O-Hell-O..... It seems that post mortems are now in order for those who have passed into the great beyond, or we might say for those who did not pass beyond.

FRESHMAN TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD

Squad Lacks Pole-Vaulters; Fine Prospects in High and Low Hurdles

The freshman track prospects seem to be brighter this year than ever before, according to Otto Anderson, who is handling the frosh.

Bulletin Board

ASUI executive board regular meeting will be held next Tuesday, according to Charles Graybill, president.

KAPPA PHI, Methodist women's club, cabinet members will meet the national president, Mrs. Robert McClary, at 4 o'clock in the recreation room of the Women's gymnasium today.

CHI ALPHA PI will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Methodist church parlors. The organization will be perfected at that time, and a constitution and pledge probably will be drawn up.

ART CLASS MAKES PANELS OF IDAHO

Five related panels representing various Idaho activities are being painted by the advanced art classes, under supervision of Miss Mary Kirkwood to be used for advertising outside the state.

FARMERS ADVISED TO TREAT SEEDS

Buildings are insured against fire, crops against hail and automobiles against theft. Wise farmers consider seed treatment for smut control of grain and control of scab, as insurance against losses which might occur without treatment, states Dr. C. W. Hungerford, vice director of the agricultural experiment station.

Good Men For Sprinters

The sprints are well taken care of by Kalbus and W. Smith. Smith was Idaho state champion in both the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes in 1929 and Kalbus duplicated the feat in 1930.

Record-Holder in Weights

There are a number of good men in the weight events. Norby, numerical winner in football, Grenier who is playing frosh basketball, Roose, Woods, and Doyle are all age shot throwers.

ENGINEERS SECOND IN INTELLIGENCE

P. I. P. A.—It was not the age-old question "Who is the smarter of the species, male or female?" but the riddle, "How do engineers rate intellectually?" that brought about the following information.

EDITOR THREATENED WITH COURT ACTION

P. I. P. A.—When the Harvard alumni raised a fund and paid back wages of the Widener library scrub-women who had for nine years been underpaid, according to the Massachusetts minimum wage law, the Harvard Lampoon published a cartoon ridiculing the alumni's action.

TALKS TO STUDENTS

P. I. P. A.—Simplicity, accuracy, fairness and a knowledge of the background of news writing are elements essential for successful reporting, George B. Dooliver, president of the National Editorial association, and head of a chain of Michigan papers, told Journalism students at the University of Michigan.

IDAHO COW WINS STATE MILK TEST

Idaho V. P. Annette, a purebred Holstein cow, owned by the University of Idaho, has just completed an official record of 23,719.4 pounds of milk and 860.1 pounds of butterfat, beginning test at 4 years and 11 days of age.

FARM PLANS MADE

A long-time farm program suggesting other cash crops than grain, has been developed by two members of the college of agriculture faculty. H. H. Hulbert, head of the department of agronomy, and Julius E. Nordby, of the animal husbandry department, recommend replacement of spring wheat areas with other crops and give plans for the utilization of these new crops in the livestock industry.

SONG OF THE "WEAK"

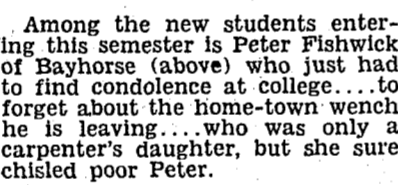

"I surrender, Dear"
Oh, I mak-a da beds
And I sweep-a da floor,
And I pick up all-a da clothes;
Be da dirt she here
Be da dirt she there,
All under da rug she goes.

ANY ICE TODAY, LADY ?

'I' Club or 'Billy-Club'? DESPITE fashion's dictum, the usual spring custom will prevail again this year as the 'I' club wearily plods about seeing that the rebellious takers precautions against sunstroke.

The proper place to cry over the indignity and bother is at an A S U I meeting, where a majority vote will rid the university of this particular complaint.

Sentiment among the 'I' club members indicates that they would willingly be relieved of their duty. Justice would dictate that the students take measures to relieve the situation by either banishing the tradition altogether, or handing it over to the class or service organizations.

If The Shoe Fits, Wear It

UNIVERSITY officials are subject to more than their share of criticism from the general public. While the university is supported by the state, it is the sons and daughters of those same citizens who comprise the essence of the institution.

There are ways and means of calling the attention of the proper authorities to breaches, true or untrue by the faculty. Sincerely of complaint would demand that these methods be used instead of public attacks through newspaper columns.

Who's Little Secret Are You?

GETTING publicity from the faculty is one thing. Getting news from the faculty is another. It is time that all, from instructors to deans, realize the college newspaper has a definite function to perform for the student body, and that the reporter striving for an interview represents the student body as much as the A S U I president.

Each pet hobby of the faculty is expected to be given reams of space, each bit of research is supposed to be front page news. This puff comes easily. But let there be news. Not a word comes to the editor. Somewhere he learns of it. A reporter goes out and returns empty handed. There is nothing to say for publication.

Come, Kittie, Kittie

IT'S on again. The annual parade of cat owners, marching belligerently from all parts of town to the zoology laboratory. It is too much to suggest that university students would stoop to perjure felines, but it is a coincidence that each year as the demand becomes pointed, a number of citizens are deprived of their pets without due process of law.

The latest episode to become tradition is the lamentable story of the woman who has lost three blooded Persians in the last three years. The humor creeps in as the value of the cats becomes known. Each animal had a face value of a hundred dollars, and probably had a greater value to the owner. Funny, isn't it?

As the laughter grows louder and louder each year, it would seem that the university could make arrangements to buy their subjects from a city pond or some stock farm and so avoid the yearly fest. After all frogs, bees, grasshoppers and other zoology necessities are shipped in. Why not cats? Think of the lives that could be saved.

Chips of The Old Block

SOME things we always have with us. College students are becoming tired of the constant hammering at the state of their morals, Petting parties, smoking, drinking, late hours, boisterous conduct and what not are constantly charged without due regard for the truth.

It is not in keeping with the spirit of fair play that the youth of the nation be condemned on hearsay evidence. Nor is it seeming that romance be denied them. Morals cannot be taught at the universities, they can only be stressed. If the youth of the nation must be saved, the place to do it is in the homes, not in the colleges.

Oxford's Perfect Lawns Protected By Traditions

Once upon a time a certain member of the faculty was visiting the University of Oxford during the summer time when the beautiful English lawns are in the height of their glory. Noticing the especially velvety appearance and perfect condition of the lawns in Oxford, the visitor, who was being escorted by a "Don" (that is, a graduate of Oxford) inquired how it was possible to keep the greensward so attractive.

OREGONIANS WIN ALL COAST GAMES

Foxmen Drop Two Each to Both Oregon Schools. On the Coast

By BILL FOHLMAN
Idaho's maple court stars ended their disastrous coast invasion when they dropped two wild, hard fought battles to the speedy Oregon Webfoot five by scores of 33 to 27 and 42 to 21 last Monday and Tuesday nights.

The Vandals swooped down on the Duck pavilion the opening night, and with Barrett and Aukett tossing the ball through the hoop from all angles fought the locals on even terms up to the final gun. The red clad pair garnered 10 counters apiece and were only topped by Eberhart, star Oregon tip-off man, who grabbed 12 points for the chief counting honors.

Oregon Scores First.
Dolph, Webfoot forward, started the fireworks with a charity toss, but Drummond came right back with a field goal and the Vandals led the lead until Eberhart flipped three fast tosses in many minutes. Then the big center alternated with Horner, at guard, to run up 17 points and with Stevens' one long toss made the count 20 to 12 at half time.

The last period was rough from start to finish and Eberhart, Horner and Hale were forced out on personal fouls before the battle ended with Oregon out in front. Near the end of the fray both clubs resorted to rough and tumble tactics and the officials called 34 fouls of which 24 were converted by players of both teams. Horner was the outstanding man of the evening on both offensive and defensive.

By DYNES LAWSON
In the first game last night the Phi Delt's took an easy 27 to 13 game of intramural basketball from the L. D. S.

Due largely to the accurate shooting of Bowker in the first half the Fiji's defeated the Tekes 25 to 15. Bowker scored 13 counters in the second contest last night.

The evening's games left the Sigma Nu's, Independents, and Fiji's in a tie for first place in B league, while the A. T. O.'s and Coaches still retained their highest position in A league.

Wednesday night the Delta Chi's defeated T. M. A., 24 to 14. Beta Chi took Lindley hall down from its position of first place when they scored 30 to the hall's 22. Callahan was high man with five sinkers to his credit.

Games Close.
A one-point difference gave the Sigma Nu's a victory over Lambda Chi Alpha Tuesday night, 18 to 17. The first game at 7:30 closed also with a single point lead in favor of the A. T. O.'s who won from the Sigma Chi's 16 to 15.

Games Next Week:
Monday—
7:30 Coaches vs. Lindley hall.
8:30 Independents vs. Delta Chi.
Tuesday—

GOLF ENTHUSIASTS MAY ORGANIZE TEAM

With the passing of winter sports, fans are turning their attention to spring activities. Track aspirants are limbering up and tennis enthusiasts are casting longing glances at the courts. If enough interest is shown in the "ancient and royal" game of golf, it is more than likely that a new field of entertainment will be opened to the university students, according to Bill Willis, present state title holder.

Both Gonzaga and Washington State are planning to have their schools represented on the links this spring and a surprising amount of interest has been developed. Whether or not the university will have a team depends on the amount of interest that is shown in the possibility. Anyone interested in organizing a team should get in touch with Bill Willis or Mac O'Brien at the Phi Delta Theta house.

FROSH HOOP MEN GO NORTH ON TOUR

The freshman basketball team left Thursday morning on their first tour of the year. Their schedule included a game Thursday night with Coeur d'Alene high school, coached by Harold Telford, who was a star on the Idaho fives for several years. Friday night they will meet North Central high school in Spokane, where Horton Herman, frosh guard, will be pitted against his former teammates. The hardest game of the three comes Saturday night, as the Babes meet Gonzaga university freshmen.

BLAZE DESTROYS STUDENT'S ROOM

Fire damaged the property of four university students Saturday morning, when the home of F. M. Hodges, where the students were rooming, was partially burned.

Two students living on the second floor, James Nelson and Vernon Clark, Pico, Idaho, lost almost all of their property. It is believed that the blaze started in their room, which was heated by a kitchen range. The room was completely burned out and the fire had burned through the roof before it could be checked.

Two Filipino students, Jose Birondo and Pampilo Pamatian, who also roomed in the house, lost very little, as the fire did not penetrate their rooms.

HUSKY PACK NABS NORTHWEST FLAG

Two Close Games from Cougars Wash. Title For Washington

Conference Standings

W	L	Pct.
Washington	11	.916
Oregon State	8	.615
Washington State	8	.615

Idaho	1	.083

The powerful maple court combination from Washington continued to click in perfect style last week when it grabbed two close battles right out from under the Cougars' claws and assured the Huskies of the 1931 Pacific Coast Conference northern championship. Swanson, Fuller and Cairney were the men who spelled defeat for the Crimson and Gray the opening night while Nelson, reserve forward, won his second battle of the season for the Purple and Gold when his one handed flip, with a minute to go, gave the Seattle five a 24 to 23 victory and the championship Saturday evening.

Idaho continued to remain in the cellar position after dropping four straight battles to the two Oregon schools last week. The Vandals put up some great exhibitions of basketball in every game, but lacked the punch to annex any wins and the Oregon members of the conference added to their percentage with the Orangemen climbing into a tie with Washington State for second place honors.

The southern division of the coast race has been narrowed down to two clubs now with Stanford and U.C.L.A. practically out of the pennant chase. The Golden Bears, led by Kintana, eked out a 37 to 34 win from the Palo Alto squad while the Trojans grabbed a 24 to 22 victory from the Bruins at Los Angeles last week. Present indications point to a championship series next month between the winner of the coming California-U.S.C. battle and the mighty Washington squad at the northern end of the loop.

UNIQUE FRATERNITY FOR EAGLE SCOUTS

A new fraternity on the Northwestern campus is unique in that it is the only one of its kind in existence. Its membership is limited to university students who attained the rank of Eagle Scout as members of the B. S.

WOMEN NOW LARGER

Women are growing taller and heavier, in the opinion of Dr. R. Aait McKenzie, director of physical education, at the University of Pennsylvania.

Judson A. Thompson, B. S. (Agr.) '28, is studying for his master's degree at the Michigan Agricultural college.

David R. Shoultz 25 is a radio test engineer in the student department of General Electric company. His home is in Schenectady, New York. Mr. Shoultz was graduated from here in electrical engineering.

The Sport Shop

By Paul Boyd

"WANTED—Freshmen pole-vaulters, please apply at field house or report to Track Coach Otto Anderson." With more than 30 men turning out regularly, every event is well taken care of except vaulting. Any man capable of doing 10 feet will be practically assured a numeral.

W. Smith, J. Norby, and Bowler are being counted on heavily to take their respective events. Smith, the frosh football sensation, is gunning for the dashes and is burning up the track. In J. Norby, Coach Anderson has a potential "great" in the weights. Possessing a beautiful pair of shoulders with a tremendous "kick" in them, and having that sixth sense, rhythm and coordination, he should develop into a star heaver. Bowler is the other Babe that is throwing cluders all over the track. This boy loves the going so much that he runs to and from classes. The half mile is his specialty and it is one that requires a great amount of stamina and speed the way it is run today.

Idaho's basketball team returned from a disastrous trip during which four games were lost. Every game was hard fought, but there is no "play-off" in that. However, past defeats should be forgotten in an attempt to win some of the remaining games. Washington State entertains Idaho at Pullman tomorrow night. It is very difficult to predict a win for the home team, nevertheless the impossible happened once, and might occur again.

If Parks can regain the form he displayed on that night, not so long ago, he will give Gordon a tough evening. And as Gordon goes, so goes the Cougars. The whole offense is built around him. If Gordon is one "short" night, then the Vandals stand an even chance. Whichever way the win falls, there is no doubt, but that the game will be interesting.

The intramural race is narrowing down, with winning teams losing their spotless record every night. At present the Coaches and A. T. O.'s are leading the parade in one league, while the Independents and Phi Gamma are boasting all wins in the other. The top four teams in both leagues are evenly matched, and the games are resulting in one and two point margins for the victors. Rabiid basketball fans can well afford to come out and see some of the games, as good basketball is being played.

Nine frosh and their coach left yesterday on their first barnstorming tour. Three games are to be played with two strong high school quintets, and the other game is scheduled with the Gonzaga yearlings. The Bullpups are reputed to have a strong five, but dropped a close game to the Teacheds from Ellensburg the other night.

Another old classic that we forgot to mention last issue is the annual "Hashers" contest. The food dispensers from Forney and Hays do battle annually. The scores are not as large as a respectable baseball rally, running around 3-2 and 4-1, but the game is filled with action that rivals the terrors of Tantalus.

Idaho is not the only school that seems to be bothered with poor and inefficient officiating. Reports filtering out of the south indicate that Stanford, U. C. L. A. and the Trojans are thoroughly disgusted with the style of refereeing being dispensed. When officials are paid as much for their efforts as they are, the schools and teams should derive some consolation from the thought that the "guessing" will at least, be fair. Nothing will dishearten a rally so quickly as to have some official blow his whistle and say "running" or "hacking" as the case may be. Still the ump's side must be considered, with games like tomorrow night's contest is almost sure to be, he has not an easy row to hoe.

Not very much can be said for Idaho's road trip, except that Aukett seems to be the starting choice for the pivot hole. In all the games he has played to date, Aukett has showed up well. At least, he is capable of scoring and that is something.

Next week will see the last of varsity basketball for this year. All that remains is the state tournament and the finishing of intramural.

VANDAL MATMEN SHOW PROMISE

The Vandal wrestlers, under the direction of student coach, Daniel Lopez, are rounding into shape. Fifteen men are turning out regularly and the prospects for a championship varsity squad look good.

In the 138 pound class Joe Pechance and John Ward are showing good, with Pechance having a slight advantage.

Clifton Axelson, and Jim Flynn are in keen competition for a place on the squad at 148 pounds, and at 158 pounds Kirby Atkinson, Ed Isenberg and Milo Axelson are outstanding.

In the 178 pound and heavy-weight class Amos Stephens and Daniel Lopez are hoped to be the mainstay of the team. However their positions may be severely challenged by Jim McCall and Ray Assendrup at 178 pounds and by Paul Carnefix, heavyweight.

The Vandal's opening meet is with W.S.C. at Pullman on Feb. 23.
