

POLITICAL PARTIES CLARIFY POSITIONS; NAME CANDIDATES

Independents Make Nominations by Petitioning for Candidates

By Paris Martin.

The second week of maneuvering on the political front has resulted in a general clarification of the position of the two parties. It now seems definite that both nominees intend to stay in the race to the finish. For a time there had been rumors that Elmer Martin would drop out but Thursday afternoon he said that he would "go through with the race" unless subsequent developments indicated that satisfactory results politically could be obtained in some other way.

Independents Petition.

On other points of the political horizon the issues have also cleared. Both parties have made official announcements of the candidates whom they are supporting. Some of the nominees on the Independent ticket have not yet been officially entered on the lists, however, because the executive board has not yet met to accept their petitions. The Independents have, however, put a full party in the field by petition. The executive board will accept them officially on Tuesday evening and understand. Meanwhile, it is still possible that other nominations may come in as the lists do not close until 58 hours before the election date, which is the first Thursday in May. It is considered unlikely, however, that additional names will be presented.

As now officially announced from party headquarters the Independent ticket is as follows: Elmer Martin, president; Douglas Gordon, vice president; Helen Peterson, secretary; Eugene Scott and Patrick Callahan, senior men; Ora Spoor and Marion Fry, senior women; Ferd Koch and Irving Fairweather, junior men; Lillian Olsen, junior woman; Robert Bennett, sophomore man; Elaine Cash, May queen; Claudia Jones, maid-of-honor; Mary Hartley, page; John... yell king.

These lists indicate that at least two men nominated are virtually elected unless a nomination will come in for another junior man should come in later. Both parties have nominated Ferd Koch for junior man and both have named John Thomas for yell king. Aside from these official lists the only interesting feature of the situation which has been uncovered during the past few days is the fact that both parties are keeping having some trouble in keeping their ranks intact. At one time it could almost be said that Martin was a man without a party. That situation arose from the fact that in his unwillingness to become partisan he preferred to be known as running from the "I" club rather than from the Independent party ranks. Members of the "I" club who were interviewed, however, declared that they did not wish to make any definite party stand as backing one party or another. It was not until the independent official gave out their list that Martin was definitely known whether he was running on a regular party ticket or not.

In Alpha party ranks, leaders have also been having some difficulty because of personal groups which have attached to candidates who belong to Alpha party groups but are running on the Independent ticket.

It is said, however, that the game will soon progress from its present stage of keeping ears to the ground, to a more out and out campaign. During the week-end both parties will be able to find just where they stand in the slightly muddled political arena.

OLD NEWSPAPER RELIC RECOVERED

Dilapidated Copy Found Behind Wallpaper After 40 Years

PULLMAN, (I.P.A.)—"You never can tell what you're going to find when you tear down one of these old houses," said Contractor J. C. Parr the other day as he handed over a dilapidated copy of The Pullman Press, dated November 11, 1892. Cliff found the old relic behind the wallpaper in the Dr. E. A. Archer house, which he is razing to make way for a modern new dwelling. The house was erected in the fall of 1892 by W. A. Moss, who is still a resident of Pullman, and was later sold by Mr. Moss to George Muir, who in turn sold to Dr. Archer.

The Pullman Press, according to the masthead, was published by H. A. McBride & Co. Old-timers say that the newspaper was published for a brief time only, being launched during the turbulent times of the Lilley administration at the college by Regent G. W. Hopp and ceasing to function when Hopp retired as a regent.

BLUE BUCKET TO STAGE CONTEST

Prize Will Be Given For Best Song Submitted.

The Blue Bucket's next important feature will be a song contest. This contest is open to any member of the university. The words and music must both be original, while the themes may be along the lines of "fight," "sweetheart," or "alma mater" songs. The copy must be submitted to John Trueman, editor, not later than April 18.

Five dollars will be given to the winner of first place and honorable mention to winners of second and third places. The song will also be placed in the Blue Bucket which will come out on May 12. The judges have not been definitely decided, but will probably be the editorial staff of the Blue Bucket. The winning song will be presented to the students by the Pep band at their annual concert April 27. According to Johnny Trueman and Jim Farris, a great deal of interest has been shown in the contest and they are sure that a representative Idaho song will be the outcome.

"SHOW BOAT" IDEA IS WELL RECEIVED BY LARGE CROWD

Junior Assembly Features Class Orchestra and Compositions by O'Donnell

"Show Boat" idea, the Junior assembly kept a packed auditorium entertained Wednesday morning from the moment the miniature show boat crossed the stage until Johnny Thomas and Howard Altman departed at the closing number, featuring Morey O'Donnell's compositions, "Go, Vandals, Go," "Vandal Sweetheart," and "Junior Swing" which was composed especially for Junior week.

The curtain went up, as the junior orchestra played "My Favorite Band." The orchestra members in dark trousers and white shirts, were grouped on a platform, giving the effect of a Fanchon and Marco stage arrangement. The orchestra included Charles McConnell, George Julian, trumpets; Robert Campbell, Richard Stanton, Clayton Boyd, Charles Hulsey, saxophones; Kermit Woodward, drums; Clyde Chaffin, sousaphone; Orin Tracy, banjo; Lloyd Whitlock, piano; and Morey O'Donnell, director.

Features Solos
The first number featured solos by orchestra members and a chorus song by O'Donnell. During "Sweet Georgia Brown," the orchestra number, Naomi Randall as Sweet Georgia, was pursued across the stage by Thomas and Altman, hobo masters of ceremonies.

Irish Martin, Bill Robb, June Hanford, Larry Bellinger, appropriately dressed as darkies entertained with a quartet number with a balloon blowing race as the high light.

Dancers Entertain
A tap-dancing pickaninny quartet, consisting of Lily Lewis, Minalthene Tanner, Katherine Collins and Louise Mulliner, in red and white gingham, took the center of the stage, while the Phi Delt trio Orville Westberg, Harold Boyd, and Robert Lafferty sang, Virginia Gascoigne, Dorothy Menzies, Eleanor Jacobs, and Kelly Wallace costumed from the attic, were particularly laugh provoking in a take off on the tap-dancing quartet.

Southern songs, by a colored male chorus, were well received by the audience. Following this group the comedy duo, Thomas and Altman, put on a magic act, which closed with the sawing in two of Lloyd Riutcel, who limped off the stage.

"Through," another new song by Morey O'Donnell sung by Catherine Brandt, introduced a bit of blues into the program.

"Grand Hotel" a vaudeville skit in the restaurant vein, was announced by the comedy team, Thomas and Altman, as the most serious part of the entertainment. They proved to be the winners, however, and drew a number of good laughs. Other numbers played by the orchestra were "On Revival Day" and a special arrangement of "Limehouse Blues" by Bob Campbell.

As the closing number the orchestra played the three songs by O'Donnell which have been featured for Junior week. The first, "Go, Vandals, Go" won first in a song fest when the class were freshmen. "Vandal Sweetheart" took first in the song fest last year and the closing song, "Junior Swing" was written especially for the occasion. All three were played on the Junior Serenade Monday.

REQUEST FOR SONGS RECEIVES REPLIES

Dr. Miller Makes Radio Appeal for Ballads

Replies are already being received by Dr. G. M. Miller in response to his request for old songs and ballads, which he made over radio station KHQ in Spokane last Saturday. Dr. Miller has been collecting material of this kind for a period of more than 20 years, and decided one of the best ways was to appeal to the radio audience. Several letters containing information came to his office this week from people in Idaho and Washington.

THE STAG AT EVE

VOTE ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS AGAIN NEXT WEDNESDAY

Board of Arbitration Declares Election of March 31 Unofficial

The proposed constitutional amendments will again be voted upon on Wednesday from 10 to 3 o'clock on the second floor of the Administration building. Since 30 per cent of the student body did not vote, the board of arbitration declared that the election of March 31 was not an official ASUI election. This board of arbitration also decided that the proposed constitutional changes need not be read again in an ASUI assembly, nor is it necessary for the amendments to reappear in the Argonaut.

Lionel Campbell, president of the ASUI, says, "Since the amending process involves time and expense, I am especially desirous that these proposed changes be given a fair trial next Wednesday. I urge every one to exercise his voting privilege whether in favor or opposed to those changes."

A new change in the manner of making constitutional amendments has been suggested. This will appear with the rest of the proposed amendments for vote on Wednesday. We are here publishing this new amendment as prescribed by the ASUI constitution.

Article IX. Sec. 1.—That the words "the general spring election" be inserted after the word "at" in line 4, that the words "or at" be inserted after the words, "the general spring election," and that the word, "election" in line 6 be stricken and the words "elections" be inserted in its place.

The section will then read: "No addition, alteration, or amendment may be made to this constitution, neither can any part be repealed, except by a two-thirds majority of all votes cast at a special election held for that purpose, in which election at least twenty per cent of the qualified voters must participate."

An interesting program has been arranged including a dance by Jean Ricker and songs by the Phi Delta Trio. Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. George M. Miller, Mr. William Banks and Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Coope.

Mr. Sporks is First Visitor to Idaho Chapter Since Founding in 1923

Mr. J. D. Sporks, grand secretary treasurer of Alpha Kappa Psi, national professional commerce fraternity has been the guest of Alpha Kappa chapter since Wednesday. Mr. Sporks is from Indianapolis, Ind. and is visiting all western chapters of the fraternity. Mr. Sporks has the distinction of being the first national officer to visit Alpha Kappa chapter since its founding May 11, 1923.

Initiation ceremonies were held Wednesday at 4 o'clock in the L. D. S. Institute. Initiates included James Kalbus, Eagle; Robert Herrick, Wallace; Philip Fikkan, Emmett; Wand Howard, Kellogg; Donald Griffith, Burley; Cyril Geraghy, Spokane; Fred Serafin, Gladi, Oregon; Rollin Hunter and Harold Boyd, Moscow. Following the initiation service a banquet was held at the Blue Bucket inn. Mr. Sporks was the speaker of the evening and briefly reviewed the history of Alpha Kappa Psi. He emphasized the professional aspect of the fraternity and the growing strength of the alumni association. He explained the functioning of the placement bureau fostered by the fraternity and told of the success it has experienced in placing its graduating members. Faculty guests included Dean Ralph H. Farmer, Prof. W. J. Wilde and Prof. E. E. Davidson.

Mr. Sporks accompanied by Prof. Davidson left Thursday morning for Pullman to visit the petitioning group of Delta Sigma Psi and ascertain the feasibility of granting them a chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi.

PULLMAN BOARD WILL ENTERTAIN

The executive boards of the Associated Students of Washington State college and the University of Idaho will hold a joint dance April 23, at the Blue Bucket.

The Pullman board of controls will act as hosts. About fifteen or sixteen Pullman members are expected including the board and graduate manager. Dean Crawford and the Idaho board will complete the guests.

Music will be furnished by the Blue Bucket orchestra. It will be a formal cabaret and the managers announce that it is expected to be an annual affair. Since Pullman has no hall large enough for such an affair, the Pullman board will act as hosts at the Blue Bucket.

OPEN TICKET SALE FOR PERFORMANCE OF FAMOUS OPERA

Screen Version of 'Pagliacci' to be Presented Here Next Thursday

Tickets for the grand opera "Pagliacci," to be presented April 21 at the Kenworthy theatre, are now on sale at the group houses and halls. Spurs and Intercollegiate Knights have the tickets. General admission will be 50 cents there being no reserved seats. A matinee from 4 to 6 and two evening performances will make up the presentation of "Pagliacci." The screen version of the grand opera is being presented under the auspices of Blue Key and Intercollegiate Knights.

"I Pagliacci," or "The Strolling Players," a dramatic opera in two acts was composed in 1892 by Ruggero Leoncavallo. The opera was first presented in Milan, May 21, 1892. Leoncavallo has written several other operas, "La Boheme" being the best known. The composer is also well known as a man of letters, besides being a genius of musical composition.

Caruso made the part of Canio, Nedda's husband, stand out as a classic, investing it with all the love of an actor for his favorite part. The story of "I Pagliacci" centers about Tonio, the clown. The strolling players present a little play before their public, and the story of unrequited love and the tragic ending composes the main theme of the opera. "I Pagliacci," being a short opera, is often presented along with Mascagni's "Cavalleria Rusticana," Moscow, however will see just "Pagliacci."

President M. G. Neale encourages all students to see the opera, endorsing it highly as a beneficial educator and a pleasing entertainment. Prof. C. C. Cummings says: "I think it is a fine thing that the students will be given an opportunity to see "Pagliacci." It is highly education and of great artistic value. The opera is one of the most interesting and dramatic presentations of its kind. I am much interested in seeing all students, not only the musicians and dramatists, attend this performance. The screen version is the nearest thing possible to the real idea of grand opera."

Dean French will give permission to all girls who wish to see the opera.

DELTA CHIS AND KAPPAS FIRST IN JUNIOR PARADE

The tenth annual Junior week parade entertained Idaho students last night with its taking on Ballyhoop and Hoey. Kappa Kappa Gamma's Hesterfield girls, who were good because they had to be, won first place in the women's groups, while the Delta Chi medicine show won first among the men's. A fetching hula girl and melodious barkers fully convinced the crowd that Dr. Zilch's pills were best.

Honorable mention went to the Alpha Phi street-cleaners, which brought up the rear of the parade cleaning up Ballyhoop by brush. Lambda Chi advertised bathroom fixtures, winning honorable mention for the men.

The Phi Dels featured the return of the Lindbergh baby, the Sigma Chi's presented the question of private bath-tubs for ladies, efficiency of Flushman's soap, and the benefits of Dr. Margaret Sanger's speciality, the Teke's campaign for Gandhi and his goal for student body presidency, and the Gamma Phi's paraded their candidate for May queen.

Days hall had a variety of minor advertisements, such as personal development and physical culture. Forney hall illustrated the helpful effects of Balmolive soap. Phi Theta's and the Deltas roused the sympathy of the crowds with their military weddings in vivid tableau. The Phi Phi night club, the A. T. O. football team, the Phi Gam's Gandhi and four per cent beer held their own among the floats. Every house and hall was represented in the parade, which wound up in front of the Blue Bucket inn where the Junior mixer ended the evening.

IDAHO GEOLOGIST CONTRIBUTES MUCH BY FIELD STUDIES

Cassia City of Rocks Brought to Notice by Anderson's Thesis

Dr. Alfred L. Anderson, professor of geology and assistant geologist of the United States Geological Survey, a graduate of the university but 10 years, has contributed a great deal in revealing the geological characteristics of Idaho by field study and writings upon the subject.

Dr. Anderson's latest publication of note, "Geology and Mineral Resources of Eastern Cassia County," accepted last year as a doctor's thesis by the University of Chicago. It was published last year as bulletin 14 of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology, and has called forth comment from geologists in this country and abroad. Besides describing one of Idaho's comparatively unknown scenic wonders, the Cassia City of Rocks, it treats in detail the geology and mineral resources of Cassia county. An outgrowth of this, another paper, describing in popular way the Cassia City of Rocks, located in South Idaho, has just been finished and will be published by one of the geographic magazines.

Is Rare Display.

"In the Cassia City of Rocks the district has one of the most unique features of its kind in the country and perhaps in the world. Picturesque erosion features such as rather striking displays of large boulders and pedestal rocks of varied size and shape are fairly common in the granitic rocks of arid and semi-arid regions. In no place, so far as the writer knows, except possibly in the Buffalo mountains in Australia, are they so strikingly developed and brought together within such a relatively compact area as Cassia county. The rock city is within 40 miles of the Old Oregon trail and could be made an interesting side trip for the thousands of tourists who cross the northern end of the district and know nothing of its presence. The old immigrant road passed about a mile to the south of the main part of the rock city and needless to say the City of Rocks was better known to the pioneer travelers than to the residents of the district."

It is hoped that this paper will lead to the creation of a park or national monument in Cassia county," states John W. Finch, secretary of the school of mines and geology of the bureau of mines and geology.

Has Published Much.
Among the publications of the Idaho bureau of mines and geology Dr. Anderson is the author of: "Geology and Ore Deposits of the Clark Fork District," "Micaceous Deposits of Latah County," "Some Miocene and Pleistocene Drainage Changes in Northern Idaho," "Portland Cement Materials near Pocatello," "A Geological Reconnaissance in the St. Maries Region," "Geology and Ore Deposits of the Lava Creek District," "The Geology and Mineral Resources of the Region about Orofino,"

"In addition Dr. Anderson has found a demand for articles in trade journals and magazines. The Journal of Geology has published "Genesis of the Silver Hill Tin Deposits," Cretaceous and Tertiary Plantation in Northern Idaho," "Old Erosion Surfaces in Idaho," "Genesis of the Anthophyllite Deposits near Kamiah, Idaho."

In Economic Geology has appeared: "Sequence of Ore Deposition in North Idaho," "The Intrusive Oxidation of Galena," and "Notes on the Oxidation of Jamesonite, Sphalerite, and Tetrahedrite."

Degree at U. of Chicago.
Dr. Anderson received his doctor's degree at the University of Chicago where his major work was in geology. It was granted last December at the autumn convocation. He received the degree of B.S. in chemical engineering at Idaho in 1922, and M.S. in geology the following year. After serving as graduate assistant for one year, Dr. Anderson was made assistant professor in geology for two years at the southern branch, then the Idaho Technical Institute.

He returned to Idaho in 1927 as geologist for the Idaho bureau of mines and geology. In 1928 he was appointed to the teaching staff, taking the place of Dr. E. R. Kirkham, who was assistant professor of geology on leave of absence. This appointment was made permanent in 1929. In 1930 Dr. Anderson obtained leave of absence to complete his residence work at the University of Chicago, which he had begun in 1926.

MANY NUMBERS IN NEXT RECITAL

Solos, Trios, and Pianos to Give Varied Program

A variety of selections will feature the student recital to be given Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the auditorium. The program includes Sonata Op 14, No. 1, containing the three movements Allegro, Allegretto, Rondo, by Beethoven; played by Elsa Eisinger; a vocal solo Lascia Ch'io Pianga, Handel; by Lorraine Stewart; and two tenor solos, The Little Road to Kerry, Cadman and Morning, Speaks, by Joe Cox, Moscow high school student.

The Idaho Argonaut

Official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Idaho, issued every Tuesday and Friday of the college year. Entered as second class matter at the Postoffice at Moscow, Idaho, Member of Pacific Intercollegiate Press Association. Editorial and business office, room 202 Memorial gymnasium, phone 2207. Monday and Thursday nights, after 7 o'clock, Daily Star-Mirror office, phone 2222.

So This is College?

Once again we are enjoying that engaging activity known as Junior Week. It is another of those glorious traditions, coming as a breathing spell during the final months of the school year just after we have been struggling through the first week following Spring vacation. It is certainly a welcome relief, and entirely justified. Everything from the assembly in honor of the seniors who sit out in the hall because the junior class failed to reserve seats in the auditorium, is one complete round of valuable relaxation conceived and decorated by those protectors of American youth who are looking out for the health of the college student.

Then there is the parade—a glorious fantasy of fun and humor, and clean, yes, good clean humor. It has been said that certain recent magazines are slightly indecent in their humor, but had the publishers of that type of humor seen the junior parade last night they would blush with chagrin that they had been so far out distanced. The humor was so funny, so subtle and so original. It was consistent, too, in its one outstanding characteristic—its smuttiness. It is doubted whether it was even necessary for one to be a member of a purity league to see that at least part of the humor was off color just a bit. But so much for that. Let the dead past bury the dead.

And while we are letting the past handle its problems, it might as well be said that this is not meant as a criticism of the junior class. The junior week is probably no better and no worse than countless others that have been held before. But it is a commentary on university students at large when some of them so lack in cleverness that they fail to be original, and so lack in subtlety that they fail to be decent, and the rest of them stand and look on with all the pleasure which indicates a similar lack of those things the heads behind the grins. So as the march of time and rotten things go on, as the crowds laugh as the clowns cheer, we all get ready for the next round. And of course its all right for this is college. O. K. America, here comes your future.

Attendance Vs. Cuts

In most American universities and colleges the system of taking attendance at lectures and classes and giving penalties for cuts prevails. In every institution where this system is used there is dissension and "griping" in the student body because of enforced attendance in all classes. There are several arguments which may be advanced on both sides of the debate.

Those who wish to abolish the system of compulsory attendance often present the following reasons: compulsory attendance restricts the student of exceptional ability and forces him to progress at the rate which has been found most beneficial for his less talented fellow-students; the time of all students is budgeted on the same scale; the exceptional student, required to attend each class, does not have to devote to individual research which he otherwise would have.

In reviewing the effect of each of these arguments, advocates of the system which would allow all the cuts a student feels he can take are that the levelling effect of the calculated rate for a class in any subject allows the more talented student to work far below maximum efficiency and still make good grades. The loss of time for individual research is possibly the greatest loss in the enforced attendance system.

In defense of the attendance system especially in a technical institution such as Purdue, it may be said that it is necessary for every student to attend all lectures and classes because of the technical nature of the material handled in the majority of the courses. The work of the preceding day is of distinct importance in the solution of current problems in most courses, whereas, in the art schools, this is not quite so true.

Many solutions have been suggested for this problem. At the University of Chicago, where attendance is not taken, it has found that more students attend the classes than the administration had expected, thus making the new system rather unwieldy, as the classes are too large. It has been suggested that, in lecture courses especially, standard notes on the semester's work be issued to each student at the beginning of each semester and that some authority be engaged to speak on the subject each week, every other week, or every month. This would allow the student to absorb the notes on the course under his own initiative while allowing opportunity to hear various authorities on the subject.

At Purdue some of the departments have adopted a policy of segregating the better students from the poorer and giving two courses in the same subject, one more expansive than the other. This seems to be the most practical policy in an institution where it is necessary that each student have a working knowledge of the material which has been presented in the class on previous days.—Purdue Exponent.

Cupid Uses Coffee When Arrows Fail To Soften Hearts

PIPA—There's romance in a cup of coffee. Each cup contains innumerable rains of cupid dust... ample grounds for a distinct courtship. Many is the cup of coffee that passes over the varnished counter of many a campus Book Store. To the dispenser this is merely a draught of beverage that is exchanged for a five-cent piece. Ah, but it is more than that to the many patrons who come in couples, and spend many a delightful afternoon over its soothing taste.

Coffee can often be used as a substitution for the worn out weather topic. Over a cup of the warmish liquid the gallant youth can fill in the lull in conversation by briefly discussing the history of the java industry.

"Coffee tastes good, doesn't it? Just think, this little nicker is purchased in the sun-bath region of Peru. For days it rested in the lap of the indolent tropical clime, until the natives deemed it suitable for our taste. Our appetites rule the existence of those little beggars in the south. Just think, were we to stop drinking coffee they might all starve. Have you got a date for Saturday night?"

Oh, yes, the five-cent cup has its possibilities.

A survey of the physical fitness of Syracuse university freshmen reveals that 62 per cent do not smoke tobacco and that 82 per cent do not drink intoxicating liquors.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM LOS ANGELES

Fry and Hogg Attend Conference of College Women

Marion Fry and Bess Louise Hogg returned Thursday morning from the Ninth Western Sectional congress of the Athletic Conference of the American College women which was held in Los Angeles April 7, 8, and 9.

"About 25 colleges and universities were represented. Among the resolutions adopted at the conference were:

"First, a scholastic requirement should be met before participation in athletics.

"Second, to attempt to abolish the point system and to put more emphasis on participation, less on awards.

"I think that this last point is a good one, but we at Idaho are not yet ready for it," Miss Fry said. "Nevertheless, we will do all that we feel we can in accordance with this resolution."

Miss Fry and Miss Hogg are very enthusiastic over alifornia, especially Los Angeles and Pasadena.

"When we went to the Mexican luncheon at La Golondrina in the old Mexican section of Los Angeles, we were quite refreshed to find that the hot Mexican food was relieved by American sherbet, though we enjoyed the Mexican food immensely.

We toured the rich Huntington estates, the library and the museum. We saw an original copy of King James' version of the Bible, some of Bobby Burns' original manuscripts, and Benjamin Franklin's schedule for a working day, written in 1771.

"In San Francisco we saw Walter Hampden act on the stage in the play "Cyrano de Bergerac." Later we saw Maude Adams and Otis Skinner in "The Merchant of Venice."

MIXED SONG CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

The Adelpian Choral society of the College of Puget Sound, Tacoma, will appear in concert at the local Methodist church next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The club of 44 mixed voices are touring eastern Washington and northern Idaho.

The Moscow engagement is sponsored by Wesley Foundation. It is a good-will appearance. "We welcome the people of Moscow to share in the enjoyment of this splendid concert," said Rev. Purdy, pastor of the Methodist church, "and in greeting these representatives from another educational institution to Moscow."

The young people have made a reputation on the coast for the quality of their concerts, he said. The society has ranked high in glee tournaments for several years. In the Moscow appearance the chorus will be topped. The program will include several selections from the "Messiah," negro spirituals, and a wide variety of popular and classic numbers.

The CINEMANIAC

THE LOST SQUADRON, is now playing at the Vandal Theatre.

The film is very unusual and is not a war picture as the title suggests. It is a movie within a movie, and tells the story of an eccentric director who deliberately sends his stunt aviators to their deaths for the sake of spectacular thrills in his picture. The film shows how movies are made and in addition presents a wholesome romance. Richard Dix carries the lead supported by Mary Astor and Eric von Stroheim, who both play the roles they have played in real life. The picture is really clever and is excellently portrayed.

ARE YOU LISTENING, featuring William Haines, opens today at the Kenworthy Theatre. It is the first "green drama" to deal exclusively with radio entertainers and their lives both in the broadcasting studio and at home. The story centers on a continuity writer who is unhappily married, but whose shrewish wife refuses to grant him a divorce so that he may marry the singer whom he loves. The picture is good, and very interesting.

SHOPWORN, Barbara Stanwyck's newest starring drama will be played Sunday at the Kenworthy Theatre. Barbara Stanwyck is seen as "Kitty Lane," a courageous girl who believes that the only way to get along in the world is to be tough. Regis Toomey plays opposite her.

Zasu Pitts and Lucien Littlefield are paired as husband and wife and produce their own particular brand of comedy. Barbara Stanwyck presents an outstanding portrayal in what is considered her most dramatic and glamorous roles.

VICIOUS WEAPONS USED IN RECITAL OF MANY DANCES

Headaxes, Hula Skirts, Witches Brooms and Totem Masks in Show

Preparations for "American Rhapsody," the annual Taps and Terpsichore dance recital presented by W. A. A., are so wide spread as to include not only the entire campus, but also the town.

One may see the local cabinet maker building a tree post up to the women's gymnasium, where it will innocently remain until the Philippine head hunters stick their gory spoils of war on the top of it. These gruesome dancers will carry spears, headaxes, and shields which have been copied from similar implements used by the Philippine natives for the same purpose. Ora Spoor, property chairman, has even made a duplication of the bag in which the head will be carried.

Clothed in Blue
 The constant hum of the sewing machine makes the women's gymnasium sound suspiciously like a beehive. A peek into the wardrobe room discloses the costumes committee, under the direction of Dorothy Janssen, stitching up the flowing drapes for the "blue moods" in the depression dance. Even the aggravating little lumps of hoarding, fear, lawlessness, and speculation will be clothed in different shades of blue.

In the home economics department, students under Miss Ida Ingalls are making beautiful colonial costumes for the Vandalers. These same costumes will also be used by the curly misses in the minuet.

Devise Machine
 In the gymnasium we find Rhoda Swayne and her staging committee draping red, white and blue gauze on the steps to be used by the participants of the Olympic games. Someone may even have another scheme for devising a ticker tape machine to be used by the speculators in "Ticker Tape."

Pearl Walters, chairman of the wardrobe committee might be found buried under a pile of rook suits, courteously loaned by members of the cavalry, or she may be carrying an armful of grass which turns out to be hula skirts, borrowed from the football men. These costumes will be worn in "Over There," and in the authentic "Hula Hula."

Mould Totem-Masks
 Mr. Paul R. Ibrig, in the art studio, is directing Miss Hall's pageantry class in the modeling of primitive and highly colored totem masks. Even the forestry department has offered its bit. Jimmie Jahn has made some witches that would make any old hag think she could fly on the ether.

In addition to all this a frantic search of the campus is still being made for someone who can master Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue."

STUDENTS CREATE ATTRACTIVE HOME

Interior Decoration Classes Clean, Paint and Decorate House

Cleaning, painting, and furnishing a modern seven-room house at 110 North Polk street will be the project of the students of interior decoration for the next few weeks.

The house when completed will serve as a model for national better homes week held sometime in May, and is designed to show the public how an attractive home may be created at small cost.

Committee Secures House.
 Miss Katherine Jensen, head of the department of home economics, is chairman of the Moscow better homes committee composed of Louis Boas, J. F. Stewart and Allan Ramstedt. The committee has secured the use of the house at 110 North Polk belonging to Rolston Butterfield, and has asked the students of interior decoration to furnish it according to a given budget, in co-operation with local merchants who will donate furniture and fixtures.

Students in advanced interior decoration will have charge of the work, and will be aided by two beginning classes and two classes in art structure, all under the supervision of Miss Marion Featherstone.

Shouts of "Help" Bring No Response From Shoe Clerks

One of life's little tragedies. The scene is a downtown store. Enter two co-eds who are "interested in looking at white shoes."

Suddenly there is a scream and a male voice cries "Help! Help!" The girls look at one another with alarm, while the shoe clerk calmly continues to bring out white shoes.

"Do people shout 'help' in here very often?" the braver of the two ventures.

"Why, yes," the clerk answers. "You see, there's a huge police dog that takes a nip at someone now and then. People who don't know him think he's serious about it."

Just the same there are two co-eds who avoid the big harmless pun.

MORLEY REPLACES HARRIS AS WOMEN STUDENTS PREXY

Donaldson, Collins and Thoms Also Win Important Offices

Louise Morely, newly elected president of the Associated Women Students for next year, takes over the office held by Joan Harris the past year. The other officers selected were: Mae Belle Donaldson, vice president; Kathryn Collins, secretary; Katherine Thoms, treasurer; Helen Peterson, point system chairman and yell queen. The council members for the year will be: Helen Moore, June McCabe, Mary Ax-tell, Frances DuSault, Lillian Olsen, Ellen Jack, Marian Mulkey, Betty Brown, Helen Theriault, Ruth Cook, and Jané LeRue.

Outgoing officers are Joan Harris, president; Elizabeth Taylor Dick, vice president; Asta White, big sister chairman; Dahlri Bock-witz, secretary; Louise Morley, treasurer; Bertha Moore, point system chairman and yell queen.

The poles were opened at 10 a.m. and closed 5 p. m. Thursday. The most popular time for voting, according to Miss Harris, was between 4 and 5 o'clock, during which time 53 votes were cast. The total number of votes cast was some 250.

"On the whole it was a very close election," remarked Joan Harris when she had finished counting the last votes, "and a good deal of enthusiasm was shown."

ENTERTAIN SENIOR WOMEN AT DINNER

Dean Permeal J. French is Hostess to Ninety-Six Guests Tuesday

Dean Permeal J. French entertained the senior women at a formal dinner last Tuesday evening at Hays hall. There were 96 guests and all but three of the senior girls in the university were present.

The dinner was given last year for the first time and has been such a successful affair that Miss French hopes that it may become a tradition on the campus. One of its advantages is that the girls are given a chance to mix with each other and become better acquainted.

In the receiving line were Miss French, President and Mrs. M. G. Neale, Miss Lena Shoup, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Kostalek, Dean and Mrs. J. F. Messenger, Dean and Mrs. T. S. Kerr, and Miss Bernice McCoy. At the head table with Miss French and President and Mrs. Neale were all the young women who were officers in the Associated Women Students, and who were presidents of all the honorary organizations for women.

Get Acquainted.
 In speaking of the senior dinner, Miss French says, "I think it is one of the nicest occasions for girls of the year." She goes on to say that it gives the girls a chance to meet each other and to become better acquainted. Also they come into close contact, for the last time, with their dean. They may also meet Miss McCoy and Dean Messenger who will play a large part in their securing positions later on.

"HELPING HARRY" IS FACULTY PLAY

"Helping Harry," a one-act tragedy written by Ada Burke David, was the feature of the Faculty Women's club meeting at Hays hall a week ago Tuesday. The play was a clever take off faculty member's wives, especially the young instructor's wives who are always trying to "help Harry" by getting in with the right people. Wives of forestry department members and exfaculty members made up the cast. The scene of the play was laid in the fictitious college town of "Glas-cow" and the time is the gay '90's. The action takes place in the parlor of a dean's wife as she and Dorothy Newlywed tells how terrible the grocer is, that the bookstore is impossible, that she cannot get anything decent in town to wear, and many other trivial things that the newlywed may think about. The play is full of amusing allusions to local faculty jokes and traditions.

The following were in the cast: President, Mrs. A. W. Fahrenwald; Commentator, Mrs. J. Harry Einhouse; Mrs. Deanswife, Mrs. E. E. Hubert; Dorothy Newlywed; Mrs. Pauline Brown Matthews; Mrs. Greengrocer, Mrs. F. L. Kennard; Mrs. Presidentswife, Mrs. J. J. Gill; Mrs. Ada Burke David; Mrs. Ready-to-wear, Mrs. Edwin C. Jahn; Mrs. Doctorpill, Mrs. Abe Goff; Mrs. Studentsupplies, Mrs. Floyd L. Otter; Mrs. Fullprofessor, Mrs. L. E. Spence.

Catherine Brandt accompanied by Mrs. F. L. Kennard in costume of 1890, sang "Only a Bird in a Gilded Cage" and "Sweet Marie" before the play.

ENGLISH CLUB HAS FIRST EDITIONS TO OFFER MONDAY

Again the best in late books will be offered Idaho students when the English club adds 14 volumes to its rental table in the main hallway. The books go on display Monday.

The copies are all first editions which have just been taken off the John W. Graham company circulating library in Spokane. Obtained at a small fraction of the original cost, the books are an exceptionally good buy. Dr. G. M. Miller and Virginia Gascoigne, while in Spokane last Saturday at the teachers' convention, selected the books. Four plays are included in the list. One of them, "The Torch Song" by John Kenyon Nicholson, is of special interest, as the playwright is a former student of Dr. Miller at Wabash college. Dr. Miller was visiting Mr. Nicholson in New York when Arthur Hopkins accepted the play.

The other three plays include "The brilliant and witty 'Private Lives' by Noel Coward; 'Just to Remind You' by Owen Davis, which is directed at the American disregard of law and order; and 'The Breadwinner' by W. Somerset Maugham, a highly entertaining comedy.

Among the novels are Booth Tarkington's "Mirthful Haven," depicting the fierce pride and the stout loyalties of the people of the sea; Elizabeth's Bowen's "The Last September," a story of Ireland during the revolution; Don Marquis' "Off the Arm," modern material done in the Marquis satirical style; Agatha Christie's "The Murder at Hazelmoor," one of the latest and best detective mysteries.

Other Novels
 Georeg Agnew Chamberlain's "When Beggars Ride," depicting a frontal attack by a wealthy widow to admit her and her daughter to European society; Dorothy Canfield's "The Deepening Stream," showing how the stream of the ordinary average, unsensational life deepens as it is lived by an inherently fine woman.

TANKMEN SCHEDULE MEETS WITH W. S. C.

Calland Announces Squad Eligible for Varsity Competition

Two varsity swimming meets have been scheduled with the Washington State tankmen, the first on April 23 at Pullman, and a return meet here May 6. A squad of about a dozen men have been turning out regularly twice a week in preparation for the events.

Although the andal squad is handicapped by a lack of material, the intramural swimming meets during the past week have uncovered some likely prospects, according to Coach Leo Calland. The nine members of the squad who are scholastically eligible are: Bob Blair, Jack Blair, apt Callahan, Stan Hale, Bill Hall, Bob Lang, Irish Martin, Clayne Robison, and Dave Sweeney.

PRES. NEALE LEAVES

President M. G. Neale left this morning by auto for Boise to attend the State Board of Education meeting which is being held there Friday and Saturday. He was accompanied by Mr. W. C. Geddes of Winchester, who is chairman of the executive board committee of the university. All members of the board of regents will attend this meeting.

Delta Tau Delta has already clinched the A league title, and will play the winner of tomorrow's game next week for the university championship.

In the games during the past week A. T. O. and Chi Alpha Pi broke into the score column. Lambda Chi vs. T. M. A. In the first game Monday night, Lambda Chi Alpha defeated the Tau Mem Aleph five 28 to 23. At the half the town men were leading 15 to 13. Alden was high point man with 15 tallies to his credit. McKay led the scoring for the losers with 9.

In the second contest, Alpha Tau Omega won its first game of the season by defeating the L. D. S. institute five 30 to 13. The winners were leading at the half 14 to 4. Hunt and Jarlett tied for scoring honors with 11 points apiece. Conger was outstanding for the L. D. S. with 4.

Phi Delta Theta had little trouble in disposing of Sigma Nu in the second game Tuesday night, by a score of 29 to 16. The winners grabbed the lead at the start, and held it all the way. The count at the half stood 12 to 7. Spaugy The Tekes finished their season by defeating the Fijis Wednesday night, 16 to 10. The winners were leading at the half 8 to 6. Requist took scoring honors with 7 tallies. Ward was high for the Fijis with 4.

The winners held their opponents scoreless the entire first half. Hunt was outstanding with 15 tallies to his credit. Luce and Langley each scored one field goal for the losers.

Sigma Nu forfeited the game scheduled for 8:30 to the L. D. S. five. The games tomorrow are called for 1:30 and 2:30 o'clock.

CONFERENCE PLAY SOON UNDER WAY

Meet Washington State Next Weekend in First Conference Tilt

The Vandals will open their conference season with Washington State next week-end. Fox has had the squad out for several hard workouts this week and will have time to polish off next week before the start of the hard sixteen game conference grind. The club has been hampered by the bad weather until the last few days and will have to develop fast to hit good early season form before the Cougar tilt.

The coach has been working a great deal on hitting and base running since the squad returned from the Whitman series. In their first games of the year at Walla Walla these two departments were especially weak and Fox has worked overtime to iron out the rough spots in time for the beginning of the league schedule.

Strong Infield. The infield should be much better than last year both in hitting and fielding ability. Willis is pushing Lee, letterman from last season hard to grab a regular berth at first. Both men are able to handle the ball well, but Willis seems to hit with a little more regularity in practice sessions. Both men will undoubtedly see plenty of action at the first sack. "Spike" Sternke and Jack Williams are battling for the call at second. Earl Williams, at short, and Sather at third seems to have the inside track for those positions.

The starting lineup for the outfield is still uncertain. Jacobson and Hayden, lettermen from last year, have been consistent in their performance and will break into the lineup. Cy Geraghty ended the Whitman series with some good hitting and fast fielding to show up well. Pete Wicks, who has been shifted to the outfield, will also have a good chance of playing in the opening series with the Washington State crew.

Stanford university Co-eds get good grades because even sedate professors are not proof against the wiles of Cleopatra, while the poor men students have to burn the midnight oil and toil unceasingly to get even passing marks. So charges a recent editorial in the Stanford Daily.

Salem college at North Carolina is the only women's college in the state that permits its students to smoke in public. Since the town in which the university is located produces and manufactures tobacco this is not surprising.

An all-student circus is to be held at the University of Kentucky soon.

SPORT SHOP

Baseball has again come into its own with a first class bang after a layoff over the winter. The old master, Babe Ruth, gave the big timber a rousing sendoff in the opening game with two homers and a single. The coast league is under way and the nearest to local professional ball, the Idaho-Washington league will get under way soon.

The Vandal ball team has been showing some nice improvements since the Whitman series. A few days of outside work has put the squad in shape to open the conference season next week. The opener will be a two game series against the ancient foes from the Pullman camp. The Cougars will be the favorites Friday because of the showing made early in the season. The first game will be on the local diamond a week from today.

Several issues still unsettled after the Whitman series have been ironed out and a possible lineup may be chosen although some changes may take place before the final decision has been made. Jack Lee seems to have settled on the first sack and is handling the initial bag in good style. Spike Sternke is covering a lot of territory around second and is fast improving in a position he has not played before this season. Earl Williams has recovered from a lame arm received at Walla Walla and seems cinched to work at short. Sather is again in his old position at third and is fielding better than ever. The fielders will be chosen from Hayden, Jacobson, Martin, Geraghty, and Wicks. If the Vandals can make a habit of connecting with the ball, more games should come Idaho's way than has in the past couple of seasons.

One of the prettiest races in track, the high hurdles, should provide some real action for cinders this spring. With two good hurdlers Idaho will be especially strong in the high sticks. Bill Squance has been providing some first class competition for Lemp in the afternoon runs and can almost run the Idaho record holder to the tape. If Squance will settle down to hard work, he will bring Idaho some much needed points in the spring meets.

Bring a touch of SPRING to breakfast

You'll surely welcome Kellogg's Rice Krispies these mornings. Delicious, toasted rice bubbles that are so crisp they crackle in milk or cream. What could be more refreshing—or so much of a change from the heavy, hot dishes of winter!

And truth to tell, we don't need so many heavy, hot foods in this age of steam-heated houses and closed automobiles. Cold weather just isn't what it used to be. That's why red flannels and bed warmers have disappeared—and why crisp, delicious cereals are becoming more and more popular.

Kellogg's Rice Krispies are rich in energy, easy to digest. Great for a bed-time snack. Drop in at your favorite restaurant tonight and just try them.

CREIGHTON'S

"Hello, Hawaii"

Bringing Hawaii within speaking distance of the United States is one of the latest achievements of the Bell System in its program of telephone service extension.

Five years ago the United States had telephone connection only with Canada, Cuba, and the Mexican border. Since then, Bell engineers have so developed radio telephony that handling calls to Europe, South America, Australia, Bermuda, Samoa, and Hawaii is daily routine. Today more than 31,000,000 telephones can be reached—approximately 92% of all the telephones in the world!

Making the telephone practically worldwide in reach promotes understanding between nations. It has far reaching effects commercially and politically. That's what puts the thrill into such Bell System pioneering.
