

GONZAGA MEETS IDAHO TOMORROW

Vandal Campus Dons Novel Homecoming Attire To Welcome Alumni

10,000 EXPECTED TO BE HERE FOR BIG CELEBRATION

Elaborate Preparations Being Made For Reception of The Visitors

HUGE RALLY TONIGHT Special Trains to Bring Many Old Students Back To University

Filled with enthusiasm for the football game that is the main attraction of the week-end celebration alumni are flocking back to the Idaho campus today to see Idaho and Gonzaga battle on the gridiron tomorrow. By the time the opening whistle sounds on MacLean field it is estimated that there will be more than 10,000 former students and football fans in the stands.

All plans for the homecoming program have been completed by Blue Key, upperclassmen's service honorary. Main buildings on the campus are displaying large banners and pennants, lighted electrically at night, and each group house on the campus will have decorations completed this evening.

Dinners and dances also are scheduled to carry out the spirit of welcome so much in evidence in the decorative scheme. Claire Gale, chairman of the Blue Key decorations committee, completed his extensive preparations today and other divisions of the service group have announced that finishing touches are being made.

Judge Tonight. The judging of group house decorations will be a sidelight to the pajama parade and pep rally at the frosh bonfire on the fair grounds. Judges, selected by Robert Brown, chairman of the A.S.U.I. executive board committee, are J. F. Stewart, Mr. Charles Carter, and Mrs. Milburn Kenworthy. Selections will be announced between halves of the game tomorrow and cups given by the A.S.U.I. awarded to the winning men's and women's groups.

Dance at Elks. Tonight alumni who are in the city early will be entertained at a dance sponsored by the Elks' lodge, to be given at their temple immediately after the rally and fresh-man bonfire at the old fair grounds.

Tomorrow night all alumni and visitors will be entertained at the Athletic ball, an informal dance to be held at the Memorial gymnasium. Members of Blue Key fraternity will entertain their alumni at a luncheon to be held at the Blue Bucket inn at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow.

The Coeur d'Alene high school band will play at the game for the entertainment of fans while the Idaho Pep band is busy with student enthusiasm.

Group houses will be taxed far beyond their capacities to house their former members. Calls for reservations have been received at the Hotel Moscow from points as far distant as Tacoma. A representative of the alumni will be at the hotel to arrange rooms for the overflow. Several group houses will hold smokers and special entertainments tomorrow night for their visitors and others who care to attend.

Beef and Brutality Made Best Team in Early Days, Says Grad

By P. L. Orcutt—01
Contrasting football as it is played today, with modern gyms, professional trainers and skilled, scientific coaching, with rules designed to eliminate, as far as possible, brutality and unnecessary roughness, with football as it was played in the period dating from 1894 to 1900, during which time I was a student at the University of Idaho, affords opportunity for amusing comment.

I played fullback when Gub Mix was quarterback, and Ed Snow, weighing some 250 pounds, filled the position of center, a position he literally filled during a period of college football history when aver-dupois was more necessary than any other one thing in the selection of material for the eleven. Fred Moore, now a mining engineer of Spokane, was coach.

There were few rules governing the game. We were instructed in the many art of inflicting the greatest possible physical injury to the "enemy", and about the only thing we barred was to use a club or punch an opponent in the solar plexus when the referee was looking.

MATTHEWS

"Matty" Matthews, ex-Idahoan who will be here for homecoming. But Matty is one man that won't be pulling for the Vandals. He used to coach em but now he's hold-ing the reins of the Gonzaga Bulldogs. Matty would give plenty to beat Idaho and the Irishmen are behind him to a man.

CLEVER PROGRAM FULL OF CUTS

Gallizer Announces Completion of Official Booklets; Spurs to Handle Sales

Official programs for the game tomorrow are to contain 16 pages of cuts, one of the largest picture spaces ever used in an Idaho publication of its kind, according to William Gallizer, chairman of the Blue Key committee in charge. The programs are being printed under the direction of George E. Horton, graduate manager. The cover, depicting a string of Vandals and Bulldogs in a futuristic whirl, is in special colors.

Special features are included for alumni, in addition to the customary information regarding the players and coaches. Spurs are assisting with the selling of the programs at the entrances to the stands and working with Gallizer and the sophomore women will be several hundred freshmen delegates at the Blue Key. Two thousand, five hundred programs have been printed.

FROSH PUT GUARDS ON PRIZE HEAP

Five trucks and about forty husky frosh started work yesterday afternoon on the annual Homecoming bonfire, which will be burned tonight at the northwest end of the fairground, according to George Wilson, class president and chairman of the bonfire committee.

Nearly thirty men, Wilson said, were on guard last night against possible Cougar invasions. "It's going to be a great fire," Wilson declared, "even if it is difficult this year to obtain wood—if W. S. C. doesn't beat us to it, and we're guarding against that." All day today the big Gonzaga funeral pyre is going up, until by tonight the frosh hope to have prepared for the biggest and best conflagration in the history of the institution.

PYJAMA PARADE AND ROARING FIRE STIR PEP TONIGHT

Women's Serpentine Thru Fraternity Houses to Precede General Rally

TO YELL DOWNTOWN Ormsby Keeps Special Entertainment Plans at Game in Dark

Led by the Idaho Pep band, and the Rooters' Club, Idaho's annual Homecoming pyjama parade tonight will bring spirit for the contest to a climax.

Promptly at 6:00 o'clock Friday evening all women are to meet in front of Forney hall to march and serpentine through the fraternity houses. Everyone will wear "T" caps. Agnes Moore, yell queen will direct the women, who will join the men at the Lambda Chi Alpha house, the last through which they will parade. The men are to be attired in pajamas. The entire group will parade through the downtown streets.

Downtown, probably in front of the Moscow hotel, students will be led in yelling by Ormsby, Grimm, and Bradshaw, yell king and dukes. After the downtown rally, all will trek to the frosh bonfire at the fairgrounds.

No Card Stunt at Game
No card stunt will be put on at the game, it was decided at a meeting of the Rooters' Club Wednesday night. The west side bleachers are not high enough to give the desired effect. Ormsby promises something novel when a select group of his rooters will stage a special stunt of their own. Details of the stunt are being kept secret.

A special tumbling act by Grimm and Bradshaw and a soft-shoe dance by Ormsby, assisted by the Pep band, will furnish further entertainment between halves.

Commenting on the pep rally held Thursday afternoon on MacLean field, Ormsby said that the attendance was "sorrowful." He complimented the Phi Phi delegation as being the largest group at the rally.

SPEAKERS RECALL OLD GRID DAYS

Interesting Program Is Presented at Pep Assembly Wednesday Morning

Reminiscences of the old days by Idaho alumni and several musical numbers and yelling marked the Wednesday morning A.S.U.I. assembly.

G. P. Mix, prominent Moscow farmer and business man, depicted the earliest days of football at Idaho, when he played quarterback, and when the squad supplied their own suits, with no padding.

Idaho's mixed quartet—Louise Morley, Agnes Ramstedt, Harold Parker, and Irwin Tomlinson, sang and Morris O'Donnell, and Lloyd Whitlock played several duet numbers on the piano. A marimba solo that was encored lent real color to the assembly.

When Idaho and Gonzaga last played on MacLean field, in 1923, "Skippy" Stivers and "Bob" Fitzke for Idaho and Houston Stockton for Gonzaga, were three of the most outstanding football stars in the west. The Goff toll students, Idaho who that same 1923 to 0. Gonzaga attempted 23 passes, completed 5 and had 7 intercepted. Since then the Vandals and Bulldogs have played three games, two of which were won by Gonzaga, and the third a scoreless tie.

Stivers won a place on Walter Camp's third all-American team.

STUDENTS GIVE RECITAL SUNDAY

VANDAL FLASH

"Kenny" Barrett, one of Leo Calland's ball carrying specialists will be making his last appearance on MacLean field tomorrow. Barrett is one of the fastest men on the squad and the deadly accuracy of his passes may throw a wrench into the Bulldog air machine.

DECORATORS CENTER ON CASTLES IDEA

Four Fraternities Find They All Had Some "Inspiration"

C. H.
Dream castles, castles in the air and in old Spain—who would have believed that the old medieval apartment houses, celebrated in popular song, would materialize on the Idaho campus?

Yet they have. No less than four were in the process of construction last night—all the result of the best idea in the world for a homecoming decoration scheme that would win the cup. Before actual construction had started, members of four fraternities were sure that the cup would rest on their mantelpiece—now they are not so certain.

Rivalry for the cup always has been keen but never before has there been such a predominance of castles. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta; then Sigma Chi and Beta Theta Pi—one castle after another. When the judges drive around the campus tonight and tomorrow morning, all they will have to do is to decide who has the best castle, not who has the best decorations emblematic of a hearty welcome to alumni and visitors of the university.

Dope early this week was to the effect that everywhere there would be Bulldogs and Vandals, going round and round in a death struggle. "We'll be different and look up cold with something entirely new—a castle," thought some and coming fraternity men. Now they are wondering how their prize idea leaked out. The old wheeze, "great minds run in the same channels" is little consolation, they moan.

Alumni Come Back To Tell Students Of Good Ol' Days

Hello, Everybody!
Well, from indications it looks like this is going to be the driest homecoming in years... according to the weatherman.

This is the time of the year when three guys try to sleep in a single cot and the alumni begin all their speeches with "Now, when I was a frosh, etc." It is hoped that too many vacuum cleaners won't be out of working order next Sunday morning.

But it is true, absolute fact, that when I was a frosh we had the biggest bonfire in the history of the school, and it appears that it will stand forever as a record. Yes, sir, that's a fact.

Since Ireland has joined the League of Nations it's easily understood why the names of the Gonzaga players have changed from Kelly's Flaherty's Garrity's Riley's and O'Keefe, to the "ettis," "ellis," etc.

It's going to be some game, and we ought to win unless Gonzaga goes "Hunting" too much.

From what I see in the papers, it kinda looks like the students from the big mining county will spend their Christmas vacation in the southern part of the state. Not the Shoshone isn't a bad place to spend the winter, but often a change is welcomed.

As is,
TWO STAR.

MUMS SOLD BY HOME EC. GROUP

Yellow chrysanthemums, the official 1929 homecoming souvenir, are being sold rapidly, according to reports from Phi Upsilon Omicron, national home economics honorary, which has charge of the sale of the chrysanthemums for the game tomorrow. Beatrice Stalker, president, said last night that the women have been placing their orders for more than a week. Sales will continue Saturday morning in the Administration building and at the bleachers immediately preceding the game.

FROSH COMPLETE FOOTBALL SEASON AT CHENEY TODAY

Yearling Eleven Has Yet To Win First Game

SQUAD OPTIMISTIC Statistically, Frosh Have Outplayed Opponents In All Departments

The Vandal yearlings will mix with Cheney Normal this afternoon in Cheney for the last game of the season. Coach "Red" Jacoby is taking about 25 members of the squad on this trip, the rest will probably turn in their suits.

The Frosh eleven has as yet to win its first game and from all indications the Normal is to be the victim. The Vandal babes have practiced faithfully all week, developing a strong and speedy attack. In three scrimmages against the Varsity they looked far superior to the team that Gonzaga beat last Friday.

Frosh Lack Scores

The great weakness of the Frosh this season has been the lack of scoring power. Statistically, they have out-played their opponents in all phases of the game but never seemed to have that final punch. Jacoby has been working on the problem and has found a remedy in Tyrell, frosh full. Tyrell is to be shifted from the fullback position to quarter when ever the Frosh are within scoring distance. He has displayed a marked line plunging ability so far this year and Jacoby has confidence that this change will place Idaho on the top end of the score in tomorrow's game. If necessary, the Vandal yearlings will resort to the over head attack which has been their shining light. With Tyrell or Sather passing and Taylor, Finch or Jacoby receiving, the Frosh can put up a stellar game.

The starting line up for the frosh will probably be Taylor and Norby ends, Finch and Roose tackles, Gladhart and Reiger guards, Schutte center. In the backfield Tyrell will be fullback, Schissler and Fowles halves and Sather quarter.

"He was a good dog, but we did him wrong," remarked a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon, as he commented on the fact that "Boch", three-months old German police pup, mascot of the house, had strayed from home and could not be located. "We only had him for a week when he was lost, and he was not as yet well acquainted with his boarding house."

Every effort is being made by members of S. A. E. to locate the pup, and co-operation of all students on the campus has been requested in carrying out the search. City officials even the dog catcher—have been put on his trail, but—thus far the elusive "Boch" has managed to evade the posses.

R. O. T. C. OMPLETTES FALL MANEUVERS

Fall Military Drill Schedule Favored by Weather; Will Continue Thursday Reviews

Outdoor drill for the Idaho R. O. T. C., has been discontinued until spring, excepting drill on Thursday mornings at 11 o'clock, according to word from offices of the military department.

Because of the unusual clemency of the weather this fall, the unit has drilled more out-of-doors than it has in many years. For classroom work, Captain B. M. Crenshaw announced, the wearing of the regulation uniform will not be required, but all men are to be in uniform for Thursday morning drill.

All men who have make-up work to do will meet at Lewis Court tomorrow at 12:45 for traffic duty and the handling of the crowd at the homecoming game, Captain Crenshaw said.

Prominent Students Give Hint to Wise

Inasmuch as the alumni have heretofore been blamed for bringing liquor on the campus during homecoming, it seems that we as students will place ourselves in a far better position if we would watch ourselves and not the returning graduates.

Furthermore, since we are representatives of those people who claim to be of more than average intellect and have the sponsoring of good as our primary aim, we should be able to work up pep and student vim through other sources than the spirits in the bottle.

Therefore, let us resolve to make the biggest celebration of the year, a legal and harmless one.

(Signed)—Aldon Tall, President of A. S. U. I. George Huber, Chairman Discipline Committee, George McDonald, Chairman-Blue Key Committee on Homecoming Arrangements.

GUEST OF FORESTERS

Prof. C. H. Guise, noted forestry authority of Cornell university, will be the guest of the Associated Foresters at a dinner to be given in his honor at the Blue Bucket inn Tuesday evening. Professor Guise will address the group on forest education inquiry.

Homecoming Days Recall Old Memories Among Faculty Men

Doctor Barton used to play football, but not even the Sigma Chi's know where, so we'll have to take his classroom word for it, that when he was 19 and going to college he played on the varsity eleven.

But for the rest of the professors it is impossible to find out anything of their past gridiron powers. One can get in the registrar's office an official copy of that scholastic standing and list of degrees, but they have certainly been careless about having their athletic record transferred for the use of Argonaut reporters.

Now we all know that Rich Fox, The Carter and Pat Stephens graduated from Idaho with football honors. These men are all former stars on the Vandal team and some special yarns can be told of their playing.

The big man over in the athletic department hails from Southern "Cal", also his friend Otto K. Anderson, whose they both were outstanding football heroes.

CALLAND'S GANG GRIMLY AWAITING SPOKANE TERRORS

Vandals Top Off Workouts With Brisk Scrimmage

MATTY'S TEAM TOUGH Former Idaho Mentor's Squad Expected to Show Plenty of Fight

By Paul E. Jones
Aided by a battery of high-powered flood lights and a "ghost" ball, Coach Leo Calland and his assistants have been working long after dark each evening in preparation for the invasion of Gonzaga's horde of fighting Irish led by R. L. "Matty" Matthews, former Vandal coach and producer of the great Idaho elevens of 1924 and 25 seasons.

The Vandals are ready for tomorrow's game which will be the sixteenth between the two schools. Calland sent his men through a brisk scrimmage last night, which probably will be the last real workout on MacLean field this season. The Idaho mentor has been using many combinations in scrimmage this week against the yearling eleven which has been using Gonzaga passes and formations. With the aerial defense drill the Vandals have been getting plenty of tackling and other fundamental drills.

Corkery not in line.
The Idaho starting lineup is not certain but the injury of John Corkery in the W. S. C. game is sure to put one new face in the roster. Irish Martin, scrappy standing guard, will likely be shifted to the running guard position until Corkery is able to get back into the game. Martin's successor, in the event that a shift is made, it is known definitely but Art Spaugy, a reserve center, has been holding down the standing guard position in most of this week's scrimmage and probably starts.

Dick Thomas, a reserve guard who replaced Corkery at Pullman is the first reserve. John Armitage, Homer Siefert, and Frank Tatum complete a quartet of good reserves for any position. Howard Berg, a fast, hard hitting sophomore, may replace Big Bill Kershisnik in the starting lineup. Berg has shown up exceptionally well in backing up the line and he is one of the best Vandal backs in upsetting forward passes.

Calland has been experimenting with a lighter backfield combination, seeking a shifty quartet of backs that will be able to break up the Gonzaga aerial game. The Vandals feel that their power attack is superior to that of the Bulldogs but Calland is impressing his men with the fact that the game is likely to be decided in the air. The rest of his backfield combination will probably include Pete Pedersen, the Galloping Swede, at quarterback, Fred Wikke at full and Haggerty Hult at the other half-back post. Herbie Owens, the dynamic little quarter, has recovered from a leg injury and will be ready to take his turn at the signal calling job along with Pedersen and Kenneth Barrett.

Bud Dittman, two year veteran, is a cinch for one end and Horsey Carlson will probably get the call for the other wing position. Ted Jensen and George Hjort, a guard who has been shifted to the flank, will be the alternates. Jensen and Hjort are both track men and they move. Spec Diehl and Bill Bessler will start at tackles as they have done in every game this season. Guards have already been mentioned.

Homecoming Days Recall Old Memories Among Faculty Men

Cummings looks as though he had played plenty of varsity ball, but he was out all day yesterday, so it was impossible to verify the statement.

The Victory Snudge
If the playing of the team could be controlled by the puffs on Chenoweth's pipe he would walk to victory in the first ten minutes. By the half it would take an adding machine to keep score and before then end of the game, Profs. Harris and Taylor would be on duty. The way he pulls on that pipe when Idaho gets near the goal line is great.

Miller Shows Pen
Dr. George Morey Miller hasn't missed a game in years, not since the first game was played after he came to Idaho. And he lets the boys know that he is in the stand with lots of pep and is giving them all he's got.

Miss McCoy is always to be found in the front lines. Her favorite seat is at the 30 yard line. Dean Messenger and Dr. Russell usually find them way down front, so that a meeting of Phi Lambda Theta can be held during the half.

Something Like Christmas.

THE ATHLETIC season is at its peak. The rally tonight, the game tomorrow, the alumni returning, the festive decorations, the general atmosphere of enthusiasm all bespeak the outward sign of the inward thrill that comes with the singing of "Here we Have Idaho." The homecoming celebration is one of the greatest unifying factors that a university may have. The unselfishness of the occasion is commendable. The students put themselves out to make the campus comfortable and interesting for graduates who look back on their college days as pleasant memories. We are all brought together in a more or less intangible union; friendships are renewed, reminiscences reeled off by the hour, and the new students given an accurate criterion by which the past "product" of the university is measured. It is a splendid season.

We are glad you are back, alumni! We hope you are not disappointed in the way we are looking after the old campus since your graduation. Welcome!

Idaho vs. Ex-Idaho

COMMENT on what to expect on MacLean field tomorrow afternoon is not necessary. The alumni know more about "Matty" than most of us. But we know Calland and can sit back tight-lipped but confident. Good luck, Leo!

No Muzzle: Certainly No Dog

TWO EMBARRASSING misunderstandings have been brought about as the result of a harmlessly intended editorial recently appearing in The Argonaut. That dreadful monster, public opinion, has been fast coming to the conclusion that the students, represented by The Argonaut, were arraying themselves against the faculty on the absurd subject of sleeping in class.

The innocent shaft, aimed at no one in particular, and sped from its bow by no malice whatsoever, unfortunately buried its point in the broad mind of exactly the wrong person—dealt a blow, in fact, to an ally. Remarks made about the editorial in class stirred the ire of a student to whom the misunderstood statements were not directed. Like the original editorial on sleeping at lectures, the remarks of the professor were of a harmless nature and indicated a more than usual interest in student thought.

Taking up the cudgel in what I thought to be a proper defense of its statement, The Argonaut last Tuesday printed another editorial, this time directly against the professor who made the casual and unimbitated criticisms. It welcomes words of warning, advice, and—need we say it—praise. The editorial regarding the professor was printed only because The Argonaut believed the instructor in question was attempting to tell his class that the small privilege of complaint now allowed to the students should not be allowed them; that the faculty should not be submitted to any unfavorable comment from the poor chaps who didn't even stay awake in class. The professor meant nothing of the kind, we are glad to state, and we are extremely sorry that the series of misunderstandings has occurred. The professor's classes are enjoyed much more than the average and sleeping through them is extremely uncommon.

What The Argonaut regrets most in the unfortunate affair is that the heading on the last editorial, "Muzzle Me that Dog," has been construed to mean that we were referring to the professor as a member of the canine species. Nothing was more remote from our mind. What the title intended to convey was the meaning that the professor was suggesting the muzzling of student thought in The Argonaut—the "Dog."

As a matter of fact, The Argonaut doesn't care one jot or iota whether or not the students sleep in class as long as the students are largely to blame. It was all in fun. We are sorry.

THE OBJECTIONABLE features of Hell Week as practiced by Stanford University fraternities must go, the Greek house presidents of the institution have declared.

Their action is another step of the movement started several years ago for the diminishing of "cruelty" to fraternity pledges and the abolishment of a great amount of ordinary horse-play that attends initiations. Idaho is not concerned with the problem just now because the pledging season is barely over and it is advisable to keep the frosh as much in the dark as possible as to what will be done to them during the initiation period. Neither have Idaho fraternities ever been severely criticized for too strict or too barbaric methods of hazing. Common sense has prevailed in most cases, many chapters prohibiting outside "roughing" or undue physical discipline within the confines of the group house.

In this connection there has recently been called to the attention of The Argonaut the case of a Harvard student who go himself and his club into difficulties following a hazing stunt in one of the campus buildings. Part of his duty as a neophyte of an honorary required that he shave himself in public on the steps. Complications arose, and apparently there was liquor associated with the affair. The public shaver eked out his wrath on a certain Chinese whom he booted down a flight or two of stairs, and completed the performance by using very vile language on all passers-by.

Such a thing will never happen at Idaho, we trust, and it is certain that the fraternities will never cause such a scene by their initiation stunts. Until there is some incident that makes a change necessary it will be of no advantage for the interfraternity council to take up the matter. As long as we continue to be sensible Idaho need not be alarmed at the treatment of pledges.

The idea of starting ice hockey as a university sport at Idaho would be all right except for the fact that time can't be found as it is to make proper use of the new gymnasium. There are a number of sport possibilities that have to be neglected each year for that reason. The expense and trouble of flooding the athletic field would hardly be worth while.

SOCIETY

ELSIE A. WARM—EDITOR—PHONE 2132

Entertaining old friends and relatives will be the chief social interest during the next few days. Many alumni are expected to return to the campus for the homecoming game and the groups are anxiously waiting to welcome them and make them feel as though they were really "coming home."

The athletic ball will be the outstanding social event for the weekend. It is an annual event given by the varsity "T" club, and this year, contrary to the custom in the past, will be informal. The formal affair is to be given later in the year.

Another Saturday evening dance will be given by Daleth Teth Gimel town women's organization.

Homecoming Fails To Mix Well With Nine Week's Quizzes

While we're hunting for something to write about, how's for a line on the combination of nine weeks' quizzes?

"Rah, rah, Varsity—When the infinitive is followed by—Ah, good one, another ten yards and—Jal, tu as, il a, nous—Touchdown Touchdown!—La femme et sa—No thanks, no hot dogs just now—Are we downhearted?—Est-ce que nous—"

Well, well, no need to go on. Can't you just see yourself put the bulldogs when you're thinking all the time about those quizzes Monday morning?

"This is Brother VanBlah, '09." "Howdy, Brother VanBlah, nice campus isn't—Les hommes sont—Yes, yes, lots of new houses—Pro-nominal adjectives agree in—Oh, yes, we all love Homecoming—"

And after Homecoming, after the nine weeks—the fitting climax of it all—the "sore-eye special"—arriving to of home towns all over the state those victims of flat feet, and weak eyes, and nervous breakdowns, and what not, that always develop after mid-semester exams.

WELCOME Grads and former students:

The students of your alma mater bid you hearty welcome. We have long looked forward to your return to the familiar campus, still unchanged by time and custom, and extend to you all the facilities and privileges that a Vandal enjoys. As proof of our sincerity in our endeavors to show appreciation for your return, we cordially wish you a good time, and promise that the homecoming game will be one of the hardest fought battles that you have witnessed on the home field.

DISTANCE TEAM COMPLETES RUNS

Cross Country Runners End Favorable Season; W. S. C. Praises Coach Otto Anderson

The varsity cross country season ended last Saturday when Idaho captured first and second places in the conference meet at W. S. C., only to be nosed out by a point in the final score. The Idaho cross country team this year was under the direction of Captain Heath. In complimenting Coach Otto Anderson, Coach Slademann of Washington State college said Idaho's team this year offered plenty of competition. Wicks and Heath, supported by Throckmorton, Chisholm, Roberts, and Hawkins, have been consistent winners.

Gamma Phi Beta dinner guests of Delta Chi Wednesday were Beryl Davis, Dorothy Linsey, Marguerite Marrow, Regna Campbell, Julia Hunter, Bernice Parish, Mary Murphy, Marjorie Bloom, Catherine Edivine, Ralphie Ronald, Bertha Moore, Gladys Miller, Lois Roules and Mrs. Scott.

WHAT YOUNGER COLLEGE MEN ARE DOING WITH WESTINGHOUSE

WORLD'S LARGEST DIAMETER SYNCHRONOUS MOTOR
5000 H.P. 82 RPM 25 F.P.S. MOTOR

This 5,000 h. p. motor in the Columbia Steel Company's plant, with its frame of arc-welded steel, is physically the largest synchronous motor ever built.

Ninety days to go—
teamwork wins

While you Seniors were shuffling worries about machine stresses and saturation curves with those of football last fall, a group of your predecessors, not so many years ahead of you, were playing the game with grim realities. The Columbia Steel Company of Pittsburg, California, completed plans on September 12th to build a new tinsplate plant. On the 13th they gave an order to Westinghouse for two 5,000 horsepower synchronous motors to drive the rolls, to be physically the largest synchronous motors ever built. Delivery of the first was wanted in ninety days. Ninety days in which to design, manufacture, assemble, test and ship any large unit, let alone a new achievement in size and type of construction, affords no time for idle speculation. Westinghouse men went at the job as only an experienced and thoroughly equipped organization could do. And on the scheduled date, four flat cars and a box car rolled out of the Westinghouse plant, carrying the completed and tested motor. It was an industrial victory, as satisfying as any athletic gain. Teamwork and individual skill had won. Westinghouse had once more made good and upheld the reputation that earns the big electrical jobs for Westinghouse men.

KAPPA SIGMA AND S. A. E. BASKETBALL QUINTETS IN LEAD

Lambda Chi Second in "A" League; Phi G's Second in "B" Group

CLOSE COMPETITION

Snappy Games Witnessed as Contestants Vie For Intramural Honors

The S. A. E.'s and the Kappa Sig's are at present still on the top of their respective leagues in intramural basketball competition. By the looks of things however, the Lambda Chi's are about the best team seen in action so far this season. Last night they had little trouble winning from the Phi G's by a large overcast score. Nevertheless the S. A. E.'s with three games won can still claim most of the glory until they play the "big game" of their league against the Lambda Chi's.

"B" League competition is closer than the other units but they have not shown as much fire as the winners in the "A" League. The Phi G's and Phi's are those behind the Kappa Sig's, neither of them having lost a game.

Games played so far this week: The S. A. E.'s won handily from the Ridenbaugh Hall number last Tuesday night 29-10. Saunders and Siering with good shooting for the S. A. E. were stars of the game. Clark was the stellar player for the Ridenbaugh boys with ten points.

Schedule: Monday Nov. 11 - 7 o'clock: S. A. E. vs. Lambda Chi. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Senior Hall. Tuesday Nov. 12 - 7 o'clock: Sigma Nu vs. S. A. E. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Phi Chi. Wednesday Nov. 13 - 7 o'clock: S. A. E. vs. Lambda Chi. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Senior Hall. Thursday Nov. 14 - 7 o'clock: Sigma Nu vs. S. A. E. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Phi Chi.

Subs: A. T. O.—Alnow, Stiles, Effenbaugh—Wright, Bell, McGlassy. Scoring: A. T. O.—Saunders 7, Siering 6, Davis 4, Kysilka 4, Alnow 2, Houtford 1. Scoring: Ridenbaugh—Clark 10, Wright 1, Thompson 2, Baker 1. Beta Theta Pi—S. A. E.

Continuing their march for top honors in the S. League the S. A. E. scorers crushed the Beta's in a lopsided game. It was last night in the Memorial Gym. Brock and Tuggart, forwards on the S. A. E. team led the attack while Purcous shot six points for the losers.

Beta Theta Pi: S. A. E. Tuggart, Brock, James, Peterson, Barrett, Siering, Purcous, Clark, Wright, Thompson, Baker, Alnow, Houtford, Kysilka, Stiles, Effenbaugh, McGlassy, Bell, Wright, Bell, McGlassy.

Wednesday night the Faculty battled it out with the Beta. The game was a close one, the final whistle being blown with the Beta leading 26-21. Siering was cut in as a substitute and incidentally he is the first substitute the winners have used this season. Siering with nine-point points was the leader for the Faculty assault.

Beta: The winner: Faculty: Fox, Anderson, Barrett, Clark, Caldwell, Jacoby, Siering, Brock, Chi, Davis, Wintzler, Siering, Faculty—Siering, Scoring Faculty: Fox 1, Anderson 1, Siering 1, Barrett 1, Jacoby 1, Brock 1, Chi 1, Davis 1, Wintzler 1.

Schedule: Monday Nov. 11 - 7 o'clock: S. A. E. vs. Lambda Chi. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Senior Hall. Tuesday Nov. 12 - 7 o'clock: Sigma Nu vs. S. A. E. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Phi Chi. Wednesday Nov. 13 - 7 o'clock: S. A. E. vs. Lambda Chi. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Senior Hall. Thursday Nov. 14 - 7 o'clock: Sigma Nu vs. S. A. E. 8 o'clock: Phi G's vs. Phi Chi.

RHOES PROSPECTS TO MEET AT BOISE

No Official Announcements Yet, But President's Office Says Place Picked.

Although no word has yet been received by the candidates from the secretary of the selection committee, the president's office has announced that the Rhoads whether from Idaho will be picked at a meeting in Boise, December 7. When the candidates were chosen it was not decided as to whether or not the committee would meet in Moscow or Boise. McKenna F. Murray, secretary of the committee, has made it known that the capital city will be the meeting place. The nine candidates from the state, including four from the University of Idaho, namely: Don McGrath, George Huber, George C. Esau, and Andrew Thomson will be notified individually. Plans for the trip are already under way by the university candidates.

VANDALS AND IRISH PRIMED FOR FRAY

(Continued from page 1.) Toured and the playing position will be in the hands of Lester Kirkpatrick, playing his third and last season for the Vandals.

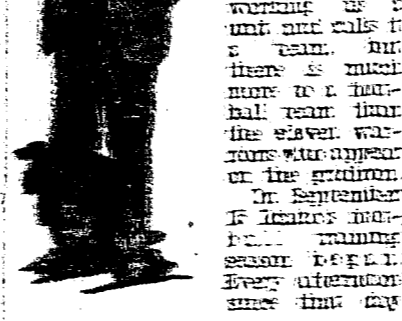

Bullhogs Speaks. The Gonzagans have a light, fast, quick and with Matthews in the team they couldn't help but have a good record. Matthews told his radio audience Wednesday night what he was going to do in his power attack and his "over passes." It's the same cocky attitude that used to have his teams pass from behind their own goal lines and do well to anything that the opponents were not expecting.

Opposing the Galloping Swede will be Steve McKenna, a 180 pound youth who plays halfback and who, according to Spokane press agents has inherited the best traits of an end and a piece of lightning gone crazy. Fanny Hunt-

Vandal Eleven is Directed By Big Managerial Force

Tomorrow afternoon when the Vandals play their Michigan lead we will see 30 husky athletes prepared for the biggest game of the season.

How did they reach the point where they play from 100 to 200 yards? The average football fan sees eleven men wearing a uniform and calls it a team. But there is much more to a football team than the eleven who come out on the gridiron.

Some of the dinner guests Wednesday were Mrs. Smith, Helen Young, Fern Currier, Mildred Patterson, Sara Simons, Evelyn Sunders, Bernice Schwartfield, Catherine Turk.

hour coaches 15 managers, and thirty-five players have been working to perfect the machine that you will see in operation tomorrow. Every one knows the part of the players in making this machine run. The work of the coaching staff is equally well known. The main manager of the staff is not well known, however, it makes up an integral part of the organization that makes a football team.

The heart of the corps is the general manager, George "Cap" Horton. In him falls the task of buying all the equipment. The next cog is the senior manager, Frank Wintzler. He oversees all details and he must be all things to all men. Under him are three junior managers, Earl Beauder, Will Young and Abe Moss. They in turn direct four sophomore managers, Alvin Anderson, Bob Vincent, Ken Richards and Raymond Spencer. The whole organization rests on a swarm of freshman managers varying from 2 to 4 on the college to a veritable horde when the weather is pleasant. These managers check and issue equipment, pack water, the team moves, serve with a smile, every afternoon demands and in general give near man's effort until it is weather is too cold or colder.
