DRAMA STUDENTS PRESENT FAMOUS SEMI-TRAGIC PLAY

"He Who Gets Slapped" Will Be Shown Thursday and Friday

CAST IS LARGE

Roles Will Be Supported By Most Outstanding Student Performers

"He Who Gets Slapped" is the second dramatic offering of the year to be presented to Idaho audiences under the auspices of the Associated Student Body. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:20 p. m. on Andreyev's semi-tragic comedy in four acts on Thursday and Friday evenings, January 22 and 23. Leonid Andreyev, famous Russian playwright, newspaper man, law student, and would-be suicide at twenty-three, gave the world his greatest dramatic work in "He," a role which was a starring vehicle for the late Lon Chaney, moving picture actor. The play revolves about "He," a man of learning and culture, who as a clown in a provincial French circus falls in love with the lovely bareback rider and Tango queen, Consuelo. Consuelo is soon to marry the enormously wealthy but wholly undesirable Baron Regnard for his money, and "He," unable to bear the thought of it—but see for yourselves just how he handles the situation.

William Ennis Pocattello, plays the title role of "He," supported by an extraordinarily large cast of thirty, among whom are Lionel Campbell, Boise; Bertha Moore, Wallace; Floyd Silva, Shoshone; Kathryn Hart, Rigby; Leland Cannon, Mountain Home; Chester Brinck, Boise; Merle Frizzelle, Boise; Charles Herndon, Salmon; and approximately twenty others.

Fred C. Blanchard, of the University dramatics division, is directing the production of "He Who Gets Slapped" and final rehearsals are now actively in progress. Appropriate sets for this colorful production have been constructed by Prof. Theodore J. Prichard, assisted by John Wimer, Wallace, senior art student. Wimer is also stage manager for the production. Tickets are now on sale at Hodgins Drug store. All seats are reserved. Admission is fifty cents with the exception of University students who will be admitted free of charge; upon presentation of the proper A.S.U. booklet coupon.

CRENSHAW PLANS SET OF BOGHLERS

Captain B. M. Crenshaw of the Idaho R.O.T.C. unit, is planning a boghole corps organized in conjunction with the regular military band. He said, "I am interested in such an organization may turn in his name at the office in the Memorial gym after the beginning of next semester."

DEAN OF MINES SPEAKS AT BOISE

Dean Finch Explains Practical Mining Uses to State Chamber Meet

The practical uses of mining knowledge, especially in regard to agriculture and water supply, was the subject of Dean John W. Finch's address before the state chamber of commerce in Boise Friday, January 16.

Looking at mining from this somewhat unusual angle, Dean Finch quoted for the most part incidents of the World war where a knowledge of the subject, particularly in the field of geology, played no small part. He cited the incident at Lorraine when the allied troops were told to advance and trench after geologists had stated the rocky condition of the earth forbade any digging of shelters. The small picks and shovels of the soldiers were found inadequate; it was impossible to dig down more than a foot or so, and a great loss of life resulted from a lack of protection.

Also, in the early part of the war hospitals were built in locations where there was not a sufficient water supply with disastrous results. Later, however, geologists were consulted on all such matters. "The English," Dean Finch said, "had an especially well-organized geological staff toward the end of the war."

MEN LEAVING MUST MOVE SOON

Men now living in the dormitories who wish to move must do so before January 31, according to a statement made today by Theodore W. Turner, proctor. The last date that new students may move out and still receive a refund on their room deposits will be Saturday, February 7. All who wish to move into the dormitories next semester should make applications immediately.

ORCHESTRA CONCERT ATTRACTS MANY

University Music Group Presents Classical Numbers To Capacity Crowds

The university orchestra played to a capacity house in the auditorium Sunday afternoon at its first public appearance this year. The orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Carl Claus, presented six numbers: The overture to Stradella, by Plotow; the andante from Mendelssohn's violin concerto; the unfinished symphony of Schubert; Suite 1 of Bizet's L'Arlesienne; the Prelude, Wagner's Lohengrin; and the introduction to act III of Lohengrin.

HUBERT WRITES FORESTRY BOOK

Idaho Professor Is Author of New Tree Pathology Text

The "Outline of Forest Pathology" by Dr. E. E. Hubert is expected to be released to the publishers in a few months. In time to be used in forest pathology the last part of the second semester. The book will be a large volume, containing about 600 pages and from 100 to 140 illustrations. It is in two sections: 1. Diseases of all living trees, and 2. Defects of wood and wood products.

Dr. Hubert is well qualified to write a book of this kind. He spent five years experimenting at the Madison Laboratory on Forest Products at Madison, Wisconsin. He also has done a great deal of investigative work with the United States forest service.

In addition to this book, Dr. Hubert has written some 150 bulletins principally on forest pathology. One of these, "Cause and Control of Decay in Buildings" is in great demand. The author has received requests for it from all parts of the United States as well as from foreign countries.

NEW POULTRYMAN HERE FROM TEXAS

J. K. Williams, new assistant poultryman, arrived from Texas on January 16 to take up his duties at the University of Idaho. Williams was graduated last spring from the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college. He has an exceptional scholastic record, and has done considerable research work along poultry lines. He takes the place of Frank R. Moore, who resigned a few weeks ago to become extension poultryman at the North Dakota Agricultural college.

TWO DAYS REMAIN FOR REGISTRATION

Two days are all that stand between unregistered University of Idaho students and the late registration fee, if they intend to be here during the second semester. More than a thousand students have registered to date, however, so the fee may not affect many. According to reports from offices of deans and from the registrar's office the process of registering was completed by an exceptionally large number of students on Monday.

Miss Ella Olesen urged that all students should register now who have any idea at all of remaining in school after the first semester. She said that the thing which made the registration official was the payment of fees and that no difficulty would be experienced in removing the registration card if the final decision was against remaining. It was pointed out that such a plan would eliminate the payment of late filing fees.

FROSH DEBATERS LOSE TO W. S. C.

Both men's and women's freshman debate teams competed with the W. S. C. freshmen last Thursday and Friday. The question for debate was, "Resolved: that Gandhi has been a benefit to India." The schedule for the debates ran as follows: the women's affirmative for Pullman and the negative side for Idaho at Moscow Thursday evening. Friday, the negative side for Pullman and the affirmative side for Idaho at Moscow. The men's negative side for Moscow and affirmative for Pullman at Pullman Thursday afternoon and Friday afternoon the negative side for Pullman and the affirmative side for Idaho, here.

Although Idaho students lost every decision, Mr. Whitehead said, "The main object of these debates is practice for future competition, and on the whole they were successful. In general some of the freshman boys were promising."

HENGLE'S RIFLES DEFEAT LAFAYETTE

Returns received today showed that Capt. H. L. Henkle's Idaho rifle team defeated Lafayette College, during the week ending January 10, by a score of 3419 to 3330. Idaho's ten leading marksmen in that match and their individual scores are as follows: Tom Nelson, 356; Don Griffith, 356; John Croy, 352; Winston Jones, 341; A. Adams, 342; Harold Doty, 339; Gene Hutteball, 338; Vic Baumgartner, 337; F. M. Smith, 330; and A. J. Moen, 326.

Extra Five Dollar Charge Helps Pay For New Gym

Where does that extra-curricular fee of $5 go?

There is a beautiful building on University avenue near the Pullman highway. That building is the new Memorial gymnasium. It is one of the buildings on the campus of which the students are proud. It is being paid for by the students.

A few years ago $75,000 was raised through subscriptions over the state by the Memorial Gymnasium association. The total building cost when the gym was finished three years ago, was $225,000. The building association took bonds for the balance. The board of regents of the state turned the building and the bonds over to the university. The bonds are being paid by the extra-curricular fee of 5 a semester for each student.

The students in each of the four state institutions in Idaho are charged extra-curricular fees which are used for such projects as our gymnasium.

The fee paid by the students at the University of Idaho is used to pay the interest on the bonds and a yearly sum on the principal. The sum of $5000 is being paid yearly. In 1933 it will be raised to $7500 a year and will continue to raise at intervals of a few years. The increase of students and the decrease interest should make it possible to pay the final principal of $2500 in 1947.

When the bond issue is paid, the building will be the property of the state to be used by the University of Idaho as other buildings on the campus.

Other institutions use the same method of getting new buildings. The gymnasium at W. S. C. which cost $600,000 was paid for in this way. They are now building a new field house which is being paid for by an extra-curricular fee of $10 a year.

DEMOLAYS SKETCH SEASON'S PLANS

Demolay activities in Moscow are rapidly developing, according to Prof. R. S. Snyder of the agricultural chemistry department, advisor for the E-Dah-ho chapter. Basketball games with neighboring chapters, and dances are being considered.

Rollin Hunter, an Idaho freshman from Moscow who is the present Master Councilor of the organization is planning a drive for closer contacts with members from other chapters attending the university. A special initiation will be held Jan. 22, he reports. Regular meetings are held on the first and third Thursday of each month.

Students under 18 years of age will be locked up if found on the streets after 9 o'clock, according to a new rule at the University of Omaha.

SUMMER SCHOOL PLANS RECEIVE FINAL APPROVAL

Dean Messenger Announces Dates and Faculty for Special Session

SUBJECTS ARE VARIED

Courses in Seventeen Subjects Are Offered By Leading Instructors

Dates for the University of Idaho summer school have been set for June 9 to July 17, according to Dean J. F. Messenger, director of summer school. A registration fee of five dollars and an entertainment fee of two dollars are charged. Tuition is free in regular class work.

Courses will be offered in the following fields: athletic coaching, botany, economics, education, dramatics, mathematics, English, geology, geography, history, home economics, music, philosophy, political science, psychology, sociology, and zoology. Definite courses of study to be given will be announced in a short time.

Faculty Named

Members of the faculty will include: Prof. J. W. Barton, Fred C. Blanchard, Prof. Cornelius James Broxnan, Prof. Ada Burke, Prof. Leo Calland, Prof. C. W. Chenoweth, Prof. Isabel W. Clark, Prof. Carl Claus, Prof. Carleton Cummings, Dean J. G. Eldridge, Dean R. Hunter, Farmer, Dean Permal Jane French, Prof. Floyd W. Gall, Prof. Maude Garnett, Prof. LeRoy C. Glass, Prof. Charles E. Holley, Prof. Bert E. Hopkins, Prof. Katherine Jensen, Prof. Thomas S. Kerr, Prof. Francis B. Laney, William H. Little, Prof. Bernice McCoy, Dean J. F. Messenger, Prof. Raymond C. Miller, Prof. George Morey Miller, Prof. Ralph Douglas Russell, Prof. W. Wayne Smith, and Prof. Eugene Taylor.

Visiting Instructors

Visiting faculty members will be Howard Goding, of the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston; Osbourne McConathy, former head of public school music at Northwestern University; and author and lecturer; and J. W. Harris, dean of the school of education, College of the Pacific, at Stockton, Cal.

Officers of administration will be Pres. M. Gordon Neale, Dean J. F. Messenger, director of the summer school, and J. G. Eldridge, acting dean of the graduate school.

AGRONOMIST SEES FUTURE IN CLOVER

Farmers in the Clearwater river drainage area may easily secure alfalfa clover seed yields of 300 pounds per acre, in the opinion of Prof. H. W. Hubert, head of the University of Idaho department of agronomy. The price during the past season was approximately 16 cents per pound, making an average gross return of $48 an acre, or double the return offered by wheat at present prices.

UNEXCUSED CUTS MUST BE CLEARED

January 28 Last Day to Remove 10 Percent Penalties; Time Is Short

The official list of 10 per cent cuts received at the beginning and end of the Christmas vacation made its appearance in the halls of the administration building yesterday. According to an announcement from the office of the registrar, it will be necessary to make arrangements for excusing these cuts by January 28, if they can be taken care of. It was remarked that the time allowed for adjustments is comparatively short, but it will be necessary to clear them out of the road before final grades are recorded.

EDITOR EXPLAINS GEM MOUNTINGS

Blair Warns Students Not to Delay Their Studio Appointments

Wayne Blair editor of the Gem of the Mountains announced last night that although no specific deadline will be set as to the time by which pictures must be taken for the yearbook, that the actual mounting of the class sections, beginning with the senior section, will start about February 15 and continue until about the first of March, after which time no additional pictures can be mounted.

Students are warned that they are running a chance of not getting their pictures in the Gem, if taken later than February 15. Mounting of group pictures will begin after March 1, so that it is possible for a student to get his picture in that section, after the mounting of the class sections has ceased.

Blair reports the work progressing in every department several divisions having been sent to the engravers. The division page of the humor section has been made up and although fitting in with the motif of the rest of the book, is in contrast sufficiently to provide many a laugh.

W.S.C. AND IDAHO KNIGHTS DANCE

The Intercollegiate Knights are having their first joint dance with the Pullman chapter on Saturday, February 21, at Pullman. This is one step in working toward the "Intercollegiate Cup" which is being given by their national. The Knights will take advantage of the special train which will leave on the same date for the Idaho-W.S.C. basketball game.

AG-LAW BRAWL GETS UNDER WAY

Annual Basketball Clash Will Be Held In Month of February

The time is approaching for the traditional Ag-Lawyer basketball game. The teams are working out and getting into shape for a lively battle. The lawyers, losers last year, will deliver the challenge some time the last of February. The old practice of the losers entertaining the winners will be revived again this year.

SCHOOL RECALLS FORMER SOCIETIES

Many Clubs and Organizations Have Ceased to Function In Recent Years

The "way back when" club on the Idaho campus includes at least three one-time active organizations.

The pre-legal organization was once prominent and properly functioning. Sigma Delta, a physical education organization, has been heard of neither by Cap Horton or Leo Calland.

The Winged Helmet has not functioned yet this year, but Dr. George Morey Miller has formed a committee to revive it. The committee members are Mary Murphy, Hazel Simonds, and George Cerveney. In former years the Winged Helmet has been very successful as an interpretive instrument for writers on the campus.

Delta Nu Chi, University DeMolay society, also active in former years has ceased activities.

BEST UNIVERSITY STUDENT IS MILDLY CONCERNED ONE

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—The best university student was on the romantic element was furnished by two companions (male) whose continued lament was the absence of a girl named Clara in Wisconsin last year.

"I've been up Pike's peak fifty-two times by all routes: foot, burro, train, and auto. I saw a man push a peanut to the top with his nose. That is, I watched for ten feet. I have never been to the romantic element," he explained, married—divorced.

"I think Clara Bow should be hamstrung and quartered. Idaho appeals to me."

The civilized world is too dangerous to live in, it was declared today by Ernest B. Schodesack, who has just returned to Hollywood from a year in the unexplored tropics of Sumatra, where he filmed "Rango" an adventure drama for Paramount.

STANTON DENIES STALKER CHARGES HURLED IN BOISE

Former Deputy State Treasurer Says Funds Were Misappropriated

"BUT NOT TRUE"

Idaho Bursar Wants Books Sealed and Sent to Committee

"Interesting, but certainly not true," was the way in which Frank B. Stanton, university bursar, characterized the charge made before the joint finance and appropriation committee of the Idaho legislature that there had been irregularities in the use of university funds.

Saw Warrants

The charge, which was made by Philip Stalker, former deputy state treasurer, declared that state officials who were on the payroll of the state had received additional compensation from the university federal aid fund. Stalker told the house of representatives committee that he had seen warrants, by vouchers paid from the university fund to E. G. Gallet, former state auditor; and to Alta Wardell, bookkeeper, who at the time was in charge of university accounts.

Mr. Stalker told the committee that he did not have the warrants or definite proof that they still existed, but he declared that he had seen them and had discussed them with his department chief. They were dated in 1927 and 1928 records.

Appoint Committee

The outcome of the charges was the appointment of a sub-committee to sift the charges made by Stalker and to make a report as soon as possible. Representative Harsh of Latah county was appointed as chairman of the committee. Members of the finance committee expressed belief that the charges are unfounded and explained the appointment of the sub-committee as a step of justice to the accused persons.

Mr. Stanton answered a wire from W. D. Vincent, commissioner of education, by saying that he did not know to what the charges referred, and that he was sure that no such irregularities had occurred. Mr. Stanton suggested that a properly designated official be sent to the university immediately to seal records and to present them to the committee for investigation.

Nothing Irregular

Mr. Stanton declared that he did not wish to make a definite statement until he knew what the matter was about. He said, however, that his knowledge there was nothing irregular in the accounts and that he regarded the whole affair as nonsense.

The matter has been dropped by the legislative committee in order that the sub-committee may make its investigation.

DEBATE COACH REVEALS HOBBIES

Spinach and Roast Beef Are Quirks of Debate Coach

Hobbies! Is there any one who doesn't have at least one? "I have two hobbies," said Mr. A. E. Whitehead, debate coach. "One of them is an aversion to spinach and roast beef, and the other—a blind, unreasoning love for tennis."

Mr. Whitehead is small, slender, with an unassuming air about him, but behind it all is a forceful nature, and a keen intellect. His eyes are kind, and show an understanding nature. His actions depict a nice quality—quietness.

Made Speech in Butte

"My life has been a placid one," stated Mr. Whitehead. "It is quite barren of high lights. One of the big moments of my career was a speech on the jury system, in Butte, Montana. In my opinion, Butte is comparable to only one other American city, Pittsburg. Both cities convey the impression that this is a peace to end peace."

"I remember a group of Russians in Denver," said Mr. Whitehead, in telling of some of the lesser high lights of his life, "who resented our comments on recognition of soviet Russia, and broke up the meeting with verbal bombs."

"I took a ride on the Mississippi near New Orleans one spring, with a full man overboard. The romantic element was furnished by two companions (male) whose continued lament was the absence of a girl named Clara in Wisconsin last year."

"I've been up Pike's peak fifty-two times by all routes: foot, burro, train, and auto. I saw a man push a peanut to the top with his nose. That is, I watched for ten feet. I have never been to the romantic element," he explained, married—divorced.

"I think Clara Bow should be hamstrung and quartered. Idaho appeals to me."

The civilized world is too dangerous to live in, it was declared today by Ernest B. Schodesack, who has just returned to Hollywood from a year in the unexplored tropics of Sumatra, where he filmed "Rango" an adventure drama for Paramount.

KAPPA SIGNS AND FIJIS LEAD IN INTRAMURAL SWIM

Annual Contest Proves Exciting In Every Event; Lawson Stars

COMPETITION KEEN Close Contests Mark Event As Outstanding In Former Races

The Kappa Sigma members churned the water of the gymnasium pool for a total of 23 points to top the second place Fijis by 5 counters and annex the university championship in the big intramural swim last night.

Led by Jack and Robert Blair who garnered 13 points and a relay between them the winners placed in every event and walked away with the meet except for the Phi Gams who hung on their tails from start to finish. Dynes Lawson, flashy Fijil star chalked up high scoring honors for the evening with his 10 points gathered in the 100-yard dash and the 200.

The meet was exciting throughout with nearly all the events undecided until the last minute and several of the dashes were so close it was hard for the crowd to judge the winner. The diving was not up to the standard expected but Smith, Lambda Chi, gave a very good exhibition and marked 66 points to take the event with Menard grabbing second by virtue of his 59.6 points.

Betas Place Third. The Betas were in third place with 9 points and the Lindley hall swimmers snagged 7 points to take fourth place, while the rest of the entries were grouped near the cellar position.

Phi Delta and Kappa Sigma won the championships of their leagues during the preliminary races and added 75 points to their year's total while Lindley hall and Fijis took the second places to give themselves 50 counters. The winners of the final meet added 25 points to their first 75 and scored a total of 100 tallies for the swimming sport.

Detail of Events. 50-yard dash—Bob Blair, Kappa Sigma. Bjorklund, Phi Delta. Jack Blair, Kappa Sigma.

100-yard dash—Lawson, Phi Gam. Law, Beta Chi. J. Blair, Kappa Sigma.

50-yard breast stroke—Ostrander, A. T. O. Sweeney, Beta. Coffy, Kappa Sigma.

200-yard dash—Lawson, Phi Gam. B. Blair, Kappa Sigma. Watkins, Beta.

Dives—Smith, Lambda Chi. Menard, Phi Gam. Callahan, Lindley hall.

200-Medley Relay Race—Kappa Sigma. Plunge for distance—Lopez, Lindley hall. Sullivan, Kappa Sigma.

200-yard relay—Whipple, Lindley hall. Phi Gam.

The high standings toward the intramural cup are: Lambda Chi, 250. Phi Gamma Delta, 210. Kappa Sigma, 175.

TWO MAT CHAMPS FORM NUCLEUS

Vandal Grapplers Prepared to Defend Northwest Title

With two mat champions already in uniform and prospects of another returning at mid-year, the wrestling outlook at Idaho is unusually bright. From 12 to 15 men are working out nightly on the squad which will defend the northwest intercollegiate wrestling title this winter. The Vandals won the title competing against wrestlers from Washington State and Washington early last spring at the northwest minor sports carnival in Pullman.

Dan Lopez, Meridian, northwest heavyweight champion, is student instructor in the sport as well as the outstanding prospect to keep the mat title in Moscow. Amos Stephens, Mampa, another member of the squad, held the Rocky Mountain light heavyweight title in 1929, and from performances so far this season will put up a great battle to add another title to his belt. Noel Franklin, Rupert, 145-pound northwest champion, is not in uniform, but is expected to report at the beginning of the second semester. Franklin easily outclassed the 145-pound bottle crushers in the northwest meet and should have little trouble retaining his title. He also held the Rocky Mountains championship before coming to Idaho.

Ed Isenberg, Rupert, a newcomer among the Idaho grapplers, is the leading 155-pound prospect, and Lopez predicts that he will be a tough man to pin before the season starts. From last season's squad Carl Kopselka, Nespelm, Washington, 123 pounds, and Don Gray, Denver, Col., the 138-pound class, are beginning to eliminate competition and they appear likely to represent the Vandals again in their respective classes.

HOOP LITES

PAUL BOYD ADDY SIMM

Idaho 22—23 Washington 41—34
That just about tells the story of Idaho's first invasion into foreign fields. The Huskies collapsible floor proved too baffling for Fox's proteges. The floor, being laid in pieces like a checker-board was placed in the middle of the polo field and was well-lighted by a couple of candles. Only the reporters knew where the players were, the spectators being at home. Just 500 were out for the games, this being a very poor attendance record for the U. of W. field house which is used to capacity crowds.

While the Vandals were away the yearlings were losing a brace of games to the aggressive Cougar cubs. In both games the Frosh showed decided lack of practice and hard scrimmages. The invaders led by Sarboe and Rogers, are fortunate in having two boys who possess an uncanny eye for the hoop and are well grounded in the fundamentals of basketball.

Bowker for the home club turned in the best game. Checking his man to one basket and contributing a couple himself, he stood out distinctly with his accurate passing and general hustling. Perhaps he hustled too much, because in the second game he was ousted for too many personals.

A new high-scorer has made his appearances in the charmed circle of point gatherers in the conference. Gordon, six foot five center, of the W. S. C. club has landed first place with a lead of one point over Fagans, O. S. C. guard, garnering 44 points. Fuller, who was in second place dropped to the third rung in the ladder when Drummond and Hale held him to four points in two games. The work of the two Idaho guards was the outstanding feature of the games. Parks, who, with added experience, is coming to the front by leaps and bounds. Swanson, the Husky star, was played to a standstill while the long boy was in the game. The center position should be solved for Coach Fox next year.

Coach Dave McMillan, who led Idaho to two Coast conference titles and never landed lower than third in the final reckonings, is enjoying one of his characteristic years at the U. of Minnesota. The Gophers are sharing undefeated honors with Northwestern for leadership in the Big Ten. McMillan has had a hard row to hoe, due to lack of good material, and any coach will tell you that this is some handicap. Nevertheless his system is being given due credit by sporting syndicates.

Colder weather means more activity in the Hans Brinker club. Every night the embryo pucksters are scraping and leveling the ice on the rink and are practicing diligently. Bud Dittman and Don McDonald are taking the squad through their paces every night. Followers of the world's fastest game will soon get a chance to see their favorite sport if the cold weather keeps up, as games are being sought. Scrimmages are being played every night between members of the squad and fast action is resulting.

The intramural managers of the various "longs" are trotting out their lives in an effort to cop a first in their league. Much interest is being shown over this sport. Approximately 100 hardwood athletes will get a chance to die for the dear old "long." The S. A. E.'s who won last year, will again enter a formidable club in the race. Other strong lives are being led into the fray by the Faculty Five, Phi Gams, the Derelicts, and the Sigma Nu Dragons. The two leagues will have seven teams each, and the tournament will be a "round robin" affair.

This week sees Washington playing its first game of the year away from home, the Huskies traveling to Oregon, Friday and Saturday. Other games during the week are W. S. C. vs. Oregon State at Corvallis and the Cougars vs. the Vandals at Moscow.

See you at the game Friday.

FOXMEN DROP TWO STARTS TO HUSKY QUINT IN SEATTLE

First Game Easy Win, 41-22; Second Ends 34-23

WICKS LEADS ATTACK Midget Vandal Nearly Upsets Huskies In Last Game

By Bill Pohlman
Idaho's Red Shirted hoopers invaded Washington's huge basketball pavilion last Friday and Saturday nights and dropped two hard fought battles 41 to 22 and 34 to 23 to one of the strongest Husky fives seen in years.

The new court combined with the unfamiliar lighting was the big factor in the downfall of the Vandals as they were passing short and missing half of their set-up shots from within the foul line.

"Rich" Fox tried several new combinations and was pleased with the work of some of the second string men, as they hung on the tails of the fleet Washington stars all evening and kept Idaho in the running until the final gun. Drummond and Hale went to work on Fuller one of the Huskies' star scorers, and when the smoke cleared away the Purple and Gold fives had just 1 point to his credit. Auekett and Parks played good ball and were a constant threat to the Seattle men all during the game. Nelson, at forward, broke loose with his old time ability during the second battle and had the coast team standing on their heads for awhile.

Vandal Offense Off
The Huskies showed a flashy, smooth driving offense that seemed to carry everything before it in the first game and the big Seattle men ran up 19 points in the opening half while the Vandals were counting 13 markers. The Idaho offense was not clicking and the Red Shirts could not sneak the oval inside the foul line for a pot shot, while the Washington forwards sifted through the Vandal defensive zone with ease. Drummond was the only Vandal to swish the net until the final two minutes of play when Barrett and Parks each while Drummond grabbed head honors for Idaho with 5 points.

Washington continued the terrific drive during the second period and the Purple and Gold sharpshooters rang up 22 points while Idaho was snarling but 3. Hank Swanson, Washington center was high point man with his 16 tallies, while Drummond grabbed head honors for Idaho with 5 points.

Second Game Close
The second night a determined bunch of Vandals trotted on the pavilion floor and they showed so much improvement that they almost upset the powerful Husky and did give him the scare of his life, with Wicks, Nelson, Drummond and Parks playing champion ball from start to finish. The great Washington offense led by Gwygand recovered in the second period and started to put the battle on ice, but found themselves barely able to

W.A.A. NOMINATES NEW OFFICIALS

At the meeting of the W.A.A. Monday the following officers were nominated for the coming year: president, Bess Louise Hogg, and Joan Harris; vice-president, Dorothy Janssen and Marthalene Tanner; secretary, Lorraine Hoffman. Ruth Kehrer and Lorna McCain; recording secretary, Rhoda Swayne and Pearl Walters; and treasurer, Dorothy Dewey and Louva May Jensen.

Further nominations will be in order from the floor at the general meeting, February 9, at 5:00 o'clock in the Women's gym.

To be a member of W.A.A. a girl is required to earn a hundred points gained through special activities as basketball, volleyball, hiking, keeping a health chart, twelve hours horse back riding. After earning eight hundred of these points an "I" sweater is awarded. An "I" blanket is given for 1400 earned points.

SLATE SHOP WORK FOR FARM COURSE

Department of Agricultural Engineering Sponsors Revised Program This Spring.
Shop work combined with demonstration of farm machinery will feature the annual tractor short course for farmers slated this year for January 26 to February 26, announces Prof. Hobart Beresford, head of the University of Idaho department of agricultural engineering.

The first week will be devoted to discussions and laboratory demonstrations, while the last week will be given over to demonstrations of the latest models of farm machinery. Manufacturers of such equipment will not only furnish models, but will also send representatives who will give assistance to the farmers and answer such questions as might arise.

Among the problems under discussion will be lubrication, welding, ignition, carburetion, and the care of equipment. Instruction will take the form of actual shop work, where machines will be studied and the parts assembled.

FOOTBALL COACH BUT HE NEVER PLAYED A GAME

He is Arthur G. Sampson, former Tufts college head coach and backfield coach at Columbia the past season, who has been named as assistant to Eddie Casey, new Harvard head coach.

VANDALS PREPARE TO STOP COUGARS NEXT SATURDAY

Foxmen In Shape: Hope To Surprise Invaders.

NEED SCORING PUNCH Coach Drills Offense for First Washington State Invasion

Idaho's small inexperienced hoop squad returned from Seattle Sunday morning, and yesterday afternoon "Rich" Fox put them through the first paces of a week's intensive drill to meet the first Cougar invasion next Saturday.

The men are pleased with their showing against the Huskies and the improvement shown since the early season games is vast. There is lots of spirit present in the gymnasium each day as the Red Shirts toss baskets for an hour and then work on new offensive formations and scrimmage plays. Barrett has found his basket eye again and the ball is dropping through the net consistently.

The Vandals have shown as good a defense as there is in the circuit, but the offense is weak and other conference clubs have stopped the Idahoans with little trouble. Barrett, Wicks, Hale, Nelson and Drummond are sure shots from the foul line so the scoring column is always black on the Vandal's side.

The only thing the Vandals needed to develop a scoring punch was a little experience and confidence, both of which they got in the Washington series. Fox will have his sharpshooters in good shape for the Washington State invasion and plans to give the crack Staters a big surprise.

The Cougars were good enough to cop a double bill from Oregon, and split their series with the powerful Orangemen from Corvallis. Coach Friel has a team of big, fast and experienced men who have been playing great ball this year. Gordon, at center, is 6 feet 5 inches tall and plays a powerful game after the tip off, as does Endslov, his understudy, who is even taller. Holstein was a star at forward last year and is working even better this winter, with his beautiful one handed shots from the side of the floor. Van Tuyl, at guard is another veteran whose playing has kept the Pullman hoopers at the top this season.

Basketball games between Washington State and Idaho are nearly always won and lost in the final minutes of play and with the young Vandals playing on their own floor this battle should be no exception.

W. S. C. YEARLINGS TRIM IDAHO BABES

Vandal Frosh Drop Two Contests, 44-28 and 45-17

The Vandal freshmen dropped two contests to the Washington State college yearlings Friday and Saturday nights by scores of 44 to 28 and 45 to 17.

The Vandal yearlings started out strong in the first game, taking the lead 7-3. From then on W.S.C. seemed to find the basket quite consistently, running the score up to 20-14 at half time. The last half was fast and rough. Squance was high for Idaho, with 6 points. Sarboe was high point man of the game with 14.

PROFESSOR DECRIES "FIRST SIGHT" LOVE OF CO-EDS

EVANSTON, Ill.—What Professor Arthur J. Todd thinks about co-eds falling in love at first sight might be summed up approximately in one word—bah—with an exclamation point back of it.

Professor Todd, who is the head of the sociology department at Northwestern university, gave out eds some of his views during a lecture on romance and marriage. They should not marry, he said, until they have been out of college several years and then they should march up to the altar much like the old-fashioned girls of the nineties with young men who have been courting them for a long time.

As to "cozy nooks" arranged to promote romance, he expressed the opinion that in the eyes of a sociologist they aren't much good anyway.

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Now they manufacture weather for telephone testing

A test illustrating work in the Bell Telephone Laboratories is made with the weatherometer. This device produces rain and sunshine to order, and determines the weather-resisting properties of telephone equipment.

This test indicates an interesting habit of the men engaged in telephone research. It is to get sure knowledge bearing on efficiency, economy, life and reliability of apparatus.

Information is sought continuously during the development of a design, in advance of manufacture and of course long before the equipment gets into use.

Men who delight in thoroughness of method find that the opportunity is there.
