AIR THREAT HOPE OF VANDAL FANS

Calland Builds up His Overhead Attack in Last Two Games

The Vandal aerial division looms threateningly in front of Washington State's victorious Cougar football pack, undefeated and headed for a conference championship.

With Washington State holding a weight superiority of over 15 pounds to the man football observers feel Idaho's hopes lie in forward passing.

In the last two games, against Oregon and Gonzaga, the silver and gold crew have shone brilliantly in this department.

Idaho outpassed Oregon, which has Kitzmiller, a superlative passer and receiver, and last Saturday overwhelmed Gonzaga with overhead tosses.

In the Gonzaga game the Vandals completed eight out of sixteen passes for 215 yards. One toss was intercepted by a Bulldog, Gonzaga completed five out of eighteen for 81 yards and had two intercepted.

What happened at Spokane and Portland last Saturday fit well together to assure Inland Empire fans a classic here Saturday.

OFFER FLYING SCHOLARSHIP

Boeing School to Give Awards for Essays on Aeronautical Subjects; Representative Here.

Scholarships at the Boeing school of aeronautics at Oakland having a cash value of $7200, offered by W. E. Boeing, chairman of the board of the Seattle-San Diego and San Francisco-Chicago air mail-passenger lines and Boeing Airplane Company, will be awarded students at universities and colleges including University of Idaho.

This announcement was made today by J. O. Becker, field representative of the Boeing school, who is in the city today conferring with the administrative officers of University of Idaho.

Any undergraduate student who is classified in the upper one-third of his class in scholarship is eligible to compete. The first award is the Boeing master pilot course value at $5275, covering 204 hours of flying and 924 hours of ground school.

Other courses are in the flying and mechanics branches. Each candidate must write an essay not exceeding 2000 words on one of five aeronautical subjects. Essays will be judged by a national committee of award under the chairmanship of Dr. Baldwin Woods, University of California.

THETA PLEDGES ENTERTAIN.

The entertainment at the Faculty Women's tea Tuesday, was furnished by pledges of Kappa Alpha Theta. The stunt won first prize at the Co-ed prom, and was repeated for the club by special request. The stunt which was presented without scenery or stage properties, was well received.

GAME TICKETS ARE DEPLETED

Graduate Manager States But Few Are Left; Price: $3 Down

Pastboards for the homecoming game are at a premium according to "Cap" Horton, graduate manager. The Idaho victory last week-end has sent the Vandals' stock soaring to new high levels which was reflected in the ticket sales, said Horton.

Over 8000 seats were for sale for the homecoming classic, but only a couple of hundred were left last night, and it is expected that alumni arriving in town today will snap those up. The remaining printed tickets are on sale at Jerry's cigar store, downtown.

Prices are: between 30-yard lines—$3; 15 and 30-yard lines—$2.50; 15-yard line and the end zone—$2. Bleacher seats have been erected on the west side of the field to serve the associated students who will be admitted on presenting their A.S.U.I. booklets.

SATURDAY'S GAME

for every position. The forward wall will be at its peak tomorrow and the Cougar backs will experience plenty of trouble when they try to crash through for first downs. In September the line was composed mostly of green sophomores, but every game has seen great improvement until now the men can be classed as veterans and have proved they can hold their own against some of the most powerful lines on the coast. The offense has been clicking since the Whitman game and the most important phase of Vandal play will be their defense against a mighty set of backs that no team has been able to stop so far this year.

Kicking from placement has also come in for a good share of attention this week and with Bessler, Hanford and Davis booting the pigskin between the uprights most of the time, Calland is getting no gray hairs from this department.

The Cougars are rated the most powerful eleven on the coast as they have beaten California's Golden Bears and U. S. C.'s Trojans on successive Saturdays, and trimmed all the rest of their opponents. In Maskell, Hurley, Hill and Hansen, Hollingbery has a quartet of the greatest wingmen on the coast. Mel Hein at center and "Turk" Edwards at tackle are being pushed for all-American honors and Elmer Schwartz and "Tuffy" Ellingsen are virtually cinches for all-coast positions.

Idaho and Washington are the last hopes among conference eleven to upset the Crimson and Gray team and Idaho stands the best chance as the Cougars will have to be under wraps tomorrow in order to save something for Jimmie Phelan and his warriors.

Davis to Start.

In the Vandals starting lineup will be several men who will be facing Washington State for the first time. There will be Emmert Davis at quarter, who hit his stride in Spokane last week and is counted on to hurl passes over and around the Cougar defense tomorrow. "Pete" Taylor, Russ Hall and Bill Schutte will be in the forward

EAT TEAM FOR NEXT YEAR SEEN

Two Regulars Graduate; Best Frosh Material in Years

Prospects for a great Vandal grid are just around the corner as the sophomores on the varsity are stepping into stars and the great frosh team in the history of the school is being developed. The varsity Calland will lose Norby at end and Lopez at end. He will have his entire first second string backfields back, by such stars as Willis Smith, son, Norby and Earl Smith. The line there will be the brilliant sophomores, Taylor and Sack-enforced by Schmitz, Russell, and Marsh from the year-

A famous coach has said a team "is as strong as its backs and," if this is true, Idaho boast a mighty eleven in 1931. The center of the Vandal wall contain such veterans as Sprout, Schutte, Corkery, Glad-sproat, and Elden, from the line and "Bowker and Nutting the freshman squad. No wonder Calland feels good these as he will have at least three teams next fall and plenty of top-notch boys for every position. The Vandals should be counting the running for the coast conference pennant next year. It looks like it is going to take a mighty powered eleven to beat them.

GRID SPORTLIGHT
By Bill Pohlman

The big battle tomorrow marks the high tide of the year for Idaho as Leo Calland's boys will be at their best. This is a mighty tough moment the Vandals have taken out I have a hunch the Cougars are going to have to wade through one of their hardest games. Contact, on the eve of the battle not at all impossible that the Vandals will upset the Washington Huskies and Gray made. Washington State has shown marked weakness on aerial dem-in all but one game this fall. No bunch of gridsters they faced yet can boast scoring in along these lines equal to Vandals.

Every one is talking about Idaho team being pointed for the stars, but this is not true. The will naturally out everything have into the battle, but this is not another ball game for the of Moscow. The fact that this coming and the sting of year's defeat are bound to be

A pipe—Edgeworth. That is the looking combination which has in the college man. Harvard, Cornell, Michigan, Stanford, Dartmouth—all agree with Illinois. Natural merit has made Edgeworth favorite tobacco in America's dining colleges and universities. College men everywhere respond to the appeal of pipes—packed with slow-burning Edgeworth. and we are going to twist the Cougars tail."

And still the fight rages on. That is, the merry battle of words over California's poor showing on the gridiron this fall. Now Dick Hyland, former Stanford star back, has entered the picture with an article in which he blames the Cardinal coaching staff for their defeat at the hands of the Trojans. He says Tiny Thornhill is the only coach who ever showed him how to do anything during his career at the Palo Alto school. "Pop" Warner does not stress fundamentals enough and Cardinal teams are at a disadvantage. Fans are now waiting for "Pop's" answer to Hyland, and from past experience it is a cinch the article will "not" be tame.

The Washington Huskies are down at Palo Alto today ready to move against Stanford in an important coast game tomorrow. Washington will be saving a lot for the Cougars and the Cardinals will shoot the works, and so the dope leans toward a southern win. Oregon should have little trouble keeping their slate clean against U.C.L.A. tomorrow at Eugene. The Californians were pointed for the Trojans last week and shouldn't be so hot this time, especially when Kitzmiller and his mates get to work. Southern California should make it a little too warm for "Nibs" Price and his Golden Bears at Los Angeles and Jones will probably add another victory to his long string.

MICHIGAN GRAD GETS FELLOWSHIP

Appointment of L. V. Benjamin to an industrial fellowship for research work in chemical spray control of weeds has been announced by Dr. C. W. Hungerford, acting dean of the University of Idaho college of agriculture.

The fellowship was donated to the college of agriculture last summer by the Chipman Chemical Engineering company of New Jersey, manufacturers of weed sprays sold widely in the west. It covers two years of research and provides opportunity for its holder to study for a master's degree. Mr. Benjamin is a graduate of Michigan State college with the class of 1920, and has served two years as a county agricultural agent in Michigan and four years as a district club agent. He will devote his research activities toward increasing the efficiency of chemical spray materials under actual field conditions which have been encountered in Idaho.

Welcome

Homecoming time again! Each year it rolls around, but never does it grow old. Characteristic of the spirit that motivates student life at Idaho, it is one event on the yearly calendar that has a real basis—a greater Idaho.

When the first one was held the present generation of students does not know. Originated for alumni, the name indicates that Alumni, former students and friends of the university troop back "to see the game" which is its feature attraction. Were they to express themselves fully other reasons would be advanced—to see old friends and acquaintances, to see the progress of an educational institution of which all are justly proud.

Students have a part in homecoming which few probably realize. As a part of the present Idaho, they unconsciously are on parade, as it were, showing to visitors and alumni that the Idaho they knew is ever progressing. That spirit everywhere is evident—glance at the decorations which so vividly express welcome—see the hospitality each group practices within its doors.

Expressing a welcome editorially seems superfluous when it is demonstrated so well in practice. The Argonaut adds its contribution, and for the student body extends a hearty welcome to the hundreds of guests who will be on the campus over the weekend. May their visit be a pleasant one.

Good Luck, Vandals

TOMORROW afternoon on MacLean field the Vandals will be pitted against the strongest team on the Pacific coast and one of the strongest in the United States in what looks like a great battle. The Cougars have all the dope, but dope means so little in this traditional struggle that the Crimson and Grey is conceded only a slight margin on paper. Since 1894 the Vandals and the Cougars have been putting on real football games and tomorrow's contest does not look like any exception.

Last year in Pullman, the Cougars came out on the long end of the count, only after a great second half rally, and the Vandals take the field tomorrow determined to wipe out the memory of that defeat and of a few others which the Cougars have handed them since hostilities opened back in the dim, dark past. Both teams are pointed and the Cougars realize that in order to finish on top of the conference heap they must beat Idaho. Idaho is determined they won't—take your choice. The Vandal victory in Spokane last week and the great battle the Idahoans put up in Eugene two weeks ago may mean something.

Alumni are back, the holiday atmosphere is in the air and altogether it looks like a whale of a football game. The alumni and the student body will be backing Leo Calland and his Vandals tomorrow one hundred percent—win or lose.

Good luck!

Comfort Kits Sent 40,000 Service Men by Red Cross

Gay patterned cretonne bags, or comfort kits, containing articles useful and amusing, are sent by the Red Cross to 40,000 soldiers, sailors and Marines, on foreign service, as Christmas remembrances.

The little gift bags are donated and packed by women in Red Cross Chapters all over the country. They are despatched by Army transport in the early autumn in order to reach the foreign ports and posts of the U. S. services in time to be hung on the Christmas trees. Giving the remembrances from home is the outgrowth of a plan adopted by the Red Cross prior to the World War when so many National Guard detachments were on the Mexican border.

Student Opinion

My Dear Mr. Editor:
In a political science class last Friday, a long discussion drifted from citizenship and from "nationalism" to Philippine independence. Some American friends who were interested in the Philippine cause, were pressing me hard with pertinent questions about the islands problem. While I know that such a word as independence is a complex question which demands a big brain in the White House or congress to solve, I dare not touch it for fear that it may provoke further discussion. But to raise adequate reply to a question asked me: "Why we Filipinos want independence," may you please allow me to state a few points?

1.—While fully conscious of the debt of gratitude we owe to the United States for her benevolent policy in the Philippines, we are convinced that immediate independence is the only solution in consonance with our unalterable desire. 2.—No matter how lightly an alien control may rest on a people, it cannot, it will not make that people happy. 3.—The genius and the potentialities of the Filipino people can only be developed in an atmosphere of freedom unrestrained by foreign control. 4.—Differences in races, history, and civilization render difficult, if not impossible, a common life under one flag between the American and the Filipino people. 5.—The uncertainty of our future political status hampers the economic development of our country. 6.—Our present trade relations with the United States are not conducive to the economic independence of our country and whatever may be the temporary advantages of such relations we are willing to forego them for the sake of freedom. 7.—The longer we remain under United States protection the harder it will be for us to be freed from our political and economic dependence upon her. 8.—We are not unmindful of the fact that in the final solution and settlement of the Philippine problem, American and foreign interests must be adequately safeguarded. 9.—The establishment of a Philippine republic today will be but a logical and just outcome of our long struggles for freedom and will be in keeping with American history and traditions. 10.—Independence will make for close friendship and better understanding between America and the Philippines, while retention fosters distrust and ill feeling. 11.—In our solemn constitutional covenant with the United States she has promised to grant us freedom as soon as a stable government can be established. This condition has long been fulfilled.

These I believe, are among the most important reasons that prompt every Filipino in the desire for immediate, absolute, and complete independence.
Very respectfully yours,
A. B. B.

Dear Editor:
In this, my first contact with college life, I am struck with the zeal with which college students endeavor to keep up what is called "traditions." Undoubtedly it is a blunder to notice such things in the first place, and a greater blunder to mention them in the second place. Confined to the narrowness of my college experience, and conscious of my lack of culture, I have a sinking suspicion that my conception of traditions is out of place here.

I have always harbored the idea that traditions were something that were handed down from one generation to another to be accepted and nourished and encouraged by those who in turn pass them on to posterity. I have been mislead. To my astonishment I discover that college traditions are much different. The slogan is: "Our traditions must be enforced!" The word "enforced" explains the point. The incoming student is introduced to traditions on entering the university. He is forced to don the green cap. This is no place to enlarge upon the merits of the verdant headgear. Suffice to say it serves its purpose. But the fact that force is employed throws disrepute upon the whole system of college traditions. A booster cap is to be worn at all college games to exemplify the fighting spirit behind athletics. This, too, has developed from a tradition to a rule. Traditions and spirit—which is also a tradition—are like patriotism; they cannot be forcibly imposed upon people. From our Rhodes scholars we have learned about that old institution of Oxford. Its traditions have grown up and flourished like the ivy on its walls.

There is no necessity of forcing the student to swallow traditions like so much castor oil. He accepts them gladly, wholeheartedly, proudly, as a privilege. Traditions are one of the things that give Oxford the unique distinction of being the Great University. Enforced imitative traditions appear absurd in comparison. Thank you.

RUSSELL SPEAKS TO ENGLISH CLUB

Characterizes Irish And British Authors at Meeting

Character sketches of many prominent Irish and English literary men, formed the subject of George William Russell's informal talk to the English club, Tuesday evening in the L.D.S. seminary. George Bernard Shaw, William Butler Yeats, George Moore, and James Joyce, all personal friends of Dr. Russell, were realistically pictured for his audience.

Dr. Russell met George Bernard Shaw in the Italian room of the Royal Art Museum. "I was in the museum late one afternoon. There was only one other person there; a man who I took to be a retired officer from India. We fell to talking, and it wasn't long until I changed my opinion as to who he might be. We talked for two hours, not knowing each other...later we were introduced."

Dr. Russell referred to James Joyce as the author of a very popular book in Ireland, which is suppressed in the United States and in England. The book is "Ulysses". George Moore was a boyhood friend of Dr. Russell.

An English club meeting was held preceding the address, presided over by Julia Hunter, president. Committee reports were given. It was decided that new books are to be purchased for the book shelf sponsored by the English club. At the end of the evening doughnuts and cider were served.

CALDWELL JERSEY IS RECORD COW

"Maid of Mist" Wins Prize for Producing Most Butterfat in State

Director's Maid of the Mist, junior four-year-old Jersey cow owned by Robert Torbett of Caldwell, is ranking milk production champion in all classes and ages of her breed in Idaho, according to an official report received by the University of Idaho dairy department from the American Jersey Cattle club. Her record in Class A is 14,775 pounds of milk and 853.69 pounds of butterfat. The previous record holder among Idaho Jerseys was Noble Pioneer's Rose, owned by L. S. Dille & Son of Caldwell, whose record at four years and five months of age is 10,458 pounds of milk and 572.31 pounds of butterfat. Director's Maid comes from a champion lineage, her mother ranking second in Idaho in Class AAA with a record of 11,528 pounds of milk and 597.38 pounds of butterfat.

Six Foreign Countries Receive Red Cross Aid

Relief was given by the American Red Cross during the year in six foreign nations in disasters ranging from a tidal wave in Newfoundland, an earthquake in Persia, floods in France to help for refugees from Russia and prevention of a smallpox epidemic in Costa Rica.

The $5,000 Red Cross contribution to Newfoundland, following the tidal wave, which took twenty-six lives and destroyed many homes and fishing boats, was the first from an outside country to reach the distressed people.

The sum of $5,000 was given to the fund for the relief of the Mennonite refugees of German descent, who had determined to leave Russia for new lands. About 13,000 passed through Germany, where the German Red Cross, aided by Red Cross societies of other nations, helped them. The majority are being transported to new countries in the western world and the American Red Cross has transmitted contributions from individuals in this country.

When Costa Rica was menaced by a smallpox epidemic, the American Red Cross sent fifty thousand tubes of vaccine, in two airplane loads, undoubtedly saving the country from a serious outbreak of the dread disease.

Saving Mothers and Babies Is Important Red Cross Task

Saving mothers' lives and better babies were important features during the past year of the Public Health Nursing Service of the American Red Cross. About four-fifths of the 794 nurses in the Red Cross work made more than 100,000 prenatal and maternity visits, in addition to assisting doctors in the examination of 1,309,409 school children.

Statistics reveal that the lives of two out of three American women who die in maternity cases could be saved if they received proper medical and nursing care. As more than 15,000 women die in the United States each year from various diseases of the maternal state, this means that more than 10,000 of these deaths are preventable.

"Ideal American Girl" Works, Friends Learn

Delaware, Ohio.—The "ideal American girl," Miss Alice Thompson, has been made director of religious education in a Philadelphia church, friends here have learned. Miss Thompson was given her title at the Philadelphia Sesquicentennial celebration four years ago. She has since graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university here.

Motor Injuries Treated By Red Cross First Aid

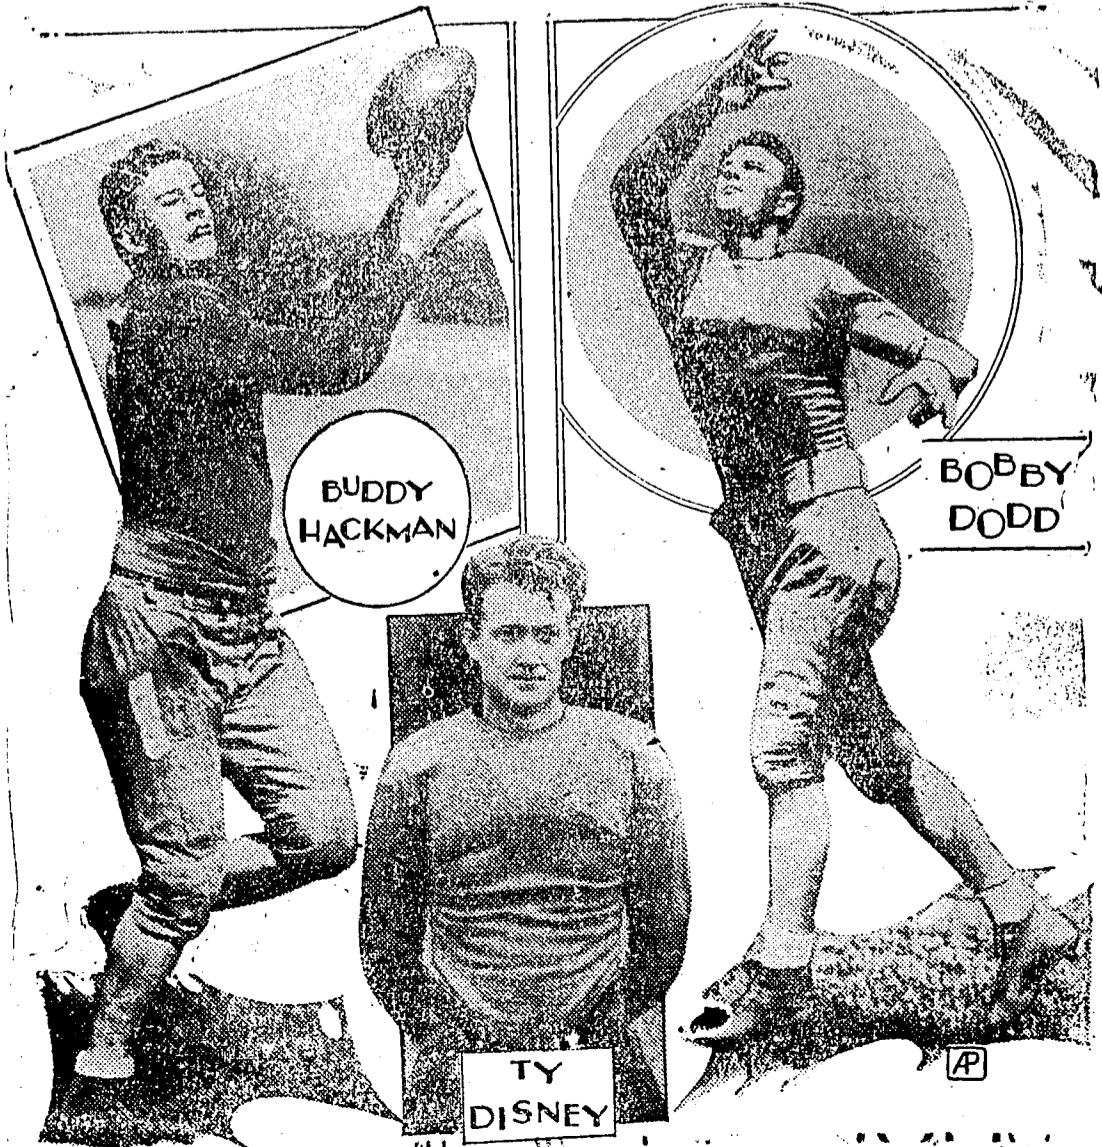

In line with its work for the preservation of life and prevention of accidental death, the American Red Cross has adopted a new program of emergency first aid stations on the highways of the nation, where victims of automobile injuries will be helped.

In the last year 21,000 persons were killed as the result of automobile accidents and more than 1,000,000 were injured. As its contribution to the nation wide safety campaigns of other organizations, the Red Cross will aid through the emergency stations. A number already are in operation by Chapters on such important traffic arteries as the Westchester County, N. Y. park system, the Valley Forge and Gettysburg highways in Pennsylvania and the White Horse Pike in New Jersey, connecting with Atlantic City.

Life Savers Numerous

More than a quarter of a million persons are entitled to wear the American Red Cross insignia, denoting they have been taught the expert life saving methods of the organization. The number enrolled to date is 273,202.

TENNESSEE NOT WORRIED OVER LOSS

THE LOSS OF GENE McEVER, the country's high scoring back last year, from early games due to injuries, isn't worrying the Tennessee Volunteers, who have Ty Disney, last year fullback to fill his place, and such ace backfield men as Bobby Dodd and Buddy Hackman.

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO LIBRARY

CAMPUS IMPROVEMENTS DRAW HOMECOMING GRADS ATTENTION

"What on earth has happened to Morrill Hall? Has it changed or have I? And look at the farm buildings—even the pigs and sheep have decorated for homecoming. Have you seen how they've fixed up around the gym yet? It looks like a different place. Why, the whole campus looks so fresh and clean—somebody's been spilling the paint around."

These and similar remarks are certain to make up many of the conversations of Idaho's alumni who are back to see her annual tussle with W.S.C. They will soon discover that the scene of their college days—buildings and grounds—has been considerably altered and improved under the direction of Superintendent R. W. Lind.

Morrill Hall, for example, has taken on a distinct personality with the addition of a fourth floor and its accompanying dormers. The buildings located on the university farms just west of the campus have been uniformly painted gray, green and white. Two new gates, a sheep and a cattle barn, were added to their number this summer. The land surrounding Idaho's Memorial gymnasium has been landscaped and by next summer will be one of the beauty spots of the campus. Two new playfields directly across the street from the gym will scarcely be recognized as the old dump heap of a few months ago.

And besides all this, the alumnus on his tour of inspection will see the Ad. building newly calcimined, redecorated, and with modern lighting fixtures. He will see widened sidewalks, and everywhere freshly painted buildings. His interest and admiration will be instantly won by the new Beta Chi fraternity house. Idaho's campus today is one of which her alumni can well be proud.

VANDAL MUSIC GOES ON AIR

Blue Key Furnishes Material for Pep Broadcast; Fitzgerald Speaks

Real pep and Idaho enthusiasm went over the air last night when O. A. Fitzgerald and seven Idaho students staged a radio football rally over station KWSC between 7 and 7:30 o'clock.

Fitzgerald, university editor and publicity director, and Howard Greer, director of the W.S.C. athletic news bureau, discussed pro and con the dope concerning Saturday's game between the Vandals and W.S.C. Dope, they agreed, would mean little in this game.

Music for the program was furnished by Blue Key. Harry Walden, leader of the Pep band, gave a short talk regarding homecoming plans. Five members of the Pep band, Maurice O'Donnell and Lloyd Whitlock played, sang, soloed and yelled, rivaling the Pep band itself for effective harmony. O'Donnell and Whitlock played a piano duet arrangement of "Idaho Fight Song", written by O'Donnell, everyone singing one chorus and the "band" playing another one.

POULTRY EXPERT RESIGNS POSITION

Frank E. Moore, Experiment Station Officer, Accepts Offer of North Dakota Agriculturists.

Resignation of Frank E. Moore, assistant poultry husbandman with the University of Idaho college of agriculture experiment station, has been announced by Dr. C. W. Hungerford, acting director. The resignation is effective December 31.

Mr. Moore has accepted a position as extension poultry specialist for the state of North Dakota, at a substantial increase in salary. He joined the University of Idaho extension division staff three and one-half years ago. His successor has not yet been selected, Dr. Hungerford said.

NURSING CLASS TO HAVE FLOAT

Red Cross Scheme Will Initiate Latah County Membership Campaign

Members of the class in home nursing taught by Mrs. J. E. Buchanan will have charge of Red Cross float in the Armistice day parade next Tuesday. The float will announce the beginning of the Latah county chapter's annual roll call or membership drive.

The float will be unusual for its simplicity, costumed nurses arranged against the background of a huge Red Cross. Wayne Snook, window decorator at Davids', helped design it.

Members of the faculty are rather prominent in the list of officers of the Latah county chapter. R. S. Snyder, department of agricultural chemistry, is president; Adrian Nelson, Jr., an Idaho graduate, vice president; Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, secretary; and Mrs. C. F. Magee, treasurer. Members of the board include Mrs. J. G. Eldridge, Mrs. J. H. Einhouse, Mrs. Louis Boas, General E. R. Chrisman, the Rev. C. M. Drury, Howard Short and Mrs. Lee Gregory.

Chairmen of standing committees are Mrs. Harry Smith, Pi Beta Phi, housemother; Mrs. J. R. Bender; Mrs. J. E. Buchanan, Carl Smith, Capt. E. M. Crenshaw; and Henry Felton.

ess Administration, for the social science department of the university. Throughout the evening, George Russell conversed informally on various topics.

LETTERMEN ASKED TO WEAR SWEATERS

All members of the "I" club are requested to wear their sweaters to the game Saturday. This will be necessary for admission to their specially reserved section in the bleachers. "I" men will be excused from all military traffic details.

A section is being reserved for all members of the military corps and the band who participate in traffic duties or activities before the game.

PI LAMBDA THETA TAKES PLEDGES

Six Selected by Women's National Education Honorary, Sunday; All High in Scholastic Work.

Names of the pledges taken this semester by Pi Lambda Theta, Idaho chapter of the national educational fraternity for women, were announced at a breakfast held at the Blue Bucket Sunday morning. Pledges must be second semester juniors or seniors and have an average of over 5 point 3.

Those pledged were: Edna H. Miller, Zoia Shaw, Louise Cuddy, Grace Pond, Alma Johnson, and Helen Clark.

Agatha Harding, who is a student at Washington State college, was present at the breakfast as a representative of Kappa Delta Pi, national women's fraternity of education. She will become an associate member of Pi Lambda Theta.

A professor at Georgia Tech recently announced that he gave the best grades to the best dressed members of the class. Next day a student came to the class in a tuxedo.

Some girls like a husband with wealth, others prefer ability, and still others ask about the family, but the co-eds of Purdue university ask for appearance, and the sooner the better!

ONE YEAR AGO TONIGHT

FORESTRY DANCE PLANS COMPLETED

The final plans for the annual Foresters' Ball are rapidly nearing completion. The programs are very elaborate, being made of Hough wood sections, printed in two colors. The floor will be in excellent shape, as considerable work has been done on it. A limited number of tickets is on sale and all who plan to go had best get them soon. There will be a representative with tickets for sale in every group house. The date is November 22, and the place is the Women's gym.

BUSINESS FACULTY HONORS RUSSELL

George Russell, noted economist who addressed the students at assembly November 3, was entertained at a dinner given at the Blue Bucket Tuesday evening. Faculty members and their wives were also guests. The dinner was sponsored by the School of Business Administration.

Ethel Anderson was a Thursday evening dinner guest of Delta Gamma.

SENIORS WILL MIX AFTER HOMECOMING

Seniors are awaiting their first mixer this year, to be held Nov. 19, at the Blue Bucket inn, according to Randall Wallis, general chairman of the mixer committee. This is the first class event of note after Homecoming.

Charles Cheney has charge of financial arrangements. Marjory Weber is scheduling new entertainment. Tickets will be on sale at the group houses next week.

STUDENT TICKETS UNTRANSFERABLE

Student body tickets found in the possession of anyone other than their rightful owners will be confiscated by the ticket takers at the homecoming game Saturdays, according to George "Cap" Horton, graduate manager. This year it will be necessary for Idaho students to present their tickets for admission.

Horton said today that the promiscuous passing of student tickets to alumni and out-of-town friends will be checked this year. Ticket number 6 will be used.

METHODIST CLUB PLEDGES WOMEN

Kappa Phi Takes Twenty-One at Pledge Service Held Tuesday Evening

Twenty-one girls were pledged to Kappa Phi, national Methodist girl's organization, at the service Tuesday evening. A girl must have a Methodist preference in order to belong to the organization.

Kappa Phi received its national on the Idaho campus in the spring of 1929. Dolores Holmes represented the Idaho chapter at the national convention in South Carolina last summer.

Those pledged to Kappa Phi Tuesday evening were: Rosamond Arem, Claire Davis, Dorothy DeWitt, Margaret Hollingsworth, Claudia Jones, Ruth Rehner, Mabel Leitch, Elsie Magee, Florence McBratney, Edna Miller, Ione Marie Minger, Cecelia Mudge, Helen Powers, Lena Belle Rogers, Edna Scott, Grace Shawen, Evelyn Shoemaker, Lois Thomas, Evelyn Thornhill, Helen Thornhill, and Elizabeth Warmward.

ROSS WILL ADDRESS STUDENT CONCLAVE

Three hundred students from all parts of the United States are expected to be present at the National Students Federation of America congress to be held in Atlanta from December 29th to January 2nd. Ex-Governor Ross of Wyoming has been secured as one of the speakers to present the democratic point of view on the tariff. Three different aspects of the tariff question are to be presented at an open forum where student questions and discussion is invited. An invitation has been sent to the National Union of Students of England to send representatives to the congress.

COMING PLAY DONE IN MODERN MANNER

"The Show-Off", all-college play to be presented November 14 and 15 in the university auditorium is a comedy of modern life by one of America's well-known young dramatists, George Kelly.

Kelly's satires on present-day American life have earned for him the title of one of the four or five leading American playwrights. It will be recalled that this young Irish writer created the Pulitzer prize drama, "Craig's Wife," in 1925. The award committee declared his masterpiece to be the most original play of the year, best representing the educational value and power of the American stage.

Authorities regard "The Show Off" as one of the most penetrating, subtle, and amusing take-offs ever written on the modern family. Kelly's home town, Philadelphia, is the setting for his play. Leading roles are taken by Merle Frizzelle, Boise, as Aubrey Piper, high-powered railway clerk, and by Lois Kennedy, Chicago, as Amy Fisher, the fair-haired and easy-to-look-at heroine.

Twenty button length gloves are the newest for evening wear.

Baseball Next on Intramural
Slate; League Groups
Revised

At a meeting of the group intramural managers, last Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock the "A" and "B" leagues of houses on the campus were revised. Each manager drew for a new place. The leagues are now as follows: "A" League; Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Chi, Phi Delta Theta, L.D.S. Seminary, Lambda Chi, Sigma Chi, Ridenbaugh hall, and Beta Theta Pi. "B" League includes: Sigma Nu, Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Gamma Delta, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Chi, Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma.

The first event under the new schedule is indoor baseball. It will be played under a single elimination standard, and each game will be seven innings. The first game will be played next Monday night at 7:30 between the A. T. O.'s and Phi Delt's. At 9 o'clock there will be a game between Sigma Nu's and T.M.A.'s. Two umpires will be chosen by Charles Hagan, and they will officiate for all of the games.

Anyone Eligible
Any man is eligible to play on a team. Managers are urged to organize immediately to be ready to play games. Ten points will be deducted for all forfeits.

After indoor baseball, horseshoes will take up the time until Christmas vacation. Returning men will find that swimming and basketball will be the chief sports of the second semester. There has been some talk about having intramural hockey if arrangements can be made to flood the play courts across from the gym.

Points towards the intra-mural cup for baseball will be as follows: League champions—75 points, runners-up—50 points, and school champions—25 points additional.

Games Listed
The list of games that are to be played next week are as follows: A. T. O. Beta Chi, Monday evening at 7:30; Sigma Nu-T.M.A., Monday at 9; Phi Delta Theta, Wednesday at 7:30; Phi Delta-L.D.S., Wednesday at 9 p. m.; Ridenbaugh-Sigma Nu, Thursday at 7:30; Delta Chi-Lambda Chi, Thursday at 9; S. A. E. Kappa Sig, Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock; Beta's vs. Ridenbaugh Saturday at 2:30 o'clock.

FREE EDUCATION IS POSSIBILITY

Minnesota Governor Wants to Shift Educational Financial Burden
ST. PAUL, Minn.—There is no reason why the taxpayer should be called upon to pay $900 per year for a medical education for a young man whose father might earn $14,000 a year, declared Governor T. J. Christianson, endorsing in part the University of Minnesota's "per capita" post-education plan. He suggested that those who could not afford a university career be educated free.

University authorities are considering a plan to finance students on the basis of the per capita cost. The suggestion proposed that those making highest grades in an entrance examination be admitted free. Other students would be forced to pay the "per capita cost" themselves.

There is much in the plan to recommend it. But I believe that the amount of the state's contribution for the education of an individual student should not be a fixed sum, but a sum varying with the student's individual opportunity to earn supplementary funds," Christianson said.

BLISTER RUST MEETING HERE

University Host of Foresters and Members of Legislature; Conference Over Today

A blister rust conference, extending over today and Saturday, is being held in Morrill hall. Dr. E. E. Hubert, professor of forestry, said of the meeting, "The rust is spreading so rapidly that the protection program must be speeded up immediately in order to gain any results. The expense must be met by the state, the federal government, and private concerns owning timber. This conference is to demonstrate to these interests that their support must be immediate."

These attending the meeting are: S. B. Detwiler, Washington D. C., head of all blister rust work in the United States; C. B. Posey, S. N. Wyoff, C. L. Strong, Moscow, state forester; C. W. Kelley, district forester; members of the state legislature and Idaho lumbermen.

Four full-time chemists are now working on this problem of blister rust in the forestry department laboratory newly equipped this summer.

W.S.C. PLANS BIG ALL-COLLEGE REVIEW

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE Pullman, Oct. 6.—Tentative dates for the All-College review have been set for November 21 and 22 in the auditorium according to an announcement made today. The show is managed by the Associated Women students and the proceeds will be used for the erection of a women's building.

The talent for the revue is taken from group competition and is given in the form of a play. The best girls chosen at the tryouts are presented at the revue.

BLUE BUCKETS SELL OUT FAST

Knights and Spurs Dispose of 700 Copies of Humor Magazine in 45 Minutes

"The Bucketeers planned on selling 600 copies in Moscow; but the Spurs and Knights sold 700 Blue Buckets in 45 minutes Thursday 'noon hour' said Ralph Hagan, editor, today. "The Spurs and Knights have certainly lived up to their names of being service organizations."

"Those two organizations saved the Bucket from being a financial bug-a-boo for the A.S.U.I. On finances, we can't forget Jimmy Mitchell, business manager. He brought in enough to make it possible to sell the Bucket for one thin dime—the lowest priced college comic on any campus. The Bucketeers are happy," Hagan concluded.

One hundred copies have been sent to the southern branch at Pocatello.

GROUP AWARDED NATIONAL HONOR

Home Economics Honorary Takes Second Place in Better Homes Project.

Second place in the national contest of the Better Homes in America association has been awarded to Moscow, according to a letter received by Mrs. J. D. Wedin, head of the Moscow project. The work which won the award was the model home which was furnished by members of Phi Upsilon Omicron, women's home economics honorary of the university. This work was under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth Johnson, art instructor.

All furniture was obtained from local dealers and selected by the women. All decorating and designing was done by members of the honorary. All the decorating even to the setting of the table in the dining room was done by the women.

The Better Homes in America sponsors these yearly contests to arouse interest in home improvement. James Ford, executive director of the organization, in his letter to Mrs. Wedin, thanked the Moscow people for their cooperation. He was especially pleased that the work had been done by the home economics classes in the university. A city in California won first place in the contest. Spokane and Moscow were the only cities in this part of the country to enter. The model home was on exhibition here last spring and was later sold.

SWIMMING CLUB FORMS PLANS

"Hell Divers," New Life Saving Organization Plans Competition With W. S. C. Group

Wednesday afternoon the charter members of the American Red Cross Life Saving club met and voted on rules and new members for the organization. At a previous meeting it was decided that the local corps would be officially known as the "Hell Divers" and that a uniform bathing suit with an emblem would be worn by the members.

From now on the club will meet at 8 o'clock in the evening of each Thursday of the week. From 8 until 8:30 a swimming lesson will be held under the instruction of Bill Hall, mate, and afterwards a business meeting.

Anyone is eligible to the club who has passed his senior life saving examination. At the present there are 22 members with the possibilities of more in the future. It is the plan of the corp to have meets with the Pullman and Spokane corps sometime in the future. During the year various exhibitions will be given.

SWIMMING ADDED TO MINOR SPORTS

Hale, Smith, Grimm, Ostrander Will Defend Idaho's Laurels in First Meet.

Varsity swimming will be added to the list of minor sports on the Idaho schedule for the first time this year. Leo Calland, athletic director, announced the addition of this sport. In the past the sport has been confined to intramural programs, with the exception of the meets with Washington State. The Vandal team will be somewhat handicapped by the loss of Richter and Smith, star sprinters, but when the first meet is held there will be Hale, Ronald Smith, Grimm and Ostrander on hand to give the opponents plenty to think about.

An American Red Cross club has been organized and is holding regular meetings and swimming "parties." It is hoped that some expert mermen can be developed from its membership to bolster the varsity squad. A life-saving meet will be held this winter with the crack W. S. C. squad.

W. S. C. SELECTS RHODES CANDIDATE

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE—Vernon Towne of Rosalia, a junior in the college of sciences and arts, has just been selected to represent the State college as a candidate for the Rhodes scholarship, according to Professor C. A. Isaacs, chairman of the local selection committee.

Towne will be among those recommended to the state committee which meets in December under the direction of F. D. Metzger of Tacoma. Under a new plan inaugurated this year, two candidates from each state in the northwest district will be brought to the attention of the district selection group, who will choose four Rhodes scholars from the entire group. Washington candidates will compete with men from Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Wyoming, and North Dakota.

Dr. Frank F. Potter, professor of Latin, and Frank T. Barnard, registrar, are members of the State College selection committee, which Dr. Isaacs heads.

James W. Gerard once said: "I would hate to compile a list of intellectual leaders and continue to live here." We hope he wasn't on the campus when he said it.

of which is the blind goddess of justice holding the scales in her hands, the Vandals in one, and the Cougars in the other. A large university with all lines leading to Moscow is also represented, and a moving welcome sign.

The Phi Delta's lawn has been remodeled into a miniature campus and MacLean field, with all roads leading to it. Tiny cars are on the roads. Over the doorway a gold airplane has crashed on a silver background.

The Alpha Chi's also have an airplane. "The Spirit of Victory" with a Vandal flying in it, and a cougar having departed in a parachute. A banner with "Welcome Alums" is hung in the house.

On the Delta Gamma lawn is another football field showing a Vandal kicking a football through a huge phonograph record, representing the W.S.C. record. Sigma Alpha Epsilon pictures a path with cougar footprints on it, showing the teams it has already knocked aside. Upon finding the path blocked by a huge Vandal, however, the Cougar is shown beating a hasty retreat.

The A.T.O. house is decorated with a huge sign, "Big Hand for the Grads" with a good lighting effect.

Huge Silhouette

The new Beta Chi house displays a huge silhouette, black on white, of a Vandal and Cougar, with huge banners hanging from the roof in Idaho and W.S.C. colors, bearing the inscription "Hello Grads", and "Hello Everybody", showing up very effectively from the town and bonfire.

The Alpha Phi's picture is a huge shoe kicking a rolled up cougar over the Idaho goal line. On the house is a sign "Alumni, We Welcome You With All Our SOLE". A Vandal spider chasing the Cougar spider from the center of the victory web is the motif of the Beta's doorway embellishments. "Welcome to Our Parlor" is the caption.

Alumni greetings are the plot of the Kappa Kappa Gamma's decorations which are made in electric lights.

Senior Hall is up to the minute with the new Vandal yell being featured in electric lights over a stadium. Mechanical "breakers" make the electric lights "spell" in the right order their message.

Delta Chi's are pushing a tableau effect of the new Administration building in one set and the burning of the old Ad building in the other.

Sigma Nu has the cougar taking hurdles in a track meet. He has conquered all opponents but the vandal high hurdle. He sits there pondering, while two full bleachers of rooters watch on.

Log Cabin
The Lambda Chi's have virtually built a new sleeping porch on the front of their house with their trappers' log cabin. A Cougar skin is stretched in the sun drying. The Theta's have a contrast of the old and new with an old automobile, a late model car, an old fashioned girl, and the modern co-ed.

"Daddy, I want that kitty" is the title of the Phi Phi display. Coach Calland, two little Vandal warriors, and a Cougar are the properties.

The Tri Delt's idea of heaven is the "Happy Hunting Ground" motif. Pine trees, cougar skins, and appropriate signs welcome their returning alumni.

Ridenbaugh hall is featuring a large welcome sign in electric lights supplemented by a painted sign picturing a Vandal dragging a Cougar.

Hays hall is carrying out the idea of "this little pig went to market" with five cougars, each representing a W.S.C. game. The last cougar is in very poor shape, having been in a scrap with a Vandal.

The Idaho seal in colors and light above the doorway is used by Forney hall. Large silver and gold pennants, with the inscription, "Welcome Home" are also used.

Judges Selected
Judges for the selection of the best decorations in both the men's and women's groups have been chosen. They are Wayne Snook, of David's Department Store, Professor T. J. Pritchard, of the art department, and Mrs. F. L. Burkhardt, of the Parisian shop. The judges will view all the decorations both Friday afternoon and night, making their selection before the game. Cups will be presented the winning groups between halves of the game.

The banks of G-E floodlights at Georgia Tech's Grant Field can be adjusted to illuminate track meets as well as football games.

G-E Floodlighting Wins Favor for Football - Hockey - Track - Baseball - Tennis

G-E floodlighting equipment has a winning record. Its victories are counted in terms of pleased spectators, increased attendance, satisfied coaches and players.

The development of G-E athletic-field floodlighting equipment was planned with every consideration for the fundamental and special playing conditions it must meet. That is why the big Novalux projectors give ample and evenly diffused light over the entire playing area.

The development of General Electric floodlighting equipment has largely been the work of college-trained men in the G-E organization — other college-trained men are largely responsible for the continuing leadership of General Electric in furnishing the many other products which bear the G-E monogram.
