Educational Row in Idaho Settled as House Passes Bill

Hoover Gets Cigar Twelve Inches Long From Cuba by Air

Applications for Loans by Veterans Gives Jobs to 900

PARIS—France, Great Britain and Italy have finally come to accord over the problems left last spring by the London naval conference. In making changes necessary for agreement, however, it seems that another five power conference will have to be held in order to combine with changes of the demands of the United States and Japan.

BOISE—The standing education row of Idaho has again been settled by the house of representatives. Financial provisions for the office of state superintendent of public instruction was included with the rest of the state board of education budget, as has been the case for 14 years.

WASHINGTON—If President Hoover wishes to settle back after March 4 and take a long smoke, he has the cigar. It is made of finest tobacco and is twelve inches long—long enough to overcome most college smokers. It was brought from Cuba by airplane by Robert Buck, 17 year old New Jersey aviator.

WASHINGTON—Applications for loans poured into veterans' bureau offices at such a rate yesterday that the temporary employment of 900 additional clerks was authorized. The difficulty of handling the clerical work is made additionally hard because of the attempt to give attention to needy veterans at the earliest possible moment.

WASHINGTON—President Hoover has agreed that the muscle car and the senate of the 71st congress bill, the second approved by congress during the long years of controversy over operation of the government's $150,000,000 power and nitrate plants, should not become a law. After long hours of debate before packed galleries, the president's veto was upheld by a vote of 94 to 40.

NEW DELHI, India—Viceroy Lord Irwin and Mahatma Gandhi, chief of the Indian nationalists, have formally come to terms which offer strife-torn India the chance for peace for the first time in a year. The agreement came after the British had granted Indians along the coast the right to make their own salt from sea water instead of buying from the government monopoly.

MILL VALLEY, Cal.—Love has solved another obstacle in life. Denied permission to see her boy friend, imprisoned in the combination jail and fire house here, a young girl turned in a fire alarm. During the resulting confusion and while the jailer went to the fire, the young lady and her boy friend disappeared.

WASHINGTON—Commissioner Mead, when notified that congress had voted the reclamation bureau an emergency loan of $5,000,000, announced that contractors would be instructed immediately to continue work on a number of western projects—several in the Pacific Northwest—which were to have been stopped because of the shortage of funds.

DENVER—The biggest engineering project ever attempted in the United States—construction of the $165,000,000 Boulder canyon project—will be under way soon, the contract having been given to a combination of western firms called Six Companies, Inc., of San Francisco.

The work will be under the direction of Frank T. Crowe of Boise, Idaho, an engineer who has had 26 years of practical experience in building dams.

BOISE—The 90 day divorce provisions of the new Idaho law will become effective in May. The bill has been passed by both houses of the legislature over the veto of Governor Ross. Although shortening the term required for obtaining a divorce, other features of the divorce law remain unchanged.

WASHINGTON—The 71st congress has passed into history with the tumult and the strife of its two year existence prevailing to the end. So stormy was the closing that the senate, bound by a three hour filibuster, could not even appoint the ordinary committee to inform the president of adjournment.

Hoover did not seem to mind the neglect for he was glad that the nine months' adjournment was approaching. Although much business had been left, a new high record of appropriations had been set—$10,000,000,000.

BOISE—The governor of Idaho has called a special session of the Idaho legislature to meet for ten days beginning today to take up matters of taxation exclusively.

PHI CHI THETA PLEDGES FOUR

Phi Chi Theta, national women's business honorary pledged four women Wednesday evening at Forney hall.

Those pledged were Helen Benson, Lura Lee Sharp, Helen Powers, and Helen Carney. Members are selected on a basis of scholarship, student leadership, and personality. After the ceremony a meeting was held, in which it was decided to celebrate founders' day Saturday noon at the Blue Buckles. Dean Ralph H. Farmer will be the principal speaker.

APPROPRIATIONS BILL IS PASSED BY LEGISLATURE

Budget Bill Carries $2,300,000 for State Education Institutions

The appropriation bill carrying $2,300,000 for educational institutions of the state, including the University of Idaho, awaits only the governor's signature before becoming a law. It has been passed by both the house of representatives and the senate. The passage through the senate came directly after the vote killing the university library bond issue and was voted upon without debate.

The measure carried appropriations asked by the budget bureau and the board of education except that the finance and house appropriations committee had shaved off about $44,000 from the original request. It provided a united budget for the board of education and the state superintendent of public instruction.

Callahan Favored Bill. Although no debate was had at the time of actual passage, the bill had been the center for an earlier tangle in the senate. An attempt to bring the action on the budget bill ahead of other bills pending for third reading because it was highly important and controversial was brought to a halt when Hanson of Teton county, objected to any consideration of the bill out of regular order.

Since the move to take the bill up at once required unanimous consent, it was necessary to delay action on it at first. In asking unanimous consent Callahan, who had favored the bill's immediate consideration, engaged in a brief passage with Hanson who declared that he opposed the change in the order of bills because he was opposed to the university library and he understood that that issue was involved in a trade with the budget bill and the income tax discussion.

The budget bill as finally passed was declared by university authorities to be quite satisfactory under present conditions. It was understood that no difficulty would be experienced in obtaining the signature of the governor, particularly because the whole educational system is tied up in the bill.

Rowe of Latah "deplored" the sectional spirit which he said Hanson had introduced into the debate, and urged passage of the bill on the ground of the favorable condition of the bond market.

Hunt of Bannock declared his intent to vote for the bill because it would provide employment for workmen out of employment, while Callahan set forth the considerations which had led the finance committee to sanction introduction of the bill.

VICTORIAN PLAY TO OFFER UNIQUE SONGS AND SKITS

Play Being Given Tonight and Saturday in Auditorium

Applauding the hero and heroine and booing the villain will be the role of the audience in the play "Tom Combs or Fortune's Toy" to be given by "The Curtain" on Friday and Saturday evenings. The performance will begin promptly at 8:20 each evening in the auditorium.

The all-star cast and swiftly moving plot in this farcical comedy make it a laugh from start to finish. A lost son, an unknown father, a host of other incidents go to make up the plot. Leland Cannon in the title role of the poor, but handsome young surgeon; Grace Parsons as the sentimental heroine and Harry Robb and Merle Frizzelle as the menacing villains take leading parts. Catherine Brandt, John Peacock, Ruth Garver, and Robert Grant lend support to these characters in an amusing situation after amusing situation.

Wide variety of entertainment is a feature of the performance. Between acts members of the cast aid the audience retain the atmosphere of fifty years ago by amusing sketches. Popular songs of our grandmothers' day, "Take Back Your Gold" and "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage" are sung. The sale of peanuts and candy between acts is another fun-making innovation.

Tickets are now on sale at Hodgins drug store. All seats are reserved and admission is fifty cents for everyone with the exception of university students who may reserve seats for 25 cents upon presentation of the proper A.S.U.I. booklet coupon.

IDAHO PREPARES TO ENTER COAST DEBATE CONTEST

Forensic League Represents 11 Schools; Faculty Judges Choose Speakers

Preparations for Idaho's entrance into the annual oratorical and extemporaneous speaking contests of the Pacific Coast Forensic League are now under way. Announcement has just been made of try-out dates for representatives from Idaho and it is understood that committee appointments will be received from the president of the league at an early date.

The Pacific Coast Forensic League is an organization of eleven western universities. In this section of the west, Idaho, Washington, Washington State and both Oregon universities are included in the membership. The league has as its function the control of intercollegiate debates and debate questions in the west and each year holds a meeting in which the member universities compete for extemporaneous speaking and oratory honors.

Will Meet at Seattle. The plan of the league provides that each year a meeting shall be held in alternating parts of the west. Last year the conference was at Tucson, Arizona. This year the meeting will be at the University of Washington at Seattle on April 7, 8 and 9.

Speakers to represent the University of Idaho are picked on a purely competitive basis by three judges chosen from the faculty and in a contest which is as much as possible like the actual competition. The orators will be heard on March 24. They are to have an oration on any subject so long as it is complete and ready for formal presentation. The length is limited to approximately 1500 words.

Hold Try-outs March 25. Extemporaneous speakers are to try out on March 25. The plan for trials follows the regular conference system. The speakers are to be generally prepared on any subject of current world interest. Topics included in such a category concern India, farm relief, world peace, unemployment and any other subject of importance.

One hour before the contest the speaker is to draw the subjects selected by the examining committee and to choose within three minutes the one upon which he will talk. He is then given an hour for preparation, during which time he may make use of any sources desired. After the hour has been given, the speaker is expected to make a ten-minute talk on his subject without notes.

Entrance in the try-outs for both contests are open to all university students. Any one who is interested in the contests may gain further information by seeing A. E. Whitehead, university debate coach, immediately. Intention of entrance should be made known at the earliest possible moment.

LAST BASKETBALL GAME IS TONIGHT

Frosh Expected to Win Season's Last Game with Spokane U.

Coach Glenn "Red" Jacoby's yearling basketball team will bring their schedule to an end when they meet Spokane university in a return game here tonight. The Idaho babes defeated the Spokane team some time ago, by quite a decisive margin.

During the past week the youngsters have been working out in preparation for their final game. Tuesday they scrimmaged the Moscow high school quintet which is shaping up for the state interscholastic tournament to be held here, March 19, 20 and 21. Each coach used every man on his squad thus giving both teams a stiff workout.

This will be the last appearance of the yearling five and those who have not had an opportunity to witness the babes in action should turn out tonight. Although the freshmen started out badly this year, they reached good form at mid-season and have turned in some excellent contests since then. They improved with every workout and proved themselves to be a dangerous five to all opponents.

MEN'S RIFLE TEAM OUT-SCORES WOMEN

The men's rifle team avenged a one-point defeat of last year by out-shooting the co-ed rifle team 963 to 948 at the armory Wednesday night.

Neilson led the scorers for the evening, hanging up a mark of 99 while Dorothy Perkins led the women's team with 98.

Considerable interest centered around the match as the losers may be forced to pay for the banquet that may be given to the two teams at a later date.

MEN VISIT CAMPUS

The architecture department will receive a visit within the next two weeks from the representatives of the Association of Colleges and Schools of Architecture. This group of men is making a survey of the schools of architecture in the United States. Among the men who will visit Idaho is Ray Childs, Jones of the University of Minnesota.

Pick Leading Lady For Pep Band Show To Be Staged Soon

A combination of Sophie Tucker, George White's Scandals, and Helen Kane is the co-ed picked by the Pep band to take the leading part in a scintillating scene planned for the Pep band show managed by William Hawkins.

Two weeks ago Hawkins held this week and the co-ed with the personality-plus has been chosen. But Pepbanders refuse to divulge her name.

A twelve-piece dance orchestra with two pianos taking the breaks is a headline act for the spring show. In the closing finale the dance orchestra is augmented by wind and string instruments and tending the curtain as a big-time rhythm band.

Featured with the dance orchestra will be vocal and instrumental numbers, Hawkins said. This orchestra will have over a month to work together. Hawkins said this band would have snap, rhythm and pep that would have the paying customers asking for more.

Paul Boyd, idea man, is lining the acts up. Typed after metropolitan shows swinging the circuit on the coast, the Pep Band show will leave the customers with that satisfied feeling, he said.

ROSALIA SMASHUP IS EXPLAINED AS VICTIMS RECOVER

Operate on Tendons in Violin Hand of Music Professor

The university people injured Monday evening in a collision near Rosalia, are recovering rapidly and thanks to their physicians, Thursday. The injured are:

Annie Snow, Rigby, sophomore student in the university junior college, double fracture of the skull, other injuries. Condition serious.

Professor Carl Claus, violin instructor at the university and orchestra director, badly cut right eye, an injured left hand and painful neck and body injuries.

Raymond C. Miller, band instrument instructor at the university, a bad cut over the left eye, other cuts and bruises.

At Sacred Heart. Miss Snow was taken to Sacred Heart hospital and is under the care of Dr. R. J. Kearns of Spokane. Mr. Miller and Professor Claus were brought back to Moscow and are at the inland hospital.

Four from Moscow were in the automobile when Professor Miller en route to Spokane to attend the violin concert given there Monday night by Bernard Ocko, violinist.

On leaving Rosalia Mr. Miller followed a truck for a considerable distance until he could obtain a clear vision. He then passed the truck and saw a considerable distance ahead another truck, approaching, around which another car was passing. As another approaching automobile sped toward him, occupants said, it wavered on the road and just before reaching the Miller car it skidded directly in front of the Moscow machine, the two machines meeting.

Hit Guard Rail. The driver of the truck which Mr. Miller had just passed said the oncoming machine struck a guard rail on Mr. Miller's right side of the road just before the crash.

The machine striking that carrying the Moscow people was driven by a man giving the name of J. T. Miller and bore a license issued in King county, Washington, witnesses said.

Passing motorists took Miss Snow and Agnes McKiernan, the fourth in the Moscow car, to the hospital in Spokane. Another motorist living in Rosalia, brought Professor Claus and Mr. Miller to Moscow.

Miss Snow, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, has been office secretary for Dean Ivan C. Crawford of the engineering college. She is better known as pianist for the Vandaleers chorus of the university.

Receive Cuts. Professor Claus received a small cut on the back of the left hand, but deep enough to sever the tendons of the index and third fingers.

Dr. C. F. Magee operated on his hand Tuesday and was able to sew the tendons together. Fear which was first expressed that Professor Claus would not be able to play his violin is now dispelled, according to Dr. Magee Thursday. His hand is healing nicely.

Mr. Miller is suffering from a deep cut over the left eye and nervous shock. He is still confined in the inland hospital, but Professor Claus was removed to his home Thursday.

Miss Snow regained consciousness Wednesday, and is able to use her eyes. Physicians thought at the time of the accident that she might lose her sight.

DEADLINE IS SET FOR SATURDAY ON ANNUAL COPY

Printers Ask Complete Information Requiring Size and Number of Pages

Word received today from Symyx company, printers of the 1931 Gem of the Mountains, stating that the exact number of pages for each section of the yearbook would have to be definitely set by the end of this week. "This means," said Wayne Blair, editor of the publication, "that all clubs, honoraries, and professional organizations which have made reservations for space in the annual will have to do so at once." Absolutely no orders for pages in the Gem can be taken after Saturday noon, which is the deadline set by the staff.

Those organizations wishing to reserve space may do so by calling Kenneth O'Leary, or Paul Miller at the Sierra Chi house.

Borders for these section pages are being run off by the printers now, and since different sized borders are used for the different sections, the number of pages must be definitely set this week in order to maintain the production schedule of the year-book.

The engraving for all art work has been completed by the Western Engraving and Colorotype company of Seattle, and the most part is in the hands of the printers now. The color pages will be printed from these plates the latter part of this week, according to members of the art staff.

The cover for the Gem of 1931 has been selected and the design worked out in detail and approved. Something entirely different and unusual in the way of covers is promised by the staff for this year's book. These covers have been ordered from the David J. Molloy company, Chicago. Molloy's are specialists in cover work for college year-books and similar publications. The number of covers has been definitely ordered and but very few extras are being printed this year. Those students who wish to have a cover of their year-book may reserve them from any member of the Intercollegiate Knights or the Spurs, who are handling the sales campaign under the direction of Olive Johnson, circulation manager. The subscription lists will probably have to be closed at the end of the week after which the final order must be sent to the printers.

Group pictures for all campus honoraries and clubs are being taken at the rate of about two a day under the supervision of Melvin Stewart, associate editor. For the most part they are being taken out of doors on the campus. Officers of the various organizations will be notified when their group pictures are to be taken in order to have the full membership present. It is hoped to make these pictures as complete and representative of the organization as possible.

The last call for write-ups for these organizations has been issued by Paul Miller. About a third of the groups have not yet turned this material in and it is long overdue. The end of this week has been set as the final date for this copy.

UNIVERSITY DEBATERS MEET COAST SQUAD

Idaho Discusses Chain Store With Pacific University Group Today

The varsity debate squad will meet Pacific university this afternoon at 3 o'clock in Engineering 208. The question is, "Resolved: That the expansion of chain stores is detrimental to the best interests of the American people." The Idaho team, composed of John Farquhar and Ralph Olmstead, will take the affirmative.

Intramural Groups Are Active. Intramural debates will reach the semi-final and final stages soon. In the women's groups, Kappa Alpha Theta defeated Alpha Chi Omega in the semi-finals and will meet the Delta Gamma's in the finals. Delta Gamma drew a bye for the semi-finals.

Phi Delta Theta will debate Tau Kappa Epsilon on Monday night of next week, according to Walter Slaughter, manager. The winner of that contest will draw for a bye with Kappa Sigma and Lindley hall, for the finals. The two teams then left in the running will meet for the championship decision.

All finals, both men's and women's will have a new question, and there will be three judges instead of the one critical judge as has been the custom in the other debates. The questions for the finals have not been decided upon yet, but the debates will probably take place within the next two weeks, according to Mr. Slaughter.

REPORT ON SPURS NATIONAL MEETING

Virginia Knee, Idaho Spurs president, gave a report on the national Spur convention held at Salt Lake city, which she attended as official delegate from the Idaho chapter, to a regular meeting of the organization, Wednesday evening.

Cummins, head of the national organization for sophomore women, plans a policy of expansion, but only in fully accredited universities, said Miss Knee. Two new chapters have recently been added to the existing eleven.

CO-ED GUNNERS ARE OUTSCORED

The women's rifle team tied in one match, and dropped two others in the rifle matches in the week ending February 28. Idaho and Carnegie Tech tied at 488 while the University of Kansas won their match in the prone and sitting position 1919 to 1855, and Washington State college triumphed 491 to 488. Scores in the other two matches against Northwestern university and University of Nevada have not yet been received.

Five matches are being fired this week against the University of Colorado, De Pauw university, University of Michigan, University of Nebraska, and University of Maryland.

EXECUTIVE BOARD DOES NOT ACT ON 'T' CLUB REQUEST

Traditions Forcing Underclassmen to Wear Hats is Stumbling Block

A lengthy discussion of University of Idaho traditions occupied most of the time of members of the Executive Board at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday night. Charles Heath, president of the 'T' club was present and asked that the letterman's organization be relieved of the responsibility of enforcing the traditions since students did not cooperate with them in their efforts.

No action was taken on the 'T' club's request since members of the board felt that the problem could be ironed out in another manner. Charles Graybill, chairman of the board, appointed Harry Daubert, senior, Lionel Campbell, junior, and Forney Irwin, sophomore, on a committee to investigate the present code of traditions and report at the next weekly meeting of the board.

Favor Freshman Hats. Comment by members of the board indicated that they were almost unanimously in favor of retaining the green hat tradition for freshmen and reserving the privilege of wearing cords for upperclassmen, but that they were opposed to compelling sophomores and juniors to wear hats. This is the tradition which started the controversy.

Several solutions were suggested. One was that the sophomores and juniors be allowed to go bareheaded if they so desired and the 'T' men continue to enforce the other two traditions. Turning the hat rule over to sophomores and the cords tradition over to upperclassmen, with the abolishing of sophomore and junior hats was another.

It was suggested that the present code be kept but that there be no enforcement of traditions and the worthy ones would continue to exist on their own merit. Some thought it a problem to be dealt with by the men's living organizations on the campus. There was some discussion of voting on each of the traditions individually to allow students to designate which ones they desired to keep.

Meet With 'T' Club. The Executive Board committee, of which Harry Daubert is chairman, will meet sometime this week and probably send a delegate to a meeting of the 'T' club Sunday.

The 'T' meet will be given an opportunity to hear the opinion of the Executive Board committee and possibly reconsider their action before the next board meeting. Tuesday, when definite action will be taken on the proposals of the committee.

Peyton Sommercamp, chairman of the election board, presented a report of the last special election and Harry Daubert, chairman of the committee in charge of a joint dance with the Washington State college Executive Board was instructed to go ahead with plans. The dance will probably be held in April.

UNIVERSITY HEADS TURN DOWN PLANS FOR BROADCAST

Faculty Committee Abandons Idea of Using W.S.C. Radio Plant

Station KWSC, Pullman, will not be used by the University of Idaho for part time broadcasting it was decided this week, according to Carleton Cummings, member of the committee appointed to investigate.

Use of the station for 20 or 25 hours a week would cost $10,000 annually Mr. Cummings said, and the faculty committee decided that not enough people would be reached by the station to justify the expenditure of this amount of money.

KWSC is owned and operated by the Washington State college. Negotiations for its use have been carried on for some time by the university.

Those comprising the committee were Dean E. J. Iddings, of the college of agriculture; Carleton Cummings, head of the music department; J. Hugo Johnson, head of the electrical engineering department; and Cecil Hagen of the publicity office. Hagen was appointed to take the place of O. A. Fitzgerald of the publicity office, who is now in Boston.

HOUSE MANAGERS EXPLAIN PURPOSE OF BUYING PLANS

Chairman of Group Tells Object of New Organization

"The housemanagers organization is not trying to have the fraternities do all their trading at one place as the Moscow merchants seem to think," stated Samuel Johnson, chairman of the group, in explaining the downtown opposition to the movement which will include all the Greek letter groups on the campus. "We are merely trying to get better prices for the houses and to profit through the exchange of ideas. We will not do all of our buying at one place any more than we do now."

"When the group met with the coal dealers they congratulated us, met us half way, and agreed to reduce their prices. Since that time other merchants have been fighting the movement. We intend to meet them as we met with the coal dealers."

Telling of the price lists which retail merchants had been asked to submit, he continued, "We have asked for their lower prices on first and second class goods. This will enable us to check our buying and be sure we are getting our money's worth. It will also enable those managers who cannot afford to buy first class goods to live within their budget. Many house managers are not acquainted with this phase of buying and the many other savings which can be made, such as buying quantity lots of staples."

"If we can get a square deal from Moscow merchants, we will continue to deal with them. If not, we will have to go elsewhere. We realize that the merchants have supported the school, and we will give them the first opportunity."

"The attitude of the merchants has been reflected in student publication advertising and by those who 'hold fraternity' or 'sorority' bonds. Current comment on the campus indicates that the students are willing to see fair play on both sides, but that they are unwilling to see the present conditions continue. The constitution for the organizations will be voted on by the houses this Sunday."

LIVESTOCK SHOW TROPHIES OFFERED

Prizes Will Be Awarded At Annual Affair At Idaho

A silver loving cup is one of the special prizes that will be awarded during the "Little International" Livestock show to be held the latter part of April.

The cup is given annually by Stanley S. Brown, shepherd for the University of Idaho flocks. To be eligible for this award each contestant must fit both a fine wool and middle wool sheep and judge sheep in the annual husbandry judging contest "Ag" day. It is the most coveted prize of the entire show.

Medals are awarded for champion showmen in all fitting and showing classes. Merchandise prizes are given for placings below champion. All students of the college of agriculture should enter one of these contests. Each contestant has an equal chance to win.

Lists have been put on the bulletin board in Morrill hall and should be signed by the students desiring to fit animals. March 6 is the last day for signing, and drawings will be made within the next few days.

DEAN APPOINTS STATE FORESTER

Stanley C. Clarke, a graduate this year from the University of Idaho school of forestry, is now extension forester with the college of agriculture, announces Dean E. J. Iddings. His appointment became effective March 1.

Mr. Clarke has spent 20 years as a pharmaceutical chemist with several nationally known companies. However, his interest in trees was so absorbing that when an opportunity for a change presented itself, he took up the work he most desired, and entered the school of forestry as a student.

As extension forester Mr. Clarke brings an unusually rich background to the work, said Dean Iddings. His enthusiastic interest, and his experience in other fields, gives him a better understanding of individual problems.

CONTAGIOUS CASES SCARCE ON CAMPUS

Harry Booher is the sole sufferer of measles in the infirmary at present. The infirmary has been kept busy for the last few weeks with cases of chickenpox and measles, but is now hoping to see the end of quarantine with only one case left. It is still doing business along other lines, however. Others who are residing at the infirmary are Violet Adams, Dorothy Lindsey, Amelia Beth Wood, Sigfrid Jossis, and Luther Carl.

Whose School is This?

HAVING given the University of Idaho a raw deal the legislature prepared to pack up and go home, little pausing to reflect on the animosity they have aroused. While at present the students can only influence their parents votes, the day will dawn when the great majority now enrolled will mark their own ballot. If our lawmakers must play at politics with the educational systems of the state, it is wise for them to remember that no small block of votes is represented by Idaho students and alumni.

It has long been the policy for the students here to maintain a "hands off" policy during the legislative session, hoping against hope, that the solons would take education out of politics. Every two years we have had to go through a hush-hush period for fear of offending some doubtful representative of a lost county whose vote might be the deciding factor.

It is hard for us to maintain a semblance of respect for the state legislature after reading news reports wherein one legislature argues against a bill, declaring that the appropriation for bluster rust was nothing but a fund to provide nice jobs for college boys during the summer; and another declares his opposition to the library saying that we did not need the building as we had not read all of the books we have. Chicago has her "Wild Bill" Thompson, New York, her Tammany Hall, and Idaho, her state legislature.

The question is how long are we going to take it on the chin? It is time that the students themselves take a hand in the control of their university. Some of us can vote. All of us can influence votes. All of us can greet each vote solicitor who wishes to go to Boise two years hence with, "How about the Library?" As each soap-box majesty mounts his castle throne, let him answer this, "Why didn't you vote for the library?"

Betrayed!

ONCE again the possibility of having a library building for the University of Idaho has drifted off into the land of memories. Instead of passing a bill appropriating funds for such a structure, the legislature engaged in struggles over the game warden, over sending juveniles to jail, over spending money to mark state owned cars, over potatoes. The grand masters of political horse-play have spent money to hire a tax expert and then they have refused to listen to him. They have haggled over ninety day divorce bills and insane asylums. In short they have had a grand, good time of playing politics.

Ordinarily we, speaking strictly as students would have no objections to raise. A certain amount of play in anything is quite all right. We should tolerate a session of the legislature now and then because without such entertainment we would lead a dull existence. But when such a body is given power to regulate a fundamental part of our state—the education of its future citizens—and then when it refuses to come to reason, we may probably be allowed a few words of objection.

The need for a library at the University of Idaho was and is a crying one. Upon whether or not it comes within a very short time depends the future of this institution. But there is no reason for our again going into the value of the library. The state board of education saw the need and so did the members of the state legislature whenever they were governed by reason.

With such a universally recognized value as an expenditure on a library, it would have been expected that economies would have been effected in less important places. Instead, however, the legislature ignored the marketability of bonds and the value of a library, and engaged in the great trading game. They decided to trade a library for an income tax and as usual, they didn't get either. The result is that they have had a lot of fun, but that somebody else was left holding the sack. Higher education took a hard blow in Idaho and economy in the long run wasn't affected.

Naturally, we are prejudiced in the matter, but if this is an example of the brainwork of a democracy, may we be allowed to pray that God will give us a king?

Let's Get Together

THE action of the housemanagers in banding together and striving for better prices and guided buying, should meet with the approval of all the groups involved. With all due respect to Moscow merchants, the existing discontent seems to indicate that the students have been "gold dug." If the merchants are sincere in their dealings they will give the new organization a try-out and meet them halfway. If they are merely seeking to protect the income they will have to face a united student body, determined to have just merchandising.

There is no need for merchant and student to quarrel. The situation can be worked out in a logical manner if the downtown folk are ready to come to terms. Such methods as bringing pressure to bear through the administration as was done in the milk investigation are not to be tolerated.

RED CROSS GETS SWIMMER'S MONEY

The swimming organization and branch of the American Red Cross Life Saving corps on the university campus has just turned in a check for $23 on their dues to the American Red Cross for the year 1931. This amount was turned over to the Latah county chapter Thursday, by S. G. Hale, treasurer for the organization.

GRADUATE OF IDAHO IS MEMBER OF FIRM

The women's rest room at the end of the second floor hall in Administration building, is being "dressed up" by the women in Miss Elizabeth Johnson's class of advanced interior decorating. The rest room has been closed all semester while the class paints, puts up cretonne curtains, and decorates the furniture. There are five women in the group.

FEVER IS SUBJECT OF EXPERT'S TALK

Three Organisms Cause Harmful Disease

Undulant fever, its cause, prevention, and suggested treatment was the subject of a talk by George S. Schilling, assistant bacteriologist with the University of Idaho, given recently before a gathering of agricultural experiment station workers. Undulant fever, he says, is caused by three closely related organisms which are found in goats, pork, and cattle. The first, round in goats is sometimes transmitted to people who drink the milk or tend the animals. The second is found in freshly killed pork, and the disease is most often contracted by veterinarians or meat packers. The last is caused by an organism found in cattle infected with a contagious disease known as infectious abortion. It is spread by milk from these animals.

TALK ON MINISTER GIVEN BY BROSNAN

Dr. C. J. Brosnan, head of the department of history of the University of Idaho, went to Washington State college Thursday evening to deliver a short talk to the men's brotherhood of the Wesleyan foundation at that institution. The program is under the auspices of Reverend Joseph M. Adams, pastor of the First Methodist church of Pullman.

Dr. Brosnan's talk followed an informal dinner given by the brotherhood. His topic was, "Jason Lee, a pioneer missionary." Dr. Brosnan has much material concerning northwest history and his addresses have proved interesting.

BUSINESS WOMAN SANCTIONS JOBS FOR HOUSEWIVES

Prominent New York Attorney Gives Brilliant Talk In Assembly

"Instead of discussing the 'two-job woman' we should spend our time talking about the 'two-job man,'" said Lena Madess Phillips in her address on "Women at Home and Abroad" to the student body assembly Wednesday morning. "Women who have entered business do have two jobs, but I am tired of hearing it discussed. It is time that men realized that the home is a part of their job too."

Miss Phillips is a practicing New York attorney and president of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women. Formerly she was president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Women have done the only natural thing, believes Miss Phillips, in entering business and professional life. The work which formerly occupied them at home has been taken over into the business world by men, and women have followed their work because they wished to be occupied. Women's entrance into business was a natural and inevitable thing.

Women may now have many fields of activity. Of course the obvious ones are secretarial work, teaching, and nursing, but it is surprising to note that the percentage of women workers in some of these fields is lower than in those which are supposed to be almost exclusively masculine. Of all the present day occupations, says Miss Phillips, we find only 53 in which there are no women.

The Idaho Pep Band received high compliments from the speaker. She compared them favorably with the Princeton band with which she is familiar.

Miss Phillips has received the LL.B. degree from the University of Kentucky and the LL.M. degree from New York University. She was graduated from the former with the highest honors any student had ever won in its college of law.

"OUTWARD BOUND", still playing at the Vandal, is one of the most unusual pictures ever filmed. It was originally a stage play by Sutton Vane, an English playwright. It is the story of seven passengers on an unnamed ship sailing for the "hereafter." An examiner from the "beyond" boards the ship while it still is on its journey and listens to the tales of the passengers in order to give them their punishments or rewards as deserved. The cast contains well-known and able actors — as Leslie Howard, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Montagu Love, Beryl Mercer and Helen Chandler.

EARLY TEST MEET SCHEDULED WITH W.S.C. TRACK MEN

Cinder Events to Be Run in Pullman Field House

With the first of the informal track meets with Washington State scheduled for tomorrow a team of 22 men will make the hop to Pullman to try their wares against the Cougar squad. Although no scores will be kept and the records will remain a dark secret, the meet will be advantageous to both coaches as a pre-season line-up on their prospects.

The Idaho squad has been working in Lewis court since Monday when they had the first outside exercise of the year. Several good performances have been turned in this week. John Thomas, a sophomore, turned in a nice race in a trial 660-yard run covering the distance in 1:31. Alvord has been prancing over the low sticks in great style.

In the meet Saturday, several of the dashes and distance runs will be shorter than the regulation distances because of the early season. The 100 and 220-yard dashes will be cut to 50 and 75 yards, also the 880, mile, and two-mile events, as well as the hurdle races will be shortened.

Although the season is yet young, it is certain that a real battle will develop when the dash men toe the mark. The Idaho men should put on a great race against Paul Swift, a Cougar sophomore, who burned up the track as a freshman, last year.

Following is the list of Vandal entrants and their events: 50-yard dash—Jessis, Hanford, Wilson, and Alvord. 440—McClusky. 880—Thomas and Mays. Mile—Heath, Roberts, Galloway, and Hall. High hurdles—Lemp, McCoy, and Thurman. Pole vault—Alvord and McCoy. High jump—Dewey and Smith. Broad jump—Read and Wilson. Discus—Williams, Tatum, and Jensen. Shot put—Jensen, Williams, and Lopez. Javelin—Williams.

STATE TOURNAMENT EYED BY SCHOOLS

University Will be Host To District Champions This Month

High schools all over the state are holding district tournaments this week to decide which teams will go to the state tournament to be held March 19, 20 and 21 at the University of Idaho. The single elimination system will be used in deciding the winner of the play-off.

At least eight high school teams are expected to be on hand when the first whistle is blown to start the tournament. Housing of these players during their three-day stay at the University of Idaho campus is in charge of Blue Key, upper-classmen's service fraternity. Each team will be allowed nine players and these men will probably be distributed among the men's group houses.

Moscow high school is host to the tournament and the Bears will play without going through a district meet. The race is hot, especially in the southern part of the state, to decide who will enter the play off.

Jack Friel, Washington State college hop coach, and G. E. "Squinty" Hunter, former Vandal basketball star, will be the officials for all tournament games. After the tournament the high school stars will be guests of Blue Key at a breakfast to be held in their honor, Sunday morning following the tournament, at the Blue Bucket inn.

IDAHO AND W.S.C. TO WRESTLE HERE

With Few Exceptions Same Team Will Meet for Revenge

The Idaho and W.S.C. grapplers meet for the second time this year, tomorrow afternoon in the Memorial gymnasium.

The Vandal bonecrushers did not like the drubbing they took last week and it has been a vicious and hard fighting bunch of grapplers that has been turning out every night under the direction of Coach Lopez. Revenge has been the byword of the Vandal wrestlers since they returned from W.S.C. After a week of hard work, polishing up on the weak places the squad will go on the mat tomorrow to reverse the score of last week.

With one or two exceptions the team is composed of the same men as before. Lopez has not definitely decided as yet but they will probably be: Lackey, 128 lbs.; Pechanec, or Ulrich, 135 lbs.; Flynn, 148 lbs.; Lunstrup, 155 lbs.; Assendrup, 165 lbs.; Stephens, 175 lbs.; and Lopez, heavyweight.

The meet will be held in the Memorial gymnasium at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The coaches are asking every one to turn out for it. There will be no charge and girls are invited.

Evangelistic meetings started Sunday at the Christian church, conducted by C. Curtis of Boise, who was recently of Twin Falls, and his brother, Guy E. Curtis.

The Sport Shop
By Paul Boyd

Saturday afternoon the Idaho track squad and Coach Otto Anderson will hold an informal meet with the Cougars in the W.S.C. field house. Every man out for a position on the squad will be taken over and allowed to compete. This will not be taken except by the coaches who will note it for their own benefit. The whole affair is strictly a practice meet and points will not be counted.

Bill McCoy, the pole vaulter and hurdler, will make the trip despite the fact that he hasn't been out to practice during the last week. An ankle injured during hurdling practice kept him out of the work-shop, but he is fast returning to shape to enable him to compete.

The weights events will be taken care of by Williams, and he is tossing the 16-pound pellet past forty feet each night. If he continues to improve as he has the last two weeks he will steal "Foot-a-week" Rother's name. Harlow Rother, Stanford, gained this name, when he increased the distance of his puts from 41 feet to better than 50 feet in successive weeks.

One match that is almost sure to go to the Cougars this spring is the spear tossing. Hein has flipped the wood better than 193 feet and that takes it out of the Vandal's class.

The Frosh continue to play the old indoor game long after everybody has forgotten about basketball. Three games remain on their schedules before the suits are turned in. These games are next week and are played against the Moscow high school five.

Another upset was dished out to the fans that are turning out for intramural ball. The Independents already beaten by the Delta Chi club, had no trouble in defeating the Fijis, who had been leading the league with four wins and no losses. This leaves the Sigma Nu in undisputed possession of first place. The other league saw A.T.O. handed her first defeat which leaves the Cougars in sole ownership of the top.

While the north is shivering, the south has played five conference games of baseball. Stanford with a perfect percentage is leading the parade with five won and none lost. The Vandals first game is scheduled in April.

Although Nibs Price wasn't good enough to coach a winning football team, his ball clubs were good enough to draw $344,263.40 into the coffers. If Idaho could draw 50 per cent of that a nice new field house and a couple libraries would just build themselves. And a winning team is the answer to it all.

The University of California will play the Vandals for the first time in their history next fall. If the Vandals can draw 40,000, and they should be able to pack that many in, then we can figure that "OUR" school has a pretty fair ball team.

The wrestling match will be held at the Memorial gym tomorrow at 2:30. Wrestling seems to have supplanted the ancient art of fistfights in the fan's mind. Jack Dempsey, the ex "Manassa mauler," says that the order is reversed, that more punching goes on in a wrestling bout than in the box-fighting business, but the fighters know more about wrestling than do the wrestlers," if we make ourselves clear.

HUSKIES PLAYING SOUTHERNERS FOR COAST HOOP FLAG

Washington is Opening Finals in Conference Basketball Series

The Pacific Coast sport world is agog this afternoon as the hour approaches which will send the Washington Huskies, northern division maple court champions, on the floor to do battle with a mighty squad of Golden Bears from California, for the opening game of the series that will decide the conference championship.

Both clubs are in top shape and with the exception of Ralph Cairney, great back-court guard, all the regulars will be on the scene tonight giving everything they have to annex this opening tilt and get the jump on their rivals. Washington holds the advantage on their own floor, with their fans all present to give them encouragement, but this means little in a major series as the Californians have had a longer rest and will be able to toss their full strength on the court.

Teams Are Confident. The Purple and Gold machine has copped four successive northern titles without grabbing a "big series" win, but feel that this is their year to go places and will enter the battles brimming with confidence. Reports from the south say the Bears are a cocky bunch of basketeers and plan to use the Husky quintet as a doormat, but Hec Edmundson and some ten or twelve Gold Shirts claim they will have plenty to say about it this week-end.

Golden Bears Arrive. Coach Nibs Price and fourteen Bears arrived in Seattle yesterday and took a workout at the huge Washington pavilion last night. Supporters of the club point to Captain Joel Coffield, veteran guard, who plays an individual style of ball, but is the coolest man on the squad and a great ball handler. Joe Kintana, the powerful forward, whose scoring has been the feature of the Bear's season, is playing his opening year as a regular, but is already rated with the best in the southland. Jack Read, the six-foot, three-inch center, is the high scorer of the conference and one of the best tip-off men seen in the south for many years.

The Washington squad boasts three of the smartest forwards on the coast in Swartz, Nelson, and West, who are all fast ball handlers, and who cut in under the basket and ring the hoop time after time each game. Fuller, the other forward, is a n expert sharpshooter from any angle of the floor inside the center marks. Swanson, at center, is the real foundation of the Husky five, as his all-round floor-work and leadership above the men along when the going gets tough. Gritsch, Perry and Nordom form a set of strong reserves that may turn the tide of battle as the Californians lack this second string power.

The northern champions have a record of fourteen conference wins and only two losses besides whipping a powerful University of Nebraska five in three straight games. The Seattle cagers have trimmed Gonzaga, Whitman and other high class clubs in the north-west also.

The opening whistle is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock tonight and the same hour tomorrow. If a third contest is necessary it will be played Monday.

HUTTEBALL ELECTED RIFLE TEAM LEADER

Eugene Hutteball was elected captain of the university rifle team Wednesday night by the members of the squad. At the same time Ambrose Adams was given the job of team manager for next year. He will replace John Gray who has held down the working position this year.

Rifle matches will close for the men March 21. Soon afterwards sweaters will be awarded to the regular members of the team.

Leaders in the intramural basketball contest suffered an upset this week when the A. T. O.'s were toppled from their seat by the Beta Chi's and the Fijis by the Independents. Last night the Sigma Chi's won from L. D. S. 18 to 12, and the Lambda Chi's landslided over the Teke's, 35 to 10.

Wednesday evening the Beta Chi's climbed another notch on the A league ladder when they defeated the up-to-then victorious A. T. O.'s decisively by a 31 to 10 score. Thurman was high point man for the winners with 10 counters, while Roberts held the A. T. O. honors with 6 points.

The same night the Sigma Nu's climbed to first in B league by an easy victory over T. M. A. Duffy, Sigma Nu forward, was high point man with 8 markers.

Five fast maple floor men representing the Independent team played a close fast game to win over the Fijis by a two-point margin, 19 to 17, last Wednesday. Early in the first period the Independents took the lead which they held, always by a few points, throughout the game. The game between the Coaches and the Phi Del's which was scheduled for that night was postponed.

The revised league ladder shows A league headed by the Coaches with two straight wins. Beta Chi climbed into second place with four wins and one loss. In B league, the Sigma Nu's mounted the top rung of the ladder with four wins. The Fijis, Independents, and S. A. E.'s rank close behind with a single loss apiece. None of these teams have yet played the Sigma Nu's, indicating that the first rung is not yet a cinch.

EAST AND WEST GAMES PLANNED

Oregon State College, with a mighty football squad in view for the next three years, has lined two big inter-sectional battles that will attract national attention during the next two years.

Coach Paul J. Schissler lined up a game with Fordham, one of east's strongest elevens last year, to be played in the Yankee stadium New York on November 19, 1932. The only big inter-sectional battle Fordham ever played was with a powerful St. Mary's team last fall and the New York club was sent back east a beaten bunch of players.

Notre Dame vs. Oregon State is the huge dish for football fans in 1933 as the Orangemen play the Ramblers on the first Saturday in October. This the first time a northwest football squad ever landed on the schedule of the mighty South Bend crew.

The Corvallis school has taken on two big battles with New York university, rival of Fordham, and the westerners have won both times by scores of 25 to 13 and 7 to 0.

DIAMOND ARTISTS PRACTICE DAILY

Baseball Practice Has Started in Earnest; Pitching Staff Looks Good

Idaho's diamond artists are working out every afternoon in the memorial gymnasium, loosening their arms and getting all set to break into the log grind as soon as the field is dry enough for outdoor work.

The infielders will take a try at the plate next week while the hurlers lob the ball. This indoor work will give the men a chance to get their throwing arms in good shape and their batting eyes accustomed to some hooks as soon as possible. The chuckers have been taking it easy so far but are beginning to bend the ball now and will be set for regular duty after a few days of outside work.

Coach "Rich" Fox has been letting his outfielders and infielders off easy during the past week but promises plenty of work from now on with lots of batting practice. The squad has not been cut yet, but as soon as some basketball men change into baseball uniforms and everybody settles down, Fox plans to start the weeding-out process.

Licht, Jacobs, Lindsay and Dautbert look impressive in the chucking department and have their arms whipped into fairly good shape already.
