The Key to the City

THE ENTENTE cordiale that exists between the Moscow towns-people and the university students is a subject of wonder to national collegiate authorities visiting the northern campus for the first time. Recently, Mr. Robert Davenport, New York City, who has traveled extensively for Delta Tau Delta, commented on the lack of friction between the citizens and the students. "It is a thing that should exist, but very seldom does," he said.

Students are apt to consider the condition as ordinary and slight the advances of the "town." The citizens of the ASUI should remember that it is Moscow's citizens who support student publications. The chamber of commerce lends its support for our Homecoming. The Rotary and the Kiwanis "go the limit" for a high school tourney.

The town is ours because the residents have literally hung "the key to the city" on the front door of the Administration building. May students realize the compliment and not ignore it.

What Did It Matter?

ELECTIONS come, and fortunately go, but the University goes on forever. Now that the ballots have been cast, counted and recounted; now that words have been exchanged, blows struck and eggs put to ulterior motives, let's have leaders and followers of both sides get together and back the university as a whole.

That parties will exist and excitement rage each spring is no excuse to hold animosity the year round. Next fall Idaho has a hard row to hoe, academically and athletically. With high morale Idaho should go far. A college is only as good as its student body. The time to show next year's fight is now. Let's scramble the eggs.

Everybody Out

THE MUCH mooted question, "What is the president's attitude on student activities," was given an answer this week as he threw his energy behind the movement to secure a golf course for student use. The idea is no new one. When it was first presented, the original plan called for a combination town and college course. It fell through after the agriculture department refused to swap, sell or compromise on the only desirable tract of land suitable for a course. Not long after the townspeople established their own course, definitely cutting off the ASUI from any support in that direction.

Tomorrow, Campus Day, the student body as a whole has an opportunity to make a progressive step. If the various crews function in any manner of whole-hearted fashion, their numbers are sufficient to make appreciable headway. If not, the ASUI suffers and pays more for the course.

In past years, with only the general cleanup in view, it has been considered smart to do as little as possible, or to work hard avoiding work. It is to be hoped that those refusing to arise at seven tomorrow will not be those arising with the dawn next year to get in their five holes of golf over a course they refused to aid in constructing.

Arguments, Pro—

THESE are some of the reasons why professors get gray: The bluffer. The boy with the loud voice and empty head. The fellow who took the course before . . . The sweet little co-ed who doesn't know what it's all about, but who needs at least a B in the course. The silent bird who might have something worth while to say but who keeps this something hidden. The collegian who hasn't read that far in the text and attempts to stage a filibuster and throw the class off the track. The deadly serious young radical who knows only that he's radical. The equally serious young conservative who believes only what his grandfather believed. And the boy who is taking the course just for the credit. The sleepers don't count unless they snore.

And Con

Here are some of the reasons why students get gray: The professor who assigns three outside readings, two outlines, and throws in background reading for the next day's assignment, thinking his is the only class we are taking. The lady professor with the weak voice. The professor who is a "crank" in his field and tries to make us "swallow" his radical ideas. The prof who has that annoying habit of inspecting the scenery outside the window while he is lecturing. The pedagogue who assigns a class of fifty to read a passage in a book, of which the library has only one copy. The professor who "plays" to the women in the class. The one who thinks co-eds are not needed in his course. The comma hound who knows that one swallow does not make a summer, but believes that one mistake should merit a flunk. The professor who thinks none but his ideas are correct.—Oregon Daily Emerald.

Blah! Blah!

BOISE'S chain newspaper, with more than characteristic accuracy, has this to say of the recent student body election:

STUFFING OF BALLOTS AT L. U. HINTED

University of Idaho, Moscow, May 8.—While the result of the student body election here appears to have been a victory for the Alpha party in that its candidates were elected, that party is demanding a recount.

There is considerable speculation over the claim that there were more ballots cast than were supposed to have been printed. It is cited that in the vote cast for junior woman the total for both candidates was 1495 with approximately 80 ballots left over that were not voted and 20 said to have been destroyed. There were 78 more votes cast for junior woman than there were for president . . .

The Independents claim that they did not have proper representation on the election board, the board being two to one in favor of the Alphas; that the election was not secret, there being no booths nor screens to provide secrecy on the ballot.

It is quite obvious that the university in general and the Alpha party in particular has a strong ally in the south. When chain newspapers try to teach ethics to student journalists, dicker in student politics for reasons which are so apparent they are laughable, and fill their columns full of tripe similar to this—well, draw your own conclusions.

MILLER IS NAMED ON ENGLISH ROLL

Idaho Doctor Listed in Article on Veteran Teachers

By Hopkins

Listing the veterans of extended and noteworthy service in college English, an article by Edwin Hopkins, in the April issue of the English Journal (college edition), includes the name of Dr. G. M. Miller, head of Idaho's English department.

The article, "Forty Years of College English," gives a brief history of English teaching in America. It is supplemented with two honor rolls.

Names Teachers

One names all the teachers of English, active or retired, who have completed forty or more years of college service. The other lists "the teachers whose service does not meet the stated definition of the first group at all points, but whose status as veterans even if some may be classed as junior veterans, is beyond question." Doctor Miller's name appears in the latter list.

The article states that before 1890 there was no teaching of English, and declares that it is by such names as those listed that this subject has advanced so greatly in schools.

Miller Active

One of the big features of modern English teaching is the allying of college instructors with teachers in secondary schools and the grades. Doctor Miller has been especially active in the advancement of this work, having put into effect the uniform English placement test in the four states of the Northwest as a means of cooperating with English reformers in high schools.

Edwin Hopkins, the author of the article, is recalled as being a former pupil of Dean F. J. Messenger in the University of Kansas. He is important as an authority on English.

OREGON STATE IS LOW

P.I.P.A.—Oregon State institutions of higher learning, scored by the federal education survey commission for their low scholastic standards, fall in line with other tax-supported schools a report of entrance examinations for 137 schools reveals. Psychology ratings were used to discover that private schools are in general much higher than are public schools.

BLUE KEY SENDS 4,000 LETTERS

High School Students Told Advantages of Idaho.

Letters urging high school seniors of the state to consider their own state university first were mailed this week by Blue Key, upperclassmen's service fraternity. The total number of letters mailed was 4,000.

Last year Blue Key sent out a similar letter in August. It is written from the student viewpoint, and gives high school seniors who are considering university training actual facts from the field of operation.

The Blue Key letter points out that Idaho can offer as much as any institution in the country, and in some of its branches, far more. Besides that, the letter says expenses are several hundred dollars less a year than at other universities of similar standing.

The envelopes and letters were printed in blue, with a cartoon on the envelope showing an "I" man in knickerbockers. The lower left hand corner of the letter also had a cartoon showing two college students at a radio set.

AG GRADUATES IN DAIRY WORK

Three agriculture graduates who have been placed in important positions were announced this week.

G. W. Johnson, dairy husbandry, has been appointed plant superintendent of a dairy plant at Idaho Falls. Johnson was a major in dairy manufacturing at the university.

R. J. Maxwell is the deputy director of the bureau of dairies. Maxwell is a graduate of the university's annual five months' short course in practical commercial dairying.

Synder, Moscow; Ebert Rhodamel and E. Gump, Spokane; The Rev. Phillip Nelson and C. L. Vincent, Pullman; E. E. Green, deputy of Washington, also attending; Sandman of Lewiston.

The Sport Shop

By Paul Boyd

One nice thing about the track meet last Saturday is that it left a fine opening for some first class arguments. Sig Jossis turned in the best performance of his career to set a new Idaho record in the century when he broke the tape in 8.8. The small speedster got off to a fast start and drove hard all the way to win by a comfortable margin over Kelly, W.S.C.

It was too bad that Paul Swift, W.S.C. sprint star, was not entered in the race because he would have had his hands full to win from Sig. The Cougar ace has been on the sick list with a bad ankle since he returned from the Kansas relays.

The sprints were not the only exciting races of the day by far. The two mile run furnished one of the closest finishes ever seen on MacLean field. Chuck Heath took the lead in the first few yards and held a steady pace throughout the race. Crossetti stuck to him like a leech and had a good sprint to finish, but was nosed out by inches.

Johnny Thomas turned in two fine races but was beaten by a few yards in each. The two races were too much for one day with the fast times registered in both. The time for the mile run was 4:25.2 and that is nearing record time. After running the mile, Johnny came back a few minutes later to stage a hard battle in the 880 but again he was nosed out in the fast time of 1:56.9.

Coeur d'Alene had little trouble winning the North Idaho prep title as a well balanced team placed in nearly every event to score 52 points against 34 for Wallace, last year's winner. Legore, Jones, and Ritzheimer accounted for most of the Viking's tallies.

Bananas are growing in Oregon. A banana tree, fully 10 feet high, is actually bearing a good sized bunch of bananas in Corvallis.

IDAHO STICKERS LOSE TO COUGARS AFTER HOT START

Fifth Inning Proves Waterloo For Vandal Nine At W.S.C.

By Bill Pohlman
 Idaho's diamond artists, fresh from their hard coast tour battled on even terms with a powerful Washington State nine yesterday at Pullman but lost the game 8 to 6 after the Cougars staged a strong hitting streak in the fifth inning.

The Vandals continued to use their newly discovered batting power but several Washington State hits were lost in the sun and went for errors.

Jacobs hurled great ball until the disastrous feh can'to when he was relieved by Lindsay who settled down and worked hard to keep the Cougar boys still. Jacobson pounded out a triple and double in four times at bat to take chief stick honors for the Vandals while Raidy garnered a pair of safe blows and counted two runs.

Dahlen hit a home run with a mate on the bags in the big fifth frame and McLarney and Koster had a good day at the plate to boost the winners' count. Norby hurled a good game after he settled down but was relieved by Fiskens in the sixth inning when Ellingsen was sent in to pinch hit.

The Foxmen showed the best ball they have turned in this year and with the exception of the Cougar's heavy inning had the situation always in hand.

The next conference battle will find the Vandals facing the men of Bailey on the Moscow field tomorrow afternoon, with Daubert scheduled to take the mound for the Idahoans.

LIDLAW MAKES RAPID RECOVERY

Plans to go to Boise by Plane Soon
 James Laidlaw, Boise, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, has shown improvement in the last week. He was taken to the hospital April 22 suffering with a congested lung and pneumonia. His condition grew steadily worse until special nurses and roctors were called to take the case. During the early part of last week his condition was so critical it was necessary to administer oxygen in order to sustain life. The oxygen treatments were dispensed with during the latter part of the week as he had gained sufficient strength to breath normally. Golf Clubs for sale or rental. Boyd's Clothing Company, agents for McGregor Clubs.—Adv.
