Democratic Income Tax Bill Made Statute By Idaho Legislature
Wickersham Tells What His Commission Meant to Say in Report
Oklahoma Going out After Divorce Trade With Short Time Law

Income Tax Bill Passes. BOISE.—The Democratic income tax bill is now the law of Idaho. The bill is a straight income tax, based upon net income, computed largely on the basis of the federal tax. The rates are the same for both corporations and individuals.

Wickersham Report "Damp." BOISTON.—In the first authoritative interpretation of his commission's now famous prohibition report, Chairman Wickersham disclosed that it was intended to be "damp" in spite of its arid conclusions which were arrived at because it was not desired to suggest a change when no suitable change was in sight.

Faster Than Idaho. OKLAHOMA CITY.—Oklahoma too, if the divorce measure recently introduced into the legislature passes. Plaintiffs will be allowed to file suit after 45 days residence in the state, under the terms of the measure. Chance of passage is declared to be slim.

But—No Library. BOISE.—The extra session of the Idaho legislature has ended, leaving behind it as work completed in its special session a new graduated income tax, a tax of one half mill on every kilowatt hour of electricity generated for sale, except for irrigation pumping, and a provision lifting tax exemption on municipal utilities.

No Depression for Chaplin. LONDON.—Because Charley Chaplin demanded 50 per cent of the receipts, the big Gaumont theatre after a long refusal, to book "City Lights," the comedian's latest picture. It has been booked into one theater for 20 weeks, Chaplin getting 60 per cent, with a $200,000 guarantee.

Convicts Playful. JOLIET, Ill.—A riot of 110 convicts broke out in the old state prison here Saturday and was subdued only after tear gas bombs and riot guns had been brought into play. Three convicts were killed and two others were seriously wounded. One guard was wounded. Although the attempt at a prison delivery failed, the dining room and shops are in ruin. Unrest is still evident in every cell house.

Jimmy in Bad. NEW YORK CITY.—Following a year of quiet investigation, the Rev. John Haynes Holmes, chairman of the city affairs committee of the state, has announced that a report will be filed at an early date with Governor Roosevelt charging Mayor James J. Walker, mayor of New York city, with incompetence and neglect.

Prince is "Best Seller." BUENOS AIRES.—The premier salesman of England, the Prince of Wales, made a sales talk for the British Empire last Saturday in an inaugural address which dedicated the British Trade Exposition in Argentina, the largest trade show the empire has ever sponsored outside its borders.

Fliers By Radio. MIAMI, Fla.—Guided over its course entirely by radio and other devices, a Ford Tri-motor plane Sunday, settled gracefully onto the Miami flying field after completing a non-stop flight from Dayton, Ohio. The test flight was considered "most successful," having been made in record time without mishap.

Rocket Improved. DESSAU, Germany.—Johannes Winkler, German rocket inventor, has started projects of rockets with a new device which permits a rocket to be controlled from the take-off to the point of landing. For the first time, also, liquid fuel has been used with the result that higher efficiency is gained. The problem next to be taken up by the inventor is to allow a landing which will not demolish the rocket.

Everybody Pays. WASHINGTON.—At midnight last night 4,000,000 citizens were supposed to have mailed income tax returns of their 1930 incomes to the federal treasury department. The tax to be paid by about 2,500,000 of those filing, was expected to equal $525,000,000. The collection of this sum, coupled with major refinancing plans and other monetary operations, will make the March turnover amount to $3,000,000,000—the greatest since the World war.

Every Student Should Vote

EVERY student in the university should vote at tomorrow's election. How he votes is not important; the principle is. There are no politics involved in the election. It is entirely a matter of personal liberty.

There is no place in a university which attempts to foster a liberal attitude for customs which dictate styles for its students. The two are incompatible. Unfortunately, only one of the customs will be voted on tomorrow but if the vote turns out against the tradition enough to indicate student interest they will probably have a chance to express themselves on the others later. On the contrary, if students vote in favor of the tradition, the issue is closed for all this year and next as far as The Argonaut is concerned.

If students believe that silly high school customs are essential to the welfare of a university and that these traditions require enforcement they will vote "no" for the abolishment of hats for sophomores and juniors and "yes" for sophomore enforcement. If they believe otherwise they will vote "yes" for the abolition of sophomore and junior hats and "no" for enforcement of the green hat rule by sophomores.

The election is of little importance. Idaho's standing as an educational institution will not be affected but her standing as a liberal institution will be. How you vote doesn't matter—just vote.

"Selling the School"

LOYALTY to the university demands that a clear road be given the state basketball tourney this week end. It is the one big opportunity this year to sell the school to representative sections of the state. Seven teams from as many towns will be here as our guests. They should be given everything possible in the way of courtesy, sincere interest and attention.

It is from these teams that Idaho coaches expect to draw their men for future Idaho teams. It is up to the university to give them a hand, selling the university to the visiting athletes.

It is from these towns that the school will get a portion of its future students. Sending the visiting teams home with a favorable impression of Idaho will go far in influencing their return, and the registration of their classmates.

"Detour" Causes Varied Ideas In Minds of Puzzled Students

"Walk closed, Detour", were the three little words that aroused a tumult of emotions in the breasts of Idaho students Monday noon, when they were greeted by that sign on the main walk to the Ad building. A few of the psychological, scientific experiments conducted revealed neurotic reactions like these:

"Drunk again!"
"I didn't know whether to jump over the sign or walk around it."
"On a university campus, with Idaho's high standards, and chapters of Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi, they ought to spell 'detour' right."
"I ran down the hill to see why the road was closed."

Like Andy Gump and 348, 99 44-100 per cent took the closed road. These skeptic young people, including civil engineers, English majors, Argonaut reporters, A.G. baseball men, and lawyers, stumbled on the truth—the campus steps were being rejuvenated.

The lawyers revealed deeper, more sentimental reactions. "Ah, those old steps! What happy days, what famous men they have seen! It was here that Custer took his last stand. Rudy Valee stood on them as he played the 'Stein song' for the first time. Many a state senator trod on them and later voted down a library."
"The paths of glory lead but to the grave."

NEALE COMMENTS STATE'S SOLONS IN TALK SUNDAY

"Where There is No Vision, the People Perish," President Claims

"The Greatness of a Nation" was the subject of the address which President Mervin G. Neale delivered Sunday at the evening services of the L. D. S. church at Moscow. Included in the subject was a discussion of great nations of the past and the characteristics which made them great. Linked with that were conditions as they exist at present in the United States.

In opening his address, the president pointed out the fact that the last month has been the period when we have had the greatest opportunity to watch the functioning of our political government. "When compared with the legislative meetings of some other states," the president said, "we have reason to feel that the work done by the Idaho legislature was of commendable nature."
Selects Field.
Because the economic greatness of the United States or any country is always and continually dealt with, President Neale chose to pass by that phase of our condition and go instead to fields which are thought, in connection with greatness, but which are as important, if not more important in enduring greatness. In this connection it was pointed out in the address that the things which have existed through the ages—as evidences of the greatness of Rome and of Greece—have been things other than economic factors.
Modern Greece was cited as an example of a really great nation today. To support this statement it was pointed out that in 1922 when a Turkish army drove 1,200,000 Greek refugees out of Asia Minor they were absorbed into the mother country with a population of 5,000,000 already, with comparatively little difficulty.

Basis of Greatness.
Drawing from these examples, President Neale discussed the five things which had been picked out as the basis for greatness, both in ancient and modern times. The first thing was a passion for progress. It included a passion for the advance of scientific nature in everything vital. Scientific methods were declared to be necessary in every phase of life, not alone in the field of production.

Devotion to ideals of democracy in everything including government and individual activities was declared to be the second characteristic of a great nation.
A true public spirit was the third prerequisite for greatness. It was pointed out that the entire attention of the public official to his duties was necessary for the best performance of them. Again referring to Greece, Dr. Neale mentioned the fact that many people of that nationality who have been elected to high positions in this country have been outstanding because of the service which they rendered. It was on this point that certain public officials of today were criticized.

Passion for Education.
The fourth necessity was a passion for education. The president said, "I see no way to explain our position to educational appropriations unless it is cowardice and fear that we won't come out of the present period of depression. It is unfair to penalize the men of tomorrow for economic difficulties of today."
In this connection President Neale declared that education had always been the basis for history's great achievements and that "we should look with shame" on a failure to provide for adequate school expenditures.

The fifth and concluding essential of greatness was declared to be vision, the ability to look and plan ahead. It was with the thought expressed in the motto, "Where there is no vision, the people perish," that President Neale closed his remarks.

DYNAMITE clears the way for modern engineering wonders!

The EMPIRE STATE BUILDING

How DYNAMITE was used in the construction of the world's tallest building

A NEW giant skyscraper now looks down on New York's magnificent skyline. It is the Empire State Building... and its topmost peak towers 1248 feet above the earth!

It is the newest engineering marvel. Architects, engineers, steel workers, riveters shared in its making. But one mighty ally... DYNAMITE... was first on the scene to do its powerful bit.

Working efficiently, quickly, Dynamite blasted out solid rock so that the great foundation—75 feet below the earth—might be placed. Thirteen thousand pounds of du Pont Dynamite was used on the job.

Skyscrapers... tunnels... bridges... highways... dams... reservoirs... these and numerous other engineering wonders are made possible through the aid of Dynamite.

If you would like to learn more about explosives and how to use them... if you want to learn today for tomorrow's jobs... simply write direct to the du Pont Company for full information.

You will receive a copy of The Blasters' Handbook, which contains a great deal of the vast knowledge of the explosives gained by the du Pont Company in 129 years of making and testing explosives. This book is used in the classrooms and libraries of leading technical institutions. Your copy is free. Write for it.

ONLY three house dances furnished social activity on the campus this week-end. The Sigma Chi cabaret and Kappa Kappa Gamma dinner-dance were formal; and Beta Theta Pi gave an informal Sports' dance. The Sigma Chi formal cabaret was given Friday night at the Blue Bucket inn. Confetti, serpentine, and noise-makers were generously distributed and served to lend the proper atmosphere to the occasion.

Beta Theta Pi held a sports' dance at their chapter house on Friday night also. The house was decorated with sports' trophies, tennis rackets, golf clubs, and other sporting goods. Members of the chapter and their guests were dressed in the appropriate wearing apparel.

Kappas Give Formal.
The single dance scheduled for Saturday evening was the formal dinner dance given by Kappa Kappa Gamma. It was held at the chapter house and was carried out in a colonial idea, which was fitting to the setting of the house. Sunday afternoon the Cadet band gave a concert in the university auditorium. ### KAPPAS GIVE FORMAL DINNER DANCE

Beta Kappa chapter of Kappa Kappa Gamma entertained Saturday night, March 14, at the chapter house with a formal dinner dance. Dinner was served at 6:30 and dancing followed. The motif for the affair was old Colonial. Silhouette figures of the later "nineties" framed the windows, with spot lights from the outside.

The house was transformed into a home of the southerner with silhouette pictures and etchings. Yellow daffodils were used; and yellow candles served to light the house. Colored men served the dinner during which a "minstrel" furnished entertainment. The orchestra was also blackfaced.

Patrons and patronesses were: Mrs. Elizabeth Shaw, Dean Permeal French, Mr. Theodore Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Pendleton Howard, and Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Youngstrom.

WOMEN DEBATERS TALK OVER RADIO

Co-eds Lose Close Decisions On Trip; Broadcast Over KORE

Idaho women debaters, on their recent tour, were greeted with several close decisions, though no victories were obtained. Idaho's co-eds debated the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That Gandhi has been a benefit to India."

The team debated Oregon State college. March 10, University of Oregon, March 11, and Willamette university, March 12, holding up the negative side of the question, and losing a 2 to 1 decision in each case. The judges, however, agreed that the Idaho women were better on the rebuttals, and in ability to adapt their case to the affirmative argument.

Lois Porterfield and Elsie McMillin, Idaho's team, received a new treat at the University of Oregon, where the debate was broadcast over radio station KORE as well as given direct to the audience. This is the first time in several years that a varsity co-ed debate has been broadcast over the Eugene station.

Tryouts for the trip to Seattle to the meeting of the Inter-collegiate Forensic meeting will be held here soon. The oratory group tryouts will be held March 24 and the extemporaneous contest on the following afternoon. One student will be chosen from each group to represent Idaho at the meeting in Seattle on April 6.

FAMED ENGINEER TO SPEAK HERE

Published Book, Edited Magazines, and Worked on Railroads

Mr. Roy V. Wright, national president of American Society of Mechanical Engineers will visit the campus on March 24. The student chapter of the society will sponsor a dinner in his honor, at the Blue Bucket inn that evening at 6:00 o'clock.

Mr. Wright, upon graduation from the Minnesota college of engineering was employed by a railroad company. Later he became chief mechanical engineer for the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad. Then he was elected associate editor of the American Engineer and Railroad Journal. In 1911, he was appointed managing editor of Railway Age, professional publication.

His contributions in papers and discussions have been an inspiration toward better engineering professors say. He contributed a chapter on transportation in the symposium, "Toward Civilization" edited by Dr. Charles A. Beard and published a year ago. He was one of the honorary editors of the Professional Divisions' reports on technical developments since 1880, as published in the Fiftieth anniversary issue of Mechanical Engineering.

George G. Madlinger is now teaching at Memphis, Tenn.

The Cinemaniac Looks at the Pictures

"KISMET," a story of the Orient will be shown at the Kenworthy on Tuesday and Wednesday. Otis Skinner plays the leading role as the beggar who becomes very wealthy for one day and loses it the next. Skinner was fortunately given sufficient liberty by the directors to interpret the role in a very fine way. Another excellent performance is shown by Mary Duncan as the harem favorite. Although the part is small, Miss Duncan makes the best of it and becomes our harem favorite. About the only change from the play is in added dialogue, which might well be omitted. This is a picture well worth seeing.

HELEN TWELVETREES plays the leading role opposite William Boyd in "The Painted Desert" which comes to the Kenworthy on Thursday and Friday. She recently won recognition by her portrayal of "Frankie" in "Her Man." This picture was filmed in the desert in the vicinity of Tuba City, Arizona. While the company was still on location there, several lives were lost in the premature explosion of dynamite used to blow up a mountain side in one scene.

INTRAMURAL RACE FOR TROPHY LED BY LAMBDA CHIS

Phi Gamma and Kappa Sigs Furnish Close Competition

With basketball almost over and only three events left on the intramural athletic schedule, Lambda Chi Alpha heads the list of organizations toward winning the intramural cup with 250 points. Phi Gamma Delta is second in the running with 212, while the Kappa Sigma athletes are close third with 200 points.

Valleyball was scheduled as the first event of the school year. The tournament was played between October 3 and 10. Lambda Chi walked off with first, 100 points, the Phi Delt's second, 75, Beta's third, 50, and the Sigma Nu's fourth with 50.

Beats Own Time. On October 30 the Kappa Sigma men won 100 points after they placed first in the cross-country run. The Tau Mem ran in second with 75, Phi's third with 60, and L. D. S. and Beta runners split forty points between them. Leness' Hall, L. D. S. took first place in the meet by beating his time on the previous year 12 minutes, 36 seconds.

Indoor baseball gave the Phi's 100 points, Beta Chi 50 and S. A. E.'s 50. The event was played in leagues lasting from November 23 until December 3. One hundred and fifty points were scored by Lambda Chi after they took both firsts in the singles and doubles in horseshoes. Lindley threw a second with 50 points, A. T. O. second 50, Beta Chi third 30, Lindley third 30, and Sigma Nu fourth 20, T. M. A. fourth 20.

The aquatic sport was captured by the Kappa Sig's who scored 100 points. Phi Delt's took first in A league 75 points, Lindley second with 50 and Phi's second with 50.

Only Three Left. Track, tennis, and golf are the only sports left outside of basketball, which is two-thirds over. Track will more than likely begin as soon as the present sport is over. Tennis and golf will be played as the weather permits.

Total Points Toward Cup. Lambda Chi Alpha 250, Phi Gamma Delta 210, Kappa Sigma 200, Phi Delta Theta 150, Beta Theta Pi 145, Lindley hall 130, Tau Mem Alpha 95, Tau Omega, 50, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 50, L. D. S. Institute 20, Sigma Chi Delta Chi, Tau Kappa Epsilon and Ridenbaugh, nothing.

By Dynes Lawson
The Independent intramural basketball five went down to seventh from the top rung in the B league ladder last night when they were defeated by the Kappa Sig's 32 to 16. By hard driving the Coaches assured themselves of the top rung in A league when they downed the Beta team 27 to 23.

In the first game Monday, Ridenbaugh took the A.T.O.'s down from their third place position by a 17 to 10 score. Jacoby was high man with 9 markers.

Sigma Nu maple men scored 12 points Saturday afternoon to win over the S.A.E.'s 9 and to make sure their top rung in B league. At the half the game was tied with a 5 to 5 score.

Fifteen points by Swanson enabled the Kappa Sig's to win over the Teke's with a 38 to 14 score. Marcus sank 3 baskets and a foul for Teke honors.

Two hard games still face the Sigma Nu men who have up-to-date won all six of their athletic engagements. There is a possibility of the Sigma Nu's losing two more games. The first position in B league then might result in a tie between two or three teams. The Coaches look like the probable winners of the title in A league. They have proved themselves to be by far the strongest team. Their only dangerous rival is the Beta Chi team which has a single loss.

ODDS NOT QUOTED ON TITLE SCRAP

Eight Cornered Fight Promised By Present Dope Sheet

With everything set for the state basketball tournament this week all that is necessary to start an argument is to say that so-and-so is going to take home the title. Every team has its backers and all are contributing their moral support to the home town.

Five teams will represent the southern part of the state and three will defend the honor of the north. No inter-sectional games have been played and it is impossible to compare the relative strength of the competing teams.

The following is local data on the competing teams.
Boise Wins Two. Boise—Winning two out of three games in the deciding series with Mountain Home. Boise won the right to compete in the state tournament. The down staters are coached in the ways and means of football by Loren Basler, former Willamette player, who received football coaching under Matty Matthews, former Idaho coach. Elliott, Swan, and Gill are the mainstays of the capitol's team.

Coeur d'Alene—The Coeur d'Alene Vikings have been contenders for the state title for the last five years, and crashed through in 29 to take the honors. Again in '29 they reached the finals but were defeated by Pocatello in the deciding game. Last year the Vikings reached the semi-finals. "Telly" Telford, member of the Pacific coast championship Vandal team in '23 and all-coast guard has coached the Coeur d'Alene squads into 33 victories out of 69 games in the four years, to present the most formidable record in the state. This year the Lake City men have won 19 of 21 games, the two defeats coming at the hands of the Idaho freshman team.

Idaho Falls—Idaho Falls downed the St. Anthony five in the finals of their district tournament. The Tigers are said to have one of the best balanced teams in the state. A. C. Barringer is the Idaho Falls coach.

Moscow—Although gaining the right to enter the tourney through the role of host, the Moscow high school team is conceding nothing to the opposition. They have won a majority of their games and topped off a successful season by losing out Lewis and Clark, Spokane city champions. Gale Mill, former Idaho student is the present coach of the local entrants. Any team which draws Moscow will have its hands full in covering Hall, classy center, besides four other capable basketeers.

Draw Large Crowd. Twin Falls—When Twin Falls and Buhl got together in the finals of the south central championship, they drew one of the largest crowds in the state. Three thousand fans received their money's worth and the Bruins put up a great rally to finally defeat the Buhl five by one point and then go ahead to eliminate Hagerman, B league winners. Coach E. V. Jones has developed two fine players in Weaver and Bacon, center and guard.

Lewiston—The Lewiston Bengals had little trouble in disposing of the Winchester quintet in the battle for north central honors, and romped off with a 31 to 15 victory. It has been reported that the town of Lewiston is to invade Moscow en masse to see finishing touches of a successful season.

Loss But Two Games. Moreland—The Eagles came through a 27-game season and only dropped two by the wayside. During the season they smothered opposition with 1,055 points; their opponents only looped 624 points through the basket. Moreland came through their local district meet unscathed.

Arco—Is an unknown quantity in the coming meet. It survived the district tournament in fine style. Reports say that this southern band is planning to show the north just how basketball is played.

The Sport Shop

By Paul Boyd

The present month finds the sport horizon almost bare. This time period when coaches are attempting to condition their men and get them ready for spring encounters. Eligibility rulings plus weather that can hardly be called "spring" cut their swath during this period. As the nine weeks are approaching Coach Otto Anderson is wondering who will be stricken from the list and who will be allowed to compete for another two or three months.

Not many reports are coming from the field house about Idaho's chances, although they are vastly improved over those of last year. Tacturnity seems to be the method adopted by the Idaho coach when asked to comment on the teams chance this year. Coach Anderson has very little to say, except that the boys are working and will be ready for the BIG MEET.

A thorough search of the records show that Idaho has won just one dual meet in the last seven years, and that was produced last year. If the long dearth could be broken last year, then much better things can be expected this year, because the Idaho team is vastly improved in every department.

Every coach in the conference is grooming one or two men for the "blue ribbon" event of an athletes lifetime, and that is the Olympic meet. It is to be held this year at Los Angeles, and a decided boon it is to the west coast. Stanford, U. S. C., Washington and California have had their share of palm winning heeres and Idaho has two men, that stand an excellent chance for this cream of all meets.

Bill McCoy and Bernard Lemp are the boys in the spot. Lemp ran a second in a blanket finish to Steve Anderson last year in the northwest meet, and with Anderson gone from this part of the country, Lemp should be the best timber topper in the Northern division. McCoy should be the other. Any leap past 13 feet is getting far above the rank and file. If he is able to add nine inches to his present height, Lee Barnes had better buy a longer pole.

If it weren't for such a weak hurling department, the Vandal apple knockers might go places in the ball race this year. But all of that is in the future and is too hard to foretell, at least till the diamond is able to be played on. Three or four veterans and a raft of promising rookies will greet Coach "Rich" Fox's initial call.

One boy that you want to keep your eye on this year is the carrot topped lad from Lewiston. We are referring to Jack Lee. If he can hit his weight, he will be one of the most valuable men on the squad, because he has been playing semi-pro ball for several years, and has learned many tricks about the old racket.

Another thing that it does is that it enables the coaches to get closer to the youngsters of the state, and to impress upon them the necessity of their coming to their own state university. If a few could be made to realize that Idaho is travelling in the fastest competition in the west, they would not be so hesitant about coming up here.

WOMEN SET RECORD WITH RIFLE SCORES
Scoring a total of 492 points out of a possible 500 in two out of three matches, the Women's rifle team established their season's record for high scores in intercollegiate matches fired during the past week. The matches were fired against the University of Maryland, University of Nebraska and the reports of the results of the firing at these institutions have not been received.

CAGERS FINISH LATE PRACTICE
Varsity cagers have put in ten days of workouts and will wind up spring practice with an exhibition battle for visiting high school clubs next Thursday night. The Foxmen have played several games with Moscow high school. They took on the Lewiston quintet last Saturday afternoon in a battle that was featured by the brilliant basket shooting of Lacy and Grenier.

BATMEN TO WORK ON OUTSIDE SOON

Idaho's diamond artists are nearing the end of their indoor practice period. "Rich" Fox plans to have the men on MacLean field next week for the start of the spring season.

The wet grounds and spring basketball have hampered the ball players, but they will get in a good month of workouts and trial battles before the opening of the conference race, the last of April.

The squad has been growing every night until now there are nearly fifty men all set to put on the suits and pound the pellet in the first outdoor practice. Most of the Vandals have been tossing the ball around in the gymnasium for an hour or so each afternoon. Fox plans to get his charges used to the feel of the war club as soon as possible, as the Idahoans will be stronger than ever this season. Fox will have to drive his moundmen hard before they face the heavy coast hitters.
