Railroad Builder Dead

PORTLAND—Samuel Hill, well-known railroad builder and highway engineer, died of a heart attack last night. He had attained success as a lawyer and later as a railroad executive and road builder. He was noted in the Pacific Northwest particularly for his activities in bringing about the construction of the Columbia River highway and the Pacific highway.

Hurricane Takes Toll
SUVA, Fiji—Two hundred and thirty persons were killed in the worst hurricane ever experienced in the Fiji Islands. Most of the victims were Fijians and East Indians. Property damage was confined to a radius of 60 miles.

Pass Divorce Bill
LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—Governor Harvey Parnell has signed the bill making it possible to obtain a divorce in Arkansas after residing in the state 90 days. The bill was formerly admitted to the effort to enter Hot Springs into competition with Reno, Nevada, as an easy divorce resort.

Service Men Get Loans
WASHINGTON—The veteran's loan relief bill, increasing loan value of the veteran's bonus to 50 per cent, is now law, having been passed by easy two-thirds majorities over the president's veto in both houses of Congress. In vetoing the bill President Hoover declared that it would cost too much.

Wrong Number Costly
VALLEJO, Cal.—It took the whole police force to save the telephone company here the other day. C. N. Allen became angry when the operator gave him the wrong number, so he took down his rifle and shot down four trunk lines and put nine circuits out of order before the sheriff and his posse arrived to put a stop to the game.

Prohibit Russian Imports
OTTAWA—Canada has prohibited importation from Russia of coal, wood, pulp, lumber and timber of all kinds, asbestos and furs. This order was made by the government because these products are said to be produced by prison and forced labor, as well as for political reasons.

Pay More Income Tax
WASHINGTON—More than one million citizens, approximately one half of those who must pay an income tax, will have to pay three times as much this year as they did last year.

90 Day Divorce Vetoed
BOISE—"It is not in harmony with the settled policy of our state," said the governor of Idaho in explaining why he vetoed the 90 day divorce bill passed by the legislature.

Sees Better Business Trend
WASHINGTON—Pointing to improved world conditions, an increase in foreign trade, an advance in amount of savings, steadier stocks, and a number of other items, Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the national business survey conference appointed by President Hoover, saw an upswing and optimistic in U. S. business in his report on the mid-winter economic situation.

Soviets Clean House
MOSCOW—The soviet union is "cleaning house" in its governmental offices. Despite the serious shortage of workers and charges of forced labor, authorities have announced that through a special purging process some 138,000 employees have been either demoted or dismissed from service, largely because they held notions tending to favor capitalism.

Call for Mr. Jones
RALEIGH, N. C.—A serious difficulty in golf which is not specifically covered in the rule book has been discovered. When Ben McKeel, insurance agent, played an iron shot from a bad lie in the rough, he sliced the ball across the fairway into the pocket of the trousers being worn at the time by Bryson Briggs.

The difficulty arose when the trowsers crowded made removal of the trowsers impractical, and the objections made by Briggs made playing the ball from where it lay impossible. Finally it was decided to improve the lie by taking the ball from the pocket and counting a one stroke penalty.

IDAHO JOINING FORESTRY MOVE

Idaho's part in a program for planting ten million trees in 1931 has been outlined by the school of forestry. More than 250 letters were mailed this week to chambers of commerce, service clubs, re-created women's clubs and Boy Scout organizations, urging participation in this nation-wide event.

The program, suggested by the American Tree association is to be completed for the George Washington bi-centennial which will be held next February. The school of forestry not only indorses the plan but suggests Idaho sources for trees, and planting locations.

ENGLISH COMEDY TO BE PRESENTED BY DRAMA GROUP

Curtain Will Show Famous Old Play Friday and Saturday

"Tom Cobb, or Fortune's Toy," an "elegant farcical comedy, all star cast" will be the vehicle for the annual "Curtain" dramatic production played in the university auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings. The curtain is scheduled to rise promptly at 8:20 p. m.

"Tom Cobb," written by W. S. Gilbert of the famous Gilbert and Sullivan light opera team in 1875, was a comic thriller in its day. Reminiscent of "Nellie the Beautiful Cloak Model," it is still funny, though for a different reason.

In this melodramatic play the hero, Tom Cobb, passes through a series of startling adventures—slamming death to escape creditors, he becomes the victim of a plot to steal his inheritance and there ensues a rapid fire drama of a lost will hidden gold, mysterious papers until all is at length satisfactorily solved and a happy ending follows.

Cannon Has Lead
Leland Cannon, Mountain Home, plays the title role in which he is ably supported by Merle Frizzelle, Harry Robb, Catherine Brandt, Grace Parsons, John Peacock, Ruth Garver, and Bob Grant. Milton Lockwood, Orofino, stage manager for the production, is assisted by Lloyd Taylor, Don Williams, Stewart Mingo, Charles Brown, Grace Eldridge, and Roberta Roberts.

Several novel features have been planned as a part of the evening's performance. Entertaining entertainment, songs of bygone days, and the sale of peanuts and candy between acts are all innovations. The Spurs as ushers will be dressed in costumes of the 1870's to create atmosphere for the play.

Tickets are now on sale at Hodgins' drug store. All seats are reserved, and admission fees are 50 cents. University students will be admitted for 25 cent upon presentation of the proper A.S.U.I. booklet coupon.

YEARLING QUINTET TAKES DOUBLE WIN

Freshmen Basketball Team Defeats Outstanding High Schools

The freshmen basketball team made two straight wins over both Coeur d'Alene high school and North Central high school when they played Friday and Saturday after the Idaho-Washington series. The yearlings defeated both teams on their barnstorming tour into North Idaho and Spokane a few weeks ago.

Friday night they handed the strong Coeur d'Alene team, coached by Harold Telford, who is a former Idaho star, a 42 to 28 defeat. The babes took the lead at the beginning and had run up a 26 to 14 lead at half time. Grenier and Herman were outstanding for the frosh, scoring 24 points between them. Naslund, Coeur d'Alene forward, was the star for the high school team, accounting for 13 tallies.

To the tune of 39 to 18, the youngsters defeated North Central high school of Spokane Saturday night. Although the Indians got off to a fast start, they were soon overhauled and the frosh were leading, 20 to 7, at the half. The game was very fast and furnished plenty of thrills. Herman and Squance played exceptional ball, scoring 11 counters apiece.

In the last few games the freshmen basketball team has been performing like a bunch of veterans. Under the tutelage of Coach Glenn Jacoby they have showed wonderful improvement since the first of the season and should boost the varsity stock considerably next year.

WOMEN TO TOSS FOR HOOP HONOR

The free throw tournament will be scored Wednesday and Thursday evening of this week in the Women's gymnasium. If a cup were awarded to each winner of the women's basketball tournament the freshmen would have two trophies. The freshmen women won both the first-team tournament and the second-team tournament. Captain Doris Norrell presents her winning first team.

ENGLISH SOCIETY CONTINUES WORK ON IDAHO CHIMES

Club Renews Effort to Secure Campus Bells for University

The possibility of procuring a set of chimes for the university is again being considered by a special committee of the English club.

The idea of the musical chimes was first conceived several years ago under President Alfred Upham's regime. At this time, the English club contributed $250 as a nucleus for the project.

Through the help of Doctor Upham, unclaimed funds of various kinds that accumulated in the bursar's office were to be contributed to the purchase of the chimes. With the English club's donation and the numerous other additions to the fund, a total of more than $600 accumulated.

Since there appeared no immediate prospect of using the funds for the purchase of the chimes, all the contributions were turned over to the university loan fund. This was done so with a proviso that they could be withdrawn at any time.

MOSCOW PREPARES FOR TOURNAMENT

Eight Teams Expected to Participate Here March 20 and 21

The leading high school basketball five throughout the state are getting set to move against their district rivals this week-end to decide who will battle for the state title at Moscow on March 20 and 21.

The championship series is played at Pocatello one year and Moscow the next, so that both sections of the state have the chance to watch the cream of the high school maple court combinations in action.

The interest has been mounting each year and this month will see a tournament that promises to pass all the rest for crowds and a high class type of ball, as the clubs are exceptionally good throughout the state this winter.

Moscow high school, with a strong group of spectators to depend on, will be the guest team and should be in the thick of the fight until the last whistle is blown and the cups are awarded. At the present time it appears that Coeur d'Alene and Lewiston stand the best chances to cop their districts and defend the north against the southern clubs. However, there are strong fives in the north and one of them may upset the favorites this week.

GROUP DEBATERS NEARING FINALS

Intramural Forensic Teams Enter Semi-Final Next Week

Women's intramural debaters are having their semi-finals. Kappa Alpha Theta will meet Alpha Chi this evening on the question, "Resolved: That fraternities are detrimental to university life."

The winner will debate Delta Gamma next week. Men's intramural teams will hold their semi-finals next week, followed by finals the following week. Their question, "Resolved: That companionate marriage will stabilize the American family."

The men's teams still in the meet are: Phi Delta Theta, Lindley hall, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Delta Chi, and Kappa Sigma. Phi Delta Theta was to meet Lindley hall Thursday night but the debate was postponed. Kappa Sigma drew the bye.

The question will be changed for the finals of both men's and women's teams, and three judges instead of one, will be employed.

HONORARY TO ELECT NEW LEADERS TODAY

Sigma Tau, national honorary engineering fraternity, held a banquet last Thursday at the Blue Bucket Inn. The main features of the evening were speeches given by Professor J. E. Buchanan of the engineering experiment station, and Joseph Lancaster, senior in electrical engineering.

Sigma Tau will hold another meeting Tuesday, March 3, at 4:15 in the Engineering building. The main object of this meeting will be the election of officers, according to Clarence Conway, president of the group.

EASTERN PORTIA TO GIVE ADDRESS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

Miss Phillips Graduated in Law With High Honors

"Women at Home and Abroad" will be the subject of Lena Madelin Phillips' address to the Wednesday assembly.

Miss Phillips is from New York city, and is well known in professional women's clubs. She is former president and present chairman of international relations of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, and also president of the newly formed International Federation of Business and Professional Women.

Well Known.
Much has been said and written about Miss Phillips' absorbing interest in business and professional women and their place in the scheme of things, both nationally and internationally. The press has acclaimed her "noted lawyer and feminist," "a great inspirational leader" and "a woman magnetic, sincere and splendid."

Though born in the soft, pleasant, unambitious atmosphere of the old south, ambition was dominant in her, and she determined to get an education. Her educational qualifications are of the highest order. She has studied atoucher college, Baltimore, and at Peabody Conservatory of Music, as well as at the University of Kentucky and New York university, rounding out her collegiate education by travel abroad.

She received the LL.B. degree from the University of Kentucky and the LL.M. degree from New York University. She was graduated from the former with the highest honors any student had ever won in its college of law.

TICKET SALES CLOSE FRIDAY

Juniors Must Hurry; Tickets Nearly All Gone

Juniors may now buy tickets for the Senior ball, to be held at the Elks' temple, Friday, it was announced today by Clyde Raidy, chairman of the finance committee. The ticket sale will close Friday noon.

"Nearly all the tickets have been sold," Raidy declared, "and we aren't going to take pity on students who neglected to buy tickets, and let them in at the last minute simply because they are seniors. Attendance will be limited to 150 couples."

No information about the decorations could be learned from Betty Wilson, chairman, except that they will be "springy" and won't be made out of crepe paper. Rosie Lane's orchestra will furnish the music. The entertainment, like the decorations, "according to the general chairman, Bus Brown, will remain 'shrouded in mystery' until the night of the ball."

HONORING VIRGIL WITH PROGRAM BY PHI BETA KAPPA

Scholastic Honorary Will Celebrate Bi-Millennium Anniversary

Invitations for the Phi Beta Kappa celebration of the bi-millennium anniversary of the Roman poet, Virgil, were mailed yesterday by Prof. F. C. Church, secretary of the honor society. The program will be given in the Blue Bucket Inn, March 15.

Those who were extended invitations include many members of the faculty and representatives of group houses and honor organizations. Dr. G. M. Miller, general chairman of the celebration, requests that the persons receiving invitations reply at once, as it is desired to make an early check on the number who will be able to attend.

The chief part of the program will consist of an illustrated talk by Dean H. L. Axtell, dean of the college of letters and science. Prof. Eugene Taylor of the mathematics department and Doctor Miller will also contribute talks.

CIVIL ENGINEERS GIVEN AN ANSWER

English Language Pales as Reply is Sent by Electrical Club

The challenge of the Civil Engineers to the Electrical Engineers for a basketball game is here announced.

Common words are insufficient and by far not impressive enough to identify one with another. We have only one recourse: To firmly grasp our noses between the first and second fingers, wrinkle our faces in disgust and ask, "Who let those vile-smelling sewer rats in?"

Go ply your evil sewers and sewerage trade, scum, while we sit back comfortably esconed in plush chairs, cooling our heels on spotless, shining mahogany desks.

It is not fitting that such raffish as you be allowed to desecrate the earth with your slimy carcasses, but a divine power greater than ourselves has decreed that such should be the case, as we have no alternative but to submit to your objectionable presences. If all the electrical engineering students were to disappear this very moment, no one would question their disappearance. They would merely shrug their shoulders in relief and state, "Well, that's 25 skullduggery nincompoops gone. Perhaps we may be able to breathe some untainted air."

As we explained before, to couch your true status in the Kings English is next to impossible. Since this is true, we will establish evident superiority over you by a physical method, namely, by an encounter on the maple flooring of a basketball court. You have set the time, date, and conditions. See that you abide by them long enough for us to administer to you a thorough drubbing.

They are: tenors, Elvon Hampton, and Don Corless; basses, Jack Nunemaker and Norval Ostrook; and alto, Joan Harris and Louva May Jensen. They will begin practicing with the present chorus so that a trip may be made early next fall.

Jack Nunemaker and Joan Harris will sing with the chorus the rest of this semester to fill the vacancies made by Paul Rice and Dorothy Fredrickson.

Other members of the chorus are Ruth Johnston, Pauline Paterka, Kenneth Hensley, Erwin Tomlinson, Elizabeth Gilmore, Louise Morley, Hazel Hayner, Virginia Steward, Helen Parfitt, Lois Thompson, Ronald Smith, Martin Rosell, Clifford Mullikin, William Shamberger and John Jenny. Annie Snow is accompanist.

H. E. Lattig, professor of agricultural education, has accepted an invitation to serve on the faculty of a special training school at the Oregon agricultural college which will be held next summer for teachers of agriculture. Professor Lattig will spend 10 days, the latter part of June and the first part of July, at the Oregon college.

ANNIE SNOW HURT IN AUTO SMASHUP; INSTRUCTORS CUT

Miller and Claus Suffer From Flying Glass As Cars Collide

Three university people were hurt, one seriously, in an auto accident about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon as they were driving to Spokane to hear the violin concert of Ocko. Annie Snow, student, is reported to have suffered a compound fracture of the skull. The two cars side-swiped three miles from Rosalia. Miss Snow was removed to the Sacred Heart hospital in Spokane and was unconscious last night. Prof. Carl Claus, and Ray Miller, of the music department, suffered cuts about the head and body from flying glass. Miller was driving the car. Miller and Claus are in the Inland hospital.

Marian Lewis, student, and Agnes McKernan escaped without injuries. Dr. R. J. Kearns treated the injured in Spokane. Charles Rogers and Jeannette Fraser, occupants of the other car, were also injured but were reported out of danger this morning.

Deputy sheriffs were unable to account for the accident.

TRACKSTERS SHOW STUFF IN TRIALS

Real Dope Will Be Available After Informal Clash Saturday

In the first time trials of the year, the varsity track team showed promise of developing into one of the best balanced teams that has represented the University of Idaho in several years, although the records were not exceptional. Lempi is skimming the high barriers in good early-season form which promises some real thrills when the competitive season starts.

The flat race men have been working on quicker starting and should be able to pick up some lost feet by slow moving at the post. Heath turned in a good performance in the mile event by covering the distance in 4:43 in Lewis coach McCoy has been going skyward with the pole; and has literally gone through the ceiling in the inside track, that is, through the hole cut in the ceiling for the vaulters. Williams is putting the shot around 40 feet consistently.

Yesterday the team had its first outside workout. A lot of pep was shown by the squad and that is one thing that shows the makings of a team. The first of the informal meets with W. S. C. is scheduled for Saturday and then a real lineup of the squad will be possible.

IDAHO IS BEATEN BY W.S.C. MATMEN

Lopez is Only Winner for Vandals; Lundstrom Loses Close Decision

Idaho lost six out of seven matches to the Washington State college grapplers at Pullman last Saturday. The Cougars won five falls, one decision, and a forfeit in the 115-pound class.

Dan Lopez, Idaho's lone victor, showed the class which won him the northwest championship last year in defeating Stanley Bishop in the shortest match of the day, a two minute fall.

The closest match of the card was between Lundstrom of Idaho and Zeiball of W. S. C. They wrestled 10 minutes to a draw. In the over-time period the decision was given to Zeiball on aggressiveness.

Cisco Bullivant, Spokane, refereed all of the matches.

Results.
115 pounds—Forfeit by Idaho.
128 pounds—Bud Gordanier, W. S. C. threw Don Lacey; 7 minutes 15 seconds.
135 pounds—Ralph Case, W. S. C. threw Joe Pechanec; 4 minutes 3 seconds.
145 pounds—Ralph Dohoney, W. S. C. threw Jim Flynn; 4 minutes.
155 pounds—Howard Zeiball, W. S. C. decided Carl Lundstrum; 16 minutes.
165 pounds—Marvin Minkel, W. S. C. threw Ray Assendrup; 10 minutes 30 seconds.
175 pounds—Carl Ellingsen, W. S. C. threw Amos Stephens; 9 minutes 40 seconds.
185 pounds—Dan Lopez, Idaho, threw Stanley Bishop; 2 minutes.

DR. BARTON MAKES MENTALITY TESTS

Everyone is susceptible to insanity and it is now held by competent authority that 80 per cent of such instability has been acquired. Insanity is merely an illness; in most cases, it is the result of a physical condition that tends to undermine the organic integrity of a person.

A report on stability tests given to 400 students has been prepared by the psychology department under the direction of Dr. J. W. Barton, and will soon be published. By these tests the tendencies to instability of students can be determined, and in many cases anticipated.

Such tendencies are usually brought on by suppressions. These suppressions can be overcome by a re-education of them to the community-place of life.

In the report being published and in another one being prepared, Dr. Barton suggests explanations of how to recognize these suppressions and ways of ridding one's self of them. He and his students have consulted psychiatrists, texts on abnormal psychology, and psychologists, and have made many case studies in determining the symptomatic behavior that will detect beforehand in those potentially insane, with the hope of preventing their development into institutional cases.

Dr. Barton thinks that it is as urgent that educational institutions provide facilities for providing and guarding mental health, as it is that they do so for physical health, since more fall victims to insanity than to tuberculosis, and cancer combined. There are as many mentally ill people in institutions today as there are students in attendance at colleges and universities, most of whose difficulties could have been prevented with adequate anticipation and prevention.

Action At Last
OFFICIALS of the "I" club will meet with the Executive Board tonight in an effort to settle the fate of certain "traditions" which have irked Idaho students for a number of years.

The "I" men, as a group, are opposed to the present method of enforcement and they are particularly opposed to the "tradition" which requires sophomore and junior men to wear hats or caps on the campus. Heath admits that students do not observe this tradition or cooperate with the lettermen in their efforts to enforce it. And it is significant that several members of the "I" club do not observe the tradition except on the days when they are expected to administer justice.

The lettermen have been handling a pretty dirty job pretty well but they realize it is a thankless task and tonight Heath will probably ask that the "I" club be given permission to turn the paddles over to some other organization or that the traditions be revised to suit a larger number of students. The first plan won't help a bit. There is probably no organization in school that can handle the enforcement of these customs like the "I" men have and pay less attention to the criticism that goes with the job.

Provincialism Doesn't Help
PRESIDENT Norman Coleman of Reed college said a lot in a few words last week when he discussed the provincialism of the white man and its effect on the Orient in a student body assembly. His examples were good but he needn't have gone clear to the Orient to pick them up. Provincialism, while not threatening the future of the school, certainly doesn't help it any as far as the students from small Idaho towns are concerned. There is no native son in the institution that will not extol eloquently the magnificence and glory of "good ol' Cal" anywhere he can find a listener and on little or no provocation, whatsoever. The native son is king on the Idaho campus. Next in line is a group of students who hail from not so far away, and whose chief claim to fame seems to hinge on the excellence of the appointments and cuisine of a certain hostelry in the home town. Quite superior, don't you know, to the common herd.

Chicken Heart Stays Alive Without Help From Chicken

Beating with the regularity of a clock, minute particles of a chicken's heart live in their cover-glass cases in the zoology laboratory. Their existence is short, only a few hours, but they live—taking in oxygen and giving off carbon dioxide. One heart particle shattered all old age records by continuing to thrive in evident good health for 14 hours. This senile portion of a heart would no doubt have been carefully preserved and marked "exhibit A," if the experiment was to foster long life in the heart tissues while out of their natural element. But the project is being conducted merely to study the living cells in regard to their culture habits. This research work is being conducted by Clayton Lovell, an advanced student in gathering material for his master of science thesis. Working with him on other phases of chick culture are James Hawkins and Paul Woolley. Tissues from an egg that has been in incubation for five days are removed and placed in a salt solution. From these tissues small parts of the heart, no larger than pin heads, are taken and put in a cover glass with a drop of chicken broth culture. The heart particles are then placed in a cooler and are kept at temperature of 40 degrees. Their beating may be regulated by modifying the temperature.

Barometric Table Is Found In The Lower Library Hall

What is in reality one of the strangest of barometers is located on the main floor of the administration building. The bizarre "weather glass" is the long row of tables on the east side of the hall just outside the library. All of 1500 students pass these tables at least once a day, but few ever stop to consider them as indicators of atmospheric changes. Yet the physics laboratory in Science hall does not contain an instrument which records more accurately the conditions of the weather. The tables will be filled high with over-

O-Hell-O—As the terrifying gloom of these beautiful spring days settles upon us, we wonder why all institutions of higher learning are not built in the sunny southland. Think of it, folks, studying in the life-giving sunshine the year around—well, don't think of it too much because you know there are such things as earth quakes and hurricanes. In case you can't bring yourself to believe this just try intimating to your major professor that you do not care for his course.

Lawyers Appear In Brilliant Headgear To Pay Bet To Ags

Because the lawyers donned hats of various kinds today wasn't to set a new style. They were fulfilling their contract and paying their debt for losing to the Ags in a furiously fought basketball game Friday afternoon.

Most brilliant of the lawyers was Paul Boyd with a huge orange straw trimmed in Christmas green and decorated around the rim with pretty tassels. HUSKIES TO MEET BEARS IN SEATTLE

Cairney and West, Washington Veterans, Out of Playoff

Northern Conference	Final Standings:

Washington	14	2
Washington State	10	6
Oregon State	9	7
Oregon	6	10
Idaho	1	15

Washington's first place Huskies move against the University of California Bears next Friday, Saturday and Monday in the coast championship series at Seattle. This is the fourth successive title for Washington but they have yet to win from the Southern coast leaders and, with Cairney and West out of the battles, will be slowed down considerably.

W.S.C. Second
The University of Washington Huskies won the northwest title when they took the Washington State Cougars into camp in the second battle at Pullman last week. The Crimson and Gray squad however won the opening tilt and secured the second place berth for themselves. 15 063 Oregon surprised the fans with a clean cut 29 to 22 victory over the powerful Oregon State quintet that drove the Orangeman out of any chance to tie the men of Friel. The Corvallis five came back the next night to even their Webfoot series with a 36 to 27 win and had the third place clinched for themselves.

The sudden rise of Reinhart's men near the end of the season proved the most interesting phase of the games and caused plenty of worry in the other conference camps. Equals Stowell's Record. Huntley Gordon, giant Cougar center, blazed a path of glory in

Whang Returns To Campus After Stay In Big House

It isn't any fun to spend four days in the "big house" for dogs. If you don't believe it ask Whang, A.T.O. poodle. He'll tell you; he just got out. And a narrow escape it was, too. From Friday un-til Tuesday noon he was chained in the "death cell" of the Moscow dog pound with the shadow of a chloroformed sponge creeping closer and closer. One more day and this tale would have been one of tragedy.

However, just as Whang's howls of loneliness subsided into sobs of utmost despair, up dashed his owner with the necessary bail, and Whang was a free dog with just one more adventure added to his already hectic career. Soon the stigma of a prison term will wear off and he will be restored to the good graces of his sophisticated canine campus associates.

It really wasn't Whang's fault, anyway. He didn't know a dog master didn't either—but it's all fixed now. He paid $4 for a shiny new tag which Whang will wear from now on attached to his worn leather collar.

Whang came to Idaho to be edu-cated, but the novelty gradually wore off for the glamor of a social life. At first he regularly attend-ed classes in all parts of the Ad-ministration building, catching his head between chair rungs and having a great time gnawing and growling at shoes until some one threw him out.

Military on sunny days was a most exciting period when he could dash about between tramping feet and pass in review with the rest of the cadets. But now, with age and growth, has come a loss of ac-ademic interest.

Whang hails from the coast but he can't remember much about it. He began vagabonding when he was so small he couldn't steer a true course across the kitchen lin-oleum. His first nourishment he sucked sloppily through a hole in the thumb of a rubber glove fast-ened to a medicine bottle.

In June he will journey back again where he can sniff the salt air and ride with his owner on an ice truck. Until then he will make the A.T.O. house his abode, with occasional sallies to n... soror-ity kitchens for choice bones to tussle with, and finally deposit on the A. T. O. lawn.

NEW MAN SPEAKS TO METHODISTS

Purdy Is New Pastor of Methodist Church Here.

Many students were in the con-gregation Sunday morning which welcomed Dr. J. Edgar Purdy, new Methodist minister in Moscow.

Dr. Purdy arrived Thursday from Tacoma to succeed William Hints, who has been pastor of the local church for over two years. He is the fifth pastor to be called to this church during the last 20 years; the other four who served during that time were Drs. Robert Warner, Harold O. Perry, Neal M. Jones, and William Hints.

Following his sermon Sunday morning about 300 members of the church met in Epworth hall for a basket dinner given by the Ladies' Aid society to welcome Dr. and Mrs. Purdy and their sons.

The Westminster Guild, an or-ganization for college women in the Presbyterian church will pres-ent a play, St. Claudia, some time this month. Vivian Jordan, a student here who has studied drama in England will have charge of the production. There will be a large cast.

The Wesley foundation of the Methodist church, had a waffle dinner last Friday evening after the game. There were 50 people present. Next Friday evening the group will go to Troy for a roller skating party.

The Cinemaniac

MARIE DRESSLER AND POLLY MORAN are co-starred in the film, "Reducing," showing at the Ken-worthy tonight and tomorrow. Any-one who has ever seen them knows that this is not a show to be missed. They are engaged in the new bus-iness of making fat women thin and thin women fat. They will be supported by Anita Page, and Sally Eilers, a comparative newcomer to the screen.

RUTH CHATTERTON, the "Queen of the Talkies," and one of the best dramatic stars now ap-pearing on the American screen, will appear this week in "The Right to Love." The story is taken from Susan Claspell's novel, "Brook Ev-ans." In the picture, Miss Chat-terton takes the roles of a mother who loved and lost, and a daughter who gambled with love and won. This film will be at the Kenworthy on Thursday and Friday.

"OUTWARD BOUND" is the pic-ture appearing at the Vandal on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. It is the touching story of two young people, members of a party of eight on a ship sailing for the hereafter. All are dead and the picture consists of their stories. Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. is the star, supported by Helen Chandler and Beryl Mercer. The film is unusual and entertaining.

PENNANT WINNERS TAKE PAIR FROM IDAHO HOOPSTERS

Washington Checks Rally In Each, Vandals End In Cellar Spot

By BILL FOHLMAN

The championship University of Washington five continued their winning streak to the last by founcing the Vandals 43 to 34 and 41 to 36 in two fast battles on the floor last week-end.

The Huskies opened up with flashes both nights to give the fans a glimpse of the reason they are northern division winners. With their great speed and sharpshooting they smashed the Idaho defense to bits at times. Fuller, Swanson and Grisham stood out for the Vandals while Aukett, Lacy and Hale burned in sparkling performances both evenings for Idaho with the first two holding down chief point honors for the Vandals in the final game.

Games Close.

The opening half Friday night was nip and tuck with both clubs playing at top speed until the gun barked with Washington leading 18 to 16. Fuller rang up seven goals the second half and at one time the count stood 41 to 21. Idaho, with Barrett leading the way, started a strong rally but could not push it through before the game ended. Swygard chalked up a total of 14 points while Fuller annexed 18, all gathered in the last half. Barrett, with eight points, took high honors for the Vandals.

Washington started off with a bang on Saturday night and, with every man snapping the hoop for points, ran up a 17 to 4 lead before the period was two-thirds over. Idaho came back with lots of fight to run the score 18 to 23 at half time. The Vandals continued their drive after the rest period but could not off-set the uncanny shooting of Swanson and Grisham who proved Washington's margin of victory.

Swygard was again high point man with 11 counters and his teammate Swanson took second with 10 tallies. Lacy grabbed off lead scoring honors for the Foxmen by virtue of his five field goals.

IDAHO WRESTLERS MEET W.S.C. AGAIN

The next meet for Idaho is a return match with the W.S.C. grapplers here Saturday. In spite of the big margin by which the Idaho squad lost last Saturday, they showed exceptional skill in many phases of the game. Most of the men on the team are sophomores.

DELAYING FROSH BASEBALL CALL

Freshmen baseball candidates will not be called out for some time, according to Coach Glenn "Red" Jacoby. The first turn-outs will probably not be held until the middle of April. The present frosh basketball schedule has not been completed as yet and the baseball schedule is usually short so this loss of time in between will not be harmful.

CLASH FOR HONORS IN RIFLE TOMORROW

Men's and Women's Varsity Teams Struggle to Win

In what promises to be a spirited encounter, the women's rifle team will clash against the men's rifle squad, Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

The women captured the match last year by the bare margin of one point and are out to score another triumph over the men.

A wager is usually posted on this match in which a dinner is given to both squads, and the loser pays for the expense. Lieut. John Sheehy reports that his squad is ready for the fray, and expects to see a nip and tuck struggle for honors.

IDDINGS ANNOUNCES CHANGE IN FACULTY

A rearrangement involving three members of the university animal husbandry faculty is announced by Dean E. J. Idings. Prof. C. W. Hickman, for the past 12 years head of the department, is on a six months' leave of absence which he will spend at the University of Nebraska. He will devote this time to graduate study in animal nutrition and agricultural economics as related to the livestock industry.

J. E. Nordby, associate professor of animal husbandry, has been named acting head during Professor Hickman's absence. He will have complete supervision of the courses offered by the department and the experimental work. Professor Nordby holds degrees from Idaho and the University of Illinois. He has been a member of the animal husbandry faculty since 1916.

E. F. Rinehart, formerly associated with the extension division, will fill Professor Nordby's present position.

MAKE GOOD GRADES

The scholastic average of the 16 members of the Vandaler chorus for last semester was 6.07.

Carleton Cummings, head of the music department, says that this is an unusually high average for a large group, especially since they were absent from the campus on many trips.

CHORAL CLASS MEETS

"Stabat Mater," the choral piece to be presented by the University of Idaho chorus this semester, is progressing. Meetings are held in the university auditorium Tuesday evenings at 7:30 o'clock. All students registered in the university are eligible to take part in this work and it is not too late to register for this one-credit course.

The Sport Shop

By Paul Boyd

Too much Fuller and Swanson account for the double defeat handed to the Vandals last week-end. Fuller is all that he was claimed to be and more besides. He is easily the best forward seen on Idaho's court this year. Running at top speed all the time he tailed enough baskets to whip the Vandals in the first game and three baskets in the second was the margin of victory.

Two regulars were unable to play in the Moscow series because of rough handling at the hands of the Cougars. Cairney, all-conference guard, and West were unable to suit up for either game, Cairney taking a well-reeled rest in the hospital. These men weren't missed by their team to any great extent as Nelson and Grisham turned in capable performances.

Gordon, sophomore center from W.S.C. tied Harold Stowell's high scoring conference record with 171 points. However, Gordon played in four less games than did the former Idaho star, as no games were scheduled with the University of Montana this year.

The only wrestler to show a win over his opponent was Dan Lopez, the student-coach. Lopez threw his man in two minutes flat. He was heard to mumble something later about letting him last longer and bending a few knots into the bones at various places. Perhaps a Lopez vs. Joe Savoldi would pack the crowd in.

Yesterday saw the track squad outside for the first time. Although the track is very soft and wet in spots, coach Otto Anderson had the timber-toppers and distance men out doing their paces. It will be some time before the dash men will be able to run their specialties.

Johnny Thomas' time for the half mile last Saturday bodes ill for those running against him this spring. His time of 2:28 gives indication of a great season and he will fill a spot on the track team that hasn't been taken care of capably since Cleaver and Stowell graduated.

A returning wrestling match will be held with the Cougars this Saturday at Memorial gym. All devotees of this sport should turn out, for although they were defeated last week, the Vandals gave a good account of themselves in every division and with the added experience of that match, should be able to turn the tables in some of the weights.

"Not a real old-time chucker in the crowd," wails Coach Rich Fox of the pitching staff. He had in mind the dearth of tobacco-chewing leavers. Curers and Chixmas have always gone hand in hand and the harder the game the harder the chew. Only Jake Daubert, the "crooked arm bandmaster" likes his plug and jake is one of the three left forked fingers out for the squad.

Another sport that is being help up because of a wet field is spring football. Coach Leo Calland will issue the call as soon as the ground dries enough to permit a turn-out without damage to the sod. Most of the other schools have been hard at it for the last two weeks, but the Idaho coach will get his in later. Only a month is allowed for spring training according to a conference ruling, so it doesn't matter much which month is chosen.

The Frosh annexed two more games to their winnings for the winter when they belted the North Central five of Spokane and the Coeur d'Alene team. Both teams are leaders in their respective districts, although North Central was defeated by Lewis and Clark for the city title. Incidentally Lewis and Clark was nosed out by a Moscow high school five. The Coeur d'Alene and Moscow teams serve notice on the rest of the interscholastic quintets that they are out to win.

Three weeks will see the annual state tournament begun. Although the district tournaments have not been run off as yet, the winners can be predicted with some show of certainty. In the south Buhl and Oakley are fighting it out, while Boise and Pocatello will represent their territory. The north is well taken care of by Telly Telford's aggregation.

Coach Nils Price and his California Bruins invade the Husky Pavilion this week-end in an attempt to win their fifth conference championship. Close-guarding featured by long shooting of Kintata is the key-note of the California's game.

STATE SELLS TREES TO DECORATE HOMES

Shade and forest trees are being bought by students, to be sent home for spring planting, according to C. L. Price, state nurseryman.

These trees, for both landscape and utility purposes, are listed in the bulletin recently issued by the Idaho school of forestry. They will be furnished citizens of the state at the cost of production.

A chart showing which of 38 varieties are best suited for planting in each of the 44 counties of Idaho is included. Suggestions are given regarding choice of trees for ornamental, roadside, and farm forest planting, accompanied by directions for proper planting, care and attention.

IDAHO FENCERS WIN OVER W.S.C.

With a determined effort to avenge the defeat of last week and to place Idaho's fencing club with the coast teams, the Vandal fencers romped off with a 9 to 7 win over W.S.C. Saturday at Pullman. The meet consisted of sixteen matches.

John Menard of the Idaho team was high point man for the winners, taking 3 of his 4 matches.

Aust, Cruikshank, and von Ende each won two matches against the Pullman team composed of Bushue, Zerbe, Klein, and Donnelly. A return match between the two clubs will be held sometime in April.

ACROBATS DRAW BIG ROUND OF APPLAUSE

An interesting entertainment between halves of the recent Idaho-Washington basketball series was provided by the Idaho tumbling team. The team of seven men showed a varied assortment of tricks that brought rounds of applause from the stands. Difficult flips, both forward and backward, cartwheels, twists, and diving feats were included in the performances. The climax of the program was a difficult dive and flip completed over a pyramid of six men.

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Fitting the service to the customer's needs

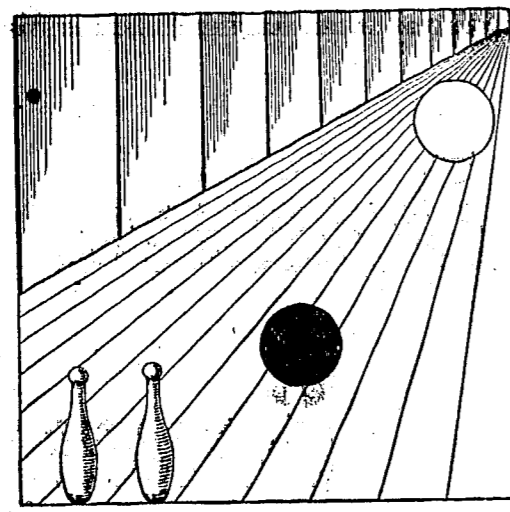

Bell System service is custom-made. Each of the 65,000,000 telephone calls handled in the average day must meet the exact wishes of the person making the call.

Telephone men study a customer's communication needs, then advise the type of equipment that fits them best. For department stores they may recommend the "order turret" — a special switchboard for taking orders by telephone. Thus they enlarge the store's service and simplify ordering for the customer. They develop equipment and plans for brokerage houses, police departments, nation-wide sales forces — and all manner of business firms.

The telephone industry continues to grow by fitting its service more and more completely to the user's needs. For men with insight and the ability to coordinate, the opportunity is there!
