E. Idaho 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 3 0 1 6 Oregon 0 2 1 1 0 0 1 0 0 0 5 8 2 Batteries: Judy and Price; McDonald and Riddings.

MOTHERS OF IDAHO WOMEN INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Word was received yesterday evening by Elizabeth Eastman, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Elizabeth Taylor, Delta Gamma, that their mothers were injured in an automobile accident near Sandpoint, Wednesday night. Mrs. Taylor suffered a fractured jaw and cuts. Mrs. Eastman was badly bruised and cut. The women were driving with Mrs. Peter Johnson, Sandpoint, when a car without lights forced the Johnson car from the road, causing the car to collide with a tree.

Both Miss Eastman and Miss Taylor left Moscow last night for Sandpoint.
