Hoover Just Ill Advised

TULSA, Okla.—Will Rogers has closed his two weeks tour of Texas and Oklahoma in which he raised a fund of $183,027 for the southwest's drought and unemployment victims. Rogers discussed Hoover during the tour by drawing, "Hoover means well, but it just looks like he has been ill advised. Now just look how he went and let Niagara Falls cave in. They never did cave in under Coolidge."

Combine For Tax Relief

Cannon Again Quizzed

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Having just been freed of charges brought against him by fellow churchmen, Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Virginia, now finds himself facing a senate investigation of his political activities and handling of campaign funds in 1928 in his fight to defeat Governor Al Smith of New York who was running for the presidency.

Canada Has New Governor

LONDON—The earl of Bessborough is now the governor general of Canada having been appointed to that post by the king. The appointment is declared to have significance as an indication of Canada's mood because the earl was in very close contact with the recent imperial conference in which he displayed his already known lack of friendliness toward the United States and Americans. He belongs to the pro-French wing of the British aristocrats.

Alaskan Charges Mistreatment

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Natives of Alaska are being ground under foot by the American government in the same way as the Indians, once were, according to Dan A. Sutherland, delegate to congress from Alaska. His charges were made against the agriculture and interior departments at a hearing of the Alaska reindeer committee in the house of representatives.

This time the lack of consideration is being shown by granting exclusive land rights to great reindeer herders without any consideration for the native Alaskans who are living on the lands.

Stocks Reach New High

NEW YORK—A strong bearish movement in the stock market accompanied by hurried buying brought the composite of stock market prices to the highest point reached since October, 1930. The move was regarded as a healthy sign particularly in the steel and rail industries.

Unemployed Mobilize

SEATTLE—Several hundred unemployed made an ineffectual effort to call upon Mayor Edwards and the city council yesterday. The council, however, was at lunch and Mayor Edwards had a previous engagement. The callers expressed regrets and departed without a disturbance.

Rudy Good Sport

MIAMI, Fla.—Rudy Vallee is said to have written to Harvard university officials asking them to rescind their order dismissing James S. Angier who is alleged to have thrown grapefruit at Vallee during a Boston performance.

Refuses $650,000

NEW YORK—The highest price ever offered for a radio artist, $650,000, is no lure for Charles Chaplin, film comedian, who twice refused offers of a business firm to make 28 program of 15 minutes each, in which he could say anything he liked from any point in the United States.

DEAN OF WOMEN STRESSES RULES

Miss French Requests More Careful Observance of Rules and Campus Regulations.

Housemothers and house presidents met with Dean Permeal J. French at Hays hall yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock to discuss problems of the university women. No new rules were passed but the old ones were stressed.

Miss French asked that first and second year women be careful about the observance of rules. Sophomores may go to the library on week nights if they are in by 9:45. They may have one week date a semester, dependent on their grades with special permission from the dean of women. Freshman women must not go to the library at night. Junior women must have permission from Miss French for week night dates.

NEWSPAPER GROUP REORGANIZES PRESS CLUB WEDNESDAY

Was Formerly Delta Sigma, Jones and Aust Elected

The Press club, professional journalistic group, was reorganized Wednesday night after nearly a year and a half of inactivity. Seventeen members of the Argonaut staff formed the present active membership of the organization.

The Press club was organized 10 years ago by a group of students and faculty members, many of whom are now prominent in the field of journalism. Later the name of the organization was changed to Delta Sigma, but when the present reorganization took place, the members preferred the former name as Delta Sigma is quite similar to other Greek letter honoraries.

Cecil Hagen, '30, the only alumni member of the group on the campus, outlined briefly the organization and the objects of the club. There were no active members on the campus.

Paul Jones, editor of the Argonaut, was elected president and Paul Aust, night editor, was elected secretary and treasurer. Other members are Conroy Gillespie, Paul Miller, Hal Kelly, James Farris, and Bill Pohman.

Membership is based primarily on professional interest in journalism.

DEBATERS RENEW GROUP ENMITIES

Eight Teams Remain in Running at Start of Second Round

Out of five men's intramural debates last week the affirmative drew the decision three times. Arguments advanced for both sides ranged from the biological urge to the financial stability of families.

The affirmative house will entertain the negative team and the judges according to Walter Slaughter, intramural debate manager.

The results of this week's round were: Delta Chi (negative) defeated Phi Chi Theta Pi; Kappa Sigma (affirmative) defeated L.D.S.; Ridenbaugh hall (affirmative) defeated the Sigma Nu's; Tekes (negative) nosed out Tau Mem Alpha.

The third round or semi-finals will start February 23, according to Slaughter.

The schedule for Monday evening battles is:

Delta Gamma's affirmative team, Elizabeth Taylor and Kathryn Collins won from Evelyn McMillan and Dorothy Williams, the negative team of the Delta Delta Delta house. Alice Ratcliffe and Winifred Galloway, the negative team of Kappa Kappa Gamma defeated Alpha Chi Omega's affirmative speakers, Virginia Montgomery and Teresa Connaughton.

AG PUBLICATION WORK PROGRESSES

"Idaho Agriculture" Will Contain Record of the Years Activities

Work on the "Idaho Agriculturist," annual publication of the college of agriculture, is going forward in earnest. The magazine will contain the year's activities of students and departments.

Articles for the magazine have been assigned to students, alumni, and faculty. The articles are intended to cover phases of agriculture as it exists throughout Idaho. Several pictures will be used, including those of the judges, officers of the ag club, members of Alpha Zeta, and scenes of agricultural activity near the campus.

Alumni featured.

One feature of the "Idaho Agriculturist" is the alumni directory, which includes the name and occupation of graduates of the college of agriculture since 1901.

"To turn out a good 'Agriculturist' we need the support of all ag students," said Glenn Pratt, editor of the magazine. "Those who have been assigned articles to write should be working on them now as they will be due in a few weeks."

Pratt urges that agriculture students compete in the essay contest which is conducted annually by the magazine. The best essay, together with a personal sketch of the author, will be printed in the "Agriculturist."

ELDRIDGE ON TRIP

Dr. J. G. Eldridge, veteran dean of the University of Idaho faculty, and grand master of Masons in Idaho, left Moscow Thursday on a three-weeks' trip that will take him through south Idaho and as far east as Washington, D. C.

Any one wishing to try for the contest is requested to report to Mr. Whitehead.

SCHOOL OF MINES TO OFFER THREE NEW FELLOWSHIPS

Successful Candidates Will Be Given Original Problems in Mining

MANY TRY EACH YEAR OFFERED IN COOPERATION WITH FEDERAL AND STATE MINING BUREAUS

Announcements of three research fellowships offered for next year by the University of Idaho school of mines have been sent to mining and technical schools all over the country by Dean John W. Finch.

Fellowships in the Idaho school of mines rank high in the estimation of leaders in the mining and milling fields, as shown by the large number of applicants who try for appointments each year. The net income of each fellowship is $75 a month. Men appointed register as advanced students in the school of mines and become candidates for the degree of master of science in mining, metallurgy or geology.

The fellowships are offered by the school of mines in cooperation with the United States bureau of mines and the Idaho bureau of mines and geology. Successful candidates are given original research problems dealing with a particular phase of mining or milling practice in Idaho, such as flotation theory, gravity concentration, fine grinding, mineral deposits and structural geology.

Men Have Been Outstanding

During the past 10 years, men who have held these fellowships at the University of Idaho have won outstanding prominence in their fields. So well have they succeeded that the school of mines authorities have set as one of their objectives the training of a small group of advanced students each year, training in which they believe cannot be duplicated in the United States in particular fields.

GROUP REHEARSES ODD MELODRAMA

Stirring Romance and Attractive Characterize Next Plays Here

"Adolphus, what a sweet spot! A rural paradise indeed. How balmy, and yet how cheap."

And Adolphus, philosophizing, answers, "The house is, indeed, well enough and cheap—but after all, what is a house? To which our hero, Tom Cobb, brightly responds "Seventy five pounds a year, sir!"

So unfolds W. S. Gilbert's stirring melodrama of 1875 entitled "Tom Cobb, or Fortune Telling," to be presented here by the group of students, reports Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the honorary dramatic fraternity.

An all-star cast makes this thrilling of the young surgeon, Tom Cobb; the Irish adventurer; and the romantic Ebbingham family unusually entertaining.

Old fashioned costumes, elegant Victorian settings, yards of false whiskers, mysterious papers, lost wills, and best of all a happy ending with the hero's arms, make this play unusually satisfying.

Entre-act entertainment is a feature as will also be the sale of popcorn, bars, and peanuts between acts.

PHI CHI THETA WILL ENTERTAIN

Invitations Have Been Sent to Women Students Interested in Business

Phi Chi Theta, women's national honorary business fraternity, will entertain in honor of the women students in the school of business administration and sophomore women interested in business, on Sunday evening at a fireside at Forney hall. Forty invitations have been sent out. A varied program has been arranged for the evening.

Final arrangements for the affair were completed at a meeting and luncheon of the organization Thursday noon at the Blue Bucket Inn.

GROUPS EVASIVE ABOUT PLANS FOR THEIR NEW HOMES

Tri Delts, S.A.E.s and Sigma Nu Planning to Build

NOTHING DEFINITE

Information Withheld by Houses Until Future is Cleared

Delta Delta Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Nu are making plans for new homes to be built soon, but there has been no definite statement made concerning any of these plans.

Virginia Peck, president of Delta Delta Delta, said, "It is impossible to give out an definite information just now. We are planning to build and our plans are taking form, but we do not wish to say anything now that will go beyond the campus. We may be able to do so in a week or so."

Chairman of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon building committee, Joe Filsseth, was even more indefinite. "I can't tell you a thing," he said, "We are hoping to build, but it will probably not be for some time."

James Mitchell, speaking for the Sigma Nu's admitted that a lot had been purchased between the Gamma Phi Beta house and Forney hall, but said nothing could be done until their present property is disposed of. In a few days, he believes, they will know something definite.

ANNUAL CAMPAIGN PLEASES JOHNSON

Gem Subscriptions Roll in as Spurs and Knights Work

Subscriptions for 1931 Gem of the Mountains are coming in satisfactorily with the cooperation of the Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights, announced Clive Johnson, circulation manager, this morning. Seven hundred and thirty seven pledges have been sold by the two service organizations.

The pledges cost $2.50 and guarantee future delivery of Gems when they are published, explained Johnson. Approximately $1,800 has been collected to date under the new plan.

High schools throughout Idaho are buying pledges said Johnson. "It is a good advertisement for the university since it answers some of the questions that high school seniors are asking themselves. 'What will I see at Moscow in the way of educational facilities' declared Kenneth O'Leary, business manager.

63 Seniors Lagging

Wayne Blair, editor of announced last night that exactly 63 seniors had neglected to have their pictures taken for the Gem. "The yearbook is primarily for the students, and I wish that those 63 men would make their appointments this week," declared Blair.

"And they don't need to think that we'll hold the presses while they get their photos taken. This year individual senior class pictures will be larger," Blair said. "The Spurs and Knights will continue the subscription drive for two more weeks."

FAMOUS ORATORIO TO BE PRESENTED

"Stabat Mater," Rossini's best known oratorio, will be presented at the University of Idaho this spring by a chorus composed entirely of students, reports Prof. Carleton Cummings, head of the honorary dramatic fraternity.

This oratorio music department, which was first made a permanent in the last three years, and the first in which all leading parts will be taken by students.

"Stabat Mater," which means holy mother, is ordinarily done in Latin, but it will be presented by Idaho students in English. The oratorio is 45 minutes in length, brilliant, tuneful and operatic in character. It was selected so that the repertoire of the Vandeleer chorus would include material for a sacred concert when the group tours the state next year.

While the date has not been definitely decided upon, the oratorio will probably be presented Sunday, May 3, which is the first day of the music week. During the same week the university symphony orchestra will be presented in concert and the string quartet will give a recital.

WOMEN MARKSMEN SPLIT LAST MEETS

The women's rifle team fired matches with Michigan State college and the University of Vermont the past week. Idaho defeated Michigan State by a score of 483 to 472, but the University of Vermont made a score of 992 as compared to Idaho's 922.

Up to the present time the Idaho team has won two matches and lost two.

During this week matches will be fired against the University of South Dakota and Louisiana State University.

SENIORS SLOW FILING DEGREES

Applications for Degrees Are Slow This Year; One-Fourth Tardy Reports Olesen.

Seniors have until the end of this week to get their applications for degrees in the hands of the university registrar if they expect to receive a degree at the end of the present semester.

In making the application for degrees, the senior obtains the blanks and instructions from his dean. The approval of the dean and of the major professor is required before the application is turned over to the registrar. Upon presentation the application becomes official with the payment of the baccalaureate fee of $5.

Ella L. Olesen, university registrar, reported that about a fourth of the senior class has not yet made application for degrees. The applications have been available since the second semester registration.

LEWISTON GROUP HEARS UNIVERSITY FACULTY LECTURE

Classes Conducted by Sargent, Dr. Miller and Dr. Church

"The group study classes of Mrs. Margarete Sargent, Dr. George M. Miller, and Dr. F. C. Church in Lewiston have been the most successful work of this nature given to date," stated Miss Bernice McCoy, director of non-resident instruction. "This is due not alone to the high quality of instruction given, but to the splendid leadership of the people in Lewiston."

As a part of the work of the non-resident instruction branch of the university, Doctor Miller, and Doctor Church gave 3-hour lecture courses in Lewiston last semester on subjects pertaining to their respective departments, English and history. These courses will be continued this semester. Mrs. Sargent will discontinue her course in conversational French, as it is only a 1-hour study and she feels she cannot afford to make the trip to Lewiston for the one period.

The persons in Lewiston who took the courses last semester commented favorably on the instruction and were early in signifying their desire to continue the studies.

VANDAL DEBATERS SCHEDULE OREGON

Forensic Teams Will Clash Seen on the Chain Store Question

Troy, Idaho will be the scene of battle for the debate between the University of Oregon and Idaho's negative squad, which is not yet chosen, according to A. E. Whitehead, debate coach.

The date is February 25, and the question is "Resolved: That the further expansion of the chain store is detrimental to the best interests of the American people."

The debate will be held at Troy as a result of an invitation to the debate coach, by James R. Allen, superintendent of schools there, and a graduate of Idaho.

Thelma Melgard and Jewell Leighton of Idaho's women's squad will clash with the women from the University of Oregon here February 20. Miss Melgard and Miss Leighton will speak against Spokane university at Spokane March 4. The team has the negative side of the question for both debates, "Resolved: That Gandhi has been a benefit to India." On March 11, this team will journey to Oregon to debate on the same question.

MILITARY QUOTA IS INCREASED

By a telegram to the military department, the commanding general, ninth corps area, authorized the increase of the advanced course enrollment in the university from 79 to 85 students.

This was in reply to telegraphic request of Gen. Chrisman requesting such action to accommodate the students who were actually enrolled in the course. Since receipt of authorization for the increase, three students have found it necessary to withdraw creating vacancies in the number that can be enrolled.

Any student who has had the basic course in a senior unit or three years in a junior unit (high schools) and who desires to enroll in the advanced course is requested to call the R.O.T.C. office, in the Memorial gym, room 102.

SORORITY INSPECTS PETITIONING GROUP

Accompanying her on her trip is a representative from the Washington college chapter of Pi Beta Phi and Mrs. Frank M. Douglas of Seattle, province president.

APARTMENT HOUSE RUINED BY FIRE

Huge Blaze Destroys Personal Property of Many Families

The complete destruction of an apartment house and harness shop on the corner of Washington and Fourth streets, with an estimated damage of $18,000 was the result of a fire which started at four o'clock Thursday morning.

The light was by flames was seen for miles around. Early rising students could view the fire from their houses, and not a few braved the early morning chill to enlarge the crowd of townspeople at the blazing scene.

The fire started in the harness shop but soon spread to the apartment. George Weber, operator of the shop, stated that the only thing possible of saving was the W.A.A. electric motor which furnished the power for the different machines.

Baffles Firemen

The blaze had been under way some time before it was discovered by the night watchman. He immediately notified all the occupants of the apartment. When he turned in the alarm to which the fire department responded immediately, but by the time it arrived, the blaze was impossible to control. The only thing the firemen could do was to protect the neighboring buildings.

Nothing was saved of the apartment house except some of the furnishings of the J. R. Hill's private rooms. Mr. Hill is the owner of the apartments. Of those who were damaged by the fire, Mr. Hill was the only one who carried insurance. He estimated his loss at $10,000. All the personal property of the 16 people living in the apartments was destroyed.

THE WOLVES ARE OUT

THE wolves are out again, all over the nation, baying at the heels of college football. Pessimists predict the decline and fall of million dollar gates; the end of huge throngs, and, in general, hang the crepe on intercollegiate athletics.

Now, as before the stock market crash, big business is big business, and those who still have million dollar stadiums to pay for are not going to be lured into substituting intramural sports for the "big games."

Over emphasis on sports may or may not be subject to question as regards interference with studies, but the business end of football, the advertising and a resultant increase in enrollment, and other direct and indirect benefits cannot be denied.

Only nine miles away, Washington State answers those who would ban intercollegiate athletics. Football receipts there for the last two years have mounted into the thousands, culminating with the Rose Bowl game and its $200,000 gate. A few games such as this would rapidly pay for the Memorial gymnasium, the proposed library, and a new engineering building, thus satisfying all. Let the wolves consider this before the pack swings on the Vandal trail.

"BOOS"

FEW sounds are made at basketball games that are more absurd than a long-drawn-out boo. Whenever the referee calls a foul on the home team, up comes the home crowd with hoots and hisses intended to make the official realize what a sin he has committed.

Pacific coast conference referees are paid pretty good wages for being trained in the rules of the hoop game, and seldom they miscall plays. It is hardly likely that a student, no matter how loyal, how intelligent or how keen-sighted, could see a play from the top row of the bleachers better than an official who is usually a yard or two away looking especially for violations of rules.

Webster's New International dictionary says that "boo" as an interjection is "an exclamation used to imitate the low of a cow, to express contempt, aversion, etc., or to startle or frighten."

Is there anything that sounds more like a herd of cattle than a group of college students all yelling "Boo-oo"? Yet the students who boo are the first to resent being called "cow-college" students—another of the peculiarities of human nature.—Oregon State Barometer.

COLLEGE HUMOR IMPROVES

THE wave of night club humor in college circles has seen its best day. More and more, university publications are returning to a sane and normal basis, relegating obscene and smutty jokes to their proper places. It is not befitting the intelligence of those destined to one day lead the nation that they should be originators of such wit as probably caused Stephen Leacock to say to a group of college students, "If you are the cream, God pity the skimmed milk."

The western states were among the first to rid themselves of objectionable material in their publications. Only in a few scattered places do the witty remain below the norm, and that great, great leader, "College Humor", in each issue including more stories and less jokes. It is well to laugh, but even a bum joke should show a degree of thought.

THE GEM NEEDS COOPERATION

SUPPOSEDLY setting the pace for the rest of the university, the senior class has fallen down on the job. As the Gem of the Mountains goes to press, comes a moan from the editor that some 63 of those permitted by tradition to wear mustaches and carry canes have failed to have their pictures taken for the annual.

While it is neither probable nor possible for everyone on the campus to participate in a major activity, here is one small activity, the support of the year-book, that is open to all. It is indicative of the laggard spirit, becoming all too prevalent concerning student activities at Idaho. If the upperclass fails to set the precedent, what can be expected of the classes to follow.

As long as the Gem is to be published, it is the duty of each student in the university to give support.

Lincoln's birthday has come and gone, and like good patriots over the country, the schools of Moscow flew the colors. But not so the university. But we have the R. O. T. C.

CALIFORNIA DAILY EASY ON PARENTS

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, Berkeley, P. I. P. A.—Students are grasping an opportunity to save writing letters home.

Already 400 have availed themselves of the offer of sending the Californian to their parents each day for $1.25 and the presentation of an A. S. U. C. booklet.

The new subscriptions have increased the circulation of the student paper until it has passed the 11,500 mark.

PLANNING NEW HALL

P.I.P.A.—Plans for the first women's dormitory on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles, a $300,000 structure to be known as Myra Hershey hall, have been approved by the regents of the university and the comptroller has been authorized to advertise for bids. Funds for the building were provided in the will of the late Myra Hershey, who left $300,000 for a dormitory and $100,000 for a loan fund for needy students.

Gertie Guillotine

Boop-a-Doop, Campsters—Well, now that everyone is happy over the returns of the class elections that is another thing off our minds. By the way, roll call showed the Fijis absent. We hope they aren't losing their old interest. It was quite a disappointment to the other members of the classes.

CLASS RUNS SELF

P.I.P.A.—At the University of Oregon there is a class of secondary education that "runs itself." The class members devise their own course of study, methods of procedure and detail of research, with the instructor acting as advisor and critic.

Glen Trail '24 and Gus Powell '29 are engaged in Smith-Hughes agricultural work. Trail is teaching agricultural courses at Monroe, Wn. while, Powell is an instructor in the same work at Castle Ford, Idaho.

Phi Bete's Watch Price Quotations On Ad's Exchange

The battle is on! Prospective Phi Bete pledges and prospective Probate pledges, indistinguishable in the milling mob, seethe about the grade board, attempting to find the fatal decision of the Registrar's office on their last semester's educational efforts. A few of the luckier, who are up in the alphabet, have faded from the circle, but many a familiar S to Z still searches vainly for his envelope.

Poor down-trodden professors, who struggle through the horde to the faculty mail box, fail to understand this after-the-ball-is-over desire for grades, now that it is too late to do anything about them. Equally at a loss are the Argonaut editors, who cannot comprehend why anyone should take the assignment sheets of the Argonaut, as a compensation for not getting his grades.

But soon the battle will be over. All the grades will be out, and students will cluster telling the truth to one another about their averages.

HOUSE MANAGERS ELECT CHAIRMAN

The organization of house managers of the groups of the campus is at present considering several matters of pertinent interest to their members. At the meeting held last week Samuel (Bud) Johnson was elected chairman and he immediately outlined a plan for the coming months.

These plans include conferences with local coal dealers and laundries in the hope of getting better prices and service, than those which prevail at the present time. A committee is meeting tonight to discuss the coal situation. At present all of the houses on the campus are taking an active interest in the work being done by this organization except two of the sororities. It is hoped that the meeting next Thursday will see all of the groups represented.

SAINT VALENTINE'S day, a very appropriate time for social pleasures, was celebrated Saturday. Several house dances this week proclaim that it is a popular time in which to indulge in social activities.

Delta Gamma Formal.

The dinner dance to be given Friday evening by Delta Gamma will be the only formal of the week. Informal dances by the Phi Delta Theta underclassmen and by Hays hall are to be given. Alpha Tau Omega fraternity will revel at a "Hokum" dance which undoubtedly will be indicative of its name. Delta Delta Delta and Beta Chi are planning initiation dances. A semi-formal dance following their initiation banquet will be given Saturday night by Gamma Phi Beta.

Debaters Entertained.

This week concluded the second round of the intramural debates, participated in by both men's and women's groups. Each house entertained members of the opposing team and the judges at dinner preceding the debate. Members of the groups were also guests of the entertaining group during the evening when the debates were heard. The Spinster skip, sponsored by Mortar Board, has been postponed until February 28. This is one of the most outstanding and unique affairs of the year.

SIGMA TAU FORMAL DANCE

On the evening of February 7, 1931, the members of Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, entertained with a formal dance at the Beta Chi house. Blue and white carnations were used as decorations.

Patrons and patronesses were: Prof. and Mrs. W. C. Crawford, Prof. and Mrs. Jesse E. Buchanan, Prof. and Mrs. John W. Howard, and Prof. and Mrs. R. H. Hull. Guests included: Elsie Eklund, Ruth Ragan, Helen Theriault, Beulah Wright, Annie Snow, Beatrice Gibbs, Ellen Jack, Dorothy McCauley, Dorothy Schwartzman, Alma Menee, Rebecca Flack, Ruth Daniels, Evelyn McMillan, Doris Armstrong, Jane Dunn, Kathryn Thomas, Ella Mae McAlister, Florence Hanson, Robert Reynolds, and William Gallagher.

DALETH TETH GIMEL INITIATION BANQUET

A formal banquet for the new members of Daleth Teth Gimel was given by that organization on Saturday evening. The banquet followed the initiation ceremony at which nineteen women were initiated. Mrs. T. W. Hickman was toastmistress of the evening.

PI LAMBDA THETA GIVES FIRESIDE

Pi Lambda Theta, national honorary education society, held a fireside Tuesday evening at Hays hall. Miss Bernice McCoy, director of the non-resident instruction and placement service, gave a general talk on education and the application for positions for next year.

Delta Gamma announces the pledging of Kathleen Miller of Sunnyside, Washington.

Miss Jessie McCoy, of Cascade, was a visitor at the Gamma Phi Beta house during the past week.

Phi Delta Theta announces the pledging of Kenneth Dyer, Walla Walla.

Sigma Chi announces the pledging of Albert Schmitz, Weiser.

PLAY PRODUCTION CLASSES STARTED

Advanced play production classes, under the direction of Fred C. Blanchard, have again resumed their Tuesday meetings at which programs consisting of the reading of notable plays of the year and Broadway hits are presented.

Last week, Maxwell Anderson's "Elizabeth, the Queen" in which Lynn Fontaine is now starring in New York, was read by Mr. Blanchard. Next Tuesday Rudolph Beiser's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be read by Winifred Janssen and Kathryn Hart. Katherine Cornell is soon to open with this much talked of play on Broadway. In England this love story of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning caused a furor among the theatre-going public, and was considered an innovation in dramatic work.

Accommodations for a limited number, who may desire to witness these programs, are available. The readings will be given Tuesday afternoon at four at the U Hut.

The Cinematic

ANN HARDING has the lead in the screen version of David Belasco's famous play, "Girl of the Golden West" which is running at the Vandal until Saturday. The original play, produced in 1905, ran for two years in New York and then spent another season on the road. In 1923, "Girl of the Golden West" was produced as a silent picture featuring Sylvia Breamer, J. Warren Kerrigan and Russell Simpson. The latest and most lavish production, starring Miss Harding, has won the acclaim of critics wherever it has been shown. Harry Bannister and James Rennie are in the supporting cast.

AFTER NEARLY A YEAR during which Janet Gaynor has taken a vacation from the screen and Charles Farrell has been teamed with Maureen O'Sullivan and Rose Hobart, the two best liked screen sweethearts are reunited in Raoul Walsh's "The Man Who Came Back". The supporting cast of this unusually dramatic romance, which gives the stars of "Seventh Heaven" the best roles of their careers, includes William Holden, Kenneth MacKenna and Mary Forbes. Tonight is the last night at the Kenworthy.

GEORGE O'BRIEN comes to the Kenworthy Saturday in an outdoor romance "Fair Warning" which is taken from Max Brand's novel, "The Untamed."

ED WYNN, "THE PERFECT FOOL", scored as a collegiate actor at the University of Pennsylvania long before he decided to adopt the stage as a profession. In fact, an unexpected refund from the registrar of that school was the first intimation his parents had that their son had forsaken his business education for the stage. Recently Wynn, who is without peer as a stage comedian, made his debut on the talking screen in "Follow the Leader", which plays at the Kenworthy Sunday and Monday.

Last night the purple of Phi Gamma Delta downed the Lambda Chi Alpha green in intramural basketball 13 to 7. The Phi's took the lead at the beginning of the game and held it throughout the four quarters. Phi Delta Theta suffered an upset when they were defeated by the Sigma Chi team 14 to 9.

Smith, Phi center, was forced to leave the floor during the third quarter when he received a cut above the eye. On both sides the scoring was scattered. In the first game Pierce, Sigma Chi, was high scorer with two field goals and one foul. Up to the end of the third quarter both sides were evenly matched. The Sigma Chi's opened up and scored three baskets to win the game.

Beta Chi Stage Upset

With the score 18 to 7 in favor of the Lambda Chi's at the beginning of the last quarter the Beta Chi's shot their 7 up to 23 to win the game. The men in green only scored one basket that quarter, making the final score 23 to 20. Thurman and Burk were the men who won the game for the Beta Chi's by shooting four baskets apiece in the fourth. In the previous periods they had done very little scoring. Adams, Ridenbaugh, was high man for the evening with 11 tallies.

The S.A.E.'s romped over Tau Mem Aleph, 29 to 12 Wednesday night. Dewey with 9 counters, and Barrett, with 8, were high pointers for the winners.

Fifty-six games are still left to be played in the series. Maurice Ficke replaced Oliver Fyke as one of the officials. Jack Williams is his partner.

YEARLING QUINTET AWAITING KITTENS

Frosh Hoop Squad Report Excellent Form for Week-end Games

After handling the Lewiston Normal quintet two straight trouncings by scores of 44-34, and 51-28, the yearlings have been working hard towards making a real showing against the Cougar "Kittens" Friday and Saturday evenings.

Friday night at Pullman will be the third of a four-game series with the rivals across the line. Early in the season the Idaho frosh dropped two games to W. S. C. but since that time conditions have changed considerably in Coach Jacoby's camp and it is almost certain that the week-end's games will be an entirely different story. The Cougar babes have just returned from a trip on which they won most of their games and are in top-shape condition to meet the onslaught of the Idaho youngsters.

Every man on Jacoby's squad is eligible and in good condition to render his services. The appearance of the frosh against the Lewiston teachers showed a decided improvement over their earlier season's form. Grenier, tall frosh center who only recently returned to the lineup, has been playing excellent ball and should give the "Kittens" plenty to worry about. He is a constant threat under the basket and has a good eye from the floor. Geraghty and Herman played first-rate ball against Lewiston and will probably carry the brunt of the attack. Saturday the fourth game of the series will be played here in the Memorial gymnasium.

Comparing the scores turned in recently it appears more probable that Idaho will notch a win over Oregon State before they hand a defeat to the Emerald five. Oregon has been coming fast and will be the stumbling block in "Rich" Fox's climb up the ladder. However, if a muzzle can be supplied to Stevens and Calkins the battle will be won. And it is up to Christians to put the handcuffs on Eberhardt, Reinhardt's tip-off man. What to do with Keenan is another question and we leave that with the coach and team.

All fans wishing a glimpse of the future varsity will get their eyes full tonight and tomorrow when the Yearlings tangle with their traditional rivals, the W. S. C. Cubs. Discounting the first series of games and looking to the lineup at the present time, Coach "Red" Jacoby's five should win. Just as the team was functioning well, two members were lost from the starting group. Herman, guard, and McConnell at forward are lost to the team during the games. Herman was called home, and McConnell forced to the sidelines because of a bad ankle.

The shifting of Squance to forward and the injection of Tanner into the lineup will not weaken the starting five materially. Geraghty will play the other guard and Grenier will take care of the pivot position. The reserves are Ficke and Giffen, both of whom are capable.

"Garrison" finishes seemed to be the order of the evening in the series between Oregon and Washington State. In the first game Oregon scored twenty points to cut down the Cougar lead, to lose basket, but Gordon rang a basket and donation to pull the game from the fire. The order was reversed in the second game. With Oregon leading 32 to 16, McLarney and Holsten aided by Huntley Gordon overcame this lead and sewed up the game. Such games are great for the spectators but cause coaches to turn gray.

It is possible that Idaho will be represented on the links this year with a golf team. Bill Willis, who is the present state title holder, is organizing a team. Of course, the whole project is strictly "on paper" at the present time, but with the coming of the "beautiful springs" there should be a great revival of the "hook and slice" game.

Oregon should be in an exhausted condition when they play Idaho next week. Five games in six days is enough for any club. The odd game was the Gonzaga battle in which Oregon emerged victorious.

The Sport Shop

By Paul Boyd

Yesterday afternoon the varsity basketball squad left on its second trip of the year. For the Vandals to finish in the first division it will be necessary for them to take both games from Oregon and split the series with the States. It's a tough assignment, but one that is capable of fulfillment provided the team plays the type of ball it is capable of. Captain "Bobby" Drummond should be over his sickness and will be able to handle his side of the floor. Whether or not the rest of the team can stand up is the question.

Idaho's fighting basketball quintet, 10 strong, left Moscow last night for an invasion of the coast, where they will battle twice with Oregon State this week and tangle in a double bill with the Webfoots at Eugene on Monday and Tuesday evenings.

The Vandals are in top shape after a week of rest and easy practice have instilled new confidence and a determination to crawl out of the conference cellar before they return next Thursday.

"Rich" Fox has stressed defensive work since the Oregon series, as the Red Shirts seemed to lose all the ability they had picked up in the Cougar games and let the Green forwards slip away for easy flip time after time. Drummond and Hale are working together as they did a few weeks ago and with both of these men playing, fast ball Idaho has one of the best set of guards on the coast. Christians, at center, has been traveling fast in practice this week and will probably be in line to open the initial battle at his pivot position. Parks and Smith are still playing smart ball and will see lots of action against the Oregon schools.

COUGARS IN HOOP PENNANT BATTLE

Washington Favored; Race in South Finds 4 Teams Knotted

Games This Week.
Friday—Washington State vs. Washington at Seattle; Idaho vs. Oregon State, at Corvallis.
Saturday—Washington State vs. Washington, at Seattle; Idaho vs. Oregon State, at Corvallis; U. C. L. A. vs. U. S. C., at Los Angeles; California vs. Stanford, at Palo Alto.

The powerful northern division conference fives started their final drives down the home stretch last week with the first place Huskies trimming Oregon State twice at Seattle and putting the Orangemen out of the pennant chase for the time being. The Purple and Gold sharpshooters have come through the season so far with but one black mark to their credit and tonight meet their greatest obstacle when they tangle for the first time with Jack Friel's Cougars from Pullman. This series should decide the pennant winners and both clubs are set for a couple of real battles.

Ducks Out of Cellar.
Oregon climbed out of the cellar position when the Ducks took a pair of clean cut wins from the Vandals and they will be fighting to hold the advantage when the quintets clash on the Webfoot floor next week. The last place clubs have both been handicapped by lack of size.

The southern division will be the center of attention on the coast this week-end, however, when U. C. L. A. with three games won and four lost, battles U. S. C. with four won and three lost at the Trojan pavilion.
