

STANFORD PRINTS BORAH FOUNDATION PEACE LECTURES

Hudson's Boon Expected To Have Large Circulation

William Edgar Borah is the man largely responsible for the active part the northwestern part of the nation is taking in world-wide affairs. A series of lectures on "Progress in International Organization," were delivered by Dr. Manley O. Hudson, Bemis professor of international law, Harvard university upon the occasion of the dedication of the William Edgar Borah Foundation for the Outlawry of War.

These lectures have just been published in book form by the Stanford University Press at Stanford University, California. It is dedicated to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the League of Nations, since 1919; Albert Thomas, director of the International Labor office since 1920; and Ake Hammarskjold, registrar of the Permanent Court of International Justice since 1922.

Gift of Chicago Man.

The Borah Foundation lectures at the University of Idaho have been made possible through the generosity of Salmon O. Levinson of Chicago, who donated to the university a fund to be known as the William Edgar Borah Foundation for the Outlawry of War. The resolution of the state board of regents of the university in accepting this foundation explains the manner and purpose of its establishment in the following words:

"In recognition of the priceless contribution of Senator William Edgar Borah to the cause of world peace through his mastery of advocacy of the outlawry of war, and out of deep admiration and friendship for him, Salmon O. Levinson of Chicago offers to the Board of Regents of the University of Idaho to create and endow to the amount of fifty thousand dollars the William Edgar Borah Outlawry of War Foundation. The purpose of the foundation is to establish in the University of Idaho a lectureship for the promotion of a better understanding of international relations, of the age-old struggle with the baffling problems of war, and of the vital part played in its solution by William Edgar Borah."

Senator Borah, as chairman of the senate committee on foreign relations since 1924, has been a great power in shaping our policy during a critical period, and the effect of his influence is most pronounced in international circles.

Peace Progress Cited.

The lectures are a brilliant analysis of the progress to be made by the nations of the world in the organized efforts to establish peace and to settle their differences peacefully before arbitral tribunals. Included in the lectures are analyses of the Hague Peace Conferences, the League of Nations, the International Labor Organization, the Permanent Court of International Organization, and the Measure of Progress in International Organization.

Stanford is circulating international personages and institutions throughout the world and expects a large sale of these books. The university is also distributing many copies to various individuals and institutions.

GRAVE ADDRESSES ALPHA KAPPA PSI

Talks on Conflict of Political and Economic Orders

The conflict of political and economic orders was the topic discussed by Dr. Graue and proved informative as a background of economic conditions both national and international. In a resume of his address, Dr. Graue said:

"The question involved in this conflict of political and economic orders deals with the effect of the economic depression upon the political order. The vitals of our present system of political and economic organization rest in the agencies and habits of thought of the last century and a half. The political order is based upon popular government with the character of nationalism. This order conforms but slowly to the swiftly changing economic order which apparently is sacred in character, extremely sensitive, and international in scope.

Confidence Undermined.

"Whenever economic tension develops, of either national or international relationships, political tension follows in its train. Economic strains generate political struggles among different classes of economic incomes. The aim of this political struggle is to shift the incidence of economic sacrifice to the least sensitive class. Confidence in the capitalist system is undermined; without public spirit of confidence the capitalist scheme of things cannot operate."

The date of the annual tactical inspection of the Cadet Corps has not been announced as yet but it is expected to be held on the approximate dates of last year which were May 11 and 12.

Information obtained from the officer of the P. M. S. & T. is that outside work in preparation of these events will be resumed at the earliest possible date that satisfactory weather conditions permit.

COSMOPOLITAN CLUB HEARS DISCUSSION ON THE PHILIPPINES

The Crowded Condition In Schools Cause Children To Be Turned Away

"Over 60 per cent of the people in the Philippine Islands are literate," according to Andres Bigornia, in his discussion at the Cosmopolitan club meeting at the Baptist church Saturday night. "Spain and many European countries do not have near the per cent of literate people that the Philippines do," Bigornia asserted.

"And furthermore, we would have a much higher per cent of educated people if we had a more adequate school system. Our schools are over crowded to the extent that children are turned away because of the crowded conditions."

Roman Ramos, president of the Filipino club, presided over the meeting, since it was Filipino night. He and Juan Romero gave a brief historical sketch of the Philippines.

Discovered by Magellan.

"The population of the Philippines is 12,500,000, twice the size of New York city, with 115,000 square miles of fertile soil. Magellan found our islands in his voyage around the world in 1520; the Spanish flag waved over them in 1521, and it continued to wave for 330 years.

"Today, two thirds of the people are Catholics, and one third Protestant and Mohammedan, so that one can see that Christianity has a strong hold. Magellan's men left a golden cross and a church when they sailed back to Spain in 1523. Today, the church he established there still grows."

Ramos said that the Philippines have the United States to thank for their present educational system, but that they have had schools in the Philippines longer than America has had, though they were not efficient as the first ones were.

Women Cannot Vote.

"In 1611, 25 years before the first university in the United States had been established, the first Philippine university had been established," he said, referring to Howard.

"Our women cannot vote yet, but their social freedom has been greatly increased since the U. S. took possession of our islands. We have many educational institutions, and social organizations such as the Boy Scout movement," Andres Bigornia said. They have 1,000,000 students in public schools.

At the elections which followed the serenade singing, Tina Sexton was elected vice president, and Andre Bigornia, secretary to fill vacancies. Two additional patrons and patronesses were elected, Mr. J. Fuiton and Mrs. J. P. Wedin.

COMEDIANS GIVEN CHANCE IN PLAY

"A Paragraph For Lunch" Will Be Produced By Large Cast

Rehearsals have been under way for two weeks for the play, "A Paragraph For Lunch" to be given here on April 1 and 2.

This three-act farce comedy contains no serious moment. The riotous plot centers about an inveterate social climber who invites three young artists to her summer home in order to honor them. Upon their arrival her husband, much to her chagrin, puts them to work on a business project of his own. Amusing situations ensue and, of course, everything ends happily.

Use Radio Broadcast.

In the very modern manner a satirical radio broadcast furnishes perhaps the funniest scene in the play. Some of Idaho's best dramatic talent in the comedy line are members of the cast of this play—Harry Robb and John Thomas.

The play, written specially for production here by George Milton Savage of Seattle, has a large cast. Members of the cast, well known to university theater-goers are: Grace Eldridge, John Thomas, Sara Louise Throckmorton, Harry Robb, Raphael Gibbs, Margaret Moulton, Howard Altnow, Betty Brown, Casady Taylor, Lucille Moore, Marthacne Tanner and John Milner.

CARLSON INSPECTS HELL DIVERS WORK WEDNESDAY NIGHT

He Gave a Talk Thursday to Basic Military Students

Ralph Carlson, Portland, field representative of first aid and life saving for the Pacific branch of the American Red Cross, left yesterday for Pullman after a three day official visit here. The time was spent in organizing first aid and life saving programs at the university and throughout the community and county.

Mr. Carlson met with the Hell Divers life saving corps Wednesday evening to inspect their work, to give life saving tests, to examine and those applying for membership, and to make suggestions for use in the water examination which will be put on by the club in April.

Thursday morning he gave a talk to basic military students covering the principles of first aid such as artificial respiration, treatment for common injuries resulting from accidents, prevention of sickness, and care of personal health.

Mr. Carlson conferred with various service clubs in town and got the interest and cooperation of the business men. He succeeded in organizing a first aid class for fire men which will be instructed by Dr. C. O. Armstrong. He also organized a first aid class to be composed of teachers to represent public schools in the county, and representatives from the Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves, and Camp Fire Girls. This class will meet in discussion weekly under Stanton Hale who is chairman of the first aid and life saving committee of the American Red Cross board in Latah county.

Members of the committee are: Dr. C. O. Armstrong, Ralph Hutchinson of the university; Miss Ellen Peterson, county superintendent of schools; Harry Sampson, representative of the Boy Scouts, Girl Reserves, and Camp Fire Girls; and Carl Smith, chief of the fire department. Other appointments are to be made from among public utility and state highway patrolmen. The function and duty of this board is to promote first aid in the county and provide safety measures in highways and schools.

Mr. Carlson is attempting to create enough interest to get first aid required courses in public schools and universities. It is hoped by Miss Peterson, the county superintendent of schools, that these courses will be part of the curriculum for next year.

WATER CORNIVAL INCLUDES COMEDY

Hell Divers Will Present Program In April

Regular practice is being held by the members of Hell Divers in preparation for the annual water carnival to be presented in April. Lorna McCain, chairman announces an outline of the program which includes comedy and serious entertainment. Miss Jeanette Wirt is assisting in preparing a special feature number. The proceeds will be used to send a delegate to Red Cross institute in the summer.

The program is to be in three parts: first will be a demonstration of life saving. A gay water pageant will be given in burlesque for the second part of the evening's entertainment. The third part will be a water demonstration composed of trick races, fancy diving, form swimming and clown stunts.

Water Stunt Featured

Miss Wirt is training a group in a burlesque water stunt which is given partly out of water and partly in and under water.

The representative of Hell Divers chosen to go to the American Red Cross institute will keep the local organization in close contact with the most recent life saving methods as promoted by Red Cross. The institute is held for two weeks at Hicks Lake, Wash., near Seattle.

ADDED ATTRACTION FOR INN DANCES

'Bob' Woods Makes Possible Presentation of Review

Through the courtesy of Robert "Bob" Woods, Jimmy Harper will present his pupils in a new review every Saturday night at the Blue Bucket inn. This Saturday night he will present "The Old Fashioned Girl" featuring Alton Hoffman and Wayne Kenworthy with a chorus of twelve high school girls. There has been considerable comment on the campus as to the beauty and originality of these reviews. They are indeed an added attraction to the regular Saturday night dances. A great deal of time and effort are required by both Mr. Harper and those participating and they are, therefore, very desirous that the students should enjoy them. They would appreciate any criticisms or suggestions that might be made.

Miller Breaks Last Of "Hooster" Ties

It has taken a long time, but Dr. G. M. Miller has at last broken his last tie with his old Alma Mater, the University of Indiana, and has gone completely Idaho. Yesterday he had a new collar made for his frisky young pup, and the name he has engraved on it is "Vandal." Its mother, in due honor to Indiana, was called "Hooster."

Dr. Miller deliberated a long time before he selected a name for the new dog, even starting a contest in the English department for a fitting cognomen. The prize was a glass of Coca-Cola (large size), but due to the cold weather, no one felt inspired by the offer to submit a name. As a tribute to the school at which he has been a member of the faculty for so many years, Dr. Miller named the pup "Vandal" himself.

AMENDMENTS AND SKITS FEATURE A S U ASSEMBLY

Constitutional Changes Read By Campbell at Meeting Thursday

Entertainment was furnished by the Gamma Phi Beta sorority and Hays Hall at the ASU assembly Thursday. Changes in the constitution, by-laws, and campus were read.

Gamma Phi Beta presented an interesting take off on campus political organizations, entitled "Cleaning Up Politics." The girls taking the leading parts were: Alberta Bergh, Linn Cowgill, Mary Keating, Jean Tedford, Frances Du Sault, Irene Russel and Mary Herrick.

Hays Hall presented Professor Zilch's reformation. The clever invention of Professor Zilch formed the means of satirizing campus characters. Those having leading parts were: Lucile Mott, Marlon Fry, Lillian Olesen, Mae Schofield, Elvera Nelson, Pat McFadden, Helela Thornhill, Evelyn Thornhill, Lois Thomas and Azala Krantz.

The ASU passed the motion that the University of Idaho go on record as favoring a student book store and a student union building. This motion is the expression of our time, and will be referred to when this question is brought up in the future.

James Farris chairman of the student affairs and relations committee reported that four problems were being considered: the installation of an honor system at the university; the possibility of securing loans for those who could not possibly otherwise attend school; the establishment of a student health service; and correspondence with other schools.

GROUP INITIATES FACULTY MEMBER

Dr. Allen C. Lemon Taken By Kappa Delta Pi

Dr. Allen C. Lemon of the psychology department was initiated into Beta Theta chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, a national education honorary at a dinner meeting held last evening at the Blue Bucket inn. Two pledges will be taken within the next week, according to announcement of Ronald Sturman, president of the local chapter.

Mr. Sturman gave a detailed report of his last trip to Washington, D. C., as convention delegate at the biennial convention. His talk included a report by the national officers of the organization which told of the progress made since the last meeting two years ago.

A complete revision of the constitution has been made and several new by-laws added.

An excursion trip was taken by the group to Mt. Vernon, Arlington National Memorial, Washington monument and other historical points of interest.

FORESTRY DEAN TO STUDY ABROAD

Miller, Now In Berlin On Leave, Sends Greetings

Francis G. Miller, dean of the forestry school who is now in Europe on sabbatical leave of absence, finds Berlin a source of great interest and pleasure, according to a letter dated, Dresden, February 21, addressed to Dr. E. E. Hubert, acting dean.

Dean and Mrs. Miller left Moscow in the early part of February for Germany, where Dean Miller planned to visit forest schools and observe forestry activities of that country. After visiting the forest school at Tharandt, he expressed himself as being very much pleased with the plans and opportunities incident to his four months' study at the German school. At Berlin, he met Mr. J. O. Ringland, who is the United States forest representative in Europe, and who is engaged in special studies in the mid-European region.

Dean Miller's letter closed with a message of "greetings to all."

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB WILL GIVE ANNUAL BANQUET

To Be Held In Conjunction With a Meeting of High School Teachers

The annual Home Economics club banquet is slated to be held at the Hotel Moscow on Saturday, April 2. This event is one of the biggest of the year for the home economics department, and will be held this year in conjunction with a teachers' meeting in which high school home economics teachers of central Idaho will discuss various phases of their work.

Bring Students.

This year each teacher will bring two or three of her representative high school home economics students to the banquet, and each girl will give a report on a chosen topic relating to home economics.

The girls will be entertained at a luncheon prepared by a Home Ec club committee and served in the early American dining room of the department. Later other members of the club will take them for a tour of the campus so they may get a glimpse of college life.

Will Attend Banquet.

In the evening the teachers, their students, and members of the home economics department will attend the banquet at the hotel.

Dorothy Janssen, president of the Home Economics club, named committees for the different events at a meeting of the club Thursday afternoon. Valetta L'Herrison will arrange for a program and act as mistress of ceremonies.

ARCHITECTURE DAY PLANS UNDER WAY

Attic Club Performance in May to be Carried Out Same as Last Year's

"Plans are now being made for 'Art and Architecture day' which will be around the first of May," said Ralf Decker, president of the Attic Club. "This is an activity which is in the complete charge of the Attic club, and according to the president, it is to be carried out somewhat the same as last year's art and architecture day, exhibits being arranged for display in the rooms and hallways of the department on the third floor of the Science hall. Sponsoring this exhibit is one of the important duties of this organization.

Besides stimulating a permanent interest in the profession, another purpose of the day is to create a social and fraternal feeling between the art and architecture students. To accomplish this end, banquets are held every month. The enrollment of the club is about 50 members, all of whom are art or architecture students. The advisors of the club are instructors in the department: Professor Paul Mary Kirkwood.

MONTHS IN JAIL REWARD STUDENTS' LIBERTY VISION

Cloud of Mystery Hung About a Letter To Dean Miller

Telling of his radical political career of the past ten years, which has kept him in jail at hard labor most of the time, Daswanda Singh, former university student, wrote an interesting letter recently from Punjab, India.

For a week, a cloud of mystery has hung about the identity of the author of the letter. He had addressed the letter simply to "Dean Miller," and claimed to be a former student of his. But Dean F. G. Miller of the forestry school could find no record of any such person and turned the letter over to Dr. G. M. Miller of the English department, who was equally puzzled. Finally, the latter gave it to an Argonaut reporter.

A thorough search of the registrar's files revealed the fact that a student by the name of Daswanda Singh had attended the university in 1921 and 1922. Miss Ella Oleser then explained that Hindu students add an extra identifying name to their title when they come to this country, and drop it when they return to India. Many Hindus use the name Singh, as that merely designates their caste.

Daswanda Singh has evidently gained considerable prominence in his motherland, as he signs himself "President, All India Workers' and Peasants' Party."

"My dear respected Dean: "It is years ago since I received a letter from you. I admit that I am guilty in this respect, for I should have communicated to you my whereabouts. I remember once I wrote to you from China just after the return of our mission from Tibet.

"In China, I took an active part in the revolutionary struggle which was destined to overthrow the old imperialist and militarist governments. During this revolution of 1927, the British government was mobilizing its Indian armies to counteract the strength of the Nationalist government. It was in this connection that I was hunted by the British in the corner of China, and was finally arrested at Shanghai. I was sentenced to one year with hard labor. After my release, I was escorted to Calcutta where I was again arrested without any charge and was interned under the 'lawless law' for two years. Just after my release from Calcutta, I was again prosecuted for an anti-British speech, and was sentenced to six months. Since May, 1930, I have been out of jail.

"I shall be very thankful to you if you would ask the Argonaut to publish something about me and also my activities for my motherland.

Yours very sincerely,
DASWANDHA SINGH."

RIFLE TEAM WINS PROOF OF SUCCESS

Nineteen out of Twenty-five Teams Fired Against Are Defeated

Idaho Men's Rifle team has just experienced one of the most successful seasons on record at the annual trophy match at the end of last week, had defeated 19 out of the 25 teams fired against. The team's firing average at the end of last week was 3690, as over against the seasons average of all teams fired against 3488.

Some of the strongest teams defeated by the Idaho gunmen are: Washington University, St. Louis, University of North Dakota, University of Wyoming, University of Nevada, University of Pennsylvania, University of Kentucky, University of Michigan.

The Idaho sharpshooters have two matches left to complete before the season closes for the year. The Hearst Trophy match is to be fired Thursday and today. A shoulder to shoulder match with the feminine gunners is scheduled for Monday at 7:30. This match is an annual battle with an extremely doubtful outcome. Out of the two matches between the men's and women's rifle teams held last year both teams won one match. The men's team, however, won the one that went on official record.

The men's firing on the Hearst Trophy match are: team A: University of Griffith, Nelson, Moen, and Pritchard; team B: Adams, Brown, Betts, and Ladd.

To Captain Hale, the team's coach, is due considerable amount of the team's success. His untiring efforts have developed the team into a winning machine.

DELEGATE IS CHOSEN

Keeping Modern

Yesterday morning the first official notice of some proposed amendments to the A. S. U. I. Constitution and By-laws was given to the student body by representatives of the executive board. Within a week or two the electorate will be given an opportunity to express its approval or disapproval of the proposed changes. In that connection, then, this seems to be one time in which that exercise of voting might well be more fully used than in many so-called elections. This is an occasion in which the motivating factor behind voting is not merely the casting of a vote for the good but political reason that some one wants to stay in office and some one else wants to be put in instead. This opportunity is one of expressing an opinion on a matter that is of importance to good government, if any kind of student rule can be traced with that name.

The constitution an by-laws under which we have been operating have for some time been unsatisfactory in many respects. The changes which have been proposed have, in so far as possible, attempted to improve those unsatisfactory features. Yet, in making that revision, many things may have been done which are not to the best interests of the student body. It is the duty of every member of the student body, then, to note the changes, to weigh them and to cast their votes as they see fit.

Some of the proposals are decidedly advantageous to everyone. The athletic department has made several suggestions which will go far to increase interests in sports. These suggestions were nearly all incorporated into the constitution. They not only provide for a wider scope of minor sports, but they make the award thereof of much more desirable nature than before. At the same time very definite improvements have been suggested as to the giving of major sports letters. The requirements have been altered to a level with those of other schools and a greater number of men who really earn letters will receive them. That will aid, at least to some extent, in making interest in athletics greater.

Other things have been done of a more minor nature. Many of them were important, however, because they have for their purpose the bringing up to date of rules and regulations. It is important from a standpoint of timeliness that they be approved.

On the other hand a number of suggestions are made which need not receive so unanimous a commendation. An example of such an arrangement is in regard to the proposed handbook as an activity. That part merely proposes a lot of machinery for the doing of an unimportant thing which could be done much more easily and much less expensively in other ways. In almost the same class is the proposal in regard to the revision of the annual song and stunt fest. In the original it was bad enough. In the proposed form the idea of a series of stunts and a men's follies is going back to a time when college students were blessed with time and the desire to show their cleverness by cavorting about on stages. At this time most students have better things to do—such as picking daisies or possibly studying.

But after all, the important thing is that we look the proposals over and then cast our votes in accordance with our opinions of the changes. Student government as a whole is extremely unimportant and useless, anyway, but in some respects it has a semblance of value. As far as future use of the franchise is concerned this is one of those times when it is of at least some value. It is hoped that the most valuable part of the making of the ultimate decision will be in picking out and discarding the useless and trivial suggestions which savor of the spirit of Joe College and in retaining the features which lead to a more highly integrated system of dignified and just student government.

Constitutional Amendments

The following amendments to the Constitution and changes in the campus rules were read:

Constitutional Amendments

It is moved that the following amendments to the Constitution of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho be adopted:

Article III, Section 1.
That after the word "Association" there be inserted: "He shall appoint and outline the duties of the following standing committees, subject to the approval of the Executive Board: Rally, Election, National Student Federation of America, Student Affairs and Relations, Assembly, Homecoming."

That the word "other" shall be inserted between the words "all" and "committees."

The section will then read as follows:

Section 1. The President of the A. S. U. I. shall be chairman of the Executive Board, shall call and preside at meetings of the Student body at such times as he shall think proper, or shall be directed to do by the Executive Board, or as hereinafter provided, and shall act as executive head of the Association. He shall appoint and outline the duties of the following standing committees, subject to the approval of the Executive Board: Rally, Election, National Student Federation of America, Student Affairs and Relations, Assembly, Homecoming. He shall appoint all other committees not otherwise provided for by this Constitution and By-Laws, subject to the approval of the Executive Board. He shall be an ex-officio member of all committees or boards either permanent or temporary. He shall be the official representative of the Association.

Article VI, Section 5.

That the words "and" in line three be struck out; and that the words "and" (4) the Vandaleers" be inserted after the word "band" in line four.

The section will then read as follows:

10. There shall also be held a singing contest each year in which all men's and women's groups may enter. The conduct of this contest will rest entirely with Sigma Alpha Iota and a suitable trophy shall be presented the winner.

11. The preceding provisions shall be put into effect immediately upon their approval by the Student Body and this section shall thereafter be stricken from the By-Laws.

OREGON UNIVERSITY STUDES WANT CASH

Coads Wish to Marry for Money and Forget About Kitchens

Marry for money—that's what the students on the University of Oregon campus would do if they had the chance.

According to a questionnaire 90 per cent of the men students said they would marry a woman 60 years old if she had $1,000,000. The coeds said they would be glad to marry for money and forget all about sunny kitchens with pink and white ruffled curtains. Spin and love are all right—unless there's a million around handy.

Journalism Honorary Bids Five Outstanding Women

Contest For High School Women Editor Being Conducted; Plans Started For Annual Matrix Table

Five Women were pledged to Theta Sigma, women's journalism honorary, at a luncheon Tuesday, March 8 at the Blue Bucket Inn. Initiation will be held within the next month. To be eligible to pledge Theta Sigma the women must be a major or minor in journalism and have done outstanding work on the Argonaut or Gem of the Mountains.

The new pledges are: Mary Axtell, Eileen Hale, Lorraine Stewart, Betty Brown, and Elsie Lafferty. The contest for high school women editors is now being conducted and seven entries have been made thus far. A cup will be given each of two editors at Matrix Table in the spring. One cup will be presented to the women editor of the best mimeographed paper and the other to the editor of the best printed paper. Plans are started for the annual Matrix Table at which about 200 women, including one freshman woman outstanding in journalism, other university women, students and faculty members, townswomen and a well-known out-of-town speaker are invited.

DISCUSS FAULTS IN COED STYLES

"Girls, on the whole, dress so as to be exceedingly attractive, but some are messes—for example the sloppy ones and the paint-shops," growled Dr. J. W. Barton, of the psychology department when asked his opinion on the way Idaho women students dress. Dean R. H. Farmer of the business school believes that Idaho women are attractive dressers, "but it all depends on the girl," he added. Make-up he approves of, but he feels that it is overdone.

Women should dress for comfort, hygienic reasons and beauty, was Dean G. M. Miller's opinion. Familiarity is an important factor in beauty. What was beautiful twenty years ago is ridiculous today. "Above all," said the dean, "vehemently, women should aid men to dress in the same weight of clothes as they do, or else there will be many a quarrel over the furnace." of view on this matter of clothes. Prof. C. W. Chenoweth said, "Women are dressing more sensibly than they ever have since I have known them." The only reform that he would suggest is that women should get enough confidence in themselves so that they will wear clothes out, and not throw them away with each change in style. As for rouge and lipstick—"It is tomfoolery; a method of disfigurement."

The Co-ed Mannequin

During the first coatless days, no Co-Ed will look or feel springier than the one wearing a bright sweater outfit. We can hardly realize that they are sweaters — so varied have they become in shape and knit. Those of large fish net or lace weaves are especially attractive.

Knit zipper suits — such as are found at Creighton's are just as popular as ever — the darker colors giving way to white, pink, green and yellow.

LIFE HAS TRIALS SAYS WISE CO-ED

Experiences Related By University of Oklahoma Student Interesting

P. I. P. A.—Life has its trying situations, as the experiences related below by a co-ed of Oklahoma university would lead us to believe.

Between my house and the Oklahoma Daily office, a matter of nine blocks, there are 57 dogs, an average of six and one-third to a block.

The one-third dogs are mostly small lap pets that care not whether I pass or roll snake eyes. The other 54 are huge carnivorous animals with a particular relish for galoshes on rainy days, shoe leather on dry days and big toes in the summer time.

The people in this neighborhood never feed their dogs but train them to get their meals off unsuspecting pedestrians. Some of the more intelligent beasts are taught to bring home umbrellas, recent edition text books and Hubigan compacts.

One particular dog, that stands ten hands high and boasts of airedale-police dog parentage, has a mania for sheer hose. He says he likes nothing better than a good mouthful of mesh stockings to top the 54 dogs was two nights before last when I was en route to the Daily office with a new lipstick, a new pair of hose and a cool, crisp slicker.

The pack met me one block from home and the particular dog I just mentioned, sensed the value of my new articles. For fear of losing part of the catch, he picked me up by the nape of the neck, circles round the block and delivered me to Boyd and Jenkins while the rest of the hounds lagged blocks behind.

He was overjoyed with his own strategy and let me off with two pearl buttons, a pass to the picture show and a rain coat belt.

Six teams remain undefeated in the intramural tournament after a month of hard games. The competition in A league is the tightest, with Delta Tau Delta, last year's league champions, in top place with four straight wins and no defeats. The Junior Varsity is also in the 1.000 percent group with three wins. Four teams in B league have not yet suffered a defeat. They are S. A. E., Coaches, Sigma Chi, and Phi Delta Theta.

Tuesday's Games

The Junior Varsity five had little difficulty in swamping Lambda Chi Alpha, in the first game, Lindley Hall entered the scoring column by nosing out the L. D. S. in a tight game, 16 to 15. The games Wednesday night were not so interesting. Kappa Sigma took the measure from the Betas, 16 to 7. Both teams played rough and ragged ball. The score at the half was 5 to 9. The Coaches had little trouble in rolling up a 48 to 13 score over Alpha Tau Omega.

In the only game last night, Delta Tau Delta defeated Delta Chi, 35 to 16. Grabbing the lead at the start, the Deltas were never headed, Justice led the scoring for the winners.

Games scheduled for Saturday include Delta Chi Alpha, Phi Gamma Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha at 1:30, and Sigma Chi vs. Lindley Hall at 2:30.

THE GOLDEN BEARS AWAIT NEW SHELL

New Type Racing Boat Will Be Thirty Pounds Lighter

P. I. P. A.—Like little boys on Christmas eve, those big, husky oarsmen of Coach Ky Ebright's California varsity crew eagerly await the delivery of their new racing shell.

The Golden Bears have had new boats before—but the one coming to them in mid-March is different. It's of advanced construction. Its riggers are of duralumin. Its skia is fastened to keel and gunwales, rather than glued to the ribs.

The new type riggers will effect a saving of 30 pounds in the weight of the shell. The fastening of the skin will eliminate the undulation between the ribs of the boat, permitting it to slide more freely through the water. Together, these improvements may bring California another Poughkeepsie championship and send her to an Olympic title as in 1923.

The craft is of standard length and beam, a creation of Georgia Peacock, Seattle boat-builder. It will be christened before the Bears depart for the regattas at Seattle, Poughkeepsie and Worcester.

CRISLER TO COACH PRINCETON SPORTS

P. I. P. A.—Herbert Orrin Crisler, director of athletics at the University of Minnesota, has signed a contract to become head football coach at Princeton university, Thurston J. Davies, supervisor of Princeton's sports, announced early today.

Crisler is a graduate of the University of Chicago, class of '22. In February, 1930, he went to Minnesota as football coach and later became athletic director there. He is the first non-Princeton man to become head football coach at Princeton.

SIX UNUSUAL TRACK AND FIELD RECORDS ARE ESTABLISHED

Marks Have Been Bettered 18 Times This Season

P. I. P. A.—Six new track and field records have been established and official and approved marks have been equalled or bettered 18 times a review of the 1932 indoor track and field season disclosed today.

Not since the record orgy of 1925 when the peerless Paavo Nurmi led his Finnish brothers and others to new records has there been a quota like that already supplied in this Olympic year.

Here are the new record holders and their marks:

Mile run—Gene Venzke, Boyertown, Pa. Time 4:10.

High jump—George Spitz, N. Y. U. Height 6 ft. 8 1/2 in.

Shot put—Leo Sarton, N. Y. A. C. Distance 51 ft. 11-8 in.

Two-mile steeplechase—Joe McCluskey, Fordham. Time 9:46.8.

One and 7-8 mile medley relay—N. P. U. Time 7:20.6.

Venzke accounts for two of the times in which official marks have been bettered for his has twice broken the mile record. Sexton also has twice broken the shot-put record. Spitz has topped the jump record three times. Herman Erik of Los Angeles A. C. has joined Sexton in breaking the shot record. Thus on 11 occasions have official records been bettered.

The world's record of 6.2 for five times by Emmett Toppino, graduate student at Loyola of New Orleans. The 45-yard high hurdles record of 5.8 has been equalled by Monty Wells of the Boston A. A. and by Arthur J. MacDonald of Holy Cross college.

The super walking of Mike Pecora has lifted that sport from the realm of the silly into the height of real athletic accomplishment. The record he broke had stood even since 1911 when the famous G. H. Goulding did the heel-and-toe mile in 6:23.

SCHEDULE TRACK MEETS FOR IDAHO

Six track meets in addition to a series of practice trials with W. S. C. in the Pullman field house have been scheduled for the Idaho squad this spring. Daily workouts are now being held in Lewis court under the direction of Otto K. Anderson, track coach. The squad will report at MacLean field as soon as weather permits.

Besides the conference meet in Seattle, the Vandals will participate in one triangular meet with Montana and W. S. C. in Pullman, and four dual events. The complete season schedule follows:

April 23—Whitman at Walla Walla
April 30—W. S. C., Montana, and Idaho at Pullman.
May 7—Oregon at Moscow.
May 14—Montana at Missoula.
May 21—W. S. C. at Pullman.
May 27 and 28—Conference meet at Seattle.

SPORT SHOP

Sport interest for the past few days have again turned toward the home districts where the spotlight has been turned on the high school basketball tournaments. The Coeur d'Alene Vikings continue to pile up the outstanding record in the state. Coached by Harold Telford, former Idaho star and all coast guard, Coeur d'Alene has won 105 out of 116 games played since 1927. The Vikings boast an unbroken string of over 75 wins in north Idaho competition over the same period of time. Last week Coeur d'Alene won its eighth Panhandle title by winning over Wallace 35 to 30 in the finals of the tournament.

Boise also extended its winning streak by winning the right to enter the state tournament at Twin Falls next week. Lewiston emerged the winner in the north central district by winning over Winchester in one of the hardest fought tournaments in the state.

Wrestlers and boxers of all sizes shapes, and weights are working out daily in preparation for future bouts. Last week the wrestling team dropped a meet with Washington State and tentative plans are under way for a boxing meet.

With the proposed plans for the addition of wrestling, golf, tennis, cross-country, and swimming to the minor sport program, interest has already been aroused in those sports. Plans are underway to send a four man golf team to the Northwest Intercollegiate tournament in Seattle in May. Last year an unofficial team played W. S. C. and took a 32 to 13 decision from the Staters. Prospects for the team for this year seem even brighter and a team should have a good chance of taking the title.

Moscow's elimination in the North Central district meet places that high school in an unfamiliar position. When the teams convene for the state meet at Twin Falls this year, it will be the first time since interscholastic tournament was inaugurated back in 1917 that Moscow has not entered as a competitor.

BENCH AND BAR OFFICERS NAMED

George Beardmore Is Newly Elected Chief Justice

The newly elected officers of Bench and Bar are: chief justice, George Beardmore; vice justice, Edward Cross; treasurer, John Peacock; secretary, Hugh Bedford; Robert Brown is the retiring chief justice. Abe Goff, prosecuting attorney of Latah county, was the principal speaker at the dinner given at the Blue Bucket last Monday. Mr. Goff's subject was "The Functioning of the Judicial System in Idaho."

PRACTICE DRAWING RESULTS IN DEATH

Student Killed By Discharge of Another's Gun.

P. I. P. A.—Sewart Carnichael, 19, Dallas, Southern Methodist university student, was shot to death while he and J. C. Fortune, 19, also a student in the university, were practicing "drawing" pistols.

The two were at the home of Fortune when the accident occurred.

Fortune said they were practicing drawing pistols out of scabbards when one of the two revolvers he had discharged, hitting Carnichael in the abdomen.

ADD RADIO WRITING

Northwestern Journalism School Demands New Subjects.

P. I. P. A.—The development of the radio has led to the creation of a new course in the journalism curriculum of Northwestern university—radio writing. Arthur A. Daley, advertising and radio continuity writer, will conduct the course.

"Unemployment, Its Causes and Remedies," will be a new subject in the commerce school.

Other new subjects are: the psychology of personal and social adjustment; trust company operation and management; department store administration; planning and production control; editorial writing and policy; typography and foreign trade analysis.

Miss Muriel McFarland, state supervisor of home economics, has come to Boise where she will inspect the high school vocational home economics classes in that part of the state. She makes the trip twice yearly.

During this visit she will join Miss Jane E. Hinkley, federal home economics agent who visited the campus early in February, and together they will meet a committee of high school home economics curriculum to work out a program for that work.

SALEM STATESMAN IS SECOND PAPER

Revengeful St. Louis Editor Starts Second Northwest Newspaper

Second Northwest Paper.

George L. Curry from St. Louis after having been editor of the Spectator since 1846, was asked to resign in 1848.

Curry, revengeful at losing his job as head of the Spectator, determined to start an opposing paper. He made a press and called his paper the Free Press. This was in March, 1848, but only continued until October of the same year because of the gold rush. After Curry quit the Spectator, Aaron E. Wait took over the Spectator on February 10, 1848. From September 7 to October 12, in 1848, the Spectator suspended publication. After reopening the plant again, Wait gave up the editorial desk, and on February 22, 1849, the publication was again suspended. D. J. Schnebly became editor on September 5, 1850. He hired C. P. Culver as associate.

Became Political Paper.

For the first time in its history, the Spectator took on party politics. The political policy went Whig in 1852. On March 16, 1852, the paper was again suspended, because the editorial fop didn't fit good with the readers. Schnebly sold the sheet at this time to C. L. Goodrich in 1854.

Goodrich sold the printing plant for $1,200 to W. L. Adams. He then combined the old Spectator plant with the Oregon City Argus on April 21, 1856. The Argus was the first distinctly Republican paper in Oregon territory, if not in the Pacific coast area. Adams retired from the Argus in 1860, and David Craig Watson became editor. Craig merged the Argus with the Oregon Statesman at Salem on October 24, 1863. In due time after acquiring most of the stocks, he sold the Statesman merged with the Unionist and the former name was dropped.

For the last 67 years the paper has followed the activities of the solons in the state house at Salem. It has changed hands many times, but it is still the Statesman of Salem, the off-spring of the original Spectator of Oregon City founded February 5, 1846.

WRITING CHANCE GIVEN STUDENTS

A first-rate chance for some Idaho student to earn $50.00 makes its appearance in the writing contest announced in the New Republic early in February, and together they will meet a committee of high school home economics curriculum to work out a program for that work.

When interviewed concerning this contest, Dr. G. M. —and that's what the statistician does for industry

Definite knowledge of "where we are" and "what lies ahead" is as vital in business as in flying. For this expert navigating, the Bell System has long relied upon statisticians.

These men study present and prospective industrial, economic and social conditions in all parts of the country. They gather facts—analyze them, correlate them, discover their significance to the telephone business, draw guidance from them. They study and forecast the changing requirements of the public for telephone service. They estimate the probable future demand for new services, such as radio telephony to foreign lands and ships at sea. They keep the executives advised as to current progress towards the objectives thus carefully determined.
