"What'll I Do"

THAT mournful ballad, "What'll I Do", is now the theme song of the senior ball committee. They can find no hall in which to give that big social function, and they are theoretically "up a stump," whistling.

Last year the ball was given in the Elks' temple some time before Christmas. This year, however, the Elks have decided that for several reasons they cannot turn the hall over to the university. There are only two other halls in Moscow large enough for the senior party—the Memorial gym and the Women's gym. It was decided shortly after the Foresters' Ball that no more dances could be given in the old gym because it endangers the lives of the aesthetic dancers and women basketball players, for several weeks after. Likewise wax cannot be put on the floor of the Memorial gym during basketball season.

Still the fact remains that the senior ball can not be an Italian street dance, especially in the dead of winter. It would endanger the lives of the ice skaters. The committees have been discussing to some extent the possibility of giving the dance in Pullman, but the idea of giving any university affair at the home of their traditional rivals is not particularly appealing. Besides that, there is no downtown hall in Pullman that is large enough.

As it is, the class is praying for a softening of heart on the part of the Elks.

Activity Annals

IDAHO activity women are of several kinds. There are those who eat up the publicity of activities, those who are really interested and those who want to do a service to the university. The latter, fortunately, outnumber the first named.

Women's organizations on the Idaho campus are among the most active in the country. The A.W.S. has done a great deal for the A.S.U.I. Its scholarship loan fund has helped many a girl meet college expenses. The modesty of the organization is one of its main assets.

Idaho Spurs have also done their share and a great more. They have ushered at all assemblies, sponsored mixers and lent a hand to every worthy enterprise. Whenever anyone wants anything done, he asks either the Spurs or the Intercollegiate Knights to do it.

Idaho women through their desire to serve their university have tied together the friendly spirit of the campus and are, to a great extent, responsible for this spirit.

Preserve It

IDAHO needs a history of traditions and events. Tradition is a thing which is very prominent here at Idaho. The U. of I. is rich in it. It is tradition which is responsible for the sentiment clustered around the Alma Mater, and it ties the future with the past. It is invaluable as a support for the school. We need tradition, and to keep those we have, we must inform the members of the A.S.U.I. about them. The longer we put off making a concrete history of Idaho, the dimmer the recollection of those traditions will grow.

It is not stretching the matter to say that a school lives through its traditions. We want Idaho to live and prosper. In that case we must not lose her memories of the past. The old grad loves to think of things he did in the good old days. Those of us who are here now will want to see the same traditions in force. That we may do this, some one must set down those traditions and the story of Idaho's conquests. We need a history.

STUDENT DIRECTORS DISPLAY ABILITY; HIGHLY PRAISED

First Group of One-Act Plays of Season Is Given

FANTASY IS POPULAR

Dramatic Department Entertainment Pleases Large Audience

Student directors of the four one-act plays presented in the auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings received high commendations from the record crowds for both performances. Coaching by the advanced play production classes is an experiment inaugurated this year under the supervision of Fred C. Blanchard, head of the dramatic department.

Leland Cannon, Shirley Cunningham, Lionel Campbell, Thelma Melgard, Milton Lockwood, Elinor Jacobs, Bob Grant and Grace Eldridge were the directors. Each of these also took part in the plays. A different cast appeared each evening.

Unusual Lighting
 The novelty of the fantasy "The Next Step On" by Walton Butterfield, the simplicity of the setting and the unusual lighting effects made this play the most popular. A boy suddenly discovers he is between Afterwards and the Next Step On, and he cannot remember having died when an old man tells him he is somewhere after death.

A self-satisfied missionary and a patronizing banker cannot tell the man and boy anything about their experience of death except that they were afraid. It is when a young actress returns from trying to take the Next Step that the boy realizes fear is the thing that prevents people from going on. The old man and actress go eagerly up the stairway while the boy calls encouragement. Then he realizes that he too has died.

length of the city editor, brings about a reconciliation among an enraged father, a socially aspiring aunt, an eloped couple, and gets a scoop for his paper. The boy, the "Gate", insists on calling Mrs. Barton-Smith, Mrs. "Hyphenated" Smith. To stress the busyness of the editor, the Gate exaggerates the number of people "in conference" with him. First it is only the governor; then the mayor and the city council; a general and two senators; six generals and a lot of senators.

As an Indian playwright, the crystal gazer of the Jewel Circus carnival tries to elope with glib little Sally Chant, who turns down Billy Thomson, "one of the boys around town who works for the Standard Oil". Sally loves her playwright because he does not care for material things.

Spinsters Propose
 Two spinsters, Lucie and Prunella, offer themselves as companions to Rama Bahsi because they have kindred "Great Minds". In order to get rid of them Rama tells Lucie he has a harem of 11, and he tells Prunella it is 13. Prunella stops to philosophize about the oneness of oneself as one in a universe of one, while Rama nervously waits for Sally to get ready to elope. His wife, the carnival snake charmer, comes in to demand her husband, leaving Prunella and Lucie to argue about the size of the harem. Sally decides she does like Billy after all. William Alden Kimball wrote this play.

When the leader of the alley gang is being pursued by a couple of officers of the law, three Irish women and a colleen forget their annoyance with him and his pranks and help him escape. Their preference over Robbie Kelly's get-away, after they had been promising to let him be sent to the reformatory, ends in the observation, "They're always persecuting somebody." Kathleen Norris and Orn Tothorpe are the authors of "The Kelly Kid."

NO INFIRMARY PATIENTS.

There are a few patients in the infirmary, but according to Miss Edna Peterson, there are no cases so serious that they will not be let out in time to go home for Christmas.

Students at Vassar recently petitioned for two mails instead of one. No wise cracks.

Down on the Stanford Farm

... pipe smokers agree with NAVY • HARVARD WASHINGTON COLGATE

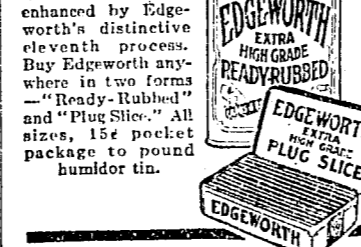

"FROM the foothills to the bay" the curling tendrils of smoke from pipes loaded with Edgeworth rise to meet the sunset fire.

In the Stadium before the big games... watching spring football practice... in the great hall of Encina... over on the Row and up on the Hill... men of Stanford give Edgeworth the preference over all other tobacco brands.

College men everywhere are turning to Edgeworth! In 42 out of 54 of the leading colleges and universities Edgeworth is the favorite pipe tobacco.

To win the vote of so many college men a tobacco must be good. If you've never tried Edgeworth, begin today! For pocket tin is only 15¢. Or, for generous free sample, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d Street, Richmond, Va.

DYNAMITE clears the way for modern engineering wonders

The great dam of the Waterville Development

The Waterville Development

more hydro-electric power for the South

How dynamite was used in the construction of this great project

THE Carolina Power and Light Company needed more electric power to serve the territory in which it operates. The result was the Waterville Development... a vast hydro-electric project located in the Great Smoky Mountains.

The actual working of this project involved the erection of a constant arch dam, 183 feet high... three tunnels varying in length from 5,000 to 16,000 feet... three penstock tunnels 600 feet in length... a vertical shaft known as a gap shaft... and a surge tank shaft.

From the Waterville Development, transmission lines carry the current to many points in Carolina and Tennessee. The tremendous power of the Great Smokies serves to turn the wheels of industry and light the homes of thousands of people of the South.

Such a development would not have been possible without the use of dynamite. Du Pont explosives were used for all blasting operations.

The engineer of tomorrow needs to know all there is to know about dynamite... the tool that helps to build skyscrapers, bridges, dams, subways, tunnels, roads and railroads.

How can you know more... now while you're still in college? Write the Du Pont Company for a copy of the "Blasters' Handbook." This booklet contains a wealth of information about explosives... information gathered in twenty-eight years' experience in making and improving explosives. It is compact and handy. It is used in the classrooms of leading technical institutions. Your free copy is waiting for you. Write for it.

LUCIE WOMACK, Editor

SILVER and gold tinsel, red and green wreaths, and artificial snow, have made their way into fraternity houses during the past week to vie with the Christmas tree on the campus for holiday color honors.

Dramatics department plays Friday and Saturday evening were well received.

Friday evening Gamma Phi Beta entertained at the chapter house. Lindley hall gave an informal dance at the Blue Bucket, and the L.D.S. institute held its annual Christmas informal in the L.D.S. hall.

Saturday evening the Phi Delta Theta upperclassmen's formal dinner dance was outstanding. Informal dances of Phi Gamma Delta, Forney hall, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon were at the respective houses.

A beautiful vesper service was given Sunday afternoon by the Treble Clef club in the auditorium. This service, "Songs of the Madonna", will be repeated in part at the A.S.U.I. assembly Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

This Friday, the last social functions before Christmas vacation will be held. Beta Theta Pi and Sigma Nu will entertain at informal dances at their chapter houses, and Kappa Sigma will hold its annual Christmas dance.

WINTER SCENE FEATURES GAMMA PHI BETA DANCE

Gamma Phi Beta chapter house was the scene of an informal dance Friday evening. Christmas decorations were carried out in evergreens and wreaths. The ceiling was artistically decorated to represent snow, and a miniature forest extended the width of one room.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Truitt, Mr. and Mrs. Hull, Lieutenant and Mrs. John Sheehy, and Miss Katherine Jensen. Guests were: Virginia Kneebone, Gene Ware, Alton Cornelison, Lionel Campbell, Jack Hogue, Bud Greene, Galen Willis, Harold Coffin, Abe Pence, Harry Robb, Charles Cheney, Kenneth Richerts, Robert Greisser, Jerry Dolan, Clayton Loosli, Robert Newhouse, John Torrey, Corwin Mathews, Charles Keating, Robert Grant, Charles Heath, Dean Arnold, Don Stark, Russ Randall, Harold Boyd, Harry Camp, Gene Conner, Charles Hill, Forrest Irwin, Kenneth Jensen, Joe Cremons, Charles Herndon, Fred Wilkie, Richard Hansen, Robert Moore, Robert Greene, Lewis Lindquist, and Arthur Davidson.

CHRISTMAS PARTY FOR LINDLEY HALL

Lindley hall entertained at an informal dance Friday evening at the Blue Bucket inn. Brilliantly lighted Christmas trees, evergreen boughs, and a roaring fire carried out the Christmas theme.

Patrons and patronesses were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Gildow, Mrs. J. G. Watts, and Mr. Theodore Turner.

Guests were Grace Parsons, Bonita Low, Elsa Eisinger, Doris Norcill, Margaret Johnson, Hazel Rodda, Jolene Johnson, Pauline Newhouse, Zoa Shaw, Eunice Huddelson, Myrri Wilson, Blanche Evans, Ethel Senters, Marian Mulkey, Bess Louise Hogg, Agnes Randall, Janet McCoy, Cecelia Mudge, Catherine Brandt, Rita Baxter, Beata Pittman, Helen Stetler, Margaret Thomas, Virginia Webb, Beulah Wright, Lois Birch, Jean Houston, Irah Harris, Sally Volkman, Hazel Frazier, Jane Gockett, Helen Theriault, Ella McAllister, Helen Thornhill, Frances McConnell, Grace Warren, Ivy McPherson, Margaret Moulton, Mildred Budrow, Rebecca Flack, Pauline Sumpter, Edna Wood, Verona Pardue, Dorothy Telford, Martha Throckmorton, Louise Murphy, Gertrude Denny, Charlotte Lemon, Frances Bloom, Ruth Cook, Wanda Henderson, Ramona Cusick, Jean Donaldson, Fern Paulsen, Dorothy Williams, Mildred Axtell, Carolyn Schmidt, Marjorie Budrow, Mary Gillespie, Elma Minear, Myrtha Homes, Betty Whitson, Nita Winn, Claudine Wakefield, Dorothy Gooch, Eva Weidman, Lillian Oleson, Inez Yarril, Anna Fulton, Wilma Hudson, Mary Kerr, Katherine Thomas, Irah Bodie, Dorothy Gahley, Nattie Tabor, Helen Powers, Margaret Hill, Kenneth O'Leary, Randall Wallis, Glenn Shern, Robert Green, Harry Daubert, Stanton Hale, Glen Holmes, Joe McCowen, Henry Lacy, and Stanley Hephner.

Sunday dinner guests of Gamma Phi Beta were Helen Whitehouse, Constance Wood, Frankie Johnson, and Mary Lucille Kerr.

John Dahl of Spokane was a week-end guest of Sigma Chi.

FORNEY HALL HOLDS INFORMAL CHRISTMAS DANCE

Forney hall held an informal Christmas dance Saturday evening. Patronesses were: Mrs. Evelyn Clark and Miss Dorothy Shears.

The L.D.S. Institute entertained at its annual Christmas informal dance Friday night. Decorations carried a hint of Christmas. Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Sidney B. Sperry, Professor and Mrs. W. J. Wilde, and Mr. Robert Greene.

Guests were: Jean Tedford, Hazel Rodda, Jolene Johnson, Margaret Johnson, Regina Campbell, Blanche Taylor, Katherine Roe, Dorothy Simpson, Florence Hansen, Alice Muller, Nancy Kelly, Lily Louis, Frances Hayes, Carlotta Summerfield, Juanita Mason, Edna Richards, Retta McCauley, Dorothy Higgins, Ellen Jack, Edith Lewis, Elsie Rusko, Virginia Evans, Lorraine Hatch, Loretta Stevens, Irene Luke, Lorene Richards, Marjorie Ellsworth, Katherine Hart, Valetta L'Herisson, Violet Hagen, Austa White, Betty Wormward, Alice Brink, Henry Lacey, Stanley Hephner, Joseph McGowen, Cecil Hart, Howard Ballif, Milton Williams, Charles Heath, Ernest Palmer, Carl Evans, Robert Harris, Donald Corless, Wayne Burke, Wayne Stokes, Holden Bowler, Maurice Wilson and Jack Williams.

Artificial snow, Christmas trees, and mistletoe were used as decorations. Windows were painted with snow scenes giving the Christmas atmosphere.

Patrons and patronesses were Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Mosher, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Staples, Lieut. and Mrs. John Sheehy, Mr. and Mrs. Max Griffith, and Mrs. Lily Hill.

Guests were: Eugenia St. Clair, Ellen Jack, Dorothy Craven, Jean Adams, Estelle Jones, Bernice Friedman, Madeline Ford, Rita Doyle, Doris Norell, Mildred Patterson, Geraldine Morse, Jeanne Wickwire, Ruth Marshall, Marguerite Morrow, Lorna Moore, Blanche Taylor, Catherine York, Eunice Phillips, Eleanor Berglund, Louise Neal, Flora Corkery, Maude Galloway, Violet Adams, Marthalene Tanner, Fern Paulson, Margaret Julge, Florence McBratney, Julia Valroy, Mary Louise Greene, Dorothy Higgins, Helvn Newman, Catherine Knowles, Claudia Jones, Pauline Newhouse, Josephine Chamolin, Margaret Moulton, Jean Kingsbury, Margaret Hulser, Florence Rohrer, Florence Hansen, Marian Leachman, Helen Roe McIntyre, Eleanor Jacobs, Eloise Castor, Grace Parsons, Kathryn West, Mrs. Walter Budge, Maxine Noland, Evelyn James, Robert Beaune, Galen Willis, Donald Woodard, John Smith Miller, and Walter Budge.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon entertained Saturday evening with its annual Forty-niner's bar-room dance. Despite gun battles and hand to hand encounters among the miners, cowpunchers, and woodsmen, the sheriff and his deputies were unable to discover any casualties when they arrived on the scene of action after hearing the noise at their post in the city bastille.

The house was decorated with furs, animal's heads and old signs advertising various brands of liquid concoctions and chewing tobaccos. The feature of the bar room was the old-time bar made of rough boards with the customary brass rail for a finishing touch.

The guests were: Beatrice Gibbs, Jessie Samsel, Gwendolyn Grover, Constance Woods, Marjorie Weber, Pearl Walters, Bonita Low, Bernice Friedman, Beulah Wright, Ruth Garver, Charlotte Ginn, Thelma Molgaard, Juanita Mason, Helen Telford, Kathryn Collins, Margaret Hollingsworth, Janet McCoy, Louva Mae Jensen, Julia Hoover, Ruth Crowe, Arlene Tendall, Martha Jean Smith, Elsie Eklund, Valarae Hansen, LaVernon Thomas, Belle Porterfield, Frances Hanley, Frances Larson, Bernice Wernette, Regina Campbell, Eleanor Merriam, Lilly Louis, Dorothy Telford, Evelyn Shoemaker, Dorothy Torgerson, Audrey Arnsdorf, Violet Werner, Jean Houston, Dorothy Simpson and Janet Morgan. More guests: Jane Orr, Harriett Wallace, Hazel Hamilton, Marjorie McVean, Margaret Lee, Virginia Evans, Bernice Brill, Celestine Beamer, Mildred Axtell, Fay Tatrow, Dorothy Bryden, Rus Brown, Charles Cheney, Clayton Loosli, Sandv Laidlaw, Roy Sowder, and Paul Wooley.

Patrons and patronesses were: Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Kostalek, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Cherrington, Mr. and Mrs. Russell White, Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Henkle, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sowder.

Kappa Kappa Gamma announces the marriage of Rose Regan, Boise, to Arthur Edwin Stockton, Parma. The wedding took place at St. John's cathedral in Boise on December 3. The Misses Evelyn Winters and Elizabeth Eastman were bridesmaids and Miss Helen Blackinger was maid of honor.

Mr. Stockton attended Georgetown university and is a member of Phi Delta Theta. Miss Regan is a former Idaho student, and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. After a wedding trip to the coast, Mr. and Mrs. Stockton will make their home at Parma.

Delta Delta Delta entertained for mothers of town members at a festive Sunday evening. A program was furnished by the pledges and refreshments were served. Guests were Mrs. C. F. Anderson, Mrs. E. L. Maston, Mrs. Margaret Sargent, Mrs. Carl Oberg, Mrs. Bertha Johnson, and Mrs. Charles Boyd.

Beta Theta Pi celebrated festivities of Christmas in a most joyous manner at the chapter house Sunday evening. A delightful program, a visit and gifts from Santa, and a beautiful tree contributed to the success of the evening. Guests included the Beta Mothers' club and alumni.

The pledges of Sigma Chi entertained at an informal smoker Saturday night. Guests were Donald DuSault, Jesse Buchanan, Mark Moore, Ned Martin, Cecil Hagen, Neal Holm, Marvin Holm, Phil DuSault, Harry Cline, Hubbell Carpenter, Jack Hogue, John Dahl, and F. J. Kelly.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL Women's basket ball practice began last week, according to Miss Mable Locke, women's athletic coach. About thirty women have turned out for this sport, with members of the freshman class predominating. Practice periods are from four to 5:30 o'clock on Monday and Wednesday for freshmen and seniors, and on Tuesday and Thursday for sophomores and juniors. In order to be eligible for teams, the women must attend at least three-fourths of the practice periods, Miss Locke said. Teams will be selected about February 1.

THETA SIGMA STAFF OF EIGHT WOMEN EDITS ARGONAUT

Local Journalism Women Sponsor Second Paper; Will Award Cup

ALL CO-ED NUMBER

Kathleen Norris May Come To Campus in March to Make Address

Theta Sigma, women's local journalistic fraternity, edited today's issue of the Argonaut. This is the second Theta Sigma Argonaut, the first one having been issued on December 6 of last year.

Members of Theta Sigma who helped put out this paper are Mary Murphy, Hazel Simonds, Elizabeth Taylor, Shirley Cunningham, Virginia Grant Williams, Linn Cowgill, Lucie Womack, Agatha Harding, and Elsie Warm. Miss Harding, a member of the Oregon chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, became an associate member of Theta Sigma last fall.

Theta Sigma was founded about four and one-half years ago by five women. Their purpose was to foster interest among women in journalism. This principle has been carried through and is still the code of the ten women who now make up the active organization.

To be eligible for membership in Theta Sigma, a woman must be majoring or minoring in journalism, and must be active in newspaper work on the campus. These requirements were explained to thirty freshmen and sophomore women who are registered in journalism courses, at a breakfast sponsored by Theta Sigma early last fall.

To foster interest and encourage activity in journalism, Theta Sigma sponsors each year a formal banquet, to which prominent towns-women and campus women are invited. The speaker at these functions is always an outstanding newspaper woman. Last year Hannah Hinsdale, formerly of the Spokesman-Review addressed the gathering.

For next spring, Theta Sigma Phi of Pullman, and Theta Sigma will attempt to bring Kathleen Norris, or some other prominent woman writer to this section, so that local women may have an opportunity to hear her speak. Plans for this function have not yet been completed. The meeting will probably take place in March.

Theta Sigma has sponsored for the past several years a newspaper contest among high school women, in which a silver loving cup is awarded to the winning school. Last year the cup will become the permanent possession of the school winning it three times in succession. Last year the award went to Nampa high school. Letters were sent to fifty Idaho high schools announcing the 1930-31 contest a short time ago.

Founders of the local fraternity were Dorothy Darling, Lucile Eaton McMurray, Gertrude Gould, June Davis, and Virginia Grant Williams.

CAMPUS MILK BIDS CLOSE WEDNESDAY

Class "A" Specifications Are High; Class "B" Milk Will be Cheaper

Bids for supplying the campus with milk must be in by Wednesday of this week, according to James Dunn, head of a committee appointed by John Soder, president of the Interfraternity council.

Because of the milk situation on the campus, group houses and halls held a joint meeting to determine a plan of action. It was decided to buy all milk from one dairy. Notices and specifications were sent to all dairies and creameries in Moscow. The requirements were that the bacteria count should not be more than 25,000 per cubic centimeter, the butter fat content would be not less than 3.5, and that milk must be pasteurized and delivered in sterilized containers. If at any time the milks falls below specifications, it is classed as class B milk and will be sold for 25 per cent less than class A milk.

The contract will extend from January 5 to March 15. If at the expiration of the contract, any of the group houses wish to withdraw from the cooperative buying scheme, they may do so.

Those who served on the committee were Austa White, Edwin Springer, James Mitchell, Peyton Sommercamp, and James Dunn.

STUDENTS TO SING CHRISTMAS CAROLS

University Will Observe Tradition By Gathering Around Tree Tomorrow Night

Christmas carols will be sung around the lighted Christmas tree in front of the Administration building Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. Singing will be by the fire student body, directed by Miss Maude Garnett.

This tradition of singing carols around the lighted tree has been observed on the Idaho campus since 1919, according to Dean Permeal J. French, who has been very active in preserving the custom. Dean French says that she likes to think of the three trees, of which the lighted one is the tallest, as sentinels guarding the monument to the Spanish-American war soldier.

Students will gather around the tree immediately after the dinner hour and sing carols which have been practiced in the group houses during the past week.

IDAHO'S GAMES CLOSE TO HOME

Whitman Plays First Game of Season Here Next Year on September 26.

Coach Leo Calland has the 1931 Vandal schedule in his pocket as a result of the athletic conference held last week in Los Angeles. The Idaho team will play most of their next year's games close to home says the mentor.

The season will open with a home game with Whitman on September 26. The opening conference game is in Portland, October 3, when the Red Shirts meet the University of Oregon. The Montana Grizzlies are next in line of opposition, coming here on October 10.

The following week-end the Vandals tangle with the University of Washington in a third successive conference contest. Gonzaga comes here for a non-conference game on October 31, probably the homecoming game; and the 7th of November the team invades Pullman to argue the championship of the farming district.

The squad makes its longest trip of the year when it plays California at Berkeley sometime after the W. S. C. game.

It is understood that negotiations are under way to schedule the Montana State school and some inter-sectional game if dates can be arranged.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH DEDICATED SUNDAY

Bishop Kelly Takes Part in Opening of New $50,000 Church

St. Mary's Catholic church, Moscow's new $50,000 edifice, was dedicated Sunday morning at 8 o'clock mass by Bishop Edward J. Kelly of Boise, head of the Idaho diocese.

The church was crowded with communicants and visitors. Special music under the direction of Miss Maude Garnett of the university music department was a feature of the service.

Architecturally the new church is an adaptation of the English-Gothic style. On the main floor are the auditorium, a winter chapel and sacristy. Store rooms and the heating plant are in the basement. The choir loft is up stairs at the rear of the auditorium.

The church building was started in mid-summer and completed several weeks ago. An organ, the gift of Mrs. J. J. Gill, is yet to be installed, but shipment has been promised by the Vermont manufacturers within several weeks.

A public opening with special musical service is proposed for the middle of January when the new organ will be installed.

TREBLE CLEF GIVES VESPER PROGRAM

Sunday Afternoon Concert Assisted by Faculty Attracts Many

The Treble Clef club, directed by Miss Maude Garnett, for the first time presented an entire program, at Vespers Sunday afternoon in the auditorium. Miss Agnes Bothne, soprano; Miss Miriam Little, cellist; Miss Isabel Clark, pianist, and Prof. Carl Claus, violinist, assisted the club. The attendance was the largest for any Sunday program this year.

In the seven songs of "The Slumber Songs of the Madonna" the mother visualizes the entire life of her infant son. Sometimes she expresses fear of what is to come, but her last song is one of triumph that whatever may happen the child is always hers. May Strong composed the music for the poem by Alfred Noyes.

Miss Bothne sang the prelude and parts of the songs and Gounod's "Ave Maria". The 42 members of the Treble Clef club are:

First sopranos: Aileen Francis, Laura Brigham, Florence Simpson, Verona Wolf, Lois Hall, Jessie Wilson, Carolyn Schmidt, Florence Rohrer, Martha Jean Smith, Eileen Beckman, Florence Laine, Evelyn McMillan, Doris Norell, Elizabeth Gilmore, Marian McComb, Florence Coughlin.

Second sopranos: Helen Stetler, Elizabeth Thompson, Alice Ratcliffe, Pauline Newhouse, Louise Cuddy, Agnes McKiernan, Edna

separate sections and more space to the minor sports, including also intramural sports and women's sports, which constitute a great portion of student interest. The photographs will represent buildings, and walks with a number of students, instead of bare doorways and abandoned walks," he said.

Part of the book will be devoted to a new section, it was learned. Blair would not, however, give any hint as to what this section would represent, but denied emphatically that it would be a beauty section. "I don't intend to get my neck wrung by any disappointed women who are left out of the beauty section," he declared.

The humor editor is snooping around the campus getting as much "dirt" as he can for an enlarged humor section. Blair stated, he would not, however, divulge this individual's name, stating that better work would result if his official identification were not known.

The cover design has not yet been selected. It will probably not be black but perhaps in some color, with a speedy modern design to harmonize with the section pages. The book will contain 408 pages instead of 400, but otherwise it will be the same size as that of last year.

An old English dinner was typical in the formal dinner given by the juniors in the home economics department, to seniors and instructors in the department, and Mrs. W. V. Halverson, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Barton, Dean Permeal French, and Dean J. W. Finch, in the arts laboratory, at 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening.

Ardith Mellinger, president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary, was toast mistress. Val-etta L'Herrison gave the junior response, Josephine Kincaid the senior address, and Dr. J. W. Barton responded for the guests.

The meal was very elaborate, being an attempt at an exact representation of an old English dinner. The menu included a pheasant, a whole roast pig, plum pudding topped with holly and surrounded in a flame.

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Charting tomorrow's telephone needs

Looking ahead — laying a firm foundation for tomorrow's telephone service — has long been a keystone policy of the Bell System.

To illustrate: business starts creeping into a residential district — a sign that greatly increased telephone facilities will be required. Through intensive studies, commercial engineers forecast the needs of five or more years hence with scientific accuracy. Additional exchanges, cable ducts, equipment of all kinds are planned and built. When the call comes the telephone company is ready.

So long as the nation continues to change and grow, the plotting of its future telephone needs will never grow dull. The opportunity is there!
