IDAHO YEARLINGS GIVEN DRUBBING BY ELLENSBURG

Visitors Get Jump on Frosh And Walk Away With Victory

FINAL SCORE 12 TO 6

Wilson, Quarter, Scores Lone Touchdown For Idaho Eleven

The Vandal Freshmen were caught napping twice Saturday to lose their first game of the season to Ellensburg Normal by a score of 12 to 6.

George Wilson, stocky frosh quarter, scored the Yearlings' only touchdown in the third quarter. Wilson slipped around end for 45 yard dash through the entire Ellensburg eleven, carrying the ball to the Normals 4 yard line. After two unsuccessful attempts Wilson squirmed through to score. Wilson was injured and he will probably be on the bench for some time.

The first half was slow and ragged. Both elevens played conservative ball resorting to punting whenever they were in danger.

At the beginning of the third quarter, Ellensburg opened up a flashing attack, placing the ball on the 4 yard line. There the Normal center casually walked over to the ball and flipped it to McKay, a crotch halfback, who trotted across the line for Ellensburg's first touchdown. The play caught the Vandal babes napping and out of formation. Late in the fourth quarter the Normal team marched down the field and repeated the ancient trick to score again. Both tries for point failed.

At times the Yearlings displayed a finished brand of football: their ball carrying and running interference literally bowling over the Ellensburg line. Other times their play was ragged and spoiled by frequent fumbles. They played a good game and showed plenty of possibilities considering that they have only been out two weeks and this was their opening game. A large number of substitutes were used by Coach "Red" Jacoby as he tried to find a smooth running combination.

Some of the Frosh if they keep to the good work, will help build up the varsity next year. Tyrell, fullback, gave promise of developing into an exceptional punter when he placed long kicks in the corners of the field. Roose, tackle and Schutte center were the mainstays on the Frosh line. For Ellensburg, Sterling, captain and quarter, and McKay, half, were the outstanding players.

The starting lineup follows:
Ellensburg Normal: Frosh Taylor, Valdason, L. F. Finch, Guggenbickler, L. T. Warwick, I. G. C. Schutte, I. Andeust, C. Smith, Phillos, R. T. Rose, Rodgers, R. F. Nordby, Sterling (Capt.), P. Fowles, McKay, R. H. Schell, McKayson, R. H. Schell, Evley.

Scoring: touchdowns, Ellensburg; McKay, Bruzas; Idaho, Wilson. Score by quarters: 1 2 3 4
Ellensburg Normal... 0 0 6 6—12
Idaho Freshmen... 0 0 6 6—12

Substitutions: Ellensburg Normal—Sutphin for Knoll; Ivy for Phillos; Kreckow for Valdason; Snillgers for Sterling; Sterling for Eckley; Grothen for Guggenbickler; Paulson for Bruzas.

Idaho Freshmen—Sackett for Schissler; Auckett for Finch; Reiser for Smith; Bouscher for Roose; Elden for Fowles; Jacoby for Taylor; Lacey for Norby; Bunn for Wilson; Henry for Tyrell; Stein for Bunn; Wicks for Henry; Sackett for Smith; Henry for Wilson; Bunn for Henry; Stanley for Bouscher.

Officials: referee, Morris, Seattle; umpire, Louitt, Portland; head linesman, Fulton Gale, Moscow.

Turkey, to embark on a good roads program, requires all male citizens, as well as foreigners of six months' residence to put in 10 days of wearily road service. A $4 fee will exempt them from actual work.

NEW MEN PLEDGE TO SIGMA TAU

Scholarship, Practicality and Social Ability Determine Membership to Engineering Fraternity

Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, pledged six new men to the organization at a meeting held last evening in the Engineering building.

Harry Owens, Harold Wayland, Clarence Conway, George Miller, Joe Lancaster, and Paul Werney are the new pledges. Membership in Sigma Tau is based upon scholarship, practicality, and sociability. Scholarships, members must rank in the upper one-third of the Junior and Senior classes in the college of engineering. Practicality is considered a measure of a student engineer's ability to apply his technical training to engineering work.

INTERNATIONAL DEBATE PLANNED FOR NOVEMBER 6

Oxford University Team Makes World Tour and Will Meet Idaho

UNIQUE QUESTION

"Resolved: That This is the Best of All Possible Worlds"

An international debate will be held on the Idaho campus when an Idaho team meets Oxford university team from Oxford, England in the university auditorium November 6.

The Oxford team of three men is making a world tour, visiting the United States under the auspices of the National Students' Federation of America. They will debate the question "Resolved: That this is the best of all possible worlds, here." Idaho will take the affirmative side of the question.

Oxford then have all been active in the debates at the Oxford union, a place where the students of Oxford gather to discuss questions of a political nature. The audience divides itself into two sections, affirmative and negative, upon entering the house. As the speakers talk, those whose opinion has been changed move to the other side of the house. The team winning the debate is the one which has the most support from the audience.

The Oxford team comes to this country prepared to debate on five different questions. They are: Resolved, that the jury system is unnecessary for the administration of justice. Resolved, that the talking film will strike a deadly blow at western culture. Resolved, that this is the best of all possible worlds. Resolved, that the installment plan of buying is a danger to American prosperity. Resolved, that the United States cannot expect to have her debts paid until her tariff barriers are substantially reduced.

Having the Oxford team come here will give the students of Idaho an opportunity to hear something very different in the line of debating than they are accustomed to hearing. The Oxford men are highly trained and are universally noted for their wit and humor.

The three men who will represent Idaho in the debate will be announced later.

WILLAMETTE W. A. A. SPONSORS ARCHERY

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY. (PIP)—The Women's Athletic association of Willamette university will sponsor archery for the women this year. This is a new feature that is offered on the campus and it will be counted as one activity to gain points toward receiving the official pin of the organization.

Successful reindeer raising in Alaska has inspired northern Canadians to contract for a herd of 3,000 to be driven from the American territory.

INDEPENDENTS LAY PLANS TO FORM NATIONAL GROUP

Men From Three Northwest Schools Meet at Pullman Saturday

LYNCH IS PRESIDENT

Movement to Link Local Clubs Launched at Idaho Last Spring

Independents from the University of Idaho, University of Washington, and Washington State college met at Pullman Saturday to draw up plans for a national organization of collegiate independent clubs.

The clubs represented in the conference were Tau Mem Alpha of Moscow, Tullicum club of Seattle, and Independent club of Pullman. They elected the following officers: president, Charles Lynch, University of Idaho; vice-president, Milton Bona, University of Washington; treasurer, Bob Carter, Washington State college; secretary, Lloyd Donesen, Washington State college; news letter editor, Jack Hartline, University of Washington.

The movement to organize men's independent clubs into a national body began last spring at the University of Idaho. Business will be carried on by correspondence, and it is hoped that independent groups of other campuses will show an interest in the project so that a wide extension program may be launched to spread it over a wide area.

CO-ED PROM SLATED FOR NEXT SATURDAY

Girls Will Date Girls at Womens Annual Whoopee Mix

Girls! Get your dates for the Co-ed Prom! But, remember, they will be with anyone but boys.

Saturday night, October 26, is one night of this year when all girls will be independent of the boys. However, it will be a great disappointment to the girls if some boys do not don the togs of the fair sex, and try to crash the gate. The boys are warned that if they do try to enter they will learn what vicious creatures girls can be.

The Prom will be held in the Girl's gymnasium, which will be decorated suitably for Halloween, at 8:30 o'clock. Girls will go as partners in gala costumes. A prize will be given for the most originally dressed couple. At intermission each group house will present a stunt.

Sours in each group house and Daleth Teth Gimel will sell tickets. The tickets will be fifty cents and will be on sale Thursday.

Violet Bohman, general chairman of the Prom, stresses that all girls, juniors and seniors, as well as freshmen and sophomores, will co-operate and come out for it, as only in that way can it be made a success.

ANDERSON POPULAR NAME AT PULLMAN

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman—Now the state college is hilly in more ways than one. The famous seven hills of Rome have nothing on the seven hills of Washington State. Hailing from all parts of the state, seven student hills are enrolled this semester.

Official records show that Anderson is the most popular name, with a total of 31, or one per cent of the entire enrollment registered under that appellation. The Smiths are second with 24 representatives; the Johnsons third with 18; Wilsons fourth in the line with 16; and the Joneses and Hansons-Hensens group in a tie for fourth place with 15 each. Millers, Browns, and Kings also scored high in point of numbers and the Scotch clan of Campbell clamors for recognition.

The shortest name in the entire list falls to Mr. Pu of Kuel, Kwang-tune, China. The Teutonic Kiermerhorns, Schmellards, and Hinkenbergers are tied for honors in the "longest" division. Among some of the more unusual cognomens are: Yap, Uno, Eck, Cid, Mos, Lof, Yew, Yap, Kuo, and Zui. Woiutlewicz and Zawistowski are the prize tongue twisters.

SALEM BOOKSTORE SALES ARE LARGE

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY. (PIP)—Students of Willamette university spent $4,749.93 at the university book store for books and supplies in the month of September, $3,000 of this having been turned in during the first three days. The sales were cut down considerably by the non-arrival of some of the books.

The book store also carries on a thriving second-hand book business, a fee of twenty-five cents being charged for each sale.

Only one resident of Sah Francisco's Chinatown wears a queue.

STUDENTS MUST OBEY PARKING RULES

Parking on the university drive is prohibited, according to word received from the president's office. Many students have been using the campus drive for parking, thus congesting those roads which should be left open for visitors and general traffic. It is understood, however, that students and others may utilize the road south of the Administration building, and available space near the faculty tennis courts.

THREE IDAHOANS JOIN RANKS OF PHI BETA KAPPA

Two Women, One Man Elected to Membership of Scholastic Honorary

INITIATION MONDAY

Frances Gallet, Helen Melgard and Andrew Thomson Meet Requirements

Three seniors in the college of letters and science—Frances Gallet, Helen Melgard and Andrew Thomson—were made members of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholars' fraternity, at initiation ceremonies held last night at the Administration building. Election of officers and a banquet at a downtown tea room concluded the evening's program.

In order to be eligible for membership in Phi Beta Kappa students must have completed three full years of work in the college of letters and science with grades of 5.566 or better. Until this fall it was possible for second semester juniors to be elected to membership, but under the new plan adopted this year only seniors are chosen.

Miss Gallet, a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, was junior women's representative on the A. S. U. I. executive board last year. Her father is the present state auditor at Boise. Miss Melgard is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and Daleth Teth Gimel, town women's group.

Thomson, in addition to this latest honor, was recently chosen as one of the four candidates for the 1930 Rhodes scholarship from the state of Idaho. Last year he was sports editor of The Argonaut staff. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity. His father, Dr. F. A. Thomson, was formerly dean of the school of mines here, resigning to accept the presidency of the Montana School of Mines at Butte.

Dean H. H. Farmer of the school of business administration was elected president of the society for the coming year. Prof. Edward F. Mason, head of the journalism curriculum, is the new vice president, and Dr. F. A. Church, professor of history, was re-elected secretary. Eunice von Ende took office as the new treasurer.

Student Councilors John Ewing and Frances Gallet were chosen as student councilors. The outgoing officers were: Prof. Eugene Taylor, president; Prof. A. S. Howe, vice president; and Miss Herma Albertson, treasurer.

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa is considered one of the highest academic honors students can receive. Phi Beta Kappa was the first Greek letter fraternity organized in "Alpha" chapter dating back to 1776.

Two Star Says Portland Trip Large Event

Hello, This and That: Well, it was some trip. So here's a few of the statistics I gathered in Portland. A couple of us went around and counted the stories in all the tall buildings. The highest we could see was fourteen. One had an elevator shaft going higher but the elevator stopped at the floor below, so we couldn't count the top of the shaft.

That town's more friendly and got more "Hello" spirit than this campus even if they haven't got a tradition about it. Then another thing, the Oregon students don't practice that little pastime of cap snatching that seems so popular here every homecoming.

The buses stopped all along the road so we could take in everything and we just took lots. If the buses had as much pickup as some of the passengers they could have hit 100 miles per hour.

A guy may be a college man, but that's no sign he's grown up. That was one great game and Idaho Vandals played harder than I've ever seen before, even if the punts were not as good as yours here didn't mention Idaho's superior line.

According to reports before we left, the "university officials" approved the plan. But I wish they had made a greater explanation of that word "approved". Now some of the pros are only letting infirmity excuses work for the Saturday morning classes missed. And to get them you have to sleep there, I've seen or you don't get any excuse. Being sick in Portland or in your own fraternity house don't count. Not by a long shot.

With such limited space, the rest of the statistics on the trip are being held in reserve for bedtime stories.

As is. TWO STAR

"AG BAWL" PROVES A GREAT SUCCESS; LARGE ATTENDANCE

Three Hundred Sixty Present at Affair Held in Old Gym

APPROPRIATE DRESS

Ball Room Decorated in Attractive Manner With Farm Products

A crowd of over 360 students enjoyed a rousing good time at the annual "Ag Bawl" which was staged in the old gymnasium Saturday night. The affair was the most colorful of any of its type given on the campus for a number of years, students declare.

The gym was decorated with stalks of corn dangled in abundance from the balcony and pumpkins, apples, potatoes, and sheaves of grain were tucked in every nook and cranny. Large bales of straw served as seats for the dancers.

To make the affair more colorful students appeared in novel costumes. Some were dressed in slouch hats and overalls with corn cobs pipes to match while others, most of them girls, were robed in long 20th century dresses. Don Hunt and his partner were voted to have the cleverest costumes and received the prize of the evening. After all had paraded before the judges.

Abundances of cider and doughnuts were consumed by the thrifty crowd and apples, pears, prunes and almost every kind of fruits and vegetables were available everywhere.

JUNIORS TO STAGE YEAR'S FIRST MIXER

Snappy Entertainment Is Promised by Talented Members of Class

Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Blue Bucket Inn, the junior class will hold its first mixer of the year. A committee appointed by Ray Kelly, class president, consisting of Harry Robb, chairman, Carol Thompson and Kenneth O'Leary announces that plans are complete for an evening of dancing and entertainment.

According to Kenneth O'Leary, one of the main purposes of this mixer is to better acquaint the juniors on the campus with each other. An invitation is especially extended to those juniors who came from the Southern branch this year. Several talented members of the class including Tank Larry and his team will furnish the entertainment. An admission of 50 cents will be charged.

SIGMA TAU MEDAL WON BY VON ENDE

Carl von Ende Awarded Engineering Medal for Past Year; Average 5.342

Carl von Ende, sophomore in the college of engineering, has been awarded the Sigma Tau medal for scholarship for the past school year with an average of 5.342. Every fall, chapters of this engineering honorary throughout the country confer this honor upon the sophomore in the respective institutions who made the highest scholastic average during his freshman year.

The presentation was made at the last A.S.U.I. assembly by Harold Wayland, president of the chapter of Phi Gamma Delta, national social fraternity.

STUDENTS HEAR GILBERT LOVELL

Mr. Lovell Emphasizes the Importance of Suitable Professions

Gilbert Lovell, noted vocational guidance expert, gave a short talk to a representative group of students at a luncheon held at the Blue Bucket, Monday noon. Following his address, in which he stressed the importance of choosing a suitable profession, Mr. Lovell held individual conferences with those students who were interested.

He is president of the Presbyterian board of education, which is sponsoring his present tour of vocational American colleges. He is a graduate of Yale and has taken advanced vocational study at Harvard and Columbia. For fourteen years he was engaged in educational work in China.

Mr. Lovell left this morning for Pullman where he will address Washington State college students before going on to Corvallis.

DEAN MAKES REPORT
WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE.—Professor George Severance, vice dean of the college of agriculture and head of the department of farm management, has been asked by the Washington irrigation institute to prepare a statement of the work that the experimental stations of this state are doing for farmers in the irrigated districts. The institute will meet at Yakima on November 7 and 8.

IDAHO WOMEN HURT IN WRECK

Helen Gray and Beth Woods Injured When Car Hits Bridge; Returning From Lewiston

A package, a Ford car and a loose board in the floor of a bridge were responsible for a peculiar accident in which Helen Gray and Beth Woods, members of Alpha Chi sorority were the principals Sunday morning.

The two girls were about 11 miles from Moscow on the way back from Lewiston shortly before noon Sunday. A small package on the front seat fell to the floor of the car. Both girls reached for it, and at that instant the front wheels of the car hit the loose board in the bridge. They had barely touched the package when the front wheels of the car hit the loose board, swerving the car sharply around and turning it over.

Miss Gray suffered a cut under her right eye that required several stitches. A passing motorist brought them to Moscow. Both were able to attend their Monday classes.

SOPHISTICATED LAWYERS FROLIC IN TUXEDOS AT "AG BAWL"

The "Ag Bawl" annual frolic with the rough footgear of a booted cowboy or lumberjack.

The extreme insolence of the legal students was demonstrated when the orchestra leader announced that he had received a request for a "lawyer special" dance. For a moment the farmers hesitated at the edge of the floor while their eyes glided merrily about in the center of the room. "Razzberry! Kick 'em out!" they yelled, but as the lawyers danced courageously on, the cry subsided, and soon the floor was again crowded with peaceful dancers.

Toward the end of the evening the lawyers, a little surprised at the success of their impudent left party, on their way out they stepped at the door long enough to yell, "Razzberry! Beat it!" was the answering cry of the Ags. The lawyers left, their noses in the air. They had won the first victory of the traditional war, and although their feet were a trifle cold, their hearts were warm with the feeling of an evening profitably spent.

IDAHO DEFEATED BY WHIRLWIND PASSING ATTACK

Vandals Draw First Blood, Pushing Over Touchdown in 5 Minutes

AIR ROUTE IS FATAL

Kitzmiller - Robinson Combination Spells Doom For Invaders

After taking advantage of two Oregon fumbles and scoring a touchdown in the first five minutes of play, the University of Idaho Vandals slackened before the phenomenal passing attack of Oregon's flying Dutchman, Johnny Kitzmiller, and 18,962 persons saw the huge Green machine roll up an impressive score of 34-to-7 Saturday afternoon on Multnomah field, Portland.

However, the superiority of the Oregon attack was only in the passing department since the Vandals made more than twice as much yardage and twice as many first downs as their opponents.

Three minutes after the Vandals had scored, Woody Archer, Oregon end, took a perfect 27 yard pass from Kitzmiller and raced across the Idaho goal line to give the Webfeet their first score of the game. Kitzmiller kicked goal making the score 7-to-7 and a few minutes later, taking an Idaho punt on his own 20 yard line, raced down the left sideline, dodging and twisting his way through the entire Vandal team for the second Oregon score. Again the flying Dutchman converted, giving Oregon a 14-to-7 advantage.

Bob Robinson, Oregon's colored flash entered the game a short while later and in his first play Kitzmiller threw a 38 yard pass to him on the Idaho 35 yard line. Robinson was standing alone when he caught the ball but he was hauled in his tracks by Pedersen, Idaho safety. Another pass a few minutes later put the ball over. Kitzmiller gave Oregon an extra point with a perfect place kick. Oregon scored twice in the last period on breaks.

Although the score of the game seems indicative of an Oregon walk-away the real margin of the victory was Johnny Kitzmiller.

The Vandals fought gamely throughout the contest and in the third period started a march that might have turned the tide of the battle had it been successful. Ken Barrett, who replaced Pedersen at quarter for Idaho lead the attack which started on the Idaho 20 and ended on the Oregon five yard line. Barrett started the drive with a pass that netted 14 yards.

Wilkie Goes Through.
Wilkie, Idaho fullback, hit tackle for nine more and then a lateral pass, Wilkie to Barrett, gave Idaho another first down on the Oregon 32 yard line. Barrett and Wilkie alternated at packing the ball and six more plays found the ball on the Oregon 13 yard line. The Oregon game was ending desperately to prevent Idaho from scoring and the Vandals lost the ball on the Oregon five yard line, less than two yards from a first down and five from a score.

The Vandals gained 191 yards from scrimmage to 88 for Oregon and made nine first downs while the Webfeet were making four. Oregon was unable to penetrate the Idaho line. Pedersen, Idaho's "Galloping Sack," was watching too closely to get away but Kenny Barrett turned in one of the best games of his career and was easily the star of the Vandal backfield although the line plunging of Wilkie was responsible for much of Idaho's yardage.

Corkery played a wonderful game in the line for Idaho but he was pressed for honors by Dittman, Martin and Kirkpatrick. Stadlerman, Oregon veteran center, was taken out of the game early in the first quarter with a broken ankle and may be out for the remainder of the season.

OREGON STATE COLLEGE, Corvallis. (PIP)—An important step in the interest of student health was made by the college administration his year through the formation of the school of health and physical education.

Slamming The Press

IT SEEMS that the Associated Press has lost some of its valued prestige, especially among students of the University of Idaho, and those fans who witnessed the Oregon-Idaho football game played Saturday afternoon in Multnomah Athletic club stadium at Portland. The Associated Press certainly in our estimation received a "black eye," so to speak, through failure of its correspondents at Portland to give an authentic report of the contest to the public which awaited the story of the conflict which sent Idaho to defeat 34-7.

It must be admitted that a glowing report of the game was given by the Associated Press writer—especially attractive to the Oregon fan, but disastrous to the reputation of Idaho through the A. P.'s failure to give proper attention to the fact that the Vandal aggregation completely outplayed Oregon in every instance. To the Oregonian reading the story of the game it was as if Idaho was merely a competitor, nothing more. The eleven was there, but Oregon had no trouble whatever in doing its will.

The Associated Press might be interested to know that Idaho made a total of 191 yards through the line of scrimmage, and scored nine first downs to Oregon's four. Oregon managed to gain 88 yards through scrimmage.

We would also like to take this opportunity to compliment L. H. Gregory, sports writer for the Portland Oregonian on his fair unbiased account of the Oregon-Idaho game. The Associated Press might glean a wealth of information concerning the game by consulting his account of the contest in the Oregonian of Sunday, October 20.

Well Deserved Honors

FOOTBALL, campus happenings and society—all have their part in the news columns of this issue of The Argonaut. Scholarship is limited to one story, election of three seniors into Phi Beta Kappa.

Every student on the campus, deep down in his heart, wants to gain recognition for himself. Many try for that recognition, and their efforts in many cases are confined only to extra-curricular activities. Attendance at the university implies first of all scholarship, and under our present system scholarship is measured in grades.

Phi Beta Kappa grants membership to a few students who have proved themselves outstanding in scholarship. Six semesters with required grades averaging 5.666 or better is a record few college students attain. Recognition for such an achievement could be no more fittingly symbolized than in the plain gold key of Phi Beta Kappa, the first Greek letter fraternity established in America.

The College Journalist

THE following editorial appeared in the Minnesota Daily, and so accurately depicts the life of a college journalist that it certainly merits a reprint:

No one who is at once a good citizen and an orthodox Christian will deny that the way of the transgressor is hard, but few realize that the way of the college journalist is harder. He is constantly betwixt the devil and the deep blue sea, which situation is, as almost anyone can perceive, a most distressing predicament. Usually, the college journalist retreats before the advancing devil until he feels the lapping of the deep blue sea at his heels, and then he can do nothing else than bellow until someone happens along who has more intelligence than himself.

For, in spite of his own conception of his mental endowments, the usual college journalist is not very intelligent. It appears that the inequities of a newspaper office and the neurotic oscillations of a newspaper staff prey upon the intellect of the collegiate newspaperman until what once might have been a most promising mind becomes but a barren mass of inert brain tissue.

But let it be said softly that the person who wishes to become a college journalist must prepare to abandon all hopes of mental enlargement; must agree to embrace what has been called "a wrong slant on life"; and that he must take leave of his iridescent dreams of the future, because it is an almost infallible aphorism that one who has been a college newspaperman will never amount to so much as a row of pins.

It is all very sad, and something ought to be done about it, but as long as college newspapers continue to flourish with the astounding tenacity which they exhibit at the present writing, then just as long will the nation be treated to the spectacle of the degeneration of several hundred of the flowers of the lap; young gentlemen who, had they not been college journalists, might eventually have become presidents or even archbishops.

A lot of new students seem to have an idea that the Senior "T" bench in front of the Administration building was constructed to be sat upon. By the time they are seniors they will discover their mistake. Seniors, as a general rule don't use it, and other persons cannot. Why use it for a seat at all?

WARRIORS TRAINING HARD
By Polo Shirts, Staff Writer.
Much concern is manifest at the Alfee training camp this fall over the scarcity of good ends. Undaunted, however, by gloomy early-season prospects, the Mudhens are gradually rounding several promising freshmen into shape for an arduous season on the gridiron. It is rumored hereabouts that the Mudhens are hoping for a wet field in their encounters, due to the fact that most of their training has been accomplished on the muddy bed of Paradise creek. Their proclivity for broken field running, it is said, is a natural result of dodging behind trees and shrubs in their arduous training when they indulge in a friendly game of hide-and-go-seek.

With their line extending over a total length of 16 axe-handles and a Fresno shovel, the Tridell three star team is doped to stanger and lurch through opposition like a guy coming home from a night club at three A. M. If raucous and angularly count for anything, futuristic art has nothing on the Three Star ball carriers who have more first down to their credit than all the teams they have played thus far. An overhead attack is their best bet, having been coached diligently in that particular feature by the Lambachy ball club.

JUDGING TEAMS LEAVE NEXT WEEK FOR STOCK SHOW

University to be Represented at Portland Livestock Show Oct. 26 to Nov. 2

HAVE GOOD RECORD

Final Selections to be Made Soon; Many Trophies Won in Past

Four University judging teams will leave for Portland Thursday evening to enter the Pacific International Live Stock show to be held October 26 to November 2. The Idaho teams will compete with teams from the University of California, Oregon State college, University of British Columbia, Washington State college, and Montana State college.

One Team Selected.
The dairy products team is the only one which has been selected yet. The men chosen for this team were: Oliver Espe, Spokane; Virgil Cross, Gooding; Wesley Boice, Blackfoot; and George Johnson, Coeur d'Alene. The other three teams are to be chosen by Wednesday.

Past Record Good.
Records show that in the past nine years the Idaho judging teams have won many trophies, none of them having fallen below fourth place during that time. In 1920 the dairy cattle team set the highest record ever made in student judging and in 1927 the grain judging team established a record which still stands.

The coaches of the teams are: dairy products team, Prof. D. H. Theophilus; dairy cattle team, Prof. G. C. Anderson; grain team, Prof. H. W. Hulbert; and animal husbandry team, Prof. C. J. Hickman.

SOCIETY

ELSIE A. WARM—ED. ITOZ—PHONE 2137

Society, decked out in overalls and kitchen aprons flocked to the old gymnasium Saturday evening for the outstanding social event of the week-end, the annual "Ag Bawl." Sales of hay, corn stalks, sun flowers, and pumpkins transformed the "bawl" room into a realistic hayloft, where the "hicks" frolicked away a hilarious evening. A country "feed" of cider, doughnuts, and apples added cheer to the party.

Four house dances were also given over the week-end. Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Alpha Theta entertained their freshmen Friday evening, and on Saturday Gamma Phi Beta and Lambda Chi Alpha gave dances in honor of their pledges. The Lambda Chi Alpha dance was given in the L. D. S. institute ball room, which had been made especially attractive with Hallowe'en decorations.

Forney hall gave a reception Monday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Nathan Hadley Clark, one of Idaho's new house mothers. This is the first of a series of such affairs usually given in the fall to introduce the new chaperons on the campus and in town.

FEDERAL ECONOMICS AGENT VISITS HERE

Leaves for Pullman to Continue Teacher Training Work; Gives Interview

Miss Jane Hinkley, federal home economics agent, who has been here since Friday noon in connection with the Home Economics department of the University, left for Pullman Sunday afternoon to continue her work there.

As Miss Hinkley stated: "My work here is to teach in the training institutes, where teachers of vocational Home Economics are trained; and to visit the State Superintendent of Home Economics. The object of this department is to train girls to teach Home Economics in vocation and high schools of the state. This is one of the best fields of work a girl can fake up, for it offers opportunities in so many different lines. The demand for good Home Economics teachers is steadily increasing as the girls begin to realize the value of the study."

The telephone grows air-minded

THE BELL SYSTEM has made many successful experiments in two-way plane to ground telephone communication. This new development illustrates how it marches a pace ahead of the new civilization. It is now growing faster than ever before.

New telephone buildings are going up this year in 200 cities. Many central offices are changing from manual to dial telephones. A vast program of cable construction is going on.

This is the period of growth, improvement and adventure in the telephone industry. Expenditures this year for new plant and service improvements will total more than five hundred and fifty million dollars—one and one half times the entire cost of the Panama Canal.

Heavy Traffic In "Ad" Building Cause of Worry

By E. M.

There is imminent need for a traffic cop in the Administration building hall immediately outside the auditorium. Between classes when students are passing both ways in the hall the condition is crowded enough without a hundred or more others emerging from a class in the auditorium to further complicate the situation. Always opening both doors of the north entrance to this building would result in less disorder.

If everyone would obey a common traffic rule, "keep to the right," much confusion would be prevented. As it is now one dodges this way and that to avoid bumping into a co-ed who is gazing beseechingly up at a burley "pid-skin pusher" and abruptly collides with a tall, preoccupied chap who gazes nonchalantly over one's permanent. Feeling very insignificant one slips around him only to be met by a whole flock of "monkey suits" entering the building at that moment. One shouts desperately, "Give me liberty or give death!" but in the turmoil this doubtful witticism passes unnoticed. After several minutes more of patient wriggling one finally emerges and dashes to the Science hall just in time to slip the door of the lecture room before it is closed by the professor.

GRIDIRON GOSSIP

By Bob Ailshie

Once more Idaho succumbed to the Multipomah jinx. Playing on even terms with Oregon and playing superior ball in some departments, the jinx found its only chance to lie in the air. And in using the air Oregon had some worthy men to trust it to in Bob Robinson, Johnny Kitzmiller and Archer. The passes of Kitzmiller to Robinson and Archer resulted in three Oregon touchdowns and in advancing the ball 135 yards.

Kitzmiller made one of those spectacular runs that one reads about often and sees seldom. Taking the ball on his own 20-yard line he started back one of Pete's longest punts, raced down the sidelines behind beautiful interference, cut in and crossed the goal line.

As far as actually scrimmage is concerned Idaho outplayed Oregon by a large margin. Idaho made 100 yards as against 90 for Oregon and nine scrimmage first downs as against four for Oregon. Idaho's "Galloping Swede," gained 63 yards from scrimmage as against 25 yards for the "Flying Dutchman."

Ken Barrett ran wild for a few minutes in the third quarter. He reeled off some 45 yards in but a few moments only to have Idaho lose the ball on downs within about 6 yards of the Oregon goal.

Idaho's line played remarkably well as shown by the fact that the Oregon backs failed to make any consistent gains through them. Moeller, Oregon fullback attempted a couple of deceptive drives through the line with the ball apparently in his hand behind him. He tried this play twice and both times hit the Idaho linemen so hard he fumbled.

Stadelman, one of the best known centers on the coast hit it tough in the early moments of the game. Idaho had just recovered Moeller's fumble and were starting the drive that netted Idaho's lone touchdown when Stadelman ran into Kirkpatrick and Corkery. Stadelman was rather seriously injured and was not in the game, however his successor Forester played a good game as center.

Idaho's yell leaders did famously and won the applause of the stands. Grimm and Bradshaw did some pretty clever acrobatic work and mixed in enough humor to make it good. They are to be congratulated.

Perhaps the most highly approved play of the day was made by Ken Barrett. It seems that one of the photographers who had irritated some of the spectators by insisting on standing up and blocking the view, was doing a little yelling about trying to get an action picture. About this time Ken Barrett made a dash around left end that not only gained several yards but also knocked the cameraman for a loop and sent his camera sky high. The cameraman was rosy enough to appreciate the joke, if you want to call it that.

Now that we've lost a game let's not get down hearted. The score of the game was no indicator of relative strength or particular superiority. Idaho has a wonderful club and played wonderful ball Saturday. They were off on their defense against passes and Oregon was on. When you get a tough combination like that it's hard to win. Some years ago Columbia beat Cornell 63-13, and yet that same season Cornell was rated higher than Columbia and won games that indicated a large superiority over Columbia. So our spirit should not be down, we have a great team.

Tobacco's at its best... in a pipe

MEN'S preference for a man's smoke—the pipe—is plenty positive. But do you know why? We'll tell you.

First, pipe tobacco's different—for instance, Edgeworth. Second, tobacco smolders as it should in a pipe. And third, these mean you get more satisfaction—greater relish of the good old savory burley, soothing fullness of rich smoke.

There's even a fourth reason: you like good company. The pipe-smoking brotherhood is that.

Tobacco's at its best in a pipe. It gets a chance to be itself there—to loosen up as it comes to life, to expand and take in air and glow. Only the choicest leaves get that chance, moreover, for pipes tell the truth about tobacco. Choice leaves, choice blends, and mighty careful handling. Edgeworth comes up through eleven distinct processes before we're willing to pass it on to you.

If you keep on missing all this, that's your fault—for we're waiting to send you your first pipeful of Edgeworth. See the coupon? Fill it out, get a good pipe and the postman will bring you a neat little glad-meet-you packet of good old Edgeworth.

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—"Ready Rubbed" and "Plus Slice"—15¢ packet package to pound humidifier tin.
