Spare, O, Spare

NOT exactly in step with the plan for beautifying the Idaho campus by reseeding and planting shrubs comes the announcement that the university is to get a gas pump—a gaudy red one, located centrally and conspicuously in front of the hut.

It isn't a commercial enterprise. The pump will be used exclusively for cars owned and operated by the university. However, the fact that it is not to be used as a public filling station will not add a great deal to the appearance of the pump. There is, perhaps, nothing which appeals to the aesthetic sense of the average college student less than a gasoline pump and one located in front of the hut will stand out like a lighthouse on a clear night. Amid the shrubs and pleasant buildings of the university a gaudy red pump will dispense gasoline of university cars.

There are dozens of sites as suitable and less conspicuous than the front of the "U" hut. The side or the back of the hut would be better if the tank must be located in the vicinity but spare, o, spare, the front of the hut. A letter with a check from home will lose part of its thrill opened in the vicinity of a gaudy red pump.

College Cynicism

THOUGH cynicism is regarded as a phenomena of collegiate philosophy, it is actually the neutral result of a maturing process, for students in this era of education believe that they have reached the acme of understanding.

They have been disillusioned by their discoveries in the class-room, social life, and in activities. Citizen onlookers regard the cynicism of students as an unnatural monstrosity, overlooking the fact that it is just one stage in normal development. They cannot realize the superficiality which characterizes this change from knee-pants thinking.

Though the metamorphosis is condemned, largely because it is unexpected, it may have its good points. It gives the emerging gosling protection from the onslaughts of the fanatic or the unscrupulous and lays the foundation for a wider and more profound knowledge of humanity.

CHICAGO, Ill. Working on the theory that "truth will out," scientists at the crime detection laboratory of Northwestern university are experimenting with a new drug known as "truth serum," which is said to be so potent that even the gibbets liar, when put under its influence, must break down and reveal the secrets of his soul.—Morning Oregonian.

The juniors don't call that stuff "truth serum."

290 DEGREES APPLIED FOR BY SENIORS

Registrar Releases Names of 1931 Applicants For Bachelor Honors

With a total of 290 students submitting applications for bachelor's degrees, the 1931 graduating class will be one of the largest in years.

The class has sixteen more students than the 274 of last year, and has four less than the record-breaking class of 1929. The applications for master's degrees which will also be presented in June have not been announced.

Education School Leads. The largest percentage of this year's graduates are enrolled in the school of education, a total of 77 applying for bachelor of science degrees in that school. The school of business administration comes next with 45. Twenty-four students ask degrees in agriculture and 21 in forestry; 11 in home economics, 4 in music and 11 in science. In the professions 11 ask degrees in pre-medical work and 7 in law.

Electrics Popular. Electrical work was the most popular of the engineering studies with 20. Three wish diplomas in chemical engineering, 7 in civil engineering, and 2 in mechanical engineering. Three ask degrees of the school of mines, 1 each in mining engineering, metallurgy and geology.

The complete list of the graduating class follows:

IDAHO GRADUATE DRAMATICS COACH Enters State Contest for Second Time

Being coach of dramatics in the high school entering a one-act play in the state dramatic contest for the second consecutive year is the record of which Jean Collette, '28, can boast. Burley high school, which last year won this division in the state contest, will present Tarkington's "The Trusting Place" tonight. Miss Collette was a major in English and dramatics, and was very prominent on the campus, being a member of Mortar Board and Curtlain. She is a Tri Delta.

Old-Time Circus Is Motif Of Junior Parade Thursday

The Junior Parade! A medley of horses and wagons! And the poor seniors standing on the side lines with their noses out of joint taking it all in. A frisky plough horse of 45 summers, the leader of the Sigma Nu cowboys, jogging placidly across the campus while the little fellow on top hollered through his megaphone, "Hey Stop!"

Alpha Phi Ben Her and Ben Him the bare back riders sliding down the tall of the fiery steed despite the valiant efforts of the pillow-plus-switches lady to rescue them. When Bill A. Gamma Phi clown tying a straw hat on a horse's ear while the poor beast snorted and the other clowns screamed. The D. G. ladies perched on top the bread wagon and tried to fool the public into believing that a fire siren sounded like the call of a hippopotamus.

Old Alpha the elephant, balking because the shoe string of the right front foot became undone and the left hind foot lost his head and tied it to the right hind foot, as Phi Gamma took advantage of a class function to ridicule local Tammany. The Hays midgets from Mars looking serene but really terribly uncomfortable because their finger nails kept poking in each others eyes.

The Beta giraffe and camel marching well behavedly along but the pelican flopping around scaring babies. The Delta Chis exhibiting the one and only black elephant in captivity.

The Little Chinese boy playing tag-along with Russians and Frenchmen in the Kappa Sig Cosmopolitan club. The A.T.O.'s threw water on themselves and paper on the crowd, and Lindley re-acted the Peeping Tom terror. The Kappa and Phi Phi cannibals rode in a hay rack and ate straw. The Beta Chi Indians shivered bravely outwardly, but thought inwardly what a lucky fur-clad fellow Dan'l Boone was.

The Tri Deltas came through with a trapeze stunt in the sorority colors, while Ridenbaugh hall led a cow bearing the inscription, "Juniors are the best class yet. And this ain't no bull, either."

"Right this way, Ladies and Gentlemen for the side show of freaks captured by the women of Torney, the T.K.E.s, the Lambda Chi's and the S.A.E.'s. "Old Black Joe" being played by the Theta black cat band while the Alpha Chis walked on and on and on. The L.D.S. mule plodded steadily along and the Sigma Chis played the kind of music that set the steam pipe of the callopo on fire. Dean French said it was one of the best parades she has ever seen.

THIS is a week of unusual activity, especially for the junior class. Not only juniors, but the other students of the university have an opportunity to participate in the various functions taking place this week. The Junior prom, Friday, and cabaret, Saturday, will be indulged in by both upper classes and a few members of the lower classes, a limited number of tickets being available. The prom is one of the outstanding formal of the year. The cabaret, an informal affair, will be held at the Blue Bucket, dancing being provided on both floors. It will close junior festivities.

The gala week began Tuesday night with a serenade for all the group houses, at which time the Junior song was introduced. Announcement of the assembly the following day was made. A capacity crowd attended the assembly.

A humorous skit, including members of the class, and other entertainment was provided.

Juniors Parade.

The juniors parade, which was typified as a circus, began at the dinner hour last night. Each group did its best to convey the idea in as ludicrous a manner as possible. After the parade, the class assembled at the Blue Bucket inn for their annual "party." The mixer was a riot of fun, the students wearing the costumes they had worn in the parade.

Miss Bryce Entertained.

Honoring Miss Gertrude Bryce, Miss Permeal J. French entertained at a breakfast and a tea Tuesday. Miss Bryce is dean of women at the Southern Branch, University of Idaho, Pocatello. She was a guest of Miss French for a few days this week.

This week-end finds scheduled besides juniors week events, the Ridenbaugh hall formal which will be a dinner dance, and also a breakfast dance which will be given by Forney hall on Saturday night. The latter is something new in the way of a social function on the campus. Tonight, Kappa Alpha Theta is holding a joint dance with the Thetas of Washington State college. It will be an informal affair.

MISS FRENCH HONORS MISS BRYCE

Miss Permeal J. French entertained with a tea for Miss Gertrude Bryce, dean of women at the Southern Branch, Tuesday afternoon at Hays hall. In the receiving line were Miss French, Miss Bryce and Bess Louise Hogg. Miss Lena Shoup and Dorothy Janssen poured tea. Orchid candles and snap-dragons decorated the tea table. Guests were faculty members, two representatives from each group house, and students who have attended the Southern Branch.

Miss French was also hostess at a breakfast in honor of Miss Bryce, Tuesday morning at Forney hall. Spring flowers decorated the table.

Guests were Miss Bryce, Mrs. Evelyn R. Clark, Dorothy Shears, Betty Wilson, Catherine York, Joar Harris, Virginia Kneec, Josephine Thompson, Shirley Cunningham, and Elmer McMullin. After the breakfast the girls talked with Miss Bryce about women's activities on the campus.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Bauman, Nampa, and Mrs. H. A. Young, Nampa, were dinner guests of Sigma Chi Monday evening.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA WILL HOLD CONVENTION

Members of Kappa Kappa Gamma are planning to attend the fraternity province convention which is this year being held at Washington State college. Delegates from colleges and universities in Oregon, Washington, British Columbia, Montana and Idaho will attend. The convention is being held Friday and Saturday. Both mornings, afternoon and evening business sessions will be held. Luncheons and formal banquets will be given both days at the Washington hotel. The Pullman chapter will entertain delegates at a tea Friday afternoon at their chapter house. Beta Kappa chapter, Idaho, is planning a breakfast to be given on Sunday morning in honor of the visiting delegates. It will be given at the chapter house here. Betty Bell and Marthalene Tanner are delegates representing the Idaho chapter. Miss Eleanor V. V. Bennett, Berkeley, Calif., national vice president, and Mrs. Harry Davenport, Spokane, province president, will attend.

Miss Grace Severance and Hazel McCannon, Washington State college, were luncheon guests of Kappa Kappa Gamma on Tuesday.

ADVERTISING MEN AT INN TONIGHT

Idaho-W.S.C. Students to Help Advertising Managers

Alpha Kappa Psi, national business honorary organization of the University of Idaho, and Delta Sigma Psi, local business honorary organization of Washington State college, will meet at a joint dinner tonight at the Blue Bucket inn. Principal speakers of the occasion will be Mr. Raymond P. Kelley, of the Syverson-Kelley advertising agency, Spokane, speaking on "The Part that Advertising Plays in Business," and Mr. A. Raymond, advertising manager of the Old National bank, Spokane, on "What Organized Advertising is Doing to Help the Universities."

PARALYSIS VICTIM MAKES HEADWAY

Wayne Blair, editor of the Gem of the Mountains, who was moved to St. Luke's hospital, Spokane, two weeks ago, from the infirmary partially paralyzed, was reported slightly better yesterday. His condition is still extremely serious. He has only one arm capable of voluntary movement.

Blair's case is described as transverse myelitis, a nerve disease of the spine and ganglion centers. It is an unusual form of paralysis, doctors say.

A letter received by a member of the faculty asked that all Blair's friends write him a personal letter. His condition improves when he receives correspondence, nurses said.

The Cinemaniac

STRANGERS MAY KISS is the name of the picture showing at the Kenworthy for the last time tonight. It is taken from one of Ursula Parrott's novels and deals with the experiences of a young woman who tries to live her own life but finds that love interferes. It is a smart and sophisticated picture with Norma Shearer well cast in the part of the girl, Lisbeth. Robert Montgomery appears as Alan, a world rover whom Lisbeth loves devotedly. He deserts her and she turns to a life abroad, trying to forget him. He finally reappears and, after misunderstandings are settled, they are reunited.

CHARLIE CHAN CARRIES ON will appear on Saturday at the Kenworthy. The story is taken from the popular serial by Earl Derr Biggers. It is an intriguing and unusual mystery. Warner Oland, who usually plays the part of the villain, has the title role. John Garrick and Marguerite Churchill supply the romance, and Warren Hymer and Marjorie White supply the laughs as a Chicago gangster and his wife.

HONOR AMONG LOVERS, which will be shown at the Kenworthy on Sunday only, has Claudette Colbert and Fredric March as its featured players. Miss Colbert achieved popularity in "The Lady Lies" and Fredric March will be remembered for his impersonation of John Barrymore in "The Royal Family." In this picture, he plays the role of a wealthy Wall street trader who is charmed by his secretary, Miss Colbert, who is unfortunately married to a worthless embezzler. The settings are impressively modern and the dialogue so natural and brilliantly interpreted that the picture is an excellent one in spite of the improbability of the plot.

A CONNECTICUT YANKEE, starring Will Rogers, will be shown next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Kenworthy. This is the third time that Fox has produced this picture and each version has surpassed the last. The more modernization done, the better the picture becomes. Will Rogers is nearly perfect in his role of "Hank," a Connecticut radio store proprietor. He invents mechanical buffers for polishing armor and introduces baby Austins and machine guns into medieval warfare.

He helps Frank Albertson as "Clarence," the page, to win Maurine O'Sullivan, who plays the part of the princess "Allsande." Myrna Loy makes an excellent villainess as Queen Morgan Le

Fay. JOE BROWN and Winnie Lightner in "Sit Tight" opened at the Vandal last night and will continue until Sunday. Either of these two characters could make a picture entertaining and their combined efforts result in a riotous comedy. Most of the picture is nonsense, of course, but these comedians keep it from being all boring. The Vandal was recently equipped with apparatus for handling the sound-on-film type of talkie, as now exists at the Kenworthy.

MANAGERS MEET TO DECIDE FATE OF SPORTS SLATE

May Arrange Baseball Series For Play-off This Spring

INTRAMURAL STANDINGS

Fiji	200	T. M. A.	85
Lambda Chi	175	A. T. O.	50
Kappa Sig	175	A. E.	50
Sigma Nu	170	Ridenbaugh	50
Beta Chi	155	L. D. S.	20
Phi Delta	145	T. K. E.	0

By Dynes Lawson.
All intramural managers will meet in the gymnasium next Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock to discuss and decide on the sports schedule for remainder of the school year. Tennis is definitely the next event on the calendar.

Next week intramural racket men will be on the courts in a probably single elimination tournament. This event will be played off in leagues with each league winner receiving 75 points toward the annual cup, 60 points for second place and 25 additional markers to the university champions. Whether the same allotment of points will be given separately in single and doubles meets will be decided at the meeting Saturday.

Three Sports Remain.
If intramural men want to play a baseball series this spring it will be left up to their vote Saturday. Only golf and track are left on the schedule besides tennis. Since tennis will be finished within the next three weeks, either golf or track will follow.
Due to the winning of second place in the B league basketball the Fiji's are now holding down 260 points and first position in the total points earned this year. Close behind them are the Lambda Chi's with 250 points. The Kappa Sig's earned 200 points, but 25 were deducted for failure to appear in a horseshoe match and they are in third place.

WORK LEO'S MEN FOR PRACTICE MIX

Shake-down Game Scheduled For April 25 on MacLean Field

Leo Calland has had his varsity gridiron warriors galloping through hard workouts every night this week. The first scrimmage will be this afternoon in preparation for a practice game a week from Saturday.

Warm weather has kept forty footballers on the field each afternoon. Predictions show for a high scoring machine comparable to the squad of '27.

Schmitz, Taylor, Berg, and Callahan form a quartet of wingmen that possess speed, experience and weight. The remainder of the wall candidates have lots of poundage and football brains but lack experience. Veterans like Schutte, Spaugy, Corkery, and Bessler will be on hand in the fall to take care of open jobs. What was considered green material is keeping the veterans humping for their berths.

Bright lights of the spring workouts are the backs, carrying all the essentials of real ball packers and blockers. Smith, Roberts, Wilson and Gartner pack the ball from the quarter's post. Beason and Felton may be slated for line smashing jobs from the full back's post.

Sackett and J. Norby are the putstanding halves on the field and will be used for blocking. Both men are nimble.

Starting lineups for April 25:

Fresh Squad	Squad
Schmitz	le..... Taylor
Hadley	lt..... M. Norby
Wrights	lg..... Hogan
Kline	c..... Cravens
Brallsford	rt..... Bessler
Callahan	re..... Berg
Toyer	lh..... Sackett
Norby	rh..... Cordon
Beason	fb..... Felton
Smith	qb..... Wilson

Reserves: Barbee, Graves, Webb, Roberts, Solum, Wilkie, Gartner, Sullivan and Clawson.

SHAWVER'S RECORD MAY BE BETTERED

The annual pentathlon freshmen gymnasium classes will start next week on MacLean field. The five event contest is run each spring to determine the average physical abilities of freshmen in the track events.

The tournament was initiated last year by Leo Calland. It was a success since it not only provided spirited competition but also uncovered several promising flashes for Otto Anderson's varsity cinder squad, "Rich" Fox said.
Ellis Shawver, varsity baseball candidate, turned in the best all around performance last year and the coaches would like to find a man able to better his record. His performance was: 100 yard dash, 14.3-5; shot put, 28 feet, 10 inches; broad jump, 19 feet, three inches; high jump, 4 feet 9 inches and 440 yard run, 2:30.

Averages will be lowered considerably this spring, coaches say, since many former high school stars are among the first year men.
The averages for the entire freshman class last spring were:
100 yard dash, 12.9.
High jump, 4 feet, 4 1/2 inches.
Shot put, 24 feet, 2 1/2 inches.
Broad jump, 15 feet, 8 inches.

A new spirit seems to have entered the baseball club with the opening of the present season. They are entering play every afternoon with a vim and a verve that has not been shown on an Idaho team during the last 15 or 20 years. Under new management the Vandals will present a formidable nine and with the addition of the "new-found" spirit, things are looking better than before. Of course any improvement will make it a better team than the one of last year.

While Richard Fox is away the team is being handled by Ralph Hutchinson. Hutch has the boys hustling and is spending much time with the infield, in an effort to produce a smooth, effortless combination. Heretofore this has been one of Idaho's largest weaknesses, lack of cohesion in the inner wall. The new coach has been working this fracture out and the four inning game last night revealed to the fans that the infield, functioning as it did, would win some games. The defense is shaping up fine, but the offense is still weak. Hitters must be uncovered. Perhaps they will tear the cover off the apple during the games and are saving the blows. A "money" club is a great asset to any school, and Hutch may uncork one of them.

Why is it that "ginegar" uncovered in every spring training season can't be carried over into the fall campaign. Every year, Idaho enters spring practice with all the fight that one ball club could wish for and a month and a half after the season is underway, it has all died away to a gargle. You can't beat a gargle.

"One-round Hogan", the boy with no varsity experience behind him, is making the most improvement in spring practice. If this 235 pound guard continues to show present form, he will plug a large gap on the '31 varsity. Eiden, Cordon, Callahan, are others that are fighting hard for positions and cannot be counted out of the running. Fans looking for their first glimpse of Idaho's new defense will get their chance next Saturday when the Yamigans and Regulars tangle. Leo Calland has devised a new offense that makes the team use the shift and yet evade the stop rule. Simply, it is putting a man in motion with the shift. After sitting there for the "6" count, part of the time, a man is thrown in motion going the other way, this results in hitting the opposition with their legs crossed, as the misdirection of attack is the keynote of the system.

A toss of 134 feet in the discus by Williams and Thomas' sprint of 1:59.2 in the half mile featured the first outdoor track workout. This is the first time either of these men had an opportunity to get out into the open and go. LOOK OUT FOR IDAHO might be a good watchword.

The Vandal baseball team lost but one man this nine-weeks period through ineligibility. Hugh Duffy, the fastest center-fielder in the circuit was lost to the club for the rest of the season through failure to keep his work up. The Frosh squad lost half of its members, and the varsity lost only one. Spring football doesn't come under this ruling, but if any games were played, they would have to do without a quarterback. Everyone is ineligible except Sather. As the Greeks said it: "In the spring a young man's fancy turns away from the thoughts of books."

LOW GRADES DOWN FROSH TRACKSTERS

Almost Half of Team Are On Ineligible List

With the nine weeks' grades taking the toll of almost half of the freshman track team, prospects in that sport have taken a decided slump. Just as the squad was rounding into shape and was showing prospects for a crack team, ineligibility stepped in and halted the hopes for one of the best seasons seen in a yearling camp for a number of years.

The jumps and the weight events were affected most by the ineligibilities, taking Holden Bowler, Louis Ross, Harold Albee, Howard Greiner, Wilbur McConnell, Wayne Kenworthy, Gerald Fogle, and Dave Curtis. The chances in the sprints were also lessened by the loss of Willis Smith. Although ineligible for competition, most of these men are continuing to work out and are getting themselves into shape for next year's varsity squad.

Slip, two-miler; Livingston, Miller; Bowker, javelin; Squance, hurdes and jumps. From now on these will be the backbone of the Babe team. These men have been performing brilliantly and will probably account for several points in the coming meets with the W.S.C. freshmen and the Gonzaga babes. No positive dates have been set for either of these contests, but they will probably be held sometime in May when they can be worked in without conflicting with varsity meets.

BLACK LIST TAKES DUFFY

Southern California Man Wins Berth at Catching

Baseball prospects at the University of Idaho suffered a setback recently when Hugh Duffy, Jerome, center fielder and one of the few men on the Vandal ball club who batted 300 last season, was declared scholastically ineligible. The loss of Duffy will weaken the Vandal offense as he was one of the most dangerous men with the bat on the Idaho roster. The other two jobs in the outer gardens seem to be cinched by Alvin Jacobsen, Emmett, and Elmer Johnson, Harvard, John Corkery, Spokane; Heath Wicks, Moscow; Ellis Shawver, Jerome; Carl Yan-

"I've shipped on a South Sea Tramp" -says Chesterfield

yet you'll find me just around the corner"

It's a small matter where you meet up with Chesterfield. The point is — get acquainted! You'll find the change to Chesterfield a real change... one which your palate will thank you for! Chesterfield uses choicer and milder tobaccos—nothing else; and so blends and "cross-blends" them that you get just what you want in a smoke... greater mildness and better taste.

They Satisfy — that's Why!

FOR NINETEEN years, our Research Department has kept intimate touch with every new development of Science that could be applied to the manufacture of cigarettes. During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance to the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.
