Another Day

In answer to the Evergreen and those W.S.C. alumni who have written articles concerning Idaho's reaction to the recent traditional football game, the Argonaut has but this to reply: "We have said our bit."

It is time now to consider the incident closed. Any further comment would lead but to quibbling and to ill feeling, not justified on either side.

There is no room to charge poor sportsmanship, poor loser, or crybaby. W.S.C. has the consolation of reading the score book, Washington State, 9—Idaho, 3. Idaho has its victory in knowing the school and alumni are solidly behind the athletic department — worth the loss of a dozen such games.

Congratulations Cougar, on your victory, but this remember, Idaho fights, and she does not forget. There will be another game.

Not So Bad

Last Friday and Saturday evenings students of the University and people of Moscow had the opportunity of seeing another of the productions of the university dramatic department. The attendance at both performances was indeed an indication of what people expected, and had those people been disappointed there would be no need for this editorial. A bad thing lives long enough without any particular newspaper circulation, but often a good thing is too quickly forgotten.

In the case of "To The Ladies," it must be said that it would fall in the latter class. It was decidedly a good thing. It was amusing, interesting, intensely overdrawn as far as the part of woman is concerned, but at least, was a delightful production, despite that error on the part of the authors. It is hoped that the next production may come quickly. To the talent and the management, thanks for a good time.

Another Alibi

Does noise cut down efficiency? After a three-year scientific study of the effect of average office noise on workers, Dr. William White, director of the acoustics laboratory of the American Steel and Wire company, reports that it does. By reliable experiments, he proves that noise cuts output by 7 per cent.

Though these figures were compiled for office workers only, they could no doubt be applied to college students with reasonable conservatism. No one will disagree, for instance, that, if all undue noise were eliminated from our own university library, the amount of studying would be increased by at least 7 per cent. The next time a student goes into the library for a free period he should time himself and figure out just how much of the hour he is diverted by annoying sounds.

Gossiping constitutes undue noise, for the library is not the proper place for this. The first thing one does upon entering the library is to look around for any fraternity brothers or sorority sisters and then promptly goes to their table — to converse for at least half of the hour. If it happens to be the "heavy sugar" at whose table he sits, instead of a Greek letter brother, the time is extended even more.

Probably, sticking to Doctor White's figures, it would not be exaggerating to say that noise in the library (talking, in particular,) lowers students' grades by 7 per cent. This, anyway, with the nine-weeks' grades coming out, should be an interesting consideration.

For Heaven's Sake

Now Idaho has one—a fifty-fifty club. From all indications it is a big, man-sized one, and from all indications, too, it is out to make the women pay and pay. But, come to think about it, is that such a hot idea after all?

It almost seems that letting the women pay half is giving her entirely too much power. As it is now, the all-paying man has about 30 per cent of the say as to where the couple will go and as to what they will do. Just think of it. With the man controlling the strings of the pocket book, the fair (sometimes) daisies lose 60 per cent of the deciding. Why, the English parliament once held the purse strings and controlled all. More than that, a topic of conversation is always provided under the present system for the last syllable of intelligence is required on either side in order to reach the final conclusion as to where the money is to be spent.

But with the women furnishing the money! All is indeed lost. The women will be in a position to do 55 per cent of the deciding. Man will have no financial weight on his side; the last defense will have crumbled. Women will have marched around the walls seven times blowing trumpets. In another way, however, the matter becomes serious. Women rightly argue that if they pay half of the expenses, they should be allowed to ask for a date. Think of the devastation. Man's security, his safety, his peace and comfort have been thrown to the four winds. No! No! No! Don't give up the purse strings. Fifty-fifty is nothing more than a division of the house, and "a house divided against itself cannot stand."

WOMEN GOLF FANS

The atlas of the Great Elector of Brandenburg, Germany, said to be the largest book in the world, is 66 inches high, 39 inches wide and weighs 275 pounds.

The Daily Kansan reports that 279 students have applied for part time positions. Out of this number 9 were placed.

HULBERT TO HEAD NEXT SEED SHOW

Idaho, Professor is Nationally Recognized for Agronomy Work

H. W. Hulbert, head of the agronomy department of the University of Idaho college of agriculture was elected president of the Idaho state seed show for next year at the last meeting of the show in Moscow Saturday morning.

Professor Hulbert has gained national recognition for his agronomy work in the experiment station here.

At the meeting Friday afternoon Professor Hulbert discussed weed control and advised a two-year chemical application program. "Crops may be killed by the chlorate in the soil for a period of one year after the weeds have been sprayed," he said, "and the weed-patch should be cared for after spraying for the conservation of the crops."

L. J. Benjamin, assistant professor of agronomy at the university, discussed "Weed Control Experimenting in Idaho" at the meeting. He gave statistics on the annual cost due to weeds in the United States and Idaho. Idaho's share in the expenditure is $3,000,000. This amount is due to cuts in crops on account of weeds, cheapening the value in the market, and a large part is expended for extra labor hired to do away with weeds.

Thursday and Friday the university will be host to Miss Lucille E. Day, representative of the Pacific region Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions, who will make a series of valuable lectures on Christian missions in foreign countries.

At 9 o'clock Thursday morning Miss Day will speak to Dean Messenger's class in history of education on "New Schools for Old in Turkey." There will be a special dinner at the Blue Bucket inn Thursday noon. Any student may attend this dinner by calling Dr. Wells at the Chi Alpha Pi house. Miss Day will be a dinner guest at the religious fraternity in the evening. On Friday morning at 10 o'clock, Miss Day will speak to Dean Kerr's principles of sociology on "Turkey Faces West." She will also speak to the Idaho Institution of Christian Endeavor at the Chi Alpha Pi house on Friday.

A Phi Beta Kappa from Oberline college in 1922, with post-graduate work in the University of California, Miss Day has had five years of rich contacts in Turkey. Her experiences there include work in a kindergarten and social center in Brousa; teaching English to the members of the national club the "Turk Olan" and serving as leader in summer Y. W. C. A. camps for the girls of Istanbul and as teacher in a girl's boarding school.

Her own achievements and her knowledge of student interests in many places make her a valuable person to meet. During the past three years in this country she has given the major part of her time to contacts with students in colleges and universities. She is adequately informed about opportunities for Christian service abroad.

A bootlegger was picked up on the streets of an Illinois town as he was wheeling liquor in a baby buggy.

The CINEMANIAC

THE BELOVED BACHELOR, starring Paul Lukas, opens Thursday at the Vandal theater. It is an agreeable little comedy showing the predicament in which a man may find himself if he falls in love with his ward. Paul Lukas handles the situation with delicacy and becomes the real "beloved bachelor." Dorothy Jordan, the ward, also deserves credit for the clever manner in which she plays opposite Paul Lukas.

PERSONAL MAID, a comedy drama starring Nancy Carroll, in which she plays the part of a little girl, who determined to be rich at any cost, takes a job as a personal maid. The cinema is an excellent comedy with Nancy Carroll handling her lead in her usual delightful fashion.

THE MAD GENIUS, now playing at the Vandal theater, is the weird story of a deformed genius trying to pass on his talent to his young protegee. John Barrymore is excellent in his role as the "Mad Genius." In fact, it is his performance that makes the cinema really good. Marian Marsh also carries her part well.

Ho, hum, just the good old depression story again.

Now isn't that just too sweet.

Junior and Sophomore Mixers Are Coming Events This Week

Tonight the second Junior mixer of the year will be held at the Blue Bucket inn. As the usual procedure the dance will be extremely informal. A good orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music, and the entertainment committee again promises to give a good program.

Wednesday night is the first Sophomore mixer of the year. It also is to be held at the Blue Bucket inn. A committee is working on a program. The mixer will start at 8:30 and last until 10:30.

The mixers that have been held so far this year have proved very successful. They have helped to bring the students together, and leave a more friendly attitude among the students on our campus.

Co-Ed Prom.
The annual Co-Ed prom last week-end in the Women's gymnasium was a great success. Some freshman men who were very anxious to partake in the prom, were cleverly disguised in long dress and bonnets, but not cleverly enough to escape the observing eyes of the co-eds, and they were only to glad to leave as quickly as possible.

COEDS GIVE ANNUAL DANCE
Saturday evening one of the most unique dances of the year, the Co-Ed Prom. This was the annual exclusive coed dance to which the men of the campus are not invited. There was an interesting variety of costumes. Boy's clothes seemed to predominate. However, there was an exception in Rosie Layne and his orchestra appeared dressed as girls. Each woman's group presented a short skit during the evening. Forney hall took first prize with the dramatizing of Mother Goose rhymes to piano accompaniment. Late in the evening refreshments were served.

The judges of the skits were Mrs. M. G. Neale, Mrs. C. C. Vincent, and Mrs. J. A. Kostalek.

COSTUME RECITAL PROVES SUCCESS

Piano Students Give Novel Entertainment At Auditorium

The costume recital given by the advanced piano students of Isabel Clark, assistant professor in music, Sunday afternoon in the auditorium is said to be one of the most unusual and entertaining recitals ever given at the university, and was well attended.

Each girl wore a costume representing the period during which the composer of her selection lived. The composers dated from Bach (1685-1750) to Paderewski (1859-1941).

Irene Luke, student in the home economics department, designed the costumes under the direction of Ida Ingalls, assistant professor in home economics. The dresses represented the 18th century, the Empire period, the Romantic period, the Victorian era, and the "gay nineties."

Helen Stetler, senior, who played selections by Debussy (1862-1918) and Brahms (1833-1897), wore her mother's wedding dress, a white gown of the "gay nineties."

Kathryn Kennard, dressed in an 18th century costume, assisted on the program with two cello solos.

Almost all cigarettes made in the United States today are rolled in paper imported from France.

"We are to have our meetings every two weeks now," reported Jay Kendrick, president of the Advertising club last Thursday.

At this time it was also decided that the club obtain speakers from Spokane once a month to talk on various topics relating to advertising.

"At the meeting previous to each special one we shall discuss the subject on which the next speaker is to talk, so that we may be able to ask him intelligent questions," said Mr. Kendrick. "These speakers," he added, "will be advertising managers or practical advertisers." The one for the next meeting is the advertising manager of the Crescent department store of Spokane. This meeting will be at 7:15 Thursday.

At the last meeting of the club the new constitution was adopted and a vice president, Charles Cheney, was elected.

An added attraction is a huge surprise which the committee has in store. This surprise, if known, would bring every sophomore in the university on its own account and has already aroused much curiosity in those who have heard mention of it.

MEN DISCUSS PLANS

Kappa Delta Pi, honorary for men in education, met Thursday evening. Dues and initiation fees were collected. Tentative plans for a joint meeting with Pi Lambda Theta were discussed.

It will be well for any of you who are thinking of running for the presidency in the future to remember that the locusts will be with us again in 1948. That year will certainly be a bad one for the White House.—William Castle Jr., under secretary of state.

After collecting about 1,000 small bugs, carefully indexing them and placing them in a suit case on a six weeks tour, Prof. John S. Dolley, entomologist at the University of Illinois had them stolen from his auto, parked on a Chicago street.

It seems so! But it can be induced to linger longer... to leave behind enduring memories of that fleeting acquaintance.

TROJANS CAPTURE CONFERENCE TITLE

Washington, In Last Quarter Rally, Trounces W.S.C.

With only three more conference football games scheduled for the year, the University of Southern California has clinched another coast title.

A desperate last quarter drive enabled the Washington Huskies to end the supremacy of Washington State in the northwest.

Oregon and Oregon State put on a torrid battle in Eugene for the homecoming crowd.

Idaho loses Battle Idaho put up a great battle against breaks and a bigger team to play the University of California.

Two of the three conference battles left are slated for Saturday.

Fumbles FROM HERE AND THERE

MacMillan Starts Basketball At Minnesota. Coach Dave MacMillan has issued a call for hoop men.

Gonzaga After a Cougar Skin. "White wash Washington State." is on the lips of every Gonzaga student according to the Gonzaga Bulletin student publication of that institution.

Washington State Goes South in December. The Washington State Cougars will entrain next month for a trip to New Orleans where they will meet Tulane University.

U. C. L. A. Expects to Have Weak Hoop Team. Coach Works, U. C. L. A. basketball mentor, is nursing a worried facial expression these days.

SPORT SHOP

The final gun in the Idaho-California game ended the 1931 gridiron activity as far as the Vandals are concerned.

Any quarterback who can roll up a total of 116 yards on a sloppy, muddy field, behind an out-weighted forward wall against an eleven as powerful as the California Bears deserves an all-coast berth on anybody's mythical team.

California was conceded a two or three touchdown margin before they entered the game.

Sporting interest has already commenced to focus upon Idaho's prospects on the maple court this winter.

the first time in many years, Fox has a rangy group to work with, and where height has been lacking in years past, it will be the strong department in the attack of this year's squad.

The heavy blanket of snow that started falling Sunday night has put a cramp into Coach Otto Anderson's training plans.

If a team can play against the tough boys in the "Big House" at Sing Sing and come out with only two minor injuries, we wonder why such a serious injury jim has lodged itself on the Vandal camp during the past season.

PLAY FOR TITLE IN VOLLEY BALL

The women's volley-ball tournament is ready to be played off now that the first teams have been chosen for each class.

FORNEY HALL WINS CO-ED PROM STUNT

Women, Thought to Be Males, Are Quickly Ejected

Forney hall freshmen won first place at the annual Co-ed prom Saturday with their pantomime featuring Old King Cole, Little Miss Muffet, Three Blind Mice, and Little Bo-Peep.

Mrs. Mervin G. Neale and Miss Katherine Jensen garbed as a gipsy pair led the traditional grand march at 10 o'clock, during which winning costumes were selected.

Miss Mabel Locke of the women's physical education department won first for the most original costume as Mahatma Gandhi.

The prom was the sixteenth to be held on the Idaho campus. It was begun in 1915 when a group of home economics faculty members arranged an affair in the form of a costume dance.

Aside from being a purely social function, the small amount charged for the programs makes possible a loan fund for women enrolled in home economics.

Any sort of English (grammar) is wrong if it sounds ugly.

Near the campus of the University of Idaho there is a fraternity house. It is a nice house, and the boys who live there are nice boys—usually.

One night the nice-boys had a bright idea. At least, one of them, who had been in a play that night and still felt dramatically inclined, had an idea.

The stage was set. The hour was 1 o'clock. The nice girls across the alley were punctuating the quiet with dainty snores and mumbblings of sweet nothings.

Suddenly bedlam broke loose. Cries of, "What are you doing, trying to kill him? Oh, my god, what have I done? What have I done? Get some bandages! Quick! He'll bleed to death!" arose in a crescendo of boyish voices.

Tears were in the voice of the injured one as he moaned pitifully "Johnnie—yes, he said just that, "Johnnie what have you done to me?"

And the one called Johnnie wrung his hands and sobbed, "What have I done? What have I done?"

By this time the nice girls were hanging out of their beds, the bolder ones, out of the windows, gazing with fascinated eyes upon the unhappy scene of slaughter across the alley.

IDAHO MEN AGREE THAT 50-50 PLAN SHOULD BE USED

Fraternities Canvassed by Zealots in Search of Fellow Scotchmen

"Girls must pay half the expenses of every date" is the war-cry of the new 50-50 club recently organized on the campus.

Jack Mitchell, Sandy Laidlaw, Vic Warner, Frank McKinley, and Jedd Jones are charter members of the 50-50 club.

Dean French is very much in favor of the idea. She said, "I have always been in favor of it; I have talked it over with the girls for several years. I feel that if it is possible for the boys and girls to get together and arrange to share expenses without embarrassment or hard feeling on either side, that it will be an excellent thing."

Jack Mitchell, one of the instigators, said, "Due to the fact that the women in most cases have as large allowances as the men it seems only fair that the women should help out on the dates. Other York has 40. Pennsylvania 38 and Illinois 23.

been successful." The Betas, on the whole, are in favor of the idea.

The 50-50 club has aroused a great deal of speculation. Time will tell who is in permanent possession of the purse strings.

Tried In Other Schools The schools that have tried the plan so far have been larger institutions where the students do not live as close as we do here at Idaho and if cooperation from all the group houses and hall is received, there is no reason why the movement cannot be permanently installed here.

CONDUCT RELIGIOUS CLASS AT LEWISTON

The Rev. Roger P. Oliver, the Rev. Clifford M. Drury and Prof. W. Wayne Smith motored to Lewiston Monday to help to outline a program for the work in religious education, and to help to procure funds for local and extension work.

A program is being outlined. It has been arranged to have Dr. Carl Douglas Wells, head of the school here, to go to Lewiston one day in each week to meet a class in the State Normal school.

Ohio leads all the states in the number of colleges. It has 41. New York has 40. Pennsylvania 38 and Illinois 23.
