VANDALS SPLIT GRID VICTORIES WITH ISLANDERS

Lose Game to University of Hawaii And Win From Alumni

WEATHER IS HOT Idaho Closes Football Year With Defeat in South Seas

By Bill Pohlman
Idaho's Vandals arrived in Moscow this morning in possession of one pig skin by virtue of a 20 to 14 win on Christmas Day over the Alumni club of St. Louis college of Honolulu, but were forced to leave the other oval in the islands after a 37 to 0 beating at the hands of the powerful University of Hawaii gridgers on the first day of the New Year.

The Red Shirts landed at Honolulu but three days before the opening clash and Calland settled the men down to get their "land legs" and overcome the effects of the long sea voyage. The high temperatures with the thermometer hovering around 75 worked a big hardship on the boys, and workouts before the battle had to be cut down in order to keep the gridgers in condition and not leave all the fight on the practice field.

The Vandals put the Christmas game in the bag by scoring twice in the second period and once in the final stanza while the Islanders could connect but twice during the sixty minutes.

Off to Good Start

The Red Shirts started off with a bang and outplayed their opponents during the first period, but could not push the ball into scoring turf until the opening minutes of the second quarter when Davis intercepted an Alumni heave and raced 65 yards for the initial counter.

The Vandal offense began to click after this "break" and a long drive down the field ended with Davis again crossed the last chalk line. The Roaring Rainbows took to the air in the first quarter and their long drive down the field ended when Indie crossed the line for the opening score. The Vandals pushed the pigskin to the Islanders three yard mark but fumbled and lost the ball. The rest of the scores came as the result of John Wise, Hawaii back, and Nagata, his substitute. Wise hurled the oval to Howell for a 66 yard gain and a touchdown in the second period and raced 78 yards through the entire Idaho eleven for another counter in the third canto. The Rainbows showed perfect interference for their ball carriers.

Calland's men tried 24 tosses and connected 7 times for a total of 134 yards, while Hawaii tried 12 heaves and made 7 good for 132 yards advance. The Rainbows chalked up 21 first downs and the Vandals gathered only 8 during the sixty minutes.

ANTI-SUICIDE CLUB FORMED DURING XMAS

An "anti-suicide" club Ladies' Auxiliary was formed to promote good time over the holidays. John Crandall was president and other officers of both clubs were: Muriel Hays, Glenn Craig, and Francis Dowdy.

The first meeting was held Saturday, December 20, at the Kappa Sigma house. On Monday, a boys' ball fest was given. Tuesday was a cabaret night at Ridenbaugh, entertainment consisting of a dance and a skit. On various other days there were sleigh-riding parties in groups. A dance at Ridenbaugh hall on Friday, January 2, brought activities to a close.

Faculty members were Edward Whitehead and David Ehrenburg.

WORK OF EDITORIAL WRITERS PUBLISHED

Many Students in Beth's Class See Efforts in Print

The satisfaction of seeing in print the product of one's pen has come to most of the students in editorial writing this semester. Many editorials which were written as class assignments have appeared on editorial pages of a score of Idaho daily and weekly newspapers. The new plan originated by Elmer F. Beth assistant professor of journalism, and largely carried out by Oren A. Fitzgerald, director of publicity, made available to newspaper editors the best editorials produced in the class.

Topics General

Subjects of editorials printed included science and religion, Indian names, Germany's Hitler, ideals of school children, history of words, Idaho's bean crop, unemployment, advertising a crop, sense, aviation records, American home of the Columbus family. For Thanksgiving and Christmas editions a dozen papers used "lead" editorials written by students at the University of Idaho.

Students whose work has been published are Mrs. Edna Florall, Ethel Grove, Shirley Cunningham, Elizabeth Taylor, Mary K. C. R. Charles, Groff, Benjamin Klerr, Paul Jones, and Wayne Farley. A number of class editorials were printed in the Argonaut also.

Tryouts For Eight Chorus Vacancies To Be Held Soon

Tryouts for the eight vacancies in the Vandaleer chorus will be held soon, according to Professor Carleton Cummings, head of the music department. It is sincerely hoped that anyone interested in that type of work will turn out when the notice for the event is announced.

Preference will be given those who have talent along some other line as well as singing. Each person is required to sing a solo of his own selection. He is asked to bring his music with him, and also anything necessary to demonstrate his other talent.

Mr. Cummings advised that anyone planning to tryout should begin practice at once so that he will be prepared when the notice is posted.

Fox Puts Five Thru Paces at Fast Clip; Working on New Tactics

BATTLE MONDAY First Conference Tilt Promises to be Tough Customer For Idaho

Idaho's Vandal hoopmen, with six pre-season games behind them, are working hard preparing new offensive tactics for the invasion of the powerful Oregon State cagers in the opening conference battle next Monday night.

Oregon State's varsity hoopsters have just completed a successful barnstorming tour of California where they copped five out of seven battles. Since their return home they have taken both Gonzaga and Willamette into camp by large scores and this week-end open the conference season with an invasion of the Cougar lair at Pullman. The crowning victory of their tour was a 26 to 25 victory over California, last year's coast champions.

The loss column is heavily marked on the Idaho side for holiday opening games, but "Rich" Fox has taken the opportunity to give his whole squad plenty of action and get a good line on the sophomore prospects.

The lineups have changed with each game in the effort to find a

SWIMMERS READY FOR 'MURAL PLUNGE'

Meat Will Start Next Week; Pool Crowded Daily

For the past week the swimming pool in the Memorial gym has been crowded with members of organizations on the campus who are improving their style and speed in view of the aquatic intramural meet which will begin early next week.

It has been planned to run off the preliminary events in leagues as soon as the managers of organizations can meet with Charles Heath and Coach Leo Calland to arrange the schedule. Rules governing the event will be the same as last year with a few possible exceptions. There has been some talk about discontinuing one of the relays and replacing it with an underwater swim.

Last year's meet consisted of a 50, 100, and 200 yard free style swim; 50 yard breast stroke; 50 yard back stroke; plunge for distance; 200 yard relay, 400 yard relay, and diving. Leagues will be given 75 points, runners-up 50, and university champions 25 points extra.

At the beginning of the new semester basketball will be played in a round robin tournament among the organizations. This year there will be two extra teams, one entered by Paul Boyd, "Independents", and another entered by the faculty. There will be about 70 different games played.

It is planned to furnish each team, that desires it, a time to practice before the tournament comes off. Organizations will be given a period at the meeting of managers which will take place soon.

BEN ROSS TAKES OFFICE MONDAY

New Governor's Policy Contains Recommendations Affecting University

New Governor's Policy Contains Recommendations Affecting University

At noon last Monday the regime of the fourteenth governor of the state of Idaho came to an end. In its place began the rule of the fifteenth governor, C. Ben Ross, the first native son to become chief executive, and the leader of the first Democratic victory in 12 years. The ceremony followed the traditional Idaho combination of solemn form and western informality which has ever marked the inauguration of state officials.

The oath of office was administered by T. Bailey Lee, the chief justice of the Idaho supreme court, before a joint session of the twenty-first Idaho legislature and a crowd of citizens which packed the chamber of the house of representatives in the state capital building at Boise.

On Tuesday the new governor delivered his first message to the legislature in joint session. The governor made twelve recommendations two of which will indirectly affect the University of Idaho should they be followed by the law making body.

Commenting upon the depressed condition of the lumber industry, Governor Ross suggested that "a small additional appropriation be made to the University of Idaho for a comprehensive study and research to determine the nature" of the by-products which might be converted with profit from the waste of the industry.

ARMOR CARS SEEN IN WINDY CITY

Seeing armored cars patrolling Chicago's streets was an experience of Miss Margaret Barry, instructor in English, while in the mid-western city during Christmas vacation on a visit with relatives. This was her first trip to Chicago in several years.

The armored cars were observed while Miss Barry was passing down Hill street. The previous week this street had been the battlefield for two rival gangs, and was now being guarded by police to prevent further hostilities. Machine guns protruded in all directions from the automobiles, covered with heavy-plated steel. "I didn't see any bullets flying," remarked Miss Barry, "but one almost expected to do so at any moment."

Miss Barry also commented on Mayor "Bill" Thompson's prosperity drive. Prizes are being offered through tickets given away free with purchases at various stores. "The unemployment situation in Chicago," Miss Barry added, "is very acute."

Diary of Campus Life During Holidays Reveals "Hum-drum" Doesn't Exist

Contrary to a wide-spread belief, the 50 or 60 students stranded on the campus during Christmas vacation did not go into a state of hibernation, though most of them did sleep late in the mornings. In general, the two weeks were devoted to skiing, skating and throwing snowballs in the day; and attending parties, motion pictures and bullfests in the evening. Very little studying was done, though an eye witness swears one student actually wrote an English theme the day before Christmas.

A day-by-day check on the campus events during vacation shows:

ALMA MATER SONG WILL BE PUBLISHED WITH NEW VERSES

Students And Alumni Asked To Contribute Original Words

WORK COPYRIGHTED Will Print 20,000 Copies When New Words Are Added

Twenty thousand copies of "Here We Have Idaho" will be published in sheet music form for distribution over the state as soon as suitable verses are written to replace those which appear in the original version of the song, reports Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the music department.

Contributions from students and alumni are being sought by Prof. Cummings and the members of his special song committee. The university's status in the state has changed since the song first appeared in 1917, making it advisable to bring the words up to date. Those who wish to contribute may obtain copies of the original words and music from the publicity office, 106 Administration building.

For several years the university has been deluged with requests for copies of the song, from high schools over the state, civic groups and musical organizations of all kinds. None of the requests could be filled because until a year ago copyright difficulties made publication of the song impossible. After the university secured legal title to the melody, the board of regents approved publication, largely through the efforts of W. D. Vincent, commissioner of education. The printing has been let to Caxton Printers of Caldwell.

"Here We Have Idaho" is without doubt Idaho's most popular song, not only on the campus but over the state. It has practically become the state song, under the name "Our Idaho", with different choruses and verses.

LOAN FUNDS AID MANY STUDENTS

Idahoans Borrowed More Than $20,000 Last Year Survey Shows

Loans totaling $20,000 or more, borrowed by Idaho students were outstanding last year, a brief survey of the loan fund situation in Moscow shows. All funds, whether handled through the university or by outside interests, were included. The total amount loaned last year is approximate.

Five loan funds handled by the loan committee of the faculty, total $7,057.32, according to Frank Stanton, chairman of the loan committee. Most of that amount is outstanding, new loans being made as rapidly as old are paid up. This does not include a surgical loan fund of $300 available to students for surgical treatment.

One of the largest funds for Idaho students is the loan scholarship fund of the Idaho State Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. J. Gill of Moscow, an Idaho graduate, has charge of the fund in Moscow as secretary. She reports that since 1906 $40,000 has been loaned to 362 Idaho students.

Many in 1930 Graduating Class

Eleven per cent of the 1930 graduating class had loans from this fund, she said. The fund amounts to approximately $11,000 at the present time.

Another major fund is the Knights Templar Educational Foundation, a fund which raised by assessments levied on Commandery members of Idaho Masons. Homer David, also an Idaho graduate, is secretary of the loan committee. Loans are made all over the state, not being limited to university students. The fund was started in 1924, and since that time $15,000 has been loaned to 140 students. Honesty and good will of the borrower are the only security required, Mr. David said. On that basis losses since 1924 have been negligible, he said, tribute to the integrity of Idaho students.

Jan. 16-W.S.C.-Moscow.

Jan. 17-W.S.C. Frosh-Pullman.

Vandal Trackmen Begin Workouts Second Semester

Coach Otto K. Anderson will issue his first call to Vandal trackmen at the beginning of the second semester shortly after February 1. Several members of the 1930 squad are back and these, bolstered by a strong group of sophomores and a few junior college transfers should give the Vandals a strong cinder path team.

Until weather permits the Vandals will work out in Lewis and Clark. Anderson predicts that sprints, hurdles, and the pole vault Idaho team will be especially strong this season in the vault. He expects them to place higher in the conference than they have for several seasons. The Vandals' first meet is scheduled with Whitman in Walla Walla, April 24.

"I have always said," remarked Dean Permeal French, "that my idea of Heaven is a little gray house on a hill. The house must be so situated that I can look out and see people before they see me, and above all, it must not have a telephone."

"I spent my Christmas vacation in just such a place. It was on a ranch near Halley. The whole time was very quiet and I did little more than sleep and eat. The rest from conferences was the nicest thing about it. I feel rested now and am anxious to get down to work again. I enjoyed my stay immensely, but I am glad to get back."

PRESIDENT NEALE ADDRESSES BOISE CONVENTION CROWD

University Prexy, With C. W. Hickman, Present at Woolgrowers' Session

RETURNS THIS WEEK Due Back to Campus Friday Or Saturday; Other U. Delegates in Boise

Dr. M. G. Neale, president of the University of Idaho, and C. W. Hickman, head of the department of animal husbandry of the college of agriculture, are in Boise attending the 38th annual convention of the Idaho Woolgrowers association at Boise. Several members of the college of agriculture extension staff whose work is in cooperation with the sheep interests of the state also attended the sessions. Dr. Neale will return to the campus today or tomorrow.

Dr. Neale, who appeared on the program the morning of January 9, discussed the work of the university in its relation to the agricultural interests of the state. Prof. Hickman spoke on the management of farm sheep. Prof. Hickman and E. F. Rinchart, extension animal husbandman, outlined the factors which have been responsible for the success of the farm flock lamb and wool pools of southern Idaho.

Representatives of the home demonstration section of the extension division also attended the convention. During the past year, under the direction of Miss Marion Hepworth, state home demonstration leader, many lamb demonstrations have been held throughout the state. These events are part of a general program being conducted by sheep operators to develop greater consumer demand for this important product of the industry.

CLEANED WALKS RULE OF CITY

A fine of from $5 to $10 can be imposed by the city upon persons who fail to remove the snow and ice from sidewalks in front of their property, according to Ray Carter, city clerk. This provision is found in an ordinance passed several years ago by the Moscow city council, but as yet it has never been enforced. The ordinance further states that the snow must be removed within 10 hours after it has fallen.

In the campus the walk from Science hall to the foot of the hill is almost impassable except for two places where group houses have cleaned theirs. On the south side of the street from the Sigma Chi to the T. O. house and from the Delta Gamma to the Lambda Chi house the walks are very icy and dangerous. The T. K. REGISTRATION FOR SECOND SEMESTER WELL UNDER WAY

All Students in Residence Must be Signed Before January 22

GIVE INSTRUCTIONS Registrar's Office Releases Pointers to Facilitate Early Enrollment

Second semester registration for all students in residence in the university began Monday, January 5, and will continue until January 22. Although it will be possible to register at any time during this period, the university administration is particularly anxious that students will sign for courses at the earliest possible moment in order that the last minute rush of previous years may be avoided. It is pointed out that early registration will not only facilitate the work of officials, but that it will enable students to sign for courses at the earliest possible moment in order that the last minute rush of previous years may be avoided.

The office of the registrar has issued the following instructions for registration:

1. Secure your registration appointment from your dean or registering officer. If you plan to change your curriculum, procure a change of curriculum card from your dean and see that your duplicate record is transferred to the college which you plan to enter. Then secure your registration appointment.

2. Consult your registering officer at the time designated by the dean of your college. Students in applied music should also register with Professor Carleton Cummings or Miss Dorothy Erickson and have fees stamped on the back of their trial study lists.

3. After consultation with your adviser or registering officer and approval of registration blanks by your dean, go to the registrar's office, have your sections checked, and fill out your class cards. Failure to do this promptly may mean exclusion from sections in which you have registered, and therefore, necessitate a change in your program. The registrar's office will be open for registration from 8:30 to 12 and 1:30 to 4:45 every day except Saturday when it will close at 3 o'clock. STUDENTS IN RESIDENCE DURING THE FIRST SEMESTER OF 1930-31 WHOSE REGISTRATION BLANKS ARE NOT FILED IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE BY THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, WILL BE CHARGED A LATE FILING FEE OF $1.00 PER DAY.

4. After your registration blank has been filed in the registrar's office, your fees will be checked by the bursar and you will be notified by mail as to the amount due. Fees may be paid by mail or in person as soon as you have filed your blanks, and must be paid before your registration is complete and your class cards are sent to your instructors. The usual late registration fee of $3.00 for the first day, $2 additional for the second day, and $1 additional each day thereafter up to a maximum of $10, will be charged all students now in residence who fail to pay their fees on or before Thursday, January 29. Section assignments will also be cancelled for all students whose fees are not paid.

The technical schools of the university have taken steps to speed up the registration by registering by schools or in classes with the deans or through each student's major professor. In the other divisions of the university, however, response has been very slow. Only eight students have so far taken advantage of the slack period to complete their registration.

Self-supporting College Students

IDAHO'S commissioner of education, D. W. Vincent, believes all high school students who plan on entering college should learn a trade which will fit them to earn their way through the university. Teaching them a trade, Mr. Vincent believes, will insure more of them getting four years of college.

The Argonaut sees a great deal of value in parts of Mr. Vincent's proposal. Too much cannot be said in favor of his idea to equip high school graduates with the ability to do something useful—something that could furnish them with a job and an income if they had to have one.

But we cannot believe that this state university's enrollment would be swelled materially if ninety per cent of her student body came here equipped to earn their way. For all we know, that situation might exist right now—but the drawback is that there are not enough jobs available to supply more than the percent which is today working its way through. At various times the Argonaut has conducted surveys to determine how many different ways the students employ to scrape together a few dollars. They are many and varied—furnace boys, hashers, printers, newspapermen, salesmen, clerks, teachers, beauty-parlor operators, mechanics, agents, stenographers, phone girls, day laborers, truck drivers, electricians, embalmers, mimeographers, janitors, gardeners, taxi drivers, bank clerks, stable boys, farm hands—in fact they work at anything and everything—you might even find a bootlegger occasionally, who turned to that when he could find no other remunerative employment. Jobs right now on the Idaho campus and in Moscow are as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth—ask some of the men who have been looking for one. Unless some drastic change could be made in Moscow's present business system, it would be a gigantic task to dig up a hundred jobs—or even half that many.

On the other hand, the fact that high school students of the future may be equipped to shift for themselves is no indication that they will not do just that, instead of coming to the university. A job that offers a regular pay check looks big to any high school graduate and he is almost certain to take it, with the idea that as soon as he has saved a little money he will quit and return to school. But do they?

And again we wonder whether, after all, working one's way through college is the best thing for the individual. Prominent educators disagree as to the evils or merits of the plan; some students like to know that they are independent and they would rather take their chances in the classroom than have money supplied from home. In almost every case, it is the student's grades that suffer. He works to pay his bills and lets the academic assignments slide. He worries about not being able to meet his grocery debt a great deal more than about the grade he will get from Prof. X, whose class he has missed continually.

The college student has his whole life before him to spend at work; let him acquire what college has to offer first.

Register Now

SECOND semester registration is underway. A majority of the student body probably has given little thought to the matter as yet, much to the inconvenience of university employees who must take the brunt of a last minute rush.

Registration, at its best is not exactly a pleasure jaunt, but most of the inconvenience can be eliminated by getting it over before the rush starts. Final examinations are drawing near and from now until the opening of the spring semester students will find less and less spare time on their hands.

Get your catalogue and time table out today—you'll be one of the lucky ones to avoid the jam which is sure to come.

Ordinance No. 269

PERHAPS Moscow has forgotten ordinance number 269. It was passed in August, 1904. We would like to call it to the attention of the Moscow city council. A dangerous condition exists as a result of this laxity of enforcement.

Ice on a hockey rink is okay, but on a sidewalk it is a different matter. It is true that a small scraper is maintained by the city for removing the heavy snow, but it is unable to make a clean sweep. A thin layer of snow remains, which thaws and then freezes into a treacherous glare of ice. No one ever thoroughly cleans their walks except the fraternities and the university.

Ordinance 269 fixes a penalty of from one to a hundred dollars fine for failure to keep a walk clear. It is suggested that the city fathers enforce ordinance 269, levy small fines, take the resulting moneys, and hire the unemployed to thoroughly clean the walks. Most cities require the sidewalks to be cleaned within twelve hours after a storm so that their citizens will not risk their physical comfort with three-point landings.

Perhaps Moscow has forgotten ordinance 269. It was passed in August, 1904.

Student Opinion

The Argonaut conducts this column exclusively for the use of student comment and all contributions are welcomed. However, the articles must bear the writer's signature, for the information of the editor. Only the initials of the contributor need be printed, unless otherwise specified. The editor reserves the right to refuse any article submitted.

Mr. Editor: Conditions in student government here have been disgusting for a number of years, but the affairs of this last semester have gone too far. The time has come for action.

Do you suppose that students enrolled in this university are going to continue to support financially a student administration such as the one under which we are now struggling? Charles Graybill and his vice-president, Sommercamp, may take as many $700 pleasure jaunts to far away Georgia with incidental side trips enroute as they desire, but not on the funds furnished by us.

The fact that ineligible office holders are over-running the executive offices did not deter them. As there was nothing left to do on the Idaho campus, our two most capable, most popular, most executive, most foremost student leaders had to take a 4,000 mile excursion to Atlanta as our representatives to vote on the prohibition question. Piffle! And we helped to pay for it, but no more.

"Taxation without representation" was the battle cry of the Revolutionary War. We are accepting this slogan in the same spirit that liberty loving Americans did two hundred years ago. We refuse any longer to hand over blindly $8.50 a semester to any sub-rosa political group whether it be called T. N. E., the Alpha party, or Balaam's asses; and then indifferently await results.

Charles Graybill was the unanimous choice of this student body for president. He received 316 votes. He and his associates were the unanimous choice of one-sixth of this student body. The expressions of the great majority being strangled by our now famous two-bit political ring.

And the demoralizing influences have spread not only into the offices of just letter-head importance (such as Mr. Sommercamp's position) but also to the manager's jobs which undoubtedly should be in the hands of capable persons.

The mismanagement of the recent Vandaleer's tour is talked about in almost every town where they were looked. Other branches of student management show equal incompetence.

These are well known facts but we have been indifferent because we were seemingly swamped by the octopus. Now we have the way out. We do not have to pay the levy to the A. S. U. I. to register in this university. Investigation reveals that only some future action by the Board of Regents could compel us to pay this fee to enroll in school. The Board of Regents certainly would not insist upon our paying the way for our inglorious political balloons.

Already an organized movement has sprung up on this campus to abolish the means of promoting this subterfuge. We refuse to pay A. S. U. I. dues. Of course we shall support worthwhile student enterprises such as the yearbook, dramatics, and athletics. We are out to get only these underserving political profiteers.

With the support of the Idaho students we can make student expression and student representation felt in student government. No more paying the entertainment expenses of the Executive Board. We will pay A. S. U. I. fees only if they promote legitimate enterprises. In hard times we want our money's worth.

Campus opinion will be felt in the next registration.

Sincerely,

AG STUDENTS HEAR TALK ON "RUSSIA"

Moscow Man Sees Possibilities in Agricultural Future of Soviet State

"Russia has the possibilities of becoming one of the foremost agricultural countries in the world," R. K. Bonnett, of the Washburn-Wilson Seed company told the students of agriculture and forestry at a joint meeting last night at Morrill hall. Bonnett spent four weeks last summer traveling in Russia to study the general economic and agricultural conditions.

"Russia will never become a very K. K. G.

great agricultural country principally because it is neglecting the basic foundations of advancement; namely, the home, the initiative of the individual and religion," he stated.

All of Russia is now highly organized. Agriculture, manufacturing, lumbering, mining and, in fact, all processes are regulated by the government, which owns everything. Trade unions, trusts and combines control and direct all operations and receive all the income, said Bonnett.

"All able-bodied adults are required to work. If they don't work they don't eat. Workers are allowed to participate in solving problems in management. Classes have largely been eliminated.

"Russia is doing much to develop its industries and is making wonderful progress. Trained American, English, and German men are employed to direct modern improvements," he said.

Profits of the industries go for workers clubs, nurseries for children of the workers, large apartment houses, insurance, and vacations on pay. The women work the same as the men. The government considers the women more valuable to the state in some industrial field than in the home, Bonnett pointed out.

Education is one of Russia's biggest problems. It has 136 languages or dialects to contend with. Old and young alike are taught to read and write, and are given a good industrial training, he said.

"The agricultural situation is Russia's most important problem. Modern methods are slowly replacing the old peasant type of farming. Large farms are becoming more common and power machinery is gradually taking the place of the slow methods formerly used."

Hello, Peoples: The way to solve this "what I did" and "what sort of a vacation did you have" question is to get a sandwich board and hang it on yourself. On one side you put "Yep! At Virginia and Kentucky ... down where tobacco grows college men choose this one outstanding SMOKING TOBACCO

THE men who go to the universities of Virginia and Kentucky know tobacco... they see how it grows and what makes it good.

So when Virginia students, and the men who stroll down old South Limestone Street in Lexington, pack their pipes with Edgeworth, their choice tells volumes about the cool, slow-burning quality of this favorite smoking tobacco.

It's the same story everywhere—North, South, East and West. In 42 out of 54 leading colleges and universities, college men prefer the smooth, fragrant burley blend of Edgeworth. Try Edgeworth yourself. You'll find more pleasure in a pipe than you ever knew before. Every tobacco store has Edgeworth, 15¢ the tin. Or, for generous free sample, write to Larus & Bro. Co., 105 S. 22d St., Richmond, Va.

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Clipping a second would save 25,000 hours

A second saved here — an unnecessary step cut out there — on such close attention to detail rests the success of modern industry. Nowhere is this more strikingly shown than in the telephone business. In accounting work for instance, an improved method that clips just one second from the time required to handle one toll ticket would have great results. Applied throughout the System—handling an average of more than 90,000,000 toll tickets each month—it would effect a monthly saving of 25,000 hours! Such "little" things often are tremendously important in so vast an industry. That is one reason why men find Bell System work so fascinating. The opportunity is there!

SOCIETY

The past two weeks saw many joyous social functions throughout the state, attended by students at their various homes for the Christmas vacation. Pan-Hellenic balls held in Moscow and Boise, as well as other brilliant college dances, were part of the functions held.

Tonight a mixer will take place at the Blue Bucket inn. It is sponsored by Spurs, national honorary sophomore women's organization, and promises a joyous time to the large number planning to attend.

Tomorrow evening the Alpha Phi and Alpha Chi Omega upperclassmen have planned a joint formal cabaret, to be held at the Alpha Phi house. Elaborate preparations have been made for the affair.

Another function scheduled for tomorrow evening is an informal dance to be given by Kappa Alpha Theta at the local chapter house.

The Blue Bucket Band will play and entertainment during intermission will be furnished by members of the junior class. An additional feature is a prize which will be given away during the intermission. Dancing will start promptly at 8:00 and members of the committee urge that all juniors come early. A ruling by the dean of women states that no student shall attend the mixer of a class of which the student is not a member.

Anderson of Minnesota, receives three years study at the Beaux Arts Institute at Paris. The drawings are the original set, and are routed over the United States. Washington State college students are coming over here to see them, as they could not be included in the itinerary.

Miss Marion Hepworth, State Home Demonstration leader, was called to Burlingame, Kansas, during the holidays by the death of her mother.

COURTS FLOODED FOR SKATERS AND HOCKEY PLAYERS

Preliminary Organization of Teams To Be Made Saturday

COAT ENTIRE AREA

Horton Considers Using Flood Lights On Rink

Idaho's newest sport, ice skating, is in full swing again after the recent thaw. The building of an ice rink has emerged from the experimental stage of last year and the entire six courts are flooded.

Idaho students spending the holidays in Spokane report that Gonzaga and Coeur d'Alene puck chasers desire a couple of hockey games with Idaho's Hans Brinkers. Preliminary organization of a team to represent Idaho will be made Saturday afternoon. Anyone wanting to try out for the winter shinny game are to report at the rink with hockey sticks says Bud Dittman, Illinois flash.

A few co-eds have ventured to try the sport but seem to be too modest, observers say. The co-eds skate in the early morning hours when their successes and failures will not be subject to the ridicule of the men students.

Want Ice Tennis.

Several students have voiced the desire to try ice tennis as played at Haverford college, Pennsylvania. News reel shots demonstrate that tennis played on ice skates requires all the skill of the summer game plus the speed of the flashing blades.

"Cap" Horton, graduate manager, is considering moving the flood lights from MacLean field to the tennis courts so that students may enjoy their winter sports during the evening. "All that we lack to beat the big time eastern winter resorts is the imbedding of electric lights in the ice. Then we wouldn't even recognize the superiority of Lake Placid or Chateau Frontenac," said one student in commenting on the quick development of the new sports.

CAMPUS DIARY REVEALS LIFE

The day reading sentimental verses on Christmas cards; others went Sunday, December 28. The late sleepers again slept in. Bill McCoy starts walking back from Coeur d'Alene. The city slickers got his wallet on the bus. He visited Cheney and Spang. The way they were Monday, December 29. The A. T. O.'s and the Sigma Chi's each gave a dance. Several students managed to attend both affairs, which ought to be some sort of an interfraternity record. Some managed to attend one—a record too.

Tuesday, December 30. The first general Epheletic dance ever given in Moscow was held during the evening at the Blue Bucket inn. It was a semi-formal affair. About 60 couples attended. The Filipino club presented a program in honor of the national Filipino hero, Dr. Jose Rizal, in the Methodist church at 8 o'clock. Everybody happy. Bud Dittman late to work.

Wednesday, December 31. The Firemen's ball was held in the Memorial gymnasium with the out-of-town students attending on free tickets. "Whoopee" and resolutions were made by all at 12 p. m. Tom and Jerry did not attend. Sheriff Summerfield was there. Bill Shamberger late to work.

Thursday, January 1. (New Year's day) The resolutions of the night before were broken. Two fraternities finished up their Christmas turkeys a la hash. The Vandals dropped a basketball game to Ellensburg Normal school with a score of 23 to 19. The number of spectators was about the same as the total of the scores. Bill Shamberger late to work.

Friday, January 2. Idaho again lost to Ellensburg. The score was 27 to 13. Sigma Chi threw a steak dinner with S. A. E. and a few other guests. The spread was at the Sig house. The Delta Gamma's entertained with a dance. Bus Brown skating or skating. Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Hegge entertained out-of-town Lutheran students with a dinner. Several parties gave their lives to be present at other dinners on the campus. The S. A. E.'s held an informal dance in the evening. Clayton Loosli was there. So was Cap and Mrs. Henkle; and Tom and Jerry. Bill Shamberger late to work.

Saturday, December 26. The Gamma Phi's gave a house party with about 25 couples as guests. Grub getting scarce in all "frat" houses. Christmas boxes falling off. Bill Shamberger late to work.

Saturday, December 27. Mrs. Carol Du Bois entertained the members of the Cosmopolitan club in the evening at a party given at the Du Bois home. The boys believe in the depression. Will trade a cake for a loaf of bread. Candies high sales resistance. Bud Dittman late to work.

Monday, January 5. Alice Kelly on the job again. Bud and Bill get to work on time. "Shue" returns. School starts. "Nough said."

The height of frankness seems to us the football players at George Washington university who demanded salary plus their free tuition and board.

PARTS ARE CAST BY BLANCHARD FOR NEXT PLAY

"He Who Gets Slapped" Is Title of All-College Production

STORY OF CIRCUS

Merle Frizelle to Have Leading Part As Nobleman

Definite casting of parts for the all-college play, "He Who Gets Slapped," to be presented Thursday and Friday evenings, January 22 and 23, has been completed. Rehearsals are in progress under Fred C. Blanchard, dramatics coach.

William Ennis, Nampa, will play the title role of HE, the one who gets slapped in this gripping drama which has a French circus background. As a man of high education who leaves life to become a clown, performing stunts and getting slaps at which the public laughs, Ennis will have an opportunity to display real histrionic talent. In preparation for this role, he has had several years of university dramatic work.

Varied and brilliant costuming is to feature this production. The absence of a conventional drawing room setting lends itself to the achievement of unusual effects. A special set is being constructed for the play under the direction of Professor Theodore J. Frichard, assisted by John Wimer, who will also act as stage manager.

Thirty actors appear during the production of the play, and several scenes have twenty-five or more people on the stage.

Of ten major roles, perhaps the most difficult one is that of Baron Regard to be interpreted by Merle Frizelle, Boise. As the "heavy," Regard, a wealthy, middle-aged nobleman, is deeply in love for the first time in his life. The portrayal of this role offers a problem in character development different from Frizelle's former comedy roles.

Bertie Moore, Wallace, will play Gonzelo, the bareback rider who is billed as "The Bareback Tango Queen." The part of her father, Count Mancini, a nobleman in straitened circumstances, is played by Lionel Campbell, Boise, while Briquet, owner of the circus is to be Floyd Silva. Kathryn Hart, Bigby, is cast as a lion tamer and Briquet's wife, Leland Cannon, Mountain Home, as a circus athlete, and Charles Herndon, Salmon as Jackson, a clown, figure in the plot.

VANDALS MEET OREGON NEXT

combination that can click well on both the offense and defense and lately the spirit and work of the hoopsters has risen so abruptly that it bodes evil for opposing conference quintets.

No men have been outstanding to date but Barrett and Duffy, forwards, and Drummond guard, have played consistent ball and already can be rated along with the best talent in the northwest. In every battle this year the Vandals have demonstrated the famed Idaho fight as they staged a last minute rally that has always put their opponents in hot water.

The fighting Vandals met the invasion of the Sparkler quintet from Spokane on Saturday December 20 with a shower of baskets near the end of the first half and an airtight defense during the second tory. Nearly the entire squad sang to score an easy 46 to 26 victory during the fray and the team play was much improved over the Whitman battles. Barrett was the star of the evening with high point honors. Wickstrand, Smith and Miles looked good for the invaders and their excellent guarding kept the Vandal score down.

Ellensburg Normal sent their basketeers to Moscow January 1 and 2 and they returned home with two hard fought games under their belts. The Normal men grabbed the first contest 23 to 19 when they took an early lead which a determined Vandal rally in the closing minutes was unable to overcome.

Gonzaga brought its powerful five to Moscow for a game last Tuesday night and showed the best quintet seen on the local floor this winter. The Bulldogs are a first class senior team and possess plenty of speed, height and shooting ability. They ran up 25 points in the opening period while Idaho garnered but 11. The second stanza was different, however, as the Idahoans staged one of their famed rallies which threw a big scare into the Bulldogs and when the final gun sounded the tally was Gonzaga 39; Idaho 34.

STOCK SHOW PLANS LAID

Fat stock in two classes each of swine, sheep and cattle will be exhibited at the first annual Inland Empire fat stock show in Spokane, March 12 and 13, announces W. L. Stephens, district extension agent with the University of Idaho college of agriculture. Judging will be based on market demands rather than exhibition points, says Stephens, who is a member of the show's executive committee.

In addition to the judging contests and the exhibition of stock, there will be a better meats display and a stockmen's banquet on the first day. The exhibited stock is to be sold the morning of the second day, while the annual sale of the purebred breeding cattle of the Northwest Shorthorn association is scheduled for the afternoon.

"It is a new feature," Stephens said, "to judge on market types rather than exhibition points. The three winning teams will be presented with medals at the stockmen's banquet."
