Britons Aid Unemployment

LONDON—Without a division of the house of commons has adopted a measure designed to put picks and shovels back in the hands of thousands of unemployed Britons who are now drawing the dole.

The change will provide that dole drawers must work for the state. The new system comes as a result of a combined party proposal aimed at the eradication of some of the faults of the dole system as well as to aid in a program of public works.

Hoover Backs Naval Program

WASHINGTON—President Hoover is anxious to have favorable action this session on the naval construction program along with battleship modernization, according to Secretary Adams who has been discussing the matter with house Republicans.

The naval chief called personally on Chairman Britten of the house naval committee in order to remove any impression that the administration was not desirous of pressing the legislation at this session.

Mexican Students Riot

MEXICO CITY—Eggs, water, and miniature bombs were hurled in a mob fight in front of the National university here all because students of the law school attempted to prohibit all students from going without hats, charging it is a custom imported from the United States and should not be tolerated.

Marines To Withdraw

WASHINGTON—Rapid withdrawal of Marines to parallel the upbuilding of the national guard has been agreed upon by American and Nicaraguan governments.

By June the American force would number 500 men who would be retained to train the national guard of the South American republic, which is to be increased to 2000 men.

Big, Bad, Bill Egged

CHICAGO—Mayor William Thompson Hale joins the dodgers' club along with Rudy Valle. This time the barrage was of eggs thrown at the Chicago mayor during a campaign speech in a big city theater. The egg hurler aimed badly, but had to be rescued by the police from the mob which was trying to get at him.

Bonus Hits Snag

WASHINGTON—The proposal to increase the loan value of soldier's bonus certificates by 50 per cent has struck snags. Secretary Mellon and four members of the house ways and means committee have assailed the bill most strongly. The prime reason for their opposition is that the cost will approximate $700,000,000 and no one can suggest the source from which such funds can be obtained without borrowing at prohibitive interest rates.

Drouth Relief Bill Signed

WASHINGTON—Ending its long and turbulent transition from a gift to a loan, the $20,000,000 relief fund for drouth victims has been passed by both houses of congress and signed by President Hoover.

The measure brings the total fund for the use of farmers to $65,000,000, breaks the deadlock which has blocked all legislative action, and makes an extra session of congress seem much less likely than it did a few days ago.

Mrs. Barre Nearly Bare

LOS ANGELES—Mrs. Helen Barre of New York was in a hurry to get home from a party which she had attended dressed as a hula maiden so she didn't stop at a stop street.

Now she has a nice tag from the police station because the policeman who caught her thought her garb unbecomingly and because he resented the remark that he would be better off if he went out and looked for Al Capone, instead of molesting shivering girls.

Britons Still Wet

LONDON—The United Kingdom is still wet in the alcoholic sense of the word. A bill introduced into the house of commons to prohibit the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages was roundly defeated by a vote of 137 to 18.

Debate over the bill was heated. Nancy Lady Astor took an active part in the discussion and during the repartee caused a good deal of indignation by calling the peagee "beverage."

VANDAL QUINTET BEATEN BY O. S. C. IN TWO BATTLES

Scores of 37 to 24 and 47 to 40 Made Against Idaho

BOTH GAMES SPEEDY

Tilts Featured by the Close Guarding of Both Teams

By BILL POHLMAN
Idaho's Vandals invaded Corvallis last Friday and Saturday and lost to Oregon State by scores of 37 to 24 and 47 to 40.

The battles were featured by the close guarding of both clubs, and the uncanny basket-eye of Wicks. The little forward nabbed 10 counters in the opening night and came right back to take 13 points and high score honors of the series for his second night's work. The guarding of Drummond, Hale, Christians and Aukett was excellent and the results showed when the Orange scoring aces, Ballard and Fagans walked off the floor the first night with a total of two points between them.

Vandals Rally.
The first, scramble was ragged, but fast, and after the opening moments of play the Staters took a lead that was never broken although the Vandals rallied near the end, and for a moment or two gave Coach Gills' men a scare.

The second battle was a nip and tuck affair from start to finish, with the tally tied at 39 for all five minutes before the final gun. Merrill Oregon State guard, proved the undoing of the Moscow quintet when he nabbed 13 points to tie Wicks for stellar honors and give his club a margin of victory.

Tenth Defeat.

The final game marked the tenth defeat for the Vandals and the eighth win for the Orangemen and increased the Covallis squad's chances for a title for second place on the Coast conference ladder.

VANDAL DEBATERS AWAITING OREGON

When the University of Oregon meets Idaho in a debate on Feb. 25, Idaho's negative team will be picked from the following: William Wetherell, David Agney, Howard Wiseman, Tom Reardon, Ralph Olmstead, Joe Filseth, Paris Martin, and Robert Vincent.

The question is "Resolved: That the further expansion of the chain store is detrimental to the best interests of the American people." In three varsity debates six of the men on the list will probably be used, according to A. E. Whitehead, debate coach.

Idaho's varsity women debaters, Thelma Melgard and Jewel Leighton will meet the University of Oregon women here Friday evening. They uphold the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That Ghandi has been a benefit to India." On March 11 this team will journey to Oregon to debate and on March 14 will clash with Spokane university at Spokane.

A small university audience Sunday noon was privileged to hear and see Dr. A. H. Upham, formerly president of the University of Idaho and now executive for Miami University, Oxford, Ohio.

The occasion was during the showing of sound pictures of the 75th anniversary of the founding of Sigma Chi college at Miami University. Three reels made of the ceremonies were shown at the Kenworthy theatre Sunday noon for the Idaho chapter here.

Dr. Upham was shown welcoming the fraternity delegates. His voice was distinct and his friends here who saw the film commented on its naturalness.

ANNUAL ISSUES ACTIVITY BLANK

Activity blanks, to be filled out by juniors as a means for securing information to be used in the class sections of the Gem of the Mountains, will be distributed this week, according to Lillie Gallagher, class editor, who is in direct charge of the work. These mimeographed blanks will be handled through a representative in each group house and hall, appointed by Miss Gallagher.

Those students who cannot obtain blanks through any of the organized groups may obtain them through the Gem office in the Memorial Gymnasium. These blanks seek information as to the year, degree sought, high school attended, scholastic honors, honorary societies, clubs and activities.

GROUP WRITE-UPS DUE FOR ANNUAL SOON, SAYS STAFF

Requires List of Members Brief History, and Aims of Group

Write-ups on fraternity and sorority groups are due for the most part in the hands of the staff, according to Paul Miller, organization editor of the Gem of the Mountains. This material for the social groups is due not later than the end of this week, and may be turned in at the Gem office or to Paul Miller at the Sigma Chi house.

A call has also been sent out to all honorary organizations and all campus clubs to get their material in as soon as possible. The deadline for this information has been set for Tuesday, February 24. The facts required are: Names of members in alphabetical order, names of officers, and a brief statement as to the history, aims and purposes of the organization, as in former yearbooks.

Clubs Have Group Pictures.
Campus clubs and other organizations of general membership such as the Associated Foresters, and the Chemistry club will have group pictures featured, instead of individual pictures of the members. It has been suggested by the staff that the honorary organizations substitute group pictures for the more ordinary page layout using individual pictures of the members. It was pointed out that this was not mandatory but was merely offered as a suggestion to the groups, in order to give greater representation to the larger groups.

FRIDAY DEADLINE FOR BUCKET ART

Hagan and Goss Give Pointers to Campus Comic Contributors

Cartoons and sketches for the "squirrelly" issue of the Blue Bucket, campus humor magazine, are due by Friday afternoon at the editorial office, announced Dale Goss, art editor, last night. Illustrated material for the Bucket will be sent to Spokane engravers this week-end.

Goss instructed cartoonists that drawings must be pen-and-ink line drawings on a good grade of white drawing paper. Charcoal and soft pencil work cannot be used due to the excessive costs of making zinc or copper plates.

The dead-line date for editorial material is shortly after the first of March. Ralph Hagan, Bucket-in-chief, reminds his contributors that the date must be adhered to.

"It is the Squirrelly number, and all contributors should write their copy around that motif. However, we will throw out a 'good' joke because it is not squirrelly. But we will toss the wastebasket at contributions that come under the heading of 'rank,' explained Hagan.

AG CLUB PLANS ANNUAL SMOKER

Wrestling, boxing, musical numbers, and readings, will constitute the entertainment at the annual Ag smoker, which will be held Thursday evening at 9 o'clock in the Memorial gymnasium.

Faculty and students of the college of agriculture will attend. Glenn Holm, chairman of the entertainment committee said that the program will be peppy and snappy.

DRAMA HONORARY TO SPONSOR NEXT UNIVERSITY PLAY

Fifty Year Old Melodrama Promises to Be Quite Unusual

CAST IS SELECTED

Leland Cannon, Grace Parsons, and Harry Robb Take Leads

To the 1931 audience "Tom Cobb, or Fortune's Toy," first produced by W. S. Gilbert, April 24, 1875—just 56 years ago, will have a very different appeal. The present day speaker, this stirring melodrama will represent mirth-provoking comedy rather than tragedy.

Leland Cannon, Mountain Home, will play the lead in this three-act thriller as Tom Cobb, a poor young doctor, who shaming death to avoid the debtor's prison returns to life to find himself unacknowledged by his erstwhile fiancée and her father, the Irish adventurer, Colonel O'Ting played by Harry Robb. Of course the plot untangles itself nicely after many a harrowing episode and it all ends happily when the hero finds in Caroline Effingham, a romantic young lady depicted by Grace Parsons, the understanding he has been seeking.

Played in costumes of 1870 and with all attendant paraphernalia of last minute escapes, cases of mistaken identity, missing papers, lost wills, and miser's gold, "Tom Cobb" contains all the elements of an evening's amusing entertainment.

"Tom Cobb" will be presented under the auspices of "The Curtain," honorary dramatic organization, on the evenings of March 6 and 7. Coach Fred C. Blanchard is directing the production, and rehearsals are now actively in progress.

Holland, president of W. S. O.

Another eminent speaker on the conference program is Mrs. Hugh Bradford, president of the national congress of parents and teachers.

FITZGERALD BACK FROM TRIP EAST

"Concentrated population and great wealth are the most impressive things of the east," says O. A. Fitzgerald, director of publicity of the University of Idaho, upon his return to the campus after a business trip to Boston.

While in Boston Mr. Fitzgerald directed special publicity and promotion work for the National Wool Marketing corporation. This corporation includes 26 wool organizations in various parts of the country. Keeping these organizations informed of the market condition is part of Mr. Fitzgerald's work.

Mr. Fitzgerald says that the dominant impressions he carried away from the east were of the greatness of the historic past of America, and of the increasingly friendly feeling of easterners for the west.

FROSH SQUAD MEETS YAKIMA TEAM NEXT

Freshmen debaters will meet final opposition against Yakima junior college speakers here Feb. 26, in room 205 of the Administration building, announced A. E. Whitehead, debate coach.

The speakers will be Bert Bronson, Russell Betts, and R. G. Popham of the negative side. Discussion will be on the question "Resolved: That automobile owners should be required by law to carry insurance covering personal liability and property damage."

The meeting will convene at two o'clock and the afternoon will be given over to a discussion of the survey of forest resources soon to be undertaken in the inland Empire by the U. S. Forest Service. WEEK FINISHES MAKE-UP PERIOD

Registrar's Office Reminds Students of Final Date For Make-up Examinations.

All incompletes from last semester must be made up by the end of this week, if credit is to be obtained for the work. This announcement comes as a reminder to students from the registrar's office and is taken from the regular university ruling which allows three weeks for making up incompletes after the end of each semester.

If incompletes are not made up in the required period, grades in the registrar's office are automatically changed to failures. It is reported that such changes are not often numerous although no previous year can well be regarded as a true indication of other years.

Welcome, Delta Tau Delta

THE Idaho Argonaut takes the greatest pleasure in welcoming Delta Tau Delta to the University of Idaho campus, and it congratulates that fraternity for chartering a chapter which we of Idaho know will prove to be another strong link in an already strong chain. To Beta Chi, also, The Argonaut extends congratulations. The local and the national are both strong and each may well be proud of the other.

The granting of a Delta Tau Delta chapter to Beta Chi Sunday saw the passing of the last campus local fraternity and now the University of Idaho can boast 12 of the strongest national social groups in the United States. And the sororities will compare favorably with those of any other campus in quality, if not quantity. Eight strong women's houses give the University of Idaho 20 social groups and every one a national of the highest order.

Again The Argonaut welcomes Delta Tau Delta—may it grow and prosper.

Somethin' Oughta Be Done

WITH the coming of spring Idaho students are reminded—none too gently sometimes—that the school is still supporting a set of worthless "outgrown" customs which parade as majestically behind the title of traditions as Harvard's ivied walls and Columbia's star.

The students support these traditions not at all, and the "I" Club, half-heartedly students submit, sometimes meekly and sometimes with a few feeble protests, to the chastisement administered by that group whose duty it is to be none but the senior, mighty monarch of the campus, exposes his noble brow to the elements. This, of all the "traditions" which infest the campus, is the silliest.

The Argonaut, contrary to political forecasts made last spring, has no quarrel with the lettermen's club. The organization is to be congratulated for the way it enforces an absurd set of rules, though nobody knows why they exert unless it is because no one is interested enough to start agitation for their repeal. Real traditions cannot, of course, be repealed—neither need they be enforced, except at Idaho.

It has been suggested that the "I" men give the student body two days notice before they appear on the campus with paddles and wearing varsity letters and caps. After all no Idahoan, imbued with the proper spirit, likes to grab his ankles in front of a sophomore letterman who hasn't worn a cap all semester but happens to be wearing one that particular day because he attended the "I" club meeting.

Somemin' outa be done about it.

For Sweet Charity's Sake

SOLICITATION on the campus by organizations working in the name of Charity is becoming all too common. With the majority of students living in group houses and halls, the task of collecting tidy sums is simplified to a point and appointment of an agent in each house to collect the amount. All of which is very well. Charity is a fine thing, but why not a little at home.

Reports from the major universities up and down the coast, including Idaho, show student loan funds are being pressed to the maximum, with more applications on file than can be taken care of. If the amount which has been collected here this year could be applied to the Idaho fund, many students would have less worry as the first of the month rolls in.

And after all, for the most of us, it's Dad's coin that we are giving away, and undoubtedly, he, back in the home town has contributed to the same organization—in the name of charity.

It is not right that he should be double barreled intot even the best of these organizations, especially as the major portion of the money is sent out of the state.

As long as this is the government, for the people, and by the people, charitable institutions have no part to play in American life. Too long we have been chipping in a dime for relief, and then chipping in a dollar to see that the dime gets there. The proper method for relief is from the state or federal coffers, applied by trained social service workers.

In the name of charity, let's not have any more charity for a few weeks.

Male Contingents of Campus Anxiously Await February 28

"Every dog has his day," so the saying goes. The faithful lad who has been dogging the steps of a fair maiden for some time will probably get his reward Saturday, February 28, when the woman in question escorts him to the Spinster skip, sponsored by Mortar Board, senior women's honorary. Of course, if she has a secret sorrow cradled in her breast, it will probably go hard for the lads who have spent time and money on Nest dates.

Just imagine having a whole day's entertainment with a dance and eats all at the expense of the girl! Such a day comes just once a year and will go down in memory as a holiday along with the Fourth of July, Christmas and a fellow's birthday.

How great to hear that sweet feminine voice at last saying, "Are you going to be busy on Saturday?" No? Well I'd like to take you to the Spinster skip. How did it happen that no one asked you before? That is funny." Oh, what a grand and glorious feeling. You settle down to write that term paper in peace and feel that your social position is assured.

Miss Clark Will Aid Music Students With Scholarship

Due to her success as an instructor in piano at the university, Miss Isabel Clark is starting a scholarship fund for music students with the money which she earns as a commission above her regular salary that is guaranteed by the university. Miss Clark's music classes are so large this year that she has had to turn away a number of students.

Since Miss Clark came to the university her classes have increased yearly. The starting of this fund is indicative of her success as a piano instructor, her talent as a musician, and her sentiment and generosity toward the students.

This calls to memory the number of years Doctor F. C. Church has helped many students in the music department and his vital interest in musical things.

IN THE BASKETBALL COURT OF THE STATE OF IDAHO, IN AND OF THE NEW MEMORIAL GYMNASIUM, THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO

THE LAWYERS, Plaintiffs

THE AGS, Defendants.

Plaintiff complains of defendant and for cause of action alleges:

I. That heretofore and in the month of February, 1930, plaintiff and defendant herein did agree to engage in a certain contest on Wednesday, the 26th day of February, 1930, to-wit, a basketball game. That defendants did not know how to play basketball and did on the agreed date refuse to play basketball, but that representatives of the said defendants did consent and conduct themselves as if they were playing football, or practicing pugilism or jiu jitsu, to the great damage of the lawyers.

That defendant, by reason of his bad faith in entering into this agreement, is guilty of fraud and deceit.

That defendant, in refusing to play basketball, is guilty of an actionable wrong for breach of contract.

II. That one "Fat" Stephens, a conspicuous ag alumnus, was time-keeper, and that the said "Fat" Stephens did fail, neglect and refuse to keep the time for the said alleged game correctly, but that the said "Fat" did on the other hand pull, yank, jerk and cause to descend a certain cord and cause to be rung prematurely that bell which marks the close of the alleged basketball game, all to the great damage of the plaintiffs.

III. That defendants herein have grievously slandered and libeled plaintiffs on numerous occasions by taunting said plaintiffs for their alleged loss of the aforesaid alleged basketball game, and also for plaintiffs' alleged failure to provide defendants with a smoker, in accordance with the terms of an alleged tradition. Whereas, in truth and in fact, there is no such tradition, the ags having expressly abolished it by their failure in the spring of 1928 to comply with the terms of the then existing tradition requiring the loser to give a smoker, by obstinately ignoring and refusing to comply with its provisions. That traditions arise and owe their inception to the general custom and practice of the community, and that they can not arise by agreement, unless such agreements are in fact carried out. Furthermore, that the ags were not entitled to a smoker in the spring of 1929 because they had not done that which in good equity would have entitled them to such a smoker: to-wit, they had not won a basketball game. That defendants' slanders and libels were both oral and written, and that some of them were published in the Argonaut, all to the great injury and damage of the lawyers.

Wherefore, plaintiffs pray judgment in the sum of one basketball game, and that the loser of the said basketball game shall be required on a day subsequent to wear an incongruous costume to all his classes on the said day, together with the plaintiffs' costs and disbursements herein and such just and further relief as the court deems meet in the premises.

Dated this 17th day of February, 1931.

CAMPUS GROUPS HELP RED CROSS

Pi Beta Phi's Are High With $35.00 to Help Cause; Betas Contribute $15.00 to Fund.

In answer to the plea of the local chapter of the American Red Cross to the organizations on the campus to furnish some small sum to its strenuous relief work several houses have contributed the share asked from them.

The Pi Beta Phi's lead with $35 checked in. While in the men's houses the members of Beta Theta Pi are high with a $15 contribution. The Sigma Chi's, S. A. Es, Kappa Sig's, and Alpha Phi's each gave $5 apiece towards the cause. Robert Snyder, local chairman, would like to hear from the unreported houses.

clude additional space for the greatly crowded offices of the registrar and the bursar, need for class rooms, space for dramatics and public speaking, need for additional space for the now inadequately housed music and art departments, and need for additional space for the college of law.

The whole report is summed up in the statement of the state board of education which follows: "We believe that such a building is an immediate and urgent need, and that the instructional effectiveness of the institution is now seriously impaired on account of lack of adequate library facilities. The amount requested has been put at the very lowest possible figure consistent with the maintenance of proper standards of building construction." The fate of the issue now lies with the state legislature. Though action is not expected immediately, it is felt that the decision will be made within the next week.

DYNAMITE clears the way for modern engineering wonders!

The EMPIRE STATE BUILDING

How DYNAMITE was used in the construction of the world's tallest building

A NEW giant skyscraper now looks down on New York's magnificent skyline. It is the Empire State Building... and its topmost peak towers 1248 feet above the earth!

It is the newest engineering marvel. Architects, engineers, steel workers, riveters shared in its making. But one mighty ally... DYNAMITE... was first on the scene to do its powerful bit. Working efficiently, quickly, Dynamite blasted out solid rock so that the great foundation—75 feet below the earth—might be placed. Thirteen thousand pounds of du Pont Dynamite was used on the job.

LAST week-end saw an array of group dances on the campus more than there have been for several weeks. Seven groups participated in the frivolity and gaiety of their respective parties. Friday, the 13th, was an ideal day for carrying out the "lucky or unlucky" idea. Phi Delta Theta underclassmen placed a ladder on their front porch so that it was necessary to walk under it before entering the house.

Hokum Dance.

Alpha Tau Omega gave an informal "Hokum" dance. Decorations of black and the usual "corpses" carried out the "unlucky" spirit of the evening. Delta Gamma entertained at the Blue Bucket inn with a very lovely formal dinner dance; and Hays hall enjoyed an informal affair.

Saturday evening, Gamma Phi Beta honored their initiates with a formal banquet and afterward the chapter indulged in a semi-formal dance. Delta Delta Delta and Beta Chi also gave initiation dances.

Give Music Recital. The music recital given Sunday afternoon in the university auditorium was greatly enjoyed by an enthusiastic audience. The student program consisted of piano, violin, and voice selections.

CHARLES HICKFORD and Evelyn Knapp play the leads in the dramatization of James Oliver Curwood's "River's End", a romance of the Northwest, where the "Mounted" get their men—and women.

It is the story of a girl and two men of like features but conflicting ideas and emotions. One of the men she hates and the other one she loves. It is good outdoor drama and Evelyn Knapp, following the precept of the "Mounties" gets her man. "River's End" is playing tonight and tomorrow at the Kenworthy.

TRACKSTERS SHOW BETTER FORM FOR SATURDAY EVENTS

Anderson Puts Vandals to Work in Open Air This Week

COMPETITION IS KEEN Squad Has Been Working In Lewis Court for Past Three Weeks

Idaho's varsity tracksters are nearing the end of their inside stay this week, and with plenty of limbering up workouts behind them will take to MacLean field for the opening trial events of the year next Saturday.

Coach Otto Anderson has had his entire squad in Lewis court every afternoon for the last three weeks and seems well pleased with the early season work displayed by the Vandals. The sprinters are getting plenty of work and should be in top shape by March, while the field men are limbering their muscles and waiting for the field to dry so they can start active work in their events.

The runners will race around the track in three-quarter distances for the first few times, and then the distance will be longer until the men are traveling their regular jaunts.

Meet Whitman First. Lemp, Alvord, and McCoy are getting the feel of the hurdles now, and should be traveling in fast time over the sticks by the opening meet with Whitman on April 24. Jossis and Hanford look better than ever. Anderson declares both of the boys will be ready for a trial on Saturday. The competition between the Vandal sprinters is keen, and it helps develop their ability to have daily competition.

Heath and Thomas in the distance events have been jogging around indoors for several weeks. Both are waiting for the Saturday trials to get the feel of things and open up a little. Heath should have little trouble with his events this spring as he has been one of the strongest distance men in the conference for two years and the added experience will stand him in good stead.

Accurate guarding and shooting by five fast and tall intramural basketball players of the Independent team ran up a score of 28 points to down the up to then undefeated S. A. E. squad who sank only 16 counters last night. The Coaches had little difficulty with the men from Ridenbaugh hall whom they defeated by 27 tallies to 13.

Last Saturday afternoon Lindley hall, led by Callahan with 14 points, and Reed with 10, chalked up a 32 to 21 victory over L. D. S. A game scheduled between the T. K. E. and Delta Chi teams was postponed until 2:30 next Saturday.

In last night's games, Funky, Independent center, shot five times through the hoop to take the scoring honors for the winning team. The dribbling of Sheperdson was the sensation of the evening. Barrett and J. Norby, S. A. E., played a bang up game scoring five counters apiece.

Monday night games closed with the Phi Chi and Independents leading the parade in B league, while in A league, the A. T. O.'s Coaches, and Lindley all held first place with two wins apiece. L. D. S. and the Beta's brought up the end in A league with two losses. In the other group T. K. E., Kappa Sigma, and T. M. A. are in the cellar.

Not being satisfied with the games played and to be played in their league the T. K. E.'s took a field trip to Potlatch where they lost a game to the city high school 25 to 18. Next the "hill climbers" invaded Genesee and won 44 to 39 from the town men. Two games played with the local Presbyterian church, resulted in victories. Games scheduled for the week are as follows:

- Tuesday—
- 7:30 A. T. O. vs. Sigma Chi.
- 8:30 Sigma Nu vs. L. C. A.
- Wednesday—
- 7:30 Beta Chi vs. Lindley
- 8:30 Tau Mem Aleph vs. Delta Chi
- Thursday—
- 7:30 Phi Deltas vs. L. D. S.
- 8:30—Phi Chi vs. T. K. E.

Ninety-one thousands (.091) per cent isn't a large winning percentage, but it could have been worse. We might have lost all the games. It's a tough blow to fall from a record of having never finished below third place to last place occupants two years in a row. But it is always good to say that prospects are fine for "next year". Five games remain to be played two with Oregon, one with Washington State and two with the Washington Huskies. Only the most optimistic fan can predict a win in any of the remaining games.

Washington State's basketball team has been eliminated except for a bare mathematical possibility, in the pennant race. Two defeats suffered last week at the hands of the "Royal Purple" of the "Clan Edmundson" tells the story. Both games were thrillers, the last being won in genuine "Frank Marriwell" style when Nelson, the horse-shoe boy, nailed one from the crooked arm and the game was in the bag. It was two in a row for the substitute, having won the Oregon State tussel in the same fashion. If Idaho gets anywhere near Washington next week, Hec Edmundson will take off the wraps and have him show his wares to the fans.

It's about that time of the year when those old classics are taken from the shelf and dusted off for a return engagement. We are referring to the annual Coaches game between Washington State and the Idaho "tutors of sport." "Bad Boy" Bohm, the Cougar guard is training his team and is ready for the challenge at any time. In checking over the records, it has come to light that the Vandal leaders are ahead in games and bruises inflicted. The man chosen to referee the "tilt" is generally blind, or capable of seeing only mayhem.

Another oldy, but a goody that is due for a reviving is the annual feature put on by the A's and the Lawyers. The Lawyers lost last year, but none the less are prepared to put up a great game. These two games are a delight to fans as fast action and general roughness feature the games. Nothing much is known of the personnel of the "Farmers Five", but advance dope gives the Barristers a line-up calculated to throw fear into the hearts of their opponents.

The two game series between the Frosh and the W. S. C. yearlings resulted in a tie, but the series went to the Cougar cubs three to one. The first game was the "thriller" so far as the crowd was concerned, but it spelled disaster for the Idaho Babes. The palm for long-distance shooting must go to the winners. Nine long shots were flung, and seven in a row made the ray-off. Such consistent shooting continued throughout a game is too much for any team to overcome. There appeared to be a hit on the Idaho basket, at any rate, a large percentage rimmed the hoop and then came out.

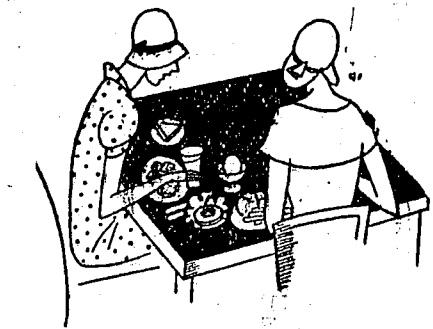

The second game saw the tables turned decisively in Idaho's favor. Where as the Friday winners could not miss, they were unable to hit the back-board in Saturday's contest. Close checking on the part of Geraghty and Herman prevented the invaders from taking many chances via the "sucker" route. Herman led the scorers in the second game with thirteen counters. "Sweedy" Carlson turned in the best performance for the two games. If this boy were a little larger, he would make them all hustle for a place on the 1931-32 varsity squad. Jack Williams general hustling and handling of the ball on blocks was a neat bit of work.

Greiner at center gave ample proof that he will be the man to beat out for the pivot position next year. In no game as yet, has he failed to score at least eight points, and added experience should make him a scoring threat equal to Gordon, leading coast scorer.

When the Frosh turn out for track, it's a sure sign of spring, and Coach Otto Anderson issued the initial call for men in all events last Saturday. A large turnout was on hand and equipment was issued. Not much will be known about the men or the chances of winning any meets until they are able to perform outside.

Advocates of the art of "bone-crushing" and "muscle mangle" will get their fill of modified murder next week. Lopez and his squad are being knuts in each others arms and inflicting various and sundry bruises in an effort to get into condition for the forthcoming matches with Washington State College grapplers. Wrestling is the oldest sport known to man, but all the years haven't lessened the wear and tear on the knuckles any, so the battle should be good.

The Frosh will go on their first tour of the year when they tangle with Coeur d'Alene, Lewis and Clark high schools, tapering off with the Gonzaga Bullpups. If Coach "Red" Jacoby can keep the men at the point they are at present, three wins should be the result. Of the three contests the Gonzaga Rook game should be the best.

IDAHO FRESHMEN TURN TABLES ON COUGAR QUINTET

Yearlings Outplayed W.S.C. Cubs and Won 44 to 30

The Idaho freshman basketball team split a pair of games with the Washington State college freshmen last week-end, losing the first at Pullman, Friday night, by the narrow margin of 33 to 37, and winning the second here Saturday night, 44 to 30.

In the first game the Vandal babes outplayed the Cougar cubs in every department, but luck seemed to be against them on their shots, while W. S. C. located the basket quite consistently to pile up a 26 to 19 lead at half time. During the second half the game was much closer, the score being tied several times. Hope appeared on the Idaho side when the youngsters scored 11 points to W. S. C.'s 9 to tie the score at 30 to 30, only to see a W. S. C. substitute, McBeath, score four points in the last few minutes of the game to clinch the victory for his team.

Take Revenge. In the return game Saturday night the Idaho freshmen took revenge on the three previous defeats and handed the Cougar cubs some of their own medicine. From the opening whistle until the final gun the Idaho yearlings held the upper hand, and when the smoke cleared were on top of a 44 to 30 score. At half time W. S. C. was trailing, 25 to 18.

Horton Herman, Idaho guard, turned in the outstanding performance of the evening. He led the field in scoring with 13 counters, but was closely followed by Geraghty with 10, Carlson with 9, and Greiner with 8 points. Rogers, forward, was high for W. S. C. with 11 tallies.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Priest shortly before Christmas. Mr. Priest is a graduate of the university and is practicing law in New York.

Brosnan Scores Huge Success By Talk Before Tacoma Bar

An enthusiastic reception was accorded Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Brosnan at Tacoma last week according to articles appearing in the coast city's newspapers received at the Star-Mirror office.

The head of the university history department gave the principal address at the Lincoln day banquet of the Tacoma Bar association and Thursday spoke before the Rotary club there on Pacific northwest history. Dr. and Mrs. Brosnan returned to Moscow Friday.

"New testimony to the essential greatness of Abraham Lincoln was given members and guests" of the bar association, according to the Tacoma Ledger, in a page one article reporting the banquet. It was a "scholarly glimpse behind the scenes with Lincoln and his first cabinet," the paper said. The same issue related that "the splendid tradition of Americanism attached to the exploration and settlement of the Pacific northwest and of Tacoma was set forth with amazing clarity" when Dr. Brosnan "for a half hour made history a living, human thing for his hearers" in the Rotary club. The talk was broadcast by station KOMO.

L. R. Bonneville, president of the Tacoma bar, acted as toastmaster at the banquet. He is a graduate of the University of Idaho and is now a leading light in coast legal circles. Chief Justice W. W. Tolman of the Washington supreme court, in a short talk, referred to the university of Idaho as being in an enviable position in the educational field because "of pleasant relationships between students and faculty" made possible by the smaller enrollment. Officers of the bar association entertained Mrs. Brosnan at a dinner at the Hotel Winthrop during her stay in Tacoma.
