Saturday's Schedule.

At Palo Alto—Oregon vs. Stanford.
 At Los Angeles—Oregon State vs. Southern California.
 At Berkeley—St. Mary's vs. California.
 At Seattle—Montana vs. Washington.
 At Pullman—Mount St. Charles vs. Washington State.
 At Moscow—Whitman vs. Idaho.
 At Los Angeles—Fresno State vs. U.C.L.A.

Pacific coast football critics, who have long been speculating on the strength of various teams, will be given an opportunity to gather a little first hand information next Saturday when six conference teams swing into action against each other. The only game considered the least bit crucial will be the Oregon-Stanford contest in Palo Alto. The Webfoots have yet to beat Warner's men but Captain John J. McEwan has gathered a pretty formidable group of players in Eugene and his men are pointing for Stanford because a Pacific coast conference championship is looming up beyond the Stanford game. If Oregon should upset the dope and win, "Pop" Warner has been pointed at before, however, and although he respects the strength of McEwan's team, there would probably not be a more surprised man on the coast, if Oregon won, than "Pop" himself. The Cardinals are favorites to win in San Francisco sporting circles.

O. S. C. Meets Trojans.
 While the Webfoots are battling Stanford in Palo Alto, another Oregon team faces Southern California in Los Angeles. The Trojans should have little difficulty in taking this game as Oregon State has been considerably weakened this season through the loss of Howard, a star quarterback, and several line-men.

Seattle is the scene of the only other conference tilt. The University of Washington Huskies meet the Montana Grizzlies and, as Montana is one of the conference dark horses, almost anything is liable to happen. Washington looks like the winner but the Grizzlies like the strong team they had last season and may hold the score down.
 In non-conference games California meets St. Mary's, Washington State faces Mount St. Charles, Idaho faces Whitman college and U.C.L.A. meets Fresno State. California may have a little difficulty with St. Mary's as this is a traditional contest that is always fiercely fought. The Uclans have one of the weakest teams in the coast conference and may not beat Fresno State but the other two contests look like easy victories for the conference teams.

CHEWING GUM FOOD SAYS U. C. PROFESSOR

BERKELEY.—Is chewing gum a food? Professor Emeritus M. E. Jaffa of the University of California, who is director of the division of foods and drugs of the state department of public health, says that according to the definition of the federal food and drugs act, it is.
 The attention of the food and drugs division was recently called to this fact in a communication asking that steps be taken to correct mislabeling of gums which contain artificial flavoring.
 The communication received by Professor Jaffa said:
 "The federal food and drugs act defines foods as including all articles used for food, drink, confectionery, or condiment. Chewing gum contains so much as 75 per cent, or even more, of soluble sugar and is held to come within the purview of the act if shipped within its jurisdiction. An opinion to this effect was made public in 1915."

 Altos, Virginia Knee, Eleanor Jacobs, Pearl Howe, Marian Lewis, Margaret McMahon, Mary Darling, Merle Meadows, Agnes Ramstedt, Vivian Edmiston, Jean Edmiston, Edna Richards, Pauline Parker, Mildred Axtell, Dorothy Frederickson, Ruth Ramstedt.

Ludwig Gerlough who recently returned from England where for the past three years, he has been one of Idaho's Rhodes scholars, is considering the offer of a position in the Junior college in San Diego where he has been elected to the position of instructor in history.

IDAHO DOPED TO WIN

 fert, another sophomore, who weighs 185 pounds, will take the place of Martin at the right guard post.
 Several slight injuries among the reserves will keep a few of them on the bench tomorrow. Art Spaugy, reserve center whose ankle was sprained in the Montana State contest, will be out until the Montana game, if he is ready to play then. Russell Juono, reserve tackle and center, and John Booker and Howard Berg, reserve fullbacks are both on the injured list and may not play tomorrow. The loss of these men may cause considerable shifting in the Vandal lineup in the event that the Missionaries show unexpected power or other regulars are injured. The loss of Spaugy and Juono leaves Calland with only one reserve center, "Chud" Wendle, Carlson, a reserve end, who has played center, may be shifted in case Kirkpatrick is taken out. Haliday can substitute for Wilkie if it becomes necessary to replace him.

Regulars Look Good.

All of the other regulars seem in good condition for the Whitman contest, if Wednesday evening's scrimmage can be taken as an indication. The Grey regulars lined up against the Red reserves and went at each other resolutely earnest. Most of the reserves are still a little weak in getting through the interference of the first team. Big Bill Kershnik, as usual, was leading the interference and he opened great holes for Pederson and Wilkie, who did most of the ball carrying for the varsity. Pederson, the Vandal flash, tore off gains of five to fifteen yards nearly every time he carried the ball. Wilkie, though not a spectacular ball carrier, can always be depended on in a pinch to deliver three or four yards through the center of the line because he hits hard and, unless he runs into something pretty solid, it has to give. Orville Hill in the other halfback position, was helping Kershnik and Eagley back, and did some good work.

Whitman Bad Off.

Scholastic ineligibility has done as much, if not more, to the Whitman eleven than injuries have done to the Vandals. Nig Borleske, Missionary coach has just lost Dorothy, a guard; Anderson, a center; and Harshberger and Eagley back. That is a tough break for any coach but still feel sorry for Borleske. He still has Applegate, the 152-pound quarter who sidestepped and twisted his way 98 yards through the whole Idaho team last fall, and he has Reese, another fast boy who got away a couple of times against Washington last Saturday. The Whitman line is heavier than usual and will offer a little more resistance than the Montana line did. Three times in last Saturday's game the Missionaries held Bagshaw's men for downs in scoring territory—five times during the game. Three Washington touchdowns were accounted for by Merle Hufford, a speed merchant who ran Whitman backs and ends ragged and two of the other scores were made on passes but the Whitman line held a heavier team that had five times the number of reserves. The score at the end of the first quarter was 0 to 0.

 If the Vandal offensive functions as smoothly tomorrow as it did against Montana State, Idaho should win by several touchdowns but the score may be closer. Whitman has a good line and some better than average defensive backs. The probable starting lineups:

POLITICAL POT BOILS

 ter presidents of the sophomore, junior and senior classes call their elections. When the elections will be called is not known, but a safe assumption would be not later than 10 days hence.
 The usual procedure in the past has been to call the elections on short notice, often less than 24 hours. Once called to order, the elections seldom lasted more than 10 minutes. Last year one class went through the perfunctory ceremony of electing officers in less than five minutes. The tickets for all three classes were selected by a small group of politicians, leaders of the "combine" or "Alpha party." As a substitute for that system the new group of independents want a nominating convention in which all groups on the campus men and women, also the town organizations, would have official representatives. Their tentative plan would allow the halls two representatives apiece, and only one for the fraternities, sororities and town groups. Alpha party leaders are strenuously opposed to any such change.

Plan Is Outlined.

Each class would have its own nominating convention, with different delegates for each class from the groups represented. Two or more nominees would be selected for each office to be placed on the ticket for the class elections. Other nominees would not be recognized.
 The sponsors of the plan point out that their system would allow each class to elect its own officers; something they claim has never been done before. They declare that it is not an attempt to wipe out the Alpha party, but is an honest effort to bring politics into the open, making it official. Class offices under the plan would then carry with them some honor, they maintain, not merely "spoils" for the social groups to which the officers belonged.
 It was reported last night that the juniors will hold a meeting within a few days to vote on the plan—either accept or reject it. This meeting is not to be confused with the junior election. If the plan were accepted, the juniors would then hold their nominating convention first, with an election later to decide on the officers.

The senior and sophomore classes have within their ranks many students who are in favor of such a plan. What they have done further "than talk it up" is not known. Associated with the movement for reform are some of the most prominent students on the campus. Some are the radical element from last spring, but additions this fall seem to have multiplied their ranks many fold. Several of the strong Alpha party houses have men on both sides of the controversy. The women's groups are uncertain, according to the best available information. Several have lined up with the new movement, but a few night's ago new maid sororities were to have sent representatives to a preliminary meeting five backed out at the last minute.

Gamma Phi Beta with good reason is extremely proud of its academic record for last year and several years preceding. Its scholarship last year surpassed that of two previous years. In that every girl in the sorority won A honors, a distinction never before achieved by any sorority or fraternity.

SOCIETY

ELSIE A. WARM—EDITOR.—PHONE 2132

Pledges are still in the social spotlight at Idaho, with five dances in their honor scheduled for this week-end and five more next week. These affairs are looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure by old students as well as new, because they will serve as pleasant diversion after the tension of rush week. Dancing is a favorite recreation on this campus. The all-college dances have attracted large crowds of men and women eager for amusement after a week of study.

Brother and sister dinners are also proving popular. Beta Chi and Sigma Chi entertained their sisters during the last week, and several other groups are planning similar parties. Faculty members have always been favorite guests at Idaho, and several fraternities and sororities have already begun entertaining them at dinner.

Students and alumni of the University of Idaho are playing an active role in South Idaho as is evidenced from a report received from Rupert telling of the initiation meeting of the season of the University of Idaho. The meeting was held in the Caledonian hotel with thirty-five students and alumni present, and Ira Tweedy, superintendent of schools was the speaker. Following a delightful all-Idaho entertainment a business meeting was held and officers elected. Officers for the ensuing year include: Buford E. Kuhns, president; Miss Helen Jensen, vice-president; Donald Allen, secretary; and "Dusty" Cline, treasurer. Members of the executive committee include Ira Tweedy, Josephine Keane of Burley, Thomas Maberly, Joseph Cogan, and Miss Jensen as chairman. An effort is being made to have every student and alumni of the University living near Rupert a member of the club.

PERMANENT ROOMS GIVEN HALL WOMEN

Changes Will Be Made in Social Organization For the Coming Year.

Since the "pledge-parade" last Saturday, women remaining in the halls have assumed permanent quarters, with plenty of room, says Helen Kersey, assistant dean of women.

It was also stated that there will probably be several slight changes in the social organization of the hall women this year.

Lucile Gilndeman, president of Forney hall announces that as yet a social representative has not been elected. Elections will probably be held next week.

MRS. F. ELLIS DEAD

Word has been received on the campus that Mrs. Fred Ellis, mother of Miss Dorothy Ellis, state supervisor of home economics, and of Ernest Ellis, who attended the University of Idaho several years ago, died in Portland on Thursday, September 19. Mrs. Ellis has lived with her daughter in Moscow for two years, but at the time of her death was residing in Portland.

Prof. and Mrs. Carleton Cummings and son, George and daughter, Jean, were dinner guests of Alpha Chi Omega Wednesday evening.

Dinner guests of Lindley hall Wednesday evening were Eunice Hudelson, Katherine Mikkleson, Caroline Hunt, Marjorie Ford, Audrey Andrews, Rebecca Flack, Dorothy Shears, Louise Morley, Shirley Cunningham, Ruth Otness, Mary Silmanton and Marguerite Grohosek.

Beta Chi entertained its sisters at dinner Wednesday evening. Guests present were: Mrs. Watt Percy, the Misses Dorothy and Helen Carney, Joan Harris, Ethel Larson, Eunice von Ende and Clarice Anderson.

TOWN WOMEN ELECT OFFICERS

Edna Richards Named Social Secretary of Daleth Teth Gimel.

Daleth Teth Gimel, organization of town girls, held its first business meeting of the semester, Wednesday evening at the Administration building.

Edna Richards was elected social secretary to fill the office left vacant by the absence of Joyce Otter. With the election of the secretary, the list of officers for the year is complete as follows: Clarice Anderson, president; Helen McCann, vice president; Julia Hunter, secretary; Mildred Axtell, treasurer; Muriel Leyrer, secretary of the card catalogue; and Jean Edmiston, marshal. The president appointed committees to take charge of the activities, membership, and standards of the group.

Following a meeting Tuesday evening for new girls, prospective pledges of D. T. G., it was decided and announced that formal pledging will take place next Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the women's gymnasium. On the same evening at 7:15 o'clock, the town girls will initiate girls who were pledges last semester. Another meeting is scheduled for next Tuesday evening.

TEN DAY DELAY FOR RIFLE TEAMS

Installation of Lights in Pits Holds Up Practice Until Fifteenth: New Range is Larger

According to Capt. B. M. Crenshaw there is a larger turnout for both teams and competition will be keen for the positions.

The new rifle range in the Memorial Gymnasium offers a decided advantage over the old range in that it will accommodate nearly three times as many marksmen. The number of targets has been increased from four to 11. There have been no matches arranged as yet.

Progress of the men's and women's rifle teams has been delayed for about 10 days due to the fact that proper lighting facilities for the target pits have not yet been secured. Work is under way to install these lights and practices will be started by the middle of the month.

FORESTERS ADDRESSED

At a meeting of the Associated Foresters Wednesday evening at Morrill hall Dean F. C. Miller, head of the school of forestry, Dr. Hutcheson, Dr. Halssis, Harry Nettleton, Gary Kempff and E. J. Welschuegel, all of the forestry faculty gave short addresses to the members.

Mr. Langer, president of the club, extended a welcome to the new foresters and said that the large attendance indicated a greater interest in the plans of the club for the year.

IDAHO JERSEY WINS BUTTERFAT AWARD

"Idaho Torono Hopeful" Is Fourth Cow to Gain National Honors.

"Idaho Torono Hopeful", a Jersey cow owned by the University of Idaho, has just been awarded a silver medal by the American Jersey Cattle club for having completed a record of 542.88 pounds of butterfat in 305 days at the age of 3 years and 5 months. She exceeded the medal requirements by 35 pounds of butterfat and the requirements for entry into the register of merit by 138 pounds of butterfat.

This is the fourth cow in Idaho to qualify for the silver medal honor, two of the four being bred and tested by the University of Idaho. Hopeful has a full sister tested in the university herd that made 698 pounds of butterfat as a senior four year old, a state record for the Jersey breed in that class. A full brother to both these cows is leased to the Gem County Co-operative Bull association at Emmett.

SPURS TO INSTALL PLEDGES NEXT WEEK

Activities of the sophomore women's organization will begin for the year with the initiation of the new members next Wednesday night. The initiation ceremony will take place in the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. New officers will be installed then, said Betty Wilson, last year's president of the organization.

Miss Wilson was elected last year as national treasurer of Spurs. She will be the only active junior woman in the organization.

YEAR BOOK EDITOR PLANS TO SPEED UP STUDENT PICTURES

Extra Work on Publication Forces Advance of Deadline For All Photos

Because of the added work entailed in putting out the "Bigger Gem of 1930," January 1 has been set as the deadline for all pictures of students on the campus, according to Wayne Blair, associate editor of the publication. Sittings will be arranged for second semester students after that date, but no exceptions will be made in the case of students in residence at the university the first semester.

As it is planned to arrange class pictures in alphabetical order for convenience, sittings with the photographers are also scheduled in alphabetical order to facilitate handling the work. Any individual may arrange for his picture ahead of schedule, if he so desires, but appointments at a later date than the time originally scheduled will be difficult to make, said Blair.

In Caps and Gowns. As heretofore, the senior pictures will be in cap and gown, and the juniors' in formal attire. The charge of $1.50 per sitting will be collected at the studio when the picture is made. Both Sterner and Miklos have been designated as official photographers by the editor. Those desiring to use last year's picture may do so, but the same charge will be made as for a new sitting. Copies of the complete schedule, which follows, will be distributed to all group houses, and house presidents are asked to cooperate by having their members get their pictures taken on schedule. Parts of this schedule will be reprinted from time to time in the Argonaut.

SWINE RESEARCH REVEALS NEW FACTS

Prof. J. E. Nordby's Projects Attract World-Wide Specialist's Attention.

Results of three research studies in swine breeding by the University of Idaho college of agriculture experiment station, conducted by Julius E. Nordby, associate professor of animal husbandry, are attracting the attention of animal husbandmen and geneticists in all parts of the world. Queries concerning the prospects have come from Australia, Germany, England, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries and Canada, as well as the many research institutions of the United States.

FORESTRY GRADS VISIT

Mr. B. A. Anderson Forestry '27, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Godden were visitors at the school of forestry last week. Mr. Anderson, formerly associated with the blister rust control, plans to leave on an extended tour of South America and Europe.

Mr. Godden, Forestry '28, and his wife are making a tour of the western national forests. He is at present technical advisor of the Idaho National Forest.

ON EXTENSION TOUR

Miss E. Hinkley, federal agent for home economics for the state of Idaho and Miss Dorothy Ellis, state supervisor of home economics, left last week for a visit to the Smith-Hughes high schools in the southern part of the state. The teachers whose departments they will inspect are all graduates of the University of Idaho.

HUSKIES GROOMED FOR COAST GAMES

Four Successive Games Face Washington Team During Coming Month

University of Washington, Seattle, Sept.—Off on their 1929 schedule with a smashing 47 to 0 victory over Whitman college on Saturday, the Washington Huskies took up the grind again here today to prepare for the four successive conference battles which face them during the coming month. The Montana Grizzlies will be met here next Saturday, followed by one of the season's most important tilts, that with U. S. C., last year's national champions. The Cougars of Washington State are taken on at Pullman a week later, then Washington comes home to finish the string against Oregon and Stanford in November.

Much that had been predicted and some that had not developed in the course of the tussle with the Missionaries. The Husky line came through with a show of power from tackle to tackle power that smothered Whitman's thrusts in every quarter. The few long gains that Coach Borleske's proteges made were around the ends, and even there the fast Missionary backs got into the open very seldom. With a set of forwards averaging virtually 200 pounds the Huskies had been figured to prove impregnable there, as they nearly were.

The unexpected developments came in the backfield, which had been weakened by the loss of several stars before the game. Although changed constantly and given only a meagre chance to show their worth, the ball toters came through with fine work in almost every case. And the men who have been least in the limelight headed the attack.

Stellar Players Named

The brightest luminaries were Merle Hufford, (MILTON, OREGON), Ellis Johnson (ABERDEEN, WASH.), and Chuck Rosenhan, (SEATTLE), sophomores, and Bob Buzzard (SEATTLE), and Elliott Pulver (ABERDEEN), veterans. Hufford and Johnson each contributed a 50 yard run to a touchdown; Rosenhan's all-around play made him an outstanding figure. Buzzard, while limited to short gains for the most part, was seldom stopped, and Pulver's work was the most consistent on the field.

The discovery of so much class in a backfield which has been pretty much a mystery all season was by far the most important thing that came out of the tilt so far as Washington is concerned, and should alleviate much of the speculation as to the caliber of this year's half-backs.

Geehan Fast at Quarter

Johnny Geehan's (TACOMA, WASH.) play at quarter, and that of Jack Patrick (WEITCHER, WASH.) in the same position will serve to answer the charge that Washington is without a capable signal caller this year. Both were brilliant.

Washington's play was far from finished but another week of hard work should take most of the kinks out of it. The points where the Huskies showed lack of polish were offensive line play and backfield interference. The changing lineups accounted for a great amount of the fault in both.

Montana, the team the Huskies meet here next Saturday, is characterized by observers as the best the school has produced in 15 years. The belief is borne out by the fact that the Grizzlies had 17 veterans back this fall. They are known to be heavy, with a backfield that will have pounds to spare over Washington's and a line that at least will be on even terms. Coach Bareschaw figures that his team will have to be at top form to win.

SIGMA CHI WINS MEET

Sigma Chi fraternity won first honors in the annual intramural track and field meet held last spring, winning a total of 21½ points. The Sigma Nu entries came in second with a total of 15 points. DuSault of Sigma Chi was high point man of the meet winning ten points in the mile run, and the 880. The first place results follow: Mile—DuSault, Sigma Chi; 100 yd. dash—Hanford, A. T. O.; 880 yd. run—DuSault, Sigma Chi; 220 yd. dash—Redman, Phi Gamma Delta; shot put—Diehl, Sigma Nu; javelin—Bessler, Sigma Nu; Discus—Burger, Beta Theta Pi; Pole vault—Winzler, Beta Chi; high jump—Thornhill, Phi Delta Theta.

Kaki Clad Rooks Slink About Campus

"And the land was beset by locusts." Such was our campus beset yesterday by a horde of rooks dressed or rather draped in the army's best. They hurried from class to class—coats flapping, trousers bagging, leggings slipping. The Fresh seemed ever dodging, ever embarrassed as they ducked by those lucky civilians. The Sophs passed by—hurt dignity and uneasy composure written on every face. While the Juniors, forgetting that they too had scurried about in the same manner, gazed with lofty disdain upon these poor martyrs. But worst of all were the cruel giggles of some unsophisticated girls as they espied a worried Fresh uncertain as to whether he should guard his head or his—lap from exposure.

SOUTHERN GRID TEAMS LOOK BEST

Three California Elevens Start As Class Of Coast

No team appears strong enough to seriously threaten the superiority of the big three in California. California, Southern California and Stanford all look strong on paper with Southern California having a slight edge. At any rate, the conference championship seems due to spend another year in the south unless, by some miracle either Oregon or Washington, the two strongest northern teams should upset the dope—and a look at the schedule does not lend any encouragement to this supposition. Washington meets each of the California teams starting with U. S. C. at Seattle on October 12. The Huskies then journey to Pullman to meet W. S. C. and the following weekend they meet Oregon in Seattle. None of these teams have ever been rated as set-ups in Seattle and Washington is in for three tough games. The following Saturday Bagshaw will give his men a workout against the College of Puget Sound in Tacoma. A game with Stanford in Seattle, one with California at Berkeley and then a trip to Chicago to meet the University of Chicago should furnish Bagshaw plenty of worry. After the first game of the season Saturday against Whitman, the Huskies meet four tough conference opponents on consecutive weekends, then a "rest" contest with Puget Sound followed by games with Stanford, California and the University of Chicago.

21 Lettermen Back. Whoever was responsible for the Washington schedule certainly gave Bagshaw a nice one to try to ease his comeback on. However, the Washington mentor has 21 lettermen in uniform including six quarterback and one fullback. Washington is the best fixed team in the conference from the veteran standpoint but Bagshaw will need the men and a lot of luck too, if he gets through as tough a schedule as the Huskies have with the kind of a percentage Washington students and alumni are demanding.

Oregon Outlook Bright

Things don't look quite so bad down in Eugene. Already Webfoot followers are seeing rosy visions of a Pacific coast conference championship. And that is not as impossible as it may sound. Practically all the Oregon boys have to do is beat Stanford, which they have never done before in the history of football competition between the two schools, and then beat Idaho, Washington, U. C. L. A. and Oregon State. Stanford is the big hurdle. The fact that the game is being played early in the season is to Oregon's advantage because "Pop" Warner's boys have a habit of playing a bit loosely at the first of each season and improving rapidly with every successive game.

McEwan has the men this year and it looks like Oregon's year to produce a winner if she ever does. There are several men on the roster who first played together four seasons ago on the 1926 frosh squad and who will be winning their third "O". And there are plenty of reserves at Oregon, too. Johnny Kitzmiller, Oregon's "Flying Dutchman," and the leading conference scorer last season is starting his second season on the Webfoot team and is expected to go even better than last year. He is only one of the numerous backfield luminaries. And the line. Vets in every position. The tackles alone weigh nearly a quarter of a ton between them. Oregon's outlook is far from bad. If, and it is a big if, Oregon beats Stanford, anything may happen.

"AG." CLUB MEMBERS WILL REORGANIZE

At a meeting of the Agriculture club held Wednesday night in Morrill hall, the following officers were elected to fill vacancies caused by the non-return of club officials: Kenneth Platt, editor of the Idaho Agriculturist; Glenn Pratt, assistant editor; John Sandmeyer, assistant business manager; Virgil Cross, treasurer of the Agriculture club, and Wesley Boice, secretary.

Plans for the annual Ag ball, sponsored by the club were discussed, and committees to take charge were announced yesterday. The exact date of the dance has not yet been decided upon but will probably be held before the Portland live stock show on October 26.
