GRIDSTERS PASS PRACTICE FINALS WITHOUT MISHAP

Calland's Stars Survive Pre-season Workouts Without Serious Injuries

VANDALS LOOK GOOD Saturday's Scrimmage Revealed Many Good Points in Backfield

Despite the unfavorable turn of the weather yesterday, Coach Leo Calland will continue to push his Vandal squad to the limit, he reported last night, as the team went into the final week of pre-season grid. Idaho has gone through her practice schedule so far without serious injury and Calland expects all of his men to be in uniform when the Vandals are turned loose against the Montana State Bobcats here Saturday.

Calland refuses to comment on the outcome of Saturday's battle, but fans don't expect to see a non-conference team put the skins under the Vandal club this early in the season.

Saturday's scrimmage revealed some good points especially in the work of the backfield. June Hanford did some nice ball carrying while he was used at quarter. He drove the center of the line for consistent gains and showed himself adept at running interference. "Petey" Pederson performed in his usual flashy style and although fumbling the ball often through lack of practice, he should get the feel of it before the week is over and have a big day against the Eoman boys. George Wilson looks to be Idaho's best bet in a broken field. Once George breaks through the line he is a tough man to stop and will cause conference tacklers many a worry. Davis, last year's frosh product, also did considerable ball carrying Saturday and looked good enough to see plenty of action against the Bobcats.

Good Material.

In the line the play was ragged and clearly showed the lack of practice, but there is much material there and plenty of experience behind it. In spite of the ragged performance several men stood out, especially on the defense. Bill Schutte at center shows promise of developing into a real pivot man and at the rate he is traveling will be "there" by Saturday. Calland has given up all thoughts of worry over the guard situation. In Corkery and Elden he has a pair of guards equal to any on the coast. Both of these boys are young in experience, but more than make up for this handicap by possessing speed, strength and plenty of football brains. Sullivan, a transfer from the Southern Branch, looks good at tackle and bids fair to get the call on Saturday. The first scrimmage showed the Vandals will be strong at the ends. Taylor is a great defensive end and few plays are likely to travel far around his wing this year. Carlson, two-year veteran, is holding down the other end of the line in his usual fine style. "Horsey" should have a great year in this, his last for the Vandals.

Reserves Better.

The reserve situation is better this year but still not strong enough to free the coaching staff from continuous worry. If everybody gets safely by the two tough scrimmages in store for this week it is probable that the entire squad will see action on Saturday unless the going is too hard. The Vandals will probably not have to open up their bag of tricks against the Montanians, so Idaho fans will get the chance to see what Calland's men can do when resorting only to power plays.

FORESTERS WILL HOLD CAMPFIRE

The Associated Foresters will hold their annual campfire Thursday evening, September 25, at 6 o'clock in the university arboretum. The affair will be the first social event on the organization's calendar, and will be held in co-operation with Xi Sigma Pi, the national forestry honorary. A program of songs, stunts, and short talks, culminated by a meal.

Army Tailors Design Ritzy Rook Regalia; Being Issued

"You're in the army now, You're not behind the plow, You'll never get rich, Etc."

The famous old marching tune of the U. S. Army is going to have to be rewritten to provide the rooks with a theme song that will be in keeping with the sartorial splendor that they will proudly exhibit at the first drill.

No longer are the cadet officers the only members of the R. O. T. C. who can parade in military elegance before the admiring orbs of the freshman girls. Formerly, the shave-tails-to-be were the only ones entitled to wear snappy uniforms with brass buttons and pants. But today progress is in the ranks. Long lines of expectant rooks have been clamoring for the gold buttons, tailored coats, long pants, roll collars and over-seas caps. Sergeant Lonie Woods, who has been passing out the uniforms,

VARSITY FED AT TRAINING TABLES

Competition Is Strong for Positions at Squad Dinner

Plain, wholesome food and plenty of it is the menu for Idaho's varsity squad from now until the last whistle blows in Honolulu on New Year's day. Leo Calland announced the start of the training table at which the men will report for their meals from now on. The list of Vandals at the table includes Pedersen, Davis, Wilson, Berg, Hanford, Tyrrell, Wilkie, Booker, Schutte, Spaugy, Corkery, Elden, Lopez, Sprout, Bessler, Carlson and Taylor. The rest of the men on the squad will be put on the table as they work warrants. The above named men have the edge on date but with everyone fighting hard for positions the dinner table placecards may look considerably different before long. Seven sophomores were chosen among the "honored" seventeen and each of their names will adorn coast sport sheets many times this year. Not that this has anything to do with eating, but at that a good steak never did a grid squad any harm.

DR. BROSNAN HEADS NEW DEPARTMENT

History Professor here Since 1921 Receives Appointment From Vincent

A department of American history in the university and the appointment of Dr. C. J. Brosnan as its head was recently announced by D. W. Vincent, Commissioner of Education.

Dr. Brosnan, a professor of history at the university since 1921, is author of several outstanding historical works. His history of Idaho, published by Scribner's first in 1913 and reprinted in 1926, is the standard history used in the secondary schools of the state.

Wrote Mission History

As the thesis for his doctor's degree, received last year from the University of California, Dr. Brosnan made a study of the contribution made by Jason Lee, the pioneer Methodist missionary of Oregon, in the founding of that commonwealth. Authorities on history regard this as the only complete and comprehensive study of the Oregon missionary. This work soon will be published in book form. Two other historical studies made by Dr. Brosnan while at the University of California also have been widely acclaimed.

Came Here From Harvard

Dr. Brosnan received his bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan in 1905 and his master's degree from Harvard University in 1921. He came to the University of Idaho from Harvard. Prior to enrolling for graduate study at Harvard he was a teacher and administrator in the Boise public school system.

One of his achievements at the University of Idaho has been the development of the Annual trophy essay contest, sponsored by the Idaho chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution. Between 200 and 300 students have participated in this contest each year since its founding, writing on some political subject bearing on the making of the nation.

SMALL FULLBACK SHOWS SPEED

One of the smallest fullbacks in college football this season is Herbert Owens, Falls, Idaho's dynamic line plunger who leaves the scales on the minus side of 145 pounds. Owens, a senior, has played quarterback for the University of Idaho for the past two seasons but was shifted to fullback this year when Calland decided to concentrate on a speedy offense and build a midget backfield.

Owens is small for any position and putting him on a job that calls for 190 pounders in most schools may seem illogical to some but not to Calland. Owens is fast, he runs close to the ground and smacks into the line with all the drive of an express train.

Fred Walker, who will probably get the regular fullback job, does not quite reach 180 and John Booker, the other reserve full, weighs 167 pounds. Owens will be fullback in Calland's "pony" backfield.

SOPHOMORES WIN DECISION FROM YEARLING RIVALS

Frosh Will Wear Verdant Top-piece Until Christmas

SOPHS HIT WATER

Babes Take Easy Victory In Tug-of-war Event

Freshman-sophomore class rivalry was climaxed Saturday afternoon by the annual Hulme fight. The purpose of the annual encounter, according to history is to decide whether or not the green hats have to be worn on and after Thanksgiving day. If the freshmen are victorious, which they haven't been since 1916, they may discontinue their attire after the Thanksgiving holidays, otherwise they must be worn until Christmas.

Accordingly, under the close observation and supervision of the "T" club, the organized battle took place. The first event was a series of wrestling matches representing the pride of each class. Decisions went largely to the sophomores.

The boxing matches drew the wrath of the new Vandals since custom forced the freshmen to wear fifteen-ounce gloves while the next higher class was privileged to wear the usual eight-ounce mitts. Again the sophomores won the most points, and why not?

Saddle fights, pick-a-back race, Hulme fight, and tug-of-war were run off in the order named. The tug going to the freshmen with comparative ease.

The Bury the Hatchet dance at the Blue Bucket the same evening ended all class rivalry until this year's freshmen become members of the sophomore nobility.

VETERAN TACKLE

William Bessler will be the only veteran tackle in an Idaho uniform this fall. Last year he was a tower of strength in the line and even better things are expected of him this season.

A bill providing a fund of not more than $2,000,000 to help farmers install electrical devices on their farms has been passed by the Ontario legislature.

Frosh Innocence Is Capitalized By Witty Juniors

Oh, the poor innocent frosh, who they always remain pure and untarnished by this hardened, cruel environment.

From all sides, the frosh are waylaid, taken advantage of, and then given the big horse laugh. The other day a "business-like" sophomore, desiring a little money for a date, printed several "Arboretum" tickets—cash value 25 cents. The first victim was a little cautious, fearing that someone was putting up a job on him—and he remembered that his mother told him not to let anyone sell him unnecessary articles. The sale, however, was completed when a respectable upperclassman entered the room and verified the statement that unless a freshman had a ticket, he would not be allowed to partake of the employments of the large roadhouse located in the midst of the trees. As yet the victim still carries it in his billfold.

Another youngster, surprised his older roommate by inviting him to go over to the gym and play a game of pool. Inquiry into the matter found that the frosh had seen a sign in the Memorial gymnasium bearing the words "Pool".

Long live our lowly freshmen, may they get the last laugh after they get slapped.

BLUE KEY LISTS COMMITTEEMEN

Plans for Semester Outlined by John Soden at Meeting Yesterday

After a short business meeting of Blue Key, men's service honorary, held yesterday noon at the Blue Bucket, at which plans for the coming semester were discussed, John Soden, president, made appointments for the standing committees.

The committees named were: Russell Randall, and Will Young, president's committee; Bill Galigher and Murtha Cline, alumni committee; Harold Carlson, and Ken Egbert, athletic committee; and Wayne Blair and Ken O'Leary, publicity committee.

Additional appointments to special committees will be announced from time to time, Soden said.

ATWATER-KENT TEST THURSDAY

Students to Sing in District Contest in Auditorium

Preliminary tryouts of the local district for the $5000 award offered by the Atwater Kent Radio corporation in its National Radio audition, will be held Thursday evening, September 25 at 8 o'clock in the university auditorium. The contest is open to everyone, the only stipulation being that each contestant provide his own accompanist.

All participants will be required to sing behind a screen in order to eliminate personality or manner of presentation as a possible factor in the judging of the winners. As voices often undergo decided changes when reproduced the opinion of the audience will not be considered, and the decision will be left entirely to the judges.

A man and a woman will be selected from each district. The winners will then attend the state finals at Boise where they will sing over the radio. Here the opinion of the radio audience will count 60 per cent while the judge's decision will contribute 40 per cent.

The tryouts are being sponsored by the university music department under the direction of Professor Carleton Cummings.

POTATO GROWERS SELECT OFFICERS

Officials of the recently organized economic extension program for potato growers of Idaho, Washington and Montana met at the University of Idaho Monday to complete the organization of the north-west potato committee.

Harry E. Droblish, formerly with the state department of agriculture in California, heads the organization as secretary of the interstate committee which has its headquarters at Boise. With him at Moscow were Wells A. Sherman, marketing specialist with the bureau of agricultural economics, U. S. department of agriculture, and A. E. Mercker, secretary of the interstate potato committee.

J. W. FINCH, NEW DEAN OF MINES WIDELY KNOWN

Leading Mining Journals Pay High Tribute to Idaho's New Educator

EXPERIENCE VARIED

Is a Member of Delta Kappa Epsilon and Many Scientific Fraternities

Known and recognized as an authority in mining regions throughout the world is Dr. John Wellington Finch, Idaho's new dean of the mines school. So outstanding is he in his field that leading mining journals are commenting editorially on the university's good fortune in securing such a noted engineer to head its school of mines.

As a consulting mining engineer and geologist probably no man in the profession has a more enviable record. His career dates back to 1900 when he achieved distinction as a consulting geologist and engineer in Colorado. He has been employed by some of the largest mining syndicates in the world. Field work has taken him to most of the mining regions of the west.

After a year of travel and study in Italy, Switzerland, and France he returned to Colorado and resumed his consulting work in mining geology, being employed by leading operators in the United States and Canada.

Traveled to Orient.

Exploration for a syndicate made up of J. P. Morgan & Company, William B. Thompson and others, as vice president and general manager of the New York Orient Mines company kept Doctor Finch abroad for the next four years. This investigation extended into Japan, Mongolia, Siberia, China, India, Siam, Malay States, Straits Settlements, Dutch East Indies, Philippine Islands, Burma and Assam.

Industrial adviser to the governor of Yunnan, southwest interior of China, was Dr. Finch's next position, from 1920 to 1922. During that period he traveled in Africa for a group of New York financiers. As director of the Anglo-American Corporation of South Africa, Ltd., he represented American interests in a study of the gold region of the Transvaal, the diamond mines of mines of Southwest Africa and the copper mines of the Belgian Congo.

Before returning to the United States he traveled to the Near East to investigate the lands claimed by the heirs of Sultan Abdul Hamid at Mosul and other points in Mesopotamia, now Iraq, and incidentally the oil fields of Persia, Egypt and Syria.

Served at U. of Colorado.

Since 1926 Doctor Finch has been a member of the Colorado school of mines faculty, lecturing on geology and foreign oil fields. At intervals since 1910 he has served as a special expert for the United States department of justice in the investigation and prosecution of fraudulent mining promotions.

The World War found Doctor Finch engaged with the American Red Cross negotiating for food, clothing and hospital supplies for the western front in Siberia, China and Japan, prior to the outbreak of the bolshevik revolution.

"Who's Who" lists a whole paragraph of national scientific societies to which he belongs, and an imposing number of publications, including articles in leading technical journals of the country. His social fraternity is Delta Kappa Epsilon.

There will be a meeting of the Managers' club Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Sigma Chi house.

Lady Asks For Room At Tong; Frosh In Doubt About Rumors

An' our campus— We have a fraternity house, an' gee, it's swell. Big, and grey, and three stories tall, and ever-so-many rooms. An' there was a lady who just couldn't find any place to stay, so she came to our fraternity house, and rang our door-bell, 'an' said:

"Have you any rooms for rent?" An' our frosh who answered the bell said: "I, I dunno, I'll see."

BETA CHI HOUSE READY SATURDAY

Members Expect to be Moved Into New House by End of Next Week

The new Beta Chi is almost ready for occupancy, according to a statement made by Glenn Shern, house president, last night. The floors are in and sanded, and the wardrobes are installed. The only remaining work is the completion of the roof and plumbing. The building is several weeks ahead of schedule.

Moving from the old Beta house, where the fraternity has been living during the construction of their new house, will begin Saturday, and it is expected that they will be entirely installed in the new house by the end of next week.

Plans for a house opening are under way.

BOBCATS EXCEL PREVIOUS YEARS

"Best in Our History," is the Latest Challenge Issued From Montana Club

"The best looking material in years" is the recent report of several mid-western sport writers after a visit to the Montana State college football camp.

DeFrate, quarterback and Yeager, end, reported for practice last week and on the same day word was received that Mills, 200-pound tackle would also be available by the Vandal game on September 27.

DeFrate is the boy who crossed the line on the receiving end of a double lateral pass against the Vandals last year. One of Coach Dyche's greatest worries is the pivot problem. Nevertheless, he has secured 170 pounds, McLean, 165 pounds, and Hazen, the likeliest looking candidate, is sick at present and probably will not see action against the Vandals.

Captain Worthington has put on eight pounds during the summer and with his wing mate, McFarland, should care for the ends in very capable fashion.

Dyche has 11 ends, 13 backs and plenty of linemen this year, so is not as handicapped as in former seasons. Still he claims the reserves are not as numerous as he would like to see them so he keeps the hard scrimmage sessions at a minimum to avoid injury to any of his men.

Although the scrimmages have been cut, the Bobcats will have the advantage of a game over the Vandals next Saturday as the Bozeman lads took on the Centerville Independents last week and no doubt benefited from the experience. The men who showed best in that game will be on hand to battle Idaho while the rest of the boys will play the Anaconda Anodes in Bozeman the same day.

TELEGRAPH OPERATOR NEEDED

A request has been made by a telegraph concern for a man or woman student who has experience in operating a Simplex telegraphic machine. Any student who can fulfill the qualifications should call Mr. Theodore Turner, proctor as soon as possible.

HEADY QUARTER

Herbert Owens is another veteran back who should rip through opposing lines for heavy gains when the conference season starts. Owens has done his share of heavy work for two years and will undoubtedly continue to do so.

Six Successive Grid Tilts Start With Saturday's Game

Starting the 1930 Vandal season with the Montana State game at Moscow on next Saturday, the Vandals will play six successive week-ends, four of them out-of-town games. November 15 is an open date followed by games with Montana at Missoula and U. C. L. A. at Los Angeles. A breathing spell of two weeks and Calland will take his Vandals to the Hawaiian Islands for two games, one on Christmas with the University of Hawaii, and the other on New Year's day with the Honolulu All-Stars.

Last fall Idaho won handily from the Montana State eleven. Later in the season the Bobcats gathered strength and defeated several strong teams. The College of Idaho at Boise on October 4, is Idaho's only appearance in the southern part of the state.

Idaho Fans Confident

Calland's fans predict Idaho to win both games, giving the Van-

MANY STUDENTS AT "HELLO RALLY" HELD LAST NIGHT

Vandal Pep-band Aroused Much Enthusiasm Among New Students

A FFAIR SUCCESSFUL

Freshmen Learn Songs and Yells; Sponsored by A.S.U.I.

Nearly 1000 enthusiastic students gathered at MacLean field last night for the first pep rally of the year. Short pep talks by prominent students and Idaho yells and songs led by Ralph Ormsby, yell king, while flood lights played over the crowd from the press boxes, featured the rally.

The rally started at 7:30 with some of the enlivening numbers by the pep band, followed by the introduction of Charles Graybill, student body president, who gave a short pep talk.

Other prominent students who gave a few words were Edward Whittington, editor of the Argonaut, Harry Walden, leader of the pep band, John Soden, president of Blue Key, national upperclassmen's service honorary, and Kenneth O'Leary, business manager of the Gem of the Mountains, representing Wayne Blair, editor, who is on a business trip in the southern part of the state.

Introduce Yell Duke

Ormsby introduced Gerald Grimm, yell duke from last year and the new yell duke, Harry Wilson, who will tumble and assist the yell king in leading yells during the year. Idaho yells and songs accompanied by the pep band took up the remainder of the time during the hour that the rally continued.

All students wore rooters caps and new students were made acquainted with the songs and yells that will soon become familiar to them during their college life.

The "Hello rally," which was to be held last week was a large success, both in bolstering up the enthusiasm of the students and teaching the songs and yells to the new students. It was sponsored by Blue Key, with the assistance of Charles Graybill, A.S.U.I. president, and Ralph Ormsby, yell king.

EXECUTIVE BOARD TO MEET TONIGHT

Preliminary Plans For Coming Year Out For Discussion

The first executive board meeting of the year will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the offices in the Memorial gymnasium. Regular meetings are held every Tuesday night of the school year.

Members of this year's executive board are: Charles Graybill, chairman; Peyton Combscamp, vice-chairman; Katherine Mickelson, secretary; Elsie McMullin, Harry Deubert, Vera Bryant, Viniting Thompson, senior representatives; Jolene Johnson, Lionel Campbell, George Gray, junior representatives; Edward Whittington, editor Idaho Argonaut; Betty Wilson, president Associated Women Students.

Representatives to meet with the Calendar Committee will be named by the Board and the remainder of the session will be spent in discussing general plans for the coming year.

HAGEN APPOINTED TO COLLEGE PRESS

To be Assistant in University Editor's Office; Member of Sigma Delta Chi

Cecil Hagen, graduate of June, 1930, and former editor of the Argonaut has recently been appointed assistant in the university editor's office. Mr. Hagen's work will be confined largely to the publicity and press work field. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity.

The New Crop

THE new and ultra modernistic collegian is a far cry from the stereotyped intellectual of the early nineties. He has had to change with the rushing trend of modern and democratic tendencies of the day. We see in his nonchalant appearance, his somewhat insolent, though convincing social etiquette, an unrestricted approach on subjects which should be weighed with caution and reserved thinking.

The college man or woman of today disregarding the caustic admonitions which they receive from the so-called old collegiate school are of just as high a moral and intellectual type as those of our yesterdays.

The everlasting cry that the new crop of collegians sent out to the mysteries of business and social world are unable to manage themselves like their fathers and mothers is of a foundation which holds no merit nor justification. Our rapid age in which we are existing has made the college individual a very active part in it. The average college student's time for social pleasures is somewhat limited owing to his curricular activities. To absorb the most and receive the greatest recreative benefits of his allotted time he enters into the somewhat shocking modern methods of social recreation with an intensity that harbors uncalled and unintelligent criticism.

Maybe the select and unconventional methods which the collegiate practice are open for debate, but let them debate. Candidly speaking the average product which is turned out of our higher institutions of learning can equal the better product of learning in every respect.

The student of today sees morals, customs and education in a more practical light, and his assertive, quizzical mind demands no concealment of the true and untrue.

GRID SPORTLIGHT

By Bill Pohlman

Coaches Toomey and Wilson watched over eighty mustangs romp on to the California Aggie field at Davis, California last Monday morning. They have a tough problem to face with only six returning lettermen and a hard Santa Clara team to meet on Saturday. Toomey has only one veteran ball carrier back this year and so he will have to concentrate for the most part on developing an offensive attack. This school has always had a big and fast club and even though the outlook is dim it is a cinch that they will be nobody's dish.

If any team on the coast is sitting pretty, it is Coach Schisslers Beavers from Corvallis. The Orangemen have twenty lettermen returning for another campaign beside a wealth of material from last years Frosh and reserves. They also boast the finishing touches to unusually bright prospects by having an excellent schedule. In playing five conference and five non-conference games, the Oregon boys will travel farther than any other team on the coast.

Things sure look awfully good for Coach "Red" Jacoby with plenty of Frosh material enrolled in the University and waiting for the opening turnout later. The way some of these men are talked up it looks as though there will be 40 men who will be playing on the first string instead of eleven. Its the same old story, but its a cinch Idaho will ever be a U. S. C. At any rate everyone is more optimistic than ever, and lets hope, that they have something to be really optimistic over this year.

With over one hundred men reporting to Coach "Nibs" Price at Berkeley last Monday, California looks like a strong contender for national honors this fall. Thirty or more players who were on the edge of first string jobs last year donned the moleskins for the first workout.

EDITORS ORGANIZE FOR COMING YEAR

Whittington and Jones Re-organize Staff Positions; Call Giver for Experienced Reporters

"There is ample opportunity for workers to find a place for themselves on the Idaho Argonaut said Ed Whittington, editor, yesterday at the first meeting of the staff.

Over 35 interested students reported and were instructed in the policies of the paper. Style books were issued in order to have the writing of the "subs" conform to professional standards. Whittington outlined the positions open to workers. Night Editor, assistant night editor, Women's editor, society editor, P.I.P.A. desk, sports desk, assistant make-up man, an drewrite desk are some of the new positions created. Assistants and cub reporters will be distributed among the sub-editors. Paul Jones, managing editor said "House presidents are urged to send men with news writing experience out for the Argonaut positions. The permanent staff is now being organized.

Mr. Editor: We have heard that the Pep band is to accompany the football team to Boise for the game with the College of Idaho next month. Why should the team be sent to Boise again? For publicity? Maybe, but why advertise there again? The band makes yearly trips to Boise and southern Idaho mainly for that sake. Why not, for the same expense, send the band to a game of some consequence in Seattle, where if we are not mistaken, they have not been for some four or five years? As an advertisement, there is not better than our Pep band, which always brings riotous applause wherever presented.

Dear Editor: With the after effects of rush week still being felt in the men's groups, it seems rather an unfortunate moment to bring up things intellectual. But how about the Men's Forum?

Last spring the Forum gave every promise of becoming a campus institution. Now with fall weather adding to the desirability of indoor amusements it seems to me that its success would be assured. If there is enough interest in this movement, Idaho students sponsoring it last year will again secure competent discussion leaders. Undoubtedly the Forum could fill a much needed spot in campus life, but at the present moment it needs encouragement.

SOCIETY

LILLIE GALLAGHER, Editor.

THE interest with which society watches the rushing of new girls is becoming doubly intense as the pendulum swings along through the second rush parties and decisions and promises are being made before the final big step will be taken on Saturday, official pledge day.

Rush parties scheduled for the last few days were all of unusual gaiety and attractiveness. On Sunday Pi Beta Phi entertained at a breakfast, Gamma Phi Beta at a formal dinner, and Alpha Phi at a fireside. Monday evening rush parties scheduled were a formal dinner by Kappa Alpha Theta and a fireside by Alpha Chi Omega. Tonight Delta Delta Delta will hold a formal dinner and Delta Gamma a fireside. Rush parties on the calendar for tomorrow are the Kappa Kappa Gamma luncheon and the Pi Beta Phi dinner. The first group dances of the season on the calendar are in honor of the new pledges, whose smiling faces above the bright shining new pledge buttons bespeak the need of some such occasions to allow them to share their pent-up gaiety and receive the forthcoming congratulations.

A.W.S. TO MEET WEDNESDAY

The Associated Women students of the university will hold an important meeting Wednesday at 10 o'clock in the Memorial gymnasium. Leaders of all women's organizations on the campus will be on the program of short talks. The purpose of this meeting is to help freshman girls become acquainted with campus activities and their leaders.

EARLY POLITICAL BOOK BY DR. CHURCH IS 20-YEAR'S WORK

"Politics and Persecution in the Time of Calvin" Is Title

MASS OF MATERIAL Says the Inquisition Was Not As Bad as it Has Been Described

That the Roman inquisition was not nearly as horrible as it has been painted by historians is the conclusion of Dr. Frederic C. Church, head of the department of European history and civilization in his new book, "Politics and Persecution in the Time of Calvin" which is now in the hands of the publishers.

Doctor Church has been working on the book at intervals during the past 20 years, including two stays in Europe, one of two and the other of three years. Much of the material has never appeared in any language, and the subject as a whole has received comparatively little attention.

Town and university archives at Zurich and Basle and the archives of the inquisition at Venice furnished Doctor Church a mass of original material. Yellowed manuscripts in Italian, German, Latin and Venetian dialect he translated one by one, unfolding a new aspect on some heretofore darker pages in medieval history.

Show Many Cases Archives of the inquisition at Venice, a lower court of the Roman inquisition, contain many case records, showing that as a whole the inquisition was not the horror historians have pictured.

The Pope was unsuccessful in many cases in his efforts to transfer cases from lower courts to his supreme court at Rome. Historians have never been permitted to examine records in the archives of the inquisition at Rome, Doctor Church said, permission having been withheld by high church officials.

The book will be approximately 300 pages in length. It is being published by the Columbia University Press at New York City and will be ready for distribution probably in six months.

Contribute to Memorial Doctor Church is one of the contributors to a volume to be published this year and presented to Prof. George Lincoln Burr of Cornell on the fifteenth anniversary of his graduation from there in 1881.

A dozen or more former students and former colleagues of Professor Burr, among them Doctor Church, launched the project at the meetings of the American Historical Association at Durham, N. C., last December.

Doctor Church's contribution to the volume is called "Vincenzo Maggi, a Protestant Politician." Another contributor is Prof. Edward M. Hulme, Dr. Church's predecessor at the University of Idaho, now at Stanford University.

Doctor Church joined the Idaho faculty in 1921. He received his doctorate degree from Cornell University. From April to August 1929 he was on leave of absence at the University of Chicago.

WILSON CHOSEN NEW YELL DUKE

Coeur d'Alene Man Will Assist Ormsby and Grimm At Sports Events

Harry Wilson, of Coeur d'Alene, has been tentatively appointed to the office of yell duke for the coming year was announced at the first rally of the year Monday night. Ralph Ormsby, "Yell King" of last year, will again head the trio of pep makers. "Bus" Grimm, "yell duke" of last year, is the third member of the squad. The official appointment of the new man will come before the executive board soon.

Wilson was chosen from among 30 men.

Ormsby announced Monday evening that a Rooters' club, similar to the organization of last year will be organized the latter part of this week. Three hundred men from the different group houses will lead in organized cheering at Idaho athletic events.

At each game a group from the club will entertain between halves. Card stunts will be worked out. The Rooters' club will occupy special seats in the bleachers at games.

SHORT COURSE IN MOTORS FOR AGS

Two Short Courses Offered to Meet Demands of the Mechanical Age

Two short courses in motor mechanics and power farming will be offered this fall at the University of Idaho by the department of agricultural engineering. One is scheduled for five months, October 27, 1930 to March 27, 1931. The farmers' tractor short course lasts two weeks, January 26 to February 7, 1931.

Work is grouped in special courses such as motor repair, ignition, generators, starting motors, welding, machine shop, drafting, farm electricity, shop mathematics, tractors and auto chassis. In offering the courses the department of agricultural engineering is endeavoring to fill the need for training that meets the requirements of the mechanical age as it applies to agriculture.

SERVICE GROUP MEETS TONIGHT

Committees for Intercollegiate Knights Will Be Appointed by Stan Hale, Honorable Duke.

The first meeting this year of the Intercollegiate Knights, underclassmen's service honorary, will be held tonight at the Phi Gamma Delta house, at 7:15, announced Stanton Hale, honorable duke, last night.

Plans for the selection of new men will be discussed as part of the business of the evening. Committees will be appointed, having at their heads juniors, with two year's experience in the organization, said Hale. These committees will govern certain special functions that have been and will again be performed by the Knights, and several new functions in cooperation with the office of George Horton, graduate manager.

"A stronger and more united organization is what we are working toward," said Hale, "and by organizing these committees, we hope to cooperate more closely with Mr. Horton and the managers' club."

OFFICERS NAMED.

Hugh Burnett, member of the junior class, was elected president of Senior hall, it was announced last night. Other officers chosen were Fred Mark, vice president; George Fricke, secretary; Lee Knight, social chairman; and Carl Hennings, athletic manager. While the group will conduct themselves as a separate and distinct organization, they will be affiliated with Lindley hall in all social events.

A total of 15,000 persons are employed in the harmonica factories of Klingenthal, Germany, were millions of the instruments are turned out annually.

SOILS EXPERT IS NOMINATED HERE

Farmers' Demand for Expert Advice Filled; McDole Promoted by Hungerford

Answering a growing demand from farmers of the state for assistance in soil study, G. R. McDole, soils expert with the University of Idaho college of agriculture, has been transferred as full-time soils specialist with the university extension division, reports Dr. C. W. Hungerford, acting dean of the college.

Mr. McDole has held the rank of associate professor of agronomy on the college of agriculture faculty and has been soil technologist on the experiment station staff. For several years he has devoted his summers to special soils work, acting somewhat in the capacity of a consulting expert for farmers with soils problems. He joined the university staff in 1920.

Creation of the new office which Mr. McDole holds was made possible through a recent act of the United States Congress appropriating more funds of agricultural extension work. Mr. McDole's headquarters will be in Moscow. His successor on the faculty and the experiment station staff has not been named. Dr. Hungerford said. Until the appointment is made Mr. McDole's duties will be handled temporarily by other members of the department.

Five Tongues Get Bids For House-warming; Joker Admits Plot

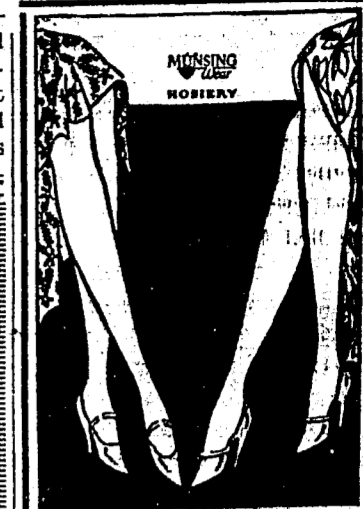

"Yes, I'm giving a big party down at Clarkston next Saturday night, and I want all of you boys to come to it. I have a great big house down there and I want to have a real big house-warming. You boys will all come, won't you?" Thus an ex-coed of our fair alma mater invited nine-tenths of the campus to her party. The event happened while some of the boys were enjoying a nice quiet game of cards at their fraternity house, cursing fluently, and berating their luck in general and suddenly this apparition appeared in the den of the house and became the center of attraction.

Five times she appeared at various houses, including a sorority, and invited the inmates to her wonderful function. However, at midnight Sunday, she finally broke down and confessed to some of the recipients of "the invitations that she was merely perpetrating a practical joke at least that's the consensus among the men.

JUDGES CHOOSE THREE SINGERS

Tryouts in Moscow at the university auditorium for the fourth national radio audition contest were won by John Jenny, baritone; Burnis Brigham, tenor; and Ruth Johnston, soprano. The contestants were designated by numbers and sang behind screens. The purpose being to choose good voices and not popular personalities. The winners of this sectional tryout will go to Boise early in October for the state audition. Winners of this contest will be eligible to compete for national prizes ranging from $1000 to $5000 and tuition in an American conservatory. This is the second contest held in this part of Idaho although the national event is three years old. Judges of the contest were Mrs. L. Kihbrough and Prof. H. D. Naysmith of the W. S. C. voice department, and Miss Arnes Bothne of the local voice department.

Hoover Can't Find Book; Given Five Hundred Volumes

Washington (AP)—Because the President of the United States could not find a popular book in the executive mansion the first night of his occupancy, the nation's booksellers are now reported to be preparing a collection of five hundred volumes as a gift to the White House. Such books as Don Quixote, Sherlock Holmes, Tom Sawyer and Uncle Remus, as well as many of the best current novels, are to be

The idea is said to have originated in the list compiled by Mr. Watson, father-in-law of Herbert Hoover, Jr., who noticed, the evening after Hoover's inauguration and before the Hoover private library was installed, that members of the family wished to turn to books for relaxation and that none was available. The Methodist Episcopal church, South has appropriated one million dollars each for endowments for the theological school at Emory university and the Southern Methodist university at Dallas. In Africa there are about 600 languages.

INTO THE PACIFIC COAST conference, already the seat of numerous types of play, Jimmy Phelan, coach of Purdue's great team last year will introduce the Rockne system at the University of Washington. At the University of Southern California, Marshall Duffield will try to fill the shoes of Russ Saunders, last year's great quarterback. Johnny Kitzmiller, husky quarter, will direct the pile driving attack at Oregon university.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Five pillars of football strategy teaching as many distinctive systems, have turned the Pacific coast this season into a proving field of gridiron theory. The systems will range from Glenn "Pop" Warner's hocus pocus at Stanford and Howard Jones' of Southern California, driving tactics to the wing-footed Rockne game exemplified by Jimmy Phelan at Washington. The campaign also will include the University of California defensive style and a new "power game" being introduced at Oregon by Dr. Clarence Spears. Coach Warner, keen tactician whose 1929 team beat Army and "Red" Cagle decisively, has evolved a new formation to supersede his famed formation "A" and "B." Critics have named it Formation C. To Unbalanced Line. His major change is a switch from an unbalanced to a balanced line, with the ends split out and the halfbacks stationed a yard back of the line to plug the two holes. Southern California, like Stanford, is "a team to beat." Jones' system, employs the quarterback as the principal ball carrier and triple threat man. Marshall Duffield, two year letterman, and Orv Mohler, freshman star last season, will be tutored in the task of filling the shoes of such predecessors as Morton Kaer and Morley Drury, All-Americans; Don Williams and Russ Saunders.

Phelan, new Washington coach, last year nursed Purdue to the Big Ten title. Has Big Job. This year he will begin a huge football metamorphosis—changing Washington's traditional "power and poundage" system into one that embraces speedy line and backfield shifts. C. M. "Nibs" Price, little giant of the California Bears, will offer a creation shaped by nine veterans. Spears at Oregon has a fine chance to snatch a championship his first year in the conference. His schedule sizes up far easier than the rest. Spears' pifediving type of game will feature Johnny Kitzmiller, veteran and husky quarterback.

SOUTH IDAHO HAS MANY VARSITY MEN

Five Members of Vandal's Grid Squad Hail From State Capitol

When the University of Idaho and the College of Idaho tangle in Boise Saturday, October 4, it will be homecoming for five members of the Vandal squad who hail from the state capital. Southwestern Idaho is furnishing more men for the Idaho grid machine this year than ever before and practically half of the squad will be playing football in familiar territory. Boise men who may see action in the game are Max Elden, guard; Hugh Sprout, guard; Wanek Stein, halfback; Jim Warner, tackle and Carl Yank, halfback. All of the Boise men, with the exception of Sprout, are playing their first season with the Idaho varsity. Sprout is a junior.

Other Towns. Twin Falls claims six members of the squad including Captain Howard Berg, halfback. Other Twin Falls men on the Vandal roster are Herbert Owens, fullback; Paul Petzoldt, center; Mel Sackett, end; Lloyd Sullivan, tackle and Paul Taylor, end. Berg is a junior, Owens a senior, and the other four men are playing for the first time on the varsity. Sullivan is a transfer from the Southern Branch of the university at Pocatello. Nampa is represented by four and Rupert has two on the club roster. Art Spaugy, center; John Armatage, tackle; Amos Stephens, tackle; and Ernest Bauman, half, are the Nampa men and Fritz Cravens, center, and Art Norby, end, hail from Rupert. Emmert Davis, quarterback; Ruhl, Nels Powles, end; Bury; Rus Hall, tackle; Filer; and Dan Lopez, guard, from Meridian, complete the list of 21 men who call southwestern Idaho their home.

Long Jump Makes Luckless Student Pay Extra Fee

It was a hard job pushing the frog ahead in the long, long registration line, but it was found to be even a harder proposition when, to preserve the loss of life and limb, numbered tickets were handed out to those who were waiting. Even that did not stall the fellow who was in a hurry. It was a very easy task to scratch off a cipher or two and jump several yards closer to the promising door. Such were the antics of those who knew the game until the watchful eyes of the official on guard sighted an exceptional long jump made by a well-known would-be offender. Almost to the door he was and was heaving signs of relief at the future prospects. Then—like a hawk, that said official swooped down and politely but firmly told him that he was caught and that the price would be $3 to register on Thursday.

UTILITY TACKLE

Dan Lopez, utility tackle on Calland's squad, has had much experience on Pacific Coast gridirons and is now returning for his final year with the Vandals. With the big opening at one tackle berth Lopez should see plenty of service.

NOTED HALFBACK JOINS HUSKY CLUB

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle—A pudgy, stocky bundle of energy walked into football circles at the University of Washington last February.
