

CAMPBELL WINS PRESIDENCY

Lionel Campbell Extends Sincere Thanks To The Students For Their Fine Support

First, I wish sincerely to thank all the students who supported me in this election. That it was a great fight and a healthy one for the student body is proven by the unparalleled cast of some 1400 votes. It is my only hope that I shall be able, in the capacity of Student Body President to justify the confidence which the students have placed in me. Also, I wish to express my admiration for the courageous battle staged by the opposing party—a fight and spirit which I trust will continue, not only in the future elections but in the promotion of the best interests of the student body and the University. My congratulations are extended to the new executive board elect.

(Signed) LIONEL CAMPBELL

Stan Hale Congratulates Campbell on Election

The election was the most interesting and enthusiastic I have ever witnessed or heard about on this campus. A great deal of pep and school spirit has been revived by the keen competition shown.

I sincerely hope that both parties will demonstrate as much support cooperatively for the school and ASUI as has been shown for their respective parties.

I wish to congratulate Mr. Campbell upon his election. He is very capable, and should have a very successful year with full support of both Independent and Alpha parties.

(Signed) STANTON HALE

ARCHITECTURE HEAD WILL VISIT CAMPUS

Oregon Man Will Lecture on City of Paris

W. R. B. Wilcox, head of the School of Architecture and Light Arts at the University of Oregon, plans to visit the University of Idaho tomorrow. While he is here he will give an illustrated talk on the city of Paris.

Mr. Wilcox is nationally known in connection with the American Institute of Architects, and has done much improvement committee work with them. He has been making a tour of the Washington colleges, giving lectures. The time for the lecture which will be held in the Science Hall tomorrow afternoon has not yet been definitely decided.

BASHFUL COUPLE WILL SHOW HERE

Reuben and Rachel to Star In Idaho Potato Dance

Gorgeous bluebirds, golden canaries, vari-colored flowers, golden-and-black bees, fruits, trees, fur-traders, missionaries, Indians, Sacajawea, the bird woman; rainbows, and sunsets—all take part in the magnificent portrayal of Idaho's history in the dance festival next Wednesday, campus day.

A dance of the metals, gold, silver, zinc, and copper, representing the mining industry of the state, will be participated in by girls in shining costumes. Idaho potatoes, represented by girls in burlap, with green caps and hose, and brought to town by the bashful couple, Reuben and Rachel, will tumble about in a chaotic dance.

Portray Railroads
The coming of the railroad to Idaho will be portrayed in the festival as a train. East and West are seen on opposite sides of the stage at the beginning of the dance. As the train approaches, East and West move together and are finally united.

A women's chorus from all the halls of houses will sing appropriate music during the performances and dances characterizing the history of the state of Idaho. The choruses will be directed by Miss Maude Garnett and Miss Agnes Bothne, of the music department.

An orchestra composed of York Klidca, and Gordon Willes, violin; Richard Stanton and Samuel Stone, trombone; Floyd Suter and Charles McConnell, trumpets, and Lyle Fraley, clarinet, will accompany the choruses and the dancing.

Indian Dancers
Sixteen Indian dancers will represent the original inhabitants of the state. Their dance is symbolic of the planting of corn, stamping it into the ground, and asking the blessing of the Father.

Outstanding missionaries of Idaho, the missionaries will be shown in connection with the Indians among whom they spent and sacrificed their lives.

Fur traders and their wives will take part in a rollicking square dance, representing the early trapping and fur-trading industry.

Dress Rehearsals
Fully 185 girls will take part in the festival. Continuous practices, dress rehearsals, and costume designing have been going on since spring vacation, said Mrs. Abe Goff, head of the physical education department for women.

Sacajawea, portrayed by Kathryn Hart, will open the festival, representing the guiding of the Lewis and Clark expedition into Idaho by the "Bird-Woman" over the Lo-Lo trail on September 13, 1805.

FORMER IDAHO MAN HAS BOOKS LISTED

Among the list of the sixty best books on education published during 1930 as chosen by the Journal of the National Education Association in its April number, appear two books by C. C. Tieg, is "Statistics for Teachers."

PHI BETA KAPPA GIVES FOUR KEYS TO IDAHO WOMEN

Parsons, Merriam, Packenham, and Axtell Elected To Greek Organization

Acceptance to election in Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic fraternity, by four members of the class of '31, was announced this week by Dr. J. G. Eldridge, president of the local chapter.

Those to be awarded the highly prized key are: Grace Parsons, Virginia Merriam, Bethel Packenham, and Mildred Axtell. Members elected from the class of '31 last fall were James Wayland and Julia Hunter.

First Fraternity
Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter society and at its inception in 1776 at the College of William and Mary in Virginia was a social fraternity, its objects, "fraternity, morality and literature." It has since become a scholastic organization. The key is supposed to be not merely a badge of achievement, but a symbol of future accomplishment.

Alumni members of Phi Beta Kappa are chosen on the basis of high scholarship, moral character, wide interest in education and social progress, and recognized attainment in some worthy line of scholarly or scientific endeavor. It is conferred on graduates of at least 15 years' standing unless unusual merit is shown by earlier demonstrated reports to date of alumni elections and acceptances are:

Alumni "Tapped"
Gustav William Hammar, Ph.D., class of '22, now head of the department of physics at the university; Vaughn Prater Lattig, M.A., class of '24, now instructor in modern languages at the university; Edna Burke, M.A., class of '18, now assistant professor of English at the university; and Ola Bonham Einhouse, B.A., valedictorian of the class of '17.

Honorary members of Phi Beta Kappa are chosen from among men and women of distinction, not graduates of the university, who are brought into intimate relationship with it some way that makes the election appropriate. Membership in this chapter has been accepted by Dr. Harold L. Axtell, acting dean of the college of letters and science at the university and for many years head of the department of classical languages. Doctor Axtell received his bachelor's degree from Kalamazoo college, Michigan, and his doctorate from the University of Chicago.

The Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at Idaho now has an enrollment of 82 members, of whom 67 have been initiated in Moscow. They have all been chosen from the division of letters and science of the university, though alumni members may be chosen from other divisions of the university, especially from those whose interest in general culture has displayed itself since graduation. Alumni members well known in Moscow are Mrs. Mabel Wolfe Gill ('03), the Hon. Burton L. French ('01), and Mr. Benjamin W. Oppenheim ('04), who has been lecturing to the law students of the faculty and in the city from various chapters constituted the petitioning group which obtained the chapter in 1925. They number 14.

SONG, STUNT FEST POSTPONED AGAIN

The Song and Stunt Fest has been postponed again until Thursday, May 21, according to Edward Coon, chairman. It will be shown only one night instead of two as had been planned for next Monday and Tuesday evenings. It is believed that this date will be definite with no further change necessary.

The date was postponed the second time for the dramatics class, which will use the auditorium stage each night next week for rehearsal of their play to be presented that week-end.

The songs and stunts of the four classes are ready for presentation. The postponement will give the performers time to round up the program into perfection.

FORESTERS TO HOLD ANNUAL BARBEQUE

VANDAL BATSMEN BACK FROM TRIP

Drop Last Game to University of Washington by Narrow Margin

Idaho's young and hustling baseball nine wound up the annual coast conference tour Monday and Tuesday when they dropped a pair of tight battles to a great defensive Washington team by counts of 9 to 4 and 7 to 5.

The Vandals had no trouble connecting with the slants of the Husky moundmen, but spectacular running catches robbed them of winning scores in both games while the pitching and fielding of the team was up to par all during the Seattle stay.

The opening tilt was ragged and listless until Kyselka, Vandal shortstop, pounded out a homer in the eighth inning, while singles by Corkery and Jacobsen in the second gave Idaho a score, and Hayden's hit in the sixth scored Raily and Kyselka. The winners counted six of their runs in the first two innings when a fluke umpire's decision called a Purple and Gold player safe at first after the Vandals had trotted off the field and several Husky runs were chalked up.

Lindsay opened the game for Idaho, but was removed in favor of Jacobs in the second frame and the veteran moundman held the Seattle sluggers in check the rest of the afternoon.

Counting Begins At 3
During the voting and for some time afterwards, politicians were gathered in groups throughout the administration building discussing the outcome of the election. Electioneering was evident wherever voters might wend their way, except that the politicians were careful to stay outside of the vicinity of the polls.

Bury The Hatchet

WELL, it's all over including the shouting. The Argonaut congratulates the students who were elected to fill A.S.U.I. offices and pledges them its support throughout the coming year.

The campaigning just prior to election was intense and undoubtedly created ill-feeling between partisans of the two organizations but no one was hurt—much—and it is a relief to know that the hatchet is buried for another year at least.

The students who were elected need not feel that they were "pushed" into office without the popular support of the student body. The number of votes cast and the general interest in the election is a testimonial to their executive ability from the majority of the students. The Argonaut feels that the best men were elected and, again, it is glad to promise its support to the new student administration.

PLANS FOR SENIOR PICNIC UNDECIDED

Two New Alternatives Announced if Trip to Hayden Lake Fails

The Senior Picnic will be called off if assignments are not in by Friday night according to Patrick Walker and Russell Randall. If there are not enough assignments in by Friday night, there are two alternatives for the seniors. They may have their picnic at Chatcolet. In that case they will leave Moscow at 8 o'clock in the morning having breakfast here first and then travel on the Union Pacific via Tekoa to Chatcolet where they will have lunch and dinner. This way they will not go through Spokane and will reach Moscow by 12 o'clock Friday night. This will cost about $3.00 per person. If this plan goes through all assignments will have to be in by next Wednesday. If this does not go through, another alternative, that of going to Moscow mountain for the day and having a dance at Rowlands Park in the evening. This would cost about $1.50 apiece but only one meal would be served there.

By commencement time, physicians predict, Dr. Brooks will be in his grave. He is suffering from an abdominal malady.

BANKER SPEAKS BEFORE CLASS

J. M. Leisner, Spokane, Discusses Depression Causes

The action of Federal Reserve banks of the United States during the present business depression was one of the things discussed extensively before a class in money and banking last Friday by J. M. Leisner, assistant manager of the Spokane branch of the San Francisco federal reserve bank.

Mr. Leisner came to the university at the invitation of Dean Farmer of the school of business and spent the morning in Moscow. The special purpose for which he made the trip was to explain from a practical standpoint the activities of the federal reserve banking system.

In discussing the activities of the bank in time of the recent speculation on the stock market which resulted in the financial depression through which the country is now passing, Mr. Leisner defended the system against arguments that it had brought on the depression by continuing to loan in the money centers when that money was being used for speculation.

SLEEPER SAM

O-Hell-O. Yes. Everybody, Alphas, Independents, and pugilists. Now that the big doings is over, we can all at least walk down the street without the fear of getting ganged and put on the spot, by a bunch of Caponites. Several little affairs on the historical night preceding the election showed what means some will resort to in order to appease their lust for combat. . . . But it's many a brave heart that beats in a mob when attacking one member of the opposite party. But now that everybody is satisfied (we hope) Lets remember that competition is the spice of life.

EGGS!!!!!!
Twos the night before election And all over the place, Was a squishing and squashing Of eggs in the face Of the boys who had gathered To carry on the fight. The fronts of the houses Were certainly a sight. The Nest soon ran, out Of the stable Hen Fruit And then the house kitchens They started to loot. Till the wee small hours The bombardment lasted Till both parties had each other Sufficiently plastered. We should stop and remember Before this happens again. That each egg meant a hard Day's work for a hen.

The following articles were picked up on the campus this morning. . . . Will the owners please call at the Argonaut office to identify?

1 set of brass knuckles (near the Fiji house).
3 cases of eggs (slightly damaged).

ENGINEERS TAKE DAY FROM WORK

The members of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers have decided that on May 7, at 4:00 p.m., they will forget their troubles and studies for a brief time and roll with old mother nature. The big frolic is to be held in the form of a picnic on Moscow mountain.

All of these staid and studious young engineers will forget about books, slip sticks, and girls long enough to show the world that soccer, football and indoor baseball are easy meat for future Edisons. A healthy meal that would satisfy the appetite of a Paul Bunyan is in the process of construction.

Freshman and sophomore electricals are especially invited. The engineers in charge of operations are: Clarence Conway, Emmons Coleman and Glenn Cage.

DEAN RETURNS FROM LONG TRIP

Dean Masterson returned Tuesday night from a ten day's trip to Southern Idaho. While there, he saw the leading lawyers of the state about the Law Journal and other matters pertaining to the law. Dean Masterson stated that they were all very happy about the journal, and found it useful in their legal practice. At Boise, he visited the Supreme Court Justices and the attorney-general. They also expressed their appreciation of the Law Journal.

According to Dean Masterson, the work of Mr. Pendleton Howard, editor-in-chief of the Law Journal, is being universally praised. The next issue of the journal will appear in May, and it will contain many articles written by prominent lawyers and legal scholars of the state.

"On The Campus"

TWO PUBLICATIONS ISSUED THIS WEEK

University Catalogue And Advertising Booklet Make Debut

Two official publications, the university catalogue, printed in an edition of 500 copies, and a booklet issued by the university for all high school seniors in the state, have been completed this week.

The book which has been issued for high schools, is distinctly a book of pictures and Idaho views, and aims more at creating an interest in the university than in giving specific information. The cover of the book is of heavy brown paper and has a duo-tone reproduction of the front tower of the Administration building.

One of the best of the pictures is a new view of the "T" tank taken from the campus, but including for the first time the trees and shrubs near the right front of the Administration building. The statue of the Spanish American war soldier also appears for the first time with the full benefit of the trees in which he stands.

Has Good Pictures.

Another outstanding view of the campus is one taken of the front door of the Memorial gymnasium showing the building since the new landscaping. A picture taken from the top of Morrill hall facing the north end of the Administration building gives one of the best comprehensive views in the entire book.

The book is printed in brown ink on cream-colored pages creating a soft tonal effect which works in well with views of the campus of page book is devoted to views from the southern branch of the university. A whole section of the 30-the southern branch.

These books have been sent to almost every group of high school seniors in the state. The increase in the number of high school seniors this year over the number last year is greater than was the case for several years in the past.

Catalogue Is Same.

The other publication of the university, the catalogue, has few outstanding points connected with it. It is said to be merely a duplicate of the former catalogues except that it is brought up to date and includes about ten more pages.

A change has been made in regard to admission to the school of education. Formerly the school required a certain number of units in specific courses, but now one may be admitted if he has been graduated from a four-year high school fully accredited by the state board of education.

These catalogues are now in the registrar's office and may be obtained by anyone wishing to call for one.

BLUE KEY SOLVES HOUSING PROBLEM

Arrangements for the housing of the high school representatives in the interscholastic track meet next week are in charge of Blue Key.

The De Molay convention, which will bring some 150 representatives to Moscow at the same time as the meet, makes the housing problem acute. Many of the fraternities feel they haven't room for their allotted number of both groups.

A committee with Wilford Young as chairman was appointed by Blue Key to meet with the interfraternity council and discuss the matter. It was decided that the track meet was a university affair, and it was necessary that all the representatives should be cared for. Each house is to take five men.

Most of the De Molay representatives coming to the convention, however, will also be housed by the fraternities. Other arrangements are now being made for those above the quota which the group houses cannot take.

VANDALS, COUGARS TANGLE SATURDAY ON MOSCOW TRACK

Starting Blocks Will Be Used for Dashes; Speeds Up Meet

Idaho's strongest track team in several years will match strides with the Washington State team on MacLean field Saturday afternoon. The meet is expected to be close with a slight advantage going to the Vandals because of earlier meets, and the Cougars because of the weather and a lack of pre-season meets. Jossis, Lemp, Thomas, Heath and McCoy have been hitting their stride and should pile up a number of first place points while Smith, Williams, and Hamford are sure to add to the total. The Cougar tracksters are reported to be in good shape for the meet after their recent invasion of the middle west in two meets. Paul Swift has been burning the cinders in the dashes. Sig Jossis, Idaho speedster, will offer plenty of competition. He has been clocked at ten seconds regularly during the past couple of weeks. A new trick of the game will be tried when starting blocks will be used for the first time in competition. The question of the acceptance of the records set with the aid of the blocks is still in doubt but as they speed up the meet, it has been decided to try them out. The Vandals have been using them for the past week.

PANHANDLE MEET HERE SATURDAY

The North Idaho High School track and field meet is scheduled to be held on MacLean field Saturday afternoon. First and second place winners in all district meets held in the northern part of the state are eligible to take part in the meet, and the two winners in each event of the meet here are eligible to go to the state meet which will be held in Boise or Pocatello later in the month.

Wallace Took Title

Towns which are expected to the state meet will be held are Wallace, Kellogg, Mullan, Coeur d'Alene, Sandpoint, Bonners Ferry, Moscow and Lewiston. Last year Wallace took the North Idaho title and then traveled to the state meet to top that title also. Coeur d'Alene was a favorite to take the cup this year since at Kellogg last week it took the divisional championship with 60 points against 49 for Wallace.

Starting Blocks, Maybe

The events will be run off with each high school event following the corresponding event in the dual meet in which Idaho meets W.S.C. It is not known whether or not the prep stars will use starting blocks.

BELL ELECTED A. Z. PRESIDENT

Wellhousen, Brown, Olmstead, Stansell Other Officers

Donald Bell was elected president of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, at a meeting yesterday. Edwin Wellhousen will fill the office of vice-president; Harold Brown, secretary; Ralph Olmstead, treasurer; and Earl Stansell, chancellor. Bell succeeds John Sandmeyer who has been president for the past school term. Edwin C. Voorhies, national chronicler, will arrive in Moscow Saturday, May 9, from the college of agriculture at Berkeley, California, to inspect the Idaho chapter of Alpha Zeta. A luncheon will be given in his honor at the Moscow Hotel the noon of his arrival. The chapter of the university is larger and stronger than it has ever been since its installation in 1920. It stimulates greater interest in scholastic endeavor by offering a silver loving cup to the sophomore in the college of agriculture having the highest average during his freshman year, university authorities say. The award was won this year by Leslie Lawton of Wendell, Idaho.

SENIORS BUILD AIR LIQUIFIER

Is Thesis Problem in Mechanical Engineering.

Harold Parsons and William Galigher seniors in mechanical engineering, are constructing a machine for liquefying air as their senior thesis problem. During the next few weeks they expect to complete the compressing machine, which is capable of putting air under a pressure of 2000 pounds per square inch. In liquefaction of air, the air is placed under a 2000-pound pressure, and cooled to a temperature of 220 degrees below zero (Fahrenheit). This cooling is done by allowing the compressed air to escape over a coiled tube containing the air to be liquefied. The escaping air absorbs heat from the coils and cools the air to the desired temperature. The study of thermal processes involved in liquefaction are the principal reasons for the construction of this apparatus. The machine will be used next year in the laboratory for class demonstration purposes.

SMASH RECORDS ON CINDER PATH

Ohio State's shuttle relay team set an unofficial world's record in that event, covering the distance in 1:01.6. Ohio State also set the previous record of 1:01.8.

Hamilton Collegiate Institute of Ontario, Canada, set a new relay and national record in the two mile event, covering the cinders in 8:15.6. The old mark was 8:16.2.

SELLING YEARBOOK OF ENGLISH CLUB

"Under the Helmet" Selling at One-fourth Cost

Copies of the English club's yearbook, "Under the Helmet", of 1929, are to be sold for 25 cents each.

The books may be bought at the club's table in the hall of the administration building. The new price is one-fourth of the original cost. Since only a few copies remain, an early disposal of the publication is anticipated by members.

"Under the Helmet" contains prose and verse written by university students. A varied selection of short stories and brief narratives features the book.

GRADE TOLL HIGH FOR FROSH SQUAD

Lose Over Half of Track Team Through Ineligible List

In spite of losing over half of the yearling track squad through ineligibilities, the remainder of the cinderpath artists have been working hard the past few weeks and have turned in some remarkable performances.

Jerry Fogle, has developed into a crack 440 man, finishing only a few yards behind Jossis the other night when the latter's time was 51.9. A few days later he turned in his run in the same with a 52 even.

Two in Distance

Siple and Livingston, long-winded yearling distance men, are showing real ability in their events. Siple is a two-miler and Livingston is a miler. Livingston also runs the 880.

Ed Bowker has been tossing the spear around 170 feet this spring and will no doubt be bettering his throws with every practice.

The frosh have not had a good workout with competition for several weeks and will probably be in top condition when they tangle with the W.S.C. first year men in two meets on May 16, and May 20.

BANQUET FEATURED BY NAUTICAL LINGO

Wesley Foundation's third annual banquet for graduating college and high school seniors was held Friday night, May 1, in the parlors of the Methodist church. Prof. Curtis W. Chenoweth gave a speech on "Reminiscences of a Captain" in accordance with the nautical spirit which pervaded the whole evening.

Erwin Tomlinson sang "Bells of the Sea" and "Captain Mac"; John Ewing, acting as toastmaster, gave four toasts in the proper naval spirit ending with a "Dropped Anchors" toast in honor of the senior guests of the evening.

CAMPUS BUILDINGS GET IMPROVEMENTS

Memorial Gymnasium and Geology Building See Work

Major repair work on the campus for the past few weeks consisted mainly of work in the geology building. A new class room, remodeled from an old office and a store room, and a new office room have been constructed on the main floor. The Joseph J. Taylor library for the school of mines has been enlarged to three times its former capacity.

A mezzanine floor has been constructed, and part of the museum and class materials were moved there. The building was kalsomined and planted throughout, and a lavatory installed on the main floor.

Other work on the campus this week includes the installation of a sprinkling system for the grounds of the Memorial gymnasium, and the planting of a large number of evergreen trees on the women's athletic field.

Part of the group left Moscow Thursday night and stayed in a tourist park in Lewiston. The remainder of the party came down from Moscow early Friday morning.

The expedition left the Lewiston dock at 6:30 Friday morning. A 40-foot gasoline launch furnished the transportation.

SPRINKLING SYSTEM PIPES BEING FIXED

New pipes are replacing the old rusty ones in the sprinkling system across the campus on the north of the Ad building. According to R. W. Lind, superintendent, of buildings and grounds, water would not run through the old pipes because of the rust.

Mr. Lind also reports the completion of the spiral fire escapes at Hays hall. Another at Hays, and one at Forney are being erected.
