FAMOUS RUSSIAN CHORUS COMING TO UNIVERSITY

Will Entertain Students Friday Morning With Two Hour Program

CRITICS APPLAUD

Choral Group Praised in Eastern Papers For Recent Showings

"Sung with a sincerity, naturalness and characteristic accent and color which has not been equaled by any choral body which has come from Russia since the war," commented Olin Downes in the New York Times about the Royal Russian Chorus, coming here under the leadership of Princess Margarita A. Slaviansky.

It will be given Friday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock in the auditorium.

Over twenty performers are included in the world-famous organization, brought to Moscow by the public events committee at university expense. There will be no admission fee.

Princess Margarita, conductor, is the youngest daughter of Prince Dmitry Alexandrovitch Agreneva-Slaviansky, who founded the present organization in 1858. Concerts were frequently given at the court of Alexander II. Princess Margarita was trained since childhood to perpetuate her father's work.

On World Tour
The chorus has played in over fifty countries including Germany, Austria, China, Japan, France, Spain, and Italy. In the United States the choral organization has been featured at the Palace theater, New York city; the State-Lake theater, Chicago; and assisted in Morris Gest's production of "The Passion Play," at the Hippodrome in New York.

The company presents two hours of diversified entertainment including singing, dancing, gorgeous costumes, and abalalika orchestra are outstanding features.

Over 500 medals and special decorations have been presented Princess Margarita by crowned heads and governments in appreciation of her achievements.

Mademoiselle Mara Slaviansky, daughter of Princess Margarita, is a featured soprano soloist and accompanist. She is a typical study of the old nobility of Russia. Her fine Slavic features are set off by the color and design of the native headpiece she wears during the performance.

Press Praises.
"Amazing assurance of musicianship, rare beauty and finesse. Choral work that was perfect in tone, rhythm, color and phrasing. Audience was entranced," criticized Herman Devries in the Chicago American.

Lawrence Mason in the Toronto (Canada) Globe said, "Royal Russian choir stirred audience to prolonged, enthusiastic applause by brilliance of novelty of their program at Royal Alexander theater. Truly remarkable display of technical skill and fascinating music. Thoroughly enjoyable. Audience could not get enough."

The entire expense of bringing the artists to Moscow is to be borne by university funds. The budget of the A.S.U.I. will not be taxed. Members of the associated students will see the performance gratis, said Prof. T. Kerr, chairman of the public events committee.

COLLEGIATE NET TOURNAMENT PLANNED

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE.—Washington State's first annual all-college tennis championship for men and women will be determined October 24 to 26. It was announced by William Chun, varsity player, and Roy Ostrum, letterman.

Tournaments will be held for men and women, with all students and faculty members eligible to compete for silver trophies.

Poor Quadruped Climbs Up Hill; During Winter

The hill was covered with snow, and on a small stump in the tall timber a wild sandhill gopher was practicing for the spring climb. Short note to those to whom the gopher is a stranger. This animal is of a species known as Skenderophus which means "the steep begins" in the Greek tongue.

At the first notice of spring this creature of nature begins her summer work. Starting at the bottom of the largest hill in the country she begins her climb. Due to sleeping on steep hillsides the animal's legs on the right side are very much shorter than those on the left. Because of this the beast is compelled to climb around the hill in stead of straight up. She starts along the ground heading to the right. About the middle of July she is usually half way up, and on September first the summit is reached. The next day the quadruped lays her eggs which roll to the bottom of the hill, hatch, and wait for spring to start their journey.

The hill was covered with snow, and on a small stump a wild sandhill gopher was practicing for the spring climb.

Sings Soprano

MADAMOISELLE MARA SLAVIANSKY, soprano soloist, is also the accompanist with the Royal Russian Chorus.

BUSINESS CALLS

PRESIDENT SOUTH

Doctor Neale to Confer With W. D. Vincent; Will Visit Southern Branch

After a two weeks' stay in Moscow, President M. G. Neale left last Saturday afternoon for a four days' business trip in which he will visit the southern branch of the university and will have a conference with W. D. Vincent, commissioner of education, in either Boise or Pocatello.

Dr. Neale said that he intends to become more intimately acquainted with the policies of the southern branch than he did in his last stop at the Gate City when he stayed less than a day. During the trip he intends to discuss with Mr. Vincent the policies of the state in education and especially with the University of Idaho.

During the past two weeks Dr. Neale has been in Moscow learning the routine of the university and getting acquainted with the faculty and the student body. Last Thursday evening a reception was held for him by the faculty and townspeople at Hays hall.

Dr. Neale left Moscow by automobile last Saturday. He drove to Pendleton where he boarded a train for Boise and Pocatello. He expects to return to the campus Wednesday morning.

FROSH COLLECT FIRE MATERIAL

All Combustibles Are Being Asked and Paid For in Advance

A new policy for the collection of material for the big frosh fire has been adopted this year. According to Bert Bronson, president of the freshman class, the material that is to be used is being asked and paid for in advance. This will eliminate the many bills, usually presented after the fire, for material that had not been asked for.

George Batterson is chairman of the committee for locating the material, and has the town laid out in sections. A committee for each section has also been selected to definitely locate all possible rubbish.

PHI BETA KAPPA MEETS TUESDAY

The names of two or three seniors will be taken under consideration with regard to pledging them this fall. To be pledged in the fall, a senior must have high averages. Plans will also be discussed for the celebration of the Vergilian bimillennium.

MRS. MERVIN NEALE WILL BE HONORED AT OPENING TEA

Faculty Women Are to be Guests of Associated Women Students

FRIDAY AFTERNOON

In New Recreation Room Sponsored by Dean French At Co-ed Gym

A tea will be given Friday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock in the women's gymnasium, by the Associated Women Students, honoring Mrs. Mervin Neale and the faculty women.

The tea will celebrate the opening of the women's recreation room. It was furnished by contributions from women's organizations. Dean French, French, sponsor of the plan, urged all women on the campus to feel that it is open to them. It will be used as a meeting place for women's organizations.

The Faculty Women's club donated dishes and silver. Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, made window curtains, and the Associated Women students gave $275 to buy linoleum.

Fighting Spirit Of Idaho Squad True Of "Vandals"

To the history student the name of Idaho's football team "Vandals," suggests a squad composed of tall, fiery-haired and red-eyed super men with biceps like Earle E. Leidermann's and weight comparable to Aunt Eppie Hogg.

In past years the university's gridiron warriors were more in keeping with this concept, but the light 1930 eleven measures only in fighting ability.

The question now arises as to what Idaho's diminutive quarterback would have done to the Missionaries if he had been about 7 feet tall, 300 pounds in weight, and had worn long red hair, crowned by a helmet of horns. We'll wager that George would have done plenty, for he can always be depended upon to put up a good fight in any situation.

HOME EC AGENT TO VISIT AT "U"

Will Spend Part of Time in Conference With Faculty Members of Department.

Jane S. Hinkley, federal agent for home economics education in eleven western states will arrive Monday, October 27, to spend the week with Muriel G. McFarland, state supervisor of home economics education. Miss Hinkley is associated with the federal board for vocational education in Washington, D. C. Part of the time here she will spend in the home economics department at the university in conference with the faculty members. Several days will be spent in visiting vocational home economics departments in high schools in north Idaho. Among those to be visited are the Moscow high school, with Jessie Thorber as teacher; Troy high school, with Sarah Allison teaching; and Sandpoint high school, with Alice Melgard as the teacher. These three young women are graduates of the university.

Miss Hinkley visits Idaho twice during the year and her next visit will probably be spent in south Idaho. She visits only high schools in which the home economics departments are under the direction of the state department of vocational education and higher institutions which are approved by training teachers of vocational home economics. The University of Idaho is the institution which is thus approved in this state.

New York state has the largest single supply of radium in the world. Oregon lost $4000, according to press reports, with its game with Drake U. at Chicago.

SENIOR CAP AND GOWN QUESTION SETTLED TONIGHT

Lacy Calls Class Together At Request of Gem Editor

MEETING AT 7 O'CLOCK

Perusal of Modern Year-books Shows Academic Attire Not Favored

Upon request of the Gem staff, Henry Lacy, president of the senior class, has called a meeting in order that the opinion of the class regarding formal pictures or cap and gown pictures for the Gem may be determined. The meeting is called for 7 o'clock Tuesday evening in Ad. 311.

At the first of the school year a questionnaire appeared in the Argonaut seeking comment on the type of pictures desired by the seniors—whether formal or cap and gown. The results of the questionnaire clearly indicated that formal pictures were preferred. Recently, however, there has been some comment about the type of picture desired. Since the Gem is a student publication the staff desires to carry out their wishes to the greatest possible extent.

It is pointed out by the editor of the Gem that the cost of one sitting is saved by the senior women if formal pictures are used instead of cap and gown. Because the caps require more space in the picture, those pictures are necessarily smaller than the formal ones would be. Practically all the schools, not only in the west, but the entire country, are using either formal and even informal pictures throughout the book. This type is more in keeping with the modern books that are being published by the schools in recent years.

Not Too Late.
Cap and gown pictures have been used at Idaho for many years and some students are reluctant to drop the idea. There are a number of arguments on both sides of the question which it is hoped will be settled tonight. Although a number of seniors have already had their pictures taken in formal attire it is not too late to change back to cap and gown if the class so desires.

The senior class last year desired to use formal pictures instead of cap and gown pictures, but the dean of the seniors had had their pictures taken. At that date it was impossible to make the change.

AGS COMPETE FOR JUDGE TEAM

Candidates For Trip to Portland Expedition Work For Positions

Stiff competition for places on the four agricultural judging teams, to represent Idaho at the Pacific International Livestock exposition at Portland this week-end, has kept candidates busy for the past week.

One girl is competing for a place on the grain judging team. Dorothy Perkins, Jerome, is working against Ardie Gustafson, Moscow. Fred Mark, Blackfoot; Alfred Johnson, Ritzville, Washington; and John Sandmeyer, Buhl. Four representatives on the grain team will be chosen from the five candidates some time this week.

Alfred Shaw, Moscow; Leonard Wiseman, Twin Falls; Raymond Spencer, Palouse, Washington; Ormond Mosman, Genesee; Joseph Howard, Grace; and Ralph Ormstead, Plummer, are the six candidates for the four places on the dairy products team.

The five candidates for the four berths on the dairy cattle judging team are: Alfred Shaw, Moscow; Herman Hilficker, Filer; Irvin Slater, New Plymouth; Ernest Palmer, Malad; and Leonard Wiseman, Twin Falls.

Professor C. W. Hickman has not announced the prospects running for the six places on the animal husbandry team.

Idaho will be competing against other northwestern institutions at the livestock show, including: Oregon, Washington, California, and Montana. The Idaho teams will leave Moscow for Portland some time Thursday afternoon.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE.—The seven Chinese students now in attendance at the State college have reorganized the Chinese Students' club, which was unable last year to carry out activities because of the shortage of members.

Marie Lee, the only Chinese student enrolled at the University of Idaho, has been asked to join the State college group. The club has planned an extensive program for the year, intended to create a spirit of good fellowship and cooperation. Members include Chen-To Chang, I-Chun Sen, Je Chun Young, Kenneth C. Woo, Rudolph H. Louis, Chi-Pai Chang, and Kuang-Yu Kuo.

UNIVERSITY FAIR EXHIBITS SHOWN IN AD BUILDING

Favorable Comment on Display Prompted Action Here by Officials

IS FIRST VENTURE

In Educational Promotion at Fall Livestock Shows In Idaho

Faculty members, townspeople and university students may now see the university exhibit on the second floor of the Administration building, which caused much favorable comment at southern Idaho fairs this fall.

Three sections of the exhibit have been set up as they appeared at the Boise, Twin Falls and Blackfoot. O. A. Fitzgerald, publicity director, said 75,000 people saw the exhibit.

The center of interest is the administrative section, with an automatic picture projector showing 200 campus views. This section also has a number of charts and graphs showing enrollment increase and distribution of students over the state.

Another section is devoted to the school of forestry, showing many articles of women's clothing, such as lingerie and hose, made from wood. Varieties of Idaho woods, and a large illuminated picture depicting devastation caused by forest fires complete the section.

A third section is devoted to the department of agricultural engineering. The "Chic Sales" edifice, complete as to details, is contrasted with the method recommended by the department. Miniature models of barns, showing beam construction, tiny tractors, and miniature kitchen equipment are displayed.

The exhibit ending Saturday, is the university's first venture in fair displays—a venture which has been characterized as the finest, single piece of educational promotion the university has ever sponsored.

TOWN MEN MEET

Tau Mem Aleph, town men's social organization, held its regular business meeting Monday evening, with Fred Roberts presiding.

A joint mixer with Daleth Teth Gimel, town women's social group, was held at the L.D.S. Institute Saturday. Daleth Teth Gimel has a pledge dance scheduled for November 15.

ICE HOCKEY PLAN UP TO STUDENTS

An ice-hockey rink is contemplated by the university authorities for the associated students according to "Cap" Horton, graduate manager. Should it be possible to flood the new playing field north of Memorial gymnasium, Idaho would have a regulation size ice-rink for winter sports.

"If the authorities think that there is not enough student interest in the playing field, they will then they will crab the plan," said Horton.

Annual Co-ed Prom Next Saturday Is Awaited by Women

The annual Co-ed Prom, sponsored by Phi Upsilon, national home economics honorary, will be held in the Memorial gymnasium Saturday, October 25. All girls are invited to attend in costume. The prom will be one of the most outstanding women's affairs of the year. The program will consist of stunts given by each house, and for the most entertaining, a prize is offered. A prize is also offered to the couple dressed in the most original and clever costumes.

WOMEN TRYOUT FOR RIFLE SQUAD

Competition Is Keen for Berths on Team; Zoa Shaw Selector Manager.

Many girls are turning out for women's rifle team practice this fall, which is under the direction of Lieutenant Sheehy. The practices are held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon from 2 until 4 o'clock in the Memorial gymnasium. The team will start their matches with other schools about December 1.

SENIORS MEET TONIGHT

Senior class members will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in room 311 Administration building, according to Henry Lacy, president. The purpose of the meeting will be to determine whether the class favors formal pictures or cap and gown photos for the Gem of the Mountains.

YEARLINGS UPSET SPOKANE U, 21-0

Jacoby Uses Reserves Most Of Game; E. Smith Runs 55 Yards

The Idaho freshman football team had little trouble in winning from Spokane university Saturday morning, 21 to 0. The game was played on the Spokane field six miles from town before a very small crowd.

Although Spokane university proved to be a stronger opponent than Lewiston Normal, the strong freshman team scored three touchdowns and a field goal. Coach Jacoby used the second team during most of the game. The score at half time was 13 to 0 for the freshmen.

Earl and Willis Smith, yearling quarterback, played their usual good games. E. Smith returned a punt through the entire Spokane team 55 yards for a touchdown. Willis Smith broke through the line several times for long gains. Cy Pearson, Earl Smith and Willis Smith each accounted for one touchdown.

This afternoon the varsity and the freshmen will tangle in a practice scrimmage.

TOWN WOMEN PLAN FOR CONVENTION

Daleth Teth Gimel, town women's social organization, is planning its first national convention to be held here this winter, fostered by the original chapter, Idaho. Whitman, Williamette, and Washington State College will send delegates. No definite plans have been made, says Mildred Axtell, in charge of the convention.

MUSIC HONORARY HAS NEW PLEDGES

Sigma Alpha Iota, national honorary musical fraternity for girls has pledged Helen Stetler, Virginia Evans, and Joan Harris. Pledging is based on excellence in musical ability and scholarship.

The group was installed at Idaho in 1924, and since then has been active in musical affairs on the campus. Plans for the year's activities are not complete.

A hotel is being constructed on the rim of the crater of Kilauea, a volcano in Hawaii, and will be heated by the steam of the volcano.

VANDAL SCORING SPREE SMOTHERS WHITMAN 47 TO 0

Calland's Red-shirts Encounter Little Difficulty With Missionaries

GAIN BY AIR ROUTE

Wilson Runs 105 Yards For Score; 32 to 0 At Half Time

By Bill Pohlman
Idaho's red jerseyed Vandals plunged and passed their way all over MacLean field Saturday to smother Whitman by a 47 to 0 score.

The varsity showed a fighting spirit and team play that has been unsurpassed this season. It was an entirely new bunch of gridironers than the group that clashed with Montana State; and the men took up just where they left off at Seattle the Saturday before. Although the Missionaries are not in the conference it was a big day for Idaho and the overwhelming score was not unexpected.

Every man that went into the battle played bang up ball, but the most brilliant performances were turned in by Wilson and Hanford. Both of these boys playing their first year in the varsity backfield sild off tackle and around end for long and spectacular runs.

Whitman kicked off and "Poison" Wilson, assisted by Fred Wilkie carried the oval on successive first downs to the 25 yard mark, where Hanford went around end for the first touchdown and shortly after added another point with his right foot. The Vandals received a scare when the Walla Walla eleven completed a long pass and coupled with two Idaho penalties, reached the 15 yard line in the first quarter. Calland's men recovered a fumble and George Wilson standing behind his own goal line furnished the crowd with the greatest thrill of the afternoon, when he tucked the ball under his arm on the first play and dodged down the gridiron for a 105 yard gallop and the Vandal's second touchdown.

Wilson received a great ovation as he was replaced by Davis early in the second quarter. Davis did his work as well, though not as brilliantly as his flashy predecessor. He shot a beautiful pass to Hanford, who raced 35 yards to a score and carried the ball to a position for Wilkie to plunge through the line and roll ten yards for another counter. As a final flourish he broke loose for a 55 yard run and a score just as the half ended. When the midway gun sounded the tally stood 32 to 0.

Pedersen Leads March
Pedersen started the second half and alternated with Wilkie in carrying the pigskin nearly the length of the field for a score. At the start of the final quarter Calland put Sather, another sophomore, in the game and he gave a great exhibition of passing. His heaves traveled straight and fast and usually landed in the waiting arms of Taylor who packed the ball for large gains from the receiving points. It was one of these flips that placed the ball on the five yard mark, where Hanford packed it over for the final score.

Whitman threatened but once after that first period drive. A pass carried them to the 10 yard line but the ever dangerous "Buddy" Applegate was nipped for a 17 yard loss on the next play and the threat was over. In spite of the lopsided score the Missionaries put a powerful squad on the field and they battled the Vandals hard up to the final gun.

Uses Entire Squad
Coach Calland used nearly his whole squad while Borleske let his regulars fight their way almost unassisted. The records show that Idaho gained 379 yards from scrimmage while the Whitman backs crashed through with 85. The Vandals attempted 15 heaves, completing 5 and intercepting 4. The Missionaries tried 10 flips, completed 3 and snagged 2 Idaho throws.

General Purpose Of Frosh Photos Comes To Light

New light on the hated system of freshmen identification pictures is given by Miss Ella Olesen and Dean Messenger. While the photograph which makes the poor frosh feel as dumb as he looks may some day be the determining factor in getting him a job.

Each year every student coming to the University of Idaho for the first time is compelled to have one of these identification photographs taken. Two prints are made of each one, one of which goes to the special file in the office of the registrar and one to the dean of the student's college. While the student is actually in college the photograph is not important; but after he is graduated the card in his dean's office remains as his only really personal record.

Many jobs depend upon the personal recommendation of some one who knows. It is obviously impossible for the deans to remember everyone who has been in his school by name, but a glance at the photograph almost always recalls the person. Thus the report sent out by the dean can have the personal touch which produces results.

On Our Tin Pedestal

ALL the curious American doctrines today, one of the strangest is the worship of youth. It has become a kind of national cult. The popular journals are flooded with fiction extolling youth. Stage and screen have small use for anything else. It has usurped the major part of novels. It has penetrated into business to such an extent that the upper limit of useful service has decreased from a one-time standard of sixty-five to a new limit of forty-five and even forty. Surely the blatant idolaters of youth do not mean that it is omniscient, that it is the paradise of earthly existence, that it is the fulcrum and pivot of matters universal, temporal, general and specific. Consciously or not, it seems another result of an essentially child-like habit of thinking, if one may fatter the habit by calling it thinking. The worship of anything new; this mad search for a new idea; a new star; for youth in everything, probably reflects two trends. On the one hand it is nothing more or less than adolescence in the gratifying process of worshipping itself. We could wish for some one to point out the mellowing influence of time, the mature harvest of middle age. It is likely that we shall be forced to wait for some time to come, but lacking that we could wish for a few individuals who look at the facts occasionally and not at sentimental delusions.

Let's Remove The Padlock

THIS week marked the fifth week of school. Mid-semester examinations will be upon us in three or four more weeks. There are many freshmen, to say nothing of the upperclass group, who have not settled down to business as yet. Time passes fast where there are so many things to divert one's mind. There are many other things in the university life of value to a student besides that which he glean from his textbooks. While most professors will agree that the younger students should not be overworked, just where this point of overwork begins is a rather arbitrary one. But for those who wish to do extra work on the outside it becomes almost an impossibility, especially during week-ends. Evenings during the week are spent preparing lessons due during the week. By the time the end of the week has come the student wants to spend an evening or so away from the routine. Sunday morning the student has an opportunity to attend church. But what is there to do during these winter Sunday afternoons? Why can't we at Idaho enjoy access to the library Sunday afternoon? Several schools have tried this idea and the students have received it enthusiastically. It would be a fine opportunity for those occupied during the week to do outside of class reading. And it would give many access to current literature during a time when they could enjoy themselves in a very worthwhile activity. In addition, those students who wish to have a quiet place to study would have ample place and time to prepare lessons. Certainly no ministerial association would object when there is no church activity at this time. And considering the benefits to be derived from such an arrangement, the cost of maintaining the library would be negligible. Let's make this another of the many improvements that have been made in the university during the past year or so.

Gertie Guillotine

Boop-a-doop Campsters, Time is beginning to tell on those who signed up for only a few hours. They are looking all tired out from lack of sleep. If one is to carry on social activities successfully he must have at least 16 hours per week during which he can rest. But then when I was in L. A. etc. It seems there is a sorry fate For the poor forgetful sap Who goes to the football games Wearing no I Cap. Senior: U Hut? Fresh: No, I left my gun home. POME TO A SNAKE. ADDER BLOWS VIPER KNOWS. I know there are so many guys Right here in our school Who some day will be president Or else a gangster cruel. For some become football stars And known from coast to coast And those who make the Phi Bet Club Are mentioned in every toast But the man whom I admire Is the one who can grin As the pony falls from his blue book When he hands it in. He (over phone): Do you suppose I could get a date?

She: Sure, if you can find someone dumb enough to go out with you. He: Fine, I'll be over to see you about 8:30. We guess the Fijis must have found their nickel as the workmen are putting the street together again. ALOLOGIES TO PAUL BOYD. Everyday we see the Kappa Sigs on the campus lawn practicing for their annual house party which will become up soon. AN UNUSUAL GUY IS JERRY TATE HELL ALWAYS FALL FOR A BLIND DATE. After listening to the Lambda Chi practice volley ball over the back fence for the past month, the Alpha Chi hope they don't go out for riflers. DON'T BACILLI.

Campus Tips

By TINSEL BRAY
Dear Miss Bray: This may be out of your line, but please help me if you can. My dear little goat, William, happened to be down in front of one of the halls the other night, and when one of the circulation managers brought the Argonauts along alone he fed several of them to William just to see him eat them. Now William has eaten taboide before, and I always give him a Literary Digest as soon as he starts having after-pains, but this time the Literary Digest seemed to have no effect. Your paper may be O.K., but it's certainly got my goat! What shall I do?

Yours impatiently,
BUD.

Dear Bud: Since the Literary Digest didn't work to take the Liberty of suggesting you use the Saturday Evening Post.

Dear Tinsel: I'm in love with a football man, but he is in training and can't take me places. When does football season end.
A CO-ED.

Dear Co-ed: The season ends when you notice that the football player next to you in Education 113 is getting flunking grades.

Dear Miss Bray: My steady asked me to go out with him to look at the score board on the athletic field late Saturday night. I didn't go, Tinsel, but now I have some regrets in the matter— Did I do right?
AUDREY.

Dear Audrey: Yes, you did right. Idaho has not instituted knight football yet.

BUSINESS OF U HUT INCREASES IN YEAR

New Equipment Installed in December to Handle Large Supply of Student Mail. The University station post office, now in its fourth year on the campus, reports an increase in business of approximately 7 per cent over last year. Business has increased to such an extent as to warrant the need for a stamp canceling machine at the station. This machine is to be installed some time in December and postal authorities are hoping that it will be ready in time to handle the holiday rush. Its installation will dispense with the old hand method of stamping each envelope separately, and will greatly facilitate the work and efficiency of the post office attendants.

NEW MANAGER FOR W. A. A. RIFLE TEAM

At a meeting of W. A. A. members Wednesday afternoon, called by Lois Porterfield, president, Zoia Shaw was elected rifle manager for this year. She takes the place of Shirley Cunningham who resigned the position recently. It was decided to renew the intramural horseshoe tournament between the various women's houses. A cup is awarded each year to the house winning the tournament. The Delta Gamma won the cup last time. ## Scientist and Salesman

THE MODERN PARTNERSHIP Like every other modern industry, the Bell System requires the combined effort of scientist and salesman. The commercial man has again and again shown the public how to use new products of the telephone laboratory, and how to make new uses of existing apparatus. Transmitting pictures and typewritten messages over telephone wires are services right now being actively promoted. Scientific selling by long distance is among many ideas originated to increase the telephone's usefulness. In short telephony is a business, with problems that stimulate commercially minded men and a breadth of opportunity in step with the fast moving world of industry today.

SOCIETY

LILLIE GALLAGHER, Editor.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO LIBRARY

IDAHO PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT HAS HEAVY SCHEDULE

Information Released by University Bureau of Value to the State

AID'S DEVELOPMENT Technical Colleges Help to Solve Problems Created by Industries

The University of Idaho publicity department functions for undergraduates, for those who have at one time been a member of the institution and for those who plan to become members. O. A. Fitzgerald is head of the department.

The functions of the publicity department, as the name indicates, is to distribute facts concerning the university, stated Mr. Fitzgerald. "The principal field of action is within Idaho, as the university is intended to serve the state, and its 550,000 residents. We are not unmindful that many thousands of people who live outside are interested in the school. Suitable publicity material is sent them," he continued.

Technical Divisions Aid Various technical divisions, as mining, forestry, engineering and agriculture have become significant in the progress of the state. They are constantly at work on problems which aid Idaho development. It is unusual for a week to pass without a division of the university making an announcement of value. We endeavor to give publicity to all announcements resulting from our search and investigations.

Issue Pamphlets During the year the university issues pamphlets, papers, and publications which set forth investigational material. The publicity department also handle the printing and distribution of catalogs. New projects being installed during the present year are an alumnae news letter and development of new student contacts. The alumnae association is working on a very broad development program. Two issues of the news letter have been mailed. A third issued devoted to Homecoming, will be sent out this week.

Plans for new student contact have not been completed. It is expected the work will be on an all-year basis. It is especially planned to bring the merits of the state university to all Idaho high school students.

SATIRE, WISDOM IN COLLEGE PLAY

Kelly Comedy to be Presented Here in November Holds Promise

"Keep your eyes wide open before marriage, half shut afterwards," said Ben Franklin long ago. The wisdom of these remarks is borne out in "The Show Off", to be presented here November 14 and 15.

George Kelly's satiric comedy centers about a middle class American family, the Fishers, who live with frugal comfort in a suburb of the old Quaker city of Philadelphia. Into their quiet life comes Aubrey Piper, the egotistical shipping clerk who satisfies million dollar aspirations on twenty five dollars a week.

Pretty Amy Fisher falls in love with Aubrey Piper, against her parents' wishes thus precipitating situations.

Merie Fritelze, playing the lead in the first all-college play of the year, has good opportunity for skillful characterization. Lois Kennedy, Chicago singer, plays Amy Fisher.

BAND INVITED TO LEWISTON

Idaho Pep Organization to Play for Miniature Livestock Show Thursday, October 23.

Music by the University of Idaho Pep band will add pageantry and realism to the miniature livestock exposition to be staged at Lewiston next Thursday afternoon, October 23, when a trailload of nationally famous livestock is unloaded for a four-hour stop-over show.

The Pep band accepted an invitation extended by the Lewiston chamber of commerce, sponsors of the show. The chamber of commerce at Moscow will furnish transportation for members of the band and their equipment. Last spring the Pep band was one of the feature attractions at the Lewiston Cherry Blossom festival.

Elaborate preparations are under way at Lewiston for the show, and indications are that visitors from all parts of the Inland Empire will attend. Auto caravans have been organized from Moscow, Grangeville, Cottonwood, Winchester, Nezperce, Orofino, Kamiah, Kooskia, and Pomeroy, Wash.

ANNOUNCEMENT There will be a meeting of the Associated Business Students in the university auditorium at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. This assembly will be of special interest to freshmen and sophomores who are interested in the business courses and will give them an opportunity to meet a number of the business instructors.

O'HERN LECTURES ON ORDINANCE

Officer Expresses Admiration For Idaho R.O.T.C. Corps

Colonel Edward P. O'Hern, Ninth corps area ordnance officer, delivered an illustrated lecture on ordnance to the Moscow and Pullman reserve corps officers in room 101 Science hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Tuesday morning he inspected the ordnance issued to the university R. O. T. C. corps and repaired small injuries to equipment.

Colonel O'Hern served in active enlistment during the late war and described in detail the pictures of big guns, tanks, armored cars, and other late additions to the ordnance department that were flashed on the screen in the Science building. At the end of the picture review he gave a short lecture on the present state of unrest in the world and the possibilities of a war in the future. He ended the meeting by telling stories of service in the A. E. F.

"I believe that the university R. O. T. C. corps do a great deal toward the development of character, leadership, and love for one's country," said Colonel O'Hern. He also expressed admiration for the corps here and said that he thought it was in very good condition and that the new uniforms issued by the war department had raised the morale in the outfit.

"The west is far in advance of the east as far as R. O. T. C. training goes," said Colonel O'Hern, due to the newness of the country and the greater number of colleges in the west that have R. O. T. C. training as a part of their curriculum. "I always enjoy my visits to the University of Idaho and I think that you have a fine school and real men here," he said as a parting word.

HARRIERS START TRAINING GRIND

First 20 Places Count in Intramural Cross-Country Race

With the intramural cross-country race only 10 days away, Thursday, October 30, many fraternity candidates for the event have shown up on MacLean field to complete their six practice tryouts and trip over the scheduled course which will make them eligible for the two and one-half mile grueling run. Charles Heath, intramural manager, announced that this year there will be 20 places in the race with points ranging from 20 for the winner to 1 for the man who takes the twentieth place.

Stress has been laid upon the necessity of practice, and it has been decided by Heath and Coach Leo Calland that no man shall be allowed to run who has not had at least six different practices and one trip over the scheduled course. Contestants will report to Heath when they come out to practice. He will be at the track from 4 until 5:30 every afternoon during the coming weeks.

At least three entries in the event must be handed into Charles Heath by every house before noon of October 27, though any number may be entered. Any house that does not have at least one man starting in the race will lose 25 points towards the intramural cup.

Any man is eligible except those who have won either frosh or varsity numerals. It is reported that there are 25 men who have turned out for varsity cross-country and all of them are eligible to run except one.

Last year the race was won by Leness Hall, L. D. S. institute in 13 minutes and 9 seconds.

MODERNIZE HALLS DURING VACATION

The campus improvement program which was started during the summer months has at last been completed. One of the major improvements was the remodeling of the unused attic on the fourth floor of Morrill hall, adding nine large rooms for laboratory and office use. Another notable improvement is the grading and landscaping around the Memorial gymnasium. The ground has been leveled and seeded with grass. The interior woodwork of nearly all of the campus buildings has been repainted, including that of the engineering building annex, Ridenbaugh hall, the Geology building, Morrill hall and the Women's gymnasium. Nor was the Administration building neglected, it having been completely redecorated.

Two new barns have been added to the university farm, a one-story dairy cattle barn and a new sheep barn of two-story frame construction. These improvements have been successfully completed at a total cost of $30,000.
