Students Must Be Welcome Game When The Authorities Have to Make a Noise

CRUSADING policemen with the fire of pure ardor in their hearts have found a new and fertile field for their prohibition activities on the campus of some of the nation's largest universities. Stated by liberal biting and political "influence" in their half-hearted efforts to stanch the flow of liquor at its source, they have turned to the fraternity house, the boarding house, and the dormitory, where they can safely exhibit their zeal without the danger of treading upon the toes of those who can kick back.

Student discipline seems inherently the problem of the university concerned. So long as liquor is readily available in speakeasies protected and sponsored by the police, college students will make use of it. Drinking was not a thing unknown in the old days as the zesty stories of many an alumnus will testify. There is no reason to expect undergraduate nature to change.

Let the university deal with its own problems. Let the undergraduate "rioter" be warned or punished by university authority, which should prove amply sufficient to curb his excesses. But police raids have no place upon the campus of an American university, and their functioning in this respect is a swaggering show against an easy victim when powerful agents prove beyond their reach.—The Daily Californian.

Why Enforcement?

THE SOPHOMORE class is to be congratulated for the stand its members took Wednesday night against enforcing the green hat campus rule. The second year men feel that it is no affair of theirs whether the freshmen come to school in green hats or dirty pink tights, and it isn't.

The situation confronting the school, due to this extraordinary and unexpected decision of the sophomores, is a grave one. There is a ruling which requires all freshmen to wear green hats but the number of people interested in seeing them do it seems to be dwindling. At any rate, the sophomores are not interested enough to be willing to make themselves appear foolish by dashing hither and yon across the greensward in the wake of a hatless and frantic yearling.

Representatives of the two lower classes are only mildly interested in the whole affair and the fact that at the present time less than 50 per cent of the freshmen are observing the rule proves that it does not have a large following. If the freshman and sophomores aren't interested, who, then, should be? (The editor here refrains from writing "no one", after reflecting that there are plenty of people who are.)

The "I" club has already given up the job of enforcement so it looks as though some other campus organization, lacking a raison d'etre, might justify its existence and pull the student body out of a tight place by taking over the job, thus killing two birds with one stone. If however all such campus organizations refuse this responsibility, freshmen somehow will have to be instilled with a pride in their class which will impel them never to venture out of doors without the verdant sky-piece, badge of low station. Of course, the "I" club may come to the rescue and reconsider the action it took a short while ago, but if the lettermen are smart, they won't.

Unless there are some applicants for the position of campus cop it looks as though the curtain were about to be rung down on campus rules. But they'd never stand for it—these lads whose only mark of distinction is their soiled corduroys.

Tonight, sleep like a top!

BEFORE you go to bed, stop at the campus restaurant and eat a bowl of Kellogg's Rice Krispies. Listen to those crunchy-crisp rice bubbles actually crackle out loud. They are a real treat.

And Kellogg's Rice Krispies are so easy to digest. They invite restful sleep. In fact, dietitians advise a crisp cereal before bedtime. How much better than hot, heavy foods!

Rice Krispies are great for a quick lunch. Extra delicious served with fruits or sweetened with honey.

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

The most popular cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include ALL-BRAN, PEP Bran Flakes, Corn Flakes, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—the coffee that lets you sleep.

You'll enjoy Kellogg's Slumber Music, broadcast over WJZ and associated stations of the N. B. C. every Sunday evening at 10:30 E. S. T. Also KFI Los Angeles, KOMO Seattle at 10:30, and KOA Denver at 10:30.

VANDAL MENTORS WIN FROM W. S. C.

Jacoby, Anderson and Bailey Star In Rough Game

In a rough and tumble basketball game the Idaho coaches took the measure of the W.S.C. faculty 38 to 21 in the Memorial gymnasium Wednesday night. The game started off as an ordinary game should start, but soon the referee's only duty was to blow his whistle after baskets as both teams agreed that the game was entirely too tame and that only biting should be barred.

Jacoby, Anderson Lead
In the first quarter Jacoby and Anderson worked several nice blocking plays to score 11 points to W.S.C.'s 1, but after the rest period Buck Bailey, Pullman's man mountain, rallied his forces and made the count to 15-7 at the half.

The last half started with an off guard play but Bailey was holding strong and the Idaho mentors resorted to an aerial attack as Rich Fox began to find the range and dropped in two long shots in quick succession and widened the margin but Mel Hein began using his football knowledge to close the gap again.

The feature of the last period was a wrestling match between Jacoby and Bailey with "Red" using a strange hold to offset Bailey's bear hug. The bout was declared a draw and both players awarded a free throw for valor in action. In the last few minutes of the battle the Vandal coaches showed a smooth working offense to run up the total just before the final whistle. Jacoby led the scoring with 13 points and the fouling with 7 personal.

Second Game
The game was the second of the year and the series ended in a draw with one decision each as the Washington State team took the first game last week by a 22 to 20 count.

The line-up:
IDAHO: Jacoby, 13; Fox, 8; Hurley, 7; Calland, 4; Anderson, 8. W.S.C.: Bohler, 5; Bury, 12; Hein, 2; Bailey, 2; Driskill, 2.

HOME EC MEET HERE IN APRIL

Laundries in the home, their equipment and placing, parental as well as child-education, and the place of home economics on the farm and in agriculture, are a few of the subjects to be discussed at the northern district meeting of the Idaho home economics association scheduled here for Saturday, April 4. Miss Hattie Abbott, district extension agent with the University of Idaho, is chairman of the program. She invites all interested home makers as well as teachers of home economics and extension workers to attend the program.

A business meeting followed by reports from the home economics student clubs will form the morning program. The afternoon session, beginning at 2 o'clock, will probably be of more general interest. It will include talks by Miss Evelyn Roberts, research specialist in home equipment at the Washington State college; Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the home economics department of the University of Idaho; Mrs. Eva Williams, director of child development at the Washington State college; and Dr. Paul A. Eke, economist with the University of Idaho experiment station.

BUNYAN SNITCHES PINE FOR IDAHO

Paul Bunyan's part in introducing the white pine to Idaho was explained to the Associated Foresters yesterday by Supervisor Guy B. Mains of the Boise national forest.

As the story goes, Paul Bunyan was designated to cut timber in the Lake states region during the Civil war by President Lincoln and he continued to cut it even after the war was over, so the federal government endeavored to prosecute him. So Paul Bunyan went around section 37 one night with his spade, and loosening it, hitched Babe, his blue ox, to it and started westward out of reach of government officials. When he arrived over in this Rocky Mountain region, however, it froze during the night and he could not move it further. That's how we come to have white pine in Idaho, Mr. Mains explained.

In his second address he took his listeners to southern Idaho where he described the problems of erosion, and flood control, and the studies now being carried on by the Intermountain forest experiment station.

HOUSE dances and the one-act plays will be the main sources of pleasure scheduled for this week-end. In spite of mid-semester exams next week, members of Hays hall, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Alpha Tau Omega, Daleth Teth Gimel, L. D. S. Institute, and the "T" club are planning dances. Of these dances, Kappa Sigma-Alfa Epsilon upperclassmen, Daleth Teth Gimel, Alpha Tau Omega, and the "T" club are formal. Hays hall, Kappa Sigma and Sigma Alpha Epsilon underclassmen, and L. D. S. students are giving informal dances.

Has Unique Decorations.

The "T" club formal is to be held at the Blue Bucket Inn Friday night. Decorations and programs are to be carried out with the letter "T" and the colors red and white, which are symbolic of the club. The Kappa Sigma-Sigma Alpha Epsilon upperclassmen will have their formal dance at the Kappa Sigma house Friday night. Underclassmen of the two fraternities will have an informal dance the same night at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. The Alpha Tau Omega formal will be held at the chapter house Saturday night.

The Hays hall informal dance will be Friday night. Flood lights are to be used in decoration. L. D. S. Will Give Carnival. The L. D. S. institute informal dance Saturday night will be one of the unique spring affairs. It is to be a carnival dance with the appropriate decorations of balloons, with booths, and a false ceiling of different colored crepe paper. Noise-makers which will add to the carnival spirit, will be given to the guests.

Four one act plays by the classes in play production under the direction of Fred Blanchard, coach, will be presented Friday and Saturday nights in the university auditorium.

JUNIOR MIXER IS BIG SUCCESS

The Junior Mixer Wednesday night, which was one of the last mixers of the year, was attended by a large crowd. For the second time at a Junior mixer this year, there were more women present at the first of the evening than men. Entertainment was furnished by John Peacock who tap danced, while the prize for the dirtiest "cords" was awarded to Albert Abbott. Patrons and patronesses were Dean and Mrs. J. F. Messenger and Dr. and Mrs. J. Wesley Barton.

SPURS INITIATE

Jean Houston, Gooding, was initiated into Spurs, national honorary for sophomore women, Wednesday night. Last year Miss Houston attended Monmouth College, Monmouth, Illinois, where she was a member of Kappa Alpha Sigma social society. She is now a member of Delta Delta Delta sorority and succeeds Juanita Maston as Spur representative. Initiation rites were held at the Kappa Kappa Gamma chapter house.

VANDALEERS PRESENT MUSICAL PROGRAM

The Vandaleer chorus presented a musical program at the L.D.S. Institute on Sunday evening, March 23, to a capacity audience of townspeople and students. Choral numbers, duets, solos, and numbers on the cello and violin were features of the program, and Kathryn Hart, Rigby, gave a reading.

Week-end guests of Kappa Alpha Theta were: Mrs. Wickwire, Spokane; Kathryn Cole, Minnie Her- al, Pullman; Barbara Smith, Lois Jones, Boise; Agnes Moore, Mrs. Lockridge, Miss Noyes, Orofino.

FACULTY TO HEAR FAMOUS SPEAKER

Writer and Educator Will Talk in Moscow April 16

Dr. Benjamin W. Wood, widely known writer and investigator in educational research, will address the University of Idaho faculty, April 16, according to an announcement from the president's office. Dr. Wood has been a member of the Columbia university faculty at New York since 1923. His rank is associate professor of collegiate educational research. He is best known in the testing field, especially achievement testing, a subject on which he is an authority. One of his books in the Idaho library is "Measurement in Higher Education." Some phase of research work in higher education probably will be his subject for his talk before the Idaho faculty.

Several months ago he made several appearances at universities in the middle west. Two days before he is due in Moscow he is scheduled for talk at Eugene, Oregon. On his trip west Dr. Wood will stop at Pocatello, April 12, for a visit with Dean J. R. Dyer, one of his former research students.

P.I.P.A.—Fiesta days, bull fights and dances which girls attend with their mothers, are described as part of college life at the University of Salamanca in Spain, by Frances Puccini, University of Oregon jun- ion in the language and literature department, who studied Spanish literature, and art there last year.

BARTON TALKS ABOUT RELIGION

"Science and religion are not two different things," declared Dr. J. W. Barton in his general lecture on religion before 150 psychology students yesterday morning. This is an annual talk presented by the psychology professor. "It is one," he said, "which I really hate to give, for it touches on something sacred to so many individuals."

In his talk Doctor Barton stated that we need a system of thought which includes both science and religion. Both are concerned with human good, and both are indispensable.

In speaking of the church he said that it is the only organized means we have of perpetuating the "eternal standard." "A man or woman is foolish," he said, "who doesn't attach himself to a church."

The Cinemaniac

DANCE FOOLS DANCE, starring Joan Crawford, is showing for the last time at the Kenworthy tonight. The picture is a gangster story and the plot develops at a breath-taking pace. In one scene Miss Crawford wears a seemingly scanty costume which in reality weighs 16 pounds, being composed entirely of tiny metal disks.

THE SEAS BENEATH will be shown at the Kenworthy on Saturday. The leading roles are taken by George O'Brien and Marion Lessing, a new find. This picture is the story of a German submarine of the World War. Ferdinand Schumann Heineck, son of the noted opera singer, portrays a role identical to the real life career of his brother who perished in a submarine disaster in this war.

PARLOR BEDROOM AND BATH, starring Buster Keaton, the sober-faced comic, appears at the Kenworthy Sunday. This picture is a revision of the well-known stage farce of the same name and has been brushed up and gone over until it is just as humorous as ever, even to those who have seen it before. Buster Keaton has not appeared in many talking pictures but those he has been in have been of the highest merit. This one upholds his reputation. Charlotte Greenwood, clever and awkward, adds a great deal to the humor of the film.

THE LASH may still be seen at the Vandal. Richard Barthelmess has the role of a romantic Mexican bandit of the "Robin Hood" type, who lived in California at the time just after the war with Mexico.

INTRAMURAL RACE SEES SIGMA NU'S, BETA CHI'S AHEAD

Meet Next Week for University Basketball Title

STANDINGS
A League.	B League.

Beta 3	Independents 3 5
Sigma Chi 2	T. K. E. 2 6
L. D. S. 0	T. M. A. 0 8

Sigma Nu hoopers completed their schedule of eight games in B league last Wednesday night when they defeated the Fiji's 35 to 16, giving themselves eight straight wins in journey play. As result of the Fiji defeat the S. A. E.'s are now in line for the runners-up place in the league. They will play the Fiji's next Monday night.

With the Beta Chi's holding down the first place and 75 points in A league due to the Coaches not playing for points, the fight for the second rung in the ladder goes on between the men from Ridenbaugh with 3 won and 3 lost, A. T. O.'s with 4 and 4, Lindley 3 and 4, and the Phi Delt's with 3 and 4. It looks as if a tie will be the ultimate result for this position.

Lindley Hall Wins.
Last night the Lindley men won from the Beta's with a 34 to 22 score. Reed with 11 and Callahan with 6, were the hall high scorers. Due to the failure of the Independent team to appear the T. K. E.'s won a forfeit game.

Baskets made from all over the floor, by Barker, Sigma Nu, with the help of his teammates, drew blood from the Fiji's who ended on the short side of a 33 to 16 score. This was the Sigma Nu's last game and their eighth straight win of the season. The same night A. T. O. basketmen played a fast game with the Phi Delt's which closed 26 to 21, A. T. O.

The university championship game will be played about the middle of next week, said Howard Berg, intramural manager. Several postponed games will be played off before the main event.

Postponed Games Scheduled.

8:30 S. A. E. vs. Fiji.

VANDALS TO OPEN AGAINST WHITMAN

Baseball Team Will Go to Walla Walla Next Week

Idaho's inexperienced baseball nine got its first taste of outdoor practice last Monday and "Rich" Fox is counting on the two weeks workout to put his Vandals on edge for the opening battles of the season against Whitman at Walla Walla next Friday and Saturday.

There are only six veterans in the diamond camp and Fox is badly in need of hitters if the Idahoans hope to place high on the conference ladder in June. Duffy and Johnson, outfielders; Lindsay and Spaugy and Jacobs, pitchers, and Kyselka, third base are the former letter winners. The loss of sluggers like McMillin, Price, and Halliday will be felt when the heavy schedule gets under way and while there are plenty of good men on tap, the 300 hitters are lacking.

Infield Looks Good
Lee, Sather, Lacy and Barrett form a quartet of nifty looking Vandals who will probably hold down the infield for Fox this spring. Lee has garnered lots of ball experience and should develop into one of the best second sackers in the conference as he knows the game, is a sure catch and possesses a powerful throwing arm.

Sather is one of the strongest hitters up from the frosh ranks and is a natural infielder. Pair him with Lee, and Idaho may have one of the smoothest working keystone combinations in the league.

Lacy and Barrett are battling over the first bag and both men should see plenty of action before the last ball is thrown, as either one is capable of turning in a nice ball game both at the plate, and in the field. Barrett is left handed and for that reason may get the call but Lacy has just as good a whoop and may find conference hurling to his liking when he lines up to the plate next month.

Wicks, Hartman and Raidy will form a second string infield combination that will give the regulars some tough games in practice, and one of these men may break into the first string lineup during the pre-season battles.

NAME THOMPSON TO FEDERAL JOB
