VANDAL-COUGAR NINES TANGLE HERE IN OPENER

Today's Tilt Starts Conference Season For Fox's Sluggers

BATTERY ANNOUNCED

Lindsey or Jacobs Will Start In Box; Wait Price Again On Receiving End

Idaho's 1930 conference baseball race will get under way officially this afternoon when Coach Rich Fox's Vandals cross bats with the Washington State college tossers on MacLean field. The game is scheduled for 2 o'clock. Tomorrow the two teams will meet in a return game at Pullman.

The Vandals after dropping the first two practice tilts of the season, came back in smooth style and captured three straight games from Whitman to take the opening series three games to two. Washington State went into this afternoon's game as slight favorites since the Cougars have been hitting a fast pace from the start and have succeeded in winning their first eight practice contests.

Sluggers Hit Stride

However, the Vandals showed lots of stuff in the last three games, especially with the bat, and if the Idaho murderer's row is on today the best thing the Cougar hurlers can do is "throw 'em and duck". Fox announced last night that he would start Lindsey or Jacobs on the mound for the Vandals. The rest of the Idaho lineup will probably be the same one that worked in most of the practice games with Whitman. Wait Price, veteran receiver, who has been giving opposing fielders plenty of exercise, will start behind the bat. Price had a bad year in 1929 but he has been flammng the ball all over the lot this season and he has cleared the bags a couple of times without stopping. The initial sack will be guarded by Frank McMillin, another veteran and also part of the Idaho wrecking crew. Monk Halliday at second, Merrill Greeling in the short patch and Carl Kyrsten at third will complete the Vandal infield with an all-veteran combination. The outer gardens will probably be covered by Hugh Duffy and Elmer Johnson, lettermen, and Shurtiliff, Corkery or Wenzler.

W. S. C. Lineup

Coach Buck Bailey's Cougars will start with practically the same team that placed second in the northern division race last season. Kermit Warden or Hilting Nelson as both veteran chuckers, are slated for mound duty with Frank Mitchell receiving. Three reserve hurlers, Oscar Jones, Kari Norby and Claire Pritchard will be on the bench in case the Vandal stickmen start doing big things.

The rest of the Cougar opening lineup will probably include Tuffy Ellingsen, first base; Mel Lee, second base; Art McConvey, second base; Archie Buckley, third base; and Mavard Ludberg, Earl Mitchell and Marvin Koster, outfielders. Lou Hull and Robbin Dickson, catchers, will complete Bailey's first string outfit.

Following the W. S. C. series, Coach Fox's men will make a six-game tour, meeting Washington at Seattle, May 2 and 3; Oregon State at Corvallis, May 5 and 6; and Oregon University at Eugene, May 7 and 8. The Vandals return in time for another pair of tilts with W. S. C. Idaho plays 14 conference games during May.

Dead-Line Dinner For News Sleuths Will Bring Out Scandals

All those who have had incidents in their private lives divulged by some struggling "news-hound" on the Argonaut staff, rally round! Friday evening, May 9, at 6 o'clock, you may "chose" your offender. Portables under arm, blue pencils over their ears, and copy bulging from their pockets, all the members of the staff are gathering together at the Blue Bucket to exchange stories. This affair, which is held annually is called the "Dead-Line Dinner", and as there will be accommodations for only thirty-five, those who wish to be present are advised to make their reservations early. Don't delay making your reservations in hopes you will get a date, for it is to be a strictly no-date affair—every man for himself.

The term "staff" includes all copy readers, proof readers, business managers, editors, humorists and reporters, regardless of their official capacities. Bring your notebooks along, for Cedric d'Esam as toast-master should make it worth your while. Charles Giltroy, who always either sees the humor in news, or puts it in will be chairman.

It is hoped that the reporters who are accustomed to bring their copy in late will arrive in time for the second course.

VANDALS TO RUN IN WASHINGTON RELAY CARNIVAL

Anderson Will Enter Nine Men in Seattle Event

CHANCES LOOK GOOD

Idaho Sure to Place With Formidable Group of Distance Men

With its most formidable array of cinderpaths artists assembled in recent years, Idaho expects to cop many points in the eleventh annual Washington relays at Seattle May 3. Coach Otto K. Anderson was pleased over the showing of his men in the Whitman meet at Walla Walla last Saturday in which Idaho's performers romped off with a 87 to 44 victory, taking 11 firsts. Anderson's men are working at a strenuous clip in preparation for the Seattle relays.

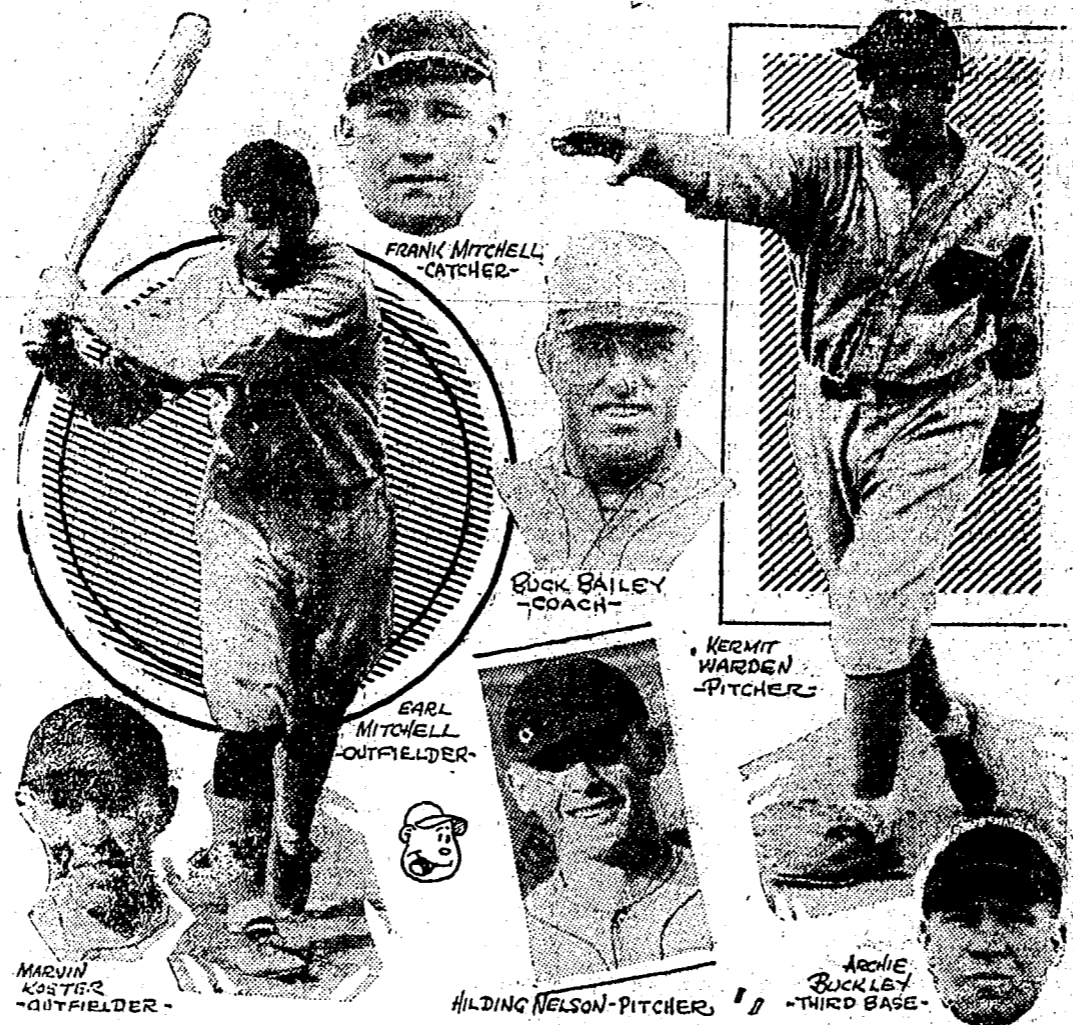

Coach Anderson will test the mettle of his men in another practice meet on MacLean field Saturday, a call having been issued for both varsity and rook performers to turn out in full force. The greater part of the time will be devoted to training members on the relay teams. After the Washington relay carnival, May 3, Idaho will oppose the Washington State college cinderpath men in a dual affair here, May 10.

Thomas Nears Varsity Mark

Several early-season marks were bettered in time trials by Vandal Harold Wednesday of this week. Harold Stowell, Charles Hoppe and Jim Hawkins set good accounts of the half-mile grind. Stowell covering the two laps in 1 minute 58.8 seconds. Heath in 2 minutes 1.8 seconds and Hawkins

INVADE VANDAL CAMP TODAY

Coach Buck Bailey and a sextet of his tossers are shown above. Warden or Nelson will start on the mound this afternoon against the Vandals and the big bats of the Mitchell boys are being counted on to furnish lots of excitement for Idaho pitchers. Today's game will be the first conference contest for either team.

THETA SIGMA HEARS WOMAN JOURNALIST

Hannah Hinsdale is Honor Guest at Matrix Table Banquet

Hannah Hinsdale, Spokesman-Review columnist, spoke on the topic, "Confessions of an Interviewer," at the second annual Theta Sigma matrix table here Wednesday night.

Miss Hinsdale, who is Mrs. Harry Hawkins, when not writing, or lecturing, told 135 guests of Theta Sigma, journalism honorary, that interviewing is very easy. "You just ask questions—what is your favorite flower, your pet nightmare or something like that," she recommended with a smile.

"When I was out for my first interview," she recalled, "I didn't get to see the woman so I interviewed her wardrobe. You girls are coming back to that style of clothes if you're not careful. Why, they weren't gowns, they were epics!"

Saw the Famous

Famous people seem to have been her specialty. Alma Gluck, Schuman-Haack, Hoppe of the great billiard player, Joseph Hoffman, are a few of them. She said that Hoppe and Hoffman, are much alike in spite of their diverse occupations.

Miss Hinsdale spoke of the almost unimplicity and kindness of the great. She has found snobbishness only among their secretaries or maids.

"Journalism is as interesting as life itself," she summed up her profession.

Songs and skits also were given by university students during the evening.

HORSESHOE PLAY NEARS CLIMAX

B League Semi-Finals Next on Schedule; Results Are Released.

Play in the B league horseshoe tournament is rapidly drawing to a climax, according to information released last night by Ambrose Adams, manager. The next game scheduled is a semi-final tilt between the L. D. S. and Ridenbaugh ball squads. The winners of the match will meet the Phi Deltis in the finals of the league. Much slower progress is reported from A league, where only one game has been played to date.

In the opening game of B league, the Phi J team nosed out the Kappa Sigs with two out of three after dropping the opening game 21-14. The Phi Gams took the remaining two contests 21-19 and 21-10. Other results included a Phi Delt victory over Delta Chi, 21-9; Ridenbaugh's 21-19, 21-13 rode the Lindley men to defeat with their 21-11.

The second series again began with the Phi J's when they were defeated by the 21-16, 21-17 to the Phi Gams. Lambda Chis won from the Town Men 21-10, 21-7. The Beta Chis and the T. K. E. game was postponed because of mud.

Lindley defeated the Sigma Nus in the first game of the A league series, and the L. D. S. won from the A. T. O. when they failed to show up for their game.

Gold Axe emblems and "S" cards are to be awarded to the famous "twenty-one" who recaptured Stanford's Axe from the University of California.

FROSH MEET W. S. C. COURT SQUAD HERE

A three man tennis team representing Idaho freshmen will play W. S. C. frosh on the Idaho courts Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Upon the success of the match, the first for the Vandal rooks, will probably depend the chances of the Idaho men going to Whitman later in the season.

ARTIST MORINI HERE SUNDAY

Noted Singer Scheduled For Concert in University Auditorium

Sunday afternoon Miss Rosalind Morini, premier coloratura soprano, will give a concert in the university auditorium at 4 o'clock. Miss Morini is appearing on the campus through the efforts of the A.S.U.I. in determining to find out if there is enough campus interest to warrant the revival of the artists' course.

Praise by critics has been given Miss Morini on this trans-continental tour. The control of her tone gradations is remarkable according to competent authorities. The ability to commence with a clear tone full of force, and then reduce to a mere whisper in mezzo range is a remarkable ability of the talented performer.

Miss Morini sings in several languages, all which are spoken by her off the concert stage. This is an accomplishment since many singers learn their foreign language pieces by means of the phonetics.

Long years of intensive study will be shown by the artist. However, she is an artist of today, and not a worn out celebrity of the past.

"JOB OF AUTHOR" MONDAY LECTURE

Miss Anna Bird Stewart, poet, reader, and lecturer, will address members of the English club Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the L. D. S. institute. All members, including those who have qualified for the past semester have been invited to attend by Zelda Newcomb, president of the program committee. All English faculty members have been invited.

"The Job of Being an Author" has been selected as Miss Stewart's subject for the Monday evening address.

Miss Stewart is the author of six books for children and has been lecturing on literary subjects for several years. As her writings are well known she has frequently been asked to read from them. A Shakespeare fantasy of Miss Stewart came to the attention of Jessie Bonstelle, now director of the Civic Theatre of Detroit. Miss Bonstelle produced this play and commissioned Miss Stewart to write a new version of the French farce "Mam'zelle."

The author is being brought to Moscow under the joint auspices of the English club, Parent-Teachers association, Moscow High School and the Kiwanis club.

Miss Stewart is a former pupil of Dr. George M. Miller, head of the Idaho English department.

R.O.T.C. INSPECTION COVERS ALL PHASES

Detailed Examination of Student Army to Take Three Days

Annual inspection of the Idaho R. O. T. C. regiment will take place Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Class room work, inspection of equipment, reviews, parades, and tactical exercises will constitute one of the most thorough inspections the Idaho cadets have ever been put through, the military staff said.

Major S. S. Eberle, Fort George Wright, Spokane, will conduct the detailed inspection. Col. Edmund C. Wadill, Ninth Corps Inspection officer with headquarters in San Francisco, will review the regiment Thursday morning. Colonel Wadill has made several previous inspections of the Idaho student soldiers.

Tuesday morning will be devoted entirely to theoretical work in the class rooms. First aid, musketry, operation of the automatic rifle and the machine gun will be taken up by the freshman, sophomore and junior classes respectively. Tuesday afternoon exercises will be conducted on MacLean field. All movement from squad drill to passing in review will be gone through by the cadets. Shelter tent pitching is also part of the afternoon's program.

Wednesday morning he senior men will be examined on class room work in military field engineering and combat principles.

Thursday evening a dinner dance will be given at Moscow hotel by Scabbard and Blade, military fraternity, in honor of Colonel Wadill. All regular officers of the military staff will be present.

WEATHER SLOWS TENNIS MATCHES

Postponed Matches of Intramural Doubles Tourny to Be Played Off Today.

The first round of the intramural doubles tennis tournament has been slowed up by the weather and the sickness of players. Four of the eight matches scheduled for last Wednesday and Thursday were postponed. The postponed matches must be played off Friday afternoon if the weather permits, according to Stanton Hale, manager. The winners of the first round will be notified Saturday morning as to whom and when they will play in the semi-finals of each league.

In the first match of the season the Kappa Sigs represented by Smith and Maxfield defeated the Phi Gams in two straight sets, 6-2, and 6-4.

Ennis and Carpenter helped the Sigma Nus along by a win over Ridenbaugh in three hard fought sets, 6-2, 2-6, and 6-2. Carpenter's serve was the deciding factor throughout.

Alpha Tau Omega was hard pushed to earn a victory over Ridenbaugh hall. After three fast sets the A. T. O. team, Springer and Grant defeated the hall 7-5, 3-6, and 6-4.

The match between the Phi Deltis and the Delta Chis was postponed till Friday because of the water on the courts.

"A" League.
Beta Theta Pi drew a bye in the first round because Senior hull was unable to put up a doubles team. The remainder of the games in "A" league were postponed until today.

Hit And Run Hoax Story in Co-ed Issue Spread by Press Wire

Charles O'Donnell, a fictitious character, who has been believed to be lying at death's door as a result of a hit and run accident Monday evening, has had his name in print in several Idaho newspapers and the wires of the press have clicked the false information. The coed Argonaut last Monday carried a story on the front page relating that a certain Mr. O'Donnell, of Lewiston, had been hit and nearly killed in the street near the A. T. O. house. The story was phoned in to the coed staff as a joke by members of the regular staff, on vacation for the evening. Unable to check on the authenticity of the story, the women let it go.

The campus wondered when the paper came out. Many inquiries were received at the house where the man was supposed to be a pidge. Before night the news of the hoax had been spread generally about the campus and the women came in for considerable razzing.

The next day the story was printed with variations by the Daily Star Mirror. The story also is said to have been printed in the Lewiston Tribune.

As far as can be ascertained Charles O'Donnell, of Lewiston, never existed. He was not run down and injured. Not a single item of the story is true.

GRIDIRON BATTLE SATURDAY CLOSES SPRING PRACTICE

Calland to Send Grays and Reds Together in Grand Windup

SCRAPPY GAME LOOMS Both Elevens Primed For Big Time; Carlson And Bessler to Lead Squads

Two evenly matched elevens, the "grays", piloted by Harold Carlson, regular end, and the "reds", led by William Bessler, regular tackle, will clash on MacLean field tomorrow in the first football game of the year. The game marks the culmination of five weeks of spring training for 50 or more football candidates.

The opposing teams for Saturday's windup classic have been on an edge for the coming fray since early last week and every indication points towards a close and hard-fought struggle. Starting time of the game has been set for 2:30 p. m. Officials will be selected from the "I" club.

Several regulars will be seen in action tomorrow. Carlson will lead the strategy of the "grays" while Bessler has been assigned a similar duty for the "red" forces. Waldemar Pederson, regular signal barker and Howard Berg, captain and regular halfback, are on the reserve list. Among the reserves from last fall's squad who have been showing up good in spring practice, are Art Norby, end for the "reds" and Booker, fullback, for the "reds".

CAMPUS SPOTLIGHT CENTERS ON JUNIOR STUNTS; FUN REIGNS

Assembly Draws Packed House; Serenades Sets Off Big "Week"

PARADE HUMOR RIOT Group Floats Draw Roars of Laughter; Prom Tonight's Feature

From the time the first junior "gob" lid was donned Monday morning to last minute preparations for the premier social event of the year—the Junior Prom tonight—the class of 1931 has been much in evidence on the campus this week. All traditional events of the big "week" have been carried out with marked success. "Down with Drudgery" the theme song of the week has been the subtle pervading all functions of the class.

A large crowd is expected to attend the prom at Elks' temple tonight. A 10-piece dance band and an unusually cool ballroom are the only features of the dance. Frank Dora, class chairman, will release Junior week was officially opened Tuesday evening by the annual campus serenades. Under the leadership of Harold Packer and his orchestra, about 25 members of the class presented a varied musical program to each women's house. This event came as a complete surprise and many regretted having slept through it.

The second event on the week's program was the assembly Wednesday morning in the auditorium. An unusual amount of interest was shown, and many were forced to crowd the exits and the windows. The assembly was opened when the seniors with canes and swagger sticks marched in a body to a section reserved for them. The program proper was presented when Charles Gray will play the piano, introduced Ralph Hagan, assembly chairman and entertainer.

The opening selection on the program was the presentation of the class song written by several members of the class, and ably rendered by a selected chorus. As an encore number, the group sang Silver and the Gold, one of Idaho's most cherished songs. A complete orchestra, composed of juniors received round after round of applause.

A well balanced ensemble of songs, presented by a trio composed of Norman McGinty, Gene Ware, and Harold Loffin, who sang a varied selection of harmony numbers. This was followed by a brass trio composed of Charles McConnell, Frank Warner and Kelly. Both acts drew liberal applause.

A tap dancing skit, presented by Ralph Hagan and Mildred Axtell, showed real talent and originality. Humorous costumes and novelty steps were featured in the act. Delusions and clever magic tricks were performed by Ralph Ormsby and Emily Osgood. Hat tricks, money hiding and daring gun acts were featured by the group.

The final event on the program was "Taps and Tarantines", a frolicsome chorus burlesque of the festival, with Charles Herndon, Charles Croft, Merle Frizzelle, John Croy and Bruce Blake taking part. Ballet dancing in clever take-off costumes left the crowd in an uproar.

Rats Real Martyrs to Science; Lucky Ones Sip Good Alcohol

By Jahobad
Martyrs to the cause of science and the psychology department! An entire colony of white rats take their daily sip of good alcohol; the rats have their daily exercise. And there is one set of rats that sit in an electric chair each day.

Yesterday afternoon was a big day in the garage back of the Ad building. Twelve more rats saw the light of day. They came to late to be included in the census. A large wire drum turned by an electric motor is used for the fatigue tests. The rats are not educated to escalators as yet, and the majority refuse to do road work. Out of the 14 rats used in the fatigue test, only about six will keep running. One rat is the super-rat of the outfit. He would cling to the wire, ride up to the top, and then drop down on the axle where he would carefully balance himself until shoved by Dave Cook.

And those rats have personalities. Some are affectionate. Others are gangsters, and pick a fight at every opportunity. Some are sluggards. Others are always on the jump and full of pep. One of them is a philosopher; he sits in the corner and meditates on the frailties of his keepers.

MINE FRATERNITY PLEDGES FOUR MEN

Taylor, Cremans, Johnson and Salskov Chosen by Sigma Gamma Epsilon

One senior and three sophomores in the Idaho school of mines were pledged to Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national honorary mining, metallurgy and geology fraternity at a recent meeting.

Richard Taylor, senior mining student, Joe K. Cremans, Roy Johnson and Karl Salskov, sophomores were selected. Scholarship and professional attitude being the primary requisites upon which membership is based.

The Idaho chapter was installed nationally last spring, the honorary being the only one to include the entire field of the mineral industry. There are three chapters in the west.

Purity, Booze, "Pins," Fetes Brighten Snappy Parade

By a Chilly Spectator
Junior week reached one of its high points last night with the staging of the "grand" parade. From our hurried glance over the shoulders of two football heroes, a lady with a hat, and a tree on the Delta Chi corner we gathered a somewhat fleeting impression of May queens—purity leagues—Phi's—May queens and attendants—Sigma Nus—Amos and Andy—"Pins"—and more May Queens, pages, dancers, Greek gods, etc.

No prizes were offered this year and no decisions had been announced this morning.

Old flivers—so old they're almost classed as relics—carrying anything from Amos and Andy to a wedding procession and clean up brigades (Hooray for the A. T. O.'s), anything from bath tubs and scrub brushes to purity leagues—all appeared in due time.

Even the Sigma Nus co-operated. Marching to the solemn strains of "Bring Out the Old Silver Goblet" they attended wit h great pomp and ceremony the hearse of John Barleycorn. Charles Graybill, bass president, piloted the "hack". The controversy about the Ag-Lawyer banquet provided the inspiration for the Beta Chi float, a very popular one—and forty niner's and gold diggers, proving the Forney hall spirit, also made up part of the parade. The Thetas carried out a display of sorority pins—take your choice and don't rush. The Gamma Phi's fulfilled their aims with the god digger itea from 1890 to 1930, and the Alpha Phi's were close behind with their float of representative juniors.

It was back to the "sticks" for the T. K. E.'s, with their omnibus, and their portrayal of real honest to goodness "hillbillies". The idea that appealed to the general public was the one the Alpha Chi's and to come.

Dropping Off Superfluous Ceremony

DISCUSSION of the recent primary election with full realization of its futility has resulted in the drawing up of another amendment. The proposed change read in junior assembly by Aldon Tall, president of the A.S.U.I. would eliminate the expense and formality of all primary elections when they are obviously not necessary. The balloting last week decided nothing. With only one ticket in the field the process of voting was a mere gesture. Rumors of opposition remained rumors. Chances to start opposition to the Alpha party were not taken. The few candidates whose names have been written in on the ballot have expressed themselves as not choosing to run. The vote for the single party candidates must be repeated again May 1. The general election will be a duplicate of the primary. One or the other should be eliminated. It is certain that a group must have a general election. Therefore the general election must stay and the primary be junked until political interest on the campus demands its continued use.

If the amendment is passed the expense of paying an election committee of five persons forty cents an hour for three hours each will be done away with and students need only be urged to vote once a year for their student body officers. Group presidents and political leaders are agreed that it takes more than normal coaxing and urging to get students out to the polls now. If it should be that more than two candidates are nominated and choose to run for any office the primary election will be held, the new amendment provides. The date of the primary election will be set as before and the nominating assembly called two weeks prior to such a date. If no competition gets in the field with Alpha there will be no balloting until the general elections.

The amendment is one of the best suggestions offered for some time regarding spring elections. The primary election means absolutely nothing at all when there is only one ticket to vote. The candidates aren't put in office. No one is eliminated from the race—which is the real purpose of a primary—and opposition is not fired to action by the small vote returns.

With an enrollment of less than 2000 Idaho is not large enough for a primary election. If the campus was politically rabid, if there were half a dozen factions tearing each others hair, and clawing political plums from each other by all possible strategy the primary might be justified. As it is the first act of the voting ceremony may well be junked.

Fewer Snaps For Campus Day

WHEN the general chairman of campus day said that crews cleaning up sorority premises spent most of their time picknicking with the girls he "said a mouthful."

"Campus-day-Cleanup" has of late come to mean a day on which all the men on the campus try to get themselves on the laziest crew with the easiest job and vie with one another in doing the least work and telling "I" club members the biggest lies about how hard they are working. Positions on sorority house gangs were "pickings." It is a "pick" to rake a few leaves and burn a little rubbish behind a women's house while the fair coeds stand by and gossip with the workers, handing out cookies, lemonade, and feminine advice from time to time. It is as good as a date to a majority of men. As far as campus day work is concerned there isn't any. If there are projects on the campus that can be completed more efficiently by larger crews of men the general chairman is justified in cutting out the sorority house loafing crews. Even if there is nothing else for the men to do it is hardly fair for them to be required to put the private property of a group in presentable order. It is true that the men like to do it and would bid for the privilege. Sororities really haven't the right to expect the campus to furnish free labor for their spring yard work. They aren't part of the campus proper. They are private residences and should be operated by their owners without outside interference.

The men might well spend the morning of campus day working on their own houses while the women do the same. Or, if the arrangement of the past were to be continued, the women should go to the fraternity houses and do such necessary housework as making beds, cleaning rugs, scrubbing floors, washing windows, etc. It would only be fair.

The sororities, it is believed, would rather than the men not clean up the women's yards under such an agreement.

Campus day shouldn't be vacation for the women. Let them do something if it is only the cleaning of the gutters in front of their property. At all events it isn't to be the job of the men and campus day dates will be at a premium.

A Lasting Gift

A TROPHY case is needed for Vandal athletic cups and awards. The senior class is searching for a suitable gift to present to the university on commencement day. Two birds might easily be killed with one stone if such a case or a section of such a case could be built for the university and placed in Memorial gymnasium by the class of 1930.

Since the completion of the new gymnasium, trophies that were formerly displayed in two cases in the front hall of the "Cheese Box" have been gathering dust in the tower room of the new building. Idaho has some splendid trophies, several of which are of greater traditional value than anything else on the campus. They deserve to be properly cared in a cabinet which will give students and visitors an opportunity to view them.

The senior class could hardly find a more necessary and beneficial way of commemorating itself to the university.

Pleasing Thought Out of the Mire

JUNIOR music, junior humor, junior dancers, and junior magicians entertained a capacity audience at the traditional Junior assembly last Wednesday. They did it without resorting to cheap vaudeville humor of the "shades down" variety. The program was clean throughout. In one or two places it was a little soiled but there was nothing that could be branded as objectionable. The committee in charge and the entire cast of performers is to be congratulated.

Next Wednesday the seniors will have an opportunity to demonstrate that they too can entertain 1500 students for an hour without glutting garbage pails and incinerators for material.

It can be done. And the students like it. Keep it up.

Rain and wind are almost a part of the junior parade. Keeping this in mind the managers next year might arrange for a canoe and kite march.

A new supply of zefos is needed for the baseball score board. It is a beauty shame that nine weeks' quiz papers of sore-eye-special students cannot be used.

Interest in the Sunday library proposition waned as it rose. The next move should be a canvass to find out how many know whether there is a library or not, and if so, where.

THE Sack

By Ralph Hagen

The University of Oregon "Emerald" carries an article on deferred pledging, giving the advantages of the system. Oh well, we know some people who have had their pledging deferred three semesters already, because they weren't very efficient apple-polishers.

Women at Oregon State college must take a canoe test before they are allowed to go canoeing on their mill-pond. Just what is a canoe test, may we ask?

According to Mrs. Catherine Blunt of the University of Chicago, "college girls are today taller and larger than were their predecessors of a generation ago, because of better diet, lighter clothes and more outdoor exercise." We now take the liberty to predict that most of the co-eds on this campus will probably go back to short skirts.

At four o'clock in the morning on the fourth day of the fourth month certain students at Mississippi Valley college in Memphis, rang the class bell and planted figure fours all over the campus. Migosh, do they sell that stuff down THERE too?

The junior class at the university of California is to plant a grove of trees on the campus. Somebody must have told them about the marked success the Kappas are having with their newly-planted arboretum.

The editor of the Co-ed Argonaut is out gunning for the person who was responsible for the big hoax in the last issue of the paper. It seems that someone phoned that an S. A. E. had been injured by a car, the license number of which was 333. Heh, heh, the authorities ought to get Bus Grimm and his staff of Beta detectives on the trail of the guilty culprit.

Since this seems to be the open season on amendments to the ASUI constitution, how about an amendment to the effect that profs should not be allowed to flunk any students who write for the Argonaut, Bucket, or Gem?

The enjoyment of work was named as requisite to a brilliant career of an engineer, by a professor of physics at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

STUDENT OPINION

Dear Editor: As one of the "blooming idiots" who knows whether I'll be drifting once I have grasped within my hand the coveted shephkin I wish to tell the coed reporter who wrote such a nice little bit about the ambitions of senior men that she is slightly out in the cold, dreary damp and had better come in out of the rain before she is quite all wet.

What she said was that the group of senior men referred to had no plans for next year. What she should have said, is that she was not able to get them to tell her what they intend to do. What some of them did divulge was not printed.

To an ordinary inquisitive human being with a slight personal interest, any man in the senior class, or any others class for that matter, would be glad to tell his ambitions for the future. But to a reporter for the coed Argonaut who calls up late in the day and expects a detailed account over the phone nothing substantial will be told of such a matter. Graduating senior men will do plenty, but they would rather give out the information to reliable sources. A garbled account of life prospects would be most annoying.

Furthermore any reporter for any paper who will use as original such a trite, age-worn, decayed bit of humor as that crack about the flower of the family—the blooming idiot, is beneath the notice of the most drifting fourth-year man.

It was a nice little story, designed obviously from a woman's narrow point of view. It wasn't quite as false as another on the front page but it was gathered from about as much detail.

DRIFTING IN FLAMES

BANKERS LEARN FARM THEORIES

Second Annual Short Course in Agriculture to Be April 25 at Idaho.

Northern Idaho bankers will receive up-to-date information on agricultural matters pertinent to their communities at the second annual bankers' short course at the University of Idaho, April 25 and 26. Program for this gathering, sponsored by the college of agriculture, the Clearwater group and the agricultural committee of the Idaho Bankers' association, has been announced by Dean E. J. Idings.

The session opens Friday morning, April 25, at 10 o'clock, with Frank Dahlstrom, chairman of the JUNIOR week activities occupy the great center of social interest this week, with the Junior Prom at the Elks' temple tonight and the Junior cabaret at the Blue Bucket tomorrow evening being the only dances scheduled for the weekend. Wednesday evening Matrix Table was given by Theta Sigma, local honorary journalistic sorority. Over one hundred outstanding women students and townswomen attended. Hannah Hinsdale, well-known journalist, was guest of honor and principal speaker.

Campus music lovers are looking forward to the concert of Rosalind Morgan, whose coming is sponsoring.

Next Wednesday Blue Key will hold an all-college dance at the Blue Bucket. This is the first function of its nature to be held in the middle of the week during the school year.

BLUE KEY FROLIC TICKETS SELL FAST

All-College Dance Wednesday For Benefit Track Visitors May 10

More than half the tickets for the Blue Key All-College Frolic next Wednesday had been sold last night it was reported by John Soden, chairman of the committee in charge. Blue Key members obtained tickets Wednesday morning shortly before the Junior Assembly and the sale began immediately following. Proceeds of the dance sponsored by the upperclassmen's service honorary will help defray the expenses of entertaining high school track athletes competing in the interdistrict meet on McLean field May 10. Blue Key has planned a banquet for the teams and coaches for Saturday evening. Interesting the high school men in attending the university after graduation is the main purpose of the banquet. A program of short speeches and Idaho songs is being arranged.

The dance, which will be last all-college "hop" in the Blue Bucket inn until June, will begin at 7:30 o'clock and special permission has been granted all women to remain out until 10:30. Blue Key members will turn in money for tickets sold to Soden Monday noon.

GEM EDITOR OFF TO MAKEUP BOOK

Allen Janssen, editor of the 1930 Gem of the Mountains, will leave for Boise tomorrow morning, where he will supervise the make-up of the book which is almost ready for the press. Wayne Blair, associate editor, and Frank Smuin, business manager, will join him in a few days to assist in the work. Janssen expects to be gone two weeks and the other two will probably be away about ten days.

PRIMARY MAY GO BY BOARDS

Amendment Would Eliminate One Election When Competition Nil

Unless the names of more than two candidates appear on the nomination ballot for ASUI offices in the future, no primary elections would be held if the proposed amendment read before the last student assembly meets with approval. The amendment is designed to do away with the expense and effort of conducting a primary election over a one-party ticket. The proposed change, referring to Section I, Article VII of the constitution reads as follows:

"There shall be a primary election held the third Thursday in April provided that there are no more than two candidates nominated for any office. There shall be a general election held the first Thursday in May."

Two other amendments, one referring to changes on The Argonaut staff, and the other to athletic manager awards, will also appear on the ballot at the coming election.

SENIORS MUM ON ASSEMBLY DOPE

Program Next Wednesday All in Dark; Promises Fortell Something New

"Sure the senior assembly is going to be good, and what's more, not a person on the campus is going to know a thing about it until the curtain goes up 10:12 next Wednesday morning."

Persistent questioning yielded nothing more than the above answer from Jess Egurrola, chairman of the senior assembly committee. More questioning, along the same lines, added nothing to the total of the other three members of the committee, Helen Kerr, Elmer Poston and Cecil Hagen.

Rumors on the campus are to the effect that the seniors will have something original, absolutely different from anything that has ever been staged on the campus before. That Bill Kershinski, Darwin Burgher and Lester Kirkpatrick will have parts is rumored, but all three "knew nothing about it" when called from The Argonaut office last night.

"Will it be something like the Junior assembly?" the reporter asked Egurrola. "Yes—it will be held on a Wednesday and in the auditorium," was his smiling answer.

He did say that a large bloc of seats would be reserved in the center section for members of the senior class. The assembly will be the last official function of the class to be held on the campus before commencement, June 9.

PRICHARD TO ATTEND SPECIAL ART COURSE

Head of Idaho Department Will Study at U. of Oregon Special Session

Prof. T. J. Prichard, head of the department of art and architecture, will be the University of Idaho's representative at a special advanced course of study in art to be offered at the University of Oregon summer session, under the auspices of the educational committee of the American Institute of Architects, announces President F. J. Kelly.

Eighteen institutions in the west have been invited to send representatives from their art and architecture departments. The Carnegie corporation of New York has granted a large sum of money to aid in this project. Harvard university, near Boston, Mass., has been designated as the institution in the east to give a similar course.

From this course Professor Prichard expects to obtain much new and valuable material to offer his students next year in courses in the history of art and art appreciation at the University of Idaho.

Whether or not the students of Oklahoma A. and M. college will have a student church, with student assemblies and representation, will be decided by a questionnaire to be circulated among the students.

Veteran Backstop Circles
Bases Twice During Series:
Twirlers Work Smoothly

Batting Clow's offerings all over MacLean field, the Vandals made three straight over Whitman and walked off with the series Tuesday afternoon. The final count was 8 to 1 in favor of the Foxmen and would have ended in a shutout if Hove had not scored for Whitman in the last half of the ninth inning after Greeling, Idaho shortstop, bobbled his line drive.

Idaho's two hurlers, Lindsay and Jacobs, allowed only a pair of hits each and kept these scattered. Kyselka started the parade for Idaho when he lifted one of Clow's pitches over the center fielder's head scoring Johnson and Corkery ahead of him in the first innings. Lindsay walked and scored to give the Vandals a four point advantage.

Poles Out Long One
Walt Price, Idaho catcher, connected for his second homer in so many days, when he rapped the ball deep in left field in the third inning. The bases were empty. The Vandals added another point in the fifth inning when McMillin reached first on an error and scored on Halliday's three bagger.

Two more runs were marked down in the seventh inning when Greeling hit safely and took third on Woten's error. Price walked and stole second. McMillin fanned and Halliday grounded out to pitcher. With two out, Struffel pinch hitting for Corkery, strooped into the ball and rapped out a lousy single which sent both Greeling and Price across the registering station and ended the scoring for the game.

back, Nels Fowles, end, Max Eiden guard and Bill Schutte, center for the "reds" and Martin Norby, tackle, Melvin Sackett, end and Lee Tyrrell, halfback, for the "grays." All were members of the strong yearling football aggregation last fall. In addition there is Emmert Davis, quarterback for the "grays," and member of the 1928 frosh team, who looks as a "triple threat" performer. The work of Wilson, this former, a regular quarterback position assignment next fall. A "ten-second" man, Wilson has proved to be very elusive in carrying the ball long and ripping off long gains through the line or by skirting the wings.

The burden of the ball-toting for the "grays" will be entrusted to Davis and Tyrrell, while Booker, Wilson and Schissler are slated for the ball-carrying tasks for the "reds."

The small fee of 10 cents will be charged students to the game, proceeds to be used to fete the spectators to a banquet.

Tomorrow's lineups are:

Grays	pos.	Reds
Carlson	L.E.	Fowles
Hall	L.T.	Carter
Gladhart	L.G.	Eiden
Hennings	C.	Schutte
Hokgan	R.G.	Morse

Sackett	R.E.	A. Norby
Davis	Q.B.	Wilson
Tyrrell	R.H.	Stein
Yalik	L.H.	Schissler
Solmit	F.B.	Booker

Utility men who will see action for either of the teams are Pederson and Sather, quarterbacks; Barr, Cannon and Killingsworth, halfbacks; Taylor, Lacey, Swindeman and W. Hall, ends; Murdoch, Warner and Brigham, tackles; Smith and Walsir, guards; Atkinson and Carnelf, centers.

The University of Southern California will be among the schools to operate under a policy of appointing a football captain before each game during their coming season.

in 2 minutes 4 seconds. John Thomas, crack yearling middle-distance runner, traversed the distance in 1:56, 1.2 seconds slower than Idaho's varsity mark. Ray Chisholm and Roberts, distance runners covered the mile in 4:55.2 and 4:47.4, respectively.

Other good marks were registered by Sig Jossis, June Hanford and George Hjort in the 330-yard dash and Bernard Lemp in the 70-yard high hurdles. Jossis ran the 330 in 35.2 seconds, Hanford in 36.8 and Hjort in 36.2 while Lemp was credited with 9.2 seconds performance in the 70-yard high hurdles.

Jossis, in capturing the century in 10 flat against Whitman and in winning the furlong in 22.8 has established himself as a foremost contender for sprint honors in the northwest.

Nine Men to Seattle. Idaho Against the Missionaries, Idaho revealed a weakness only in the field events. Stowell and Paul Jones, tied for first in the high jump contrary to earlier reports announced.

Nine men will represent Idaho in the relays. Heading the list of Vandal entrants will be Jossis and Hanford in the 100-yard dash, and Lemp in the high hurdles. Stowell, Florit, Hanford and Jossis form Idaho's half-mile and mile relay teams. Idaho's tentative quartet for the medley event is Norman Alford, 220-yard dash; Gregory Belsher, 440-yard dash; Dave Wiks, half-mile; and Charles Heath, mile.

Wiks, stellar miler, who copped firsts in the mile and half-mile at Walla Walla, is nursing a leg injury and may not be in condition for tomorrow's practice.

In capturing first in the high hurdles against Whitman in 15.7 seconds, Lemp unofficially clipped a tenth of a second off of the Idaho mark made by Jack Mitchell in 1927. Hanford and Jossis have both negotiated the century in 10 flat.

GLITTERING ARRAY AWAITS WINNERS

Long List of Prizes Offered
To Little International
Competitors

Six large trophy cups, 27 silver medals, and 12 gold medals, numerous merchandise prizes and ribbons will be a few of the prizes offered to winners in the "Little International" annual livestock show to be given by the Agriculture club in Lewis court.

The cups will be awarded winners of the judging contests, the following contests being held: dairy products, poultry, dairy, cattle, animal husbandry, grain, and sheep. These cups are donated by business houses of Moscow and also by the university herdsmen. The donors this year are: Moscow State Bank, First Trust and Savings Co., J. C. Penney company, Nordby Brothers, Washburn and Wilson Seed company, and Stanley Brown, University shepherd.

Governor May Attend
Prominent livestock men from various points in the northwest will supervise the contests, and a large crowd is expected. It is reported that Governor H. C. Baldridge may be present to award to the University Dairy herd the prize for being the first herd free from abortion in the state of Idaho.

The show will again be held in Lewis court, as the gun room has been removed and much more space will be allowed. This new space will be utilized in agricultural exhibits, and some very clever ones are being arranged, according to Oliver Espe, chairman of the show.

The manager is planning to add some features to the night's program, among these being a novelty rooster race.
