FIJIS, BETAS FIGHT INTO FINAL ROUND FOR 'MURAL TITLE

Teams to Meet For Indoor Championship On Wednesday

TOP BOTH LEAGUES

S.A.E.'s And Beta Chis Take Runner Up Positions

The Fijis defeated the S. A. E.'s 9 to 2 last night, winning the championship of 'B' league and the right to play the Beta's who won the championship in 'A' league by defeating the Beta Chis 11 to 5, for the 'C' university championship Wednesday, December 3.

First Frame

With a crowd of about 200 spectators looking on the Fijis went up to bat with Walsh at the stick. He knocked a three bagger, but was put out stealing home. Menard and Yanik were next up and were put out on first base by hits received by McCoy, pitcher. The S. A. E.'s started out with Beardmore who singled to first. He stole third, but was out made by Beglan, McCoy and Hilsiker kept him from coming in.

In the second and third inning the Fijis scored two runs a batting. Auckett, Walsh, and Simm were the men who crossed the home plate. In the fourth, Bowker knocked a single which resulted in another run. During the fifth and sixth innings four more points were scored by Pohlman, Simm, Auckett, and Geraghty. The seventh saw no scoring, leaving the Fijis score at 9.

More Scoring

The S. A. E.'s scored once in the fifth inning when Donovan knocked a single followed up by a three bagger from Taggart which ran him in. In the sixth they scored their second run, a three bagger by Beardmore. A single by Beglan knocked him in.

Beta's vs. Beta Chis

Last Saturday afternoon the Beta's fought the Beta Chis in a 5 game. The Beta Chis started out the scoring of the day by running three men across the plate in the first inning. From then on they went scoreless until the fifth when a two base hit followed by a second two bagger ran another man in. In the sixth the third man up hit to first, and a hit to second following him up ran their last score of the day at 11.

Final Score: 11 to 5

The Beta's went up to a scoreless batting the first inning, but made up for it in the second when they knocked six men across the plate. In the third a single run was scored. The third proved fruitless, while three more men ran in during the fifth and two more in the sixth, leaving the final score 11 to 5.

Points for Cup

Up-to-date the point standings towards the intra-mural cup have been as follows: 75 points for the Beta's and Phi's as league champions, and 50 points to the Beta Chis and the S. A. E.'s as runners up. The game December 3 will determine which of the two high teams will receive the extra 25 points as university champions.

Box scores:

Fiji..... 022 122 0
S. A. E..... 000 011 0
Batteries—Lee and Yanik; McCoy and Beardmore.

Beta..... 001 032 0
Beta Chi..... 300 011 0
Batteries—Davis, Janssen and Smith; Gimm and Davis.

HOUSES TO TAKE PART IN DEBATE

Under the management of Delta Sigma Rho, the inter-collegiate debates are being organized. A number of interesting subjects, such as "Companionate Marriage," have been chosen, but until they are approved by Dean French, specific subjects are not decided upon. Every house on the campus, both men's and women's, will participate.

The first debate will be held between the Phi's Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

Vacation Rulings On Late Arrivals Break For Girls

Dean French is allowing girls returning from their Thanksgiving vacation to arrive on the late trains, Sunday evening.

Girls who are already in town on Sunday night must be in their houses by 10 o'clock, and the girls returning on late trains must go right to their houses.

CONVERT COURTS INTO ICE RINK

Winter Sport Fans Launch Constructive Outdoor Winter Program

More than 20 hockey fans turned out to work on the ice rink Saturday. The entire tennis court was edged with ten-inch boards, and the snow cleared off. When the courts are dry, cracks in the asphalt will be patched to prevent the seepage of water when the courts are flooded, said Allen Bickford, who is in charge of the construction.

The Idaho Outing club offers to order winter sports equipment at a discount for anyone interested. Members think that such a service to the students will promote interest in winter sports which the club is fostering.

At the first meeting of the club a bob-sled run from the back of Morrill hall was discussed. Backers of the new run say that such a slide would eliminate the automobile hazard. They said, however, that the project was too big for the club to attempt at present because of the rink and that the first move would have to be made by the groups who own the sleds.

Tonight there will be a meeting of the winter sports in Administration 201 at 7:30 o'clock. Anyone that is interested in any winter sport is invited, said Allen Bickford, temporary chairman.

BIG HOOP SQUAD ANSWERS JACOBY

Sixty Yearlings Out For Berth on Freshman Team

Sixty Irish hoopsters answered Coach "Red" Jacoby's first call for basketball in the Memorial gymnasium last night. Jacoby plans to keep them all out for at least two weeks and will make the first cut in the squad then.

After tonight the squad will rest during the vacation and report again next Monday night. Next week while Jacoby is out of town, Rich Fox, varsity mentor, will take charge of the squad. He plans to hold scrimmages on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. When Jacoby returns he will scrimmage the men every night. This is the only method by which he can distinguish the outstanding players from such a large group.

It is too early yet to predict the strength of the team, but it is very probable that the 1930 yearlings will be able to hold their own with almost any of their opponents, according to Jacoby. No list of outstanding men was available last night, but it is evident that there are many from such a representative group.

FEW FAG FIENDS AMONGST LAWYERS

Lady Nicotine Banned in Law Library Two Years Ago by University Administration.

"It is to be noted that few of the enterprising young lawyers on the Idaho campus are cigarette addicts," said Dean W. E. Masterson of the college of law this morning. In the good old days the law library was utilized also as a smoking rendezvous, and ambitious law students gathered in true masculine fashion to smoke cigars, cigarettes, and pipes for a few hours of concentrated study.

Williams, the purpose is to teach them to "live most and serve best." Surely the state endowed institutions should train students to meet a need which is recognized on all sides.

Miss Mabel Locke, also of the women's physical education department, said, "Our purpose is not to train for vocations. There are few students in our classes who will ever take up physical training as a profession. We are aiming to give the training which will enable students to make the proper adult social adjustments. Physical education meets this aim. While few will ever think of it in terms of profession, they will be better able to make their social adjustments. Dr.

STUDENTS FAVOR RESTRICTION FOR WOMEN SMOKERS

POLL REACHES 900

Students Air Opinions On Ancient Question of Co-eds And Nicotine

By means of a student straw vote the Argonaut has obtained what may be considered to be a reliable expression of opinion on the important current question of smoking by women. The poll reached approximately 900 students and one-half to one in favor of restrictions on smoking by women in public places. Through the use of three questions a diversification of opinion was ascertained. There proved to be a class of women, moreover, who were opposed to smoking on the part of men. This latter development was polled in only a few of the women's houses, but at least gave an indication that men were not entirely free from criticism. The questions and the results follow:

Men's Groups.

In favor of some restriction..... 421
In favor of absolute freedom..... 194
Opposed to smoking in public..... 89
In favor of absolute prohibition..... 316

Women's Groups.

In favor of some restriction..... 109
In favor of absolute freedom..... 54
Opposed to smoking in public..... 2
In favor of absolute prohibition..... 2

Students Interviewed.

In order that these returns may be interpreted strictly as they were intended, a number of opinions from students on the campus were obtained. In all of the interviews the fact was mentioned that it was probably up to the individual girl as to whether or not she smoked, but that when it came to smoking in public the impression that it made on outsiders in regard to the opinions concerning the morals of the school should be taken into consideration.

A number of students felt that smoking by women under any circumstances might be perfectly proper in many places, but that at Idaho the general opinion of the people of the state should first be considered.

Dorothy Rouse, a prominent member of Mortar Board and of the executive board last year, remarked, "that she was opposed to smoking by women and that she preferred pipes for men at all occasions." She suggested that pipes should be made the essence of fashion even at the dinner table.

Elsie Warm was somewhat of the same opinion as Miss Rouse. She said that she thought smoking was "silly and unnecessary and only another example of copying men by women." In time, she said, "I believe it will get over it entirely."

Katherine Mikleson, secretary of the student executive board, was rather indifferent concerning the matter, but that indifference went only so far "as does not affect opinions of the university."

"I have no objections to smoking by women in any place," said Margaret Thometz, prominent senior, "as long as it does not affect the university."

Grace Parsons, member of Mortar Board and junior woman on the executive board last year, gave a new twist to the question by suggestion that she "opposed public smoking by women, but thought that they should be allowed smoking rooms in group houses."

Men Tolerant.

All of the men who were interviewed were quite tolerant of the women, but did have objections to public appearances if those appearances were going to reflect on the university in the minds of the people from outside.

Paul E. Jones, managing editor of the Argonaut, said, "I do not mind women smoking, either in public or in private. However, Greta Garbo is the only member of her sex who does it gracefully."

"It may be all right, and probably is," said Joe Elisch, prominent junior and applicant for Rhodes scholarship, "but I think that men should be allowed to have a few vices exclusively their own." His remarks were seconded by Walter Slaughter, member of the university debate team which met the Oxford team, but he went further to say that he did hate to see the women give impressions of the university which would in any way be erroneous.

Lois Forterfield, president of the W. A. A., gave a new angle of the situation in her statement: "I will smoke when I feel I need to. As far as I can see, I will never need to. It is not a moral question, but one of individual taste."

Georgetta Miller, Constance Woods, and Virginia Peck, presidents of sororities on the campus, also expressed opinions in regard to smoking by women which carried out the very popular idea that though it was a matter of personal choice, the effect on the institution should be taken into consideration.

The inevitable conclusion from such a poll and the collections of student opinions must be that men and women at Idaho are tolerant and modern in their attitude on smoking. At the same time a desire to meet the best interests of the university is conclusively present in all parts of the campus.

ORGANIZER

SONGSTERS GOING ON TEN DAY TOUR OF SOUTH IDAHO

Ten Regular Concerts Scheduled For Vandaleers On Trip Through State

WILL BROADCAST Mixed Chorus Will Be Heard Over Radio After Return

Ten regular concerts, several high school assemblies and a special appearance before the Southern Branch student body at Pocatello have been scheduled for the Vandaleers on their 10-day tour of southern Idaho, reports George Horton, graduate manager of the A.S.U.I.

Members of the new mixed chorus will leave Moscow December 2 and still be on the road continuously for the next 11 days. The entire trip will be made in a chartered motor coach. Two days after their return the Vandaleers are scheduled for more travel to Spokane and Lewiston. On December 16 they will be the feature of a chamber of commerce luncheon at Spokane, the program of which will be broadcast over Station KHO. That night the Vandaleers will sing at Lewiston. Tonight they present their full concert at Troy.

Where They Will Appear

Their itinerary for the southern Idaho trip follows: Dec. 3, Weiser; Dec. 4, Fayette; Dec. 5, Boise; Dec. 6, Lemhi; Dec. 7, Buhl; (Sunday afternoon concert); Dec. 8, Twin Falls; Dec. 9, high school assembly, Rupert; Dec. 9, Burley (evening); Dec. 10, Malad; Dec. 11, morning assembly at Southern Branch, Pocatello; Dec. 11, afternoon at Blackfoot high school; Dec. 11, Idaho Falls (evening); Dec. 12, Nampa.

Negotiations are underway to schedule an evening concert at La Grande, Ore., December 2. Driving by way of Walla Walla and Pendleton to Weiser would have been too long a trip for the first concert that night, said Prof. Cummings. A stopover at La Grande was substituted for the original plan.

Charles Graybill, president of the A.S.U.I., was advance agent for the Vandaleers, booking all their appearances during the week of Homecoming. Several more short programs may be added to the present itinerary according to arrangements which can be made during the trip.

IDDINGS RETURNS FROM TRIP EAST

Dean E. J. Iddings of the college of agriculture will arrive home December 1 to take up his duties. He left on his vacation when Dr. M. G. Neale took over the presidency.

Dean and Mrs. Iddings visited the Caribbean countries where Dean Iddings studied the agricultural conditions of Cuba, Panama, Canal Zone, and several points in the northern part of South America.

Dr. C. W. Hungerford, assistant dean of the college of agriculture and acting dean during Dean Iddings' absence, will resume his duties as professor of plant pathology.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Kappa Phi will hold intercessory services Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock in the Methodist church. Ardath Moore, chairman of the service, requests members, pledges, and alumni to be present.

It has been our pleasure to observe: BRIG WILLIS says "All I know is what I hear at the Gamma Phi house.....PAUL JONES looking fussed.....LEE KNIGHT acting the school boy service requests members, pledges, and alumni to be present.

Ed Solomon is the Bruin captain and first string field general. He is an excellent passer and a fair punter but shines when he packs the ball in the end zone. Bob Decker is the hope of the southern in the Idaho battle as he is a great triple threat man and has starred in every game this year. Duncan and Guttormson are the regular line plunkers and both boys are reported to be fast and possess plenty of drive. The Bruins will outweigh the Vandals nearly 4 pounds to the man, but a fast field is expected, so they receive no advantage from this source.

U. C. L. A. can be compared with Idaho in the matter of experience as it will be one sophomore team against another and the breaks of the game will probably be the deciding factor. Two seasons ago the Bruins came north and played the Vandals on MacLean field and Idaho walked off with a 20 to 6 score. Bill Spaulding will be thinking of that game when his charges lineup against the Red Shirts next Saturday and word from the south says he is pointing his gridders for Coland's warriors.

Here are the men who will be in uniform when the Vandals take the field in Los Angeles next Saturday: Norby, Taylor, Fowler, Carlson, Jacoby, ends; Bessler, Hall, Diort, Stephens, tackles; Corkery, Lopez, Srook, Cravens, guards; Schult, Snaug, centers; Hanford, Tyrrell, Berg, Sackett, halves; Wittke, Booker, fullbacks; Davis, Wilson, and Sather, quarters.

VANDALS ENTRAIN FOR LOS ANGELES TO MEET U.C.L.A.

Idaho Will Make Last Bid For Conference Victory

TEAM IN SHAPE

Great Battle Expected; Both Squads Composed Of Sophomores

Idaho's Vandals, 24 strong, leave for the stronghold of the U. C. L. A. Bruin at Los Angeles today, where they will make their last bid of the 1930 season for a conference victory.

The Red Shirts managed to squeeze in a short practice on Monday night and plan to get several workouts in the coliseum before the big battle.

Every man in the Vandal camp will be able to see service next Saturday as the squad came out of the hard Montana game in good shape and Calland believes all bruises and old injuries will be out of the way when his men clash with Bill Spaulding's gridders.

Idaho had a bad day against the Grizzlies and the team is looking ahead to whipping the Bruins. Norby and Taylor at ends are both in good shape and Norby in particular was much in evidence during the Montana fracas last Saturday. John Corkery, Idaho's great guard, will have a chance to show Californians that he deserves a spot on any all-coast eleven. George Wilson will probably be in there to hand the Bruin tacklers some uneasy minutes when he tries the ends on some of his famous runs. Davy L. A. goal line more than once and was handled by Taylor and Norby out there to grab it, should court the aerial game for long gains before the final whistle blows.

In other words Idaho is going to arrive in California with lots of fight and confidence but no overconfidence.

The big U. C. L. A. battle will mark the last conference stand for four fighting Vandals and each of these boys will be giving all he has for an Idaho victory. Carlson and Hjort at ends close their careers in the Coast conference as will Dan Lopez, at guard, and John Booker at the fullback post.

Held Oregon.

The U. C. L. A. Bruins are the baby member of the conference and their elevens under the guidance of Bill Spaulding have been growing in power this season year until this season they boast a team that has given all conference opponents plenty of battle. Their big surprise of the year came in the Oregon game when they held the Webfoot to a lone touchdown and the nearly scored themselves. Doc Spears' gridders have been defeated once this year so that reflects more glory on the Bruins. According to the Oregon battle, U. C. L. A. is stronger on the defense than Idaho, but does not possess the drive of the Vandal backs.

Coach Spaulding began his season with two regulars but the material looked so good that he scheduled one of the toughest schedules in the west, believing that lots of hard experience makes a ball team.

He has a squad of about 40 men with two teams of equal strength. One lineup is light and fast while he can place a big beefy eleven on the field if the occasion demands. Ed Solomon is the Bruin captain and first string field general. He is an excellent passer and a fair punter but shines when he packs the ball in the end zone. Bob Decker is the hope of the southern in the Idaho battle as he is a great triple threat man and has starred in every game this year. CLUB HAS BREAKFAST

Sunday morning 25 members of the Episcopal club enjoyed the monthly breakfast in the Parish hall. Corporate members, but not present for the breakfast. It was decided to have a dinner dance soon after Thanksgiving.

WANDALS REST OVER VACATION After Scrimmage This Week

Idaho's varsity hoop squad having worked all the kinks out of its joints, has started training under Coach "Rich" Fox. The grind will not let up until the last conference battle is over, which will be late in February.

Last night Fox sent one five, consisting of Justice, Nelson, Parks, Barrett, and Hall against another team made up of "Unknowns." The contest waged hot for nearly half an hour with the first five having a slight advantage. Hall and Barrett looked best for the orange jerseys while Christens stood out on the white quintet. The rest of the men found plenty of action before and after the short scrimmage as they trotted up and down the court in groups of five, passing the ball back and forth in order to get used to working it under the basket.

Saturday morning and early afternoon were also work periods for the Vandals as they held their first scrimmage in which nearly everybody saw some action. The men are still a bit uncertain while trying to place the center into two groups and they will battle each other until the freshman squad rounds into shape to furnish the Vandals with opposition.

This week will be devoted to short scrimmages. Coach Fox will soon divide his squad into two groups and they will battle each other until the freshman squad rounds into shape to furnish the Vandals with opposition.

A.S.U.I. POSTPONES STUDENT MEETING

The Executive board of the A.S.U.I. has announced a postponement of the special A.S.U.I. election that was to be held Wednesday morning. The committee decided that it was impossible to hold the election because of the fact that Wednesday is so close to Thanksgiving many of the students will not be present. The election will be held one week from Wednesday at the regular assembly period.

KENWORTHY MEETS STUDENT GROUP

Conference Fails to Bring Material Change in Existing Conditions

Two hours of discussion Saturday afternoon between four student representatives and Milburn Kenworthy, regarding motion pictures shown at the latter's theaters here failed to bring about any material changes in present conditions.

Mr. Kenworthy declared he sincerely believed his present bookings were fair to the students, despite arguments presented by the student delegates attempting to show that a contrary opinion exists on the campus.

The executive board committee composed of Betty Wilson, Lionel Campbell and Harry Daubert, and the editor of the Argonaut, visited Mr. Kenworthy. The purpose of the meeting was to allow opportunity for expression of opinions on both sides of the controversy which has been raging for some time over the moving picture situation in Moscow.

For Better Sunday Shows

The executive board committee explained the student attitude on the matter and gave many of the reasons why students asked for better shows, particularly on Sunday.

Wayne Blair, editor of Gem: "My opinion is that the faculty members should subscribe to the Argonaut because it brings them in closer contact with campus life, and with the students whom they teach."

Walter Gillespie, Argonaut circulation manager: "We work as hard to put out the Argonaut as the faculty members do to put out grades and they are no more entitled to free Argonauts than the students. The heads of departments and the advertisers are entitled to complimentary issues, and they are given them. In the past, many more have subscribed than now, and as an expression of our appreciation we will run a list every week of faculty members who subscribe during this campaign."

WRATH OF BARTON IS EXPELLED ON LONE SUBSCRIBER

Lieut. Sheehy Only Faculty Member Paying For Argonaut

OUT OF 300 TOTAL

Survey Shows Loss to A.S. U.I. Paper Amounts Yearly to $600

Only one faculty member out of a possible 300 reads the Argonaut through a paid subscription. He is Lieutenant J. W. Sheehy. This fact was disclosed yesterday after a hasty check of the graduate manager's files by the business and editorial staff of the Argonaut.

The check is only a part of a financial campaign to find some means by which the paper can keep from ending the school year with the usual lack of funds.

Following are a few of the comments given by the instructors when they were asked to give their reasons, if any, for subscribing or not subscribing to the Argonaut: "I don't take the Argonaut because of financial reasons," declared Dr. J. W. Barton. "What's more, there is nothing in it that I can't get for nothing. Then too, there is a perfectly good copy in the library." Lieutenant Sheehy is in one of my classes and if I find that he is paying for the Argonaut—I'll flunk him! By—God—I'll flunk him!" Lieutenant J. W. Sheehy says: "I like the Argonaut very much, and couldn't get along without it. It gives a good outline of the school activities and those who do not take the Argonaut are missing a lot."

Dr. H. L. Axtell: "I guess my main reason for not taking the Argonaut is its economical nature. However, I think we really should take the paper and keep up with the interests of the students. I find the editorials great, and I like to read them."

Chenoweth Pays for Two. Prof. C. W. Chenoweth: "I pay for two Argonauts for my daughters and don't get a chance to read either of them."

Miss Ada Burke (in her sweet way says) "I should subscribe for the Argonaut, but I really never think of it."

Butch Boyer and Miss Wanous did not care to be interviewed on the subject.

Student Leaders Discuss Point. Some student opinions are: Harry Walden, pep band leader: "It seems to me the faculty members get the Argonaut by dropping into the Nest and taking one as they go by."

Charles Graybill, A.S.U.I. president: "Faculty members should be interested enough in student activities to subscribe to the Argonaut."

Ed Whittington, Argonaut editor: "This student publication is financed entirely by student funds. Every student must contribute. We feel that the faculty members are very close to the student body and are no doubt interested in student affairs. If the approximate 300 faculty members subscribed to the Argonaut, it would mean about $600 a year. According to George Horton, graduate student manager of the Argonaut is in the red at the end of each college year. It can easily be seen that we need all the financial support due us."

Gen'l Editor Says "Yes." Wayne Blair, editor of Gem: "My opinion is that the faculty members should subscribe to the Argonaut because it brings them in closer contact with campus life, and with the students whom they teach."

Walter Gillespie, Argonaut circulation manager: "We work as hard to put out the Argonaut as the faculty members do to put out grades and they are no more entitled to free Argonauts than the students. The heads of departments and the advertisers are entitled to complimentary issues, and they are given them. Clogging Credits Not Bunk, Says Physical Ed Directors

"If we are to accept the definition of education as having for its purpose to teach us to do better those things which we do anyway, then the present trend in physical education is in the proper direction," said Miss Lillian Wirt, head of the women's physical education department. This statement was made by Miss Wirt in answer to a question of her reaction to the Argonaut story, printed in Friday's issue on Dr. Abraham Flexner, director of the Institute for Advanced Study, in Newark, N. J.

Dr. Flexner has written a book entitled "Universities—American, English and German." He declared that clog dancing for men and wrestling were "humbug" and neither substantial secondary education nor substantial vocational training. He said that there is not a college in America "which has the courage to place athletics where everyone knows they belong."

"Classical learning," said Miss Wirt, "has in the past been too

PRE-THANKSGIVING social functions last week-end were of a diversified nature ranging from the ultra-formal in the Scabbard and Blade dinner dance to the other extreme in the Beta barn dance.

Military uniforms, the suave and gay, characterized the Scabbard and Blade dance at the Moscow hotel Friday evening.

Saturday afternoon a dancing party held by the DeSmet club at the L. D. S. seminary was well attended and enjoyable.

Saturday evening the forest atmosphere was treated in the old gymnasium for the annual Foresters' dance held there.

The old Beta house was adorned with harness, bales of hay and other essentials to make a fitting scene for the crowd of country youths and maidens who danced there on Saturday evening.

And now the student body looks forward to the big Thanksgiving dinner and all the social activities which follow. Many will enjoy their turkey dinner at home, and out of Moscow, but the group houses are all planning the best for those who are not so fortunate and will remain on the campus for the holidays.

HENKLE PLEDGED AT MILITARY DINNER DANCE
Company B, sixth regiment of Scabbard and Blade announces the pledging of Captain H. L. Henkle, assistant professor of the military department. The pledging was a feature of the annual Scabbard and Blade formal dinner dance at the Moscow hotel Friday evening.

Dancing, which followed the dinner, continued until 11 o'clock. Music was furnished during the evening by William Ames, violinist, and Lloyd Whitlock, accompanist. Kenneth Dick, president of the organization was toastmaster.

Patrons and patronesses of the affair were: General and Mrs. E. F. Chrisman, Captain and Mrs. B. M. Crenshaw, Captain and Mrs. H. L. Henkle, and Lieutenant and Mrs. J. W. Sheehy. Guests were Helen Douglas, Ruth Garver, Julia Hunter, Jacqueline Johnson, Mary Eaton, Winifred Galloway, Louise Morley, Ruth Bramley, Camille Harris, Emily Osgood, Helen Hanson, Georgetta Miller, Flora Corkery, Jeanne Wickwire, Lillie Gallagher, Catherine O'Neil, Julia Valer, Linn Cowgill, Myrtle Rach, and Ruth Ragan.

FORESTERS GIVE 16th ANNUAL BALL
Saturday evening the Associated Foresters gave their sixteenth annual ball, held at the women's gymnasium. The setting was most effective, with pine boughs completely concealing the ceiling of the room. A log cabin served as the entrance. Quite in keeping with the forest idea was a camping scene in one corner of the hall. The dance programs were especially original giving the appearance of wood, to which was attached a real pine cone.

Patrons and patronesses were: Miss Permeal J. French, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hubert, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gall, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jahn, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Kempf, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sowden, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Otter, and Mr. L. E. Spence.

BARNYARD BALL SPONSORED BY BETAS

The old chapter house of Beta Theta Pi was the scene of a barn dance, Friday evening, November 21. Bales of straw, harness, corn stalks, and lanterns were decorative features, with apple cider and doughnuts as the customary refreshment. The patrons and patronesses included:

Mrs. Lenore Scott, Dr. and Mrs. Harry J. Einhouse, and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Goff.

GIRLS' FENCING CLASS SHOWS PEP

The girls' fencing class is progressing with enthusiasm according to Dr. E. E. Hubert, fencing instructor. The largest number of girls yet of any year have turned out for fencing, and since the equipment has arrived the girls are encouraged over their success. Squads of four members each have been chosen, each one having a captain and a group name. Jesse Hutchinson was elected the girls' manager to assist Dr. Hubert in arranging possible future bouts between squads of this university and those of W. S. C.

GIRLS SELECTED FOR CLASS TEAMS

Monday and Tuesday of this week and five afternoons next, from 4 to 5 p. m., the girls' inter-class volleyball tournaments will be played. Each first team plays every other first team, each second team every other second, and so on.

Members of the first teams are: Senior; Mildred Axtell, Dolores Holmes. Junior: Lois Porterfield, Maxine Thornhill, Grace Warren, Dorothy Janssen, Edna Miller, and Mary L. Kerr.

Freshman: Lorna McCain, Claudine Wakefield, Helen Thornhill, Elizabeth Vincent, and Dorothy McPhillamey. Monday, December 8, basketball practice for girls for girls will start.

WILL ATTEND MEET

Vera Allan and Violet Songstad, Moscow, freshmen in the university leave Thursday Nov. 27, for Chicago to attend the 4-H conference held there. They will be gone about ten days returning Dec. 8.

MINERS WILL MEET

The tentative date for the next meeting of the Associated Mining Students is Monday, December 1. At this meeting, besides the regular business, initiation of the new members of the organization will be discussed. A more elaborate initiation than that used in previous years is planned.

GRIZZLIES UPSET FIGHTING VANDALS BY 12 TO 6 COUNT

Montanans Take Early Lead By Blocking Idaho Punt

Silver And Gold End Takes Davis' Pass Over Goal Line

By Bill Pohlman
Idaho's fighting Vandals came to life in the second half against Montana Saturday and battered their way to a touchdown, but lost the game by a 12 to 6 score, as they were unable to overcome an early Grizzly lead.

The Montanans fought like inspired men and when they had crossed the Idaho goal twice in the first half they settled down to a defensive game that protected their end zone, although most of the play was in Montana territory the latter part of the game.

It was a big day for the Missoula school, as the Grizzlies had been pointing for the invasion of the Vandals all year. They caught a slightly confident group of Idaho gridsters off guard and had the battle sewed up before the Red Shirts began to click.

The first period was rather slow as both sides resorted to defensive and punting tactics to keep themselves out of danger. Idaho held a slight edge during this quarter as the Vandal punts were outdistancing the Grizzlies. At the start of the second period Montana received the oval in her own territory and with Carpenter and Waldo Ekegren slashing off tackle and around the ends advanced the ball to the one yard mark. On the next play, Dalley fullback, fell over the goal and Montana failed to kick the extra point making the count 6 to 0.

Shortly after this unexpected turn of events Davis attempted one of his effective kicks but Vidro, Grizzly lineman, sifted through the Vandal wall, blocked the try, and it was Montana's ball on the 12 yard line. Idaho's wall held for three downs but Ekegren crashed over the last mark on the fourth try and the score stood 12 to 0.

DRAMA HONORARY ELECTS OFFICERS

Election of officers by "The Curtain", honorary dramatics fraternity, took place at a business meeting held Wednesday, November 19.

CLOGGING CREDITS

Flexner is taking the other side of the question and looking at it from a different angle. As for clogging classes for men, he says that if those for women, I have never seen clogging classes for men, but we do see dancing classes for them and many men do clogging and tap dancing on the stage. It is a development of social adjustment and a good means of exercise. I see no reason why it should not be taught to men.

Coach "Rich" Fox says, "We have no dancing classes for men at Idaho. However, we do have wrestling. In my opinion, it is a fine sport for development. The objection that most people have to wrestling is that it overdevelops. This is not true. Collegiate wrestling is carried on differently than is professional wrestling. The college sport is less brutal, the periods are shorter and there is no danger of hurting any one or over-development. The professional wrestler is often muscle bound and in this way is harmed. The college wrestler is watched carefully to keep him in condition. The scientific side of wrestling is stressed. Boys who come to Idaho are often under-developed and there is a need for physical education. The fact that P. E. work is new, makes it difficult to convince people of its use. I think Dr. Flexner's statement about placing athletics where they belong, is unfair. There are many physical educationists who think athletics have gone beyond their field. However, that does not affect the schools where the staff is trying to keep the proper balance. Physical education has a very definite place in the curriculum. Their growth is evidence of the fact that their place in the schools and colleges of the country is warranted."

University Heating Plant Never Stops; Heats 34 Buildings

There are no vacation periods for the University heating plant. It runs day in and day out, twenty-four hours a day the year round. There are three boilers—500, 300, and 250 horse power, the smaller of these being used during the summer months.

Thirty-four buildings are heated by the system, using 26 tons of coal at $3.16 a ton, every 24 hours, or about 6200 tons of coal a year. The furnaces are equipped to burn slack, a very fine, cheap coal, which results from crude blasting in the mines. In order to use slack a special stoker with a fan and air channel is installed, thus regulating the heat and providing the draft. The fans force the coal into the furnaces and regulate the steam pressure of the boilers. The furnaces are fed through automatic feeders that are connected with the bins which hold about 300 tons of slack at one time.

In the fall of 1927 the plant was moved and the 500 horsepower boiler, the large vacuum pump, stoker engine and fan were installed. In addition to the list of 34 buildings, five greenhouses are regulated by the plant, and two uniform temperatures of 50 and 70 degrees are maintained.

NEW RELIGIOUS NON-SECTARIAN SOCIETY FORMED

Ministers, Faculty Members, Business Men, Meet Monday

CREDIT IS OFFERED

Organization to Have House For Thirty or Forty Boys

Monday noon, ministers, interested faculty, and prominent business men of Moscow met at the Blue Bucket inn for luncheon after which a business meeting was held for the purpose of forming an organization to be called the Idaho Institute for Christian Education, and to select a board of trustees.

The Idaho Institute for Christian Education will offer non-sectarian religious courses for university credit. It will be a social, education, and religious corporation, offering religious education of academic rank.

Students For Idea. Students of the university favor the movement, said the Rev. Mrs. Mabel Stevens Burton, chairman of the meeting. The new organization will have a house large enough to care for thirty or forty boys. In some respects it would resemble the latter day saints' seminary operating here now.

Names of those present who signed the articles of confederation were: Rev. Mrs. M. S. Burton, Rev. J. N. Tinsley, Dean E. J. Eldridge, Rev. C. M. Drury, Rev. Mrs. F. Samm, Mr. Abe Goff, Dr. G. M. Miller, Prof. A. W. Martin, Mr. Martin Mickey, Rev. H. H. Mitchell, Rev. Wm. Hints, Rev. R. P. Oliver, Prof. W. W. Smith, Mr. A. I. Rollefson, Rev. E. M. Heege, Mr. R. Gossett, and Mr. V. M. Ramstedt. Dean J. F. Messenger, Miss Ellen Peterson, Mrs. I. N. Carter, and Mr. L. W. Schimke. Mrs. Carter will be remembered on the campus as Mrs. Blomquist, assistant dean of women several years ago.

DICKS KEEP TAB ON ROBERT BROWN

Young Collegian Charged With Murder of His Step-father

The trial of Robert Brown, debonair young collegian, charged with the murder of his stepfather on the night of November 6, has been postponed until Thursday evening, December 4, at 7:30. The petition by the defense for a writ of habeas corpus has not yet been acted upon, but with the evidence before the court, it is sure to be denied.

The prosecution is keeping all plans for the trial under cover, but it is known that an army of well known sleuths have been working on the case gathering new evidence to convict young Brown. It is rumored that an eye-witness to the crime has been found. An attorney with car trouble was approaching the Cross home to use the telephone on the night of the murder, when he is alleged to have heard a rumpus in the barn. Upon hearing a shot, he arrived at the barn just in time to see a figure fleeing into the night. The witness has not been disclosed and it is not known whether or not he has identified Brown as the murderer.

At Work on Alibi. The defense, on the other hand, in completing its alibi, is producing two new witnesses claiming to have been with Brown on the night of the murder. One, Brown's fiancée, claims to have spent the early part of the evening with Brown in Pullman. The other, a waitress, is alleged to have been with Brown in Spokane later on the same night. The defense declares that after the trial, the state will be in need of some new attorneys, and that the prosecution is only stalling now, because no case has been built up against Brown. Prosecuting attorneys declare that the postponement will enable them to prove beyond a doubt that the defendant was guilty of the dastardly crime.

VANDALEERS TAKE BOW NEXT MONDAY

Mixed Chorus to be Presented in Full Concert

Idaho students and townspeople will have an opportunity to hear the full concert program of the much-talked-about Vandaleers, new mixed chorus, next Monday evening, according to plans announced last night by George E. Horton, graduate manager of the A.S.U.I. University auditorium, 8:15 o'clock are essential details.

A petition before the university calendar committee for a home concert, December 1, will be considered at the regular weekly meeting of the committee this afternoon. A concert in November would have been impossible, Mr. Horton said, and the Christmas vacation would have made January the earliest possible alternative. Under the circumstances, plans have been made on the basis of next Monday night.

A.S.U.I. Coupons Good. Students will be admitted on the A.S.U.I. coupon books and townspeople will be charged fifty cents. Reserved seats will be handled by Hodgins. Students may obtain reserved seats merely by presenting their A.S.U.I. tickets in person, Mr. Horton said. He pointed out that students had better get their reserved seats before they leave the campus Wednesday, otherwise there would be disappointments galore for the tardy ones who delayed action until Monday.

Better than anything the music department has developed in years, is the comment of those who have heard the sensational new chorus. Refreshingly original and fairly bubbling over with lilted enthusiasm, the Vandaleers go through their program in effortless easy fashion that has come from weeks of long hard training. The opening curtain discloses the Vandaleers in formal dress singing in chorus seven numbers which demonstrate their skill in group harmony. Then a change of costume for the chorus finds Helen Parrott and Prof. Carleton Cummins, director, in the spotlight. Miss Parrott sings a violin solo and Prof. Cummins sings two famous operatic numbers.

The third group finds the Vandaleers on the stage in clever gypsy costumes. Here is where they really show their versatility. First the entire group sings the romantic "Mexican Serenade". Paul Rice goes way down the scale in his bass solo "The Gypsy Trail". Kenneth Hensley and John Jenny are featured in a duet, followed by Dorothy Fredrickson singing "Habenera" from "Carmen", supported by the chorus. Virginia Stewart is the dancer and she goes through the intricate steps of a Spanish dance, castanets and all. Edwin Tomlinson sings "The Bandolero", followed by the entire chorus in "Italian Street Song", concluding the group.

Each Member Soloist. Probably the most interesting of all for Idaho students will be the fourth group—songs in costume. As every member of the organization is a soloist, Prof. Cummings has little difficulty in finding singers for the various characterizations he wished to portray with song.

DE SMET MIXER SOCIAL SUCCESS

More than 80 people attended the mixer and dancing party held Saturday afternoon at the L. D. S. seminary by the De Smet club, Catholic student organization. Miss Maude Garnett chaperoned the affair. Dancing was enjoyed from 3 until 5 o'clock. Morris O'Donnell was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

A miniature golf match in Chicago with Johnny Farrell using a putter and Willie Hoppe a billiard cue, resulted in a victory for Farrell.

days. They explained the fact that the picture show patronage depends largely upon the students and also set forth the fact that the students should be pleased, considering their patronage in the past. The necessity for some studying during the week to the exclusion of moving pictures was also set forth by the committee.

Mr. Kenworthy explained his position in regard to pictures shown and discussed the necessity of pleasing both townspeople and students. He indicated that there were a number of problems arising in his purchase of pictures. The fact that he is forced to buy his pictures in blocks set out by the producers makes it impossible for him to obtain the best productions all of the time. The best pictures, too, must be run for at least three days in order that the others may be carried.

The outcome of the meeting was in the form of no definite action, but members of the committee expressed the opinion that a much better understanding was arrived at and that pictures in the future possibly be as good as they could be under the circumstances. Mr. Kenworthy said that he regarded the student business as the bulk of his patronage and that naturally he would make every effort to hold their business.

KAPPA PHI CLUB RECEIVES REPORT

The Kappa Phi club met at its regular meeting, Tuesday, November 18 in the Methodist church parlors. There was a short business meeting, after which Mrs. Hugo Johnson and Dolores Holmes gave interesting talks on the National convention of Kappa Phi at Mont-real, North Carolina. The hostesses of Kappa Phi served a lunch.

The next meeting of the Kappa Phi club will be in charge of Ardath Moore, at the Methodist church, Sunday morning, November 27. It will be an Intercourse Service. The meeting will be held at 10 o'clock.

sively for milk." Once a day the milk is hauled to the university creamery where it is standardized to 4 per cent butterfat content and pasteurized. After being cooled to 38 degrees Fahrenheit, it is placed in a large cold-room to await delivery to the men's halls and the infirmary. In all the handling processes the consumer is kept in mind and a very high class product is the result. The university herd is entirely free from two diseases which are generally found in dairy herds.

These are tuberculosis, and undulant fever in humans or contagious abortion in cattle. If animals are infected and the milk is not pasteurized there is danger of transfer of these diseases to the human. Several times each week the bacteriology department takes an official sample of milk both before and after pasteurization, runs a bacterial count, and reports its findings as a disinterested party. Using the bacterial count as a basis, the milk would be allowed as certified milk in larger cities. By coming from a healthy herd and being pasteurized a double check is secured on the safety of the milk. "The university students should demand milk that is clean and safe," concluded Professor Atkeson.
