

BEAVERS BATTER INJURED VANDALS FOR 27 TO 0 WIN

Oregon State Pushes Over Four Touchdowns Against Roving Idahoans

LOCALS OUTCLASSED

Lateral Passes Are Jinx to
Gem State Title
Hopes

By Paul E. Jones
Flashing a running and passing attack that the Vandals were powerless to stop, Oregon State college established itself as a contender for northwest football honors by defeating Idaho 27-to-0 Saturday on Bell field, Corvallis. The big Orange eleven showed more power than any team that the Vandals have met this season, rolling up 330 yards from scrimmage to 62 for Idaho.

Three Oregon State fumbles, all of which were recovered by Idaho, two of them within the five yard zone, kept the first period scoreless although all of the play was in Vandal territory. In spite of the fact that the field was perfectly dry, fumbles were numerous, the Beavers losing the ball 11 times and recovering six, while Idaho fumbled four times and recovered each time.

Lateral Passes Tally

The first Orange score came early in the second period when "Rowdy" Kerr, Beaver halfback, took a short lateral pass from Buerke and raced around end 48 yards for a touchdown. The kick went wide but the Vandals were offside and the point was allowed. The second drive started on the Idaho 30 yard line after the Beavers had gained on an exchange of punts. On the second play Essman crashed through for 12 yards to the Idaho 18. A pass, Buerke to Hughes netted 15 and then Essman carried the ball over center for the second score of the game. The half ended 13-to-0 as Hughes kick failed.

Vandals Stiffen

The Vandals came back fighting in the third period and twice held the powerful Beaver attack for downs. Once, after a steady drive had given the Oregon State eleven a first down on the Idaho five yard line, the Beavers lost possession when four tries at the Idaho line netted just four yards. Berg punted out of danger from behind the goal line but a good return by the elusive Buerke gave Schiller's man the ball on the Idaho 23. Once more the Idaho line held and the Vandals took the ball on their own 17. A quick kick from regular formation by Pedersen pushed the Orange eleven back to their own 44 and then a fifteen yard penalty for holding gave the Beavers the ball on their own 29 yard line.

Another exchange of punts gained ten yards for Oregon State and then Owen, Beaver halfback, crashed through the Idaho line for 26 yards before he was downed by Pedersen. Buerke threw a 35 yard pass to Striff, who leaped high and took it on a dead run on the Idaho ten yard line. Striff stumbled across the goal with the ball on his finger tips but hung onto it and Owens kicked goal making the score 20-to-0 for O. S. C.

Beavers Fumble

In the last quarter another Beaver fumble on the Idaho five yard line stopped a powerful advance of Oregon State reserves. The Idaho punt went only to the 30 yard line however, and again the Orangemen started a battering march against the tired Idaho forward wall. Three plays carried the ball to the Idaho 14 and then Johnny Essman hit tackle for the final score of the game. Owen converted.

The Vandals missed the tackle smashing Bill Kershnik who was injured early in the second quarter and Walt Price, who had to be carried off the field a short while later, Fred Wilkie, regular fullback was on the sidelines with his arm in a sling.

The dirt field, which was rolled hard, handicapped Idaho's speedy backs and several times Owens, Pedersen, and Striff were held back.

Cooler Weather Puts Crowd Of Campus Loafers to Route

Departing crickets, nightingales, and grasshoppers have all been duly glorified in song but where is the poet to feel off jocular jingles celebrating the wending away of the little blue gnats! Now that the cold weather has set in the pestiferous gnats have packed their Sunday wings and set sail for the south. Oh, yes! They are gone but who is foolish enough to forget that they will again return next fall? The "little blue bugs" are the most renowned of all campus creatures. The favorite hangouts for the various swarms seem to be on the corner just before the Kappa Sigma house, and just above the Nest. They are also known to have frequented the forebore and to linger unexpectedly around corners along the campus walks.

Poor struggling, little creatures how their numbers must have been diminished by those brutes who unwisely strayed through their midst while meditatively chewing

CLASSES IN SESSION ON ARMISTICE DAY

Except for Break in Forenoon
Schedule to Continue as Usual,
I. W. Jones Says.

Armistice day will not be a holiday on the Idaho campus this year, according to an announcement of Irving W. Jones, vice-president of the university. Classes will be held from 8 until 10 o'clock and a regular schedule through the afternoon.

With the co-operation of the citizens of Moscow, the university officials are planning a two hour celebration of the eleven-month anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. According to Mr. Jones the program will include a parade in the downtown section of the city, followed by a regimental review at MacLean field.

In previous years the day has been given over to observance of the occasion, and many students have taken advantage of the opportunity to visit friends and relatives within close limits of the university.

VANDALS PLACE IN TRIAL RACE

Idaho Runners Show Speed
in Cross Country Run;
Meet Saturday

In a return cross-country meet with W. S. C. in Pullman last Saturday four Idaho runners placed in the first ten. Dave Wilks and Charles Heath, who finished in a tie for first place in the first meet, bowed to Tex Taylor, W. S. C. distance man, in the return event and took second and third places respectively for Idaho.

Taylor's time for the four mile grind was 20 minutes and 53 seconds. Crossett, Sherar and Davis then finished in order for W. S. C. Chilsholm, Idaho, was seventh; Kirk, W. S. C., eighth; Clare, W. S. C., ninth; Throckmorton, Idaho, tenth.

The race served as a tryout to enable coaches to select men to enter the quadrangular meet with Washington, W. S. C., O. S. C. and Idaho, in Portland next Saturday. Head Coach Otto Anderson was away last night and it could not be learned whether Idaho would enter a team or not but reservations for places have been made and after the good showings in the return race with W. S. C. it is quite probable that Idaho will be represented. The course will start in Multnomah civic stadium between halves of the W. S. C.-O. S. C. football game.

On Saturday, November 9, at Pullman, Idaho enters a triangular meet with Montana university and W. S. C. harriers.

ROOTERS' CLUB TAKING SHAPE

Captains To Be Appointed in Men's Groups, Says Bus
Bradshaw.

Plans for the organization of the proposed Rooters' club are moving ahead, announced Bus Bradshaw, yell duke, yesterday. It is hoped that the club will be completed by the latter part of the week, according to Douglas Bradshaw, yell duke. Captains are to be appointed in each fraternity and men's dormitories. The captains in the group houses will each select 20 men, while the halls will be represented by 40 men each, making the entire club consist of about 300.

After the selections have been made and the Rooters' club has become a definite organization on the campus, regular practices will be held so that it will be working shape for the annual Washington State college game on November 9.

PRE-MED MEETING

There will be a meeting of all pre-med students in Room 110, Science hall at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Business of importance to every pre-med student will be discussed, it was announced Monday.

Ridenbaugh Hall tried in vain to stave off defeat last night in a sloppy but thrilling game of basketball with the Kappa Sig five in the Memorial gym. The score however ended 10-9 for the fraternity men. O'Brien and Estes starred for the winners with a snappy brand of ball, and Bell, Clark, and Schumaker played a stellar game for the losers.

FROSH TRIM SAILS FOR YOUNG COUGARS

Jacoby's Eleven to Clash
Saturday With Rivals
on MacLean Field

The frosh football squad under the tutelage of Coach "Red" Jacoby is speedily developing into a fast, smooth-running aggregation in preparation for their annual battle with the Washington State college frosh here Saturday afternoon.

Special attention has been given to building up of the defense against aerial attacks and wide end runs, which seemed the Waterloo of the yearlings in the Ellensburg clash. Jacoby put the babes through a mild scrimmage last night to teach the backs the art of pivoting and broken field running. His clever and shifty playmaking will probably give good account of themselves Saturday if the hard hitting interference once plows open the line for them.

George Wilson, quarter who was injured in the Ellensburg game, will be on the sidelines. Otherwise the team is in trim.

The W. S. C. frosh were beaten by Ellensburg 7 to 0 proving that both squads are of about equal strength. The Kittens are heavy and fast and have a bit more experience than the yearlings.

Coach Jacoby has lined up a heavy combination in his forward wall using several outstanding stars from high school clubs last year. In scrimmage with the yearling line is fast becoming acclimated to the college style of work. In the backfield Norman Sather, Kellogg, who has shown ability as an accurate passer may start at quarter, giving the Idaho frosh a new threat.

TICKETS FOR COUGAR- VANDAL CLASH READY

Graduate Manager to Sell Idaho
Seats; Must Have A. S. U. I. Card
At Game

Student tickets for the Idaho-Washington State college game on Rogers Field, Pullman, November 9, may be obtained at the office of the graduate manager all this week and the first of next. Students need not take their student body coupon books with them when buying the tickets but must have them at the game in order to be admitted to the Idaho section, said George E. Horton, graduate manager. A section of the Cougar bleachers is to be reserved for Vandal boosters and as the W. S. C. authorities desire to complete seating arrangements as soon as possible Horton urges students to get their tickets immediately. Tickets for town people may be obtained at Jerry's confectionery and news store.

Catherine Parsons of Boise was a week-end guest of Delta Gamma.

IDAHO DENIES ATHLETES PAID

Horton, Coaching Staff, and Students Assert Vandals Abide by Regulations.

Intimations that Idaho might be guilty of subsidizing athletics as many leading universities have been accused in "Bulletin 33" are being counteracted by statements from officials of the Idaho athletic department and student executive board. Graduate Manager George E. Horton flatly denied that the university was financing participating athletes by illegal methods. Coach Leo Calland, football mentor, Ralph F. Hutchinson, director of physical education, and Rich Fox, basketball coach were equally emphatic in their assertion that Vandal teams abide by all conference regulations regarding securing of players and their participation in games.

Aldon Tall, president of the associated students stated, "Idaho abides by the Pacific Coast conference rule which stipulates that no athlete shall be employed for more than a given salary each month. Idaho upholds the rule. Athletes are not paid. Future adherence to the rule is intended."

SERIOUSLY HURT

WALT PRICE, regular Vandal end suffered an injury in the O. S. C. contest that may keep him out for the rest of the season. This is Walt's third and last season on the Idaho eleven.

"T" Club Reception Goes Over With Big Bang—Guests Assert

Hello, People!

Well, the "T" club held its little reception party for a few of the boys yesterday. Some of them received have been bid so many times to the parties that you'd think they'd get pledged to the sweater club by now. Ain't there a good old rushing custom that three bids to a house warming means that you're going to get pledged? How about it Henry?

There's one thing I'd like to know. Why did a certain prof, after having given a quiz to his class, the following meeting assigned the whole bunch to learn by heart the little article on page 24 of the Hello Handbook. Now, I ask you why?

With these chilly evenings it's too bad that there aren't more closed cars instead of these wrecks around on the campus. When the sedans are full try the pipe lines, they're warm.

If as many people are flunking as saying they are, then the faculty will have to break down and give permission for a student special of the so-called eye type.

If some prof didn't talk so fast and others said more in less words, then some of us might get somewhere in taking notes.

With the hunting season opening November 1st, it is expected that a lot of the chairs of learning will be vacant by suddenly ill professors on that fateful morn.

In case you can't laugh at a professor's joke that you had heard the year before in the same course, try sneezing. At least, it'll sound more original than some of the forced cackles of the "Applepolishers."

As is,
TWO STAR.

BLUE KEY SCHEDULES DANCE IN DECEMBER

The eight pledges of Blue Key will furnish special entertainment for the dance of the upperclassmen's honorary service fraternity, which has been scheduled for December 6 at the Phi Gamma Delta house. William Gallager, chairman of the social committee has reported that an unusual type of decoration and program will be used at the dance. The affair will be in the nature of a combination Thanksgiving-Christmas event.

WOMEN'S ASSEMBLY IN ORDER TOMORROW

Miss Newcomb Will Introduce Organization Presidents; Singing and Dancing on Program

At Wednesday morning's assembly only women students will be expected to be present, according to Zelda Newcomb, president of the Associated Women Students.

A program of singing and dancing will be the order of the hour. Miss Newcomb said. During the assembly, presidents of women's major organizations on the campus will be introduced.

BONFIRE TO BLAZE

Pajama Parade and House
Decorations to Feature
Gala Day

Homecoming plans for the Idaho Gonzaga football game Saturday, November 16, are being perfected with arrangements to accommodate 12,000 guests, according to Ed Poulton, president of Blue Key tickets for the game are now on sale in Spokane, and there is a strong possibility of a special train coming from that city.

The annual pajama parade is to be supervised by the yell leader, Ralph Ormsby, and a bonfire on the eve of the homecoming game will be taken care of by the freshman class under the direction of the ASUI executive board. The place for the fire has not been decided upon, but will probably be on university property, according to Aldon Tall, ASUI president.

Janssen Chairman

Committees appointed from Blue Key members will manage the remainder of the celebration, with Allen Janssen replacing as general chairman George McDonald, who, until yesterday, has been in Portland recovering from injuries received in a fraternity football game.

Other members and their chairmen are: Chamber of Commerce, Cecil Hagen, who with Clair Gale and Aldon Tall, is to secure the cooperation of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants' association; decorations, Clair Gale publicity, Cedric d'Easum; programs, which will be sold by the Spurs, during the game, William Callag; and coffee, Edward Coon, who will cooperate with the state highway police and the local military department to manage the traffic on the campus and in town.

Two cups will be presented by the ASUI between halves of the game to the most appropriately decorated women's and men's group houses, the expenses for which are not to exceed $25.

MIXED QUARTET PLACES FILLED

Prof. Cummings Announces
Step Toward Completion
Of Organization

Selection of members of a mixed quartet and two male quartets by Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the University of Idaho music department, marks another step toward the completion of musical organizations for he ensuing year.

The mixed quartet is composed of Miss Louise Morley, Idaho Falls, soprano; Miss Agnes Ramstedt, Moscow, alto; Harold Packer, Nampa, tenor; and Irwin Tomlinson, bass. Professor Cummings states that the quartet will appear in concert throughout northern and southern Idaho during the year. Miss Marguerite McMahan, Nampa, will be accompanist.

Two members of the quartet are freshmen in the University. Miss Morley completed her studies at Idaho Falls high school last year, taking an active part in musical programs and productions of the school, and since her arrival at the University has attracted considerable attention from her instructors.

Promising Sopranos

She is regarded by Professor Cummings as one of the most promising sopranos on the campus. Mr. Tomlinson entered this year from Buhl and has already made an appearance before the student body, presenting a program of songs in general assembly.

Two male quartets have been selected from the University glee club and will present group programs in connection with regular concerts. Members of the first quartet are: John Soder, Buhl, first tenor; Clarence Sample, Meridian, second tenor; William Shamburger, Payette, baritone; Paul Rice, Parma, bass. The second quartet is composed of Millard Loughrey, Payette, first tenor; Ronald Smith, Moscow, second tenor; John Jenny, Cottonwood, baritone; Lionel Campbell, Boise, bass.

PIANIST ENTERTAINS U.-I. MUSIC LOVERS

Miss Isobel Clark Presents Recital of Piano Numbers
Wednesday.

Miss Isobel Clark, pianist, gave a recital in the university auditorium Sunday. Miss Clark played a group of difficult numbers with great ease and splendid interpretation. Her tone coloring was remarkable and the whole program was beautifully done.

Especially outstanding for their brilliance and interpretation were Mendelssohn's "Variations Serieuses," Chopin's "Scherzo in B Flat," Ibert's "Little White Donkey," and Paderewski's "Theme With Variations."

MAGNUSON LEADS EXPERIMENT WORK

Soil Chemist Promoted to Acting
Head of the Department by Dean Iddings.

Appointment of H. P. Magnuson, associate soil chemist with the agricultural experiment station, as acting head of the department, has been announced by E. J. Iddings, dean of the University of Idaho college of agriculture. Mr. Magnuson succeeds Ray E. Neldig, who resigned last summer to direct a fertilizer manufacturing project recently organized in Canada. Mr. Magnuson has been on the experiment station staff since 1920. He will have charge of investigations in the field of soil chemistry.

Notable successes have come to Mr. Neldig since he was first given leave of absence in May, 1927. He was placed in charge of a special investigation to remedy a smaller fume damage to fields and foliage in the Columbia river valley around Northport, Washington, and Trull, B. C. He is now conducting a series of co-operative field tests for the fertilizer department of the firm in various parts of Canada.

While at the University of Idaho he had a high reputation as an investigator and took an active part in general university affairs, particularly in athletics, being an assistant football coach for several seasons. He has established his home at Calgary, B. C.

CADETS PARADE ARMISTICE DAY

Company "I" Awarded Review Honors at First Review

Plans are being made for the R. O. T. C. to parade down town on the morning of Armistice day, November 11, in conjunction with the local cavalry unit, after which they will march to the fair grounds to take part in the ceremonies under the auspices of the chamber of commerce.

Weekly reviews are being held by the cadets. The practice, which was scattered last year, of decorating the guidon of company which makes the best appearance in review with silver and gold streamers is being continued again this year. Last Thursday Company I, captained by Chester G. Whitaker, won the decoration. The guidon decoration will be carried by them until awarded to another company. This competition will be carried out throughout the year.

A few changes and additions have been made in the uniform of the Idaho R. O. T. C. this year. An emblem resembling the Idaho state seal is worn on the left sleeve. The sash, which were ordered and will be here soon will be worn by the cadet officers.

GROUPS MIX ON TURF SATURDAY

Intramural Cross Country Run Scheduled Between Halves of Frosh Grid Game

The annual intramural cross-country run will take place between the halves of the Idaho-W. S. C. frosh football game this Saturday on MacLean field and should provide an interesting intermission for spectators to state seal is worn on the left sleeve. The sash, which were ordered and will be here soon will be worn by the cadet officers.

Charles Heath, who won the event last year for Beta Theta Pi, has since won his letter in varsity track and will be ineligible to enter this year, leaving first place an open issue. Last year the event was run off on a cold windy day making record time almost impossible. If weather permits, the time for the event may be lowered this year. Each number may enter an unlimited number of men. Points will be counted on the ten to finish.

SENIOR MEETING TONIGHT

A meeting of the senior class will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Administration 311, announced Allen Janssen, president, yesterday. At the meeting, reports will be given by committees in charge of plans for the senior ball.

Frigid Alaska No Stamping Ground For Supply Sergeant

"Alaska is the most dangerous country I know of," declared Sergeant Lonnie Woods, military instructor in the university, who has wandered far and wide in his military pursuits. Sergeant Woods enlisted in the army 24 years ago and since that time he has been stationed in many different places over the globe and has encountered many harrowing experiences.

"It is so cold up there that if a bucket of warm water is placed outside it will freeze immediately and the ice will still be warm," Mr. Woods declares. "It is dangerous for a person to place his nose because the key hole because in less than 5 seconds it will be frozen as hard and as white as an egg."

"It is not at all uncommon for an entire herd of musk oxen to freeze standing up," he affirms. "On one occasion on Eskimo was found frozen in the act of beating his dog." "He had been caught by a sudden blast of cold air," Mr. Woods explains, "and even though he was

OXFORD-IDAHO U DEBATE IS SLATED FOR NOVEMBER 6

English Team Now on World Tour Coming Here
for Next Week's Event

TOPIC IS UNUSUAL

Warren Montgomery, John
Ewing and Walter Slaughter
Represent Idaho

An international debate, scheduled to take place here between Oxford university and the University of Idaho November 6 on the question: "Resolved, that this is the best of all possible worlds," is arousing much enthusiasm from both faculty members and students.

"Idaho should feel honored that she can meet the Oxford team on its tour of the United States," said Dr. George Morey Miller, head of the English department. "Dr. Miller explained that this team represents one of the oldest debating societies in the world—the Oxford union."

Training for Statesmanship. It is here that the most outstanding English statesmen received their training. One of Idaho's Rhodes scholars, Phillip W. Buck, now of Mills college, was a member of the Oxford union, and was one of the outstanding debaters while he was there.

There will be no decision on the debate, but it will be of interest to everyone because of the novel question, and the opportunity it offers for deep thinking and clever reasoning. Warren Montgomery, John Ewing, and Walter Slaughter will represent Idaho.

Students will be admitted on their A.S.U.I. tickets.

PRICE'S INJURY CRIPPLES WING

Veteran End May Be Out for Rest of Season; Still in Hospital.

Walt Price, veteran Idaho end, will probably not play another game of football for the Vandals. After playing two years on the varsity and starting out the biggest season of them all in a whirlwind fashion, a dislocated kidney seems likely to rob Walt of his final season of competition and rob Idaho of a mighty line end. Walt recovered an Oregon State fumble last Saturday and he was lying on the field curled around the ball when an Oregon State man hit him, causing the injury. Price gamely tried to get up but two of his teammates had to carry him off the field. He was left in Portland for a few days until he is in better condition to travel.

Just who will fill Price's shoes is a big question: Calland will probably groom Ted Jensen and Cal Southern for the position although he may try to shift some of his surplus backfield men to the wing before the W. S. C. contest a week from Saturday.

The Vandals missed Big Bill Kershnik and Fred Wilkie last Saturday. Wilkie's bruised shoulder kept him out of the game and Kershnik was taken out in the second quarter with an injured arm. With a rest next Saturday and two weeks to prepare for the Cougars, the Vandals should be "in the pink." Price will be missed, of course, but this week's intermission for spectators to state seal is worn on the left sleeve. The sash, which were ordered and will be here soon will be worn by the cadet officers.

DE MOLAY TO MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Moscow chapter of De Molay will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Reports on national activities and consideration of local policies will be in order, according to Philip Dufford, master councilor. Plans for a DeMolay dance are well underway and a definite date will be announced at this meeting.

undergoing violent exercise he was congealed like a statue with his hand clasped around the dog's throat and his whip raised in the air."

Sergeant Woods was stationed in Alaska with a regiment of American troops before the world war. The discovery of gold in Alaska caused thousands of Eskimos and foreigners to rush blindly into the dangerous Labrador country in one of history's most perilous "gold rushes." It was the duty of the troops to patrol the country and prevent gold seekers from risking their lives.

The climate was so severe that troops were forced to take every precaution. Fur lined uniforms were provided by the government but even then many soldiers were frozen in standing position. Many others were entrapped in blizzards or became lost in the deep snow. "The average temperature was 75 degrees below zero," the sergeant affirms.

SOCIETY

ELSIE A. WARM—EDITOR—PHONE 2157

Martha and George Washingtons, ma's and pa's, hula girls and their swarthy partners and many other costumed characters frolicked together at the annual Co-ed prom given in the old gymnasium last Saturday night. The men succeeded in making themselves both-ersome but were only a small part of the fun at the one all-and-only "co-ed" dance of the year. Stunts were given by the various group houses, and prizes for the most original and for the prettiest costumes. Jessie Hutchinson and Grace Eldridge, as hunter and duck, and Eleanor McCleod carried away the honors.

Friday night Hays hall gave an informal dance carrying out the hallow'e'en motif in decorations. The same evening Alpha Chi Omega and Tau Kappa Epsilon entertained with a dance honoring pledges.

Three pledge dances, Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Gamma and Alpha Phi, two informals, associated foresters' and Ridenbaugh hall, the Tau Mem Aleph mixer, and the Sigma Chi barn dance are scheduled to make the next week-end full for the popular co-ed.

Dateless Males Out 'In Full Force For' 'Women Only' Hop

By a Co-Ed. According to statistics obtained today from Betty Grammer, president of Pan-Hellenic, more rushing was done at the Co-ed prom Saturday evening than at any other time since school began last month. It is roughly estimated that about 200 men were furiously rushed by the women.

The popularity ought to have been a high light in any man's life—that is, any man who could stand the rushing, and this rushing was something special. The co-eds were conscientious in their duty-bound to rush the men, and in many cases doubted and "bounced" until recommendations could be rushed from parents, family physicians and ministers.

Another distressing feature was the absence of illumination until about 10:30. The men kindly offered help, though, by allowing high powered flash lights to revolve upon the dancers. This gave a rather novel effect—many of the girls were in the spot light for the first time in their lives. And, too, they didn't mind dancing with their escorts all evening since they couldn't see anybody else.

Men are all right when it comes to hanging up curtains and paying one's way into the show, but they are a minus quantity when it comes to Co-ed proms. But it's just like one of the girls remarked, "trudging wearily home after the ball." "We had a good time after the men left, but we surely would have been disappointed if they hadn't come at all!"

H. S.

Kenworthy, Tues. and Wed.—A mysterious note, "Tonight at Twelve" is found by Alice Keith in her husband's handwriting, and she immediately accuses, in the presence of their husbands, one of three of her most intimate friends of being the mistress of her husband. Jealousy and suspicion of the older folks almost wreck the romance of Alice's son, and Jane Eldredge, whose mother is one of those accused by Alice. Mary, the maid, declares the note was written to her, and through her, all return to normalcy. Feature players are Madge Bellamy and Hallam Cooley.

Thurs. and Fri.—"His Glorious Night"—John Gilbert, as a dashing young army officer, sets himself to the task of humbling the regal Princess Orsolin (Katherine Owen) who is apparently successful in smothering her love for him. When he turns out to be a military hero she capitulates, and despite his chiding, accepts him, prince or peasant, as HERS.

BACK ON CAMPUS

George "Sandy" McDonald, who was seriously injured recently in a Beta frost-upperclassmen's football game, returned from Portland yesterday where he underwent an operation for the removal of broken bone fragments in his cheek. McDonald has recovered completely.

George Huber, Sigma Chi, also returned to the campus last evening, after spending two weeks in Spokane where he underwent an operation upon his nose.

Just Naturally Good Good tobaccos... made good by Nature, not by "artificial treatment." That's the secret of OLD GOLD'S goodness A chef may be able to make a doubtful steak taste good by artificial flavoring and sauces... But it's still dangerous to your stomach. So it is with cigarette tobaccos. "Heat-treating" is useful to "set" and "sterilize" the tobaccos... and all cigarette makers have used it for years. But "heat-treating" cannot take the place of good tobacco in making a honey-smooth cigarette. OLD GOLD tobaccos are naturally good. Carefully selected from Nature's best for smoothness, flavor and freedom from throat-scratch. You have only to try a package to get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. That will tell you why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined sales of three leading brands during a like period of their existence. Better Tobaccos make them smoother and better... with "not a cough in a carload". On your Radio, OLD GOLD—PAUL WHITEMAN HOUR. Paul Whiteman, with his complete orchestra, every Tuesday, 9 to 10 P. DECORATION PLANS BROUGHT TO LIGHT BY COMMITTEES

Two Cups Offered as Usual to Outstanding Group Houses

TANK TO BE LIGHTED

Welcome Arches Proposed For Paradise Creek Approach to Campus

Prizes for the best decorated men's and women's group houses will be awarded this year strictly on the basis of homecoming welcome and originality shown, Aldon Fall, A.S.U.I. president has announced. As some group houses are much easier to decorate than others, on account of their architecture, position on the campus, and lighting facilities it has been decided by the committee in charge that slogans and spirit shown in each decoration will be considered more strongly than in previous years.

Campus to "Doll Up."

An electrically lighted arch over the Sixth street approach to the campus at the Paradise creek bridge will be erected by the general decorations committee under the direction of Blue Key. It has not yet been decided whether or not a small arch and welcome banner will be used at the campus steps, but it is likely that something of the usual sort will be placed here.

Claire Gale, of the Blue Key arrangements committee reports that preparations to decorate the administration building are meeting with approval. The turret of the central tower will form the background for Idaho banners and signs indicative of the welcome to alumni and enthusiasm for the feature clash with the Gonzaga bulldogs on MacLean field.

Spot lights will be trained on the "T" tank, which has recently received a new trio of bright yellow "Ts" on a silver background. Judges for the house decoration contest will not be announced until just before the decisions are made. The two trophies, given by the associated students, will be presented to the winning groups during the half time intermission of the game.

Indications that Moscow merchants would make an effort to enter into the spirit of homecoming by decorating their display windows with appropriate designs have been reported by Blue Key. The chamber of commerce, and the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs are expected to co-operate in the event.

GEM PHOTOGRAPHS MOVING SLOWLY

Staff Editor Distributes Blanks to Facilitate Operation of Schedule

Immediate action on student pictures for the Gem of the Mountains is urged by Elmer Poston, composition editor. Early action has become necessary because of the increased size of this year's publication and students are requested to have their pictures taken on the date set by the schedule. Those who have failed to have their sitting at these dates must assume full responsibility for the omission of their pictures.

In order to facilitate matters for the staff, mimeographed posters, requesting the names of those students who will have their pictures in the annual will be sent to each house today, one man or woman in each house to be responsible for the proper order and spelling of each name. Ample time has been provided for accuracy, the time for the return of the posters being set for December 17.

The schedule for the dates of the sittings at various studios is as follows:
Oct. 1-Oct. 12—A. B. C. Oct. 14-Oct. 19—D. E. Oct. 21-Oct. 26—F. G. H. Oct. 28-Nov. 2—J. K. Nov. 4-Nov. 9—L. M. Nov. 12-Nov. 16—N. O. Nov. 18-Nov. 23—P. Q. R. Nov. 25-Dec. 3—S. Dec. 2-Dec. 7—T. U. V. Dec. 9-Dec. 14—W. X. Y. Z.

FROSH DEBATE SQUAD SELECTED

Four men and two women were selected recently as members of the freshman debate squad for the coming semester. Unlike former years, men and women have been united into one squad, according to Helen Melgard, freshman debate coach, the main reason for the change being the comparative small number of contests on the schedule. While no tentative debates have been arranged for the freshmen, it is known that they will meet Whitman and W. S. C. sometime during the coming semester. Those chosen last night are Ralphine Ronald, Lulu Shank, Howard Wiseman, Carl Westenburg, William Wetherall, and Joseph Filfeith.

FOOTBALL CLAIMS VICTIM

Edward Massa, guard on the East Falls Penn. professional football team is victim of the first fatal injury for this season, according to a recent press dispatch from Philadelphia, Pa. He was injured in a game with Holmesburg, and died on the way to the hospital. His neck was broken.

Scabard and Blade, military fraternity will meet Thursday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the Phi Delta Theta house. Plans for the dance November 8 will be discussed.

Idaho's Pep Band Will Soon Receive Flashy Uniforms

The Idaho Pep band will soon blaze forth in new uniforms, Harry Walden, leader, recently announced. The main object of the change is to make the uniforms more colorful as the members feel that they are not striking enough at present.

The chief alterations will be made in the sweaters and caps. It was decided that the sweaters are to be bright gold color, have crew necks, and be lighter weight than the present green ones. The band emblems which will be on the front of the sweaters will be about twice as large as they are now. Instead of the standard I caps which the members have always worn, they will have regular yellow and grey band caps. The trousers will be grey, while the style of the jacket will not be changed. It is believed that the new uniforms will be here in time for the W. S. C. game. If they are not, however, they will arrive in plenty of time for the homecoming game with Gonzaga.

IDAHO ENGINEER STAFF SELECTED

Nelson Editor, Kalusek Business Manager; Affiliated With Southern Branch

Staff appointments on the Idaho Engineer, a technical student publication issued semi-annually by the Associated Engineers, were announced by Harold T. Nelson, editor-in-chief at a meeting in the Engineering building. George Kalusek, elected with Nelson last spring, will be business manager.

The appointments are as follows: Harry Owens, managing editor; John Nicholson, Gordon Hauck, and Robert Hogg, associate editors; Gregory Belsner, alumni editor; Fred Johnson, faculty editor; William Lancaster, Robert Throckmorton, Lloyd Reed, William Newland, Harold McBirney, Ralph Decker, Charles Moser, and Clifford Hallvik general staff.

Members of the business staff as outlined by George Kalusek are: Clarence Conway, and Robert Reynolds, assistant business managers; Harold Medermeyer, advertising manager; Carl von Ende, circulation manager; Joseph Lancaster, Lawrence Smith, Sydney Harris, Albert Pence, and Burton Young, business staff.

The Associated Engineers of the Southern Branch have become interested in the Idaho Engineer and according to correspondence carried on between Mr. Nelson and the president of the engineers of the Southern Branch it is very likely that a new department representing engineering activities at Pocatello will be created soon.

FIVE MORE IDAHO RHODES CANDIDATES ENTER COMPETITION

Five additional candidates for Idaho's Rhode's scholarship at Oxford University, England, were announced yesterday by McKee F. Morrow. Students selected as candidates are: George Bodle of Boise who is attending Stanford university; Theodore Grover of Caldwell, College of Idaho; Earl G. Heidel of Buhl, Gooding College; Harry E. McDonnell of Boise, University of Utah; Kenneth E. Norquest of Boise, College of Idaho.

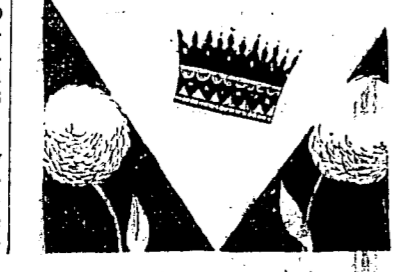

These students, in addition to those chosen from the University of Idaho several weeks ago, Cedric d'Easum, George L. Huber, Dan L. McGrath and Andrew H. Thomson, will complete the list of candidates, according to the dispatch. The final selection date has been set for December 7.

CAMPUS AT NIGHT FEATURED IN GEM

Janssen Selects Six Scenes of Prominent Buildings After Dark

Six scenes of the campus by night have been selected for the scenic section of the Gem of the Mountains for 1930 said Allen Janssen, editor of this year's annual, tonight. The six photos comprising the final choice of the editors were selected from scores of splendid negatives taken during the past few weeks especially for the year-book, and will prove to be one of the distinguishing features of the volume, according to those who have been permitted to see the finished pictures.

Night scenes of the Idaho campus have never before appeared in a Gem of the Mountains, and much time and patience was required to procure these studies for this year's edition according to the photographers. Elaborate wiring and arrangement of high-powered lamps was required for the proper lighting effects necessary to the securing of the after dark glimpses. The campus buildings, doorways and trees were "shot" from every possible angle by the photographers who spent many nights up on the hill taking the pictures for the Gem.

Of the numerous studies six beautifully shadowed glimpses of the arched doorways to familiar college buildings were chosen to appear in a special section of the annual, said Mr. Janssen tonight. The photographs will be sent to the engravers this week for special treatment.

Mr. Janssen leaves Friday for a one week conference with the annual department of the Western Engraving and Colorotype Co. at Seattle. Final selection of borders, designs, colors and style of cuts will be completed before the editor returns to the campus. With the increase in page size in this year's volume many new departments in style and treatment of the various pages is promised by the editor.

FORESTERS PLAN DANCE FRIDAY

Unique Programs and Decorations To Be Added Attraction at All-College Dance.

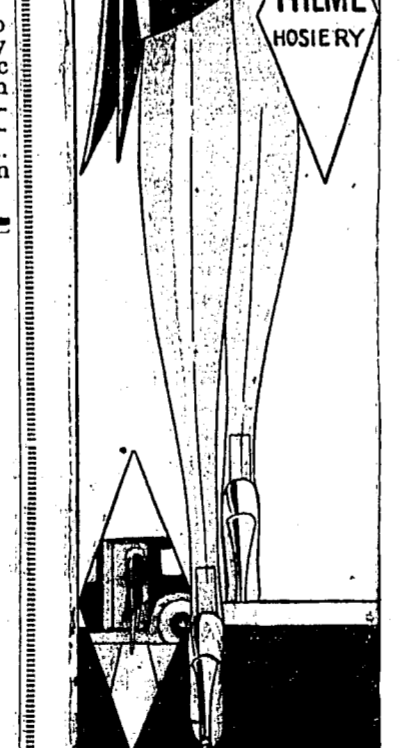

The Associated Foresters' all-college dance, one of the biggest events on the organization's social calendar, will be held Friday evening at the Blue Bucket. Decorations used will be in accord with those used in former years—that of green boughs, mounted heads of elk and caribou, with other trimmings relative to a forest.

Novel programs and special features have also been arranged by the committee in charge, and those desiring to attend are urged to obtain tickets early, as only a limited number has been printed.

CREIGHTON'S

Honest Gridgraph Relates Sad Details

"Hold 'em, gang, hold 'em!" Approximately 300 students held their breath as an O. S. C. man threw a long pass. "Did he catch it? Oh—will that light never flash? Whoop!" The light had flashed and the pass had failed!

The women's gymnasium was almost filled with an enthusiastic crowd of football fans watching the return of the Idaho O. S. C. game as it was played on the gridgraph. The results of each play, announced by a bewildering array of glowing lights, were greeted alternately by groans of despair and sighs of satisfaction. Regardless of the growing discouragement of its audience, the ball flashed erratically down the field toward the Idaho goal line. Hundreds of eyes were glued on the light denoting a touchdown. "Would it flash? Curse! It did!"

"Twenty-seven to nothing," moaned a student after it was all over. "That gridgraph isn't a bit lucky."

BEAVERS DEFEAT INJURED VANDALS

derson and Barrett fell before being tackled when they attempted reverses and cutbacks. O. S. C. made 13 first downs from scrimmage while Idaho made three and the Orangemen made 120 yards on passes to 8 for Idaho.

Buerke and Essman were the individual stars of the game although Nosier, the midget quarterback who replaced Buerke, showed bits of stuff. In the line Diehl and Corkery of Idaho played great games as did Stout and Byington, O. S. C. tackles.

Tobacco's at its best . . . in a pipe

MEN'S preference for a man's smoke—the pipe—is plenty positive. But do you know why? We'll tell you.

First, pipe tobacco's different—for instance, Edgeworth. Second, tobacco smolders as it should in a pipe. And third, these mean you get more satisfaction—greater relish of the good old savory burley, soothing fullness of rich smoke.

There's even a fourth reason: you like good company. The pipe-smoking brotherhood is that.

Tobacco's at its best in a pipe. It gets a chance to be itself there—to loosen up as it comes to life, to expand and take in air and glow. Only the choicest leaves get that chance, moreover, for pipes tell the truth about tobacco. Choice leaves, choice blends, and mighty careful handling. Edgeworth comes up through eleven distinct processes before we're willing to pass it on to you.

If you keep on missing all this, that's your fault—for we're waiting to send you your first pipefuls of Edgeworth. See the coupon? Fill it out, get a good pipe and the postman will bring you a neat little glad-to-meet-you packet of good old Edgeworth.

Edgeworth is a careful blend of good tobaccos—selected especially for pipe-smoking. Its quality and flavor never change. Buy it anywhere—"Ready Rubbed" and "Plug Slice"—15¢ packet package to pound humidifier tin.

Childish Pranks Ancient History To College "Boys"

Windows full of leering pumpkin faces, orange all day snickers with life saver eyes and round cinnamon mouths, and orange and black streamers are all that is left of Halloween for the poor harassed collegian. How differently a dignified student must look upon October 30 than he did way-back-when. University men frown upon the childish practices they indulged in so long ago. No, they only get together to enjoy a good old gab contest of each improving on the others ranks about what he did when he was a little punk. They wish to do nothing more by way of celebrating than having Halloween dinner or a dance. It just couldn't possibly be the sedate college men who would soap the windows, up turn the garbage cans and put tick tacks on the girls houses. Oh, indeedy no!

ARGONAUT STAFF MEETS WEDNESDAY

A meeting of Idaho Argonaut staff members will be held Wednesday afternoon in Room 201, Administration building at 4:30. All members, special writers included, are expected to be present, said Ed. Whittington, managing editor. Possibilities for several changes of the staff will be discussed, as well as other problems of importance to members.

"A lack of interest among a few of the new reporters has cropped out and we will be forced to cut the idle members off the staff unless they begin immediately to show signs of activity," was the warning sent out to members yesterday. Beside staff problems, a brief report of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association convention held recently in Palo Alto will be given by Cedric d'Easum, editor.
