After two quiet weeks, society is showing a spurt of energy, and six house dances this week-end will give vent to some of the "pep" that has been gathering during the lull.

A formal dinner dance to be given by Phi Delta Theta upperclassmen on Saturday evening will be the outstanding event of the next few days.

Five informal dances will complete the dance list. Phi Gamma Delta, Lindley hall, and Ridenbaugh hall dances are scheduled for tonight, and Delta Chi and Forney hall dances will be given tomorrow evening.

On Sunday afternoon there will be the university orchestra concert at the auditorium and the Hays hall formal reception. Two social affairs on a single Sunday are unusual at Idaho.

SO THEY SHOW

Kenworthy, Friday.—"Red Hot Rhythm" and lots of jazz from the Frivolity night club is in this romance of Tin Pan Alley, but the plot really isn't so hot—weak despite its complications. The cast of comparatively new stars includes Alan Hale, Walter O'Keefe, Josephine Dunn and Kathryn Crawford.

Saturday—"Shanghai Lady" is an adventurous and colorful story of modern China about Cassie Cook, the most attractive and tempestuous of the white girl inmates of Madame Poly Voo's "tea" shop, and "Badlands" McKinney, a white derelict. Mary Nolan and James Murray head the cast.—Good.

Sunday and Monday.—"Darkened Rooms" deals with the evils resulting from fake spiritualistic practices. Although the cast is good, it's the type of play eighth-graders like to stage for graduation night. Starring are Evelyn Brent and Neil Hamilton.

PART TIME WORK OFFERED STUDENTS

Stenographic Exams Given Next Tuesday Afternoon Dr. Mosher Announces

A stenographic test for students who wish part time work will be given Tuesday, January 21, at 1 o'clock in room 301, Engineering building, it was announced by Dr. Raymond M. Mosher, who has charge of student employment. Dr. Mosher urged that all who are interested in securing stenographic positions take the test, because the eligibility lists are almost exhausted, and all candidates must have their test scores registered before their names can be placed on the list for jobs. Before taking the test candidates must secure permits from the personnel office, Doctor Mosher stated.

Frequent calls come into the Personnel office for stenographers, Doctor Mosher said, and these temporary jobs often lead to per-

D. G.'s Get All Hot and Bothered When Furnace Shows Life

When a Delta Gamma pledge answered the phone last night, she received the startling news that the roof was on fire. She promptly entered the realm of hysterics and notified the fire department that the house was about to become ashes.

After the alarm was turned in she ran out in the hall and gave vent to a couple of screeches that aroused every one within a mile radius. The D. G.s grabbed their favorite photos, male or female—an extra pair of silk hose and dashed excitedly out of the house. Only to find that it was all a cold mistake.

The furnace had been fired too heavily, causing a volcanic shower of red sparks to burst out the chimney. They blazed into the air and died out, falling harmlessly on the snow covered roof.

When the "fire brigade" arrived they let loose a few muttered curses and put out the fire in the furnace. The band of coolly dressed, giggling girls was sent back in the house with the warning to investigate first after this, and to remember the wolf story. The crowd dispersed and an Argonaut reporter shuffled down the street swearing at fate and women because he didn't get a scoop.

ARCHITECT WILL LECTURE HERE

English Club to Hear Talk on Cathedrals Tuesday Evening; Brings Pictures.

Donald L. Whitehouse, Spokane, prominent northwest architect, will give an illustrated lecture on famous cathedrals at a meeting of the English club next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the L. D. S. institute, according to an announcement from Zelda Newcomb, president of the club. Each member of the club may bring one guest as was allowed for the first meeting when Mr. Sarah Truax Al-Albert read a play for the group.

Mr. Whitehouse has studied in foreign countries and is an authority on classical and modern types of buildings. He is architect for St. John's Episcopal cathedral in Spokane, now under construction, as well as many other important edifices. The lecture to the English club is to be accompanied by colored slides of the best European and American cathedrals. Invitations to art and architecture students of the university have been sent out by officials of the club.

ECONOMIST COMING FOR HOME EC LECTURE

Dr. Hildegarde Kneeland, economist for the home economics bureau at Washington, D. C., will reach the University of Idaho on Sunday, January 19. On Monday she will conduct conferences with members of the home economics department here.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics fraternity, are entertaining Dr. Kneeland Monday at a luncheon at the Moscow Hotel.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

There will be a meeting of the Cosmopolitan club Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the U-Hut.

MEETING NEXT TUESDAY

The Interfraternity council will meet next Tuesday to discuss special business, officers of the organization said last night. The meeting will be held in the L. D. S. seminary, beginning at 9 o'clock.

Preparing For Night Nap Like Arctic Zone Parade

A thermometer is a handy gadget to tell temperature by but they aren't necessary in a fraternity house—especially in the winter time.

Pyjamas tell the tale with surprising accuracy. Some of the wild figures on them might lie but their woolly warmth never does. It is as cold as old blue blazes when the boys start parading up the hall toward the sleeping porch clad in "heavies"—the night variety, of course—with the pants-legs tucked into thick golf socks, and stocking caps pulled down over their ears.

WOMEN SELECT BALL CAPTAINS

Throckmorton, Hughes, Mouatt, and Swayne Head Class Teams; Plan Dance Festival

The election of a rifle manager and appointment of four basketball captains constituted the chief business of W. A. A. at its monthly meeting Tuesday evening.

Helene Hilfiker defeated Dorothy Perkins in the election for rifle manager. She will replace Marylou Craven who was elected last spring but who withdrew from school several weeks ago.

The following basketball captains were appointed by Miss Verma McDonald, W. A. A. adviser, and Velma Myers, basketball manager: Marjorie Throckmorton, senior; Olive Hughes, junior; Helen Mouatt, sophomore, and Rhoda Swayne freshman. Basketball teams will be chosen next week.

"Taps and Terpsichore", the annual W. A. A. dance festival will be given this spring as usual, it was voted by W. A. A. Although the affair is costly and requires a great deal of preparation, it was decided that the attendance proved that students and townspeople enjoyed the dancing program.

A swimming meet will also be held this year, it was announced by Corona Dewey, swimming manager. Practice hours will be from 10 to 12 o'clock every Tuesday and Thursday, from 2 to 3 o'clock on Friday, and on Saturday from 9 to 12 o'clock in the morning and from 2 to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Just one week remains in which students may complete registration for the second semester, Miss Ella Olesen, reminded the student body yesterday. All details except payment of fees must be finished by January 25, she said. Very few had filed schedule cards up to last night and less than a score had gone through the entire performance from application blank to bursa's receipt.

for bed, except that a few more mufflers and heavy overcoats are to be seen on the dash for the sheets. It's just two jumps, three expletives, and one howl from the door of the sleeping porch to anybody's bed, distance regardless.

The co-eds have adopted the same procedure, most of them piling on two or three suits of py-jamas, a kimona, and fleece lined slippers in an effort to keep refrigeration on the outside.

One young fraternity man solved the problem of that first chilling leap into bed by ironing his pillow into comforting warmth during the zero hour—before the shivering charge. The idea is working out nicely he says and he proposes to carry it still further and warm up his sheets the same way. Sheets are too cold for the average. Double blankets with the secure middle at the foot of the bed aren't warm enough for most of the campus.

But Dr. Miller isn't wearing his ear muffs yet so it can't be very cold.

TOWN MEN ANNEX CHAPTER AT W. S. C.

T. M. A. Expands to Pullman Campus at Installation Ceremonies Tonight

Expansion of Tau Mem Aleph, Idaho town men's social and service group into a northwest organization with possibilities of becoming national in extent will be started this evening at the Commons, State College of Washington campus, when the Independent club of W. S. C. becomes the second chapter of T. M. A. A joint banquet of members of both groups will precede the installation ceremonies.

T. M. A. was organized in April 1925 as a result of a revolt against campus political operations. G. K. Larson, and George Austin were instrumental in the foundation of the society, present officers report. The group was reorganized in the fall of 1927 and became a social and service group for non-fraternity men. Membership has been increased each year and more activities attempted. Last fall T. M. A. started an employment bureau for town men. A number of social activities have been sponsored and the annual smoker early in the fall is becoming a prominent campus event.

Officers of the Idaho chapter are Frank Cone, president; Charles Lynch, vice president; Archie Fuelle, secretary; and Sam Swayne, treasurer. Byron Doreen is president of the W. S. C. club which was organized in 1927. The movement for expansion into a national independent league was started last summer on the Idaho campus.

Show-goers Hear Collegian Duet—No Extra Charge

Two students—thought to be Ags—momentarily forgot either their Emily Post or their whereabouts in the Kenworthy theater last night, when they hogged the spot light for a few moments.

The song "Ramona" was flashed on the screen and every one was asked to sing, with the appointed director leading them. Our two heroes could not understand the short delay. They immediately began to bellow, shocking the newly installed acoustics. Then to cap the climax, they mistook the jeering and mocking for applause and bowed their thanks.

Not content with spoiling one song—if so mild a word may be used—they let forth their mighty discord in the next song, drowning out the harmony. And when they were asked to desist, they were insulted. Oh well, they must have been Frosh.

OREGON AND IDAHO SPLIT TWO GAMES

Stowell and Troy Thompson put the Vandals seven points ahead before Dolp sank the first one for Oregon. The Idaho five kept up their fast breaking tactics and scored 23 points while the Webfeet were bringing their total up to ten. Seven points in rapid succession by Oregon narrowed the gap 23 to 17 and ended the scoring in the first half.

Stowell went on a little spree of his own at the first of the second period and tossed the ball through the hoop four times before the Oregonians knew the game had started. McMillin dropped one in for good measure placing the Vandals in front by a 15 point margin. The Webfeet started their customary last minute rally but two field goals each by Keenan, Rubenstein and Olinger were not enough to cut down that 37 to 24 lead.

Harold Stowell, as usual, led the Idaho attack and scored 18 points to run off with high point honors. Keenan, Oregon guard, scored 15 points for the losers.

COLLEGE TANK MEN SCHEDULE MEETS

Prospects for an active season for Washington State varsity swimmers are seen with the possible arrangements for meets with Oregon State, Idaho, the University of Washington, and a Spokane team.

MAPLE COURT CHATTER

By Victor and Vere

The varsity returned yesterday from their Oregon invasion feeling better toward the conference situation than when they left. If confidence has anything to do with winning a ball game, the Vandals will not be outdone in this respect by the Cougars Saturday night of this week. The outcome of the past trip has left the Vandals far from overconfident, but they demonstrated to themselves that they were able to defeat the Oregon schools on foreign floors.

Those who remember the Cougar-Vandal series last year will in all probability see a much different brand of basketball displayed this year. While Idaho has retained practically the same strength, W. S. C. has improved a great deal as is shown by their excellent record to date. Friel's men copped both games from Oregon State and divided the University of Oregon series last week showing slightly more power than Idaho. The Vandals will offset this difference through the playing experience of a number of veterans while W. S. C.'s lineup consists almost entirely of sophomores.

The southern division got off to a flying start this week when U. C. L. A. jumped into the lead by a victory over Stanford and the Trojan five surprised followers by a win over California. The defeat of the Bruins handed the Cardinals was quite decisive while Southern California had a hard time in turning the tables on the Golden Bears, 30-28. As long as it is so early in the season and because it is impossible to observe these southern teams in action we will lay off the predictions and let this group struggle through the season by themselves to pick their champ squad for the north-south play-off.

The past week of play reveals little or nothing in the way of outstanding quintets in the northern division. If ever there was a close race in these parts, this year promises to be the one. The two Oregon schools, Idaho, and W. S. C. appear nearly on a par with the Cougars perhaps showing a little more strength so far. Washington, who has played no games as yet in the conference is an unknown quantity but will undoubtedly give everyone a battle, with the wealth of material they have on hand.

One of the most outstanding basketball men Idaho ever turned out was "Bus" Grimm. "Bus" was a star guard on the Vandal quintet during 1926 and '27. Since leaving school he has held the coaching reins at the high school at Gooding, Idaho. His football teams have met with considerable success when playing high schools of their own class, and while his basketball teams have lost numerous games he has developed good combinations. Canine is known in Southern Idaho as a good coach and will undoubtedly go higher as he gains more experience.

THE ORANGEMEN, Oregon State casaba tossers, found Idaho's Foxm on a tough aggregation when the two teams mixed at Corvallis last week. The Vandals sprung a surprise in the opening tilt, winning by an easy margin, but the next night Oregon State's crew tightened considerably and had to go the limit to put Idaho under.

MURROW TO ATTEND SESSION IN BELGIUM

N. S. F. A. President Declares Students Can Take Big Part in World Work

Ed Murrow, president of the Associated Students of the State College of Washington, who was recently elected president of the National Student Federation of America at the convention at Stanford university, will go to New York to an executive meeting early in June of this year and to an international students' convention at Brussels, Belgium, in August.

The National Student Federation, the purpose of which is to develop intelligent student opinion on problems of national and international importance, and to further world peace, acts independently of any political or religious creed. The sixth annual congress will be held at Atlanta, Georgia, December 28, 1930.

Student Interest Keen.
In regard to the recent convention, Mr. Murrow says: "I never expected to see so much interest in student affairs; everyone there had a definite purpose. We discussed student government, college publications, honor systems, and athletics. Student government seems to be more highly developed and more successful on the Pacific Coast than in any other part of the United States."

"A very important decision passed at our convention provides for the establishment of a local chapter of N. S. F. A. on the campus of every member college in the United States. The purpose of the organization will be to handle speakers' tours, foreign debate tours, and foreign student tours during summer vacations. Another motion provided for the compiling, by the N. S. F. A., of copies of the constitutions of all member colleges in the country, for informational purposes. Also, an international news release will be sent to every member college each week for publications."

TWO NAMED ON ARGONAUT BOARD

Mary Murphy and Ralph Hagan Will Assist in Selection of Candidate.

Two members of the Idaho Argonaut staff, Ralph Hagan and Mary Murphy Wednesday were chosen by the staff to serve on the publication's election board. Both were given a unanimous vote by the 30 members present.

The board, composed of the editor, managing editor, and the two elected members will select a candidate for the office of managing editor, who takes up his duties next fall. Talks were made by the editor and managing editor, both voicing appreciation for the co-operation of those present in the task of publishing the student newspaper.

Leo Reisman . . . Amos and Andy

Topmost on this week's roster of Victor records is a coupling of dance tunes that will not only keep you stepping, but shouting for more. It's a pair of fox trots from the M-G-M picture, "Chasing Rainbows" . . . and the way Leo Reisman and His Orchestra play them is just nobody's business. Do you like dance music with speed and gusto? This record has the answer. There's also a notable pair of radio entertainers with us this week . . . Amos and Andy, then whom there are none funnier. Just listen to "At the Bull-Fight" and see if you can keep a straight face! Chick Endor is on hand once more . . . this time with a pair of rib-ticking ditties from the Warner Brothers talkie, "Show of Shows." We'll be glad to play any of these records for you. Come and see us tomorrow!
