

HOLD JUNIOR ASSEMBLY WEDNESDAY; WITH PARADE AND MIXER THURSDAY

CABARET PROMISES FUN FOR JUNIORS OF 1932

Special Numbers to Feature Intermission During Closing Event of Junior Week

As Whitlock's orchestra plays downstairs, and the Blue Bucket band upstairs, the Junior class of 1932 will close Junior week with the annual cabaret at the Blue Bucket Inn Saturday evening. All arrangements have been completed for the closing fete, according to Bob Harris, chairman, including a number of special entertainers to feature the intermission periods. Ticket sales have been moving rapidly, and with only a few left, tables may be reserved Wednesday and Thursday at the Blue Bucket.

With whistles, horns, balloons, squealers, confetti and other favors suitable for the annual Junior sabaret awaiting Saturday night for unpacking, the finale of Junior Week promises to surpass all previous closing celebrations, according to Bob Harris, chairman of the event.

The number of tables usually plotted for the cabaret has been cut down according to Harris to give added space for dancing. Only a limited number of tickets remain on sale, and those desiring reservations must make them Wednesday and Thursday at the Blue Bucket.

Intermission will be enlivened by the Phi Delta Trio, and Florence Adams in a Hawaiian dance. Arrangements are also being made to bring Myra Pennington to the fete for a tap dance.

Patrons for the cabaret will be Dean Permeal French, Dean and Mrs. L. C. Crawford, Dean and Mrs. J. A. Kostalek, Dean and Mrs. J. W. Barton and Professor and Mrs. S. M. Carter.

IDAHO CHEMISTS MAKE PLANS FOR ENGINEER'S SHOW

Malcom Renfrew, Chairman of Chemist Displays, Arranges Exhibits

Idaho chemists have planned a huge display for the bi-annual engineer show, May 7th, in which they will strive towards an exhibit of both scientific and popular interest.

Malcolm W. D. Renfrew has been chosen chairman of the Idaho chemists part of the show. The executive committee is composed of Harold Niedermeyer, Carl von Ende, and Harvey Edelbute. Dale Riggins is chairman of the physics display. Carl von Ende and Renfrew will take charge of the assembly, which will be a spectacular exhibit of science, and which will strive towards entertainment rather than instructing.

Interesting and Scientific The exhibit's main aim is to put on something that will be scientific and yet of popular interest. They plan on having moving pictures of various proceedings, such as, glass blowing and other commercial enterprises which chemistry deals with.

The committee in charge has arranged to get exhibits from various industrial concerns. A miniature commercial plant will be set up to manufacture sulphuric acid. Also a display of organic compounds prepared by ultra-violet radiation, will be held in the junior and senior laboratories.

Dr. Hammar, advisor for the physics department, is working with the seniors in that department on individual projects which they will set in the physics laboratory.

Dr. G. W. Hammar will display his recent invention of the light telephone, and also hopes to have some kind of display of radio activities.

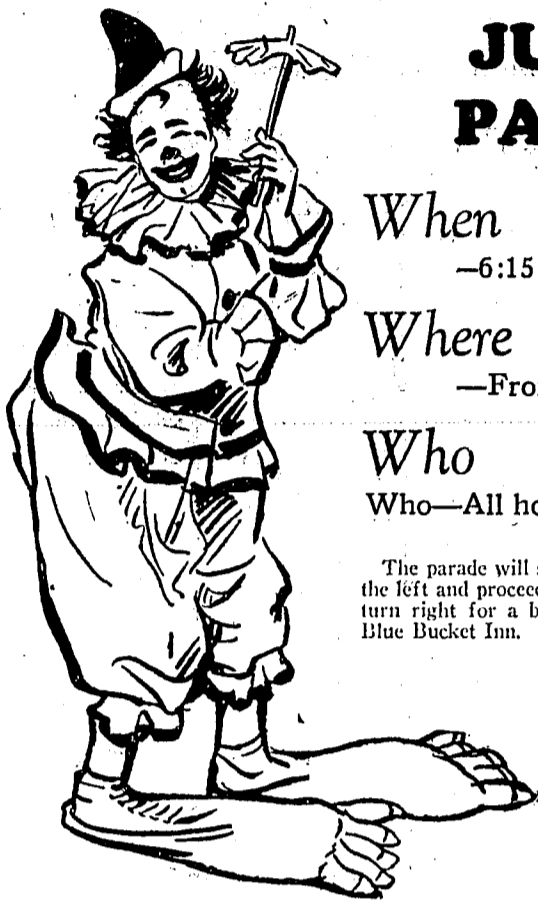

ANNUAL PARADE STARTS AT 6:15 THURSDAY NIGHT

As 'Irish' Martin leads the grand march of the year, mounted on a mule, etc., the Junior Parade, based on ideas from Ballyhoo and Hoey, will be under way at 6:15 Thursday night, with each house and hall represented by a float.

Choosing the theme that would give the houses the most latitude, Martin's committee decided upon a take-off on the most talked-of magazines, perhaps the most read of the day.

The parade will be followed by the mixer at the Blue Bucket Inn according to Pete Taylor, chairman. Judges of the parade will be honor guests with Dean Permeal French, the originator of Junior Week.

Order of Parade. Martin asks that the houses and halls fall into place according to the following table. Lindley Hall, Forney Hall, Hays Hall, Ridenbaugh Hall, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Tau Omega, Beta Theta Pi, Alpha Phi, Chi Alpha Pi, Delta Chi, Delta Delta Delta, Delta Gamma, Delta Tau Delta, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Sigma, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Alpha Theta, Phi Delta Theta, Phi Gamma Delta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Pi Beta Phi, Sigma Nu, and Tau Kappa Epsilon.

ENNIS TO OPPOSE MARTIN IN RACE FOR PRESIDENCY

Nominating Tactics Seen as Move to Split Party Vote

By Paris Martin. Once again the fragrant aroma of politics has begun to rise from the electoral cauldron. The fire which set the pot to boiling was lit at an ASU assembly last Tuesday where nominations were made for the student body offices next year. The simmering process was started a little early this year for mysterious reasons not yet fully explained. At any rate the constitution was waived in order that nominations could be made four weeks before the official elections instead of the two weeks provided for in the constitution.

At the present time it is hard to tell who made the nominations as far as parties are concerned. It is understood that the Alpha party which is now more strongly in the majority than ever before, had a full slate which they were to put before the assembly as the official party ticket. But in the nominating process a number of other nominations were made by individuals said to be members of the Independents. The nominations which were made by those men were for the most part also within the ranks of the Alpha party. The explanation which has been given of this procedure is that the Independents are planning to nominate men from their party by petition at least 48 hours before the date for the primary elections which are to be held on April 28.

By this process it is said that they hope to have a sufficient split in the Alpha party ranks to carry their candidates to the final election which comes in May.

The result of such tactics has been a move within the Alpha party to get the extra candidates to withdraw from the race in order that the party may enter to elections with a united front. At the present time, however, such activities have not assumed the proportions of facts and are said to be only in the speculative stage.

The position of most importance which was dealt with in this free for all manner is that of student body president. William Ennis, Pocatello, a member of Sigma Nu fraternity, and Elmer Martin, Moscow, a member of Beta Theta Pi, were the two men nominated for the presidency. Both are members of Alpha party groups.

There were two nominations for president and in this case one man has from each party. Robert Harris, member of Beta Theta Pi, was nominated by the Alpha party, while Douglas Cordon of Lindley Hall was nominated for the Independents. In neither of the above races will a primary be needed because not more than two have been nominated for each office, but in other cases where more than two nominees were named a primary will be necessary.

Students named for membership to the executive board, which includes four seniors, three juniors and one sophomore, were: Winfred Janssen, Eugene Scott, Harry Dewey, senior men; Oro Spoor, Kathryn Collins, Marion Fry, Lorna Moore, senior women; Rollin Hunter, Ferd Koch, Irving Fallweather, junior men; Lillian Olsen, Ruth Kehrer, junior women; Robert Ashbrook, Robert Bennett, sophomore men.

Other nominees were Virginia Belle Evans and Elaine Cash, May Queen; Marthalene Tanner; Claudia Jones, maid of honor; Roberta Roberts, page; John Thomas, Harry Wilson, yell king.

In this list of nominations there are also reports of certain withdrawals, but at the present time no official announcements have been made. The game at this point seems to be one of watchful waiting with neither party sure of its next move. It is expected that by next week the lines will be sufficiently well drawn to enable the parties to make statements as to their candidates and policies. It is not expected that either party will plan a particularly new system of attack. Once again the main issue seems to be a case of the outs wanting in and the ins wanting to stay where they are.

Songs By Morris O'Donnell Feature Annual Song Fest Rendered By Junior Class

JUNIOR SWING

By MORRY O'DONNELL

Never could see anything in Fox-trots
Never cared for smooth or lowdown drags.
Couldn't learn to one-step
Partners wouldn't budge
But here's a dance—Give it a chance
I'll get in your blood.

Chorus:

Come along all you Moaners
Lift up your head and sing
Step into line with rhythm and ryme
Come and do the Junior Swing.
Don't lag along you Loafers.
It's not the proper thing.
Come along—foller—don't ya dare holler
Come and do the Junior Swing.
It's not a tap dance. It's not a glide.
But it's a hot dance—Come on now, blast yore hide.
Can't wait around for Mourners,
Moaners and all those things.
Now is your chance, so get up and prance.
Come and do the Junior Swing.

Coming through for his third consecutive year, Mossie O'Donnell with 'Junior Glide'; composed the song that featured the annual Junior Week serenade, given last night by the class. Other songs written by O'Donnell include 'Go Vandals Go', a prize winner in his freshman year in the old Song and Stunt Fest. He followed it with 'Vandal Sweetheart', to win the prize again for his class during his sophomore year. 'Junior Glide', marks his third song for class events, all popularly received.

Another song, "Through," sung by Catherine Brandt, at the serenade was also written by O'Donnell. All three college class hits will be given as the finale of the Junior Assembly Wednesday.

The serenade, last night officially opened Junior week. It is to be followed by the assembly Wednesday, parade and mixer Thursday evening, Junior Prom, Friday, and closes with the cabaret Saturday night at the Blue Bucket Inn.

The program consisted of 'Dinah' 'in your Eyes', Phi Delta Trio, 'Can't We Talk It Over', orchestra, a piano duet, and a medley by the orchestra featuring the new junior song.

DEAN TALKS BEFORE KELLOGG STUDENTS

I. C. Crawford Speaks to High School Lettermen Thursday.

Dean I. C. Crawford addressed the lettermen's club of the Kellogg high school Thursday, April 7. Over one hundred and fifty persons were present at the meeting. The topic on which he spoke was "The Place of Athletics." This organization includes all alumni of the school who have earned an athletic letter and also students in school at the present time.

'SHOW BOAT' CAST OF FIFTY TO ENTERTAIN FOR JUNIORS

New Idea to be Presented at Wednesday assembly as Features of Annual Class Celebration McKinley Chairman

Backed by a black faced chorus of fifty, Irish Martin, John Thomas, Howard Altow, June Hanford and William Robb will be the principals in the 'Show Boat' presentation at Wednesday's assembly, under the direction of Frank McKinley, chairman.

For the first time the campus will see a student skit molded after the minstrel show. "We are not using end men," stated McKinley, "but decided to feature our principals in a different manner, which gives us opportunity to work in many other novel bits."

RALPH OLMSTEAD WINS ORATORICAL CONTEST MONDAY

Contest Is Part of The Nation-Wide Celebration

Ralph Olmstead, varsity debater and member of Kappa Sigma fraternity, won the George Washington Bi-Centennial Oratorical contest for the state. This contest is part of the national-wide celebration honoring George Washington. It was held in the Engineering building at 3 p. m. Monday. Mr. W. C. Banks, Mr. George Cerveny and the Rev. C. M. Drury were the judges.

Although the contest was open to all institutions of higher learning, public or private, Miss Henry from Lewiston Normal school was the only other contestant. The other schools were forced to withdraw because of financial difficulties. The committee in charge of the contest were A. E. Whitehead, Dr. Vio Mae Powell, Southern Branch; and Prof. C. E. Preston, College of Idaho.

Miss Henry spoke on "Washington: Nation Builder." Miss Henry Olmstead spoke on "The Spirit of Washington." Miss Henry traced the gradual evolution of Washington in politics and the various ways in which he contributed to the building of the nation. Mr. Olmstead showed in his address that Washington dealt with an aristocracy of brains rather than with the graft and corruption so prevalent now in our political system. He maintained that the spirit of Washington had been outraged and that Washington would be surprised to see the political situation of today.

Olmstead will be awarded an official George Washington medal in silver and has won the right to compete in the regional contest, the winner of which goes to Washington, D. C. for the finals. Miss Henry will be awarded with a bronze medal. The date and location of the regional contest, held for winners of the state contests have not yet been decided. The region will probably include Washington, Oregon, Montana, Utah, and Idaho.

In corresponding with the other schools in the state, A. E. Whitehead, debate coach, said, "I tried to get the most central point for a contest. I suggested that some of the southern schools hold preliminary contests and send the winner to Moscow. Ricks College, Albion Normal School, the Southern Branch, Nazarene College, and the College of Idaho all expressed the desire to compete but had to drop out because of lack of finances."

Both of the speeches were excellent showing careful preparation and good speaking ability. Miss Henry is especially to be commended on her pronunciation and delivery.

Rules for the contest included the following: original work, a 12-minute time limit, and the winner in each contest must give the same oration in the next higher one. John I. Hillman, 331 Sonna Building, Boise, has charge of the bi-centennial program in Idaho. Besides this contest among students of high education, elementary and high school contests have been held.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR GRAND OPERA

"Pagliacci" Tickets Ready By Thursday in All Houses

Tickets for the grand opera, "Pagliacci" to be presented April 24 under auspices of the Intercollegiate Knights and Blue Key, will be on sale Thursday in the group houses and halls.

All girls who wish to attend the opera will be given special permission by Dean French even though it is during the week. The permission will be granted only to the girls that attend the moving picture.

Catherine Brandt will be featured in several solo numbers, and a dancing act, arranged by Dorothy Menzies and Virginia Gascolgne will be presented. Morey O'Donnell, and his twelve piece band will conclude the program, playing the class songs with which the present will include the prize winners, 'Go Vandals Go', 'Vandal Sweetheart' and this year's song, 'Junior Glide', all composed by O'Donnell.

"The Junior Assembly this year will be as good if not better than any Junior assembly which we have had. We have been working hard and have succeeded in filling out a well rounded program. It is our hope that the 10 o'clock assembly Wednesday will be an hour of real enjoyment for everyone. We think we have an exceptional program, and to my mind, our 'Showboat Idea' compares quite favorably with Fanchon and Marco," said McKinley.

PROGRAM PLANNED FOR CONVENTION HERE THIS MONTH

Inter-collegiate Knights to Be Hosts to Delegates From Four States

The Idaho chapter of Intercollegiate Knights acting as hosts to delegates from Oregon, Washington, Montana, and Utah, has planned an interesting combination of business and pleasure for the meeting to be held here April 28, 29, and 30.

The delegates, who will be entertained at various fraternity houses, will arrive here Wednesday night, or Thursday morning. Thursday morning they will attend the official military inspection of the R. O. T. C.

The first business meeting will be held Thursday afternoon. With the generous cooperation of Dean Permeal French, the Hays Hall reception room has been secured for all the business conferences. The Idaho chapter of Spurs, women's service organization, has also planned a reception to be held in honor of the visitors. A smoker is arranged for Thursday night.

Friday morning's business meeting will conclude with a luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Neale. Another meeting will follow Friday afternoon, and an informal program dance is arranged for that evening. This will be held at the Blue Bucket.

Saturday will see the conclusion of business which will include the election of officers and the selection of the place for the next meeting. At a banquet Saturday evening the winner of the silver loving cup will be announced. This award is made to the chapter showing the most improvement during the year. Each delegate will also receive a penknife with the Intercollegiate Knight crest and date of the meeting as a special memento of the occasion.

CARL CLAUS TO PLAY

April 15 is the date Carl Claus, of music, has set for his annual violin recital. The program will be given in the Friday issue of the Argonaut. The recital will start at 8:15 o'clock. Isabel Clark will accompany Professor Claus.

DECORATIONS FOR PROM ARE KEPT UNDER COVER

The shroud of secrecy hangs over decorations for the Junior Prom, one of the biggest social events of the year, to be held at the Elks' temple, Friday night.

Unique programs for the affair have been selected by the committee under Marty Tanner. They are of semi-silk, with Junior Prom in gold letters across the front. The program leaves are hand tinted with oil spray, to represent a miniature rainbo.

Special taxi rates for couples desiring taxi transportation to the Prom have been arranged by the Junior Week officials. Seventy-five cent tickets will be issued by the Neely Taxi company for the dance at the Elks' temple. Patrons and patronesses for the affair include, Dean Permeal French, Governor and Mrs. C. Ben Ross, Commissioner and Mrs. W. D. Vincent and Mr. and Mrs. Allan Janssen.

DEPARTMENT HEAD IS HONORED GUEST

Miss Katherine Jensen Entertained at University Washington

Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the department of home economics, was honored at a dinner at the Wilsonian, Seattle Italian restaurant, where she was a guest of the home economics faculty of the University of Washington.

With Lucille Crist, Betty Trimble, and Fredericka Smith, students at the university, Miss Jensen drove to Seattle for spring vacation. They spent one day each way in making the trip, and report that the roads and the weather were ideal for traveling.

Makes First Visit
In Seattle Miss Jensen made her first visit to the campus of the University of Washington, and spent much of her time in the department of home economics. While visiting the practice house Miss Jensen met a Coeur d'Alene girl who took her freshman year in home economics at Idaho.

Miss Jensen enjoyed her visit on the Washington campus immensely, and says that it was only with the deepest regrets that she refused an invitation to the annual regatta between Washington and California crews held while she was there.

A. W. S. WILL HOLD REGULAR ELECTION

Coeds to Vote Thursday for Officers and Cabinet Members

Regular A. W. S. election will be held April 14 in Ad 205 A. Poles will be open from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. A. W. S. is composed of all women registered in the university and serves as an administrative body for women's activities. Every woman student is a member and it is the duty of every member to vote.

Nominees are: Louise Morely, Virginia Gascoigne, president; Mae Belle Donaldson, Ora Spoor, vice-president; Teresa Connaughton, treasurer; Katherine Collins, Dorothy Lindsay, secretary; Margaret Kellogg, Helen Peterson, yell queen and point system chairman, combined office.

Approve Cabinet Members
Members nominated to serve on the A. W. S. cabinet and whose names will appear on the ballot for the approval of the voters are: Betty Brown, Helen Moore, Mary Axtell, Helen Theriault, June McCabe, Ruth Cook, Jane LaRue, Frances DuSault, Lillian Olson, Ellen Jack, and Marian Mulky. This included a representative from each women's group on the campus.

WOMEN STUDENTS FINDING POSITIONS

Home Economic Seniors Receive Appointments

These warm spring days have suddenly taken on a new meaning for the home economics seniors who have spent the long winter months in choosing desirable positions for their first years "out", and have tirelessly applied, filled blanks, and even made long trips for personal interviews with prospective employers.

Irene Luke, Moscow, has just received notice of her appointment as high school home economics instructor at Midway, Idaho, where she will teach foods, clothing, related science, and related art.

Elizabeth Bell, Spokane, who was several months ago appointed as student dietitian at the Stanford university hospital at Palo Alto, California, has since been appointed to the same position on the staff of the Johns-Hopkins hospital in Baltimore, Maryland. She has received no information other than that of her appointment as yet, but the work will be along lines similar to those of student dietitians in other hospitals.

The next few weeks bid fair to bring many appointments to the women who are now being considered for the various positions which they have chosen.

Wily Women Use Feminine Assets

LOS ANGELES.—Asserted use of "feminine wiles" to gain good grades from masculine instructors at the University of California at Los Angeles caused a male revolt on the campus, led by the college newspaper with a demand for more women professors, proof against co-ed blandishments.

In an editorial titled "The Worm Turns," the California Daily Bruin attacked co-eds known as "apple polishers" in campus parlance. Asking for the employment of "more women professors," the editorial read in part:

"From the campuses all over the United States come reports of a masculine revolt against the general art of apple-polishing as practiced by the co-eds.

"At U. C. L. A. apple-polishing is practiced by both men and women. But the unfortunate men must depend upon fraternity luncheons and friendly little chats

NEVADA COED IS CHAMP FISHERMAN

PIPA—A University of Nevada co-ed is the champion trout fisherman of the United States.

Wanda Morrill, sophomore student and a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority, has been awarded the honor and a gold medal and silver cup by the Montague Rod and Reel company of Massachusetts for catching the largest black-spotted trout in the entire United States.

The trout, which weighed 29 3/4 pounds was caught last May at pyramid lake and it was only after a battle of 33 minutes with the large fish that Miss Morrill, her hands bleeding from the cutting line, was able to bring the trout to the side of the boat, where her father gaffed it.

During the course of the day Miss Morrill caught six trout, the only fish that were caught in the party that day.

NAME PRODUCTION "LIMEHOUSE NIGHTS"

Pep Band Show Will be in Form of Underworld Cabaret

Plans for the Pep Band Show which will be held April 27, are now progressing rapidly. The show will be called "Limehouse Nights," and is in the form of an underworld cabaret.

The entertainment will include many numbers never before seen on this campus. One special number will be a military review by eight girls who have appeared before on the campus under the name of the "Rhythmic Co-eds." The feature dance of the evening will be a chorus chair dance, in which all the tapping is done on chairs. Another unusual dance will be a rail dance by Jimmy Harper. This is a tap dance done on a three inch rail which is six feet in the air. The university tumbler will also work in an act.

Many Take Part
The lighting of which Lloyd Rutledge is in charge, will be especially adapted to each act. The elaborate and varied costumes will include military, apache, and many others.

Jimmy Harper, who is in charge of the entertainment part of the show, states that his very best tappers will take part. Some of the dancers who will appear are: Catherine Brandt, Aldon Hoffman, Wayne Kenworthy, Billy Watson, Waldo Eldridge, Margaret McGee, Donald Tracy, Eleanor Olson, and Kenneth and Bob Smith. The last two are little boys four and six years old. They will give a tapping and song act. The eight girls known as the "Rhythmic Co-eds," are Ethlyn O'Neil, Lucille Mott, Claudia Jones, Helen Thornhill, Evelyn Thornhill, May Schofield, Frances Hardman, and Rhoda Swayne.

The preparations for the music for the show are also in full swing, according to Harry Walden, leader of the Pep Band. One feature in his section is a six piece cabaret band.

KAPPA SIGS WIN DEBATING TITLE

Kappa Sigma's intramural debate team, Dean Arnold and Murray Estes, became intramural champions by defeating the L. D. S. team, Lorn Daniels and Joseph Howard, in the final contest last week. The question debated was Resolved: That compulsory military training should be abolished. The cross-question system was used with a great deal of success.

Dr. F. C. Church, Mr. W. C. Banks, and Mr. A. E. Whitehead acted as judges. Dr. Church remarked that it was one of the best intramural debates that he had ever judged. All three of the judges were highly pleased with the contest and thought that it showed real thought and speaking ability.

Women's Finals Next Week
Delta Gamma will meet Hays hall sometime next week for the final match of the women's intramural tournament. The exact date or the question for debate have not as yet been decided upon. Kathryn Collins and Elizabeth Dick will represent Delta Gamma, and Heloise Miller and Mary Lucile Kerr will represent Hays hall.

STUDENTS NEED LOAN

PIPA—Apparently the associated students of the University of Washington will have to get a loan of $48,000 from bankers and turn over 80 percent of student fees as security or face bankruptcy. That was the statement of Earl Campbell, graduate manager, after the board of regents failed to act on a request for a loan from the university building fund.

after class, while the co-eds have the advantage of all feminine wiles with which they have been endowed.
"If the sexes are to be placed on an even basis in the classroom, either the co-eds or the professors will have to reform. And as long as co-eds sit in front rows, the instructors will find it difficult to immunize themselves against feminine charms.

Society

JUNIOR WEEK PROMISES MANY EXCITING EVENTS

Junior week with the crowning social events of the year is here at last. It will open with a minstrel show given in the assembly Wednesday morning. Skits, dancing, and music will be included in the minstrel show, and the Junior song composed by Morey O'Donnell will be presented at this time. The date for the Junior serenade is being kept secret.

Thursday evening at 7 o'clock the Juniors will parade. Each house and hall is to enter a float. The parade will end at the Blue Bucket where the Junior Mixer will take place. Some very special entertainment has been planned. Of course it's all to be secret. Juniors will have to attend to enjoy the surprise.

The Junior Prom is to be given at the Elks' temple on Friday night. The occasion is to be formal. An excellent program of entertainment has been arranged by Joe Gilgan. Both professional and university acts are to be presented.

SPOKANE AUDIENCE APPROVES PLAYING OF DEATH'S DRAMA

"Death Takes a Holiday" Scores Real Success at Masonic Auditorium

The Spokane presentation of "Death Takes a Holiday" met with very real success according to Spokane residents and those from the University of Idaho who found it possible to attend the performance given Friday evening, April 8, at the Masonic temple auditorium.

Given under the joint auspices of the Spokane Little theater and the University of Idaho alumni this second presentation of Walter Ferris' drama was directed by Fred C. Blanchard with the technical assistance of Paul R. Ithig, acting head of the art and architecture department. The audience filled the main floor of the auditorium and there was a considerable overflow to the balcony.

Paper Comments.
Neither comedy, tragedy, melodrama, or fantasy, "Death Takes a Holiday" contains elements of all the types of drama and on this basis appealed to a wide variety of tastes. A Spokane paper records that although this play is a "superlatively difficult piece for an amateur group to attempt, the University of Idaho players made it impressive, dignified, fascinating, and artistic."
Lionel Campbell as Death repeated his outstanding performance given here in late February. Bertha Moore played the feminine lead and scored her second Spokane success. A strong cast lent able support and consisted of Naomi Randall, Dorothy Menzies, Elvior Jacobs, Catherine Brandt, Azalia Krantz, Clayne Robison, Raphael Gibbs, Howard Altnow, John Milner, Casady Taylor and Walter Pratt.
A single set was used for all three acts of the production. Done in the modern manner, striking light effects were obtained.

VANDALS LOSE SIX GAMES IN FIRST SERIES OF SEASON

Pitching Staff Turns in Best Performance in Tilts With Whitman

The Vandals opened the 1932 baseball season during spring vacation with a six game series with Whitman college at Walla Walla. Although the Missionaries came out ahead in all six of the contests, Idaho played good pre-season ball and made real battles out of four of the six games.

The opening game was a real pitcher's duel between "Cupie" Clow, star Whitman southpaw hurler, and Jacobs of Idaho, with Clow having a slight edge. Whitman was able to garner only six hits in the pinches to make them good for three runs. The Vandals crew connected for four blows but was unable to cross the platter for a single tally. Jacobs pitched in the mid season form although it was his initial appearance of the year and only the second time he had worked outside this season.

Game Is Close

The second game of the day saw another close battle although Whitman finally came out on the long end of a 13 to 7 score. Idaho found the pitching of Russell, another left hander, to their liking and ran up a 7 to 3 score in the fifth inning. The Whitman batters found the range in the last three innings and coupled with several Vandal errors, ran up the score. Nell Speirs, a sophomore did the chucking for the first seven innings and showed promise of developing into a high class hurler.

The next two games went to the Missionaries in well played games. The first games of the afternoon ended 6 to 2 but the second contest provided a "garrison" finish to give Whitman the edge 8 to 7 in the closest game of the series. Going into the last half of the nine Idaho had a 7 to 1 lead when a combination of hits and error gave the Missionaries 7 runs to win 8 to 7.

Had Little Practice

The final day saw the Whitman southpaws again in action on the mound and both held the Idaho hitters to few safe bingles. Clow again shut out the Vandals 8 to 0 and Russell won the second game 7 to 1.

Idaho was greatly handicapped in the series due to lack of practice and played surprisingly good ball considering the lack of outside work. Probably the outstanding performance of the trio was the showing that the Vandal pitching staff turned in. Jacobs, Speirs, and Hurlev all showed promise of being first class hurlers before the season is over.

Martin Is Strong

Irish Martin started the season strong with four hits in seven trips the first day but found the hitting tougher in the final games. Sober connected with several long blows for extra bases and played high class ball in holding down third base.

ANDERSON TAKES TRACK SQUAD OUT

Men are Preparing for Season's Opener with Whitman April 23

After being held indoors for more than a month by unsettled weather, Otto Anderson has finally taken his charges out on the outside track and has settled down to hard training for the season's opener, a dual meet with Whitman, April 23, at Walla Walla. The warm weather of the past two days has dried up the track enough to permit the cinder artists to work outside.

Anderson is planning to hold trials in all events next Saturday. This will be the first real chance the coach will have to get a line on his men. However, they all have been working out in Lewis court and the results should show the strength of the 1932 varsity pretty well. Early training seems to indicate that there will be a shortage of men for the field events, as there are few lettermen returning in these divisions. The outlook in sprints and distance events look much better. Thomas, Livingston, Siple and Galloway are expected to count heavily in the distance events and Jossis and Hanford will again be entered in the sprints.

Following the Whitman meet the Vandals will have a week to prepare for the big triangular meet with Montana and Washington State, billed for April 30 in Spokane. The sports bureau of the chamber of commerce is sponsoring the meeting and is endeavoring to have it designated as an official tryout for the Olympic games to be held in Los Angeles in July and August.

NEW MARX FEATURE HAS UNUSUAL PLOT

Includes Everything From Horsehides to Marx Brothers

Professors, tin, rags, razor blades, old bottles, horsehides, a skeleton co-eds, ... what, the city dump? No, these are only a few of the ingredients for the filming of "Horse Feathers," now being produced by the Marx brothers for Paramount studios.

Sugar and spice also figure in the picture, the "all that's nice," including beer, wax, wild animals, lemon juice, silver, nitric acid, soda pop, dogs, footballs, pens, snails, and of course, Groucho, Chico, Harpo, and Zeppo Marx.

Plot? "That's it," said Groucho the man with the mustache.

SPORT SHOP

The last doubt that spring has really arrived was removed yesterday afternoon with a look at the athletic field. Baseball, football, and track aspirants all working out at the same time gave promise of a busy season ahead. Football players were kept busy dodging baseballs and track men were busy keeping away from both baseballs and footballs.

The baseball series with Whitman over the holidays turned out somewhat disastrously but it was expected before the team left. With only one day of outside practice before leaving, the squad was at a distinct advantage. The Whitman team had played some 17 practice games and had a good team to back up the practice.

Spring football got underway yesterday with a fair sized turnout for the first day. More men are expected to bolster the squad in the next few days. Coach Caldwell is anxious to have as many men turn out as are interested in the sport. Previous experience is not necessary as it is the aim of the early sessions to teach the Idaho system to new men before the regular season starts.

Some high lights of the baseball trip

Irish Martin stealing two bases—Coach Rich Fox and six men stalled 40 miles from Walla Walla with two flats and one spare—Slug Walker winding up with both arms before pitching. The batter was in some doubt which arm he was going to use—

The doubtful question of who was going to fill the short stop position was settled on the recent trip when Earl Williams did a good job of holding down the difficult position.

Intramural basketball ends this week after a successful season. One league championship has been settled while the other is still in doubt with a four way tie for first place possible.

A varsity swimming team composed of about ten men is turning out regularly for practice in preparation for two tentative meets scheduled with the Washington State tankmen some time the latter part of this month. Members of the team are not too optimistic concerning Idaho's chances in the water sports this year, as only a limited supply of material has shown up at the bi-weekly practice sessions. According to Bill Hall, veteran swimmer, Idaho does not stand much chance against the powerful group of splashers on the W. S. C. squad.

MURAL BASKETBALL ENDS THIS WEEK

Delta Tau Delta Holds "A" League Title; "B" Still Undecided

With the intramural basketball season is entering the last week of competition, one league championship has been decided with the other depending on the outcome of the final games.

Delta Tau Delta has already clinched the league championship of the A division but the B league is still undecided. The S. A. E. five and the Phi Delta Theta teams still have a perfect score in the percentage columns. The Sigma Nu and Sigma Chi teams are close behind with only one loss credited against them. Two games during the week will settle the issue with the Phi Deltas in the key position for the final drive.

One of the issues will be settled tonight when the Phi Deltas meet the Sigma Nu team. Should the Phi Deltas win from the Sigma Nu five they will have a cinch on second place in B league but if they lose it will throw three teams into a tie for second place.

Should Phi Delta Theta win from the Sigma Nu team, the league championship will depend on the outcome of the final game between the Phi Deltas and S. A. E. teams.

A four-way tie for first place is also possible in case Phi Delta Theta loses to the Sigma Nu team and then wins from the S. A. E. five.

ities of good and efficient officers, and to promote fellowship among the cadet officers. Further, the society tends to disseminate intelligent military information among the students and among the people of the country in general.

The cadet elected to Scabbard and Blade must be an "officer and gentleman." He must possess the qualities of fidelity, ability, patriotism, respect for authority, courage, good-fellowship, honor—all of which lead to success in any line of work, military or civil. In short, character and ability are his sole basis for election to membership.

Skaates Presides

First Lt. Claude C. Skaates, Inf. Res., Colonel of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, presided at this convention. Colonel Skaates attended Ohio State university, Columbus, Ohio, where he was enlisted into company M, first regiment, during his undergraduate days in 1924. Later when taking a special course at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa. he was instrumental in establishing a chapter or company at that school, known as G company, sixth regiment. Colonel Skaates is now on the seniority list for promotion to the grade of captain of infantry and will receive his promotion soon after the national convention in St. Louis. In civilian life he is an advertising executive.

HAROLD STOWELL TO FILL VACANCY

Harold Stowell will take the place of Edward Poulton as assistant proctor at Ridenbaugh hall. Mr. Stowell has been study hall supervisor at the Moscow high school. Mr. Poulton will take the place vacated by Mr. Stowell. Mr. Stowell has been prominent in athletics, winning three-year awards in both track and basketball. He received all-coast recognition and was Pacific coast high point man. Last year he coached at the Southern Branch at Pocatello.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR ARCHITECT TRIP

Students to Be Taken Through Fox Theater

Plans are being made by the architectural department for the annual inspection trip to Spokane. The trip will be made sometime in May. This year the students will be taken through the Fox theater and the Washington Brick and Sewer building. Students will be escorted through the Spokane cathedral by its architect, Mr. Whitehouse.

Varsity Debate Ends This Week

Both Men's and Women's Teams to Debate O. S. C. Wednesday

Debate season is at a close for both the men's and women's varsity teams. Paris Martin and Ralph Olmstead represent Idaho for the last time Wednesday night against a team from Oregon State college. The contest will be held at the L. D. S. seminary at 3 o'clock. Idaho will take the affirmative side of the question. Resolved: That the reduction of wages has retarded progress toward financial recovery.

The women's team consisting of Jewell Leighton and Mildred Peterson will also meet a team from O. S. C. Wednesday. They will debate in Ad. 201 at 3 o'clock. The question is resolved: That the Nevada divorce law should be condemned. These two debates will bring to a close a very successful season in both the men's and women's varsity contests.

Primitive peoples believed that a sneeze signalled the departure of the soul from the body.

A freshman student of Japanese extraction, at the University of Washington elucidated thusly a short time ago: "If you are interested in your mind thirty years hence, if you come to college for something else than proximity to co-eds and football, this university is a great place." So that explains their football teams.
