Lindbergh Legislation

It took a 19-months-old baby to push the cables from Shanghai to one side in American newspapers. Thousands may continue to die in the Whangpoo marshes, but their fate is of secondary interest when Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., gets himself kidnaped. It's the kind of human interest story that managing editors dream about on dull days.

Charles Augustus, Senior, professes to abhor publicity, which has made $19,000,000 for him since the day he set the "Spirit of St. Louis" down on the Le Bourget airfield. Now he's in for another dose of public attention, but this time it will consist of sympathy, not adulation.

The nation sympathizes while national guardsmen mobilize to look for the missing heir to the Lindbergh-Morrow millions. And congressmen who have been backing a bill making death the penalty for kidnaping have added a powerful weapon to their political arsenal.

It is to be hoped that under the excitement of the moment Congress will not pass another federal law to take its place beside the Mann act as a legislative monstrosity. Is America, instead of continuing towards the abolition of capital punishment, to start back to the days when the hangman's noose awaited anyone who stole a silver spoon or a loaf of bread?

Has capital punishment succeeded in checking the fine art of murder in these United States? Not if statistics are to be trusted. The present penalties for kidnaping are severe enough to deter anyone who believed that the law was sufficiently alert to apprehend him.

What's the use of capital punishment if our law officers can't catch the kidnapers to bring up for trial? —Oregon Emerald.

Keep Off

All through life we are trying to make short-cuts toward certain goals. Going to college is merely a quicker method of attaining a knowledge that might take many years to store up from actual experience. The student who comes to the University of Idaho expects to learn as much in four years as it took his father or grandfather, who were not offered the opportunity of a college education, 29 years to learn.

But we are digressing from what we started to say. In inferring to short-cuts, we really had in mind the new walks which have been made by student-hurrying to classes. Now that it looks as if spring is really here (process of knocking on wood), we are all glad to see the fresh blades of green grass shooting up on the campus lawn. But we are most chagrined to see some of them being trod in the mire, and a crazy patchwork of mud paths being designated by unartistic and selfish students. Especially in the vicinity of the music hall, the result of the short-cut impulse is most evident. Won't the students on whom the muddy shoes fit, please confine the urge for speed to getting through life in general, not to getting to classes.

PI LAMBDA THETA HONORARY PLEDGES

Combine Dancing With Enjoyment

Pi Lambda Theta, women's national educational honorary, pledged the following girls Sunday morning at 8:30 at a breakfast at the Moscow hotel.

The pledges are: Joan Harris, Lois Thompson, Hattie Rierson, Gertrude Denney, Racheal Noyes, Flora Buckingham, Marion Frv., Louise Morely, Jewell Leighton, Georgia Thomas, and Kathryn Collins.

Let's learn to pronounce it. The fifth bi-annual showing of Taps and Terpsichore will be presented on this campus in April. We want to be acquainted with every part of the affair because it is an important one. Taps is pronounced as usual. The more difficult word is turp-siko-ree. Taps is the name of the dancing we know so well in college life today.

TREBLE CLEF, VANDALETTES PRESENT UNUSUAL CONCERT

The twilight concert given Sunday afternoon by the Treble Clef club and the Vandalettes, was presented to the largest concert audience of the year, according to members of the music faculty and students.

The stage setting and lighting effects which created the twilight atmosphere were arranged by Professor Paul R. Ihrlig of the art department. The curtain rose with the members of the Treble Clef club, who wore formals in pastel shades, forming a pyramid effect toward the right of the stage. Also to the right and just behind the group was a twilight scene in blue and gold shading into a deep rose. Midnight blue fading into softer shades of blue, blended with the pink and rose lights on the curtains to form the background.

Miss Bothne Director. This concert, which is an annual presentation, was under the direction of Miss Agnes Bothne, Miss Helen Stetler accompanying. The University String Quartet, directed by Professor Carl Claus, also assisted. Other members of the quartet are: Misses Helen Parrott, Patricia Kennard, and Miriam Little.

The program consisted of six parts and opened with "Song of Friendship," a Netherland folk-song; "Her Rose," and "Allah's Holiday," from the opera "Kalinka," by the Treble Clef.

Numbers by Vandalettes.

The second group consisted of four numbers by the Vandalettes: "Let All My Life Be Music," Spores; "To a Wild Rose," by MacDowell; "Weepin' Mary," an old negro spiritual arranged by Burleigh; and "The Three Singers," one of Longfellow's poems set to music by Tours. The Vandalette personnel is: Edna Bohman and Laura Brigham, first sopranos; Edna Scott and Elizabeth Thompson, second sopranos; and Harriet Baken and Bernice Smith, altos.

"The Chalet Girls' Sunday" (Sacterjentens Sondag), Ole Bull; "Cantata," Mendelssohn; and "Nocturne" by Borodine, played by the string quartet, made up the third group.

Two Acapella Featured.

Group four featured two acapella, or unaccompanied selections by the Treble Clef: "Lift Thine Eyes," from "Elijah," and "The Solveig Song," from "Peer Gynt Suite," by Greig.

The Vandalettes sang "Moonlight" by Schumann with violin obligato by Patricia Kennard and "Snow" by Elgar, first and second obligato by Helen Parrott and Patricia Kennard—the fifth group. The final group included three selections by the Treble Clef: "In Luxembourg Gardens," from the song suite "Sketches of Paris" by Manning; "De San' Man's Song," a negro slumber song by McKinney; and "To Spring" by Greig, which is based on his piano composition of the same name.

MAKEUP MUST BE NATURAL-LOOKING DECLARE EXPERTS

Golden-Brown Shine Is In Again; Pencil-line Eyebrows Are Out

P. I. P. A.—Above all else, makeup must be natural-looking this spring. The bright colors which are so popular in clothes call for very expert handling of the powder puff, rouge pot, and lipstick. Exposure to the rays of the sun will again be in vogue, but a golden brown rather than a bronze tint is the skin tone aspired to. Such tan as is acquired must be even and must cover pretty much all of the back and neck, since the great variety of necklines this spring demand more than the single stretch of tan universal in past years. Powder bases will be used to keep from tanning too heavily and to retain the very desirable smooth look.

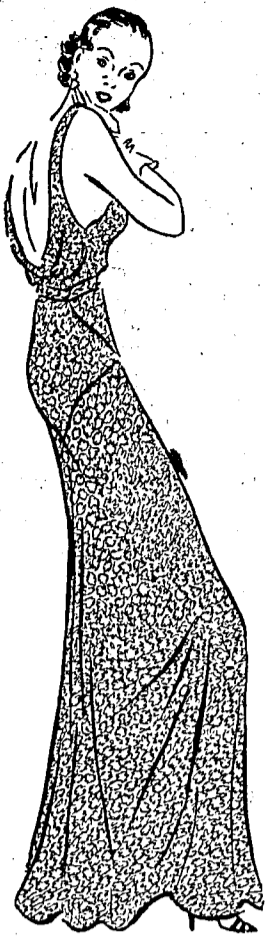

Rouge will be of a more rosy tint to go with the new raspberry and pomegranate shades of lipstick and to set off the seasons' favorite brilliant blue. The more daring of the blue-eyed femmes will try the new midnight blue mascara for the lashes and the blue eye shadow for the lids. Powder will be in tones which must harmonize with the skin. No more wearing ton powder on a white skin, fashion says.

Pencil-line eyebrows are out. Eyebrows will follow the natural trend as to shape and thickness. They may be plucked just enough to keep them well-groomed, but the more luxuriant they are the better, so get out the jar of vaseline and get to work.

The Co-ed Mannequin

Modern maidens are of many varied and distinctive types—sweet, piquant, sophisticated or boyish—but there is one time when all are seeking for the same effect—feminism in evening dress.

The new lines are long and soft—materials, ethereal and fragile. Gowns are made of lace—angel-skin or wool—printed chiffons and rustling tulle. I noticed some lovely examples at the Parisian this morning, shown with the popular short glove, eight-button length, in white or mode. Other spring gloves for formal wear are predicted to be of velvet or lace.

Franklin and Grayat Give Winning Performances
For the Vandals

Idaho's grapplers lost to Washington State 23 to 10 at Pullman last Saturday evening. Four falls and a decision to two falls gave the Cougars the wide margin. Noel Franklin and Don Grayat turned in the winning performances for the Vandals. Carnex, Idaho, lost an overtime bout by an official's decision.

The score is not altogether indicative of the showing made by the Idaho wrestlers. Several of the bouts were unusually close, and fans who witnessed the match feel that the score might easily be reversed in the return meet here March 19.

Dr. Olson of Spokane refereed the bouts.

COACH HUTCHINSON HAS OUTSTANDING
ATHLETIC CAREER

Tumbling Team gave Exhibition at District Tournament in Lewiston

"Our tumbling team is doing splendid work," said Ralph Hutchinson, athletic trainer. Members of the team are Gene Wilcox, Harry Wilson, Harry Witter, George Johnson and Erle Menckey. Exhibitions have been given at basketball games and at the district high school tournament in Lewiston, Saturday afternoon. They have proved very popular with the audiences.

Gene Wilcox is the first college student in any institution to do a double somersault off a spring board as far as I have been able to find out. It certainly is a remarkable feat. We are going to try to get a stronger spring board so that Gene can get even more height out of it.

Was All-American Star.

Mr. Hutchinson is familiarly known as "Hutch" and was more than willing to talk about his tumbling team and work with the athletic department than about his own varied career. Most of the students on the campus are familiar with his outstanding successes in athletic sports of all kinds.

He attended Princeton university where he won letters in football, baseball, and track. He played quarter back and was chosen on the all-American team. After he left Princeton he won the Harvard high hurdles in the United States and Canada. He won what was called the junior championship in hurdles at New York and later the senior championship at Montreal, Canada.

Coached at Princeton.

Mr. Hutchinson likes all kinds of sports—minor and major. He is in favor of sports for everybody and not for just a few super-trained athletes.

His coaching career has been as varied and successful as his own athletic career. He coached for a while at Princeton. At Washington and Jefferson college at Washington, Pennsylvania. Ed Garbin and Ed Garbin were members of his team. "Patsy" Henry has been chosen as all-time all-American tackle. Garbin was an all-American center.

He also coached at the Idaho Technical Institute at Pocatello, now the Southern Branch of the University of Texas, Idaho, and New Mexico, and also at West Virginia and Dickinson College. He was coach at Idaho in 1929, 29 having phenomenal success with his teams. Many famous Idaho athletes have trained and been coached under "Hutch."

KAPPA SIGS LOSE GAME TO DELTS

Delta Tau Delta came within one basket of dropping its string of successive victories, Saturday afternoon, when they barely missed out an 18 to 20 win over the Kappa Sigs in the last minute of play. The game was one of the best that has been seen in the inter-collegiate league this year, with both teams playing ball of high caliber. The lead changed sides during the game at frequent intervals. With the game tied and one minute to play, H. Rust, Delts forward, sank a field goal. The winners were able to stall until the final whistle.

After training 30 minutes at the gym, the Delts were given 15 minutes to periods to defend the team men 24 to 18 Monday night. Thompson and McKay, both of T. M. A., led for scoring honors with 10 points each. Ward led the scoring for the winners with 10 points.

Phi Delta Theta had little trouble in rolling up a 36 to 5 count against Chi Alpha Pi in the second game Monday night. The losers were held to a lone free throw in the second half. Willis the Phi Delt forward grabbed the scoring honors with 13 points. Omssted led the losers with 4 points to his credit.

Games the rest of this week include:

Tonight, 7:30, Junior Varsity vs. Lambda Chi Alpha; 8:30 L. D. S. vs. Lindley hall.

Wednesday, 7:30, Beta Theta Pi vs. Kappa Sigma; 8:30 Alpha Tau Omega vs. Coaches.

Thursday, 7:30, Delta Chi vs. Delta Tau Delta.

Over 50 games remain to be played on the season's 90-game schedule. The tournament is being played on a percentage basis, instead of the league division method as was used last year.

SIXTH CONFERENCE
TAKEN BY U. OF C.

Basketball Quintet Wins Six Coast Titles During Last Nine Years

The University of California basketball quintet took its sixth coast conference title in the last nine years. The Bears disposed of the northern contenders, the Washington Huskies, in two straight games Friday and Saturday in Oakland by scores of 23 to 21 and 36 to 24. The Huskies put up hard battles in both contests and carried the fight both nights. Calmery of the northerners was the outstanding man on the floor both evenings, displaying some of the flashing rushing and driving plays that have given him a berth on almost every all-star team picked in the north.

The first game was a tough battle all the way with the Huskies leading with one minute to go 21 to 20. The southern champions broke up the losers stall and Jack Read, California center, sneaked in a goal with only thirty seconds to play and put the game on ice. The second night the Washington five seemed unable to hit the hoop and never headed the winners. "Doc" Edmundson sent all of his reserves but they were unable to overcome the lead even though they did rally to bring the count from 17 to 24 in the last few minutes.

In the last nine years Edmundson's teams have copped the northern division six times, the last five in consecutive seasons, but have only taken conference honors once last year. Their only win has been from California, who has faced them in the play off four times.

Washington's starting lineup was Lee and Hanover at the forwards, Fuller at center, Nelson and Captain Calmery at guards. California used Kimmana and Selifer at forwards, Read at center, and Crowley and Captain Venet at guards.

No wonder
PIPES!

EVERY PIPE SMOKER has the satisfaction of knowing he has one masculine right that the women won't take away from him. They do leave our pipes alone.

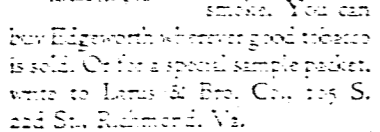

And though the girls may not know it, they're leaving us one of the finest smokes a man can have.

There's something calm and soothing about a pipe and good tobacco. It leads to clear-headed thinking. Perhaps that's why the leaders—the real men of the world—are pipe smokers.

College men like a pipe—packed with cool, slow-burning Edgeworth's favorite pipe tobacco in an out of the colleges. It's out especially for pipes to give a cooler, drier smoke. You can buy Edgeworth's wherever good tobaccos are sold. Or for a special sample packet, write to Lums & Bro. Co., 125 S. and St., Richmond, Va.

EDGEWORTH SMOKING TOBACCO

Edgeworth is a blend of the old tobacco, with its natural flavor enhanced by large-leafed Connecticut and exclusive French process. Buy Edgeworth's now in two forms—Edgeworth's Refined and Edgeworth's Plug Size. All sizes are packed in 3 1/2 oz. pound tins.

SPORT SHOP

A few final words and basketball will be gone for another year. California gained the title of the coast champions last week and again brought up the question of officiating. The southerners did not like the constant tooting of the whistle which the northerners have become so accustomed to. In the southern section of the coast conference, bodily contact is not considered a crime and consequently the teams play more of a driving game while in Washington, Oregon and Idaho it is a foul. The Bears had to change their style of ball to suit Piluso's officiating. This shows the necessity of new and uniform rules governing the play.

Among the new ideas to be considered for new rules, is one to prevent the leading team from stalling during the closing minutes of a game. One of the proposed ideas is to limit a club to 30 seconds time in which to make some attempt to score.

Huntley Gordon, Washington State center, walked off with the high scoring honors of the division for the second successive year. The final standing gives Gordon 135 points against 128 for Fuller of Washington. Afton Barrett, Vandal forward, led the Idaho squad with 113 to take fifth place one point back of Holsten. Cougar forward, Greiner and Lacy, also broke into the high fifteen group.

The opening of the baseball season is less than a month away with snow still covering a part of the playing field. About thirty men are signed up to turn out and many are working out regularly in the gymnasium each afternoon loosening up before taking to the field. The baseball season promises to be one of the brighter.

spots in the Idaho athletic schedule for the 1931-32 year. However, condition counts a great deal more in baseball than many people suspect and two or three weeks of outside work is necessary unless Idaho is to be handicapped at the opening of the season.

The question will soon be brought before the student body vote of what sports will make up the minor sport schedule. Wrestling, golf, and tennis will be considered among others. There should be little hesitancy in the voting to pass the activities presented. The minor sports is a distinct advantage to the majority while major sports tend to the minority in those participating. The passing of the sports presented for vote will also be a feather in the Vandal cap as many schools have cut down on the sport program. Minor sports cost very little and give a greater number of the students a chance to earn an award.

Anyone who has not had enough basketball for one year will find some interest in the gym each week night and Saturday afternoons. The intramural tournament is in full swing and many close games afford interesting entertainment. Probably one of the closest games of the year was played Saturday when the Delta Tau Delta team defeated the Kappa Sigs by two points in the closing minute of an exciting game.

The grand old man of the loincloth, M. K. Mahatma Ghandi, was once the chief of Oxford university according to Dr. Louis Joffe of Pittsburgh. Parading under the title of "Ghandi the Dancer," the Indian Nationalist leader was known as the best dressed man on the campus.

Several Football Players Train with Trojan Varsity Track

P. I. P. A.—Five University of Southern California varsity football players have heard the call of competition again and are now in training with the Trojan varsity track squad.

Bob Hall and A. T. Brown, football tackles, are now working with the weights. Johnny Baker, Troy's running guard last fall, is putting the shot, while Frank Williamson, a running guard reserve, is throwing the javelin. Dick Barber, reserve fullback and speed demon of Coach Howard Jones' squad last season, is back with the broad jump, his first athletic love.

Bob Reed, who played Spartan football last fall, is also a track candidate. His event is the 440.

Co-eds at Denver university have taken issue with University of California women who recently declared that "dirty cords make the man." The Denver co-eds claim that dirty cords are "unsightly, cheap and disrespectful."
